DR. SPROULE'S BILL.

BY T. S. SPROULE, M.P.

THE general purpose of the bill which I have introduced in the House of Commons is to place detective corporations and mercantile agencies under legislative restriction in the public interest. At present there is practically no control or supervision over these classes of business, which from their peculiar nature would seem to be almost the first calling for regulation. An individual, for instance, may set up as a private detective, assuming for the purposes of his business a pretentious and high-sounding title; he will be entrusted with important secrets, be employed in delicate missions, family matters of one kind and another will be communicated to him; and yet he may be not only incompetent in his line of work, but utterly without character. Such cases are not unknown in Canada. Then, think of the possibilities for blackmail which are opened for a worthless person who may set himself up as a private detective, and in that capacity learn sacred secrets, which he will afterwards use in extorting hush money. Of course, I am well aware that there are many most reputable and honorable persons following the profession of a detective, or I may say that the profession when faithfully followed has high and important functions, conducive even at times to the welfare of the state, and always promotive of the ends of justice. Such persons will not object, I am sure, to the provisions of the bill which I have introduced. Rather, on the contrary, they should assist in having it become the law of the land, since it will afford them protection against disreputable members of the profession, and will give the business the stamp of legal recognition and the advantage of adequate safeguards.

The bill deals, first of all, with detective associations, and requires that any person or persons proposing to engage in the business shall file a certificate with the Secretary of State, setting forth the full name and residence of each, the name and style of the association, and where the principal office is located, the whole to be attested under oath. Within thirty days after the filing of this certificate a bond for $10,000, signed by all the members of the association, is to be deposited with the Secretary of State, and two sureties for each member of the association are also to give bonds, aggregating $10,000, for the faithful performance of the duties of the association. Moreover, every person proposing to act as a detective is required to make oath that he will faithfully and impartially discharge his duties as such. These conditions having been complied with, a charter of incorporation by letters patent will be issued by the Governor-in-Council, and thereafter the association may engage in the secret service or detective business. The liability clause, which is, of course, an important feature of the bill, reads as follows:

The members of every detective association incorporated under the provisions of this Act, and their sureties, shall be liable on the bond of the association in damages to the party injured for information which is damaging, if incorrect, for loss of or damages to any money, property or thing of value which may come into their possession, or the possession of their employes in the course of their employment, if such loss or damage is caused by the negligence or misconduct of any member or employe of such association, which damages may be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction: Provided that such association may have a lien on any stolen money or property recovered by them, for the amount of the reward publicly offered or agreed in writing to be paid, and may refuse to deliver such money or property to the person offering such reward until payment of the same be made.

Penalties are prescribed in the case of persons who engage in the business of a detective, without having first complied with the requirements of the bill.

The provisions relating to mercantile agencies begin by setting forth that such agencies are to be held to mean establishments which make a business of collecting information relating to the credit, character, responsibility and reputation of merchants or others for the purpose of furnishing the information to subscribers. These agencies are to be required to give bonds and obtain incorporation by letters patent, precisely in the manner of Detective Associations, before engaging in business. Another provision is to the effect that "mercantile or commercial agencies shall not make collections of moneys for debts or goods due or owing to other persons or companies, but shall confine their operations strictly within the definition of the purposes for which they were incorporated; and shall not as incorporated agencies engage in any other profession, trade or vocation."

It is also provided that once a year schedules are to be prepared by the agencies, to be filled up, voluntarily, of course, by the persons whose credit is to be reported upon, which schedules shall set forth particulars respecting the occupation, property, and property or annuity, or interest income of such persons.

The bill, of course, may undergo amendment in committee as regards some of its details, but the principles upon which it is founded I believe to be sound, and the necessity for some legislation to be indisputable.

VIEWS OF BOARDS OF TRADE.

In connection with the above it will doubtless interest our readers to know the views of three Boards of Trade, as embodied in the three accompanying resolutions.

London Board of Trade, May 14:

Resolved, That this Board having had their attention directed to a bill, numbered 12, designated "An Act respecting Detective Corporations and Mercantile Agencies," which is being promoted in the House of Commons by Dr. Sproule, and having fully considered same, we submit:

That the proposed legislation, as applied to mercantile agencies, is uncalled for and unnecessary. The mercantile agencies as now managed, and as they have been managed for over half a century, are a very necessary adjunct to the commerce of our country, and they should be encouraged, instead of being hampered with unnecessary legislation, such as contemplated by Dr. Sproule's bill. Mercantile agencies have become an important factor in the prompt transaction of business and they should receive the hearty support of every honorable merchant.

Hamilton Board of Trade, June 17:

That this Board, having carefully considered the Act introduced in the House of Commons by Dr. Sproule, entitled "An Act Respecting Detective Corporations and Mercantile Agencies," are of opinion that the interests of the business community would not be promoted by the passage of the said bill.

The duties of mercantile agencies being of a delicate and difficult character, it is inexpedient that any restrictions should be imposed upon them in the obtaining of information. On the contrary, if efficiency is expected from these institutions, it is highly desirable that they should be at liberty to exhaust every means of obtaining facts unhampered by any such enactments as are proposed under this bill.

Toronto Board of Trade, June 21:

That this Council, having considered the bill now before the Dominion Parliament, entitled "An Act Respecting Detective Corporations and Mercantile Agencies," beg to submit that the clauses relating to Mercantile Agencies are unnecessary and uncalled for, there being no demand on the part of the business public for legislation in this direction, and no apparent abuses that would be remedied by this Act. The reputable agencies having become such an important factor in the commercial world, any unnecessary interference with them will react injuriously on trade and commerce, and this Board cannot see any good results likely to flow from the passage of this bill. They are strongly of opinion that the proposed Act would be highly detrimental to commercial interests and seriously affect business.

WOOL GROWING IN MANITOBA.

The wool growing industry of Manitoba and the western territories is assuming large proportions. With each succeeding year a considerable increase is recorded in the shipments of wool to eastern markets. Last season the crop was placed at between 350,000 and 400,000 pounds, while this year it is estimated at over half a million pounds. The quality of the wool this season is said to be better than usual in respect to texture and freedom from foreign matter. The price ranges from 8 to 10 cents per pound. The increase in sheep in Manitoba is particularly noted by dealers, and it is thought that the province can now supply all local demands without importations from either the east or west.—Free Press, Winnipeg.

ONTARIO GROCERS' ASSOCIATION.

UNDER the above heading in last week's CANADIAN GROCER appears an article or preamble to a document that is being circulated in St. Thomas, with a view of reorganizing an association of all the grocers of Ontario, if not the Dominion of Canada, and mention is made of holding a monster picnic with a view of getting the trade together.

I have been requested by the members of London Retail Grocers' Association to suggest to the promoters of this worthy and very commendable movement that the retail grocers of London are now preparing for their annual picnic, which will be held on July 24, and if St. Thomas grocers will confer with us we will be pleased to give them all the assistance in our power. The members of London Retail Grocers do not wish to take any of the honor of promoting the movement, but as arrangements for our picnic are well on the way, and London is about as centrally located as any city in Ontario, we would suggest that arrangements be made to hold the convention here, or at least that representatives from all the cities and towns in Ontario be requested to attend the picnic, and the question of organizing the Ontario Association discussed.

We would suggest that the meeting be held the day following. A short preliminary meeting could be held at some hour during the day of the picnic, but to go thoroughly into the details of arranging an association would require more time and consideration than could be well devoted to it during the day of the picnic.

The question is important enough, however, that even though the members of our association, who take an active part in conducting the picnic, will be busy during the day and tired at night, a meeting called in the evening would find enough of the grocers of London there to represent London Retail Grocers' Association. Wishing the grocers of St. Thomas success in their effort, and should our suggestion meet with approval, trusting to hear from them at an early date,

We remain,

Respectfully yours,

E. SUTTON, Secretary.

Signed on behalf of London Retail Grocers' Association.

A CURSE AS WELL AS A BLESSING.

EDITOR GROCER: Your article under the above heading in last week's issue is to the point and correct in every respect. The way both laborers and storekeepers have been kept out of their money on this T., H. & B. is simply disgraceful, and should be a warning to those now supplying muscle and food. I see the Government have been approached in this matter, and I trust something will be done. Why should not the Grocers' Association not get some facts from fellow grocers in Dundas and surrounding country as to methods employed by these Yankee speculators?

FAIR PLAY.

Hamilton, July 2.

WILL IS THE KING-BOLT.

Will, says an exchange, is the king-bolt of the faculties. It is folly to say that "we cannot believe." Every day of our lives we prove that we can. Every scientist lays down what is called "a working hypothesis," and goes by it. Every architect or house-builder draws his plans and specifications first, and follows them out in deeds.

We have the working hypothesis of character; its "ground plan," its "elevation," its "specifications," in the gospel. We are bound to go by them, for they are the very best of which we know; they have produced the most lovely, loving and trustworthy characters that we have ever seen.

There are as many theories of a good life as there are theories of tariff; but our part, if we have common sense, is deliberately to choose the one that has made the best people, the best society, the most genuine home, faith and happiness.

FOOL LOGIC.

For instance, one of you farmers here go up into the village and buy a barrel of sugar. We'll suppose you pay $20 for it. Now, that barrel of sugar cost the grocer $15. You see, therefore, that he made $5 on it. Now, why should you not have made that $5 for yourself? The object of the Patrons of Industry is to see that you shall.

THIS was the sample of logic that was doled out to tickle farmers' ears by a speaker the other day at a Patron picnic held in Grimsby Park. It was used to illustrate the dollars that were to be saved by the farmer joining this wonderful organization and becoming his own store-keeper.

The Patron organization, particularly in its office to manage the storekeeping of the country, is fast petering out, but although it is dying, the fact that it is neither speechless nor shorn of its silly and illogical tenets is obvious.

But it is a blessing that this is a free country, and that these Patrons can air their theories and practice them occasionally, for freedom to this class of people is what rope is to a fool, a sure means of self-destruction.

In a certain sense, humanity is not made up of independent units. We are all more or less dependent for our existence upon each other.

The day when each man constructed with his own hands his habitation, clothing, utensils and implements of labor, and raised his own provisions, went out with the barbaric age. We cannot go back to the conditions obtaining thousands of years ago, the efforts of the Patrons of Industry to lead us there notwithstanding.

Farmers will still farm, merchants still sell, manufacturers still manufacture, and politicians still make and unmake laws. The law of Nature has so decreed.

The Patrons of Industry, by relegating to themselves the sole right to manage the temporal affairs of this country, have no doubt wrought injury to merchants and manufacturers, but it is only of a temporary character. There is no more likelihood of this country being brought up on Patron tenets than there is of the deluded members of that organization raising figs from the thistles that are growing on their farms, while they are spending their time theorizing on impossibilities.

A WISE SUGGESTION.

It is a wise suggestion on the part of the St. Thomas merchants, who are agitating for a business men's convention, that the desirability of a provincial association be discussed.

Organization is the motive power which keeps reforms moving, and that crystalizes theories into practical entities. Because of a lack of this organization benefits many have long been deferred. The history of the world is full of instances of this. And business as well as political and philanthropic movements have suffered in this respect.

The cream of the business men in this country may meet and discuss the most practical and praiseworthy subjects, and propose schemes for ameliorating the most gigantic of trade evils, but little practical result will accrue therefrom unless there is continuous effort till the desideratum is secured.

It is not enough to push merely the point of a nail into a piece of wood. The nail must be driven in and clinched.

Some six or seven years ago a convention of business men was held in Hamilton. Some of the most representative business men in the country were there, and practical and able papers and speeches were given. But no association was organized, neither was there another meeting held. And, consequently, evils to-day exist that might have been removed had organization then been completed.

If the movement now on foot to hold a convention bears fruit, as it no doubt will before long, if not immediately, provided continuous effort is made, it is to be hoped that one of the first things done will be to appoint a committee with a view to devising some scheme for organization.

A clerk, remarks an exchange, is always assisted by the newspaper. The goods are easier sold. The newspaper is the seller and the clerk the assistant.

THE SUGAR SITUATION.

ALL the advantages that wholesale men anticipated would accrue from the recent advance in sugar have not materialized.

Everybody, from refiner to consumer, looked for a strong market for sugar, and everybody in consequence did more or less speculating. The natural concomitant was that wholesaler, retailer and consumer stocked up, some inordinately.

The consequence of this in turn was that the demand gradually fell off, until during the last couple of weeks there has practically been no demand; and although refiners have refused to make any concessions, wholesalers are selling sugar at less than they can lay it down for to-day.

One house acknowledged to THE CANADIAN GROCER that 50 per cent. of the sugar they had when the advance took place was still in the warehouse. This fact, however, is some mollification: Handsome profits were made with the first rush to buy after the change in the duty, and the accompanying advances in the outside markets.

There is usually something to upset one's calculations, and the disappointing character of the sugar market is no doubt largely due to the alarm over the fruit crop. Overestimated as the damage was, yet it had its influence on the demand for sugar nevertheless.

The quietness is not confined to the Canadian market. In New York the same state of affairs prevails. But in spite of this, confidence is expressed in the future. Willett & Gray's Statistical Sugar Trade Journal says: "There is no question but that prices will advance all over the world very materially, and the only point unsettled is when the upward wave will begin * * * The turn of the tide may be more distant than we think, but it is well to be looking for it at any moment. It may not come, however, as we have already said, until the United States has relieved Europe of a considerable quantity of raw and refined sugars."

Business on the Toronto market has improved slightly during the last day or so, but the movement is still very small.

NO USE BEING IMPATIENT.

Some merchants there are who are chafing because the returning trade activity is not developing as much speed as they would like. It is no use getting impatient. It retards rather than helps the return of better times. The period of depression took three or four years to develop; and it is not to be expected that work of years can be undone in a day.

THE HAY SITUATION.

NOT for a long time has the hay market occupied as much attention as it has during the past few weeks. The cause is the anticipated short crop in Ontario on account of the drouth.

THE CANADIAN GROCER was allowed a few days ago to peruse the correspondence of a Toronto firm that had received private reports from nearly every section of Ontario, and they certainly indicated a most unsatisfactory state of affairs.

In the midland counties the prospects appear to be as good, if not better, than in most parts of the province. There clover is reported to be a fair average and timothy poor. In Prince Edward County they do not expect one-fourth the usual crop, while around Kingston, in what may be termed a hay-growing centre, there will not be half the usual crop. Then, running away through the western part of the province, the reports indicate from half to less than half a crop, while prognostications from Kincardine declare there will not be enough grass to make even good pasturage. Immediately west of Toronto, and along the Niagara peninsula, it does not appear to come within its usual average by about 50 per cent.

To add to the prospects for a firm hay market during the ensuing twelve months there is likely to be a heavy export demand from England, where the crop this year is reported to be shorter than it has been for years before.

As a natural consequence of the partial failure of the hay crop in Ontario quite a speculative business has sprung up, and prices are about 25 per cent. higher than a month ago.

The situation of the market has induced much speculative business. Hay has been brought in from the province of Quebec in enormous quantities. In Toronto alone one day last week there were estimated to be something like one hundred carloads on the track. But much of this Quebec hay is of very inferior quality. In fact, the market is glutted with hay of this kind.

All this, those who are inclined to speculate should remember. And another thing they should not forget is, that while Ontario has a short crop, Quebec has a big stock on hand and an abundant crop coming.

There is some Ontario hay being held at outside points, but holders are asking fancy prices. One holder in Middlesex County was asking $15 per ton last week and he substantiated himself for quoting such an inordinately high figure by stating that the crop in his neighborhood was the smallest in 25 years.

Since the market has taken the turn it has there have been numerous complaints from purchasers regarding quality not being up to standard. For instance, they have bought No. 1 hay, and although the hay delivered was so designated, yet it was Quebec No. 1, hence the dissatisfaction. It will be well for intending purchasers to keep this fact in mind, and difficulty and loss may be thus avoided.

The hay market is undoubtedly strong, but it is well for speculators to consider the bearish as well as the bullish features of the situation.

THE CHEESE MARKET LOWER.

LAST week reference was made in these columns as to the unhealthy speculation in cheese being the cause of the sharp advance in the price of the staple.

The course of values since then fully bears out this assumption. All through last week buyers who had an interest in preventing a decline simply "pegged the market." That is, they bought a few cheese here and a few cheese there at a fancy price in the hope of making the salesmen hold.

Though they were successful, to a certain extent, the cheese market has steadily gravitated lower; and at this writing has a heavy tone and is fully $\frac{1}{2}$ c. lower than it was a week ago.

This is owing to the fact that the exports to date this year have at last caught up to those of last, and by the end of the present week, for which large contracts for ocean space have been made, they will very likely be considerably in excess of those for 1894.

This condition is unlucky for those foolish enough to follow the lead of the shorts last week, for they are certain to lose money.

Briefly, if the market was left alone matters would soon shape themselves all right, but this eternal "rigging," to use the remark of a disgusted trader the other day, "plays the dickens with those who want to do a legitimate trade."

DETECTIVE AND MERCANTILE AGENCIES.

Dr. Sproule, M.P., in his article in another column, makes out a good case for his bill for regulating detective corporations and mercantile agencies. He has eliminated some of the objectionable features which appeared in the bill he introduced in the House of Commons a year ago.

Business men occasionally have a just grievance against the mercantile agencies. They are a most valuable assistance to wholesale merchants and manufacturers. At the same time, as they are sometimes used they work a great injustice to those about whom reports are furnished. The proprietors of the two big agencies in Canada, "Bradstreet's" and "R. G. Dun & Co.," we are quite sure, desire to do business on an honorable basis. But it is necessary for them to have correspondents in all the business centres, and these men frequently use their position to injure their local competitors.

Not very long ago the Board of Trade had its attention drawn to a very disgraceful case of this sort. The correspondent of the agency was the manager of a branch of a Montreal bank in a certain town. In the town was a firm with an excellent reputation, who, for special reasons, applied for a large amount of insurance. Before granting it the company asked one of the agencies for a special report on this firm. It was most unfavorable, and differed so entirely from information received from private sources that the insurance company asked the agency if they were not in error. The agency after some time sent in a second report even more unfavorable than the first. The insurance company at once sent a man to the town to make careful inquiry. He found that the firm was strong financially, and possessed an enviable reputation for honesty and integrity, and that the mercantile agency correspondent had been trying hard to get them to transfer their account—the best in the town—to his bank. Because they refused to give him even a share of it he reported so unfavorably on their standing.

Dr. Sproule might go further and provide specially that anyone giving an agency information which he knows to be untrue should be treated as a criminal, to whom the most severe punishment may be meted out.

PICNIC ARRANGEMENTS.

Some time ago the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association decided to hold their annual picnic this year on the "Mountain" at Hamilton, and a committee was appointed to arrange for the outing. This committee was unable to come to any satisfactory agreement with the Hamilton Steamboat Co., who refused to carry a band free, or make other concessions asked for.

After some discussion at a special meeting of the committee called for the purpose, it was decided to make St. Catharines the objective point of the excursion. Arrangements were made accordingly, and they are these: The steamer Garden City will leave the wharf at the foot of Yonge street at eight a.m. on Thursday, July 25, and proceed across the lake to Port Dalhousie, and up the old canal to St. Kitts, where the excursionists will land and disport themselves for several hours, the boat being timed to start the return journey at 6 p.m.

A brass band will accompany the excursion, and a baseball match, a tug-of-war and other games will be introduced to amuse the pleasure seekers. Adults will pay 60c. for the round trip, and children 40c. Tickets may be bought from members of the committee, or upon the steamer. It is to be hoped that all our grocers and their families will turn out and help to make this picnic a rousing success.

WHEN CREDITORS LOSE NOTHING.

A NOVEL plan to get ahead of other creditors and not lose anything by the failure of a customer, has been devised by some Canadian manufacturers. It has been in use for some time, but is not generally known.

The manufacturers sell goods subject to a discount of 50 to 60 per cent, with an extra 5 for cash. The goods are invoiced, however, at a gross or list price, and a memo attached saying that if the account is paid on July 1 a discount of 50 (or 60, as the case may be) and 5 per cent. will be allowed. If not paid before August 1 they will not get the extra 5 per cent. If not paid by October 1, no discount whatever will be allowed. If the buyer fails, the creditors at once make a claim for the full amount of the invoice, which is in reality 50 per cent. more than the actual market value of the article. That is, an article which usually sells at $1 and is invoiced by everyone else at that price, is invoiced by these particular manufacturers at $2, less 50 per cent. if paid at the usual time. If the estate pays 50 cents on the dollar, by this system these manufacturers get the full amount of their actual claim—and sometimes more—while the others get only 50 per cent. or less.

The scheme is a clever one, but recently the inspectors, representing other creditors, when examining the affairs of the estate, have "got onto it," when there has been usually a "pretty row," after which the clever manufacturers must amend their claims. A number of estates, however, have been wound up without the inspectors discovering the trick.—Hardware and Metal.

DEATH OF MRS. W. H. SEYLER.

SEYLER—On Saturday, June 20th, at 471 Dovercourt road, Toronto, Lena Gibb, beloved wife of William H. Seyler, in her 37th year.

The appearance of the above notice in Monday morning's daily papers cast a gloom over Toronto wholesale grocery circles greater than any even has for many a long day. Deceased was the wife of W. H. Seyler, manager of the Eby, Blain Co.'s sample room. Many connected with the wholesale trade were acquainted with her, and most highly and feelingly do they speak of her. But everybody knows and respects the bereaved husband, and hence the general sorrow and sympathy "on the street."

"Poor Seyler, I am very sorry for him," remarked the head of one firm. "He has a great big good-natured heart and feels his loss terribly." This is a sample of the expressions one hears every day on the street when reference is made to Mrs. Seyler's death.

Death came rather suddenly. Deceased was only ill about a week, and up to within 24 hours of her death the doctors expected she would survive. The cause of death was pneumonia. Besides the bereaved husband, deceased left behind her three children, the youngest of whom is about six months old.

The remains were interred at Hamilton on Wednesday afternoon, and several wholesale men and other friends were at the Union Station to see the body placed on the train for its last sad journey.

THE CANADIAN GROCER tenders its sympathy to Mr. Seyler and the bereaved family.

HAMILTON BOARD OF TRADE.

The annual meeting of the Hamilton Board of Trade was held Tuesday. President H. N. Kittson presented his annual report, which referred to the satisfactory railway work in and around the city. Reference was also made to the unsatisfactory state of the insolvency laws and the desirability of the bill now before Parliament being passed.

The report of the secretary, Mr. C. R. Smith, showed the membership to number 246. The finances were reported as satisfactory.

The nominations of officers, decided on at the last meeting, were affirmed, and Mr. Kittson vacated the chair for his successor, Mr. John Hoodless. A special committee was appointed to arrange for the celebration of the Board's 50th anniversary this year.

NEXT TO THE BIBLE.

The following letter gives a pretty accurate idea of the position THE CANADIAN GROCER occupies at the present time:

DEAR GROCER,—Thanks many for your favor of 25th inst., asking if it is my desire to have THE CANADIAN GROCER for another year. I should smile; why, man, next to the Bible and a copy of "Burns," which shows my nationality, I value THE GROCER. After thoroughly reading, learning and digesting its contents I pass it on to a neighbor—a corner grocery. I recommend it always to my customers, making them understand that if they don't subscribe for it they are behind the age.

Yours truly, JOHN MOUAT.

ONTARIO FRUIT FOR ENGLAND.

Some Ontario fruit growers have announced their intention of sending a deputation to Ottawa to wait on the Government in connection with the proposed shipment of Ontario summer fruits to England this year. The growers are anxious to see Major Carpenter's suggestion given a fair trial. They say that this can only be done by the Government sending a competent man over to England to place the fruit on the market, as advantageously as possible, and for this reason will ask that Mr. John Craig, horticulturist at the Experimental Farm be deputed to proceed to England with this object in view.

CONSUMPTION OF COFFEE.

The last monthly bulletin of the Bureau of American Republics says:

"The latest and most carefully compiled statistics show that while the production of coffee is increasing, the world's consumption is keeping steady pace with it. The production of the world is estimated as follows:

	Bags.
Coffee season of 1893-94.....	9,202,000
Coffee season of 1894-95.....	11,129,000
Coffee season of 1895-96.....	10,270,000

"The Brazilian crop last season is put at 7,100,000 bags, and the new crop is estimated at considerably less. The Mexican and Central American crops are increasing yearly.

"The world's consumption of coffee in 1894 is estimated at 11,357,250 bags, the chief consumers, in rank of importance, being the United States, Germany and France.

"One of the greatest coffee houses in the world says in a recent private circular: 'It is illogical to say that the consumption of coffee decreases, or to pretend that the price of coffee is too high because other articles have depreciated in value in consequence of over-production. There can be no lasting decline in the price of coffee, unless several consecutive crops exceed the present yearly requirements for consumption. From present indications, production and consumption about balance each other. The world's visible supply on Aug. 1 will probably show little change from that existing at the same time last year, while a reduction in the visible supply of the world will take place during the season of 1895-96.'"

PETROLEUM OUTPUT FOR 1894.

The forthcoming report of Prof. Day, chief of the United States Bureau of Mineral Resources, of the Geological Survey, gives statistics as to the U.S. petroleum output for 1894:

Pennsylvania declined from 19,283,122 barrels in 1893 to 18,077,559 barrels in 1894. New York, from 1,031,391 barrels in 1893 to 942,431 in 1894. West Virginia about held its own. Ohio increased from 16,249,769 barrels in 1893 to 16,792,154 barrels in 1894. Indiana increased from 2,335,293 barrels in 1893 to 3,688,666 barrels in 1894. Colorado decreased from 594,390 barrels in 1893 to 515,746 barrels in 1894, and California increased from 470,179 barrels in 1893 to 705,969 barrels in 1894.

The total increase in the United States was from 48,412,666 barrels in 1893 to 49,344,516 barrels in 1894.

THE SHOW WINDOW.

"Grocers, use your windows," says an exchange. How absurd to make such a suggestion, when it is a well-known fact that the average grocer is only too prone to use his windows—for storage purposes. Of course our contemporary means that they shall be used for purposes of display, but much of the time, in the cold weather, the contents of the window cannot be seen owing to the glass being frosted. This can be obviated by the use of double sashes, with a couple of inches of intervening space and several small holes bored through the lower part of the inner woodwork to allow extra moisture to run off and for ventilation. We have seen florists' windows so constructed, and in frosty weather only those windows could be looked through, all the others in the neighborhood being opaque with Jack Frost's fairy-like handiwork. At the top of the window, but hidden from view, the florists usually store ice in hot weather, so that the flowers in the window may be kept cool and fresh. The side of the window frame next the store interior is constructed so as to easily slide open and admit of the window stock being exchanged for fresh goods.

The use of ice in the same manner for the purpose of keeping butter, cheese and other perishable goods in a fresh condition in the grocer's window would be quite practicable, and the expense would hardly be sufficient to deter enterprising dealers from trying the plan of double sashes and hidden refrigerators.

Use your windows, grocers, by all means, but first see that they are fit to be used.—Merchants' Review.

McRae & Boucher, general store, Carleton Place, Ont., are preparing a statement of their affairs for their creditors.—J. L. Titmus, flour, feed and confectionery, Mildmay, Ont., has sold out to J. M. THE UNSOLVED PROBLEM.

He had spent long years in college and acquired all kinds of knowledge,
From smoking cigarettes to reading Greek;
And it was said by many that in Hebrew, Eskimo and Latin
With the accent of a native he could speak.

He knew every modern science, and for every new application

He was able some improvement to suggest;
And from bending on a hawser up to criticising Chaucer,
Of all the greatest minds he was abreast.

He was charmed with hydrostatics, and in higher mathematics
For a thing to stump him could he find;
And to prove a line's direction or bisect a conic section
Was but a relaxation to his mind.

But he saw a little maiden after all this store he laid in,
The most inviting problem he had met;
And he felt it was his mission to employ his erudition
To solve this most inviting problem yet.

So without a bit of shirking he has ever since been working
On the question with an ardor that never tires;
Yet with all his application, to his great and deep vexation,
He cannot get the answer he desires.—

U. S. TOMATO PACK.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce: It is generally conceded that prospects for a full pack of tomatoes this season are poor. Still the trade is showing little interest in futures and very few sales for forward delivery have been made. The upward tendency of spot goods, which was so marked a week ago, has been checked, owing, it is said, that some prominent jobbers are ready to unload at current market rates, having accumulated more stock than their trade is likely to require.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, July 4, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE holiday has naturally interfered with trade during the past week, but, in spite of this, business appears to exhibit a little more life than a week ago. At any rate, wholesalers seem rather more satisfied. Sugars are still very dull, although it is thought that an improvement in the demand is not now far away. Canned tomatoes in wholesale hands are firmer than a week ago, while packers' figures are much as before. The salmon situation remains much as before. Business is just moderate in teas. Foreign dried fruits are in fair request and steady in price. Payments are rather slow.

CANNED GOODS.

The demand for tomatoes is not so brisk as it was before the advance of last week, the movement now being what may be termed light. Wholesalers' prices are higher, 85 to 90c. being the idea for standard goods. Corn is quiet and unchanged. The demand for peas has also moderated somewhat, but still on the whole business in this line keeps up fairly well. Salmon is active, with prices firm. There is a scarcity of first-class stock, enquiries for such having been received on the Toronto market from both Montreal and Hamilton. There are very few packers offering, while some of the best packers seem to be off the market. "My superiors write," said one agent, "that those who have sold appear to be satisfied, and that unless the pack is very much smaller than anticipated prices will not go lower. But," added the agent, "if the other packers do not throw their stuff away they can get what they ask. Their pack will be needed." The price of Chicago canned meats has been reduced 10c. per dozen, but the Canadian product is unchanged, the makers experiencing difficulty getting the raw material. We quote: Tomatoes, 85 to 90c. for choice; corn, 80 to 85c.; peas, 80 to 85c. for ordinary; sifted, 90c. to $1; extra sifted, $1.40; peaches, $2.75 to $3 for 3's, $1.85 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.90 to $2.10; apples, 3's, 90c to $1, gallons, $2.15 to $2.25, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.35 to $1.50, in tall tins, and $1.55 to $1.60, in flat tins; do., Cohoes, $1.05 to $1.10; do. "Horseshoe" brand, $1.45 to $1.50; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins. Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.65 to $1.75; 2's, $2.65 to $2.75; 6's, $8 to $8.25; 14's, $18 to $19. Chicago canned beef, 1's, $1.75 per dozen; 2's, $2.85. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEES.

Old stocks on spot have been pretty well cleaned out, but fresh supplies are on the way. Business is fairly good. We quote green in bags: Rio, 19½ to 21½c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 20 to 22½c.; Java, 28 to 33c.; Mocha, 30 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

RICE.

There is a moderate demand at unchanged prices. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 3¾ to 5½c.

SPICES.

Nothing specially new has developed. Business on the whole is quiet. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 22 to 28c. per lb.

NUTS.

Business continues seasonably quiet at unchanged prices. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

There has been during the last few days a little indication of a lift in the dulness, but it is only slight, and the demand is still light all round. There is a good deal of cutting still going on to try and induce trade, but the refiners refuse to make concessions, even of 1-16c., believing that the demand will soon improve. We quote prices: Granulated, No. 1, 4¼ to 4¾c.; do., No. 2, 4¾ to 4¼c.; yellows, 3¼ to 3¾c.; Demerara, 3½c.

SYRUPS.

Demand is light and prices unchanged. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

Dull and unchanged. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 30 to 32c.; half-barrels, 33½ to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 37c.

TEAS.

This being between the seasons there is very little doing. New Japans continue to come forward, and in some instances show good value. Ceylon teas rule firm. Stocks of China teas on spot are practically cleaned out. Young Hysons are still scarce, and seconds and thirds on the London market have gone into consumption. Dealers have now to wait to sort up until new stocks come forward. We quote ruling prices to retailers as follows: Young Hysons, 12 to

DRIED FRUIT.

Valencia raisins are in fair demand. Mail advices regarding the crop received on Tuesday are not altogether uniform. One reads: "Crop promises to be good as last year. Weather is favorable, and the condition of the vines is everything that can be desired." The other reads: "Crop does not promise as favorably as it did at the time of blossoming, and the crop will likely be less than last year." We quote present figures: Off-stalk, 85 to 90c. per box; fine off-stalk, 4 to 4½c.; selected, 5½ to 6c.; layers, 4½ to 5½c.

Advices regarding the crop of Malaga raisins state that prospects are good.

Prunes are still in good demand, and much more so than is usual at this time of the year. Stocks are light on the spot, and sales are being freely made from one house to another at about retail prices. We quote: "Sphinx"—"U," 110 to 115 to half kilo, 4¾ to 5c. per lb.; "C," 85 to 90 to half kilo, 6½c. per lb.; "B," 80 to 85 to half kilo, 6½ to 7¾c. per lb.; "Atlas,"—"D," 110 to 115 to half kilo, 4¾ to 5c. per lb.; "Unicorn," 5 to 5½c.; Bordeaux prunes, 4½ to 6½c.

There is a moderate demand for currants at unchanged prices. We quote as before: Filhatras, half-barrels, 4 to 4½c., barrels, 4¾c.; fine Filhatras, half-bbls., 4¾c., barrels, 4¾c.; Patras, 5½c., in cases; Casalinhas, 4½ to 5¾c.; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7c. in cases and half-cases.

Figs are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, 4¾ to 4½c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

Dates are quiet and unchanged at from 4½c. up.

Sultana raisins are in fair demand at unchanged prices, the ruling figures for good fruits being 6½ to 7c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

There seems to be little change in the situation of butter. Just at present not very much is coming forward, and hence it is thought that a great deal is being held throughout the country. The quality of some of that being received on the local market is said to be not of the best, and some dealers are expressing dissatisfaction. Unless a greater demand occurs in the Old Country or some other market for our butter is opened, the outlook is not by any means bright. Owing to the receipts of good butter having not been very largely prices are a trifle higher for choice grades. We quote: Old summer dairy and store packed, 5 to 7c.; fresh large rolls, 10 to 12c.; prints, 13 to 14c.; fresh tubs, 12 to 13c.; Fresh creamery—Tubs, 16 to 16½c.; pound prints, 17 to 18c.

CHEESE—"The cheese market has gone crazy," remarked a Toronto jobber the other day. He referred to the advance in the price of cheese which has taken place, despite the discouraging reports we receive from Great Britain. Local dealers seem to think the advance will not be maintained. August and September makes of Canadian sell for 10 to 10½c. New Canadian cheese are quoted at 8½c. per lb. and 9c. for twins f.o.b. at point of shipment, which means 8½c. and 9¼c. at Toronto.

GREEN FRUIT.

During the first of the week trade was a little dull, owing to the holiday, but business is now looking up again. Lemons are a little easier owing to a slump in prices in New York, but dealers say low prices will not be reached here this summer. Stocks of oranges are getting partially cleaned out, and prices are therefore somewhat firmer. Raspberries are beginning to come in freely, and if rain only comes we shall have a large and excellent crop of this fruit. Strawberries are pretty well out of the market. Cherries and currants are coming in in small quantities, as are also mulberries and gooseberries. A few green apples are now offering, but what we have seen are not of very good quality. California peaches and cherries are cheaper. We quote prices: Messina lemons, 300's, 360's, and 420's, $5 to $5.50. satisfaction, and that their supply of it is not equal to the demand.

Hammond & Offord, the Toronto bakers, have ordered from C. Wilson & Son, Toronto, an improved dough mixer; also an electric motor to drive it.

D. Gunn, Flavelle & Co. report their stocks of sweet pickled meats are rather low, and their special prices on pickled rolls will soon be withdrawn.

J. S. Kuhl, Berlin, has just received his new Wilson dry air refrigerator. It has the new cold air patent regulator attachment, and C. Wilson & Son's latest improvements.

J. H. Hoover, grocer, of Toronto, has placed in an improved Wilson butter refrigerator. It is very handsome, and was purchased from C. Wilson & Son, of the Toronto Scale and Refrigerator Works.

gou. "These teas," they write, "are superior to brands put up in packages, and the metal lined cases in which they are packed precludes the possibility of loss of aroma and freshness."

"Merchants desiring something extra fine in sifted Young Hysons should write us," say W. H. Gillard & Co. "We have a splendid range of magnificent teas, worthy the attention of any buyer."

"The Ceylon teas we are now selling at 19 cents," say Lucas, Steele & Bristol, "show wonderful liquor. They make good 40c. teas and are equal to many of the so-called blends retailing at 50c."

BRANTFORD NOTES.

W. F. Paterson, of the firm of Wm. Paterson & Son, was in Toronto last week.

The demand for Paterson's sodas has been so heavy that for the last two weeks the firm have had to run the factory night and day.

Wm. Paterson & Son have lately introduced several new lines of "Gross Goods" that are proving good sellers. Travelers have samples.

LONDON NOTES.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, July 4, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE week has passed without developing any new or striking phase in any of the staple lines which come under this head. Dulness still continues to surprise those dealers who usually expect a demand for sugar at this season of the year, and in syrups the same state of affairs exists. In coffee and spices trade is quiet also. Briefly, about the only interesting features to note are some activity in regard to future contracts on canned goods staples and a fairly good enquiry from the country for molasses.

SUGAR.

There has been little or no change in the sugar market, and the trade are expressing surprise that demand should hold off as long as it has, now that the preserving season has commenced. Both refiners and jobbers complain of dulness, and, as a consequence, there is little to note. In fact, we understand that some round lots have changed hands at a shading on 4¼c. for granulated, but we still quote that as the refiners' price, with yellows 3¼ to 3¾c. In a jobbing way quotations range from 4¾c. on granulated to 3½ to 4c. on yellows, as to quality.

SYRUPS.

The syrup market is quiet and steady, with no new feature to note. Demand is slow, but prices are steady at 1¼ to 2¼c. in a wholesale way, while jobbing lots necessitate a fractional advance in most cases upon this range.

MOLASSES.

The firm tone of this market is fully maintained, prices ruling strong. A moderate distributing demand has been noted this week, but as a rule the market is a quiet one, aside from deals between the trade. A cargo lot of Barbadoes was offered at 25c. cost and freight, or about 35c. laid down here, and closed out to a French house. On spot Porto Rico has sold at 34c., and we quote jobbing lots 36c. and Barbadoes 37c.

RICE.

Rice furnished a fairly active business during the week at steady prices. We quote jobbing prices: Japan, $4.30 to $4.50; crystal Japan, $4.80 to $5; standard B, $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.37½ to $5; and Carolina, $7 to $7.50.

SPICES.

This market is without new feature and demand is moderate, but prices are steadily held. We quote jobbing prices as follows: Penang black pepper, 9 to 10c.; white pepper, 13 to 15c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; cassia, 12 to 20c.; nutmegs, 65 to 90c.; Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c., as to grade.

COFFEES.

The coffee business has been very quiet during the past fortnight, and there is no change of importance to note. We quote: Maracaibo, 21½ to 23c.; Rio, 19 to 21c.; Java, 25 to 30c.; Jamaica, 20 to 22c.; and Mocha, 29 to 32c.

TEA.

The only new feature in tea since our last has been further sales of new crop Japans, comprising some 400 half packages at 18c. The market as a whole, however, is exceedingly dull, especially in a jobbing sense.

DRIED FRUITS.

The Valencia raisin business has continued much as it was a week ago. Trade is of a quiet jobbing character, and though prices are not quotably changed, some shading would no doubt be submitted to clean up some of the old stock on hand here. We quote 3½ to 5c., as to quality.

California raisins rule very steady in their tone and the tenor of advices from primary markets tends to support this course. In fact, sales agents here predict that prices will be higher. In the meantime buyers have no difficulty in securing supplies at the former range, $6\frac{1}{2}$ c. for 4-crown and $5\frac{1}{2}$ c. for 3-crown loose muscatels.

Currants—The currant market rules quiet and steady at $3\frac{1}{4}$ c. in bbls., $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. in half bbls., and $3\frac{3}{4}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c. for do. in cases.

Prunes are steady to firm at 4 to 5c. for Bosnias, as to grade.

The small supply of dates here are firmly held at $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.

NUTS.

The nut market is quiet and unchanged. We quote: Brazils, 8 to 9c.; shelled almonds, 18 to 25c.; Tarragona, 11 to 13c.; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 13c.; shelled ditto, 24 to 25c.; filberts, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c.; and pecans, 8 to 10c.

CANNED GOODS.

The canned goods market does not show much sign of activity in a jobbing sense, but the tone on many staple lines of fruit, vegetables and fish is firm. Advices are strong with regard to the new pack of fruit, which is expected to be short in many lines this fall. In canned salmon some further contracts for future delivery have been settled on the old basis, $$4.50$ f.o.b. on the Coast. We quote: Lobsters, $$5.75$ to $$6.50$ per case; sardines, $$8.50$ to $$10.50$; salmon, $$4.80$ to $$5.20$; tomatoes, 80 to 90c. per doz.; peaches, $$2$ to $$3.00$ per doz.; corn, 85c. to $$1$ per doz.; peas, 85 to 95c. per doz.; strawberries, $$2$ to $$2.25$; raspberries, $$1.75$ to $$2$; green gages, $$2$ to $$2.25$; blue plums or damsons, $$1.50$ to $$1.75$; pineapples, $$2$ to $$2.25$, and 3-lb. apples, $$1$ to $$1.10$.

GREEN FRUIT.

ORANGES—The orange market has been fairly active during the week and prices are unchanged at $$3$ to $$4.50$ per box.

LEMONS—These continue much the same as they were at $$4$ to $$5$ per box.

PINEAPPLES—Pines were in rather light supply at one time, but there have been increased receipts recently. Prices range much the same as they did at 10 to 20c. each.

BANANAS—The market is still lightly supplied, but fresh receipts are expected before the end of the week. In the meantime prices are steady at 80c. to $$2$ per bunch.

PEACHES—California fruit are selling at $$1.50$ to $$1.75$ per box, and apricots at $$1.20$ to $$1.40$.

CHERRIES—Receipts of domestic are on the increase, but prices are steady at $$1.30$ to $$1.50$ per basket, while California fruit ranges from $$1.90$ to $$2$ per box.

STRAWBERRIES—The strawberry market is now chiefly supplied with Quebec berries, which sell easy at 6 to 7c. per quart box.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The egg market continues quiet and steady at 10 to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—These will soon be off the market. We quote: Syrup, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to 5c. per lb., and sugar, 6 to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c.

HOPS—Rule quiet and steady at 5 to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c. par lb.

HONEY—No change, with the market quiet. Extracted sells at 7 to 9c. per lb. for new, and 5 to 6c. for old. Comb honey is held at 10 to 12c.

BEANS—This market is firmer in tone, and holders are disposed to ask an advance. We quote: $$1.70$ to $$1.80$ for hand-picked, with lower grades $$1.50$.

TALLOW—The market is quiet at 5c. per lb.

HAY.

This market is an interesting one just at present. In consequence of the great scarcity of hay and the prospects of a poor crop in Ontario, enquiries are being received daily from western points with regard to hay by dealers here. The latter, however, are not urgent sellers, and have firm views of values, with the market active at $$9.50$ to $$10$ for No. 1 straight timothy and $$8$ to $$8.50$ for No. 2 shipping hay. The former grade is very difficult to obtain, and likely to remain so until new crop is offered on the market.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

The flour market rules quiet but steady. We quote: Winter wheat, $$5$ to $$5.25$; spring wheat, patents, $$4.90$; straight roller, $$4.80$ to $$4.90$; straight roller, bags, $$2.25$ to $$2.30$; extra, $$4.20$ to $$4.30$; extra, bags, $$2.15$ to $$2.20$; Manitoba strong bakers' $$4.75$.

The demand for oatmeal continues slow, and the market was quiet and about steady. We quote: Standard, bbls., $$4.10$ to $$4.20$; granulated, bbls., $$4.20$ to $$4.30$; rolled oats, bbls., $$4.20$ to $$4.30$.

Owing to the continued active demand for feed for shipment to Ontario points, that market has ruled active and strong, and prices advanced $$1$ per ton on bran and shorts, but millers stated that this did not have any effect on the demand. We quote: Bran, $$15$; shorts, $$17$; mouillie, $$22$ to $$23$.

PROVISIONS.

There is no important change in the situation of the local provision market. The demand for pork is limited, but smoked meats are moving freely. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $\$17$; Canadian short cut, mess, $\$18$; hams, city cured, per lb., 10 to 11c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 10 to 11c.; bacon, per lb., 10 to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.; lard, common, refined, per lb., $7\frac{1}{2}$ to 8c.

BUTTER.

For the first time, this week there will be some respectable exports of butter to England. Though this is the fact, however, there is not much change in the temper of the market. We quote creamery, which is the only description for which there is any demand, at $15\frac{1}{2}$ to 16c.

CHEESE.

As expected, this market has sagged off noticeably since last week, once the short sales were filled, and the range is now fully $\frac{1}{4}$ c. per lb. lower than it was last Monday, as some 12,000 Quebec cheeses changed hands on spot at 8c.

ASHES.

Receipts of ashes continue small, and the market rules steady at $$4.10$ for first pots and $$3.80$ for second, while pearls are quoted at $$5.50$ per 100 lbs.

haps, has been in evaporated apples. The large profits on flour and sugar that were expected have, perhaps, not been realized, owing to flour weakening and sugar selling at the same price out of store as refiners ask, because of the desire to turn over the large stocks which are held. The volume of trade done has been good. Payments have been better than fair and in many cases profits have been most satisfactory. Even molasses is tending to be easier, though we think it is only through lack of present demand. We do not at all look for low prices. During the last week or two business has been rather quieter, and it is likely to be so for a month or two at this season.

OIL—The market continues firm with a small advance noticed in prime Canadian. A fair demand is reported, and in Canadian rather more than usual is moving. We quote as follows: Best American, 22½c.; best Canadian, 21½c.; prime, 18c.

SALT—Some 1,200 bags have arrived during the week. This is the last direct cargo of which we have any information. Some salt is, however, landing in Boston which will, no doubt, find its way here. The demand is but fair. Ten and twenty pound boxes continue to find a good market. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory filled, 95c. to $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.80 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per doz.; bbls., bulk, dairy, $2.80; bbls., bulk, cheese, $2.70.

CANNED GOODS—There is a good demand for the season. Wholesalers continue buyers in a small way of vegetables. But little if anything has yet been done in new goods. Strawberries and peas, it is reported, will be a light pack. Some three cars of salmon are reported sold in this market, but buyers are offish at the price. There are but few old here, and they are held firm. In fact, all canned goods are so held. In canned ham, chicken and turkey at this season there is a good demand. We quote: Corn, 95c. to $1; peas, 90 to 95c.; tomatoes, $1 to $1.05; corned beef, 2 lb. tins, $2.75 to $3; 1-lb. tins, $1.70 to $1.80; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $3; 2's, $2 to $2.10; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; salmon, $1.40 to $1.50; flat, $1.75; clams, $5.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $3 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1.

DRIED FRUIT—There is little to be said, the demand being very light. The movement in dates and prunes is very small. Holders of raisins are sellers, but find movement slow. Stocks cannot be called large. In evaporated apples little is doing, and holders are disappointed. A car of dried was shipped west this week. This leaves the stock here very light, but there is no movement outside of a small local demand, except at very low prices. Bermuda onions are rather lower, with but a light movement. In peanuts the prices are higher, having advanced in Virginia about 75 per cent. We quote: Sultana raisins, 6 to 7c.; Valencia, 4c.; layers, 5c.; London layers, $2 to $2.25; California loose muscatels, 5 to 5½c.; currants, bbls., 3¾ to 4c.; half-cases, 4¼ to 4½c.; evaporated apples, 7½ to 8c.; dried apples, 5½ to 5¾c.; dates, 4 to 4½c.; prunes, 4 to 5c.; figs, 11 to 18c.; Bermuda onions, $1.40 to $1.50 per crate; Egyptian, 2 to 2¼c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; do. apricots, 12 to 14c.; do. pears, 12 to 13c.; cleaned currants, bulk, 6½c.; 1 lb. cartons, 7½c.

GREEN FRUIT—Demand has been very active and sales are reported large, particularly in bananas, which are being retailed as low as 15c. per dozen. Strawberries, which are early this season, are coming in freely from both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. The quantity coming from Ontario was very light. American tomatoes and peaches are to hand; also watermelons. Lemons are very firm and higher prices are looked for as they cannot be replaced at present figures. We quote: Tomatoes, $2 to $2.50 per crate; melons, 40 to 50c.; cucumbers, 4c.; peaches, $2; Valencia, oranges, $6.50 to $7.50; Messinas, $3.50 to $4; lemons, $5 to $5.50; strawberries, 6 to 7c.; pineapples, 15 to 20c.; rhubarb, ½ to 1c.; bananas, $1 to $2.50; oranges, half-box, $1.75 to $2.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Exporters report that the last shipments of old cheese to the West Indies have resulted poorly. In the last steamer a few new ones arrived from which they expected better results. A few old that were shipped from here to England showed small returns, but the quality of the cheese as well as the market had something to do with it. The demand here is light. There are not many New Brunswick cheese yet on the market, though factories are now all working and report satisfactory receipts of milk. Prices are rather firmer. In butter the demand is still light, though good new finds fair sale. In creamery prints there is also a fair movement, but prices are not very satisfactory to factories. Eggs are in good demand and during the past week receipts have been small. We quote: New cheese, 8½ to 9c.; new butter, 15 to 16c.; old creamery, 15 to 16c.; dairy, 12 to 14c.; cheese, 9 to 9½c.; eggs, 10 to 10½c.; fresh creamery prints, 18 to 20c.

MOLASSES—A large cargo of Porto Rico is due here any day. The demand at present is rather lighter than for some time and so prices are rather easier. But with light stocks and but very little outside of cargo above spoken of to arrive there can be but little if any decline, and it for only a short time. Just at this season the demand is always light. Very little syrup is moving. There is quite a demand for 40 gallon packages, which are being sold low, price 34 to 35c. We quote: Barbadoes, 34 to 35c.; St. Croix, 32 to 34c.; Porto Rico, 35 to 36c.; syrup, 35c.

SUGAR—Wholesale trade are not buyers, stocks being large both held and to arrive. The demand is good and it is expected this week will be better than last. Prices are quoted by the trade at about refiners' figures. The market being small it is hard to turn over large stocks at full prices. We quote: Granulated, 4¼ to 4½c.; yellow, 3½ to 3¾c.; Paris lump, 5 to 5½c.; powdered, 5 to 5½c.

FISH—Movement is light. Fresh salmon are higher. Catch is very light and dealers cannot get enough to fill orders. Gaspareaux are about out of the market and very few are being received. Shad are done and lobsters will be out of the market in another week. In dry prices are easier with light demand, particularly for small cod. There are no pickled moving, and smoked continue very dull, but few are arriving, as they at present prices do not pay for boxing. We quote: Med. cod, $3.50; large, $3.75; small, $2.75; pollock, $1.50 to $1.60; bay herring, $1.40 to $1.50; Shelburne, No. 1, $4 per bbl.; half-bbl., $2.40 to $2.50; smoked herring, 5 to 6c.; Digby chickens, 10 to 12c.; halibut, 8 to 9c.; gaspareaux, 50 to 60c.; lobsters, $6; fresh salmon, 17 to 18c.

PROVISIONS—Pork is rather easier, though prices remain as last week. Beef is very firm. The American in half barrels which comes here is not well suited for our trade as regards quality. Very little business is being done in smoked meats. P. E. Island is selling fair quantities of both pork and smoked meats here. We quote: P. E. Island thin mess, $16 to $16.50; clear pork, $18.50 to $19; mess, $16.50 to $17; prime, $13 to $13.50; plate beef, $14.50 to $15; pure lard, 9¾ to 10½c.; compound lard, 8½ to 9c.; cottolene, 9¼ to 9¾c.; hams, 11 to 12c.; rolls, 9 to 9½c.; beef, half-barrels, $7.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—Dealers are very light buyers in flour, stocks still being large. The fact that prices are somewhat off is also hurting the demand. The full profit counted upon will hardly be made. In oatmeal the market is not so firm, though no change is made in price. In cornmeal prices are lower, the demand being good. Hay continues to go out of the country to the States in large quantities. The price is low, but holders are glad to see it move. Oats are rather lower, and there is but little difference between P. E. Island and Ontario in price. We quote: Manitoba, $5.45 to $5.50; best Ontario, $5.25 to $5.30; medium, $5 to $5.10; oatmeal, $4.50 to $4.60; cornmeal, $2.90 to $3; middlings, $25 on track; bran, $22.50 to $23; hand-picked beans, $1.90 to $2; prime, $1.80 to $1.85; split peas, $3.70 to $3.90; pot barley, $4 to $4.25; hay, on track, $9 to $9.50; oats, on track, 46 to 48c.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

Returns received by Nova Scotia parties of the shipments of potatoes to Havana are reported satisfactory.

New Brunswick fishing returns for 1894 show an increase over 1893 of $605,407, the figures being $4,351,528.

St. John mill owners seem most unfortunate this season, Purves' mill being totally destroyed by fire during the past week. This makes the third.

H. B. White has been appointed to represent A. C. Miller & Co., canners, Picton, Ont. Their brand "Little Chief" is most favorably known in this province, having a reputation for quality second to none.

The new amalgamated tea firm of Peek Bros & Winch, began to offer their teas here July 1. W. R. Miles, the popular and successful representative of the old firm of Francis Peek, Winch & Co., will look after the new firm's business here.

C. & E. Macmichael have received shipments of Stower's famous lime juice, lime juice cordial and lemon squash. The first sells in pints at $2.25 per dozen; in quarts at $4.25, the cordial at $2.50 and $4.50, and the squash in pints at $2.50.

Something entirely new in steamer service is announced for Bay route between here and Digby, the Dominion Atlantic Railway having put on a splendid steamer, the Prince Rupert, which will make two trips a day, leaving St. John at 7 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The Grocer acknowledges the receipt of a copy of the new paper of this province, The Co-operative Farmer and Maritime Dairyman, published by R. D. Robinson, Sussex. The editor is W. W. Hubbard, now of Windsor, a writer well-known on agricultural subjects. It also shows a large list of corresponding editors, who are men of practical training in the above subject. There is room for such a paper, and should it continue as it starts, it will, no doubt, succeed.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKET REPORT.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

HALIFAX, July 4, 1895.

THE first week of July shows little or no improvement in trade over the month of June. In fact, the past two weeks have been extremely dull and the markets may be characterized as featureless. The backward weather to a great extent is accountable for this.

The lobster canning business has not been a success. Indeed, the chances are that the catch will not be more than half an average one. The season has been extended ten days, but the order came rather late, as most the factories had closed up previous to its receipt. There is considerable complaint of the methods employed in putting up lobsters. In some factories wholesale dishonesty is practised. The cans on the retail market are often found to hold in the middle a quantity of refuse or to be partly filled with shedded codfish. This is a matter of serious import to the trade, as its continuance can only have the effect of totally destroying the reputation of the Nova Scotia article.

Competition is keen, and cutting prices is the order of the day among some Halifax retailers. This is demonstrated by a walk along Argyle street, which, by the way, is fast becoming the centre of the grocery and provision trade in the city. One merchant puts up a card offering a certain article at a certain price. His next door neighbor follows with a cut in the price. And so it goes on until the article is offered at far less than cost price. The effect is anything but healthy.

FLOUR—Markets are still in an unsettled condition, and likely to be, as there is such a diversity of opinion in reference to the growing crop, and what the present prices should be. A leading miller in Ontario asks $5.15 for his patent, delivered Halifax, that is a decline of only 15c. from his highest price. He says there is nothing in the price of wheat nor in the prospective markets to warrant any lower prices. Some of the other millers are offering flours of about the same grade at $4.80 to $4.85, delivered Halifax. We heard of a Halifax firm issuing a circular offering Ontario patents at $4.50 f.o.b. Halifax. Any of those in the regular flour trade contend that it is a mere catch, as no really good patents could be bought or sold for that money, and that therefore there must be some off grades that are being offered at this price. The current price seems to be about $4.80 to $5 for good to first-class patents. Manitobas are selling by the carload somewhere in the neighborhood of $5, and we have heard of jobbers selling at the same price, which is far below the cost of laying them on the market. Quotations are: Hungarian patent, Manitoban, $5.50 to $5.75; Manitoba strong bakers', $5.40 to $5.50; Canadian pastry, $5.30 to $5.50; 75 p.c. roller patents, $5.25 to $5.40; 80 p.c. ditto, $5.15 to $5.25; 90 p.c. ditto, $5 to $5.10; straight, $4.90 to $5.10; extra, $4.50 to $4.65.

OATMEAL AND ROLLED OATS—Oatmeal and rolled oats are worth $4.25 by the carload. The jobbing price is $4.35 to $4.45. We heard of an offering of oatmeal at under $4, which seems low, considering the price of oats.

CORNMEAL—The market in cornmeal is easier. A sale was made this week at $2.80. Jobbing prices are $2.90 to $3.

OATS—The cost of oats here by the carload is 46 to 46½c., and to jobbers at 47 to 48c.

FISHSTUFFS—There is no perceptible change in the fish market since last week. A late letter from St. John's, Nfld., says: "We are threatened with a most prolific codfishery, the accounts to hand from all quarters of the take-up to the present time being favorable beyond all precedent up to date. In fact, we have more fish secured already prior to the 1st July than would constitute an ordinary average. The price of dry fish will rule unusually low here this fall. If fish are only $2 or $3 per quintal, and difficult to sell at that, a great waste of the product will take place, and even the best of it will go to languid and unappreciative markets." Prices here remain unchanged.

SUGAR—Dealers are still doing all the business on contracted stocks. Considerable sugar is moving, but the refinery report business unchanged with them. There is a little better demand from the west, but nothing of any consequence. A higher level of values is looked for, on account of the shortage of the beet root crop.

MOLASSES—The receipts of molasses at this port during the past few days embraced 458 puns and 23 tierces from Porto Rico; 196 puns, 4 tierces and 82 bbls. from St. Croix; 2 puns from Montserrat; 146 puns, 164 hhds., 94 bbls., 1 quarter cask and 3 kilderkins from St. Kitts. This leaves the market well supplied at present, although stocks were low before the arrivals. Quotations remain unchanged.

PROVISIONS—The provision market is quiet. P. E. Island mess pork is a little stiff on account of small receipts. Beef is a little easier. There is no Canadian offering. Leaman & Co. are expecting a herd for next week. Native is quoted at $8 to $8.50. Some grass cattle were sold here this week at $7 and $8. Lambs are worth $2.60 and sheep $3.50 each. Veal is quoted at 5c. There is no dressed pork on the market and no demand for it.

BUTTER AND CHEESE—There is no change for the better in either butter or cheese, and there is little chance for the markets to be any worse. Retailers are offering this spring's make cheese at three pounds for 25 cents, and last winter's roll butter, Quebec, at 10c. per lb.

ONIONS—There is an advance in onions. Egyptians are quoted at 2¼c. to-day.

EGGS—There has been quite a brisk movement in eggs, and the markets are about cleaned up. Good fresh stock is worth 10c. here, or 9c. on P.E.I.

GREEN FRUIT—The green fruit trade is showing considerable life. Valencia oranges are still arriving in good condition, and prices are a little suffer. New Jamaicas are to hand. Lemons are on the advance. California fruits of all kinds are being received in abundance, and the market is well supplied. Bananas are in excellent demand, and native strawberries have been received in large quantities up to the first of the week, when the supply fell from 500 boxes daily to 50 boxes. The price ranged from 6 to 8c., and retailers sold at very little over these figures. Some of the latter fruit was shipped to Boston.

HALIFAX NOTES.

Fifteen barrels of pineapples were received this week from Antigua.

A. N. Whitman has 2,500 hhds. Trapani salt on the barque Aquila, which arrived this week.

The barque Mark Curry has arrived from Iloilo with 65,818 matts sugar for the Acadia refinery.

The Customs receipts at Halifax during June were $66,360, an increase over June of last year of $6,776.

The total number of vessels which arrived at the port of Halifax during the fiscal year ending yesterday was 887 foreign and 3,749 coastwise, and at Sheet Harbour, an outpost, two foreign and 85 coastwise.

A. G. Jones & Co. received 1,200 bags of sugar from Antigua and Montserrat on Monday, and Stairs, Son & Morrow 559 bags. Fifty-four hhds. of sugar were received from St. Croix on Monday. The steamer Greetlands brought from St. Kitts 897 bags, 1,800 bbls., and 13 hhds. of sugar for general dealers.

The growth of the apple trade between Nova Scotia and England is shown in the following comparative statement of the seasons from 1880 to 1895. The shipments were made from Halifax:

TRUTH ABOUT CANADA.

There is not a community in the world of 5,000,000 in numbers more free from objectionable elements than that of Canada. Canadians are well versed in the art of self-government. They clearly understand that true liberty is not license, therefore they have profound respect for law and constitutional means and methods. They demand honest money. They have adopted gold as a single standard of exchange or measure of values. There is not any demand in Canada for rag money, or a debased silver currency. Although an ultra-loyal people they believe in protection to Canadian industries in preference to those of Mother England. They have as many miles of railway per capita as we have, and they have common sense enough not to embarrass their railway systems with adverse legislation. The history of their banking system is most creditable to their skill in finance.—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

BUSINESS MEN WANTED.

OUR esteemed contemporary, Iron-mongery, evidently takes the same stand in British politics as regards parliamentary representation as THE CANADIAN GROCER does in Canadian. Speaking just prior to the fall of the Rosebery Government it said: For some weeks past the political air has been full of rumors and denials of coming dissolution, but whether the general election is to come this year or next spring remains as much a mystery as ever. Probably if the Government can rely upon getting their men up for an autumn session, they will endeavor to make progress, in which case the election would probably take place at the latter period. But this is not a note of prophecy. It is simply to give a word of advice to those who, whatever political party they belong to, have a voice in their respective localities in the selection of the man who is to champion their cause in the coming fight. Candidates are being selected now in many places, and we only desire to urge the importance, whenever possible, of selecting business men. Those who are able to pull the wires, to however small an extent, should use every effort to secure the nominations of business men of known ability and integrity, and if the candidate is a local man, so much the better. Anyone who has had much experience, who has studied the decisions given in the law courts, must often have felt keenly the need of the business man's common sense in the making of the laws which, for example, govern trade matters. What we want in the House of Commons is a smaller proportion of lawyers, adventurers and axe-grinders, and a very much larger proportion of experienced men of business, who have proved their capacity in making their own commercial success, and who have the time and the will to devote their energies and abilities to the service of the country. Men who, to write M.P. after their names, give freely to local charities, are useful men in their way—though it is rather a poor way, after all. But the men who will do their country most good in the legislature are the commercial men who may so guide the country's policy for the benefit of trade, that charity doles will not be needed by a busy and prosperous people.

CUSTOMS BOARD.

Hon. Mr. Wallace gave notice in the House of Commons on Wednesday of a bill for the appointment of a Board of Customs Appraisers, a modification of the suggestion of several Boards of Trade, but in line with the proposition of the Toronto and Ottawa Boards. It provides that the Board of Customs shall consist of the Commissioner of Customs, the assistant commissioner, if any, Dominion Appraiser, the assistant appraiser, and such other duly qualified officer of Customs who may be appointed by the Governor-General-in-council. In this latter respect it is an enlargement of the present law. It is also proposed that three members of the Board shall form a quorum.

T. H. & B. MUST PAY WAGES.

At the meeting of the Railway Committee at Ottawa on Wednesday morning the Toronto, Hamilton & Buffalo Railway Bill was referred to a sub-committee to draft a clause to make the company liable for the wages of workmen whose claims are still outstanding.

SALESMEN'S EXPENSES.

The question of a salesman's expenses while on the road is a very live one with every house employing traveling men. A manufacturer expresses himself in Iron Age in a somewhat novel way regarding the expenses of a salesman that he sent out upon an experimental trip:

"About a year ago a man who had been on the road for me for some time left me, with my full consent. He had never been a successful salesman, though you could not call him a failure. Later in the season I thought I would try my bookkeeper on the road, particularly as he was very desirous of making a trip for me.

"I sent him to New England, and he did very little in the way of securing orders, but I had anticipated this and told him so. My New England trade is somewhat peculiar: I have to see it often, but rarely get an order on my trips; this generally follows by mail within two or three weeks.

"For this reason I did not consider my man's trip to New England a failure, and I then planned a two-weeks' route through Pennsylvania and New York. Upon the third day he was out he wired me to mail him some money. This was a great surprise to me. I had given him what ought to have been enough for his whole trip and I did not understand his running short in three days. But I sent him a cheque and concluded to watch the amount he turned in for expenses.

"His trip was a poor one for orders, but no one was getting much trade at that time. I looked over his expense account and found that it was reasonable, but I saw that he had a large sum charged to his own account. I did not like this. I don't consider it a sign of a good man to have large personal expenses on the road. I see but very little difference in his spending his own money or in spending mine, for I don't think he ought to spend either, and if he attends to his business closely he will have no occasion to make such expenses. I said nothing to him, but I would not send him out again. He is keeping the books now and I am doing my own traveling."

BEEF'S DIFFICULTY, MUTTON'S OPPORTUNITY.

This is the subject of an article in The National Provisioner, in which the writer claims that from close observation it would seem that the important product of beef had reached as low a range of price as could be expected for some time to come.

"This opinion," the writer claims, "is based upon close investigation into this very important question, and is expressed despite the fact that to-day, in consequence of high prices and misleading statements trumpeted all over the country, the consumption of beef has fallen off fully sixty per cent. But whilst the demand for beef has fallen off the demand for veal has increased almost relatively, with the result that the demand has switched around from one product to the other, and large quantities of immature veal have found their way into the markets, and, of course, into consumption.

"It might have been thought that with this disposition by the public to discard beef a demand would have sprung up for provisions and mutton, but such has not been the case to any appreciable extent, and why, it is hard to say. The mutton trade should certainly be benefited when any difficulty such as the present affects the cattle market. Americans have never taken kindly to mutton, and we venture to say that the proportion of mutton to beef eaters in the country is very small, but is accounted for by the fact that up to recently we have not raised sheep for food purposes, but for wool, and consequently the mutton from such sheep has never become popular, as the quality in general has been inferior. A time has now arrived for these conditions to change. The day of inferior sheep and mutton has, of necessity, gone by, for there is no longer any profit in raising sheep for wool, and if raised at all it must be for their value as food."

THE POSITION OF MACE.

From Mr. Wm. Schroder, of Amsterdam, we have, says The N. Y. Journal of Commerce, the following by mail referring to the position of mace: "The 100 cases, bought in on the 13th and 14th inst., have been sold, so that the stock in first hand is exhausted. Mace will attract more attention yet, and even at advancing prices, on account of the very good position of this article. In Holland the arrivals were, in the first five months of 1895, 96 tons; 1894, 70 do.; 1893, 147 do.; and the deliveries were 131 do., 89 do. and 91 do. (1,000 kilos gross) according to the official, reliable statistics of the Government. The stock has thus been reduced by 35 tons gross, about 27,000 kilos net, since January 1, 1895. At London the stock is only about 21 tons, against 39 tons same time last year. On the last December, 1893, the stock at London amounted to about 35, against 32, 22, 21, 45, 52 and 38 tons—all net—in the foregoing six years. Regarding the strong position of this article the value of mace is very low, being about 110 cents Netherlands per ½ kilo for good prime Banda, against 115, 135, 135, 170, 180, 210, 185, 185, 135 and 110 cents in the foregoing ten years at the same time."

A CLERK TO BE EMULATED.

“WILL you lend me your watch, sir, for a few minutes? I want to use the second hand.”

Billy is to be trusted with anything, so I promptly handed him my valuable time-piece without a question as to the use he would make of it. A few minutes later I glanced toward the rear of the store, and saw Billy rapidly doing up different sorts of merchandise into neat parcels and as rapidly undoing them. I walked toward the scene of action to see what he was about.

“I'm just practising,” said he, in answer to my mental inquiry. “When I was over to your competitor's store the other day, there was a young man there who could do up a bottle into a package while I counted ten. I thought maybe if I practised long enough I could learn to do it, too.” While Billy talked his busy fingers made neat knots, and one eye was kept steadily on the small hand of my watch, which lay before him.

“Do you think it's worth all the trouble it will be to learn?” I asked.

“Course I do,” he answered promptly. “I don't believe it will take me more than a month or two, and then I shall know how as long as I live. You see, you never forget the things you learn with your hands or your feet.”

I said nothing, but watched the boy's dexterous fingers as he skilfully shaped the stiff wrapping paper around various objects. After a minute or so he went on:

“It's so much easier to do anything after you know exactly how; and I hate to be a chump with my hands, anyway. Have you noticed that new clerk you got last week? He's a nice man, and everybody likes him, but he's the clumsiest chap I ever saw. He always spills a little of everything he touches—about a tablespoonful on the average. After he's had a real busy morning there are enough spilled groceries behind the counter to make a square meal for a tramp, only they are too mixed even for that.

“That man ought to live with my mother a little while. When I was a little shaver I had a bad habit of spilling things on the tablecloth. Mother spoke to me once or twice about it. Then one day, after dinner, she lifted me up to the table and showed me the place where my plate had been. There was a clean white circle with a lot of different colored spots around it.

“My son,” said she, “if it made your dinner taste better or made you any happier to put those spots there I would let you go on doing it, but as I am sure it will not you must break yourself of the habit at once. I will take one cent out of your pocket-money for every spot you get on the table-cloth, and see whether you can't learn to be a little tidier. It is a matter of habit, either way, and you will always find that on the whole a good habit is easier than a bad one.”

“Well, sir, I was pretty poor for a week or two, but after that my place was the cleanest at the table, and I guess I am cured of spilling things as long as I live.

“I don't like to do up packages specially well, but if I can learn to do up twice as many in a morning as anybody else, I suppose I would be worth twice as much wages; wouldn't I, sir?”

I smiled, but said nothing. I am afraid sometimes that Billy is getting too sharp for me.—but.

THE EMPLOYER'S INTEREST.

If you have any interest in your own welfare or of that of your employer, you will interest yourself as much as he does, or even more, to accomplish success, says Trade Magazine.

How can you do this? By making everything a study that pertains to your own as well as to the other departments, and by suggesting to your employer any improvement that you think worthy for him to act upon. Submit it for his approval.

Do not try to impress others who are equal or superior to you that you are in authority and can dictate to them, as this only lowers you in the estimation of your employer, and will create discord and dissatisfaction wherever attempted.

Your actions are your capital, and if you do not profit by them you are robbing yourself as well as the one who is compelled to pay you for the incompetent services you render.

Be polite to other employes and you will learn to be polite to customers. Try to make customers whom you are serving feel at home by your actions, and in so doing you will find it a pleasure and not a bore.

If you can carry out the above, it will be a pleasure for your employer to commend you at all times.

You will be surprised at the interest taken in you by your employer, when occasion offers, if you profit by the above suggestions. One proof of this is that the most reliable hands are retained in a dull time; another, if there is any advancement to be made, the worthy and deserving get it.

Do not be the last to reach the store in the morning, nor the first to leave it at night, as this does not count in your favor, but against you.

Do not think that if your employer is out, you can take liberties you would not otherwise think of taking. You should be an example in this to others, by trying to do even more in such absence, as this is an assurance of your loyalty to yourself.

Profit by the above and you will see a winning smile on your own countenance as well as on that of your employer, and success will mount to the highest pinnacle.

HOW PATENT LEATHER IS MADE.

It is distinctly an industry requiring the very strictest attention, says Shoe and Leather Facts. Ninety days must elapse from the time a green hide is put in to work until it is turned out all ready for the market. For the purpose of manufacture only the best grades of green hides and materials are used, the former being a "take off" from the best selected western and country cows and steers. After being carefully examined, the hides are divided into "packs," or lots of forty each, and the manufacture of the finished product actually commenced.

First, the hides go to the "beam-house," there are "unhaired," "limed," and "bated," for the removal of grease and all other kinds of foreign substances, at the same time being rendered perfectly receptive to the influence of tannic acid.

After leaving the tanning vats, the hides, which have now become leather, meet their first introduction to machinery, all the processes up to this point having been conducted entirely by hand. The first machine to make its appearance is the splitting machine. It is here that the future purpose or grade of the leather is decided upon. According to that decision the hide is divided laterally into the proper number of "cuts," or slices, of different thickness. Each of these different parts is kept with others of the same grade until the process is finished. They are next retanned and bleached, and go through a softening process. They are then ready for the process of japanning.

This is a distinctive trade by itself, and necessitates the closest attention to minor details. The imperative use of the very purest oil, its manufacture into different compositions, and the application of these to the leather in variable proportions for different grades of the work, are factors which determine the ultimate quality of the finished product.

SALTPETRE AND PICKLING.

Analyses of dry salted meats showed 1.85 to 8.7 per cent. of salt, only traces of saltpetre being found, 0.32 at the most; water had decreased to 49 to 65 per cent. Raw hams showed the highest, especially those from small butchers, boiled hams and ribs the lowest percentage of saltpetre, while the largest percentage of salt was found in the latter and in raw hams; corned beef and boiled hams showing the smallest amount of salt present.

From practical tests it appears that the stronger the brine, the deeper will the salt permeate; after the first eight days but little salt, comparatively speaking, is absorbed, saltpetre, however, in all cases decreases in the inner parts of the meat, perhaps through reduction to nitrous acid, which is volatile, as Nothwang assumes; more likely, however, as we think, from the outer layers of albumine shrinking through the action of the saltpetre and preventing the pickle to permeate any farther. One hundred parts of meat take up on an average 7.1 to 9.5 parts of salt, and 0.19 to 0.26 parts of saltpetre. The loss of water is proportionate to the amount of saltpetre absorbed; the stronger the brine the more the meat will become dehydrated. The nutritive value of the meat, which is always decreased by pickling, yet suffers less by brine than by employing pickle once used.

In salt no more than 1.4 per cent. of albumine was lost, 39 per cent. of nitrogenous extract, 33 per cent. of phosphoric acid; while with pickles once used 2.14 per cent. of albumine and 50 per cent. of phosphoric acid were used of the substance of the meat.—National Provisioner.

SIX MONTHS' FAILURES.

The half-yearly report of failures next week, says Dun's Review, will include about 6,900 against 7,039 for the first half of last year, and liabilities of about $88,000,000 against $101,578,152 last year. But for the Cordage concern, the aggregate would be nearly 23 per cent. less than last year, and the manufacturing liabilities 26 per cent. less, but including it the manufacturing liabilities will be about $40,000,000 against $41,376,102 last year, and the trading $45,000,000 against $52,345,978 last year, while miscellaneous liabilities were only $2,700,000 against $7,856,072 last year. The liabilities for the second quarter will be about $41,000,000 against $47,813,683 for the first quarter this year, but $37,595,973 for the second quarter of 1894. Railroad receiverships cover eleven roads with 3,356 miles, $109,656,410 of indebtedness and $87,423,531 of stock. Failures in Canada have been about 1,100 against 1,042 last year. Failures for the past week have been 256 in the United States against 214 last year, and 22 in Canada against 35 last year.

ATTRACTIVE SALT PACKAGE.

A new package of salt has been put upon the market by the Windsor Salt Works. It is the most handsome package of the kind we remember having seen. It is round, and is artistically labelled in brown, blue and white. On the grocer's shelf it will prove quite attractive. The material is of cardboard, and the great recommendation of the package is that it is peculiarly adapted for summer resorts or damp places, salt in this package being impervious to moisture. The package contains four pounds of salt.

RATHER MISLEADING.

EDITOR GROCER: In your last issue of THE CANADIAN GROCER I notice an article regarding trade prospects, and dealing with Port Arthur. The article is rather misleading. What I did say was that a Port Arthur business man told me that in the year 1878 Duluth was so dead that you could shoot a cannon ball down the streets without striking anybody, and that the window frames and door sashes were being removed from that town to Port Arthur to be used in the construction of buildings in the latter place, the residents of Duluth evidently thinking that the prospects of a boom in that town were nil. To-day Duluth is a most prosperous city, and the natural advantages of Port Arthur are such that it must be only a question of time when the long-looked-for boom arrives.

LIME JUICE CORDIAL AS A BEVERAGE.

THE majority of people regard Lime Juice as a medicine (and a particularly unpleasant one), and join it merely with Arctic regions and scurvy. As a matter of fact, this article, where great experience and care are used in the manufacture, can be converted into a particularly palatable as well as healthy beverage, especially suitable for hot weather when thirst is more pronounced. It is, moreover, eminently suitable for general consumption at all seasons of the year. All medical testimony points to the fact that purity of the blood is the chief element of health. It is in this particular that Lime Juice Cordial is so valuable, as there is nothing which works so well or naturally in this direction as this article. It logically follows, that a steady and continuous use of it as a beverage has a wonderfully beneficial effect on the complexion. In hot thirsty weather a glass of Lime Juice and water, or aerated water, not only satisfies the thirst, but is delicious, healthy, cooling and recuperative, never producing flatulency, griping or fullness, as it acts as a gentle tonic to the stomach. It is an excellent table drink, as it materially assists the digestion and is practically invaluable to dyspeptic dispositions. To drink a wine glass of Lime Juice Cordial in water every other morning is most beneficial. It is used extensively and gratefully in the sick room for rheumatism, gout, eczema, dyspepsia, nausea, pneumonia, all fever, inflammatory and fever cases.

The first consideration in the manufacture is absolute purity and freedom from mineral acids, and the second, palatability. It is most essential that only the freshly squeezed juice of the finest selected fruit should be used, and even then all albumen substances and vegetable mucus must be carefully removed before further processes are commenced. Only the best and most refined sugar can be used, as starch or other impurities would effectually nullify the benefits of the Lime Juice. All contact with metal must be absolutely avoided. It must be scientifically preserved without the use of any alcohol or foreign acids whatever, and finally bottled in glass, which is entirely free from lead or other poisonous ingredients.

Stower's Lime Juice Cordial was the first preparation of the kind ever introduced, namely, in 1862. They have been exclusively engaged in the manufacture of this article for over thirty years, and have brought it to a state of absolute perfection, for purity, strength, flavor, and complete absence of that musty taste which predominates in most, if not all, other cordials. They have the largest trade in the United Kingdom of Great Britain, and supply all the leading hospitals, the principal ocean steamship companies, both Houses of Parliament, and Her Most Gracious Majesty. They also hold several thousand totally unsolicited testimonials from leading physicians and surgeons throughout the kingdom.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. John Morrow, of Montreal, is in Toronto this week looking up business.

Mr. Alex. Jardine, of the Pure Gold Manufacturing Co., is rusticated in Muskoka.

Mrs. Brack, of Concord, mother of J. D. Brack, representative in the Northwest for Todhunter, Mitchell & Co., died last week, and was buried on Thursday. Mr. Brack was in Vancouver when his mother died.

Mr. Robert Shields, the commission merchant at 43 Wellington street east, was married the other day. Miss Hallamore was the bride. Congratulations have been heaping in upon Mr. Shields since the happy event took place.

IN THE DOMAIN OF RETAILERS.

Standish Bros., 162 Queen street west, Toronto, who purchased the G. M. Milligan business at 99 Queen street some 18 months ago, have dissolved, and the stock has been sold by auction.

E. B. B. Hayward has returned to Whitby from Port Perry and opened up in his old stand.

L. J. Dickie, of South Oshawa, has started an up-town branch and employs Mr. Hillyard as a town traveler soliciting orders from consumers.

John McMurtry, of Bowmanville, instituted a bargain day recently. It is held once a month. "It is surprising," said a traveler, "to see the number of people who flock to his store on these days."

THE STORE AND ITS PATRONS.

This is the subject of a page article in The Shoe and Leather Facts, by "General Shoemaker." After discussing the question of how to build up trade, the effects of well-directed efforts in producing profitable business and the importance of knowing patrons' requirements, the writer takes up the subject of general knowledge as an important requisite to success. The writer does not believe with many that ignorance upon all subjects outside of one's regular business is desirable.

"Knowledge," he claims, "gives him courage and confidence and enables him to 'rise to the occasion,' and grasp opportunities which the man buried behind his counter would never hear of. It is not so much book-knowledge, or even the knowledge professed to be acquired at the so-called 'business colleges,' where a boy wades through several kinds of book-keeping, and emerges a practical business man, but it is the knowledge necessary for men in all pursuits in which they deal with their fellow-men, and it comes from observation alone. It is the knowledge of men and things, and no other is so valuable. The merchant should have only one end in view, his success in his business being his sole aim, but he should never neglect a favorable opportunity to hasten it, and should make capital of all the knowledge which he possesses in the work. He should collect the thoughts of other men, and, after rejecting that which is poor and unsuited to his purpose, the remainder should be forged in the workshop of his mind into a grand and irresistible force for his advancement and ultimate triumph."

BUSINESS USE OF PUNCTUATION MARKS.

There was a time, says W. E. Cornell, in Youth's Instructor, when the punctuation marks as now used in common print were not known, and as the result it was often more or less difficult to arrive at the exact meaning of the writer; and to avoid this the points were introduced. Of course, about the smallest and apparently the most insignificant of them all is the comma, but its misuse is often the cause of very annoying mistakes as well as loss of money. It should be the aim of those now in school to learn thoroughly how to use this little mark, and never be guilty of making a mistake like the following, an account of which I read not long ago. It seems that some twenty years ago or so, when the United States by its Congress was making a Tariff bill, one of the sections enumerated what articles should be admitted free of duty. Among the many articles specified were: "all foreign fruit-plants," etc., meaning plants imported for transplanting, propagation, or experiment. The enrolling clerk, in copying the bill, accidentally changed the hyphen in the compound word, "fruit-plants," to a comma, making it read "all foreign fruit, plants," etc. As the result of this simple mistake, for a year, or until Congress could remedy the blunder, all the oranges, lemons, bananas, grapes and other foreign fruits were admitted free of duty. This little mistake, which anyone would be liable to make, yet could have been avoided by carefulness, cost the Government not less than $2,000,000. A pretty costly comma that.

PROFIT-SHARING SYSTEM.

We believe, says an exchange, the profit-sharing system originated in France, where there is less labor trouble than in any other country, but it has spread to England, Germany and America, and is gaining in popularity every year. There are objections to it, but they are not conclusive. The claim that a laborer would prefer a small increase of wages rather than an indefinite share of profits, has been disproved in several instances by the actual refusal of an employee to accept a position at a larger salary to which no share of profits attached.

OLIVE INDUSTRY IN CALIFORNIA.

"This is proving one of the most wonderful seasons of olive orchard planting ever known in California," says The Canner and Dry Fruit Packer. "A year ago 400,000 small olive trees were shipped away from Pomona for orchard planting, and that was considered remarkable, but more than that number have been shipped so far this season, and there are enough orders already on hand to bring the aggregate up to 500,000 trees before June. It is very likely there will be about 600,000 olive trees planted in California before the season for planting closes.

"The rapid growth of the olive industry in California, especially in Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, Merced, San Diego and Orange counties, is one of the surprises in the horticultural world in the last few years. At the present rate of growth olive production will be one of the three most important industries in California in the next decade. The building of mills for the extraction of olive oil in several parts of the state, as at Elwood, North Pomona and National City, has done much to increase the popularity and financial success of olive growing."

IT SAVES POCKET AND TEMPER.

A St. Louis, Mo., firm, write thus to J. W. Beardsley's Sons, of New York: "Beardsley's shredded codfish is really a staple in the household and at the same time a delicacy. There are many times when it comes up to relieve the palate sated with common things and the housewife gladdens the family with the serving of this article. Time is saved, the temper is saved and the pocket is saved."

THE SALMON SITUATION.

It is stated on quite authentic authority that 100,000 cases of Fraser river fish have already been sold for U. K. account at high prices. The greater part is made up of special sizes, viz., 1 and 1½ lb. squats, flats and ovals.

The competition for fish on the Fraser is expected to be very keen this season, as large preparations have been made, and these do not seem justified by past experience. Four years ago the pack of the Fraser was 178,954 cases, and, taking into account the new canneries in operation, it seems improbable that much more than 200,000 cases will be packed this year. It is well known that some of the large canneries will make a determined effort to fill their tins, and high prices for fish will be the probable result.

Advices from eastern Canada report sales for round lots of Fraser river brands at $4.40 and $4.50, and northern brands at $4.20 and $4.25 f.o.b. Coast. Some canners believe the situation does not justify sales at these prices, and are holding for $5 for Fraser river fish.—B. C. Commercial Journal.

INDIAN VS. CHINA TEA.

ENGLAND, remarks an exchange, is the great tea consuming country of the world, and it is stated as a fact that her people consume 600,000 pounds, or about 4,000,000 gallons of tea every day, which is as much as used by the rest of Europe, North and South America, Africa and Australia combined. The green tea of former days has almost ceased to be known, while the Twankay, Hyson and gunpowder teas are seldom heard from. China only supplies one-twelfth of the quantity, the rest coming from India and Ceylon. The Indian tea goes half as far again as the Chinese, as regards color and flavor.

All of which proves that persistency in their antiquated methods of production, and their resort to dishonest makeshifts in the manufacture of tea, may result in depriving the Chinese of their practical monopoly of trade in this important commodity. So far as Great Britain is concerned the Chinese have already been beaten. In 1866 China supplied 96 per cent. of the tea imported by the United Kingdom, against 4 per cent. of British grown tea from India; and as late as 1877 the people of Great Britain consumed 123,000,000 pounds of Chinese tea, compared with 27,000,000 pounds of the Ceylonese and Indian varieties of that article. In 1894 these figures were reversed, the British imports of tea from India having amounted in that year to 178,000,000 pounds, while China supplied but 25,000,000 pounds to the British market. And how has this industrial revolution been accomplished? Simply by applying to the cultivation and manufacture of tea in Ceylon and India those western methods which the Chinese obstinately refuse to adopt. The Anglo-Indian tea planters had no advantage over their rivals in China in the way of "cheap" labor, but labor was made more effective on the Indian tea plantations by organization and the adoption of modern methods of cultivation, by the intelligent employment of capital and credit, and the facilities for cheap transportation afforded by railroads in India. In short, the industrial and commercial machinery of the west has proved more than a match for the patient plodding and inefficient toil of the Celestial millions. The story of China's defeat in this field is the industrial counterpart of disasters suffered by her in the war with Japan. The revolution in the world's tea trade has probably just begun. When the cultivation of this plant in India shall have extended so that the British market will no longer be able to absorb the entire surplus product of the Anglo-Indian tea farmer, we may expect that efforts will then be made to capture the markets which China still controls, and with a fair prospect of success. According to the British custom house reports, the impartiality of which is above suspicion, "if one pound of Chinese tea produces five gallons of tea of a certain depth of color and fullness of flavor, one pound of Indian tea will produce 7½ gallons of a similar beverage." The British housewife has practically discovered this to be a fact long ago; and her sisters all the world over will certainly not be slow in putting her experience to the test. The Chinese will as surely be defeated in a competition with Occidental methods in industry and in arts of peace as they have been in the arts of war. The collapse of China's tea trade with Great Britain discloses the deep-seated causes which bring about the ruin of nations.

CATTLE IN MANITOBA.

The season of 1894 was an exceptional one in respect to the number of cattle shipped from Manitoba and the Territories, yet indications are that the coming summer and fall will witness still larger exportations. The early spring permitted cattle being let loose on the prairie some weeks ahead of previous years, and as a result they will be in condition for shipment a considerable period in advance of past seasons. Already two shipments of grass fed cattle have been sent east, and the outlook is very favorable. Railway officials say cattle dealers are making preparations for an extensive trade during the coming months, and from the middle of July the shipments will be frequent.—Free Press, Winnipeg.

NEWSPAPER VS. PAMPHLET ADVERTISING.

Briefly stated, newspaper advertising pays, because it keeps the subjects advertised before the people, and gives a monthly record of current events relating to or affecting those subjects in which readers are most vitally interested. Newspapers record the progress and development of the country, of its agricultural, horticultural, mining and other resources, and statistical information valuable for reference and purposes of comparison, that lose their value and significance largely if published in pamphlet form instead of at stated intervals.

Pamphlet advertising is not so valuable to or at all so eagerly sought after by the non-resident, for the reason that, however succinctly or elaborately and comprehensively presented, and may be interesting reading for the hour, once laid aside, it is forgotten or overlooked in the perusal of other matter received almost daily by eastern people. Again, it becomes stale matter to the reader after one or two readings, and, as the average man is constantly on the alert for something new, it loses its interest and he turns to new matter.

Actual personal experience at the cost of thousands—aye, tens of thousands—of dollars, has taught this lesson to people, who have made a broad demonstration on an entirely practical basis, and who cannot be deceived or misled any more by the opinions of inexperienced persons.—Oregonian.

VISIT OF A PIONEER.

Mr. W. H. Gillard, of the wholesale firm of W. H. Gillard & Co., of Hamilton, was in the city yesterday on his way west. Mr. Gillard was one of the pioneers of the wholesale trade in this country. He came to Winnipeg in 1872 as the representative of James Turner & Co., and built the first brick structure in the city, that at present occupied by Turner, MacKeand & Co., on Bannatyne street east.—Free Press, Winnipeg.

CHEESE INDUSTRY.

It is learned from the Dominion Department of Agriculture that the progress of cheese making in Prince Edward Island, under the system conducted by the Dairy Commissioner, is this year exceeding expectations. The output during the present month of June, for export, will equal, and very probably exceed, the whole of the export for the year 1893, the second year after the commencement of the operations. The progress may be stated as follows: In 1892, output for export, 700 boxes of cheese; in 1893, 6,000 boxes; in 1894, 11,000 boxes; in 1895 the output will be 20,000 boxes, the output during the present month being 6,000 boxes.

HE BUYS A FURNITURE FACTORY.

J. W. Borsberry, of the Eby, Blain Co., Toronto, has bought the Luke furniture factory, Oshawa; building, machinery and all included. The building is of brick, is three storeys high and has a depth of one hundred feet.

"What are you going to do with it?" I asked him.

"O! Sell it or rent it. I'm trying to get a manufacturer of some kind to take it. The building is filled with machinery and affords a good chance for a manufacturer of almost any kind to start up. The building and plant originally cost $20,000, but it can now be had for $5,000. The electric railway runs within a stone's throw of it."

AUCTIONING FRUIT.

McWilliam & Everist have opened up a fruit auction market on Geddes' wharf at the foot of Yonge street. Large arrivals of fruit are daily disposed of here, and as the purchasers are confined to the wholesale dealers pretty much, the jobbing trade does not seem to suffer from the arrangement.

WORTHY SUCCESSORS.

John Hillock & Co., successors to the late firm of Withrow & Hillock, manufacturers of the patent "Arctic" refrigerator, are filling orders for all parts of the Dominion, from British Columbia to Nova Scotia. The special features of these refrigerators are that they are made so that it is almost impossible for the heat to penetrate or the cold air to escape; are built of three thicknesses of wood, two layers of felt, inside lining of seasoned spruce (which is the material butter tubs are made of, and the only wood which does not taint the provisions) patent open bottom ice pans so arranged that the air is kept revolving around the provision chest and over the ice, so keeping the air as cool as ice can make it; ice chamber lined with galvanized iron, which does not corrode like zinc, and is easily kept clean. The outside is of polished black ash, giving a pleasing appearance. The refrigerators are made in all sizes. The new firm are selling their stock at a much reduced rate. John Hillock & Co. also manufacture at reasonable rates sash doors, blind mouldings and house finishings.

JOINT EXCURSION.

A joint excursion of the Board of Trade, Grain Exchange and Jobbers' Union, of Winnipeg, is to be held shortly. A distance of 710 miles will be traveled, and the following places visited: Winnipeg, Napinka, Kemnay, Virden, Portage, and Glenboro, at a total of only $12 per head.

THE HOLDER.

Occasional inquiries have reached the office of the O. & W. Thum Co., regarding the five Tanglefoot holders advertised as being in every case of regular size of Tanglefoot. The holders are not packed in a separate package, but every alternate box contains one holder wrapped up ready to hand out. The purpose of this mode of packing is to give those who buy broken cases a chance of receiving a few holders, thereby distributing the holders to a greater number of dealers.

THE HUDSON'S BAY RAILWAY.

It seems to be generally understood, says the Ottawa correspondent of The Montreal Gazette, that no legislation in relation to the Hudson's Bay railway will be introduced this session. The promoters of the enterprise have submitted an amended proposition to the Government, in which they ask that instead of a loan of $10,000 a mile for 250 miles, the Government taking all the properties of the company as security, there shall be advanced only $6,000 a mile, the company retaining the land grant and the postal subsidy of $80,000 a year. This latter proposition has been under consideration by the Government, but the decision reached, according to report, is not to proceed with legislation this session.

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Success in business, like gold, is to be obtained by labor.

* * *

Barking at competitors does not corral customers in your store.

* * *

Many men there are who are alive physically but dead commercially.

* * *

It is by disposing of his goods that the merchant keeps his reputation.

* * *

When rushed and overheated physically the ideal merchant is cool mentally.

* * *

Spending himself for naught is the merchant who sells goods be'ow cost.

* * *

Clerks who win prizes in slow bicycle races may be fast in selling goods.

* * *

Sitting in sack-cloth and ashes does not make quiet trade brisk. It is only hustling does that.

* * *

Travelers do not regale their friends with snake stories, but they do entertain them with big fish stories.

* * *

There is some good in everything and everybody. The departmental stores are good at advertising.

* * *

It must not be inferred that business is a toboggan slide because some merchants glide quickly into bankruptcy.

* * *

Sugar has made sour some merchants who have not made out of the advance all the money they anticipated they would.

* * *

The issues of stamped paper, which include postage stamps, postal cards, stamped envelopes, and all forms of postage, by the U. S. Postoffice Department for the year ending June 30 last aggregated $73,889 5 98

This was $3,600,000 more than a year ago. The people of the United States evidently have more "stamps."

* * *

An agitation for burial reform has been started in England. That is sensible. None of us like being buried.

* * *

Stiffness in the upper lip of merchants is to be commended, but it cannot be recommended for the demeanor.

* * *

Boys who sell newspapers teach lessons to men who sell goods: when their fellows are assailed they rush to their assistance.

* * *

Honest advertising is as incumbent as honest dealing, and practising the opposite in the one is as profitless as in the other.

* * *

Until a merchant has mastered the details of his business he cannot be said to be ready to graduate into the School of Success.

* * *

If you have anything to sell advertise in THE CANADIAN GROCER; if you want to buy goods or gather ideas read THE CANADIAN GROCER.

* * *

The country merchant's store may not have as much light in it as the city merchant has in his, but his heart is generally lighter.

* * *

Business men's associations attend to the interests of their members better than the members attend to the business of the associations.

* * *

Even religion, which is free, has to be advertised these days. How much more, therefore, should goods, which are sold, be advertised?

* * *

A correspondent of The American Grocer suggests that a joint stock company, shares to be held by grocers, be formed to start a gigantic dry goods store in opposition to the department stores. The pro-motor evidently believes in fighting the devil with fire.

"Canadian Pacific shows a good deal of strength," remarks a daily paper. Of course it does. Was not the road built with gold and steel?

* * *

Bulls and bears are all right in the fields and woods, but they play the mischief with trade and commerce when they run amuck in the marts.

* * *

Sure paying investments are what every merchant is on the qui vive for these days. Two dollars spent on a good trade paper will secure it.

* * *

The meeting of the North American Beekeepers' Association in Toronto in September next will cause quite a buzz among Canadian bee farmers.

* * *

Had the politicians been as solicitous for the business interests of the country as for party welfare, greater commercially would Canada be to-day than she is.

* * *

A grocer in Ledbury, England, used to stop rat holes with bacon. He probably failed to keep the rodents out just as he has since failed to meet his liabilities.

* * *

Failures would be less numerous did young men select occupations for which they were best adapted and not those which promise to afford them the easiest "time."

* * *

Of course, now that woman is taking the place of man, the latter will assume the former's talkative properties. It is only fair. But won't commercial travelers be able to talk then!

* * *

The storekeeper who does not take a trade journal because he has not time to read it will have plenty of time at his disposal when his business has left him to take care of himself.

NECESSITY OF DETAIL SUPERVISION.

THERE is no business whatever, the administration of which is not helped by an efficient system of accounts, writes Chas. S. Town, in Trade Magazine. As a business is more complex in its ramifications, so must also its accounts be complex and require much keeping of books and careful totalization. For instance, in the departments of accounts of great retail dry goods houses, in a modern sense of the term, we find quite an army of clerks and bookkeepers. There are houses which employ fifty bookkeepers and run as many ledgers.

But this is only a small part of a system of accounts. Each department has the amount of its sales kept separate; the quantity of each style of goods that is sold; the prices that are paid and received for them, to the end that in the resume of all these accounts, the managers of the business may be able to tell at a glance what departments are paying, and what sort of goods need either more pushing or require dropping altogether.

In a manufacturing business, particularly where much work is done by people whose wages are based upon the amount of time they put in at their work, it will be found that careful accounts are kept of the amount of work done by these people, and its value, and thus a deficiency in any or all parts of the service is carefully watched, and the management is in a position to know in what part of the business losses occur.

The expense of selling in a business of this sort is also an occasion for careful tabulation, for this is an expense which has a tendency to run away with the profits of the goods sold. The amount of each man's sales, and the gross profits thereon, must all be watched so that it may be known whether or not the salesman is a producer of profit. A salesman is frequently given a certain salary, and his expenses are usually a certain amount, being greater or smaller as the jumps he makes from town to town are larger or smaller, and as the amount of paid baggage is greater or less. Consequently there is a fixed amount of profit which must result from his exertions in order that he be of benefit to his employer.

In our day, which the newspapers are so fond of calling "These later days of great competition," profits have been reduced to a minimum in almost every line. It is a very unusual business that can be run on the haphazard lines that were so much in vogue immediately after the war. The great capitalized concerns have their hands full if they wish to secure for their principals, or, in the case of stock concerns, for their stockholders, the legal rate of interest, and it will be seen at once that the only way in which they can secure themselves from loss, is by the careful watching of every detail that goes into the cost of their goods or into the services rendered to their patrons, as the case may be.

It may be held that these conditions are not present in the smaller businesses; that a grocer need not take into account every little item; that his rate of profit is sufficiently large to allow for his expenses and a profit besides; that the grocer's time is too much occupied to allow for his keeping of any record other than that of the amount of money owing him. But this view can be entertained only by those who have not given the matter the careful attention that it deserves. As is very well known, the grocer's profit is not what it was a few years ago.

With the great increase of the number of proprietary goods which he is forced to sell, and which yield only a very little profit, his sales of goods, which once brought him a third or a half of their cost, have been materially interfered with. And on those goods which are not proprietary in their nature, and which are sold by everybody, the competition of cash stores which do not deliver goods, have forced the prices down to a point where they pay a very small rate of profit. It is necessary nowadays to do a much greater volume of business in order to secure the same results than it was ten years ago.

These facts are too well known to require anything more than an account of them. You need but to talk to any man in the line to learn of this condition of affairs.

The question naturally arises: Can a man overcome a difficulty of this sort? In answering this question, in the first place, we would say that it is a well-known fact that a man cannot control prices, and it would be useless for him to put up his back and ask a dollar for what everyone else was selling at eighty cents. He simply couldn't have it, so the best settlement of the dilemma is, that he must simply be resigned. Nothing can be done except the acceptance of facts as they are.

But a man can watch his business. He must be conversant with every little detail that belongs to it. By this it is not meant only that he should devote his whole time to it, and that he should be well acquainted with the character of all the goods which he handles. The idea intended to be conveyed is that he should know at the close of every day the amount of business that has been done, and what relation this amount bears to the corresponding day of the week before, of the previous month, of past year. If it has fallen off or increased, he should, in the first place, try to learn the reason why certain classes of goods are not selling and push them, and in the latter case he should try to learn from what cause the increase has resulted, and endeavor to secure it for everything in his line for which this increase is possible.

Above all, the most careful record should be kept of his accounts proper, meaning those with the people that deal with him on credit, and the firms from whom he buys. There is more money lost through carelessness in the collection of bills than one would suppose. In the rush of the day's business, one is likely to make memoranda of the bills to be charged, which are forgotten when the time has arrived for entering them on the books. These bills should be charged at once, and there must be a system by which they can be, without leaving the customer.

The bills received from firms from whom goods are bought should also be carefully kept, and the prices on them watched. The amount of goods received should be carefully examined, and they should be considered from every point which affects their salability. The grocer should know what it costs to deliver his goods, and should calculate whether the profit on the goods that are delivered pays the cost of his wagon. The writer is convinced that in many cases it will be found that the wagon does not pay at all, and that the increased trade that is dependent upon deliveries makes no profit for him, but really occasions a loss.

In conclusion, it can only be said that the most careful supervision must be employed everywhere. When it is taken into account that a loss of fifty cents a day is a matter of $150 in a year, it will be seen how necessary it is to stop all leaks of whatever kind, and how absolutely important is the keeping of the business "ship" perfectly water-tight.

THE MAN WHO NEVER RESTS.

I have learned from observation that three things surely happen to a man who works steadily without relaxation. In the first place, he becomes nervous, irritable and hard to get along with. In the second place, the grade of his work falls off, and he is liable to err in his judgment. In the third place, he dies suddenly. It is an incontrovertible law of Nature.—Chauncey Depew.

HAMILTON GROCERS.

President Adam Ballentine was in the chair at the last meeting of the Hamilton Retail Grocers' Association, and for the Picnic Committee reported that all the arrangements for the excursion to the Falls on July 17 were about complete, and that tickets would be in the hands of the grocers for sale in a few days. The committee was enlarged by the addition of George Hunt, D. Brown, L. Revell, E. Hazell, R. E. Wales, J. H. Horning, A. Bain, Wm. Smye, James McKay, George Powell and A. Hayes.

The unsatisfactory state of affairs in the market was discussed, and this resolution was adopted unanimously: That this association petition the City Council to take action in regard to the manner in which the James street market is conducted under the present lessee, and also ask for the abolition of all fees, and that no goods of any description be offered for sale on said market except the produce of Ontario farmers, and by the producer only; and that a special meeting of the Executive Committee be held at the earliest possible moment to further this motion.

President Ballentine reported that a meeting of the grocers and butchers would be held shortly to consider early Saturday closing. The association endorsed heartily a resolution on the same subject passed at a recent meeting of the council of the W. C.T.U.

GOOD FOR THE GROCERS

Spectator, July 4: We are glad to see that the Retail Grocers' Association has taken up the market fee business, and will endeavor to induce the City Council to abolish the fees and relieve the farmers from the payment of money which they must get back from the citizens, and relieve farmers' wives and daughters from the bulldozing and abuse to which they have recently been subjected. It is directly to the interest of the grocers that farmers be induced to come to Hamilton. The present plan of driving them away is bad for the grocers and bad for the citizens. It is also directly to the interest of the grocers that their competitors, the middlemen, who now enjoy the privilege of using the market without paying a cent of taxes, be driven from the market square, and the whole space given up to the farmer producer. The Retail Grocers' Association is an intelligent and energetic body of men, having great influence in the city, and being perfectly aware of the fact that whatever is good for the city at large is good for them. They may be depended upon to do what is in their power to reform Hamilton's disgraceful market, and make it attractive to the farmers.

Away with the market fees; away with the toll gates, and let Hamilton be the business centre for the farming community for fifty radial miles.

BACK FROM IRELAND.

With a real brogue on his tongue and a bundle of Irish blackthorns fastened to his valise, Grocer A. R. Williamson, of Toronto, stepped off the steamer Cibola on Thursday last on his return journey from Ireland. "I had a good time," he said, as I queried him. If a well-tanned face and well-proportioned and vigorous body is any criterion he did have a good time. Mr. Williamson was away two months.

WORLD'S BANKING CAPITAL.

The London Bankers' Magazine states that the banking power of the world, which now amounts to about £4,000,000,000, or $20,000,000,000, is distributed in the proportion of £2,300,000,000 to Europe, £1,200,000,000 to North America, and the remainder to the rest of the world. Commenting upon these immense aggregates, the magazine says: "It is when larger amounts are accumulated—when considerable sums of 'free cash' are held by customers of banks—that there are funds to spare for more distant undertakings. The tendency of deposits in banks working in progressive districts is to increase, and we may feel certain that this will be the case with customers of the banks of the United States. The nine million depositors in banks form a force unparalleled in any other country. The inference we may draw from the figures before us is that we must look for sharper competition than ever from the other side of the Atlantic, and while with care and prudence we may hope to hold our own, it is only by the most careful employment of our resources that we may hope to retain our position."

THE SOAP EMBROGLIO.

NOT for a long time has the soap trade of Canada been in as unsatisfactory condition as it is now. This, when the general trade of the country is reviving, is a peculiar assertion to make. But it is none the less true. And the reason is due to a peculiar cause.

If there is one industry in Canada which has showed marked development during the last ten years it is that of soap making, both in regard to quantity and quality of article manufactured. And to-day Canada need not be ashamed to compare her soaps with those of any other country under the sun.

Although with this development has come an increased consumptive demand, yet with the multiplicity of manufacturers has followed increased competition. And to this fact must one look for the present unsatisfactory condition of the soap trade of the country. In a word, several of the manufacturers have inaugurated a war on prices.

There have been many skirmishes for some time, but during the last month or two there has been a hand to hand engagement. It began with a firm in Hamilton. The challenge was taken up by a Toronto firm, and soon most of the other manufacturers were drawn into the conflict.

The slaughter is principally confined to the three-pound bar, although other lines are more or less affected.

On the three-pound bar prices have been worked down some 60c. per box. This, it is claimed, brings the price to a point where profit has to give place to loss. That this is so is evident from the turn affairs have taken: Negotiations are going on between some of the manufacturers to put a stop to the conflict, but, it seems at the moment, with little prospect of the desideratum being secured. In the meantime, however, one firm has taken its travelers off the road, refusing any longer to court business that means a loss to acquire. Others are practically lying on their oars or seeking for new fields for their goods.

The situation is, no doubt, a grave one, but it is of the soap manufacturers' own creation.

Because one manufacturer saw fit to slaughter prices it was no good reason why another should follow suit, any more than Smith should hang himself because Brown saw fit so to do.

The cutting of prices was a mistake from the beginning—to the end one cannot say, for the end is not yet in sight. It can do no one good; but it can, and will, do a great deal of harm to the soap manufacturing trade generally.

When an article is sold at or below the cost of manufacture the use of inferior or spurious ingredients is as sure to follow as the night follows day. And this loss of quality means eventually loss of popularity, which, like a lost character, is hard to get back.

Then it is a vastly different thing to increase and to decrease the price of a commodity. No matter whether the low price has been obtaining for a long or short period, the average consumer will only pay the enhanced figure when compelled to do so.

The basis of the whole of this senseless cutting in the price of soap is selfishness. Marked as has been the increase in the number of soap manufacturers, there is a fair share of business for all engaged in the industry. At least so the manufacturers themselves declare. But the fact of the matter is that some of them, hog-like, are satisfied with nothing but the whole. But hogs sometimes cut their own throats; so do people who want to encompass the whole of the particular line of trade in which they are engaged.

The man who follows him who cuts prices is scarcely less unwise than he who leads. But the trouble is that business men do as they did when they were boys, "follow the leader." The man who has a good article, which he sells at a moderate price, ought not to be moved by foolish competitors who cut prices. Let him stand on his dignity, even if for the time being he has to do a decreased business. By this means he will have more peace of mind and more dollars in his pocket, while by assuming this neutral attitude the cause that led to it will be more easily removed than if it was aggravated by retaliation in kind.

THE CANADIAN GROCER knows at least one Canadian manufacturer who has had no part in this soap embroglío. While his competitors have been spending their time in devising means to wage war upon each other he has been confining his energies to pushing his own business at the old prices, with the result that his books show increased sales compared with the same time a year ago.

THE CANADIAN GROCER is not an advocate of combinations or fixed prices, but it does urge the soap manufacturers who are devoting their energies to cutting each other's throats to cease their warfare and resume business at a paying instead of a senseless losing basis.

MAY BE A SENATOR.

THE vacancies in the Senate were discussed in the House of Commons last week, and several names have been mentioned in the despatches from Ottawa. One of these, John I. Davidson, of Davidson & Hay, wholesale grocers, Toronto, will be one of the most popular ever made.

It indicates that the Government are beginning to recognize the necessity of having strong representative business men in that body, too many of the members of which are of very little service to the country.

Mr. Davidson is one of the most successful business men in Canada. Besides his prosperous wholesale grocery business, he has extensive lumber interests and timber limits on Lake Nipissing. He is vice president of the Bank of Commerce, and is a director in several other financial institutions. He was president of the Toronto Board of Trade for two years. He has worked his way up from house salesman, traveler, junior partner, to be head of the firm. He knows Canada and its leading business men thoroughly, for he travelled for Montreal and Toronto houses over a great portion of the Dominion. Besides this, his strong sympathy with the working men has made him many friends in trades union circles. During an extensive strike some years ago, which lasted for many weeks, he called the representatives of employers and employes together in his office, got each party to tell his story, and proposed a basis of settlement which both parties considered so fair that they immediately accepted it. Since then a number of minor troubles have been settled by him between the masters and their workmen.

Outside business, the affairs of the 48th Highlanders, of which he is colonel, and the Presbyterian church engross his attention. He has always refused parliamentary and municipal honors, though on two occasions strong deputations waited on him to urge his acceptance of the mayoralty nomination.

If he can be induced to enter the Senate he will be a valuable acquisition to that body, and of great assistance in promoting the business interests of the country.

THE GREEK CURRANT GROWERS.

ANOTHER unfavorable season is threatened the currant growers of Greece. The two seasons of 1893-4 were disastrous to them, and if these conditions obtain thrice consecutively what the result will be to the growers is obvious.

The cause of the trouble is the old one, viz., a too abundant crop. In other words, Greece is now producing more currants than the world requires for ordinary consumption.

This over-production began when France, in 1877, owing to the destruction of her own vineyards by the phylloxera, became a purchaser of Grecian currants. The demand from this source was maintained some thirteen or fourteen years, and then France again turned to her own vineyards for supplies.

In the meantime, however, the currant growers in Greece had been induced by this demand to increase their production, until in 1891 their output aggregated 160,000 tons, against 82,000 tons in 1877, when France appeared on their market. In 1893 the crop aggregated 170,000 tons. What this increase meant may be better appreciated, perhaps, when it is pointed out that the world's consumptive demand for eating purposes in 1877 was 80,000 tons, while the total output that year, as already stated, was 82,000 tons.

Although the world's consumptive demand for eating purposes has risen to 95,000 to 100,000 tons, yet, with a crop of 170,000 tons, it is obvious there must be quite a surplus for other purposes.

What to do with this surplus, because of its bearish influence upon the market, is one of the things that has been agitating the public mind in Greece for some time. Efforts have been made two years in succession to obtain legislation that will induce the use of the surplus stock for distilling purposes. This year the movement for remedial legislation has again been started, and at latest advices was gaining in momentum.

The condition of the currant growers is aggravated by the fact that many of them are heavily burdened with debts contracted through borrowing money to enlarge their vineyards during the "boom" days when France was an active factor in the market.

Were it not for Russia, as THE CANADIAN GROCER has in previous issues pointed out, the condition of the currant grower would be worse than it is. Russia uses the fruit for wine making, and close upon 14,000 tons have been shipped from Greece to Russian Black Sea ports. According to statistics furnished by the British consul at Patras, Great Britain takes about 70 per cent. of the currants exported from Greece. Whether this includes what is subsequently shipped to Canada and other countries which purchase on the London market, we cannot say. We are rather inclined to think it does, to some extent at least, as, in the returns which are received here from Patras, giving the shipments of currants, those of Great Britain and Canada are summarized under one head. The Dominion Trade and Navigation returns give the imports of currants into the country for home consumption during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894, as 6,453,290 pounds, valued at $152,294.

As will be seen by our market-report, sales have been made at 1s. advance on last week's sales, and the market is much stronger.

SAFER METHOD OF SOLDERING LOBSTER.

New pack lobster is offering more freely on the Toronto market this week, although, owing to the catch being something like 50 per cent. smaller than last year, some difficulty is being experienced in filling orders.

Transactions on European account are reported at an advance of 50 cents per case on last year's opening figures. Better prices have also been obtained on the home market.

A feature about the new season's pack is the new methods that are coming into vogue for soldering the tins of lobster. Heretofore it has been the custom to use muriatic acid in the process. This acid, by sometimes coming into contact with the fish, imparted a black color to it, while, of course, muriatic acid itself is a deadly poison.

Now all first-class packers are substituting sweet oil for the muriatic acid, which not only discounts the possibility of discoloring the contents of the tin, but at the same time ensures greater confidence in their wholesomeness.

SHORTAGE OVER-ESTIMATED.

It was estimated a short time ago that the prune crop of Europe would be one-half that of last year and that prices would be 40 per cent. higher.

Advices, however, received this week by the Toronto representative of a Trieste house state that while the crop will be small it is the impression that the shortage has been greatly over-estimated. The same authority states that the fruit generally will be large.

On the Canadian market the demand for prunes has been maintained much farther into the summer season than is usual, to the astonishment of the trade, and the movement is still brisk. As a result of this there is a scarcity of supplies to report, some houses being completely cleaned out at the moment.

BIG LOANS AT LOW RATES.

"Arguros," in another column, under the heading of "Money and Stocks," this week tells of the advent upon the Toronto money market of large Scottish capitalists, who are advancing funds on central city property at the low rate of 4½ per cent. He also points out that at this rate two loans of $200,000 each have already been negotiated.

While local capitalists who have been hoping for higher rates will, doubtless, not like the advent of their Scotch confreres, especially in view of the rates they are willing to accept, yet it is significant, from the fact that these hard-headed capitalists from across the water are assured of the solidity of Toronto as a good centre for safely investing their large surplus earnings. And what redounds to Toronto's solidity in a degree also does to that of the Dominion as a whole.

Toronto real estate has been in a hole for some time, and anything that tends to help her out, as does the advent of these capitalists, will naturally tend to improve the commercial prosperity of the city.

CALIFORNIA FRESH FRUIT.

Considerable business has been transacted in Montreal during the past fortnight in California fresh fruit, the first carload having arrived fifteen days earlier than last season.

From now out during the season it is expected that the receipts of this fruit will average from three to four cars every day, which will be sold under the hammer as they arrive.

This trade has constantly increased during the past two years, and it is expected that the present season will show expansion.

The offerings so far have comprised tomatoes, peaches, plums, apricots, pears, figs, and prunes, and the prices realized have been satisfactory. They are given in our regular market reports elsewhere.

FREIGHTS ON NEW CROP JAPAN TEA.

"Importations of the first shipments of high-priced new Japans at Montreal," said a well-known tea man to THE CANADIAN GROCER, "have been smaller than usual this summer. They are all confined to small lots. I attribute this fact to the great uncertainty regarding freights. For instance, I paid 3c. on my first lot, and inside of a month they had dropped to 1c., and now I learn that the Northern Pacific are offering rates ¼c. under those quoted by the Canadian Pacific. As the freight charges are a great consideration on goods coming such a distance buyers are uncertain what to do. In fact, I don't look for any heavy receipts of new crop Japans in Montreal until the end of July or beginning of August."

CANADIAN BUTTER IN BRITAIN.

WITHIN the past week or ten days there have been distinct indications of a better feeling in the export butter market at Montreal.

The change will be a welcome one indeed to producers of and dealers in butter, who have not had an encouraging experience so far this summer and spring. In fact, at one time they lost all hope of an export outlet of any dimensions, and under this influence there was a sensible decrease in the production of creamery butter.

The export demand referred to above can be directly attributed to the fact that cold storage facilities have been provided by the Government for the transportation of butter by rail to Montreal and across the Atlantic on the ocean vessels. This is clearly indicated by the fact that all the British orders that have been received lately stipulate that the shipments shall go forward by the cold storage steamers. As these orders show an advance of from $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ of a cent over what was bid by the Englishmen two weeks ago, they evidently intend to give the Canadian butter a trial, in the belief that its transportation under new conditions means a change for the better.

It may reasonably be expected, therefore, that if the two pioneer shipments by the Mongolian and Mexico to Glasgow and Bristol arrive all right—and there is every reason to think that they will—our trade in butter will improve. If it does, the Minister of Agriculture and the Dairy Commissioner will certainly deserve the hearty thanks of the Canadian butter producer.

Great Britain imports $25,000,000 worth of foreign and colonial butter annually, and Canada's contribution to this enormous trade in the past has been infinitesimal.

Under the new conditions our creamery, which is as fine as the finest Danish, will be landed as fresh and sweet as when it left the creamery on this side; so why should the record on cheese not be repeated in the case of butter?

CONFLICTING PRICES ON CANNED SALMON.

The question of f. o. b. Coast values on canned salmon for future delivery is rather unsettled at present, the agents of the different canning companies, in Montreal at least, having received different instructions. For instance, the representative of the Todd packing establishments has had quotations entirely withdrawn. On the other hand, up to this writing the agent for the British American brand has been booking orders at $4.50, but he will not accept an order at a lower price than that, and is disposed to talk $4.75 in some cases. Then again, the agents of the O Wee Kay No cannery are still open to accept orders for a limited quantity at $4.35. They cannot promise, however, that this figure will hold for any length of time, as all the news from the Coast is bullish, the run being smaller than usual, while no less than six canning companies have been burned down.

In addition to the figures above quoted, it is understood that there are some offers as low as $4.20 f. o. b. The exact quality is not specified, however, in this case, as they are outside works, and buyers might be wise in observing caution regarding them.

MONEY AND STOCKS.

I GOT hold of some information this week which, in newspaper parlance, I consider a good item. It was to the effect that a large Scottish insurance company is lending money in Toronto in large lots at $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. At this rate I know of two Toronto property owners—names I am not permitted to divulge—who have each borrowed \$200,000 on central business property. The capitalists in question have gone about their business in a business-like way, having appointed four well-known Toronto financial men to act as a provisional board for the purpose of negotiating loans. "The effect of the appearance of these capitalists on the Toronto market," said my informant, a well-known financial authority, "will be to keep interest on loans on central property from advancing."

Commercial Cable is again stronger. The recent decline was due to the sudden fall in Postal Telegraph and Montreal Street Railway, "which," as a friend of mine remarked, "should not have influenced Cable, and would not have were it not for the sensitive condition of the market." The earnings of Postal Telegraph are said to be increasing at the rate of $2,600 per day.

Insurance stocks are a little weak. The cause of this is the unfavorable showing made by the half-year's earnings. The earnings for June were, however, more satisfactory than a year ago at the same time.

The bank meetings being over, little interest is being taken in bank stocks. Money being plentiful, funds are accumulating, rather than dispersing.

Call loans remain much as before. The ruling rate is $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. and the demand light.

The only transaction I hear of in municipal debentures is from Montreal, the authorities of St. Louis du Mile End having sold their school debentures to two Montreal firms. The debentures amount to \$140,000, and run for 40 and 50 years. The price was $95\frac{1}{2}$ and $94\frac{1}{2}$, and the rate of interest 4 per cent.

The increases in earnings of the Toronto Street Railway during the first week in July were as follows: July 1, $383; July 2, $94; July 3, $258; July 4, $351; July 5, $381; July 6, $727.

The C. P. R. realized $30,000 from the sales of land during June. This is greatly in excess of the sales made during the same month last year. It is said that enquiries are brisk from different parts of the United States for good farming lands.

ARGUROS.

THE GROCERS' EXCURSION.

AT Monday night's meeting of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association, President F. S. Roberts in the chair, it was announced that the City Council had appointed Mr. Awde as fruit inspector to carry out the provisions of the Act against fraudulent sales of fruit, recently passed by the Ontario Legislature.

The Excursion Committee's report, changing the date and place of the meeting to St. Catharines on July 25, was adopted.

A letter was read from Messrs. McLean and Sinclair, solicitors for the association, stating that they had been asked to place a special collector on accounts, and that if this were done there would be an increased charge for collections. The firm's terms were considered favorable, and the matter was referred to the Executive for completion.

The association was disappointed in not receiving a report from the special committee appointed some time since to wait upon the express companies, with a view to obtaining a better delivery of produce from the various trains.

At the close of the meeting the Excursion Committee met, to arrange several matters of detail. A baseball match between the Toronto and St. Catharines retail grocers was proposed, but this idea was thrown out in favor of a match between Toronto grocers and Toronto city travelers. An effort will be made to arrange such a game. The outing on the 25th promises to be an enjoyable and successful affair.

FIG CULTURE.

The process of growing and dealing in figs is an interesting one, and the following, therefore, from Antoine Solari, of Smyrna, to his Toronto agent, E. Fielding, is worthy of reproduction: "You will probably," he says, "be surprised to learn that figs will only grow in a limited district in the neighborhood of Smyrna. The fig trees belong to planters or cultivators, who till and cultivate them all the year round by means of money advanced to them by commission merchants in Smyrna. The fig season begins towards the middle of August. At that epoch every planter sends his goods to Smyrna to his merchant, who in his turn sells the fruit against a commission. These figs when on the market are bought by two distinct packers: Packers for own account, who usually consign their goods to England, Continent, and sometimes America, and packers for other parties' account. They simply fulfil orders transmitted to them by merchants such as Whittall, Marcopoli & Fils, Alex. Datody, etc., who, having to give their attention to more important business, pass their orders to those special packers doing the work for them against so much per cent. of commission." There are some exceptions to this rule, Mr. Solari being one of them, he being seller, manufacturer, buyer and packer all in one.

"Owing to the unfavorable weather," adds the writer, "the fig crop has suffered a little. The estimates are 14,000 tons, provided things go well till the gathering. In that case we shall have a crop equal to last year's."

NEW DAIRY TARIFF.

According to The Manitoba Free Press a new tariff on butter, cheese and eggs has been issued by the C. P. R. and several important reductions have been made. The rates per 100 pounds from western points to Montreal and vicinity are as follows: Winnipeg, $1.15, (former rate $1.30); Portage, $1.20; Brandon, $1.25; Moosomin, $1.31; Grenfell, $1.35; Regina, $1.39; Calgary, $1.60; Red Deer, $1.64; Edmonton, $1.70; Prince Albert, $1.50; Glenboro, $1.23; Pilot Mound, $1.22; Deloraine, $1.28; Melita, $1.30; Hamiota, $1.29; Rapid City, $1.27; Butte, $1.30; Yorkton, $1.35. The Canadian Pacific are prepared to supply on demand refrigerator cars, and will quote through rates, and through rates and through bills of lading to Great Britain and the continent.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, July 11, 1895.

GROCERIES.

A DECIDEDLY improved tone has developed in trade during the past week. The foundation of this is found in the fact that the movement of merchandise is more liberal, while what tendency there is to change in prices is toward higher figures. Sugars are selling a little better, although the turnover is still comparatively light, but prices outside are stiffening. Foreign dried fruits continue in fair demand with prices firmer in currants, prunes and Valencia raisins. Green Rio coffees are scarce and firm. The strength of canned goods is one of the features of the market. Packers' prices are firmer on peas, corn and tomatoes, and the same may be said of canned salmon. Firmness is also the characteristic of the canned lobster market. There is not much doing in spices, but the market is still tending upward on a number of lines. There are a few syrups moving, but the market is generally quiet. Teas are receiving fair attention, and the market is a little more interesting in consequence of higher prices in some lines.

CANNED GOODS.

Further strength has developed during the week. One packer is asking 5c. per dozen more all round for vegetables, while another has stopped quoting futures. The demand, however, is not brisk, the higher prices, as stated last week, having checked business. New peas are being packed, but they will not be on the market for another month. Old stock is about exhausted. The same may be said of corn. One house, in order to fill an order on the street had to pay 83c. for peas which a short time ago it bought at 75c. One packer writing regarding peas says that his firm will not pack for as many days as they did weeks last year. The market for salmon is stronger. Some of the canners have advanced prices 25c. per case, while one concern has withdrawn quotations from this market. Advices announce that "Clover Leaf" flats have been advanced to $5.20 on the Coast. The enquiry from England continues active. "Horseshoe" brand is about cleaned up on this market, and $1.50 to $1.60 are the figures now being asked. Other brands range from $1.10 to $1.40, according to quality. There is a good demand locally, particularly for the cheaper brands. We quote: Tomatoes, 87½ to 90c. for choice; corn, 85c.; peas, 85c. for ordinary; sifted, 90c. to $1; extra sifted, $1.40; peaches, $2.75 to $3 for 3's, $1.85 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.90 to $2.10; apples, 3's, 90c to $1, gallons, $2.15 to $2.25, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.35 to $1.50, in tall tins, and $1.55 to $1.60, in flat tins; do., Cohoes, $1.05 to $1.10; do. "Horseshoe" brand, $1.50 to $1.60; other brands, $1.10 to $1.40; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins. Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.65 to $1.75; 2's, $2.65 to $2.75; 6's, $8 to $8.25; 14's, $18 to $19. Chicago canned beef, 1's, $1.75 per dozen; 2's, $2.85. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEES.

There is practically no good green Rio coffee on the market, but shipments of new crop are due to arrive in 10 or 14 days. "If we had the coffees here," said one large dealer, "we could sell them out inside of a week or ten days. We quote green in bags: Rio, 20 to 22c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 20 to 22½c.; Java, 28 to 33c.; Mocha, 30 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

N.Y. Journal of Commerce, July 9: "The market for futures was dull and uneventful during greater portion of session, and there seemed to be simply a repetition of old familiar features. The accounts from Brazil were construed as steady so far as received. Havre made a showing of standing up to former line of valuation, and, with scant offerings here, the shorts appeared a little nervous, and that served to protect the market against any serious break; yet it appeared quite likely that any more direct attempt to realize would have led to a shading of somewhat pronounced character."

RICE.

There is no change in rice. Tapioca and sago are both higher outside, but unchanged here. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 3¼ to 5½c.

SPICES.

Ginger, pepper and canary seed continue to advance in the primary markets. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 22 to 28c. per lb.

NUTS.

Advices regarding the walnut crop report that prospects are good. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 11c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR

An improved demand is developing on the local market at last week's quotations, but the demand is still, however, very light. The tone of the market is stronger, in sympathy with the conditions outside. The Canadian refiners are still independent, and in spite of the long continued dullness, are showing no disposition to book orders except at the old figures. Beets are advancing in England, and refiners in the United States are drawing upon their stored supplies, which is taken as a good indication, while buyers of refined grades admit that their stocks are down to the lowest point and that they must soon replenish. We quote prices: Granulated, No. 1, $4\frac{1}{4}$ to $4\frac{3}{4}$ c.; do., No. 2, $3\frac{3}{4}$ to $4\frac{1}{4}$ c.; yellows, $3\frac{1}{4}$ to $3\frac{3}{4}$ c.; Demerara, $3\frac{1}{2}$ c.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce, July 9: "Importers of raws are feeling in pleasant mood over general prospects for the market, and some are sanguine of retaining the major portion of advantage from this time forward until something more is known in regard to prospects for next crops, and not a few believe that information on that score will prove stimulating. The current arrivals bring quite a bunch of stock coming to hand under previously completed contract, but the amount unsold is not offered with any evidences of pressure."

SYRUPS.

There is a little enquiry for bright syrups. "Syrups," remarked the representative of one of the refineries, "are cheap. We have not yet really taken advantage of the tariff changes. We deserve credit for that, even if it is only to make up for the abuse we received over sugar." We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

Dull and unchanged. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 30 to 32c.; half-barrels, $33\frac{1}{2}$ to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 37c.

TEAS.

There is a moderate enquiry on the street for Ceylon teas for price, but it is difficult to get good liquoring teas at the figures buyers are willing to pay. These teas appear to have almost entirely displaced the sale of Congous. The London market has been a little easier on teas of poor quality, but teas of good quality have, on the other hand, sold freely at stiffening rates. Indian and Ceylon teas of the latter quality are becoming scarcer in London, hence the higher prices. Advices from Shanghai, under date of June 14, show that the total settlements up to that time were 50,000 half-chests, against 140,000 half-chests for the same time last year. Prices there were still stiffening on account of the Russian demand. Foochow advices report that the crop of Panyong teas will not be more than half what it was last year, and that prices were about 5 per cent. higher. We quote ruling prices to retailers as follows: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

Valencia raisins are still selling fairly well. Advices from Denia to P. L. Mason & Co., Toronto, say: "The damp weather during the flowing of the vines, which is now coming to an end, caused the small berries to fall, and we expect that this year's yield will turn out rather shorter than last season. We quote present figures: Off-stalk, 80 to 90c. per box; fine off-stalk, 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; selected, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; layers, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c.

Prunes are still in active demand, with supplies scarce. Some of the houses appear to be cleaned out of stock. According to advices from J. P. U. Leebman & Co., of Trieste, the outlook for the prune crop is rather more favorable. "While the crop will be a short one," they write, "the impression now is that the shortage has been greatly over-estimated. It is thought we shall have good large fruit." We quote: "Sphinx"—"U," 110 to 115 to half kilo, $4\frac{3}{4}$ to 5c. per lb.; "C," 85 to 90 to half kilo, $6\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb.; "B," 80 to 85 to half kilo, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to $7\frac{1}{4}$ c. per lb.; "Atlas,"—"D," 110 to 115 to half kilo, $4\frac{3}{4}$ to 5c. per lb.; "Unicorn," 5 to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c.; Bordeaux prunes, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.

Currants are still in fair demand. Prices are higher outside. Some further shipments have been made from Patras at 1s. advance on last week's quotations, and will cost $3\frac{3}{4}$ c. laid down in Toronto. We quote as before: Filiatras, half-barrels, 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c., barrels, $4\frac{1}{4}$ c.; fine Filiatras, half-bbls., $4\frac{3}{4}$ c., barrels, $4\frac{3}{4}$ c.; Patras, $5\frac{1}{2}$ c., in cases; Casalinas, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $5\frac{3}{4}$ c.; Vostizzas, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c. in cases and half-cases.

Figs are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, $4\frac{1}{4}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

Dates are quiet and unchanged at from $4\frac{1}{2}$ c. up.

Sultana raisins are in fair demand at unchanged prices, the ruling figures for good fruits being $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

The continued dry weather has made the supply of new butter very limited and there has been a very strong market during the past week for good selections. We hear of several creameries closing down owing to the lack of a milk supply consequent on the pastures having been destroyed by the severe heat. Prices are higher and firmer all round, and unless rain come, may be higher and firmer still. We quote: Old summer dairy and store packed, 7 to 9c.; fresh large rolls, 10 to 14c.; prints, 14 to 15c.; fresh tubs, 13 to 14c.; Fresh creamery—Tubs, 17 to 18c.; pound prints, 18c.

CHEESE—As predicted last week is a little easier. Prices, though, are unaltered. August and September makes of Canadian sell for 10 to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c. New Canadian cheese are quoted at $8\frac{3}{4}$ c. per lb. and 9c. for twins f.o.b. at point of shipment, which means $8\frac{3}{4}$ c. and $9\frac{1}{4}$ c. at Toronto.

GREEN FRUIT.

Trade is pretty good. A lot of American fruit is coming up, and some Canadian, but the latter arrives slowly and is as a rule of only medium quality. Lemons are a little easier. Toronto dealers during this season so far have never advanced prices to equal the New York quotations, but during the past few days the American market has slumped, and in sympathy lemons on the Ontario market have declined 50 cents a box. Not as many lemons are being used this year as usual, these circumstances being accounted for by the increased consumption of root beer, soda waters and other soft drinks. This is offset, however, by the fact that stocks in Ontario are comparatively small. For this reason prices cannot go much lower. Oranges are getting rather scarce. Valencias and navels are out of the market and Messinas are not by any means plentiful. Bananas are still fairly firm. In small fruits the domestic supply is rather short and of poor quality. Cherries, which have been scarce, are almost over, and strawberries are practically done. Unless rain comes speedily raspberries are likely to be a miserable crop. Reports from the raspberry districts say that the bushes are laden down with green berries, but the drought is drying them up. On the whole, it is said the receipts of Canadian fruits this season so far have been 50 per cent. less than last year at this time. We quote prices: Messina lemons, 300's, 360's, and 420's, $4.50. to $5. Oranges—Messinas, 80's and 100's, $2.25 to $2.50; boxes, 160's, 200's and 300's, $4 to $4.50; California seedlings, $3.50 to $4. Bananas, $1.25 to $2; cocoanuts, $4.50 a sack; cucumbers, Canadian, in barrels, $1; Montreal, 40c. per doz.; new cabbage, $1.25 to $1.50 per crate; $1.75 to $2 per bbl.; tomatoes, 90c. to $1.25 per crate. Green California fruit—Peaches, $2 per box; apricots, $2.25 to $2.50. Domestic cherries, 90c. to $1.50 per basket; red currants, 75c. to $1 per basket; red raspberries, 9 to 11c. a quart; gooseberries, 60c. to $1 a basket; green apples, $3 to $5 a barrel; watermelons, 25 to 30c. each.

COUNTRY PRODUCE

BEANS—What are left in the market of choice hand picked bring as high as $1.75 to $1.80 per bushel.

W. H. Gillard & Co. are now in receipt of some very fine values in May picked Japan teas, which, it is said, the retailer can sell at 25 cents per pound and give unbounded satisfaction, at the same time netting a good margin for himself.

John Mouat, W. H. Gillard & Co.'s Northwest representative, reports that his sales of Imperial Congou so far this year have been nearly double those for the same period last season, thus showing that there must be something in a name, when that name is Imperial Congou.

are quiet. Dried fruits have been in better enquiry during the week both for California and Valencia raisins. In canned goods the general feeling is steady to strong on both fruit, vegetables and fish. In canned salmon, packers are not urgent sellers and prices have a distinct upward inclination.

SUGAR.

A rather better feeling is noticeable in the sugar market this week. There has been no sensible increase in the movement, but there are indications that the volume of business will soon increase. The feeling is steady on the whole and prices are unchanged.

From the refineries very little granulated is moving, but an improved enquiry is noted for yellows. We quote granulated, $4\frac{1}{4}$ to $4\frac{3}{4}$ c., and yellows $3\frac{1}{4}$ to 4c. as to quality.

SYRUPS.

The syrup market is very quiet, as it usually is at this season, and there is little business to report. Values are unchanged at $1\frac{1}{4}$ to $2\frac{1}{4}$ c. per lb. as to quality.

MOLASSES.

The molasses market has ruled rather quieter since our last report, but the firm feeling is fully maintained. Porto Rico in round lots has changed hands at $33\frac{1}{2}$ c., but in a jobbing way it is held at 36c. Barbadoes is held firm at 37c. for jobbing lots, and sales of round lots were noted at 35c.

RICE.

There is a fair enquiry for rice and the feeling is very steady. We quote jobbing prices: Japan, \$4.30 to \$4.50; crystal Japan, \$4.80 to \$5; standard B, \$3.45; English style, \$3.30; Patna, \$4.37 $\frac{1}{2}$ to \$5; and Carolina, \$7 to \$7.50.

SPICES.

There is no new feature in the spice market, trade ruling quiet. Prices are steady and unchanged. We quote jobbing prices as follows: Penang black pepper, 9 to 10c.; white pepper, 13 to 15c.; cloves 10 to 20c.; cassia 10 to 20c.; nutmegs, 65 to 90c.; Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c., as to grade.

COFFEES.

The coffee market is dull, while the tone is rather weaker than it was, sales of round lots having been made at a shading. We quote prices rather lower, therefore, on unroasted as follows: Maracaibo, 20 to 22c.; Rio, 19 to 20c.; Java, 24 to 28c.; Jamaica, 19 to 21c.; and Mocha, 27 to 31c.

DRIED FRUITS.

The chief business in raisins this week has consisted of a fairly active jobbing trade in California fruit, on which prices are firmly held at $6\frac{1}{2}$ c. for 4-crown and $5\frac{1}{2}$ c. for 3-crown.

There has been more doing in Valencia fruit also, but there is a wide range of quality. Prices rule easy at 3 to 5c., as to quality, on off-stalk, while layers have sold at 5 to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c.

There have been enquiries for Sultanias during the week, but the market is bare of stock and a price cannot be quoted.

The currant market rules steady and prices are unchanged. Jobbing lots move at $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. in half bbls., and $4\frac{1}{2}$ c. in cases.

Prunes are in poor demand and prices are easy at 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.

The same can be said of dates, which have sold in a jobbing way at 3 to 4c., there being little or no demand for them.

We are always open to buy or sell, in car lots or less, Grain, Apples, or Produce.

NUTS.

There is a fair, seasonable business doing in nuts at steady prices. We quote: Brazils, 8 to 9c.; shelled almonds, 18 to 25c.; Tarragona, 11 to 13c.; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 13c.; shelled ditto, 24 to 25c.; filberts, 6½ to 7½c.; and pecans, 8 to 10c.

CANNED GOODS.

The canned goods market generally rules steady in tone. Stocks, as a rule, are not heavy, and jobbers are fairly free buyers, but otherwise the market is quiet. The feeling in strawberries is firmer and higher prices are looked for. Tomatoes rule steady in tone, and the tendency on salmon is upward, though there is considerable variation in the prices asked by packers' agents here, which range all the way from $4.20 to $4.75, f.o.b. on the Coast. It is safe to state, however, that no leading brands can now be had under $4.50. We quote: Lobsters, $5.75 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $10.50; salmon, $4.80 to $5.20; tomatoes, 80 to 90c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $3.00 per doz.; corn, 85c. to $1 per doz.; peas, 85 to 95c. per doz.; strawberries, $2 to $2.25; raspberries, $1.75 to $2; green gages, $2 to $2.25; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2 to $2.25, and 3-lb. apples, $1 to $1.10.

GREEN FRUIT.

APPLES—These are scarce and stocks are very firmly held at $2 to $5 per bbl., as to quality.

ORANGES—There is a brisk demand for oranges and prices are steady at $3 to $4 per box, and $1.25 to $2.50 per half-box.

LEMONS—There is a good demand for these this week, but prices are rather lower under freer receipts. We quote: $3.50 to $4.50 per box.

BANANAS—There is a good steady demand for these at prices ranging from 75c. to $1.50 per bunch.

PINEAPPLES—There are none here and prices are purely nominal.

PEACHES—California peaches sell from $1.40 to $1.80 per box, with supply fair.

PLUMS—There is a good enquiry for California plums at $3 to $4 per box.

FIGS—California figs fetch from 50 to 85c. per box.

PEARS AND APRICOTS—The former sell at $5, and the latter at $2 to $2.10.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—There has been no change in the egg market, which we quote steady at 10 to 10½c.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—Are quiet at 50 to 60c. per tin for syrup, and 6½ to 7½c. per lb. for sugar.

HOPS—The crop promises well, according to all reports. On spot prices are unchanged at 5 to 8½c.

HONEY—There is no change in honey, demand being very slow. We quote: Extracted 7 to 9c., and comb 10 to 12c. per lb.

BEANS—The market rules firm at $1.70 to $1.80 for good mediums, and lower grades $1.40 to $1.50.

TALLOW—There is no change in tallow, which we quote at 5 to 6c. per lb.

POTATOES—Old potatoes are a slow sale now on the track at 40c. in car lots. New stock are jobbing out to the local trade at 50c. per bushel basket.

TOMATOES—There have been fair receipts of these, and prices range from 40 to 75c., as to quality.

HAY.

The firm feeling in baled hay noted last week is fully maintained—in fact, an advance has been asked in some cases, but at this writing we quote prices the same as last noted. English enquiry continues active, and acts as the mainstay of the market. Reports regarding the crop from the Eastern Townships and eastern Ontario, and on both sides of the St. Lawrence in Quebec, all promise a good crop. We quote: No. 1 $9.50 to $10, and No. 2 $8 to $8.50.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

The flour market has ruled extremely quiet during the past week, and prices rule much as they were last quoted. We quote: Winter wheat, $4.75 to $4.90; spring wheat, patents, $4.90; straight roller, $4.50 to $4.65; straight roller, bags, $2.25 to $2.30; extra, $4.20 to $4.30; extra, bags, $2.15 to $2.20; Manitoba strong bakers' $4.75.

There is no change in oatmeal, business being quiet at about steady prices. We quote: Standard, bbls., $4.05 to $4.15; granulated, bbls., $4.10 to $4.20; rolled oats, bbls., $4.10 to $4.20.

The demand for feed continues good, and the market rules active, with a large business doing. We quote: Bran, $15; shorts, $17; mouillie, $22 to $23.

PROVISIONS.

This market shows no important change. The demand is limited, and business quiet at about steady prices. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $17; Canadian short cut, mess, $18; hams, city cured, per lb., 10 to 11c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 10 to 11c.; bacon, per lb., 10 to 10½c.; lard, common, refined, per lb., 7½ to 8c.

BUTTER.

The butter market does not exhibit much change, but the tone is rather better than it was. That is to say, there have been enquiries over the cable recently for June creamery, 50 and 100 tub lots, that permit the shipper to pay 16½ and 16¾c. The provision of facilities for cold storage in transit is accountable for these orders, as the cables invariably specified that the shipments should be made on this basis. If the two steamers now on the way therefore only land their butter all right, as they should do, some immediate practical benefit to a dull butter market may be attributed to the Government's new departure. On spot to-day there were sales of creamery at 16½c., and the market may be quoted on that basis with Townships dairy 15c.

CHEESE.

Cheese continues to decline, and transactions on spot on Monday attested that the market is fully ½c. lower than the average ruling price last week. The offerings at the wharf on Monday aggregated 4,000 boxes. Of these about 1,000 had been sold to arrive, and of the balance the holders of about 1,000 would not accept the prices offered. The quantity sold probably aggregated 2,000 boxes, and the range on these was 7¼ to 7¾c. The outside was only made in a few instances, and it is likely that when the deals were finally closed 7½c. was the price. Cable advices do not indicate any improvement, talking 38s. for July shipment. To do business on this basis a buyer could not afford to pay much more than 7½ to 7¾c. These offers, when compared with those made over the cable a fortnight or ten days ago, intimate that buyers in England are lowering their ideas of value, for they were bidding 39s. 6d. to 40s. 9d. at that time for June cheese July shipment. We quote the market as follows: Ontario makes, finest, 8 to 8¾c.; Townships' makes, 7¼ to 7¾c.; other Quebec makes, 7½ to 7¾c.

ASHES.

There is a fair export demand for ashes, while receipts are rather freer than they were. Prices are rather firmer than last noted, first pots being held at $4.10 to $4.15, and second, $3.80 to $3.85, while pearls are quoted at $5.50 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

A consignment of 100 cases of Rowntree & Goven's confectionery; also a large lot of Carr's English biscuits were received this week by Kennedy, Greig & Co.

Advices from Denia of the 25th to Gillespie & Co. state that the grape crop looks well, but may turn out less than last year. The quality, however, promises to be excellent.

Laporte, Martin & Co. note that they still have on hand 20,000 boxes of Valencia off

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., July 11, 1895.

DURING the past week there has not been a great deal of business doing except in a few lines. This is, however, expected at this season. The new steamer, the Prince Rupert, which was to do so much, met with a mishap after making her first trip to Digby and back, which will lay her up for a month or two. And they who on very short notice told the regular line running they would have nothing to do with them found themselves the next day asking them to look after their business. It is most unfortunate for the new steamer, as she will lose the best season of the year for passengers. In markets, prices are easy except a few lines. Feed is very scarce. Smoked hams are higher. Strawberries are also firmer, as western markets are offering a good figure. Sugar is quiet. Flour is easier. Molasses continues firm. Dry fish are lower and are arriving in rather larger quantities than demand calls for.

OIL—Demand is only fair. In lubricating there is but small movement. Prices are firm. Seal oil is higher, prices now being: Pale, 34 to 38c.; refined, 38 to 42c. We quote: American, best burning oil, 22¼c.; Canadian, best, 21½c.; second, 17½c., no charge for barrels.

SALT—During the past week there has been fair demand, and stocks now held here are light. The cargo spoken of last week is over half sold, a large part of it being shipped out of the city. It sold in round lots from the ship's side for cash at 46 to 47c. Cheese salt in barrels in bulk is having a good demand. It is prepared particularly for this trade. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory filled, $1 to $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.80 to $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per doz.; cheese salt, bbls., bulk, $2.70.

CANNED GOODS—A few old vegetables continue to arrive, but wholesalers are light buyers, holding off for new goods. Brokers have now prices of the new goods. Stocks held here are all light, particularly tomatoes. Salmon continue firm. Very few cannerys are quoting, some having withdrawn their prices. Very few have so far been bought. Holders report corned beef very quiet with stocks large. New Finnan haddies continue to arrive, and find good demand. One brand has almost withdrawn from this market, finding better prices west. We quote: Corn, 90c. to $1; peas, 95c.; tomatoes, $1 to $1.05; new gallon apples, $2.25; corned beef, 2 lb. tins, $2.75 to $3; 1-lb. tins, $1.70 to $1.75; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $3 to $3.15; 2's, $2 to $2.10; salmon, $1.40 to $1.50; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; clams, $5.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $3 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1.

DRIED FRUIT—Demand in these lines continues very dull. In London layer raisins New York quotations are up 10c., and in loose muscatels this market is also up ¼c. In dried apples stocks are light, but at this season there is no demand. Prices are much lower than was expected, but the few now here are held firm, and holders are looking for better prices. Evaporated are also low. Peanuts continue firm, having advanced 1¼c. from lowest quotations. Onions in Bermuda are rather firmer, while Egyptian are somewhat easier. Prices show little change. We quote: Currants, 1 lb. cartoons, 7½c.; bulk, 6½c.; dried apples, 5½ to 6c.; evaporated apples, 7½ to 8c.; sultana raisins, 6 to 7c.; Valencia, 4 to 4½c.; layers, 5 to 5½c.; London layers, $2.25; loose muscatels, 5½ to 6c.; currants, bbls., 3½ to 3¾c.; half-cases, 3¾ to 4c.; dates, 4 to 4½c.; prunes, 4½ to 5½c.; figs, 11 to 18c.; Bermuda onions, $1.50 per crate; Egyptian, 2 to 2¼c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; do. apricots, 12 to 14c.; do. pears, 12 to 13c.

DAIRY PRODUCE—In cheese the factories do not like to sell at prices offering. Some are much disappointed and say at present prices they must lose money. Very few N.B. cheese have yet been here but some shipments are expected in a few days. Demand continues light. Butter finds only fair demand. Creamery prints are slow at price. In eggs there is fair demand at quotations where stock is good. Unfortunately for some shippers, their goods are not all satisfactory when it is not a matter of price but to sell. We quote: Dairy, 14 to 15c.; new creamery prints, 18 to 19c.; cheese, new, 9c.; eggs, 10 to 10½c.; creamery, tubs, 17 to 18c.

GREEN FRUIT—There is a large quantity moving. Strawberries are not arriving so plentiful owing to demand west causing better returns from there. Cherries are beginning to arrive in fair quantities, but move slowly. Rhubarb is about out of the market. Large quantities of bananas are moving, one dealer handling upward of 400 bunches per week. Oranges are quoted higher, while lemons continue very firm. Some few green apples are in the market, but they look very small and mean. Pines are about out of the market. We quote: Apples, $2 per crate; cucumbers, 4c. each; cherries, Digby, 30 to 35c.; rhubarb, ¾c.; strawberries, 8 to 10c.; Messinas, $4 to $4.35; Valencias, $6; lemons, $5 to $5.50; bananas, $1.75 to $2.50.

MOLASSES—The cargo of Porto Rico spoken of last week is to hand. Quality is very satisfactory, and it is meeting a ready sale at firm prices. It is a large cargo, having between 700 to 800 packages. This makes the second cargo of Porto Rico for this same house. They are much pleased with their trade, the good profit being not the least satisfactory part of the transaction. Stocks in the city are not large, and are held firm. Syrup is in very light demand. We quote: Barbadoes, 34 to 35c.; Porto Rico, 35 to 37c.; St. Croix, 33 to 34c.; bbl., 34 to 35c.

SUGAR—Sale is dull, stocks moving off but slowly, there not being the demand that was expected, and prices are being shaded very close to refiners' figures. In fact, sugars are being sold fully as low as they can be landed. They are getting a rather better trade for yellows than for granulated. We quote: Granulated, 4¼ to 4¾c.; yellow, 3¾ to 3¾c.; Paris lump, 5 to 5½c.; powdered, 5 to 5½c.

FISH—In dry the markets are off. There are fairly large quantities arriving, and though quality is good there is very light demand. At this season fishermen like to market part of their catch to pay for supplies, principally the smaller fish and pollock. They find but little encouragement as regards price at present. Pickled and smoked continue very dull. Fresh salmon are marked lower, the catch during the past week being fair. There is good demand. Shad are about out of the market. The few now being caught are but fair quality. Gaspereaux are out of the market. Dry pollock, like cod, are lower. We quote: halibut, 8c.; lobsters, $6 per 100; large cod, $3.50 to $3.60; medium, $3.25 to $3.30; small, $2.75; pollock, $1.40 to $1.50; bay herring, $1.40 to $1.50 per half-bbl.; Shelburne, No. 1, $4 per bbl.; half-bbl., $2.40 to $2.50; shad, 9 to 10c.; smoked herring, 5½ to 6c.; Digby chickens, 10c.; salmon, 13 to 14c.

PROVISIONS—There is a light demand with no changes, except that hams are held firmer. The bulk of our retail trade through the city are supplied by local packers, who get rather better prices than can be obtained by outside parties. We quote: Clear pork, $18 to $18.50; mess, $16.50 to $17; beef, $14.50 to $15; pure lard, 10 to 10½c.; hams, 12 to 13c.; compound lard, 8 to 9c.; rolls, 9 to 9½c.; cottolene, 9¼ to 9½c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—In flour, prices are again marked lower. There are many more sellers than a few weeks ago, though now the trouble is to find buyers. Stocks are, however, working off, as the wholesalers have not been buyers for some time. It is doubtful if there is to be a much greater falling off, as the tone of Ontario wheat is very firm. Cornmeal and oatmeal are both easier, showing fair demand. Oats are rather lower, and there is very little difference between price of Ontario and Prince Edward Island. In feed, stocks are very light, and it is said that first-class middlings cannot be bought. In hay, the market continues firm, and there is a fair movement. The prospect of a fair average crop is much better than a few weeks ago. We quote: Manitoba, $5.25 to $5.35; best Ontario, $5.15 to $5.20; medium, $5 to $5.10; oatmeal, $4.50 to $4.60; cornmeal, $2.90; middlings, $24 to $25 on track; bran, $22 to $22.50; hand-picked beans, $1.90; prime,

$1.75 to $1.80; oats, Ontario, 46 to 47c.; hay, $9 to $9.50; pot barley, $4.15 to $4.35; round peas, $3.75 to $3.90; split, $3.75 to $3.90; P.E.I. oats, 45 to 46c. on track, by the car.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

New potatoes are now in this market at $1.50 per bushel; peas $1.40.

B. B. Hardwick, selling Pearline, passed through the city during the past week.

Messrs. Northrup & Co. have received a stock of choice grocery molasses in 40 gallon barrels.

A new pail is noticed in this market. It is imported Virginia cedar, and sells at $2.75 per doz.

J. Hunter White has been appointed agent for the Lakeport Preserving Company. This firm are well known as packers of high-grade goods.

Rhubarb weighing from 1 to 1¼ lb. per stalk is not so bad, some of them being all but six inches in circumference. Can Ontario do better than this?

The Farmers' and Dairymen's Association of New Brunswick met in Andover on the 29th ult. Col. Blair, superintendent of the experimental farm, Nappan, N.S., was present.

Joseph Ward, of Messrs. Joseph Ward & Co., Montreal, was in the city during the past week. They do a large business here. During the past season they did a very large business in seed.

We are pleased to note that a number of retail grocers intend closing their stores at 7 o'clock during the summer on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. This is as it should be; from 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. are rather long hours.

Mackerel fishing on the Miramichi river is reported good. There are now three steamers on the river, one owned by A. & R. Loggie, one by Geo. W. Robertson, and one by R. & R. O'Leary. Three dollars per hundred is about the present price.

Again we would like to call the attention of those in authority to the large number of burglaries which take place in the smaller towns, two being reported in one day during the past week—one in Campbellton, the store of Wm. Glover, and one in Truro, P. McG. Archibald's store.

Customs revenue for June shows a decrease of $5,117, as compared with June of last year. The total revenue for the year ending June 30 is $53,931 below that of the previous year. In the savings banks the annual statement shows an increase of deposits during 1895 as compared with 1894, and a decrease in withdrawals.

The West India steamer arriving this week has on board some 1,000 packages molasses for this port, about 250 Trinidad, and 800 Barbadoes. She has also some 500 bags of cocoanuts, about half of which go to Toronto. There are some 10 casks sugar from Barbadoes and 60 barrels limes from Dominica for Boston.

STRONG ON CANNED SALMON.

A private letter in regard to British Columbia salmon received by a well-known selling agent in Montreal is as follows :

The activity in the export demand and increased sales causes packers to be more indifferent about selling, and there is a much firmer tone to the market in all quarters. Balfour, Guthrie & Co., of San Francisco and Liverpool, recently bought 350,000 cases Alaska fish for Great Britain. The ship Rathdown has just finished loading salmon at Astoria for Liverpool, and will be followed this month by the Sierra Parima from and to same ports. It is several years since so much Columbia River salmon have been taken for export, and British Columbia packers continue to advise an active enquiry at improved prices for England. It is anticipated, therefore, that there will be a diminished quantity in proportion this year than last for consumption on this continent and that prices are certain to go higher even than they are now. Clover Leaf flats are quoted at $5.20 Coast, which ought to show buyers a profit under the limited selling prices.

TEA TESTING CONTEST.

Quite a novel departure in the way of entertaining instruction for grocers at picnics and like gatherings was introduced last week in Minneapolis, at the grocers' picnic. It consisted in a tea testing contest, whereby over 50 grocers tried their ability to guess the price of different kinds of tea under the instruction of an expert from some wholesale tea house. The idea is not a bad one for our Grocers' Associations to consider. One of our leading wholesale dealers will, no doubt, furnish the tea to be tested free of charge, with an expert to conduct the testing contest.

The tea testing contest, given at the grocers' picnic of Minneapolis, brought out some strange evidence of ignorance in the value of teas in the men to whom a good knowledge of teas would mean a good many dollars in the course of a year. The three samples of tea to be tested were valued at 25 cents, 26 cents, and 19 cents respectively. There were something less than fifty grocers taking part in the contest. The fact that one contestant marked the 19-cent tea up to 55 cents, and that there was a range of marking covering the whole range of price of teas, shows, in a degree, how many grocers simply make a stagger at guessing at the real value of the tea they buy. Now, not one of these grocers would think of taking some other man's word on the grade of butter they buy. Yet where a cent a pound is saved on butter by knowing how to test the grade, 10c. a pound can be saved on tea, and this means $8 on a chest. The grocer who does not learn to test his own purchases of tea, yet insists on testing his own butter, simply wastes at the bung what he saves at the spigot.

A tea testing contest will not only be interesting but instructive. The most appropriate prize to be given to the winner who guesses the price of the tea, would seem to be a chest of the tea he has tested, and there is no doubt that some wholesaler would gladly make the association a present of the tea for the advertising he would get.

Thos. Cole, of the People's Store, Woodstock, Ont., has been successful in adjusting his loss by fire with the companies, and it is said received in all $4,000. He was insured for $10,000, divided as follows: Commercial Union, $2,000; London and Lancashire, $4,000; Guardian, $4,000. Mr Cole had assigned the insurance policies to J. C. Strothers, of London, for the benefit of his creditors.

A despatch from Winnipeg says that the coming fall promises to be the greatest season for export cattle shipments that the Northwest has experienced. Mr. A. D. Gordon, an extensive cattle exporter, has arrived there from the western ranch country. While there he arranged to ship 19,000 head of cattle to England this fall. This means over 110 trains. Add to this local shipments from Manitoba, and it will be seen that the cattle movement will be a very important feature of the fall trade. The grazing lands are in fine condition.

PUSHING "SURPRISE."

"PUSH, push," appears to be the motto of the St. Croix Soap Manufacturing Company, of St. Stephen, N. B. Excellent as is the quality of their leading soap, "Surprise," and widely as it is known, they are not satisfied with allowing it to take care of itself. They are always pushing it. They advertise continuously with a view to keeping their soap ever before the jobber, the retailer and the consumer, with the result that they have an ever-increasing trade, and have been able to maintain prices in spite of the slaughter of soaps that has been going on lately. "In fact, we could not reduce prices and maintain the quality of our soap," remarked a representative one day to THE CANADIAN GROCER. In the accompanying illustration is an evidence of the continuous "push, push," of the St. Croix Company.

The wagon there shown was specially built for distributing samples of "Surprise" soap among consumers. It is now engaged in "sampling" Toronto. The wagon is an elaborate affair. As will be seen, the box is a fac-simile of the article it is designed to distribute. The horses are light chestnut in color, and the boys who accompany the vehicle as distributors are dressed in navy blue costumes with gilt buttons, while upon their heads are white caps with the words "Surprise Soap" across the front.

Although this is Mr. Gillard's first visit here he is no stranger to Edmonton, having invested largely in Edmonton property in 1882, and indeed he is still one of the largest single holders of property in the place. Asked as to how he came to invest so heavily in a place that he had never seen, and at that time was rather out of the world, Mr. Gillard replied that he had faith in the reports which he had received from traders and others who had visited the region and locality as to its fertility, climate and natural resources being superior to those of any other part of the Northwest.—Edmonton Bulletin, July 4.

DELAWARE TOMATOES.

It is reported that the Delaware pack of tomatoes will be very light. Some packers will not can any, as owing to the low prices prevailing in the spring they would not make contracts with the farmers, and it is now too late to secure supplies, particularly as, because of the early indifference of canners, the acreage was much smaller than usual.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

CHEESE MAKING.

A F. MACLAREN, the well-known authority on cheese, has written to The Woodstock Sentinel-Review a letter in which he speaks of some of the drawbacks to the successful manufacture of good cheese.

In the first place, he objects to hogs being kept and fed too close to the factory, holding that the cheese is seriously tainted by the bad air from the styies.

Continuing, he says :

"I also find at a great many factories where they draw the whey back to patrons in cans, that they have a large tank close to the factory. The milk haulers are allowed to go to these tanks for the purpose of pumping or running the whey through a pipe or conductor into the cans ; in so doing a great lot of whey is allowed to fall and lie in pools around the tank. In a short time this whey creates a very bad odor, and should and could be prevented by a proper appliance for placing the whey in the cans in the first place, and then by careful handling on the part of the milk haulers in the second place.

"Another great trouble I notice is that when cans of whey are returned to the patrons by the milk haulers in the morning, I often find these cans full of sour whey on the milk stands on the roadside late in the afternoon. The cans should be emptied not later than noon, or the moment they arrive home if possible, washed, scoured with salt, scalded and well aired, so as to be in shape to receive the night's milk.

"Then again, I often find the whey brought home in these cans is fed to the pigs right close by the milk stand. This is simply terrible and should not be allowed."

In the next place Mr. MacLaren condemns the practice pursued by many who supply milk to the factories of leaving the cans of milk standing in the barnyard over night, perhaps in close proximity to a dung heap.

The writer says that the milk hauler cannot be too tidy about his work, keeping his wagon, cans, straps, etc., in good shape, and loading up his whey in as tidy a manner as possible.

He concludes with a word to the cheese-maker :

"For goodness sake, do keep off those pants, aprons, shirts, and boots which stand alone. Get nice clean, white aprons and caps, such as we find at the Guelph Dairy School, and the whole world will eat more cheese, will love you better, and you will be money ahead. Have everything clean, neat and tidy outside your factory, wood piled up, fences and gates in good shape, grass and weeds cut, old vats, sinks, presses, curd mills, cheese boxes, barrels, etc., all burned or taken away from the factory. Then inside the making room have the vats, sinks, presses, weigh scales, weigh cans, conductors, curd knives, milk strainers, curd strainers, engine, boiler and boiler room, curd mills, and last but not least, floor and gutter, all clean as a new pin. Then, again, pay more attention to your curing room. Keep it very clean and tidy ; don't have a bag of salt in one corner, a bundle of clean cotton on one shelf, a bundle of dirty head cloths on another shelf, a pan of grease with a rag in it sitting on the top of a rusty stove, a pile of empty salt bags and broken boxes, etc., in another corner. Don't allow this. Keep it clean, neat and tidy and your cheese will look better, sell better, and people will eat more of it."

EXPORT OF HAY.

The hay situation remains about the same as last week, the long-continued drought having settled beyond doubt the loss of crops in some parts of Ontario. Quebec hay is still being brought in there and sold at $13 a ton by the car lot, while an odd load on the street sells for $16 or $17.

There is a considerable export demand from Great Britain, but, as far as can be learned, none is being shipped across the Atlantic from this market, although a few lots are being sent from here into Ohio.

The N.Y. Hay Trade Journal, with reports from all parts of the United States and Canada, said on July 8 :

"All states east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio will not produce 50 per cent. of an average crop. In the provinces of Quebec and eastern Ontario indications promise a full crop. England has a short yield, and that country has buyers in Canada now, and will divert the supply which would naturally come to the United States to that country."

The N. Y. Journal of Commerce says :

"There has of late been renewed enquiry for hay by English importers owing to the scarcity on their side of the Atlantic. Foreign bids have been advanced and considerable engagements for export have already been made. The market for hay at this port is firm, and prices during the past month have shown a marked advance as a result of poor crops throughout the state, due to long continued drought. Last year, it will be remembered, there was an active export movement from this port, due to the short crops in the United Kingdom, France, and Germany. The exports for the first six months of 1894 were 1,425,584 bales, while for the corresponding period of this year they have only reached 330,645 bales. Last year's shipments were largely Canadian hay, which was shipped through this country in bond."

NOVA SCOTIA MARKET REPORT.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

HALIFAX, July 11, 1895.

THERE is no improvement to note in business since last report. The weather has been unfavorable and the country is without the tourist trade, which is always looked for about this time. Indeed, our hotels are almost empty and the general enquiry is: When are the tourists coming?

Strawberries appear to be the leading feature just now. The Annapolis Valley is the source of supply. The receipts here average 400 crates a day, and they are retailing as low as six cents per box, which leaves no margin for the producer. But the growers are not content to slaughter their fruit in this market and are looking to Boston, sending the fruit forward in refrigerator cars. Speaking under this head, The Wolfville Orchardist says: "The first consignment of three carloads has already gone forward, and if it arrives in good condition and the berries command a fair price, why the trick is done and the valley berry patches will rapidly increase and prove a bigger bonanza than ever to the growers. The production now is hardly more than enough to supply the local demand and the Halifax market, but with a new market, within easy distance, capable of handling from forty to sixty carloads per day, growers need not be afraid of over production; prices are sure to be enhanced.

"Messrs. Berry & Howard, of Boston, are the ones to make the first proposition to the berry growers of Kings and Annapolis, and their hustling agent, Wm. Rand, of Canning, will see that the experiment gets a thorough trial. The cars are owned by the Tropical Transportation Co., of Boston, and are iced at Hillaton on the C.V.R. branch and then sent as far out as Middleton. Each car is labelled 'Strawberries, rush them along.' Berry & Howard also purpose handling blueberries and strawberries in their season."

Shelburne County, away to the west of the province, is also coming to the front as a strawberry producer.

The township of Aylesford, in Kings County, last year exported 850 barrels of cranberries, and it was estimated that fully half the crop was destroyed by the frost. This year cranberries are in bloom six weeks earlier, and the prospects of a good crop never were better. It is estimated that in Aylesford alone there were 100 bogs set with cranberry vines within the past year. Nova Scotia will have a short hay crop. Some counties will not have more than half a crop, and only Annapolis, Kings and Lunenburg Counties will have an average crop.

FLOUR—There is very little to note in the flour market. Prices are steady at the decline. Quotations are: Hungarian patent, Manitoban, $5.25 to $5.50; Manitoba strong bakers', $5.15 to $5.25; Canadian pastry, $5.24 to $5.40; 75 p.c. roller patents, $5.15 to $5.30; 80 p.c. ditto, $4.90 to $5.15; 90 p.c. ditto, $4.75 to $5; straight, $4.50 to $4.65; extra, $4.25 to $4.50.

CORNMEAL AND OATMEAL—Cornmeal and oatmeal are easier, in consequence of the decline in the price of corn and oats. Canadian oatmeal and rolled oats are held here from $4.20 to $4.60. We heard of a sale of American rolled at $4, delivered here duty paid—a sale that nobody here seems to understand.

FISHSTUFFS—Spring mackerel still remain in fair demand, and prices are fairly well maintained, the last sales being $10.10 for city inspection and $9.50 for shore, against $11 and $10 a week ago. We look for no further advance, as the trade are waiting for f.o.b. fish, which are reported as showing good signs of an early run. Codfish are in over supply, and old fall and winter cure are almost unsalable, $2.25 to $2.50 being full values. New fish of a good run in size would bring $2.75 to $3.25, according to quality. Contrary to expectations, new salmon are still keeping up in price and sell readily at $20 for 1's, $18 for 2's, and $14 for 3's, but it is doubtful if these prices will continue very long.

PROVISIONS—Beef has broken in price on the other side of the water, and consequently our market acts in sympathy, as lower prices are obtained in Montreal and Toronto, from which places we receive the bulk of our supply. Native beef is worth from $7 to $10, but there is a great scarcity of anything good. Three carloads of Ontario cattle were received this week by J. A. Leaman & Co., all in first-class condition. Messrs. Leaman & Co. say they would rather buy at home, but the Ontario article suits their trade better. Sales of beef during the past two weeks have not been heavy, lamb and salmon taking its place. Spring lambs are getting heavier and are on an average with other seasons. Quotations are $2.25 to $3. Sheep are selling from $2 to $5, as to size and quality. Veal is worth from 4 to 6½c., mutton 5 to 8c., and fresh pork 7c.

POULTRY—The poultry market is only fair, and prices are: Turkeys, 15c.; spring chickens, 55 to 75c. per pair; fowls, 50 to 75c. per pair.

POTATOES—There is little or nothing doing in potatoes. The old stocks are played out, and are only filling in till the new ones come on the market.

SUGAR—The refinery is making large deliveries, but doing very little new business. Prices are unchanged.

GREEN FRUIT—The market is well supplied with green fruit of all kinds, and prices remain unchanged. New gooseberries arrived this week and sold for 10c. per quart retail.

MOLASSES—Stocks are fairly large with fair demand. There is no change in prices; 100 puncheons were shipped to Newfoundland this week.

EGGS—The egg trade is dull at last week's quotations.

BUTTER AND CHEESE—This is a line which seems to have struck rock bottom, and is determined to stay there. Prices are low and trade is dull generally. The new factories are beginning to send in their products.

Other lines are dull and uninteresting.

WINDSOR.

Barquentine "Geo. Davis" arrived at Hantsport, on Wednesday last, 58 days from Buenos Ayres, with a full cargo of camp bones for the Pidgeon Fertilizer Co., Windsor. This is the second cargo this season for this company, which is the only company in Canada to import direct from South America.

P. E. ISLAND.

T. J. Dillon has just completed a big deal with the insurance companies. He has insured the cheese and butter in stock at the thirty dairy stations in the province for the total amount of $57,200.

Canadian Pacific Railway stock is in a good position these days. In England there is a steady advance in this stock in view of the anticipated increased earnings consequent upon the favorable crop reports from the Northwest.

T., H. & B. RAILWAY.

In the House of Commons, Mr. Coatsworth, on motion for the third reading, moved, "That the bill respecting the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway Company be recommitted to the Committee of the Whole House, with instructions to amend the bill by adding the following clauses, which had been agreed to by all in favor of and opposed to the bill :

"11. The debts to be paid under the foregoing provisions of this Act shall include only the following unpaid claims : (1) The claim of the assignee of Bracey Bros. & Co. against the Dominion Construction Company for wages paid and material supplied by him in the completion of the line from Hamilton to Cainsville. (2) The claims of sub-contractors of Bracey Bros. & Co. against them for work done and material supplied in the said construction. (3) The claims for advances by the Bank of Hamilton and the Bank of Commerce to or for Bracey Bros. & Co., amounting to about $11,000 and $2,000 respectively. (4) Claims for labor actually done upon or in connection with said construction. (5) Claims for board of men and teams employed upon said construction. (6) Claims for material actually used in said construction. (7) Claims for goods supplied to employees of Bracey Bros. & Co., or their sub-contractors engaged on said construction, and supplied pro tanto in reduction of wages claims.

"12. That payment by the Railway Company of the said debts, or any of them, in respect of which the Dominion Construction Company is now under any liability to Bracey Bros. & Co., or their assignees or others, shall, to the extent of such payment by the railway company, operate as and be a release and discharge of the Dominion Construction Company as against said Bracey Bros. & Co., their assignees, and others, but nothing herein contained shall in any way prejudice any existing right of any creditor of the said firm or their sub-contractors, or any of them."

The motion was agreed to. The House went into committee, adopted the amendment and reported the bill.

ANOTHER VISIT FROM DEATH.

Last week we had occasion to chronicle the death of the wife of W. H. Seyler, manager of the Eby, Blain Co.'s sample room. This week it is our painful duty to chronicle another death in the family. This time the victim is Mr. Seyler's five months' old son. The poor little fellow had been ailing ever since his mother was taken away, and on Monday night, nine days after the death of his mother, he too breathed his last.

Mr. Seyler has the sympathy of his friends in this, his double affliction.

It is in the hour of trouble that we discover our friends. In the double affliction that has fallen upon Mr. Seyler friends many have, by letter, word or grasp of hand, expressed sympathy with him, and he desires, through THE CANADIAN GROCER, to thank those who have so kindly remembered him.

SALMON NEWS FROM THE COAST.

THE B.C. Commercial Journal of July 2 has the following regarding salmon :

By the arrival of the steamship Danube on the 26th June, information was received from the Northern canneries. The sockeye run commenced on the Naas and Skeena rivers about June 20. The run had not commenced at Rivers Inlet when the Danube passed there.

The following packs are reported : Balmoral, 1,700 cases ; Inverness, 400 ; British America and North Pacific, 4,000. The other canneries averaged about 500 cases.

The A. B. C. pack of 4,000 cases was all brought down to the Britannia cannery on the Fraser River for repacking.

This is the first time that spring salmon, packed the same year, has arrived down before the end of June.

A carload of 576 cases spring salmon, packed in flats and ovals, has been shipped from the Fraser to London, England, by the Great Northern.

The sockeye season opened with this month. It is understood that strong efforts will be made to put up the largest possible pack. All the canneries will be at work, and, as fish are not expected to be over plentiful, the fishermen are likely to get a good price for their catch. The opening figure will be 25c. each. If old rules hold good, says The Columbian, the sockeye run this season will be very short, but good while it lasts, and the canners will have to put up three-fourths of their packs in less than ten days. The sockeyes are expected earlier than last year on the Fraser river.

The market holds firm at previous figures.

THE SALMON RUN.

In regard to the dates at which salmon enter the various streams along the northern and north-western coasts of the Pacific, Mr. Ewen, who is probably as good an authority as any man in the province, is of the opinion that there is a variation in the dates relative to each stream of about 20 days. In his experience July 1st is the earliest, and July 21st the latest at which the big shoals of sockeye have entered the Fraser and they continue what is called the main run from 10 to 15 days.

Inspector McNabb, of the Fisheries Department, is of the opinion that the sockeye salmon entered the Fraser last year and the previous season several days before the net men were aware of their presence. He accounts for this by saying that the drifts were made in the main stream while the fish were running in shoal water along the shores and under the brushwood, and thinks that a big shoal got up before any fish were landed.

It is believed that 25c. will be the opening price for the sockeye run, the ruling price for quinnat having been thus far about 80c. —B. C. Commercial Journal.

OF INTEREST TO EXPORTERS.

The s.s. Duart Castle arrived at St. John, N.B., from the West Indies on July 7, with sixteen hundred tons of freight and a large number of passengers, including twenty-nine Chinese en route from Trinidad to China. Captain Seely, of the Duart Castle, called a Montreal Star correspondent's attention to a matter of vast importance to Canadian merchants trading with the West Indies. He said that every day the papers in English and French West Indian Islands published United States and English market reports, which are furnished by the Panama Cable Company. Captain Seely had a conversation with the superintendent of the company at St. Thomas, who told him that the Dominion Government ought to be able to arrange for the furnishing of the Canadian market reports to all these islands daily for £250 or £300. Captain Seely also suggests that merchants send their trade circulars down by the steamers running to the West Indies.

HAS BECOME A "CHINAMAN."

Henry E. Lyons, for the past 20 years eastern representative for Charles Boeckh & Sons, brush manufacturers, has severed his connection with them. Harry, as he is familiarly called, will make Chicago his headquarters in future, and intends to become a Chinaman, having secured the Chicago agency for a large china and glass factory in Germany.

HAMILTON TRADE GOSSIP.

SUGAR is moving very slowly for this time of year. "If we had three or four good rains," remarked one wholesaler, "there is still a likelihood of an abundant harvest of raspberries, the number of berries on the vines being tremendous, and then we should sell sugar. Despite the slowness of the demand for sugar everyone is hanging on to what he has, with the expectation that the demand will come. The price is keeping firm. We are beginning to feel a little improvement in the sorting up business, although very few car-load lots are moving." The ruling quotations for granulated are: Acadia, 4½c.; Montreal, 4¼c.; German, 4c.

Canned goods are getting much firmer. Most of the packers who wanted to clean out their factories before the new pack came in appear to have accomplished their purpose, and for goods that are wanted by the wholesale trade higher prices are demanded. Peas, corn and tomatoes rule at 80 to 85c. "The feeling," said one jobber, in speaking of tomatoes, "is that everyone is in the dark just now." Said another: We can't tell how the plants are going to turn out."

"Practically no strawberries have been packed in the Niagara district this season," said a gentleman interested. "There may be some east of Toronto, however."

A St. Catharine's retailer who was in town this week was heard to remark that in all his experience, which was some twenty years, he had never seen the sugar consumption so small relatively. He assigned the cause, of course, to the shortage in the fruit crop.

No fresh samples of Japan tea have, I understand, been received in this market since my last letter. Generally speaking, the first lot of what might be called marketable goods, in comparison with last year, will not be to hand before the end of the month. "For instance," remarked a jobber, "there are some of the houses here that gave open orders for tea that have not been pleased with the cup and style of them; and the best values have been those which were secured at a stated figure, or to match certain grades of last season's teas, but these are few and far between." There have been some samples of new Indian and Ceylon teas on this market, but I understand that there has not been any anxiety to get hold of them. "I suppose," remarked one jobber, "for the simple reason that July and August are not, as a rule, big tea selling months. There is no doubt that after a little time the lower grades of Ceylon teas will be cheaper than they are to-day, and will lead to increased consumption, as they show extraordinary cup value compared with China goods. I think, as far as we ourselves are concerned, that we shall sell half-a-dozen times as much Ceylon tea as we did a short time ago, and a less quantity of China teas, both blacks and greens."

From what I can gather from conversation with the trade, there has been a large increase of late in the consumption of really good coffee. "There are really very few stores, general or otherwise," remarked one wholesaler, "that do not buy their coffee whole and have it ground on the premises fresh every day. On the other hand, a few years ago they nearly all had coffee compounds, put up in one pound packages or in bulk, to retail at 20 to 25c. It would be a good thing for the grocer to impress upon his customers the fact that coffee is not a cheap drink, and that if they want it good they must pay for it."

"'Albert' sardines are scarce and higher," said one wholesale man. "We are now getting 13c. for ¼'s; ½'s, I don't think, they are to be had. These are the sardines; they sell without talking."

Demand continues brisk for prunes at 4c. in cases. Good fruit is, as elsewhere, scarce on this market.

The salmon situation continues strong, and those who are fortunate enough to have good stocks "are doing handsomely," as a friend of mine put it. Prices range from $1.30 to $1.35 for good red fish, and $1.20 to $1.25 for other kinds. About $1.30 seems to be the figure most retailers are willing to pay.

The F. F. Dalley Co.'s baseball team is taking the shine out of all its antagonists these days. June 29 it defeated, by a score of 29 to 27, E. T. Wright & Co.'s nine. On Saturday last the team retrieved the laurels it lost some weeks ago to W. H. Gillard & Co.'s team, winning by a score of 26 to 7. The polish is again back on Dalley's "English Army" blacking, so I am told.

The T. H. & B. is pushing with vigor the construction work. The walls of the station in Hunter street have reached the second storey. The track for the tunnel work has been laid in Hunter street as far as Hess street. "The excavation work is proving a terrible loss to property owners in that neighborhood," remarked one Hamiltonian to me. "Many of them are losing their tenants, and in other cases, in order to retain them, they have been compelled to reduce rents 50 per cent."

Lucas, Steele & Bristol, the agents for Roberts' jellies, say every buyer is satisfied with them and that the sales are steadily increasing. This firm claim to have some extra values in black teas to retail at 25 and 50 cents. Samples will be forwarded on application. "Yes, our tea trade has been satisfactory," said the firm. "Japans we have arriving are quite up to last year's, as we had favorable contracts."

COLD WATER STARCH.

A. P. Murray, manager of the Brantford Starch Co., was in Toronto this week. The company have been fortunate in securing the services of a gentleman who, though a Canadian by birth, has had several years' experience in one of the largest starch factories in Great Britain, and who has also spent some time in some of the American factories. Under his supervision the company should turn out as good stock as can be made in the world. They are now introducing a new line of cold water starch that will be appreciated by all housewives. It is called the Canadian Electric Starch, and requires no boiling water, being thus especially handy for warm weather. The package in which this starch is put up is handsome, there being a dark blue ground with letters in gold and white.

French millers expect to export flour to England in the near future, and are said to be now grinding for that purpose.

JOHN C. FITCH DEAD.

The sudden death was announced last Saturday of John C. Fitch, until a few years ago one of Toronto's leading wholesale merchants. Death was due to violent exertion. After running to catch a Queen street electric car he was seen to suddenly fall from his seat to the floor of the car. He was conveyed to a room in Scholes' Hotel, where restoratives were applied pending the arrival of Drs. Lynd and Rowe, who had meantime been summoned. Although the latter was early on the scene nothing could be done, as the vital spark had flown ere he arrived. Death was caused by heart disease, a severe attack having been brought on by the exertion of running. His sudden demise was not altogether unexpected, as a card found in his pocketbook gave his name and address, and asking that should sickness or accident overtake him at any time word be conveyed to the address given.

The deceased was born in the province of Quebec 75 years ago. He came to Toronto when quite a lad, and in 1851 commenced business with W. P. (now Sir William) Howland, wholesale grocer and commission merchant. He took a warm interest in the Toronto and Nipissing railway and other projects for the development of the city's trade.

For several years after the retirement of Mr. Howland he was associated with Col. John I. Davidson in the grocery business, under the style of Fitch & Davidson. His only son, Lieut. Wm. Fitch, of the Royal Grenadiers, was associated with him in the business, but upon the heroic death of the son at Batoche ten years ago last May, the father retired from business. The deceased leaves a widow and several daughters.

QUALITY OF NEW INDIAN TEAS.

An English trade journal has this to say regarding new season's Indian teas: "With few exceptions the character of the new season's is not up to the standard of previous years, many of them being of exceptionally poor quality. This may be due to climatic causes, but as the later reports speak of a continued improvement in most districts in this respect, future imports will no doubt consist of an increased proportion of more desirable teas. Some of the Darjeelings are quite up to the average, for which there was good bidding at full rates, but most of the Assam and Cachars are both deficient in cup and flavor."

POINTS FOR CLERKS.

It is thought that because I have been a young man, and have worked hard and achieved success, says George W. Childs in writing some advice for young men, I am qualified to advise others who are starting in life. It is not for me to decide whether or not this idea is correct. But I am sure that few benefits can be conferred upon humanity more important than to help the young to lead good and useful lives; and if anything I can say will promote that end I am willing and happy to say it.

There is nothing miraculous in the success that I have met with. If a man has good principles and does his best to act upon them, he cannot fail of success, though it may not be success of precisely the same kind as mine. There are innumerable ways of being useful in this world, and each man has his peculiar gifts and qualifications. Each man will walk in the path best adapted to him; but there is no reason why every path should not lead toward one and the same point—toward benefiting of men in general. Good principles are just as good for the artist as for the artisan—for the poet as for the ploughman—for the man of business as for the clergyman. It makes no difference what you do, as long as it is just and you are honest and diligent in the doing of it.

Who sweeps a room, as for Thy laws,
Makes that and the action fine.

It is well, in my opinion, to accustom one's self early to work, and not be afraid of any kind of work that is honest and useful. I began to support myself when I was 12 years old, and I have never been dependent on others since. I had some schooling, but not much; I never went to college, not because I did not think a college career might be a good thing for those who could make a good use of it, but because I did not feel that it was so important for me as to be earning my own living. When I left home to come to Philadelphia, one of my relatives said that I would soon have enough of that and would be coming back again. But I made up my mind that I would never go back—I would succeed. I had health, the power of applying myself, and, I suppose, a fair amount of brains. I came to Philadelphia with $3 in my pocket. I found board and lodging for $2.50 and then got a place as office boy for $3. That gave me a surplus of 50 cents a week.

I did not merely do the work that I was absolutely required to do, but did all I could, and put my heart into it. I wanted my employer to feel that I was more useful to him than he expected me to be. I was not afraid to clean and sweep and perform what might be considered by some young gentlemen nowadays as menial work, and, therefore, beneath them. I did not think it beneath me then, and should not now. If it were necessary, I would sweep out my office to-day; and I often carry bundles. But the other day a youth came to me to ask if I could find some employment for him. His father had died and his mother could not support him, and he wished to support himself. I looked at him and, saw that he had on very nice clothes and kid gloves. I asked him if he would like to wheel a wheelbarrow. He seemed surprised, and answered that he didn't think he would like that. Then I asked him if he would object to carrying bundles. Well, he wasn't anxious to carry bundles, either. He was like many young men who talk about wanting to work but when it comes to the point they want to do only kid-glove sort of work. I must say that I don't have much sympathy with that sort of feeling. Men are all brothers, and what is worthy of one is not unworthy of another. The Bible says it is what cometh out of the mouth that defileth a man. It is not work, but character, that can be discreditable.

While I was working around as errand and office boy I improved such opportunity as I had to read books, and to attend book sales, so as to learn the market value of books and anything else that might be useful to me hereafter. It was my aim always to be in a position where I could use my best talents to the best advantage. I fixed my ambition high, so that even if I did not realize the highest, I might at least always be tending upward. A man should not always use all his faculties, but be constantly developing them so that he can do more. If you jump at a thing with your whole heart and mind, though you may not be exceptionally able, it is wonderful how much you may accomplish, but if you are half hearted you will fail.

COUNTRY STOREKEEPING.

There is an undoubted pleasure in conducting a successful country store business, remarks Commercial Bulletin. The country merchant who understands his business is a man respected in the community, and he has many opportunities to enjoy life. No country merchant need feel that he is one wit behind his city brother, who is tormented by competition that the country merchant knows not of. The fact is, the business man of the thriving country town is to be envied from a business standpoint. He is after all a king compared with the business man of the city, who must wear himself out thinking of ways and means by which his trade may be enlarged in the face of the strongest competition that meets him on all sides and from every important city of the country.

Life is pleasant in a pleasant town in the country. There is a pleasure in knowing all the people of your community, for then one can choose for his friends the best of every community, while in the city one may brush elbows with the best and not be aware of it, while he is compelled often to make friends with those distasteful to him, because of his inaccessibility to those who would be more congenial. The country merchant is a leader among his fellows. He advances with his community; he is able to meet the competition about him because he knows what it is. Not so with the city merchant; he never knows at night what new torment will confront him on the morrow. Perhaps there will be a new store next door that will seek to share his custom with him.

The country merchant can well afford to be pleasant and enjoy life. There is no particular reason why he should wish to reach the city. It has advantages, but they are largely offset by the advantages of the country. Neither has a monopoly of the good things.

GERMAN SUGAR IN GOTHAM.

Willett & Gray, New York: "German granulated on the spot sold by sample at 4.18c. per pound net cash, and the same sugar can be imported at about 4.08c. landed in New York, against 4.35c. present net price for American. All the demand for refined sugar continues on the hand-to-month basis, but as the country has pretty well exhausted its carrying supplies, there is a notable increase in the number of orders coming in, which are now about sufficient to take off the present moderate meltings of refiners and reduce accumulated surplus also. For the soft grades there is an unusually good demand and many grades are oversold. The demand should continue to increase rather than diminish, and we see no reason why present prices may not be maintained until the general advance in sugar starts into effect."

TEA FROM YOKOHAMA.

The shipments of tea from Yokohama and Hiogo for season to June 3rd were: 1,835,441 pounds to New York overland, and 35,130 pounds via Suez; 198,806 pounds to San Francisco; 2,210,000 pounds to Chicago and the west; 508,897 pounds to Canada, and 12,203 pounds to England; total, 4,800,496 pounds, against 7,993,485 pounds same time last year, and 4,919,686 pounds year before.

FIGS IN FLORIDA.

The fruit growers in Brazil are becoming interested in raising figs for crystalization. The demand for this article is increasing rapidly and the supply is very far short of the demand. The soil of Florida has been proven to be all that could be wished for this class of fruit and after being properly prepared will need but little cultivation. After the fruit has been gathered and preserved, it will last almost any length of time, so that there is no hurry in forcing it upon the market and it can be shipped at the producer's convenience.—Pennsylvania Grocer.

FRAUDULENT VANILLA.

The most delicious, healthful and popular flavor in the world, says an American paper, is derived from Mexican vanilla, and can be got from no other source. The sale of other cheap varieties as Mexican is a fraud that ought to be exposed. In the race for "cheap" articles this flavor has suffered by the substitution of those cheap varieties and of chemical mixtures under various names until, in some places, a glass of soda or plate of ice cream with the true flavor can hardly be obtained. Buyers not familiar with the different varieties of beans have been deceived by showy-looking samples and induced to pay a high price for an inferior article under the impression they were getting at a low price real Mexican beans. A manufacturing confectioner recently paid four dollars and fifty cents per pound for fifty pounds vanilla beans, called "Mexican." Any vanilla dealer would have sold him the same at one dollar and fifty cents, but would not have called them Mexican. Vanilla dealers frequently have attention called to this swindle, which is now being successfully worked on manufacturers in various sections. The lesson for buyers who desire the genuine is to buy from well-known reliable dealers only.

CLEARING-SALE WINDOWS.

In the month of July when advertisements teem with announcements of great reductions, clearing and inventory sales, the window dresser is often at a loss for a fit subject on which to exercise his artistic abilities, says Dry Goods Economist.

As artistic abilities and clearing sales have not much in common, it might be the best plan to subordinate the artistic to the trade-bringing qualities and see how much business can be influenced through exceptionally strong window displays.

We do not mean that any scheme that will draw a large crowd should be used; for this sort of display rarely attracts any customers inside the store, but rather good, substantial-looking stock displays, not too crowded, but so arranged as to make a few particular things very prominent. Well-printed signs, with some short, catchy sentence, should draw attention to the principal articles shown, with the prices brought out prominently.

Remember that July is a month for revenue only, as it were, and if a window by its novel arrangement, or any other cause, succeeds in attracting a goodly number of shoppers who will buy, the window dresser will immediately rise several points in the estimation of his employer.

MISTAKEN IDEAS.

A conversation with a leading Boston window trimmer, remarks a contemporary, disclosed some facts regarding the disposition of employers in furthering displays which will bear comment here.

It is truly surprising to learn, after all that has been said in these columns and elsewhere, that many managers, superintendents, etc., still regard the window dresser as a mechanical functionary whose only mission in life is to execute the orders given him about the general and special features of contemplated displays.

Such a thing as allowing the window dresser to follow out his own ideas is still unheard of in many stores, and we also learn that in many establishments doing a business that reaches seven figures annually the window dresser is unknown and his duties are performed by a salesman who generally knows little or nothing of the art.

When a house pays a window trimmer a large salary it should surely make use of the talents he is supposed to possess, and in the other instance the value of large show windows and their influence on the passer-by are entirely too great to suffer neglect in the hands of one incompetent to properly conceive and execute a meritorious display.

MOLASSES FOR CANADA.

In a review of the markets N. Y. Journal of Commerce says: "Molasses is another article, although somewhat quiet has been doing very well all the late spring and early summer, the best custom coming from Canada. According to latest information, practically every gallon of foreign on the Atlantic coast has been purchased from first hands to send over the border, and a large quantity of domestic has been moving in the same direction, but in an undemonstrative and apparently secretive sort of way. It is understood that the Canadian tariff is almost prohibitive against any molasses testing less than 40 degrees, and not coming in original packages from point of production, and it will, therefore, be at once seen what nice care must have been exercised in selecting stock for shipment, if the Canadian Custom officials are thoroughly qualified to judge of quality. The local output of fine quality low grade sugar syrups drifts promptly into hands of European shippers who pay better rates than the home trade."

JERSEY BRAND AND TRADE.

Mr. S. S. Forrest, of the Forrest Canning Co., writes the Canadian Advertising Agency from Vancouver as follows: "I find that Jersey brand still maintains its reputation, and is fast gaining ground. Trade is brightening up in the west and better times are looked for when the crops are harvested."

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Trade, like war, requires strategem in order to success.

* * *

Electricity cannot be seen, but it will never vanish all the same.

* * *

A green clerk may pass muster in a green grocery, but in a dry grocery, never.

* * *

Business is not as fickle as are some people who attempt to woo her.

* * *

An abomination to sensible people is the senseless overdressing of a store clerk.

* * *

The law is making it "hot" in England for grocers who sell adulterated ginger.

* * *

A window glass trust has been formed in the United States. It must be a brittle affair.

* * *

A merchant may as well try to lift himself by his boot straps as to do all the trade of a town.

* * *

Square-dealing is the corner stone every-one building a business superstructure should lay.

* * *

The clouds could not contain themselves any longer, and so went on a "burst" on the Twelfth.

* * *

It is all very well for a man to have a "guid conceit" of himself, but he should not exhibit it too often.

* * *

One would never imagine that life was sweet to storekeepers who keep open from early morn till late eve.

* * *

Business is like fishing: In order to success in it one needs good bait and much patience and perseverance.

* * *

A Brooklyn, N. Y., judge holds that a husband is liable for the debts of his wife contracted before as well as after marriage. This raises hope in the breasts of some business men.

* * *

People appear to have "soured" on sugar, but hope, sweet hope, is perched on the shoulders of the refiners.

* * *

Watching what your competitor in business is doing is little or no benefit to you. Keep your eye on your compass.

* * *

People who oppose the duty on monuments will probably concede that it is the duty of "those left behind" to erect monuments.

* * *

Grocers who discriminate not in giving credit are green grocers as well as those who have earned the appellation by selling vegetables.

* * *

The young clerk whose wealth is composed of ideas will make a better mark in the world than he who is rich in gold and barren in ideas.

* * *

People who cannot work because the weather is too hot are usually the ones who cannot work hard enough in winter to keep themselves warm.

* * *

Raised the spirits of the farmers and business men of the country did the rain which dampened the spirits of the Orangemen on the Twelfth.

* * *

Responsibility for money wasted in advertising rests largely upon the shoulders of the advertiser: If the advertisement is unattractive how can it be expected to attract customers?

* * *

A new enemy to department stores has arisen in the United States. The manufacturers of smoking tobacco, for some reason or other, have a grudge against the department stores and are exhibiting it by giving as premiums, boots and shoes, clothing, fire-arms, furniture, and other articles carried by these big concerns. "Little fleas have smaller fleas upon their backs to bite 'em."

* * *

A big department store in Chicago named "The Leader" has failed. Some merchants are no doubt hoping that it is leading where other department stores will follow.

* * *

Canada has plenty of men in Parliament who are ready, if not able, to discuss religious matters, but very few who are either able or willing to debate business matters.

* * *

If, during the recent embroglio in the Ottawa Cabinet, unbusiness-like men had been cleaned out and business-like men put in their places, what a blessing it would have been for the country!

* * *

Lacking in astuteness are the politicians who rule at Ottawa. Were it otherwise, even ordinary forethought would induce them to throw a legislative crumb once in a while to the business interests of the country.

* * *

Men who manipulate the markets to squeeze money from other people's pockets are called speculators. Boys who pick coppers from tills are called thieves. Perhaps some day the law will place both in the same category. It will be a good thing for legitimate business when it does.

* * *

If there is as strong a representation of the business element in the next Parliament of Great Britain as there now promises to be of Government supporters, what a fortunate thing it will be for the trade and commerce of the Mother Land!

* * *

"Choice Groceries, Living Profits and Polite Service" are the words that grace the advertisement of a Virginia grocer. "Living Profits" is somewhat unique. It is usually "Below Cost." The bravery of that Virginia grocer entitles him to a monument.

MR. J. B. E. PORIER.

A YOUNG man of rather advanced ideas as to the calling of a clerk is John Baptiste Eustache Porier, the president of the Retail Grocers' Clerks' Association, of Montreal. It was mainly through his efforts that the association was organized; and from the active interest he has taken the members have insisted on his presidency over its affairs since the day it was called into existence.

Speaking on the subject to THE CANADIAN GROCER, Mr. Porier said that he believed the time had come when the grocers' clerk should be required to serve a long apprenticeship, and thus learn his business thoroughly. He must do so in the older countries, where not only have young men to bind themselves to spend a term of years behind the counter, but many of them pay a premium for the privilege of serving in and learning the business with the leading retail houses. At the end of this period these men are capable of taking hold of any department in a large retail groceryhouse. They are worth and get good salaries. Instead of looking forward to starting business on their own account, they prefer to make themselves so useful to their employer that they will not only receive good salaries, but possibly a junior partnership, and in time, perhaps, succeed to the entire business.

There is a great deal in what Mr. Porier says. By far the greater number of men who are in business to-day in Canada would be much better off had they remained with their first employer and advanced in this way. There are far too many men in business in Canada to-day. They are working hard—very hard, indeed—to get and hold a business, and are making a much smaller return for the amount of worry, wear and tear on their constitution than if they had been content to remain as clerks with good houses on good salaries.

Mr. Porier's great aim is, therefore, to elevate the position of the clerk. With fewer of them opening new stores on their own account there will be less competition and more business will be done by the concerns already in existence, and they will thus be able to pay good clerks higher salaries and better salaries than the majority of them would average during a lifetime carrying on business on their own account.

Working along these lines he has been foremost among those who advocate early closing in order that clerks may have their evenings to themselves for social enjoyment and to enable them to improve themselves by attending the instruction classes which it is proposed to inaugurate as soon as the association has secured permanent quarters.

Mr. Porier has a good general education, and a varied practical experience. He comes from St. John's, P.Q., where he was born 35 years ago. He went to school there and in the States. He began his business career with Fabian Monet, St. John's, in his grocery in 1874, and afterwards was in a drug house. Coming to the city he spent three years at Montreal college and then continued his apprenticeship at the grocery business with J. D. White, Sherbrooke street. At the end of his service there he had some experience as a canvasser for life insurance which gave him a pretty thorough knowledge of human nature. He has been, and is now, head clerk and buyer for J. H. E. Davis, St. Catherine street.

BROWN & POLSON'S CORNFLOUR.

John A. Robertson, Board of Trade building, Montreal, who was recently appointed sole Canadian agent for Brown & Polson, the British cornflour manufacturers, has completed his arrangements for supplying the trade. Stock is now carried by the following houses:

Caverhill, Hughes & Co Montreal.
G. Childs & Co
Davidson & Hay Toronto.
Eby, Blain Co
Macpherson, Glassco & Co. Hamilton.
Balfour & Co.

Other jobbers will, no doubt, add these goods to their stock from time to time.

FIRE INSURANCE IN WINNIPEG.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce: Companies are advised by the agents at Winnipeg, Man., that local business there is badly demoralized, especially in the line of grain insurance. Notwithstanding the rules of the local association governing the payment of commissions on grain the Sun gave notice that it would in the future follow its own bent, but when the Phenix of Brooklyn instructed its agents to proceed upon the same lines the Sun receded from its position. It is an open secret, however, that the Sun and Scottish Union have been paying commissions in violation of the Board rules, and this has led to a notice being served by the Western Assurance, Phoenix of London, and British America, that they will no longer be bound on grain rules. This action, however, will not affect the terminal business at Fort William, where there appears to be no trouble. The Canadian Fire Insurance Company, which was recently organized at Winnipeg, with a capital of $300,000, is coming to be no small factor in the business, and notwithstanding the action of the Board prohibiting interchange of business by agents it is writing a large volume of premiums through such channels. The Provincial Government has notified all of the regular agents that hereafter it will renew no Government risks unless accepted without the increase imposed for taxes, and considerable of this class is going to the new Canadian.

THE MACKEREL CATCH.

ADVICES from all the principal mackerel fishing centres on both sides of the Atlantic are to the effect that the catch has never been so light at this time of the year, nor the percentage of salted fish so small. French salt mackerel, which, while not playing an important part in supplying the ever-increasing requirements of the United States, is the first of the foreign product to arrive here, has not yet appeared in the local market, although receipts were expected over a fortnight since. New Irish mackerel is looked for within a day or two, but there is not much on the way, and, judging by recent reports concerning the Irish fishery, comparatively little stock of that description can be expected here for some time to come. Late reports from Norway are of a light catch, and as the quality of the fish was too poor for salting, they were being shipped fresh on ice to England and Germany.

Nova Scotia advices state that the spring catch of mackerel is smaller than in many years past, and on the New England coast the results of the fishing until very recently are said to be extremely disappointing. Now, from Gloucester comes the report that the fleet is taking advantage of an improvement in the weather, and are all off shore, with the exception of one or two boats, which have returned with fares indicating that the fish are being taken in larger numbers.

There seems to be no doubt that mackerel are plentiful on the New England coast, but they appear to be wild, for as soon as a school is approached, the fish seek deep water. This has revived the theory advanced last year, and to some extent previously, that seining has made the fish wily. Thus it is sought to account for the light catches, while there seems to be no question that the fish are no scarcer on this coast than in past years, when large hauls by hook and line were common. The Cape Shore fishing has been particularly poor this year, the catch of the Portland fleet being but 6,000 barrels up to the end of June, as against 26,000 barrels to the same time in 1894.

The failure of the ordinary sources of supply to the present time to furnish a sufficient quantity of mackerel to cover the needs of the consuming trade of this country is causing the larger handlers to look about for new depots upon which they may draw if those heretofore relied upon do not furnish as much as may be needed. Recently a Boston firm, which is credited with being a pioneer in the opening up of new sources of supply, has made an experimental importation from Japan, and this may be the beginning of a regular movement of salted mackerel from Japan to the United States.

It may not, however, be necessary to depend either upon that country or any other, as the season is now at hand when the best catches of mackerel are usually made on our own coast, and if the reports of plenty of fish are true, it is possible that during the next two months the scarcity now prevailing may be more than made up.—N.Y. WHAT IS THE COST OF GOODS?

This question is one of recognized importance and yet one to which many merchants give too little attention, as they are in the habit of considering the goods as costing the invoice price, with possibly freight added. The following letter, in which the subject is discussed by a correspondent a contemporary, is deserving of careful consideration:

This subject should interest all hardware merchants. Within the observation of the writer it is the custom to add a certain per cent. to cover freight and drayage. Why stop after covering this element of loss when there are other equally as important factors in determining the actual cost of goods? Clerk hire, insurance, taxes, rent, interest, heating, light and sundry other expenses must be covered before there is any profit to gladden the heart of the merchant at his annual inventory.

The intention, no doubt, is to add a sufficient margin to the marked cost to cover these expenses. Herein we think is the great mistake. If only the freight and drayage are added to the wholesale price, any addition made to constitute a profit is partly used up by the expenses of doing business. We think the cost can be determined by observing for several years the relation or ratio between the volume of business and gross expenses of every character incurred in transacting the same. Perchance there might be an unusually good year in which 50 per cent. more sales might be made with small additional expense. That would be good luck, but again there are the "off years" which must be taken into account.

If it was the general custom among merchants, in marking the cost price of their goods, to add enough to the wholesale price to constitute a safe cost price which would include all the elements which go to make up the cost, competition would not be ruinous. No level headed merchant desires to sell below cost, but may frequently wonder why, after a fairly good year's business, the closing of the ledger reveals a loss or diminutive profit.

The firm of which the writer is a member, have used for several years a system of marking cost price on goods which, if the topic is interesting to the trade, we may write up in a future issue.

ONTARIO AND NOVA SCOTIA CROPS.

W. B. Rankin, of Ephraim Erb & Co., Halifax, was in Montreal this week. He has spent about six weeks among the Ontario mills, and was through the province north and west, looking at the crops. He says hay is very poor, but he speaks much more favorably of grain than many of the newspaper reports. He believes some districts will be below the average, while in others the recent rains will ensure good crops. Fruits in many places will be light.

He had a letter from Mr. Erb, who predicts excellent crops in the Maritime Provinces.

Mr. Rankin secured several new milling agencies in the west.

The market for municipal bonds appears to be gathering strength. One financier informs me that there have been sales as high as 3½ per cent.

THE OUTLOOK.

IT IS a premise undoubtedly well taken that the extent to which Canada shall be influenced by the returning wave of prosperity depends upon the crops of the country. Rapidly as she has developed in a manufacturing sense, Canada is still an agricultural country. And it is only natural to look for the prosperity of the Dominion in the condition of the agricultural industry.

Viewing it therefore from this vantage ground, what do we see?

A couple of months ago, when prices were appreciating and the crop reports were roseate, nearly everybody, barring the pessimist, was in high glee. But if it as a rule takes a great deal to buoy up our feelings, it does not take much to pull them down again. And many of those in Ontario whose expectations a short time ago were up to blood or even fever heat, are now hovering near the freezing point. The frosts came and nipped the buds, the drouth followed and deterred the growth, and now these people are questioning whether the better times are coming, after all.

The trouble with these people is that they are in the first place too easily disquieted, and in the second place they judge the broad Dominion by the narrow environment in which they dwell. We cannot judge our neighbor's garden by our own; nor can we tell what the crops are like in the Dominion by the conditions in our own locality.

If any Ontario man is feeling a little under the weather because he deems that the crop conditions are disappointing, he will find much that will serve as an antidote if he chooses to investigate.

Take the Northwest. Never in the history of the country were the crop prospects as good as they are there to-day. The wheat is unusually well advanced, while to accommodate the crop between forty and fifty new elevators are in course of erection in Manitoba. In addition to the crop outlook, there is a healthy development going on of the dairying and stock-raising industries, all of which means so much more "corn in Egypt." In Quebec the crop outlook is much better than it was a year ago, grain being in excellent condition, while the yield of hay is heavy. Down through the Maritime Provinces the crop conditions, again, are found to be favorable. Turning to Ontario, we find reports from a number of places to the effect that damage by frost and drouth has been much exaggerated. Some of the small fruits have doubtless suffered much from the causes assigned, but if the crops of these were small, the prices obtained for what was marketable was large. Then currants, grapes, and the late varieties of apples, are promising fair to good. There is no question regarding the shortage of hay, but wheat is, on the whole, a fair crop, though short in the straw, and stands to yield much more per bushel than did last year's crop.

Turning from the crops one also finds further food for satisfaction in the mining, lumbering, and manufacturing industries, in the trade returns, in the clearing house figures, and in the upward tendency of values.

What we need to be is careful. That is what the conditions suggest; alarm they do not savor of.

WILL SUGAR ADVANCE?

ADVICES to sugar brokers and commission men toward the close of last week intimated that there was more activity in the raw sugar market at New York; and, what was specially interesting to Canadian sugar consumers, that our refiners had been feeling the market there, evidently with the idea of purchasing.

The tone on raw sugars is bullish, and advices indicate that buyers show more desire to negotiate. For this reason some people argue that an advance in the first cost of Canadian refined is not at all improbable when the usual midsummer demand makes itself felt in earnest.

It has already given symptoms in this direction during the past ten days, and it will be interesting to see whether the views of the optimists will be verified.

In the meantime it may be noted that though supplies in second and third hands appear inexhaustible, there are signs that they are becoming reduced, as the refiners have not only experienced a better demand for yellows, but for granulated as well during the past few days.

As an illustration, even allowing for the sugar duty, that Canadian sugar consumers have not much to complain of, it may be remarked that refiners' price for standard granulated in New York is 4½¢. per lb., or almost ¼¢. per lb. more than our Canadian refiners are asking.

The following, from Willett & Gray's Statistical, is interesting:

"The latest reports from the growing Louisiana crop are that it will fall 10 to 20 per cent. short of the last crop. The Cuba crop prospects are in no respect improving, and even lower estimates are coming in letters from the island than our own estimate of 600,000 tons. In the beet root crop no special news is at hand, but our correspondence indicates a shortage of 700,000 tons, which with bad weather might be increased to 1,000,000 tons.

"Such expectations as the above for small crops of cane and beet next season would have started an upward movement of prices before now were it not that the visible surplus in Europe is a constant pressure until finally disposed of. This may take until September, and no special improvement may come until then. Beets are now 6d. above last month, and next crop deliveries in October are another 6d. dearer than now. It is not likely that this gain will be again lost in a decline. It does not require an expert to see that considerably higher prices must rule for sugar for the twelve months October, 1895, to October, 1896. Speculative Europe may start the movement at any time or may delay it until later, but it must come in the end.

GONE OVER TO THE PATRONS.

LESSONS are not always heeded. Time and again has THE CANADIAN GROCER pointed out the fallacy of merchants undertaking to do business on the conditions stipulated by the Patrons of Industry in order to secure the trade of the members of this organization. Supplementary to what we have said is the evidence adduced by the failure of those who have entered into the compact.

And yet merchants there are who are still willing to subscribe to the conditions for doing trade that the Patrons of Industry have set up. Among the latest to do so is a firm of general merchants doing business at Granby, Que. This firm, according to Bradstreet's, is the possessor of a fair capital and good credit. It is a pity it is not so well enriched with good judgment. The basis on which this firm has agreed to supply goods to Patron customers is:

All heavy goods and unbroken parcels, 5 per cent.
Groceries and shop goods, 10 per cent.
Dry goods, etc., 15 per cent.

Here is an all-round profit of 10 per cent. How the firm is to manage to make both ends meet at such a rate is outside our ken. Some will no doubt contend that they cannot. Others have tried, and failed; and some of them have had a better margin to work upon, too. Wholesalers are just as keen as any class of merchants for business, but, knowing the risks that are entailed by selling merchandise on the basis of profits laid down by the Patrons, frequently deny them further credit the moment they are aware that the alliance has been made.

Were there no ruins of Patron storekeepers on the way to stand out as warnings, it is obvious to every business man that a merchant cannot sell his goods at an advance of 10 per cent. on the invoice price of his goods and pay 100 cents on the dollar. It is scarcely more possible than to draw blood from a stone.

Of course, there are a variety of ways by which, through the practice of deceit and dishonesty, a merchant may be able to make a living profit—yes, and a handsome one—out of his alliance with the Patrons.

False invoices is one favorite and well-worn method. Light weight or short measure is another. We know of one Patron storekeeper who always stuck on an exorbitant profit where and whenever he thought it would pass muster, and who when asked to produce his invoice would, knowing his customer, pick up an invoice, perhaps of a different line of goods from that which he was selling, but which contained figures approximate to that which he was asking, remarking as he hurriedly passed the document before the customer's eyes, "There, you see, I'm actually giving it to you below what I should." "To most of those people," he subsequently remarked, "an invoice is an enigma, and it is no trick to fool them."

Those catering to Patron trade in this way may deaden any pricks of conscience they may have by pleading that they are only fighting the devil with fire. True as that may be, dishonesty is not made honest by it.

Country merchants should realize one thing: the Patron organization is a dying concern. And the sooner legitimate business men cease supplying such props as the Granby firm has just put in position, the sooner will its final collapse take place, at least as far as its meddling with storekeepers is concerned.

CURRENTS IN GREECE.

Since our last we are in possession of further information regarding the movement in Greece, having for its object the alleviation of the depression among the currant growers which has obtained during the past two seasons, and promises to continue for at least another season unless something intervenes to prevent it.

It is now thought that the crop will not be less than 200,000 tons. This means 30,000 tons more than a year ago, which was more than the growers could then dispose of, and about 40,000 tons more than will be ordinarily required this year. It is thus apparent that the condition of the grower is aggravated rather than otherwise.

According to the latest advices to hand, the proposition is for the Government to go into the currant business. In other words, that it shall take 25 per cent. of the crop of each grower, paying for the same a special price. This stock is subsequently to be turned over to distillers at a special rate, and arrangements made as to the payment of the tax on the alcohol derived from same. By this means it is, of course, hoped to so reduce the surplus stocks that the growers will get better prices than they have during the past couple of years.

It is to be hoped that if the proposition becomes law we shall not see in currants a repetition of what was the experience of the United States Government with silver, when it went into the market as a buyer of a quantity of the white metal monthly.

COMMERCIAL EDUCATION.

At its last meeting The Montreal Chamber de Commerce discussed again the question of commercial education in Quebec Province, and the best means of securing a similar programme of instruction on the subject amongst the various colleges. The committee of the Chambre dealing with the matter has for chairman M. Bienvenu, assistant general manager of La Banque Jacques Cartier, and he is earnestly and ably promoting the new plan.

The Chambre endorsed the suggestion of the committee that a conference of the heads of all colleges in the province having a commercial course be held in Montreal July 29. It will probably last three days and be quite an important gathering. M. Bienvenu is a college man himself and understands thoroughly the best means of increasing the efficiency of commercial training.

The idea is to have the course cover bookkeeping, and in addition practical training in commercial affairs. The various institutions might be asked to give their students certificates of attendance, and, if the Council of Public Instruction approved, a board of examiners, consisting of representative merchants, financiers, etc., could be chosen to grant diplomas.

The Chambre de Commerce, through its president, H. Laporte, and leading members, is strongly in favor of enlarging the scope of commercial training, and will gladly grant prizes and scholarships to the competing students. The wholesale trade will be expected to co-operate in the programme by giving the preference, in making appointments to their staffs, to the successful candidates of this commercial course.

THE FRENCH TREATY IN THE HOUSE.

Parliament has passed the Act relating to the French Treaty. The Treaty has been in existence, though not in force, for about two years, and the present Act is intended to remove all difficulties in the way of its being finally proclaimed.

When Lord Dufferin and Sir Charles Tupper negotiated the Treaty they informed the French Government, so Hon. Mr. Foster announced at Ottawa the other day, that any concessions in tariff rates made by Canada to France would also have to be extended to the British Empire, and to any foreign countries with whom Great Britain had "most favored nation" treaties.

The Treaty took some time to get through both branches of the French Parliament, and has since been awaiting action by Canada. This action was called for by the British authorities, who pointed out that the clauses of the Treaty contained no stipulation that the concessions to France would also be granted to the countries which have given Britain most favored nation treaties. The present Act, therefore, provides in distinct terms that these countries, as well as Great Britain and the other colonies, share in the concessions made to France.

The countries possessing these arrangements with Great Britain include Argentina, Austria, Belgium, Bolivia, Chili, Columbia, Costa Rica, Germany, Muscat, Russia, Salvador, Sweden & Norway, Uruguay, etc., and it is a question whether France will care to go on with it when she finds that nothing like exclusive privileges are granted her under the Treaty. But Mr. Foster declares she knew all about this when the agreement was signed. Anyway, ratifications can now be exchanged at once and the Treaty go into force in time for the autumn trade. The Premier, it is said, is no admirer of the Treaty.

THE FEAR OF RAW MILK.

THE GROCER'S campaign of enlightenment on the milk question is having great effect. Several daily papers have taken it up. One dairy in Montreal is giving raw milk the go-by and advertising sterilized milk. The medical profession are becoming more outspoken on the subject, and Prof. Adami, of McGill University, one of the ablest medical authorities in Canada, said in a recent lecture: "That he himself had little or no doubt that the infantile diarrhoea, for which Montreal was notorious, was due to the use of old milk crowded with bacteria." This applies equally to all large towns where cows cannot be kept from disease. But the scientific investigations go farther than the doctors, for they have shown that animals in villages and rural parts are just as liable to be diseased as those in cities. Cow's milk fresh contains disease germs in an immense proportion of cases; the germs communicate tuberculosis, or consumption; consumption means death to child or adult. That is the whole matter in a nutshell.

The sterilized milk is perfectly free from disease germs, and so is condensed milk. The condensed milk, however, has the advantage of being more convenient to handle, and in this form the trade find it easier to push. When medical authorities once declare themselves boldly and unanimously on this subject the demand for condensed milk must become very large, and grocers, who find it a profitable article, can do much to push its sale.

TRADE WITH FRANCE.

CANADA has a good Treaty with France. THE CANADIAN GROCER said so when the details were first published. Many people did not think so. At least that is what they said. They tried to belittle Sir Charles Tupper's arrangements. It looked at one time as if the Cabinet would not agree to it. Some of the members—and especially one who is very prominent to-day—were jealous. But it had to go through, for Sir Charles said so and it went. Sir Charles is an able statesman; most members of the Dominion Cabinet are politicians—ward politicians.

The Montreal Chambre de Commerce appointed a special committee to carefully consider the Treaty. Their report—an excellent one—we published some time ago. It showed clearly that Sir Charles had secured decided advantages for us in the French markets.

The United States Government has been making special inquiries as to trade openings in France. Their consuls in every part of France have recently reported. Secretary Morton says he is much gratified with the unanimity with which our consuls in France agree that there is an unexplored field in that country for large quantities of American products. Mr. Wiley, one of these consuls, explains how best to introduce the goods. He says the proper way—in fact, the only way—for American producers to market their products in France, is to send over a salesman or representative, or to select in France itself a salesman to sell their goods. It is almost useless to write to retail dealers. The French are reluctant to accept anything that is new, and products of every description must in a certain measure be forced upon them. Writing on food products, he says: "I doubt if the sales of American grain can be increased here beyond the demand, because the French naturally prefer to consume their own products; but I do believe that there is a market for cheese, canned meats, ham, bacon, lard, canned and dried fruits, and certain seeds. Money must necessarily be spent in advertising and introducing any one of these articles.

"Fruits and vegetables cost as much as in large cities in the States, but they can be preserved more cheaply than in America because labor is cheaper. Fruits preserved in sugar, however, are somewhat high in price, for the reason that sugar itself, from the fact of its paying a high internal revenue duty, is dear. As for preserves or canned fish, meats, etc., there has been for a long time past, there still is, and there will continue to be, a market for certain American products. Canned salmon and lobster are sold here in large quantities and are very much appreciated, yet I believe that a still larger business can be done in that direction."

United States Consul Hall, of Nice, is rather doubtful as to whether the United States can compete with France in the manufacture of cheese, but in this connection he furnishes some very interesting information regarding the derivation and qualities of the leading varieties of French cheese.

HOLDING BACK JUNE CHEESE.

DURING the past fortnight—that is, since the 1st of the present month—there has been a marked difference of opinion between buyers and sellers in cheese.

In the period mentioned the offerings of new cheese at primary markets has approximated 100,000 boxes, and the sales, as shown by the records of the different boards, have only amounted to about 10,000 boxes.

Of course, some of the cheese may have been sold privately, but; allowing for these private transactions, it is safe to assume that the factorymen are holding back fully nine-tenths of the cheese they have offered on the different boards in Canada and northern New York during the past two weeks. The make in the latter section is here combined with that of Canada, because it is practically all handled by Montreal exporters. The factorymen, therefore, have practically all their last half of June make on hand; in fact, in some sections they have the entire make of the month yet to sell.

The wisdom of holding back this large quantity of cheese is questionable. If the Englishmen were in a position to pay the $\frac{1}{2}$ to 1c. more per pound than has been asked by salesmen on this side, it is natural to suppose that they would have done so before this, for present prices are almost 2c. per pound lower than the figures ruling at the corresponding period last year. In a word, it has been a standard axiom with the trade that June cheese was a purchase at a cost of 8c. This year apparently it is not, and there must be some pretty good reasons to prevent the Britishers from taking hold.

The factorymen are holding back, no doubt, in the belief that the drought is seriously affecting the make, and that the shipments of cheese from this continent fall short of last year by over 200,000 boxes.

Both these arguments may be sound, but it is a question whether there are not others equally potent to place against them. For instance, is it not natural to suppose that with this large shortage in imports of Canadian and American cheese England must have had other supplies? As a matter of fact, she had, having not only a large stock of old Canadian, but a good supply of New Zealand and Australian as well, and it is a question whether this old cheese has been thoroughly absorbed yet. This is the real reason why the low price of the June make this summer has not tempted a freer demand. It would be well, therefore, for the factorymen to carefully consider the wisdom of allowing a large accumulation of cheese to gather in first hands on this side so early in the season.

One thing is certain: Last week they could have sold at 8c., and now a fraction under that figure is the general bid.

MONEY AND STOCKS.

PRACTICALLY the only thing of interest in financial circles is the suspension of payment by the Banque du Peuple, Montreal. The Banking Act allows a bank to suspend payment for 90 days pending an investigation, and the president of the bank has expressed the hope that at the expiration of this time his institution will be able to resume business. Banque du Peuple is one of the leading banks of the province of Quebec. Its paid-up capital is $1,200,000, and reserve fund $600,000. It is expected all the depositors will be paid in full, and, of course, holders of the bank's bills will suffer no inconvenience, their redemption at par being guaranteed by the fund held by the Dominion Government. Confidence in the bank has not been strong for some weeks, and, although the Bank of Montreal advanced the institution $1,200,000 a week or so ago, the amount was unequal to the task of preventing the suspension. "The powers that be—that is, the bulls—," remarked a financial man to me, "are, I think, powerful enough to prevent the failure having any appreciable effect on the market, but what the ultimate result will be is difficult to say. Personally I think it will affect the market."

A very dull period has set in on the Toronto Stock Exchange. "It is customary, of course, during the months of July and August for dullness to obtain," remarked a broker, "but the present quietude is almost unprecedented."

The market has taken a downward turn in Cable and Postal Telegraph, the former declining $2\frac{1}{4}$ c. and the latter $1\frac{3}{4}$ c. "The settling of loans through the failure of Banque du Peuple is one of the causes assigned for this," was the explanation one authority gave me.

A tendency to weakness has developed in insurance stocks during the past week.

Capitalists are evidently getting tired at Toronto's dilly-dallying policy regarding the bonds she proposes to put on the market. Lloyds' Bank in London, Eng., which has hitherto been a sort of financial agent for Toronto in the world's metropolis, has declined to open the tenders for these new bonds.

Industrial stocks, with Chicago Gas leading, have been weaker during the past few days on the New York market. Standard railway shares have been fairly steady. A feature of the railway situation in the United States is the fact that in the past half year 65 prominent railway stocks have increased in market value 10 per cent., or about $215,000,000 in all.

ARGUROS.

CONCERNING RETAILERS.

KELLY & MARSHALL, hardware merchants, Orangeville, have bought the store lately occupied by Stewart, Hewat & Co., refitting the same.

A. Young, of Seaforth, has had his store nicely painted and decorated.

M. Jordan, grocer, Seaforth, has sold out to H. Robb, of the same town.

J. M. Irwin, of Clinton, is in Great Britain, enjoying a respite from business.

T. S. Ford, of Mitchell, reports business fair. He anticipates a good fall trade.

Walsh Bros., grocers, Stratford, received a large shipment of starch the other day.

B. A. Belyea, of Southampton, has decorated and otherwise improved his store.

J. Shields, general merchant, Mono Road, has sold out to J. Graydon, late of Toronto.

Erb Bros., general merchants, Preston, have opened up a general business at Lion's Head.

J. S. Leighton, general merchant, Orangeville, has sold out, and purposes moving to Toronto.

L. Titmus, of Mildmay, has sold out to Mr. Shefter, of Bellemore, who will continue the business.

A. Wenger, of Ayton, the well-known general merchant and creamery man, is understood to be experiencing a brisk demand for his pound prints, difficulty being experienced in satisfying it.

R. E. Moore has succeeded to the business of Moore & Van Dusen, general merchants, Lion's Head.

Dooley & Scanlan, Guelph, have refitted their store, and find business exceeding their anticipations.

J. W. Sanderson, general merchant, Wroxeter, has sold out to W. C. Hazlewood, of the same place.

Peers & White have purchased the grocery stock of J. H. Walker, Woodstock, and will carry on the business.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, of Brussels, are holidaying in the Old Country. They will be away a couple of months.

A. E. Harper, general merchant, Bolton, has sold out to J. Scott, Toronto. Mr. Scott has bought the building and takes possession in August.

St. George Price, late of the firm of Price & Son, grocers, Goderich, has launched into business on his own account. I am informed that he will shortly take in a partner, and a life partner, by the way.

M. Corrigan, of Lucknow, made extensive preparations for catering to the 12th of July trade, and his efforts were not unrewarded. "So busy in fact was he," remarked a traveler, "that he had to forego the privilege of walking in the procession."

William Anderson, son of P. Anderson, of the "Marvelous Tea Store," Guelph, has been made an officer in the local volunteer corps. William deserves his honors.

CHAS. WHITLAW DEAD.

Chas. Whitlaw, one of the most prominent citizens of Paris, Ont., departed this life on July 13. For fifty years back Mr. Whitlaw has been one of the most active business men in western Ontario, being interested in many various lines of trade. Up to the time of his death he was the senior partner of the firm of Whitlaw, Baird & Co., of which H. N. Baird, ex president of the Toronto Board of Trade, is also a partner.

PRICE OF FRENCH PLUMS.

A correspondent of The Grocers' Journal, London, under date of June 22, thus writes regarding the price of French plums:

We are informed on the authority of James Violet, Bird & Co.—who are in the best possible position for getting information—that although there may be a fair crop of plums and prunes, yet there will not be a sufficiency of either to keep prices at their present low range; and this view seems to be shared by a great number of firms in Bordeaux—so much so that they are buyers, and not sellers, except at considerably advanced prices.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, July 18, 1895.

GROCERIES.

NOTHING particularly striking has developed during the week. Trade, if anything, is probably a little better than it was a week ago. Outside sugar, however, there is not much cause for complaint in regard to volume of business. Canned goods are strong and in fairly good demand in spite of the higher prices obtaining. In foreign dried fruits there is still a good turnover for the season at steady prices. The demand for sugar is no worse than it was. If anything, it is better, although but slightly so. New season's Rio coffees have arrived and they are showing excellent quality. Teas are in fair demand for the season. Payments are on the whole fair.

CANNED GOODS.

The strength which has characterized the market during the last few weeks still obtains. Tomatoes, peas and corn are quoted much as before, but they are firmer at figures quoted. Peas appear to be practically cleaned out of the market. Peaches are scarce and packers who have any are holding for higher prices. Since the advance took place people have not yet begun to buy vegetables freely, although there is still on the whole a fairly good turnover. Demand on spot for canned salmon is very active. While stocks of sockeye are running very low there are plenty of cohoes to be had. Offerings are firm at from $4.50 to $4.75 per case on the Coast for good red fish, but there is not much disposition on the part of wholesalers to buy at these figures. Not that they have not faith in the market, but the truth is, they are not disposed to speculate.

We hear of some futures being offered by wholesalers. Rumor gives some rather low figures, in view of the present condition of the market, for futures, but the only authentic quotation we have been able to get on sockeye fish is $1.45. We quote: Tomatoes, 85 to 90c. for choice; corn, 80 to 85c.; peas, 85c. for ordinary; sifted, 90c. to $1; extra sifted, $1.40; peaches, $2.75 to $3 for 3's, $1.85 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.90 to $2.10; apples, 3's, 90c to $1, gallons, $2.15 to $2.25, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.35 to $1.50, in tall tins, and $1.55 to $1.60, in flat tins; do., Cohoes, $1.05 to $1.10; do. "Horseshoe" brand, $1.50 to $1.60; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins. Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.65 to $1.75; 2's, $2.65 to $2.75; 6's, $8 to $8.25; 14's, $18 to $19. Chicago canned beef, 1's, $1.75 per dozen; 2's, $2.85. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEE.

New season's green Rio coffee arrived on the market this week. The sample is excellent, and even better than usual. There are plenty of the lower grades of old season's coffee to be had, but for really fine quality there are none to be had outside the new crop. We quote green in bags: Rio (new season), 19½ to 21½c.; East Indian 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 20 to 22½c.; Java, 28 to 33c.; Mocha, 30 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

RICE.

Business remains much as before, both in regard to business and prices. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5½c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 3¾ to 5½c.

SPICES.

Nothing specially new has developed. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 22 to 28c. per lb.

NUTS.

Advices received this week from Marseilles state that the market will be cheap on all kinds of almonds. Locally there is nothing new to report. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

Although the dulness is not, perhaps, so pronounced as it was a week ago, yet the market is dull enough still. An odd carload lot has changed hands during the week, but business in this class of orders is few and far between. The refineries, however, appear to be still unconcerned, and continue to stand out for the old figures. We quote prices: Granulated, No. 1, 4¼ to 4½c.; do., No. 2, 3½ to 4½c.; yellows, 3¼ to 3½c.; Demerara, 3½c.

N.Y. Journal of Commerce, Tuesday: "Importers continue to look upon the general promises for sugars as very strong. The conditions of the moment are not such as to permit sellers commanding pronounced advantage, but the whole tendency of affairs is believed to be favorable for drawing demand closer and closer to the limit of supplies, with each move in that direction calculated upon to infuse an additional measure of strength into values. The foreign news continues about steady, and buyers seem to have been found for such parcels as importers were ready to put upon the market."

Brooms . . .

At a meeting of the Broom-makers' Union in Detroit, Mich., on 7th May, S. T. Penna, James Whiting and P. Reichert were appointed to do nothing but fight the sale of the Peninsular Broom Company's patent brooms, says The Detroit Journal.

SYRUPS.

There is a little better enquiry both for bright and dark syrups, but the market is naturally not attracting much attention at this season. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

Dull and unchanged. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 30 to 32c.; half-barrels, 33½ to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 37c.

TEAS.

The demand is improving a little for teas generally, and for mediums particularly. The feeling in Ceylon teas is that the cheap teas will be lower, but the better grades are firm. Medium grade Japans are meeting with a better enquiry at from about 18c. upward. A feature of the market is the turnover of low grade teas. These were difficult to get a few weeks ago, and now that they are more plentiful and at a more reasonable price people are taking them more freely. China teas, either black or green, are not much wanted. We quote ruling prices to retailers as follows: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

Demand for Valencia raisins keeps up well, but there is nothing worthy of note beyond this. We quote: Offstalk, 80 to 90c. per box; fine off-stalk, 4 to 4½c.; selected, 5½ to 6c.; layers, 4½ to 5½c.

Currants show increased firmness in the primary markets. During the week further orders have been placed by local merchants for importation from Patras. We quote as before: Filatras, half-barrels, 4 to 4½c., barrels, 4¼c.; fine Filatras, half-bbls., 4¾c., barrels, 4¾c.; Patras, 5½c., in cases; Casalinas, 4½ to 5¾c.; Vostizzis, 6½ to 7c. in cases and half-cases.

Prunes are still going out well, although the demand is now beginning to drop off. We quote: "Sphinx"—"U," 110 to 115 to half kilo, 4¾ to 5c. per lb.; "C," 85 to 90 to half kilo, 6½c. per lb.; "B," 80 to 85 to half kilo, 6½ to 7¼c. per lb.; "Atlas"—"D," 110 to 115 to half kilo, 4¾ to 5c. per lb.; "Unicorn," 5 to 5½c.; Bordeaux prunes, 4½ to 6½c.

Sultana raisins are in moderate demand at 6½ to 7c.

Figs are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, 4¼ to 4½c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

Dates are quiet and unchanged at from 4¼c. up.

An advance of 1c. per lb. is announced in the price of California evaporated apricots. The demand for California evaporated fruit is keeping up surprisingly well. We quote: Apricots and peaches, 12 to 13c. per lb.; nectarines, 13c.; pitted plums, 12 to 12½c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

With a little improvement in the export demand, the butter market continues very firm, exhibiting a slight advancing tendency. As far as can be learned the stocks throughout Ontario are not large at present. The old stuff has been pretty well cleaned up, and the dry weather has, to a great extent, decreased the production of new. Taking all things into consideration, therefore, some dealers are inclined to think that present prices will be maintained throughout the season. We do not, however, go back on our former advice to general storekeepers to market their butter promptly. We quote present prices: Old summer dairy and store packed, 7 to 9c.; fresh prints, 15 to 16c.; fresh tubs, 14 to 15c.; Fresh creamery—Tubs, 17 to 18c.; pound prints, 18 to 19c.

CHEESE—Continues to grow weaker, new Canadian having declined from ¼ to ½c. per lb. during the week. August and September makes of Canadian sell for 10 to 10½c. New Canadian cheese are quoted at 8¼ and 8½c. per lb. f.o.b. at point of shipment, which means 8½c. and 9c. at Toronto.

GREEN FRUIT.

Business continues rather brisk, large quantities of foreign, and a considerable deal of domestic fruit being disposed of in this market daily. Oranges and lemons remain unaltered in price, although Messina oranges are almost out of the market. Bananas and water melons are both easier, as also new apples. Small Canadian fruit is rather scarce, although the recent rainfalls in the Niagara district have tended to increase the receipts of raspberries. We quote prices: Messina lemons, 300's, 360's, and 420's, $4.50 to $5. Oranges—Messinas, 80's and 100's, $2.25 to $2.50; boxes, 160's, 200's and 300's, $4 to $4.50; California seedlings, $3.50 to $4. Bananas, $1 to $1.75; cocoanuts, $4.50 a sack; cucumbers, Canadian, in barrels, 35 to 40c. per doz.; new cabbage, $1.75 to $2 per bbl.; tomatoes, $1 to $1.25 per crate. Green California fruit—Peaches, $1.75 to $2 per box; apricots, $2.25 to $2.50. Domestic cherries, 90c. to $1.50 per basket; red currants, 75c. to $1 per basket; red raspberries, 8 to 9c. a quart; gooseberries, 60c. to $1 a basket; green apples, $3 to $3.50 a barrel; watermelons, 20 to 25c. each; black currants, $1.25 to $1.50 per basket; black caps, 8 to 10c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE

BEANS—What are left in the market of choice hand picked bring as high as $1.75 to $1.80 per bushel.

DRIED APPLES—Unaltered, at 5 to 5½c. per lb.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Advanced to 7 to 7½c. per lb. in 50-lb. boxes.

ONIONS—Domestic are pretty well out of the market, and Spanish, Valencias and Egyptians are quoted at varying prices.

POTATOES—Old are practically out of the market, and new are plentiful at $1.15 on the track and $1.25 out of store.

EGGS—Remain steady at 10½ to 11c. per doz.

HONEY—Is quoted at 7 and 8c. in bulk, strained, and $1.50 to $1.80 a dozen in the comb.

FISH.

There is no change to report in the situation. A fair business is being done. We quote as follows: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; haddock, 5 to 6c.; Labrador herring, $3.25 to $3.50 per half barrel and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, $2.50 per half barrel, and $4.50 to $4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, $3 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 4c.; pike, 4½ to 5c. per lb.; flitched cod, 5c.; finnan haddies, 8c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 10 to 13c.; Georgian Bay trout, 6 to 6½c.; white fish, 7 to 8c.; Restigouche salmon, 18 to 22c.; blue fish, 9c.; Spanish mackerel, 20c.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

The general market remains firm, but lard has declined ¼c. per lb. all round. Dressed hogs bring $6 to $6.25 per 100 lbs. We quote products:

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 8c. for carload lots, and 8½c. for small lots; backs, 8½ to 9c.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 11 to 11½c.; rolls, 8 to 8½c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 10½ to 11c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 11½c.; small hams, 12c.; pickled, 10 to 10½c.; backs, 10 to 10½c.; picnic hams, 7½ to 8c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 8¾c.; tubs, 9c.; pails, 9¼c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $15.75; Canadian short-cut, $16 to $16.50; clear shoulder mess, $13.75 to $14; shoulder mess, $13.50 to $13.75.

FLOUR AND FEED.

WHEAT—White, 83c.; red, 83c.; goose, 75c.

OATS—Quoted at 39c.

BARLEY—Quoted at 46c.

FLOUR—Is weaker. We quote: Straight roller, $4.15 to $4.25; Manitoba, $4.30 to $4.60; patents, $4.55 to $4.85.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Prices are unchanged. We quote: Standard oatmeal, $4.35; rolled oats, $4.35; rolled wheat, $2.75 in 100

D. Gunn, Flavell & Co. report their green sweet pickled rolls put up in pickle as giving fine satisfaction. They say they have only a few left at special quotations.

When THE CANADIAN GROCER last week announced that new season's canned lobster was on the market, it was on the understanding that it would be before the paper was issued. The railways, however, failed to deliver, and for some reason or other they have not yet done so.

There is a scarcity of McDonald's "Prince of Wales" 7's and 12's and "Brier" 7's tobacco, as a result of the fire which visited the factory some months ago.

The Eby, Blain Co. (Ltd.) have in store new season's Japan teas, said to be excellent cup quality, and very pretty leaf, showing good value, to retail at 25 and 35c.

Perkins, Ince & Co. are in receipt of their special brands of new season's Japan teas—namely, "Moon," "Crescent," and "Sailor Boy." This is their first shipment of the season for these brands. The tea made excellent time in transit, only occupying 27 days in reaching Toronto from Japan.

Davidson & Hay, wholesale agents for Toronto for Ebenezer Roberts' table jellies, have lately received another shipment of these goods. No chemicals are used in the manufacture of these jellies, pure fruit flavorings alone being used. The Toronto agents report that their sales of these jellies are steadily increasing.

Warren Bros. & Boomer are in receipt of a shipment of new season's Rio coffee. This is the first shipment to arrive on this market, and the consignors advise that it is the first lot they have sent out this season. "It is the finest sample of Rio coffee I have ever seen," said a member of the firm; "it is equal to the best Ceylon."

PICTON NOTES.

The Picton factory of W. Boulter & Sons is very busy, running on peas and strawberries, the quality of which is reported to have been greatly strengthened this year. The firm is making two grades of strawberry goods, the large perfect berries going up in 2 lbs., with 70 per cent. of best granulated sugar, the smaller ones being put up in gallons for pies. They are making four grades of peas, and all in clear liquid. "The French," "The Sifted," "The Early June," "The Marrowfat" are now ready.

HAMILTON NOTES.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, July 18, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE signs of more activity noted last week have been fulfilled to a moderate extent during the present one though the movement has not as yet assumed extensive proportions. Prices generally are steady in tone, in fact, have a firmer tendency on some leading staples. In sugar the advance of the season is leading to more enquiry, but business does not display marked activity. Teas are much as they were, there being a fair jobbing trade, the wholesale houses contenting themselves with working off stocks on hand. Coffees and spices do not exhibit any distinct change. Dried fruits show more activity, especially in California and Valencia raisins, values on which have a firm tendency. Syrups and molasses continue much as they were a week ago. Canned salmon is firm, as last noted, but no further large contracts for forward delivery are spoken of. In fact, the canners do not urge sales, but rather the reverse. In nuts there is no change to report, while green fruit of all kinds exhibit a fair seasonable business.

TEA.

The tea market is quiet on the whole, no large business transpiring. A fair jobbing trade is to note, however, and the demand for local and country wants in the connection is of a quiet but satisfactory character. With regard to new crop teas, larger receipts are anticipated in the course of a fortnight, which will possibly lead to more activity in a wholesale sense. Buyers at present, however, are holding off. Advices from primary points report a good demand with prices firm in Japan, the arrivals up to the

SUGAR.

There has been a rather improved demand for sugar during the past week, both from first and second hands, though the change as yet is not of a very appreciable kind. Still it is considered a sign of a turn to the activity which has been long awaited. Values rule steady, as previously quoted, and the tone in the raw material and in refined in outside markets continues strong. At the refineries, 4¼c. is the price on granulated, and yellows, 3¾ to 3¾c., as to quality. For ordinary jobbing lots, an advance of ¼c. is asked on this basis, viz., 4¼ to 4¾c. on granulated, and 3¾ to 4c. on yellows. The New York market for refined continues very firm, being almost ¼c. higher than here, while European advices, both on raw and refined sugars, are steady in tone.

SYRUPS.

There has been more business doing in syrups this week, but the improvement is not very noticeable. It consisted of a moderate demand from the west and some small enquiries on local account. There is no change in prices, which are quoted steady at 1¾ to 2¼c., as to quality.

MOLASSES.

There are little or no large lots of molasses offering from first hands, the supply being pretty well bought up. As a result the market is quiet, the jobbing demand being of a steady but moderate character. There is no alteration in the firm tone of the market, values being well maintained. In single puncheons Barbadoes is held at 37c., and though 35c. was accepted for a round lot on Friday last, no sales have been heard since that at this price. Round lots of Porto Rico have sold at 33 to 34c., but 36c. is a fair quotation for single puncheons.

RICE.

The rice market is fairly active in a jobbing way and prices are steadily held. Otherwise nothing special is to report and we quote: Japan, $4.30 to $4.50; crystal Japan, $4.80 to $5; standard B, $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.37½ to $5; and Carolina, $7 to $7.50.

SPICES.

The spice market is quiet, but values have a distinct upward tendency, though no quotable change. We quote jobbing prices as follows: Penang black pepper, 9 to 10c.; white pepper, 13 to 15c.; cloves, 10 to 20c.; cassia, 10 to 20c.; nutmegs, 65 to 90c.; Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c., as to grade.

COFFEES.

There has been a somewhat unsettled feeling in coffee values, owing to transactions between dealers, but the prices in question are no criterion of what business can be done at in a regular jobbing way. Last week's range in this respect fully covers the basis, and it is reported as follows: Maracaibo, 20 to 22c.; Rio, 19 to 20c.; Java, 24 to 28c.; Jamaica, 19 to 21c.; and Mocha, 27 to 31c.

DRIED FRUITS.

The steady jobbing demand for California raisins noted last week continues, and, if anything, the volume of business is increased. Prices are steady in sympathy with firm advices from the Coast, and seem likely to remain so. Enquiry runs chiefly to 4-crown fruit at 6¼c., but a fair call is experienced also for the 3-crown raisins at 5¼c.

We are always open to buy or sell, in car lots or less, Grain, Apples, or Produce.

The better enquiry for Valencia raisins noted last week has continued, and a fairly satisfactory volume of business has been transacted. Supplies of off-stalk fruit are ample, however, and holders are disposed to urge sales at $2\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c., as to quality. L'yer raisins are rather steadier in feeling at 5 to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c., as to brand. There is nothing new from Denia to add to the advices already given. The crop is expected to be small, but the quality first-class. Importers, however, are not disposed to take much account of these early reports, which are customarily of a bullish nature.

There is no change in the currant market, which continues quiet and unaltered. The moderate business doing is on the basis of $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. in half barrels and $4\frac{1}{2}$ c. in cases, which are the only kind of packages available in any quantity here.

Prunes and dates continue as last reported, business ruling quiet and prices unchanged; prunes, 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c., and dates 3 to 4 c.

NUTS.

There is no change in nuts, which we quote as before: Brazils, 8 to 9 c.; shelled almonds, 18 to 25 c.; Tarragona, 11 to 13 c.; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 13 c.; shelled ditto, 24 to 25 c.; filberts, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c.; and pecans, 8 to 10 c.

CANNED GOODS.

The firm feeling of the past month is well maintained, and no change is to note in values. Advices with regard to vegetables and fruit to packers' agents are firm on all leading staples, though no important business has been done in either peels, tomatoes, corn or fruit. The strong tone on canned salmon is as prominent as it was last week at $4.50 to $4.75 f. o. b. on the Coast, but no further important contracts are spoken of. We quote: Lobsters, $5.75 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $10.50; salmon, $4.80 to $5.20; tomatoes, 80 to 90 c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $3.00 per doz.; corn, 85 c. to $1 per doz.; peas, 85 to 95 c. per doz.; strawberries, $2 to $2.25; raspberries, $1.75 to $2; green gages, $2 to $2.25; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2 to $2.25, and 3-lb. apples, $1 to $1.10.

GREEN FRUIT.

APPLES—The apple market is still scantily supplied, and prices are firmly held at $3 to $5 per bbl.

ORANGES—Move out quite freely and prices are firm at $2 to $2.50 per half box, and $3 to $4 per box.

LEMONS—The lemon market has ruled rather quieter this week, but prices are unchanged, $3.50 to $4.50 per box.

BANANAS—The market has been oversupplied with these and rules easy in consequence, 75 c. to $1.50 per bunch.

RASPBERRIES—This fruit is offering freely at 10 c. per box.

CHERRIES—There is a good demand for Canadian cherries at $1.25 to $1.75 per package.

PEACHES—Are a somewhat slow sale at $1.50 to $1.80 per box.

PLUMS—Fair demand at $1.75 per carrier.

CRANBERRIES—In moderate enquiry at $2.50 to $3 per box.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—An improved demand and decreased receipts at the beginning of the week led to an advance of $\frac{1}{4}$ c. in eggs, which are quoted steady at $10\frac{1}{2}$ to 11 c.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—There is only a quiet trade to note in these. We quote: Sugar, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c., and syrup, 50 to 60 c. per tin.

HOPS—Buyers continue indifferent and the market is quiet at 5 to $8\frac{1}{2}$ c., as to quality.

HONEY—It is not the active season for honey, business ruling quiet at 7 to 9 c. for extracted, and 10 to 12 c. for comb, per lb.

BEANS—Steady and unchanged. We quote: Hand-picked firsts, $1.70 to $1.80, and seconds, $1.30 to $1.50.

TALLOW—Quiet and unchanged at 5 to 6 c. per lb.

POTATOES—Old potatoes are quiet at 50 to 55 c. per bag, while new are jobbing out in a small way at 70 c.

HAY—The hay market is firm and active, and prices are strong with an upward tendency. Reports regarding the crop continue of the same character. We quote: No. 1, higher at $10 to $10.50, and No. 2, $9 to $9.50.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

There is a fair local demand for flour, the market ruling moderately active and steady as follows: Winter wheat, $4.75 to $4.90; spring wheat, patents, $4.65; straight roller, $4.50; extra, $4 to $4.10; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.50.

The market for oatmeal is dull and without any new feature. We quote: Standard, bbls., $4.05 to $4.15; granulated, bbls., $4.10 to $4.20; rolled oats, bbls., $4.10 to $4.20.

Demand for feed is good, and the market active and firm. We quote: Bran, $17; shorts, $19; mouillie, $22 to $23.

PROVISIONS.

The provision market is quiet. Heavy short cut pork has been marked down \$1 to \$16, and lard has declined $\frac{1}{4}$ c. per lb. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, \$16; Canadian short cut, mess, \$18; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 11 c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, $9\frac{3}{4}$ to $10\frac{1}{4}$ c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 11 c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., $7\frac{1}{2}$ to $7\frac{3}{4}$ c.

BUTTER.

The butter market moves along much as it was. There is no great encouragement in cable advices, but the market has a steady tone. Creamery is held at 17 c, and Townships dairy at $14\frac{1}{2}$ to 15 c. Some offers of western dairy are made at 13 to $13\frac{1}{2}$ c, but the enquiry for it is not brisk. Recent purchasing of June creamery in the country is for speculative purposes. The London Grocer of a recent date had some interesting correspondence bearing on these. In these letters the advice is given by shippers here to buy and hold June creamery again until the fall months as was done last season with rather unfavorable results. If the Canadian butter makers want to make a reputation on the English market, experience proves that this is not the way to do it. They should bear this in mind, though, of course, if English speculators bid good prices it is hardly in human nature to expect them to refuse to sell.

CHEESE.

The export cheese market has been rather mixed this week in consequence of the loss of the ss. Mexico with a cargo of 20,000 boxes for Bristol. Offers have differed widely, but, on the whole, the market is not quotably higher. On a round quantity of 10,000 boxes Quebec makes, which were offered here on Monday, a range of $7\frac{1}{4}$ to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c. was realized, while in the Townships district $7\frac{1}{4}$ to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c. was paid at the shipping point. Spot prices for fine Ontario cheese are difficult to get at, but a line was offered Tuesday at 8 c., and did not sell, though if a buyer had a large order to fill he would very likely have to pay $8\frac{1}{4}$ c. Quotations are about as follows: Finest Ontario makes, 8 to $8\frac{1}{4}$ c.; medium to good ditto, $7\frac{1}{2}$ to 8 c.; Townships' makes, $7\frac{1}{2}$ to 8 c.; other Quebec makes, $7\frac{3}{8}$ to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c.; under-grades ditto, 7 to $7\frac{1}{4}$ c.

ASHES.

The ashes market is quiet, the only change being a decline in pearls of 25 c. per 100 lbs. We quote: First pots, $4.10 to $4.15, and second, $3.80 to $3.85, while pearls are $5.25 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

The creditors of S. Ferte have been called together.

H. Desparois' grocery stock has been seized. The store is closed.

Tees, Wilson & Co landed a small shipment of tea ex Rosarian on Saturday last.

D. Masson & Co. received a shipment of fine chocolates ex ss. Dominion on Monday.

A round lot of low grade Congous was taken out of first hands here on Tuesday at 11 c.

Morrow & Ewing received this week a shipment of 1,500 cases Japan and 750 black teas.

A shipment of Day & Martin's blacking was landed ex Rosarian last week by Chas. Gyde.

Laporte, Martin & Co. are sellers of leading brands of off-stalk Valencia raisins at low prices.

Rose & Laflamme are quoting this week Batger's new crop jams, the prices for which show a considerable decline on last year.

The British American and Clover Leaf canneries have advised their salesman on this market not to urge sales to any great extent.

New crop Japans were offered on this market this week by J. Alex. Gordon, who is selling for Carter, Macy & Co., of New York.

The first arrivals of southern pears in barrels were offered for sale on this market on Wednesday. They sold at $7.80 to $8 per bbl.

Advices from London note a firmer tendency on sultana raisins. They are hardly quotable on spot, as there are little or none on the market.

Advices from the Coast to canners' agents here state that the run of salmon has not come up the Fraser yet, and that the market rules very firm.

Batger & Co. are putting up their preparations this season in one-pound glass-rimmed jars, with a gelatine cover or cork. This contrivance is an improvement to insure the keeping qualities of the goods.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

St. JOHN, N.B., July 18, 1895.

BUSINESS is only fair. The new steamer running between St. John and Digby, mentioned in our last report as having to lay off on account of an accident, will be on sooner than was expected. In fact, it is expected she will be making her two trips a day this week. In the candy trade, demand is reported good, but, on account of competition, prices are low. In teas, new season's are being offered from London. Values in fine teas are rather higher than last season. Direct importations are expected to arrive in a week or two via C.P.R.

OIL—There has been no change during the week. Demand is fair as follows: Best American, 22½c.; best Canadian, 21½c.; prime, 18c.

SALT—The cargo of 8,400 coarse and 1,200 fine, ex Ellora, spoken of in these columns, is about all placed. It found fair demand, and the market is now well supplied for some time. Small quantities, however, continue to arrive ex schooner from Boston, about 1,000 sacks coming that way during the week. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory filled, 95c. to $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.80 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per doz.; bulk dairy, $2.80 per bbl.; bulk cheese, $2.70.

CANNED GOODS—There is a fair demand for goods held here in stock, except beef, which is reported slow sale. In peaches, peas and strawberries, market is firmer, particularly the last two. New goods are now quoted freely, though at rather higher prices than was expected. Peas being particularly firm and strawberries not being quoted, buyers are holding off expecting better prices, but at present canners are firm. In salmon, little is being done. Some canners want to take orders subject to pack, but buyers do not like that way. Some who bought that way last season got left. There is a feeling that it leaves the matter too much in the hands of the canners. There are a few being offered at $4.50 Coast, but buyers do not care to pay that, the more as those bought to come here were bought at $4.25 and many look for lower prices, though there is little to encourage them. We quote: Corn, 95c. to $1; peas, 95c. to $1; tomatoes, $1 to $1.05; corned beef, 2 lb. tins, $2.75 to $3; 1-lb. tins, $1.70 to $1.80; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $3; 2's, $2 to $2.10; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; salmon, $1.40 to $1.50; flat, $1.75; clams, $5.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $3 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1.

DRIED FRUIT—Market continues inactive. Evaporated apples are dull. With fair stocks being held it was expected a good profit would have been made, but such is not the case. Dried stocks are light, and though there is but little demand at present better prices are expected later. Some brokers have received prices on new Valencias, but no business is yet reported. So far it is expected quality will be better and price about the same as last season. A representative of a Malaga firm was in the city during the week. He did not quote prices, but it is understood he took a few open orders. Dates and prunes are in light demand, and California evaporated are also slow. We quote: Sultana raisins, 6 to 7c.; Valencia, 4c.; layers, 5c.; London layers, $2 to $2.25; California loose muscatels, 5 to 5½c.; currants, bbls., 3¾ to 4c.; half-cases, 4¼ to 4½c.; evaporated apples, 7½ to 8c.; dried apples, 5½ to 5¾c.; dates, 4 to 4½c.; prunes, 4 to 5c.; figs, 11 to 18c.; Bermuda onions, $1.40 to $1.50 per crate; Egyptian, 2 to 2¼c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; do. apricots, 12 to 14c.; do. pears, 12 to 13c.; cleaned currants, bulk, 6½c.; 1 lb. cartons, 7½c.

GREEN FRUIT—In these lines the demand is more active. Strawberries continue in good supply, they being much more plentiful here than west. Raspberries, gooseberries and blueberries are also in the market. Cherries continue to arrive in fair quantities. They are now selling lower than they did last season. New oranges are being received. A few native tomatoes and hot house cucumbers are offered, but the bulk still come from the west. The apples arriving continue to improve in quality, but as yet are none too good. Very few California green fruits are being received as yet. They are always so high that little or nothing is ever made on them. Sweet potatoes are being received. We quote: Tomatoes, $1.75 to $2.50 per crate; melons, 35 to 40c.; apples, $4 to $4.75 per bbl.; oranges, $4.50 to $4.75; lemons, $5 to $5.50; strawberries, 8 to 9c.; sweet potatoes, $4.50 per bbl.; bananas, $1 to $2.50; oranges, half-box, $1.75 to $2.

DAIRY PRODUCE—The movement is still light. Local cheese factories are slow to sell at present figures. In fact, they got such good prices last season that to get milk this year (there being so many more factories) some contracted at what they now find to have been too high prices; and to sell cheese at present offer means a loss, which is not what they were expecting. In butter, creamery continues to hold at rather high figures, and good dairy finds a fair demand. Eggs are also firm and in good demand. We quote: New cheese, 9c.; new butter, 15 to 16c.; eggs, 10 to 10½c.; fresh creamery prints, 18 to 20c.

MOLASSES—The large arrivals of Barbadoes by steamer, and the fact that the quality is not all that might be wished, have produced an easier feeling. The schooner Trader is in with a cargo of about 400 packages of Barbadoes. This makes some 1,200 packages of this grade arriving during the past two weeks. About 1,000 packages of other grades, principally a nice grade of Porto Rico, have arrived, and stocks are fairly large. Still large quantities of that arriving have been already placed, so that the market is not at all overstocked, but rather otherwise, and the best grades are held very firm. We quote: Barbadoes, 34 to 35c.; St. Croix, 32 to 34c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 37c.; syrup, 35c.

SUGAR—The local market appears very weak, though no good reason can be given except that holders want to get their money out of their stocks. Refiners are rather firmer, and some holders are not offering except to regular customers, as they are looking for better figures. It is, however, a fact that some granulated has been sold as low as 4c. This, however, cannot be considered a market price. We quote: Granulated, 4¼ to 4¾c.; yellow, 3¾c.; Paris lump, 5 to 5½c.; powdered, 5 to 5½c.

FISH—The market is not active. Fresh gaspereaux are now out of season. The catch was light, but prices for the pack, as yet offered, are also light, there being no money in them at present figures. Salmon are still a light catch, and during the past week there has been a quiet demand, but better things are expected this week. Pickled herring are rather easier. Smoked are still dull, and all kinds of dry easy, with but light demand. A great many coming to this market are not properly cured, principally being too wet. We quote: Medium cod, $3.25; large, $3.45; small, $2.55; pollock, $1.40 to $1.50; bay herring, $1.20 to $1.30; Shelburne, No. 1, $4 per bbl.; half-bbl., $2.40 to $2.50; smoked herring, 5 to 6c.; halibut, 8 to 9c.; lobsters, $6; fresh salmon, 14 to 15c.

PROVISIONS—There is but a light movement, particularly in smoked meats. Said a wholesaler to THE GROCER: "This is our last season in smoked meats. It is the most unsatisfactory line we handle. When we reweigh them, as in most cases we have to do, they are so short there is no profit, and buyers will keep meat weeks and then expect us to make the loss good should it turn out bad." Hams are much lower here than they are in the west. We quote: P. E. Island thin mess, $16 to $16.50; clear pork, $18.50 to $19; mess, $16.50 to $17; prime, $13 to $13.50; plate beef, $14.50; pure lard, 9¼ to 10½c.; compound lard, 8½ to 9c.; cottolene, 9¼ to 9¾c.; hams, 11 to 12c.; rolls, 9 to 9½c.; beef, half-barrels, $7.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—In flour, the market is weaker and prices are down from last week about 15 cents. There is a fair demand. Stocks held are still fairly large and profits are still fair, but they are well below what were counted upon. As is the rule in this market prices will likely be rather below actual value, while the market continues weak. In oats prices are lower, Ontario being offered under 43c. delivered. The demand is light. In cornmeal the mills are again selling their own output, and not through a local agent as has been the case for some time. Beans are rather easier. In hay the firmness continues, and there is quite a movement. In feed the figures are higher, and good middlings are hard to get. We quote: Manitoba, $5.10 to $5.15; best Ontario, $4.95 to $5.10; medium, $4.75 to $4.90; oatmeal, $4.50 to $4.60; cornmeal, $2.90 to $3; middlings, $25 on track; bran, $22.50 to $23; hand-picked beans, $1.85 to $1.90; prime $1.75 to $1.80; split peas, $3.70 to $3.90; pot barley, $4 to $4.25; hay, on track, $9.50 to $11; oats, on track, 45 to 46c.

Three new stores are being built in Bath, Carleton County. One is for E. F. Shaw, another for E. H. Gallagher, and the third is for Phillips & Seeley.

ADULTERATED CINNAMON.

The Analyst for June publishes a paper read before the Society of Public Analysts on February 6, by Bernard Dyer, D.Sc., and J. F. Gilbard, on the adulteration of cinnamon with walnut shells. The authors state: "One of us was lately informed that a certain firm of confectioners abroad, who did a heavy trade in walnuts, which they used in various forms for confectionery, had a large sale for their walnut shells—in fact, that they sold them in London for more than they gave for the whole walnuts, the shells being used in adulterating ground cinnamon." The authors go on to say: "The microscopic detection of powdered walnut shells in ground cinnamon is not difficult to a skilled observer, but an inexperienced microscopist might well be misled, if he did not very carefully study both structures. Cinnamon bark contains a large proportion of very hard sclerenchymatous tissue, the internally thickened cells of which are, but for size, not wholly dissimilar from the sclerenchyma constituting the harder portion of the walnut shell. Any microscopical observation made with a view to the detection of walnut shells should not be undertaken, therefore, without a careful independent study of the microscopical structure of cinnamon bark itself, as well as of the supposed adulterant." Particulars are then given of the methods for detecting this adulteration of cinnamon, and there are some very clever photographs showing the difference between the cells of cinnamon and of walnut shells.

WHY HE DID NOT GO BACK.

ONE of the traveling men connected with a leading Philadelphia grocery house recently told his experience with a typical grocer in a small village in the south-western section of Pennsylvania. It is interesting, in that it throws a strong light on the grocery trade "as it is worked" in the rural districts.

"I got into the place by stage one morning," said the salesman, "and made my way to the only grocery store there is in the place. I found the proprietor sitting on a box in front of his door. He had a goatee, and was leaning back against the building with a broom splint in his mouth.

"Good morning," I said.

"Hello," was the reply.

"Want to do little business with you," I said.

"Oh, I guess not," he replied, "I'm purty well stocked up."

"How about currants?" I said, "I've got some very fine stock here that I'll put in at a low price."

"Don't need none," said the grocer. "I bought a big bag o' them back in '91 and I got considerable of 'em on hand yit."

"I asked to see them and he took me into his place and led me to the currants. They were certainly a holy show. Encrusted with dirt and dust and actually at least a quarter of them looked to be deceased flies. They fully bore out the man's statement of having been bought in '91.

"I can't beat them," I said, as I walked away.

"Nope, they're purty fine kerns," said the proprietor.

"While in the store, a country lunkhead, who filled in in lieu of a clerk, was sweeping furiously away at the store floor, without sprinkling a drop of water on it, and the open boxes of cakes that stood on the shelf had a perfectly visible layer of dust and dirt on them.

"The crowning feature of this progressive establishment," said the salesman, "was the store cat. You always find one of these beasts in a country store. This one was sitting on the cheese box, and its tail hung over the side. I thought the appendage had a peculiar appearance, and in passing looked closer. I found that the animal's tail was actually dripping with molasses! It had apparently been reposing in some luckless customer's kettle, or hanging through the bunghole of the barrel.

"It was a great store, reminding me forcefully of Finley Acker's or Tom Martindale's. But I didn't do any business, and I'm not going back."

THE BRANDING OF CHEESE.

The Committee on Agriculture and Colonization, appointed by the House of Commons, in its report makes no recommendation regarding the branding of cheese. The evidence collected is simply transmitted without comment. According to opinions gathered, 673 cheese men of Ontario and Quebec are in favor of branding, 64 against, and 41 undecided.

ARGUMENT FOR EARLY CLOSING.

Now is the time when the question of closing the grocery stores early is again up for consideration. Most of the grocers are now getting up several hours earlier than usual to buy vegetables and fruits, and the clerks are also beginning to work earlier. If the stores are not closed earlier, the grocers naturally work more hours now than they do in winter. During the hot weather work is more exhausting than it is in winter. It is reasonable, therefore, to expect many stores to close an hour or two earlier than they do in winter.—Retail Grocers' Advocate.

CEDAR TO BE FREE.

A Vancouver despatch of July 12 says: British Columbia lumbermen are jubilant over the fact that British Columbia cedar is to be admitted free into the States, according to a decision of the United States Circuit Court, to which the Lumber Association of British Columbia appealed from the United States Board of General Appraisers.

UNIQUE MODUS OPERANDI.

A couple of men in Buffalo, N.Y., have been partners for nearly 25 years, and have never quarreled or had a bookkeeper. Everything is sold for cash and the money divided on the spot. No man can collect a bill until he gets both partners together, when each one pays his half. If one should chance not to have his share ready, the creditor waits. They claim to know precisely how they stand at the close of every day's business, but the system has only novelty to recommend it.—American Investments.

SUGAR IMPORTS INTO THE U. K.

The aggregate landings of raw and refined sugar in the United Kingdom during June, as nearly as can be calculated from the private returns, embraced, according to Grocer, 166,000 tons, in lieu of 130,000 tons in the same period last year; and as the home deliveries were not above 122,000 tons, against 116,000 tons, the general stock rapidly accumulated, and by the 30th ult. it presented an increased surplus of about 71,000 tons over that in 1894.

If the mackerel fishery is to be preserved The North Sydney (N.S.) Herald believes it will be necessary for the United States and Canadian Governments to enter into an international agreement to prohibit purse-seining before the end of June each year, or until the end of the spawning season.

Mr. G. F. Galt, of the wholesale firm of G. F. & J. Galt, Winnipeg, is in the city to-day. It is reported that he is here with a view to opening a branch of their business in this city in the near future. Concurrent with this report we hear that Thompson & Codville will again open in the wholesale grocery line here.—Brandon Times.

THE ANCHOVY.

The anchovy is a small silvery fish, caught in vast quantities in the Mediterranean Sea. The most highly prized ones come from Gorgona, an island near Leghorn. Anchovies are exported as a condiment to all parts of the world, being both preserved whole and formed into pastes and essences. The pastes are prepared by pressing first through a sieve, simple flavoring and some oil being added. The essence consists of the fish being steeped in a highly spiced brine or pickle, and then strained and bottled. Pastes and essences of lobsters, shrimps, and various other kinds of fish are similarly treated.

STOLE 40 BARRELS OF SUGAR.

An Argyle street firm was reported to be selling sugar cheap, and it was said they bought it from a youth. Detective Power went hunting for the youth Saturday, and arrested "Jumbo" Ryan, aged 18, who "squealed" when arrested and told the names of several shopkeepers who bought sugar from him. Detective Power located about forty barrels, and boxes of pickles and canned goods which had been so sold. The boy had worked about C. H. Harvey's occasionally, and secured keys to fit the doors. After the shop was closed and Mr. Harvey and the employees gone home, the thief is reported to have opened the doors to conduct his business. A lot of sugar is now at the city hall.—Chronicle, Halifax.

QUEBEC'S BUSINESS TAX.

The Toronto World's Montreal correspondent says he learns that at the next session of the Quebec Legislature the Hon. Mr. Taillon will be able to announce that the financial condition of the province has so far improved that the Government will take off the obnoxious business tax that was levied, of necessity, when the present Government came into power, in order to meet the indebtedness created by the Mercier regime.

A PIONEER GONE.

There passed away on Monday evening last at his late residence, Blantyre, Ont., in the person of James Paterson, one of the earliest settlers of that vicinity. Deceased was born in Scotland in 1814, and devoted his life to commercial pursuits. HOW TO BECOME VALUABLE.

WHY does that young man never receive for his services above $15 a week? asks "Eli" in The Commercial Bulletin and Northwest Trade. Because he does not study and drink in knowledge that will make him worth more than that. This young man says he isn't treated fairly; that others succeed while he struggles along without much advancement. Let us see about that. Where does the complaining young man spend his spare time? Perhaps on the street, perhaps in hunting in the summer and skating in the winter, perhaps in lounging about the corners indulging in idle gossip. All these things have a place, even to the gossip on the corner, but when they make up the sum total of a man's spare time they prove to be his executioner.

How about the other young man who went from $15 to $20 and then on to $30, and $40 and even on to higher salary a week. He improved his spare time in study and developing his mind to the point that he was able to command attention because he had something to give out. His policy was to read along a certain line every winter, read daily papers regularly and if possible a foreign paper that would keep him in touch with the world; if he didn't have a foreign paper handy he subscribed for one; he bought a few books every year, not novels, but philosophy and history; he looked into the inner history of the Bible, and he studied it closely, only to find that great minds had done that before him; there was Bauer and others of the negative side of the German Tubingen school on the one side, honestly searching for the truth about the authenticity of the Scriptures, not in Bob Ingersoll fashion, but in honest doubt; there was Drummond, and Matheson, and Farrar, and many others on the other side, fully convinced of the great power of spiritual truth in the development of the world.

Can we measure what the effect of years of study along these lines would be on the mind of any person? There must be development, of course, and yet we hear young business men who work in the stores say they never had an opportunity to attend college. What should they do? Make a college at home. Turn their bedroom into a college and dig out the great truths of history and science. That is what we are here for. It is unfortunate that so many fail to grasp the great fact that knowledge can be had for the seeking. The trouble is it is not sought after, but instead the days are passed in the merest drivel of words, and the mind dies for want of nourishment.

If you envy great men be a great man yourself. Start out to be something and you will succeed in being somebody the world will respect. Light will come in as you proceed, and you will be able to develop from year to year, until in a few years you have become an able man. The idea that a term in college makes a man smart is a fiction. The man must make himself after he has been through college. That is only a disciplinary school. It lays the foundation, but the building is yet to be erected. Put in the foundation yourself and begin to build. That is the way to growth.

If I were a clerk in a store I would subscribe for The London Quarterly or The Edinburgh Review, or both, costing about $11 a year, and for The Popular Science Monthly, costing $5 a year, and read them carefully. This done you will be an educated man in ten years. I would add as many standard books to these each year as I could afford. I was talking with a gentleman this week, a writer on a Minneapolis newspaper, who is an encyclopedia in himself. He is a great student and has a library of 4,000 volumes.

"How many of them have you read?" I asked.

"Every one of them," was the reply.

Is it any wonder that man is a genius and draws a salary of more than $15 a week?

A THIRTY-INCH TROUT.

The fisherman's paradise for speckled trout is evidently in the Parry Sound district. At least I should judge so if the photographs of the fruits of one day's fishing there are any criterion. The photographs are in the possession of W. J. Massey, manager of J. W. Lang & Co.'s sample room, and the fish which they show are what he and a party of Torontonians caught during one day while rustivating on one of the rivers in the above district a few weeks ago. The number of fish there were I did not count. There was a great number of them. What interested me most was not the quantity but the quality—if size can be accounted quality—and of one fish in particular. Hanging alongside this one was a two-foot rule, but this fish stretched six inches below the rule, thus establishing its length at thirty inches. Then alongside it were a couple of other speckled beauties that come preciously near two feet in length. "We had no means of weighing the big fish," explained Mr. Massey, "but we estimated it to be about eight pounds. It took the man who caught it an hour to land it." Mr. Massey is enthusiastic over his recent fishing excursion, and well he might be.

PICNICS AND EXCURSIONS.

THE Montreal Grocers' Association had a successful picnic at Iberville, on the Richelieu river, on Wednesday. There was a large attendance, the members of the association, their families and friends, leaving by special trains from Windsor Station, Montreal. The full report of the picnic is crowded out, but will appear in our next issue. A number of the prizes were displayed on Tuesday in the window of Fraser, Viger & Co., St. James street.

The Retail Grocers of Hamilton, Ont., held their annual excursion to Queen Victoria Park, Niagara Falls, on Wednesday. The outing was well patronized, and a most enjoyable time was spent by the excursionists. A full report of the event will appear in next week's GROCER.

The preparations for the Toronto Grocers' excursion to St. Catharines on Thursday, July 25, have been noted in these columns before. The trip promises to be a most successful one.

We have been handed the printed programme of the fifth annual picnic of the Retail Grocers of London, and a big affair the event promises to prove. The outing will be held in the beautiful Queen's Park on July 24. The Seventh Fusiliers Band will be present to provide music, refreshments will be served and a programme of twenty athletic contests will be disposed of. Prizes have been contributed by the leading wholesale and manufacturing establishments.

The coffee was prepared by Caterer Ben Edwards. The 3,000 people who tasted 'Mecca' pronounced it to be good, and may hereafter be depended upon for taking no other."

W. H. Gillard & Co., Hamilton : "Our 'Pickles' desire the readers of THE CANADIAN GROCER to know that their defeat of July 6th, by Dalley's Blacking team, was not due to the superior playing of bona fide players of Dalley & Co., as the latter team on that day was composed of six outsiders, selected from other clubs in the city, and three of their own players. It was a case of defeat Gillard's 'Pickles' at any cost. Under the circumstances the 'Pickles' think it somewhat of a presumption on the part of the Blacking team to take upon themselves the credit."

UNITED STATES FRUIT CROP.

IN most of the northern and eastern States, especially, a decided shortage is visible, and in many counties certain varieties are a complete failure, judging by returns from upward of 3,000 correspondents of The American Agriculturist. While it is not such an off year in apples as '93, everything now points to a yield much below that of last year, although there is yet time for excellent development. Peaches and pears are quite promising in certain States where largely grown, and the south and California have already marketed considerable quantities. Cane berries and small fruits generally were cut down seriously by spring frosts, many of them having been previously weakened by the severity of last winter. This, in fact, proved very trying to young orchards in all northern States, and many of them were winter-killed.

The apple outlook in the Maritime Provinces and in Maine was unusually low July 1, due to the cold weather, followed by drouth, and suggesting that the exportable surplus may be much below that of last year. In other parts of New England apples promise a fair crop, although the young fruit has dropped badly. Small fruits make a better showing.

In the middle States generally is the same story of wonderful promise early, only to be followed by a quick relapse. That nature is well able to repair what seems irreparable is proved by the wonderful manner in which the fruit crop has been developed since a change to better weather. The advent of rainfall in late June changed the deficiency in moisture to a position of rapid growth and development, which is doing much to place the prospects on a fairly satisfactory plane. However, this is not high. Apples, pears, and plums gave promise July 1 of little better than two-thirds of a crop in New York State, and returns from many counties indicate only half a crop. Pennsylvania and the States immediately south escaped the frosts in their full severity, but cold and raw winds did some damage. Ohio has had plenty of rainfall recently, but in many sections it came too late to help fruit, with the poorest showing in grapes, berries, and cherries.

The south has come to the front as never before, while the crop of California is rather above than below an average. Although early, the prospect for the next crop of oranges on the Pacific Coast is promising, while Florida is recovering from last winter's freeze.

SPICE SITUATION.

Spices have a somewhat uncertain market. It is not a season of the year when consumption is at all general. Jobbers and grinders, notwithstanding their assumed indifference, did pick up quite a little stock during the late flurry, and this they are endeavoring to make useful until more pressing necessities arise. Cassia, nutmegs, mace, chillies and ginger appear to have a good position, and likely to harden in value at once upon any revival of demand. Pepper has shaded off in value during the dull period, influenced to some extent by the large visible supplies as shown by latest statistics, but the fresh shipments from the Straits and particularly during last half of June were remarkably small. Cloves are also in a somewhat uncertain position in consequence of absence of any recent good test of the market. It may be remembered that cloves were among the first to receive a check on the recent advance, and while they have not set off much in price, owners have been compelled to do a great deal of holding to sustain the market. According to recently published official report on trade in cloves at the principal primal points, the following are the quantities marketed during the past five years:

	Zanzibar. Lbs.	Pemba. Lbs.	Total. Lbs.
1890	4,372,515	13,472,655	17,845,170
1891	2,428,580	11,348,820	13,777,400
1892	4,248,930	8,267,385	12,516,315
1893	3,783,150	9,077,345	12,860,995
1894	4,834,185	13,054,965	17,939,150

It may be properly noted, in connection with the above figures, that the clove season is reckoned from September to March, and it was upon reports of a shortage likely to be shown when this season's harvest was over that the recent sharp advance took place.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

AVERAGING PROFITS.

SO long as society is divided into classes, so long will retail trade be divided. The customs and unwritten rules which govern the classes are as various as those which govern the grocer. Those which meet one condition will not govern in another. There are conditions common to all, but aside from these are differences so numerous that it is difficult to frame rules, or outline a policy which will be universal in its application. Men are in business to make money, but the majority fail of their object, and the one point where they fail is in adjusting profit. They fail to take into consideration the cost of the service and the relation of that expense to each article in the stock. Unwritten laws of business necessitate the sale of certain staple articles upon a margin over cost barely large enough to meet the cost of the service. This cost each retailer should know exactly. It varies greatly, being double in some localities what it is in others. Stores located within a few squares of each other report a difference in cost that is very great.

Profits must cover cost of service, living expenses, addition to capital. Until a business does this it cannot be called a success. As a general rule the service absorbs one-half of the profit and when the proportion exceeds that, it means that the sales must be largely increased if the capital is to expand with the growth of the business.

The imperative factor is a profit to cover service and living expenses; the variable or elastic factor the net gain or increase of capital.

A luxurious and exacting service is costly and sure to disturb the proper ratio of expense to net gain. A trade of $30,000 a year may be done at a service cost of 10 per cent. or less on the cost of the goods, or it may reach 15 to 18 per cent. In the one case the class served may not demand table luxuries while in the other they are liberal buyers of fancy groceries. With one dealer the other system is thorough and exacting; with the other there are no routes to cover and most of the customers carry their purchases. The adjustment of profit, so as to secure a good average will vary greatly.

The dealer in fancy groceries and luxuries must stimulate demand and increase the variety and range of his stock. There is no business that is not capable of expansion by the addition of some new department. Confectionery, the soda water fountain; toilet articles, perfumery, crackers, cakes, bread, woodenware, crockery, household supplies, are all legitimate departments for the grocer to cover. A prominent Philadelphia firm has added water filters, fly-catching lanterns, insect powder, and is continually adding novelties. In short, add anything and everything connected with food and its service, even to the keeping of dining room fixtures, table linen, cutlery and glassware.

In order to obtain and maintain a good average profit the dealer must be master of the details of his business. It is possible to keep an account with every item in the stock, at least for one year, and then secure a sure basis for adjusting profits. It makes a wonderful difference whether the sales of sugar are one-third, one-fourth or one-fifth the total sales. Then there comes the relation of flour to the total sales, and of every article in stock down to matches and clothes pins. We advocate a profit on staples large enough to cover the cost of the service and that everyone is entitled to. That policy granted, and it will be found difficult to bring the net profit up 8 to 10 per cent., on the cost of the goods in a way which will prevent dissatisfaction with customers. It can be done easily if there is special effort made to sell such articles as rice, oatmeal, soap, starch, flavoring extracts, dried fruits, crackers, spices, tea and coffee. Place the effort on these goods rather than on sugar and flour, for they together with butter are essentials which every customer must have, while the others receive less attention, though in common use. If they pay a 15 to 20 per cent. profit, then with a liberal trade in fancy groceries and luxuries, the average will afford a good addition to capital. —American Grocer.

HAT experience is more convincing than eloquence will not be denied, especially by those having tried both.

The grocer may praise an article in eloquent terms, but the experience of the customer is what counts.

Our matches are as near perfection as these modern times will allow, and nothing is spared to improve them.

Most of your customers know by experience of their high quality, and will take them in preference to any other.

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Organization of business men means disorganization of foes that assail them.

* * *

A young man with small ideas is not likely to develop anything but a small business.

* * *

It is better to climb into affluence than to be pitchforked into it by influential relatives.

* * *

Canada can hit bull's eyes in a good many other things besides rifle shooting.

* * *

This enervating hot weather should stir grocers up to push hot weather goods.

* * *

A business is but the expression of the merchant, just as the picture is the expression of the artist.

* * *

If you would make it a success, cling to your business as tenaciously as does ivy to the church steeple.

* * *

Business men's associations have a double purpose: They give birth to new friendships, and kill and bury old evils.

* * *

Men quick to take offence are usually men quick to give offence. What the merchant should study to be is obvious.

* * *

The average merchant has worries enough to try the patience of a saint; but that is no excuse for his being cantankerous.

* * *

Employers who attempt to humiliate clerks in the presence of customers lower themselves in the eyes of said customers.

* * *

Possibly a man may establish a business without advertising; but, like an ill fed child, it will never be anything but a dwarf.

* * *

It may be in order to secure cheap advertising that some of the department stores are closing early. But it is safe venturing that they do not lose money by the innovation.

Ambition is the cause of much concern, but it is worth passing through a period of concern to reap the fruits which discreet ambition brings.

* * *

Incompatibility between a merchant and his business should be sufficient ground for a divorce. It is no use ruining both the man and the business.

* * *

Clerks who value not the little things in the details of their duties are not likely to occupy positions where they will have supervision of the great things.

* * *

Catch the eye of your customer, but see that the something that does the catching does not drive the customer away from, instead of into, the store.

* * *

If it is the right firebugs that have been caught in Montreal it is to be hoped they will get a salutary squeezing between the finger and thumb of the law.

* * *

Because nails are dearer it does not follow that merchants should be more cautious in hitting the proverbial nail on the head. Hit just as hard and often as ever.

* * *

Judging from the frequency with which they figure in the courts for infractions of trade laws, the pathway of British grocers must be beset with many legal pitfalls.

* * *

The crops is the pivot upon which the next twelve months' trade will turn. Judging from the present condition of the pivot the turn is likely to be towards fairly good trade.

* * *

Judging from what appears from time to time in the columns of United States exchanges, the grocers on the other side of the line are continually "cracking" away at the cracker question.

* * *

A merchant who was in the Nottingham bankruptcy court the other day was shown not to have kept any books. He who does not keep books can scarcely be expected to keep his business.

* * *

Of all the patients applying for treatment at a Brooklyn dispensary, ten, according to the medical superintendent, were tea drunkards. What now about "the cup that cheers and not inebriates"?

* * *

The loss of a subscriber is entailed on the publisher when a man orders his trade paper to be discontinued, but the loss to the subscriber himself is as much greater in comparison as the mountain is to the hill.

* * *

A price "cutter" would not make a successful warrior. The warrior sits down and figures out the cost before he wages war; the "cutter" goes it blind; rushes in "where angels fear to tread," as it were.

* * *

If you have no goods to sell, advertise that you are in the land of the living. In this world of commercial activity it is one of the easiest of things for a merchant to drop out of sight, although he may nominally still be doing business at the old stand.

* * *

In chiding those who are rejoicing at the failure of a Chicago department store, an exchange remarks that "One swallow does not make a summer." No, but the swallowing up of this one department store makes one less of these big concerns to harass the regular merchant.

* * *

The N. Y. Commercial Enquirer of July 11 contained an article on "Storing Oil," by Scott McKerrow. Had the editor's scissors possessed a pen or pencil point when they extracted the article from THE CANADIAN GROCER of June 21, credit would, no doubt, have been duly given this journal.

THE EXPORT TRADE IN APPLES.

A REVIEW OF THE PAST SEASON—THE EXPORTERS' ASSOCIATION—THE PROSPECTS FOR THIS SEASON.

LAST season was a wonderful one in apple exporting, as regards the quantity exported and the lessons which exporters learned. It is over now, and those who look calmly back can truly say that they have added much to their store of experience.

From August 1, 1894, to May 1, 1895, a total of 1,467,031 bbls. of apples were sent out from American ports. Our authority for this is The American Agriculturist, but we are not certain whether or not this includes shipments from Canadian ports. Even supposing that both Canada and the United States together exported only 1,500,000 barrels, this is the largest export trade on record. It is about eight times as large as the trade of the previous season.

A large proportion of this 1,500,000 barrels came from Canada. Nova Scotia itself shipped over 200,000 barrels to Great Britain, while nearly 500,000 barrels must have gone out from the other provinces, mainly from Ontario. Nova Scotia was the surprise party last year, the crop being about 300,000 barrels, although some estimate it at about 500,000. The first figures are more nearly correct. Attorney-General Longley, speaking recently of Nova Scotia's apple production, says: "The industry is steadily growing. When, having exhausted the local demand, we found the English market open to our apples, our horticulturists began planting fresh orchards and setting out more trees. It takes ten years before a tree begins to bear, but this increased planting will soon tell, and I suppose the poor English apple-grower will be driven further out of his own market. It costs him $1.50 to produce a barrel of apples growing on the tree; the cost to the Canadian grower would not be more than 40 cents."

The Eastern States produced a large crop, of which much was exported, but which was mostly required for home consumption. Ontario had an excellent crop—too large, as many of the buyers and exporters learned to think when prices began tumbling around their ears.

Is there room for our trade to expand with Great Britain? During the six months ending April 1, 1895, Great Britain imported 4,149,366 bushels, or 1,383,000 barrels. This would indicate that American apples almost monopolized the British market last year. Holland and France usually export large quantities to England, but their crops last year were very poor. The lesson here would seem to be that if the export trade is to be pushed further, it can only be done in two ways—either by reducing the price of the fruit or improving its quality. This is the alternative which Canadian buyers and exporters are called upon to face.

The plain truth of the matter is that the Canadian Fruit Buyers' and Exporters' Association has got to get up and hustle if Canada's apple export trade is to be continued. It is this question of quality that must interest them, and they must school their members to send only honest fruit to Great Britain. The association is the only power in the land to do this, without resorting to cumbersome governmental inspection, and hence it is to be hoped that the association will be supported by all those who are interested in the trade. The trouble with such associations is that the small men are mean enough to stay out until all the fighting is over and then rush in to enjoy the profits.

Anyone who has followed the reports of the British market, or even the Canadian market, will have learned that poor apples bring poor prices; and yet one-third of the apples shipped would be better rotting in piles in the farmers' uncropped fields. On Oct. 19, 1894, good fall apples brought $1.50 to $1.75 in Montreal, and poor, wasty ones (of which there were lots) brought 60 to 75c., or just enough to pay for barrel and freight and nothing for the fruit. About the same time good fall apples brought 10s. 4d. in Glasgow, and rather more in Liverpool. Yet shipments only averaged 8s. 9d., and poor lots sold from 4s. to 5s.

It was the same in winter apples. On Nov. 17, the good apples brought 12s. to 16s., while the seconds brought 5s. to 12s. On Dec. 1, first-class brought 12s. to 18s. and second-class 9s. to 13s. On Jan. 19, first-class sold for 14s. to 18s. and second class 10s. to 17s. Poor apples are a losing speculation and should not for that reason be touched. Moreover, every barrel of poor apples marketed abroad affects the prices of good apples bearing the same brand. Poor Canadian apples lower the price of good Canadian apples.

Last May an article appeared in these columns entitled: "A Menace to the Apple Trade." That article dealt with "stuffing" or the placing of a few layers of choice fruit at either end and filling the centre with inferior fruit. Such conduct is reprehensible. The foreigner who gets such a barrel remarks: "Well, if this is what you call Canadian apples, I want no more of them." He doesn't, like a Canadian would, blame it on the packer. He blames it on the whole country, and Canada suffers. Cannot the association stop this?

Last year the exporters made little money; in fact, many of them lost heavily.

This was due, not only to the poor quality of the fruit, but to the crop in the Eastern States and Nova Scotia being larger than was anticipated. About the end of November the cables quoted from 12s. to 15s., but actual sales by mail showed that this was only for fancy fruit, and that a large portion was being sold at from 3s., 6s. to 8s. Shipments were made from Montreal which netted the person who made advances in that city but 40 cents per bbl.

Still, in spite of that we find two barrels of apples bringing $25 each in Montreal in May. They had been packed in the ordinary way, but kept in cold storage. About May 15 a shipment of apples was made from the Annapolis Valley to New York, and netted the shippers $8 per barrel. It is quality that counts.

So much for last season's trade. The next season is almost upon us, and it is to be hoped that exporters will take the advice of a Chicago fruit firm, and "leave the poorer half of the crop at home, and ship only the better half." Exporters should ship half the quantity and multiply last year's quality by two.

The Ontario crop is nothing like as heavy as last year. Central and northern Ontario lost all their fruit by frost. A narrow strip along Lake Huron and a wider strip along the Erie shore have an average crop. In the Niagara peninsula apples are abundant. East of Toronto the crop is average. Nova Scotia will have a good crop, not quite so large as last year, but nearly equal. The United States will have a magnificent crop, and it is expected that the quality will be much above the average. The European crop is nearly twice as large as last year, with excellent prospects as to quality.

What then is the outlook? To make a prophecy is a dangerous undertaking, a something to be done with awe and trembling, yet we will do it in this careful manner: The prices may rule higher than last year at first, but before the season is far advanced the market will probably take an easy turn. The large crop in Europe will lessen Great Britain's demand, which, as we have seen, was mostly satisfied by American apples last year. This means a lower price to United States and Canadian exporters. The market promises to be squally, and hence dealers must be advised to proceed under shortened sail.

FRUIT EXPORTERS MEET.

The Executive Committee of the Canadian Fruit Buyers' and Exporters' Association met last Friday afternoon in the Albion Hotel. J. M. Shuttleworth, of Brantford, occupied the chair. Among those present were: W. Dixon, Hamilton; David Cantelon, Clinton; J. C. Smith, Burlington; Samuel Nesbitt, Brighton; and J. A. Cooper, secretary treasurer.

The meeting was called chiefly for the purpose of arranging for the annual meeting to be held on September 10th.

Another subject discussed was the freight rates on goods moved for storing purposes. The association is anxious to secure a rate equal to one-half the local rate. Steps were taken to continue the agitation to secure this.

Preparations were made to collect full and reliable crop reports from all Canada, the United States and Europe. A full digest of this is to be presented at the annual meeting.

John Cameron, General Subscription Agent.

"CAN WE DEPEND ON YOUR QUOTATIONS?"

YES, most certainly you can. We publish THE CANADIAN GROCER for the express purpose of furnishing our subscribers with reliable information and prices, for which each subscriber pays Two Dollars per year. The buyer who follows our prices and information week after week should make 1,000 per cent. on his investment of Two Dollars. If you do not intend to read THE GROCER, don't subscribe for it. It is Two Dollars thrown away when subscribed for and not read. No, not that much, there is one dollar's worth of wrapping paper in a year's subscription.

Hardly a week goes by that we do not receive communications from subscribers asking if the price we quote on a certain article is correct. We immediately reply, giving names of houses who will sell at the prices we quote. Listen what a subscriber writes this week:

DEAR SIRS,—I started here on my own account, and the first thought that struck me was that it would be profitable for me to subscribe for THE CANADIAN GROCER to assist me. I did so, and got many very profitable pointers out of it, but what I want to ask about is the reliability of the prices you quote. For instance, in July 12th issue, page 41, you quote sal-soda, $1 to $1.25 a keg. I am charged $1.50 per keg (always take my discount at 20 days.) I kicked and showed up THE GROCER to the traveler, who asserted that we could not depend on the quotations of THE GROCER. Now, if such is the case, I have not so much use for THE GROCER. I would like to know if I have been overcharged or not.

Immediately on receipt of the above letter we got quotations from several houses, all of whom said that our quotations on sal soda were rather above than below the selling price. Our correspondent has not given us the name of the house who quoted $1.50 per keg. The traveler who said that "you cannot depend on the quotations in THE CANADIAN GROCER," is no doubt doing what is right by his firm, but it is hardly fair to THE GROCER. We say again that our quotations can always be depended on, and if any of our readers doubt our prices let them write us and we will be most delighted to verify, and, if requested, give names of houses who sell at prices quoted. We like doing this work.

Frequently a subscriber will say, "Why, I can buy at better prices than you quote." Certainly he can—if he pays cash; if he buys in large quantities; or if a house is anxious for his business. We give the regular market price—not the discount or "cut" price.

There is nothing to prevent our prices being correct. Reporters and editors are engaged expressly to secure the latest and most reliable information and prices in Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, London, Winnipeg, St. John, N. B., Halifax. They are about the markets every day. We get the latest telegrams and cables.

HOT WEATHER GROCERIES.

THERE is a time for everything. In no line of trade is this more applicable than to the grocery trade. Just now we are well into the middle of the summer. There are consequently some two or more months of hot weather in store for us, and two months more of summer trade. From now on the grocer should centre his ideas on catering for this trade. It is not last spring's business or next winter's prospects with which he has to do. What concerns him now is the present and next two months' trade.

If there is any one time in the year when people are more fastidious and exacting it is during the hot weather. The appetite of the average man or woman is more delicate, and what would be palatable in January is unpalatable in July and August. Keeping this idea prominently in view will help the grocer in catering for the summer trade.

A clean, bright store is about the first essential. It is desirable at all times, but in the summer particularly so. Windows should be frequently cleaned, and goods, shelves, chandeliers, etc., covered with gauze in order to prevent the flies from discolored them.

Then as to stock. In the hot weather consumers hardly know what they want. And as at Christmas they scan windows and shelves to satisfy curiosity, so in midsummer they scan windows and shelves for something that will coax the appetite.

It is to the satisfying of this appetite that the grocer should largely devote his energies. And in the lines of goods which are the most likely to do this there is better profit for the grocer, as a rule, than in the ordinary everyday staples.

There are jellies, potted cheese and meats, inviting little lines of canned goods, several lines of attractive package goods, "summer drinks," etc., which can be brought forward on shelves and in the window, while to be picked up here and there by the appreciative merchant who will do a little prospecting are a good many commodities and articles that will help catch both summer trade and dollars.

Special attention should be given to window displays. The very fact that housekeepers' ingenuity is taxed more during the hot weather to provide variety, calls upon the window dresser to exercise a little more of his ingenuity in order that he may help her out of her dilemma, and he should exercise it a little more frequently, for careful as a merchant may be, his window soon takes on a shabby appearance these days. And a window that is shabby is uninviting.

TO REMEDY A CUSTOMS EVIL.

The Premier stated in the Senate one day last week that he proposed between then and the next session of Parliament to consider an amendment to the Customs law whereby the Board of Appraisers and the Governmental head of the Department of Customs would be relieved of the duty of deciding cases of dispute in reference to questions of seizure and infractions of the Customs law.

It is well. The present system of settling difficulties between importers and the Customs Department is obviously contrary to the spirit of British fair play. It is a relic of mediævalism. In it we see exemplified the prosecutor adjudicating upon his own prior decisions.

Obviously, under such conditions one cannot expect justice. The "judge" may desire to be fair; but he is only human, and, naturally, he will be disposed to be quick to seize upon points that will sustain his previous ruling and slow to accept those that will tend to weaken it.

It is gratifying to see Sir Mackenzie Bowell making a move in the direction of independent adjudication on Customs disputes. When he was head of the Customs Department he ruled with an arbitrary hand, as importers well remember. And while the present head of the department is much more amenable to reason than his predecessor in office, yet that is none the less reason why the present faulty system of settling difficulties between the department and importers should not be placed on a more equitable basis: It is not in the men, but in the system, that the evil primarily lies. And it is to the credit of the Government that it realizes it, long as it has taken it to do so.

CRANBERRY CROP.

Advices from New Jersey say that the prospects for the cranberry crop this season are splendid. It is thought that in that state the yield will equal, if not exceed, the crop of 1893, the greatest on record, aggregating 1,000,000 bushels.

No facts can be got at regarding the outlook for the Canadian yield, but as our best berries come from New Jersey, and they are plentiful there, it is probable that prices of both domestic and foreign will rule low this year.

CANNED TOMATOES HIGHER.

INCREASED strength has developed during the week on the Toronto market for spot canned vegetables.

The interest is principally centred in tomatoes, and the direct cause of this is the allegation that the only packer which had any of this particular line left had sold out his last lot on Monday.

Jobbers immediately advanced their prices. Some are quoting as high as $1 for tomatoes, but this is only the exception; 90 to 95c. is probably the ruling figure, although even concessions on the inside figure can still be obtained by some customers and on certain brands.

Stocks of tomatoes in jobbers' hands are also light. Retailers, however, have been rather free buyers lately, and relatively they probably have larger stocks than the middlemen.

It will be something like two months before the new pack is on the market, and in the meantime the outlook is strong.

What the coming crop will be like is, at this stage, pure conjecture. One thing, however, is certain: the climatic conditions of the past few weeks have been favorable to the maturing of the vines. The same may be said of corn. At the moment, however, packers do not appear inclined to offer futures either in tomatoes or corn.

It is claimed that fewer peas are being put up than usual, but as the vegetable is now to be had in its natural state, the canned article is not receiving much attention.

TROUBLE OVER LOW-PRICED JAPAN TEA.

THERE has been trouble, both in Montreal and the west, over the first receipts of low-priced new crop Japans which are now coming to hand.

This is attributed by tea importers to the wet season, which has induced a ranker growth. As a result, more difficulty than usual has been experienced in making up the leaf to last year's standard on teas ranging from 15 to 18c.

One lot of 1,500 to 2,000 cases sold to a Montreal house had to be arbitrated upon, as the buyer refused to accept it because it was not according to sample. The same seller has had trouble in the west over another shipment of a similar grade of tea. When he made firm offers early in the season other brokers and commission men predicted that he would have trouble in filling the order. The teas could not match his sample except at a cost of from 1 to 2c. per lb. more. It now turns out that the predictions were right, as the buyer in the case only consented to accept the lot at a reduction in price.

In another case, one large New York and Japan house lost a good round order because it could not meet a competitor's offer. Another large Japan house, that is directly represented in Montreal, stated that it had filled one of its customer's orders at a loss. The house in question made a firm offer of a 15½c. Japan tea to a Montreal wholesaler's house, and when the time came to ship, could not make up the leaf to match the sample. It then had to send forward, as a result, a tea that cost more money and which wiped out the profit margin.

Other sales on firm offers are spoken of, on which, owing to the natural conditions, difficulty may be experienced. In the higher priced goods, say from 20c. upwards, the circumstances are different and salesmen expect to come out all right.

This trouble in making up the leaf of low-priced teas to the required standard was experienced in 1893, when a number of shipments had to be submitted to arbitration.

It is said that some salesmen will not fill orders.

LEMON SITUATION.

Despite the fact that stocks of lemons in Ontario are light the market is easy just now, as it has been for some time past. This state of affairs is probably due partly to the extended cool weather this summer, but the chief cause of the falling off in the demand and the consequent weakness of the market is the increased consumption throughout the country of hygienic waters, root beer and other "soft" drinks. These beverages are growing in popularity, and are likely to henceforth cause an appreciable decrease in the annual consumption of lemons.

It may be added that there is a lot of inferior fruit on the Toronto market. A car of Palermos arrived this week.

It may be interesting to note here that stocks of lemons in the United States are also short. Last year this time there were 406,850 boxes on the way to United States ports, the bulk being for New York. In 1893, at the same date, the quantity afloat for the American market was 456,100 boxes. At the present time the stock afloat and loading is placed at 330,000 boxes, or 176,000 less than at the corresponding date last year, and 226,000 less than on the same day in 1893.

NEW POTATOES.

The potato market is in a crowded condition. For a short time after old were out of the market new were scarce and brought good prices, but now a change has come.

A lot of American are in the market and Canadian are coming in rapidly. Usually new potatoes are put on the market gradually, but this year they came on with a rush. The result is that Canadian growers are accepting 60 to 65c. a bushel, and in some cases as low as 50c., while American shippers will hardly realize enough on carloads here and on the way to pay freight and packing charges.

The domestic crop is expected to be large and the quality excellent. Low prices are expected to rule this season.

CALIFORNIA FRUITS IN CANADA.

THE season of 1894-5 has been a remarkable one for California evaporated fruits, as far as the Canadian market is concerned. As a rule May sees the last shipments of these fruits into this country. But now July is near its close, and still California evaporated fruits are arriving and going into consumption. In fact, the demand has been unusually good. The order in which the fruit is coming in as regards quantity is apricots, peaches and nectarines. Evaporated plums receive but scant attention; they frequently turn sour.

There are several causes for the attention that California fruit is receiving on this market. The first, probably, is its cheapness, last year's crop having been enormous. Then foreign dried fruits, such, for instance, as prunes, and our own domestic dried and evaporated fruits, have not been in as good supply. Furthermore, Canadians are becoming better acquainted with methods for cooking the fruit. One of the drawbacks to the consumption of California evaporated fruit in Canada has been ignorance in this respect. And there is still a goodly portion of the population that has to learn how to cook California evaporated fruit.

California evaporated apricots, peaches, nectarines, etc., should first be washed. Then they should be allowed to soak for ten or twelve hours. Next comes the actual cooking, and that is probably the most important of all. The vessel, with its contents, should be placed upon the back or in such place on the stove as will prevent the fruit boiling, and there allowed to simmer until the contents are cooked, sugar in the meantime having been added. The packers recommend the stewing of the fruit in the water in which it has been soaked; others inform THE CANADIAN GROCER that they get better results from using fresh water when placing the fruit to stew. But this is a matter of taste.

California evaporated fruits have, like most commodities, been lately appreciating in price, and it remains to be seen whether this will have the effect of checking consumption in Canada.

LOOKING EASTWARD.

C. C. Macdonald, provincial dairy inspector for Manitoba, recently paid a visit to British Columbia with a view to seeing if that province would afford a market for Manitoba's butter and cheese. On his return he announced that the Prairie Province must look east for a place wherein to dispose of her dairy products to advantage.

HOLDING BACK CREAMERY.

THE much discussed question of buying and storing June creamery butter is again a live subject. Last season, as readers of THE CANADIAN GROCER know, the speculation proved a disastrous one, losses having been made of $3 to $4 per package on some 20,000 tubs of held creamery, some of which, in fact, is still in the ice houses in Montreal.

In the face of this costly experience, and the universally expressed desire to cultivate the British market by sending the freshest and finest butter to its consumers, it is difficult to understand some correspondence that has been carried on by A. A. Ayer & Co., a large exporting house in Montreal, and firms in Great Britain.

Ayer & Co., in the correspondence in question, state that the purchase of June creamery and its carriage until the fall is, in their opinion, a good speculation.

Now, they are entitled to this opinion, and also have a legal right to purchase and hold June creamery. At the same time, the makers of butter in Canada should remember that buyers in England have been crying out for fresh butter, and nothing but fresh butter. In fact, a leading London produce firm takes the Messrs. Ayer to task in the columns of The London Grocer for advising people to hold back their butter until the fall.

The buyer in England is the person that eats our butter, and if he does not get it to suit his palate he will not buy it. He has expressed unmistakably during the past few years that our creamery—which when fresh is the equal of any in the world—does not suit his taste.

He must have some reason, and the presumption is that the butter meets with distaste because it is stale.

The only way to do away with this prejudice is to send along fresh butter, but if the produce is carried and shipped only in September and October this cannot be done.

Already the bane of speculation has crept in, and purchases of creamery have been made in the country at a price which cannot be realized over the cable for prompt shipment in a legitimate way. These better prices are paid because the speculators hope to sell the butter in the fall as fine September creamery. They may or may not be successful in doing so, but in any event it is not a strictly honest way of doing business, and so is bound to work harm in the long run.

CUTTING PRICES.

THE CANADIAN GROCER has referred before this summer to the great shortage in all kinds of preserving fruit. The fact is again brought to mind this week by the radical cutting in the price of sugar in Montreal.

In the face of continued firmness in the tenor of advices from outside in the raw and refined product, lower prices have been established in that market by an eighth to a quarter of a cent.

The game was started first by a French wholesale house that offered a round lot of 1,500 barrels of sugar at 4c. Other houses were compelled in self defence to follow suit.

Finally, the refiners themselves took a hand, having on Friday offered granulated at 4½c. and yellows at 3½ to 3¾c.

It cannot be said that the concessions have induced any improvement in the demand. They have not, as the market is quite as dull as it was a week ago, and jobbers are now offering to sell at cost price, and some are willing to cut a fraction below it, having accepted orders at 4c. per lb.

These unsettled prices are just as apt to check as to induce the demand that dealers have been looking for during the past few weeks.

At the present writing it is evidently as far off as ever, for the distributive trade is conspicuous by its absence.

CHOICE CONFECTIONS.

THE CANADIAN GROCER has seen many handsome catalogues, but the one before us at this moment is perhaps the finest of them all. It is one issued by Huntley & Palmers, biscuit manufacturers to Her Majesty the Queen, with a view to bringing more vividly to the mind of the confectioners and grocers of the world the superior quality of their goods. The catalogue is in the form of a nicely bound book with stiff pasteboard covers, 10 inches long by 7 wide, and contains a series of plates elegantly designed and executed, representing clearly to the eye the shape and appearance of each distinct confection gotten out by the firm. The choice biscuits are reproduced so strikingly on paper that they actually seem to be real cakes piled upon a plate—and one's mouth waters as he looks.

CUSTOMS CHANGES.

Shortly before prorogation, the House of Commons, on motion of the Minister of Finance, changed the duty on condensed milk, condensed coffee with milk, milk foods, and all similar preparations, from 35 to 30 per cent. ad valorem.

On motion of Mr. Foster, the following items were added, by way of amendment, to Schedule "A" of the Customs Act:

Salmon, fresh, n.e.s., ½c. per lb., provided that such salmon may be imported free of duty upon proclamation of the Governor-in-Council, which may be issued whenever it appears to his satisfaction that fresh salmon may be imported into the United States from Canada free of duty.

Sawed boards, planks and deals, planed or dressed on one or both sides, when the edges thereof are jointed or tongued and grooved, 25 per cent. ad valorem, provided that such lumber may be imported free of duty upon proclamation of the Governor-in-Council, which may be issued whenever it appears to his satisfaction that similar lumber from Canada may be imported into the United States free of duty.

MONEY AND STOCKS.

QUITE a little more life has developed on the Toronto Stock Exchange since the opening on Monday morning. And it could afford to have more life, it last week being as dull as the proverbial dish water. Montreal and Toronto Street Railways and Montreal Gas were the leaders in the movement. On Tuesday, Toronto Street Railway sold up to 84½.

* * *

Business is brisk on the New York Stock Exchange this week. The improved crop conditions appear to be primarily the cause of the improvement, while Granger stocks is the class that is enjoying the lion's share of the increased activity. "We have done more business in New York stocks to-day," remarked a Toronto broker to me on Tuesday, "than we have in any one day this year. We won't do much in Chicago until wheat is up to 80c. per bushel." If this latter remark be true, the day of activity is still some distance off.

* * *

In transactions in municipal bonds the cynosure is, of course, the sale of Toronto's 3½ per cent. $1,224,000 bonds at 97.06 per cent. to a New York firm. Toronto has been dilly-dallying with these particular bonds for some time, and although the price received is higher than hitherto realized for similar bonds on this side of the Atlantic, a large part of the profit has been eaten up by unnecessary expense, while the civic authorities have lost a good deal of the little reputation for stability they may have possessed. The final result is, of course, gratifying, but it is more owing to good luck than to good management.

ARGUROS.

TALKED OF CALIFORNIA FRUITS.

Mr. Ralph Harron, of San Francisco, representing Fontana & Co., canners, of that place, was in Toronto last week. "Apricots," he said, referring to the California fruit crop, "are a little higher than last year. The crop is not half as large as it should be, and we look for a firm market. Taking fruits generally, however, there will be a fair crop in California this season and prices will be reasonable."

Mr. Harron considered trade prospects with Canada in his particular line good. "But, of course," he added, "we have a terrible duty to 'buck' against. It amounts to about 72c. per case. Then, to this duty you must add 68c. per case freight—in all, counting duty and freight, a tax of $1.40 per case to lay these goods down in Canada. I think your Canadian packers must be making barrels of money," he added jocularly.

Eventually our conversation turned upon the relative size of Canadian and California tins of canned fruit, during which he said: "It is a mistake to think that California fruits are put up in three pound tins. We have no three-pound tins. Your standard tins are threes; ours are two and a half pounds. The English standard is the same."

D. GUNN, FLAVELLE & CO. ON TOP.

AN interesting game of baseball was played Saturday afternoon between teams representing the firms of Park, Blackwell & Co. and D. Gunn, Flavelle & Co., to settle the much-talked-of question as to which team should be entitled to claim the championship of the Pork Packers' and Provision Dealers' League. Mr. Blackwell, of Park, Blackwell & Co., and Mr. Gunn and Mr. J. R. Dundas, of D. Gunn, Flavelle & Co., were present to help encourage their employees. The game was interesting from start to finish, the principal features being home runs by Taylor, Rowney and Gunn, and the good fielding and all-round batting of the D. Gunn, Flavelle Co. team, which finally won by a score of 41 to 5.

THE NORTHERN ASSURANCE CO.

It is a handsome tribute to an insurance company to be able to say of it that it is both wealthy and is prompt in settling claims. After one of the big fires in Toronto this year, the Northern was the first British company to pay up. The day after the fire, the agent announced the company's readiness. The Northern has just had its fifty-ninth annual meeting at the head office in Aberdeen. The year 1894 was one of the best in its history, the profit on fire business alone amounting to £84,236. After paying all claims, expenses, and dividends, the company added £50,000 to its fire reserve fund, which now amounts to £950,000 ($4,750,000). In fact, the accumulated capital and funds of the Northern are now $36,465,000; its revenue $5,545,000, and the deposit made with the Dominion Government is $200,000. The company lost its widely known and esteemed general manager, Mr. Valentine, last year. His successor is Mr. Henry Edward Wilson, who has been with the Northern since 1866, and as secretary of the London board since 1881. As Mr. Wilson was in charge of the company during the greater part of 1894, owing to Mr. Valentine's illness, the success of the year is largely attributable to his excellent management. The manager of the Canadian branch is Mr. Robert W. Tyre, who has had a long experience in insurance management, and who is noted for honorable dealing and careful policy.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, July 25, 1895.

GROCERIES.

CANNED goods is probably the most interesting line on the market at the moment, especially tomatoes, in which there has been another advance on spot. Next in interest comes sugar. Not that it is at all active, but because the demand is at last showing slight signs of an improvement. Good Rio coffees on spot are in light supply. Teas are occupying fair attention for the season, and prices are steady to firm. Foreign dried fruits are firm and in fair demand. Payments are moderate.

CANNED GOODS.

All tomatoes in packers' hands are now cleaned out, it is claimed, and this has had the effect of stiffening the market for spot goods. As a consequence, jobbers are now asking from 5 to 10c. per dozen more than they were a week ago, 90 to 95c. per dozen now being the ruling figure for standard brands. Corn is in fair demand at last week's figures. Peas are of course not receiving much attention, but the feeling is strong on account of the expected lightness of the pack. Salmon continues in good demand, with jobbers holding cheap brands 5c. per dozen higher than a week ago. There is nothing new to report from the Coast. At the time of writing new pack lobster had not arrived, although it was expected every day, the bills of lading having been received. Jobbers' prices for the new pack will be about $1.90 to $2 for tall; half-pounds flats, $1.40, and pound flats, $2.40. There is not yet much enquiry. We quote: Tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; corn, 85c.; peas, 85c. for ordinary; sifted, 90c. to $1; extra sifted, $1.40; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.20; strawberries, $2.40; apples, 3's, 90c to $1, gallons, $2.25 to 2.40, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.35 to $1.65, in tall tins; do., Cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins. Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.65 to $1.75; 2's, $2.65 to $2.75; 6's, $8 to $8.25; 14's, $18 to $19. Chicago canned beef, 1's, $1.75 per dozen; 2's, $2.85. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEE.

There is a fair demand on spot for good green Rio coffees, the supply of which is limited. We quote green in bags: Rio (new season), 19 to 21c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 20 to 22½c.; Java, 28 to 33c.; Mocha, 30 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

RICE.

Trade continues moderate at unchanged prices. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5½c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 3¼ to 5½c.

SPICES.

There is no change to report either in regard to prices or volume of business. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 22 to 28c. per lb.

NUTS.

Almonds and Brazil nuts are firmer in New York, but there is no change here. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

Both the refiners and wholesalers report a slightly increased demand for sugar, and a few odd cars have changed hands. One feature to be noted is that orders are being received from retailers who bought heavily some time ago. We quote prices: Granulated, No. 1, 4¼ to 4¾c.; do., No. 2, 3¾ to 4½c.; yellows, 3¼ to 3¾c.; Demerara, 3½c.

SYRUPS.

Dark syrups are scarce, although there is not much demand for any kind. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

Dull and unchanged. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 30 to 32c.; half-barrels, 33½ to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 37c.

TEAS.

An increased demand is reported for Ceylon teas, there being a fair business doing in them. China teas are not receiving much attention, and desirable lots of medium grades are scarce. The Japan market is firm, and we hear of one house in that country advancing prices 1 to 1½c. per lb. on orders already contracted, in consequence of which some importers have withdrawn their orders. The China market is very firm on teas, from 8d. to 2s. 6d. Some samples just received on the Toronto market are quoted 2d. dearer than a year ago. We quote ruling prices to retailers: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

Valencia raisins continue in good demand at from 85c. per box for off-stalk and 5½c. for selected. The latter kind is almost cleaned out of this market. We quote: Off-stalk, 80 to 90c. per box; fine off-stalk, 4 to 4½c.; selected, 5½ to 6c.; layers, 4½ to 5½c.

No change is to be noted in the current situation. The demand continues fair and prices unchanged. We quote as before: Filiatras, half-barrels, 4 to 4½c., barrels, 4¼c.; fine Filiatras, half-bbls., 4¾c., bbls., 4¾c.; Patras, 5½c., in cases; Casalinas, 4½ to 5¾c.; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7c. in cases and half-cases. The New York market is firmer than it was.

Bosnia prunes are scarce on spot, stocks apparently being confined to a few houses, while demand is good. This market has not been so bare for a long time. There are quite a few French prunes on the market, but the greater proportion of these appear to be cheap dried up stock. We quote Bosnias at 5½ to 7c. and Bordeaux at 4½ to 6½c.

Sultana raisins are in moderate demand at 6½ to 7c.

Figs are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, 4¼ to 4½c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

Dates are quiet and unchanged at from 4¼c. up.

Another advance is announced in the price of California evaporated fruits. This makes a gain of 1½c. in two weeks. We quote: Apricots and peaches, 12½ to 13½c. per lb.; nectarines, 13½c.; pitted plums, 12½ to 13c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

Fine tub and creamery butter are firm with a tendency to higher prices, but intermediate and low grades find no sale at all. We quote: Old summer dairy and store packed, 7 to 9c.; fresh prints, 15 to 16c.; fresh tubs, 14 to 15c.; Fresh creamery—Tubs, 17 to 18c.; pound prints, 18 to 19c.

Cheese is said to exhibit a firm feeling, and new Canadian is being sold at the factories at 8c. per lb., while 8½c. is the Toronto quotation. Last August and September makes bring 10 to 10½c.

GREEN FRUIT.

The feature of the market this week may be said to have been the large arrivals of green fruit. Raspberries early in the week were very plentiful and went down to a pretty low figure. The season for them is now on the wane, and very few reds and black caps will be seen from now out. Other small domestic fruits are rather scarce. California green fruit, such as peaches, plums and pears, are coming on the market quite freely and find a pretty good demand at a fair price. Lemons are easier, while the better classes of oranges are out of the market. The situation as regards other fruits has not changed. We quote prices: Messina lemons, 300's, 360's, and 420's, $4.50 to $5. Oranges—California seedlings, $3 to $3.50; California and Mediterranean sweets, $3.50 to $4; Bananas, $1 to $1.75; cocoanuts, $4.50 a sack; cucumbers, Canadian, in barrels, 30 to 35c. per doz.; new cabbage, $1.50 per bbl.; tomatoes, 60c. to $1 per crate. Green California fruit—Peaches, $1.25 to $1.75; pears, $3.25 to $3.75; plums, $2.75 to $3.50; red currants, 75c. to $1 per basket; red raspberries, 6 to 7c. a quart; gooseberries, 60c. to $1 a basket; green apples, $2.50 to $3.50 a barrel; watermelons, 20 to 25c. each; black currants, $1.25 to $1.50 per basket; black caps, 8 to 10c.

EGGS—Are firmer than ever at 11c. per doz.

HONEY—Is quoted at 7 and 8c. in bulk, strained, and $1.50 to $1.80 a dozen in the comb.

HAY—Baled hay brings $12.50 to $13.50 in car lots and $14.50 to $15 in ton lots. It is thought that the price will not be lower this season.

We quote as follows: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; haddock, 5 to 6c.; Labrador herring, $3.25 to $3.50 per half barrel and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, $2.50 per half barrel, and $4.50 to $4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, $3 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 3c.; pike, 4½ to 5c. per lb.; flitched cod, 5c.; tinnan haddies, 8c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 10 to 13c.; Georgian Bay trout, 6½ to 7c.; white fish, 7c.; Restigouche salmon, 20 to 25c.; blue fish, 9c.; mackerel, 20c.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

No change in the market is noted. Dressed hogs bring $6 to $6.25 per 100 lbs. Smoked meats find a good demand. We quote products:

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 8c. for carload lots, and 8½c. for small lots; backs, 8½ to 9c.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 11 to 11½c.; rolls, 8 to 8½c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 10½ to 11c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 11½c.; small hams, 12c.; pickled, 10 to 10½c.; backs, 10 to 10½c.; picnic hams, 7½ to 8c.

OATS—Quoted at 40c. per bush.

BARLEY—Quoted at 46 to 48c. per bush.

FLOUR—Is lower in price and weaker, and the outlook is by no means inviting. We quote: Straight roller, $3.75 to $3.80; Manitoba, $4.25; patents, $4.50.

BREAKFAST FOODS—The market is quiet, and prices are unchanged. We quote: Standard oatmeal, $4.35; rolled oats, $4.35; rolled wheat, $2.75 in 100 lb. barrels; cornmeal, $3.50; split peas, $3.50; pot barley, $3.75 to $4 per bbl.

SALT.

Trade is good and prices unchanged. We quote: Barrels, 85c.; coarse sacks, 58c.; fine sacks, 60c.; dairy, $1.25; rock, $10.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW

HIDES—The local demand is equal to the supply, and tanners are buying cautiously, as they seem to have no faith in the future market. Eight cents is still quoted for No. 1 and 7c. for No. 2.

SHEEPSKINS—Are not quoted. Lamb skins sell at 35c, and shearlings at 25c.

CALFSKINS—Nothing doing.

WOOL—The market has gone beyond the most sanguine expectations of the dealers, and Canadian combed wool is now fully 25c. higher in price than it was 12 months ago. Other wools are not affected so much. Washed combing is still quoted at 23c.

PETROLEUM.

There begins to be some enquiry for illuminating oils, but jobbers do not seem anxious to sell or retailers to buy. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 16 to 17c.; carbon safety, 18 to 19c.; Canadian water white, 18 to 19c.;

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, July 25, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE grocery market has ruled quiet during the week, in fact, more than usually so. It is natural to expect dulness for a few weeks in midsummer, but this has been more marked than usual this spring. A prominent factor in producing this result has been the light supplies of fruit. This has led to dulness in sugar. In fact, so much has this been the case this week that jobbers have been cutting prices freely on the staple to induce demand, but with little result so far. In other lines such as tea, coffee, spices, etc., quietness is the rule. In teas no further large contracts for future delivery are spoken of, but there is some complaint regarding the grading of the first receipts of low priced Japans. Canned goods rule firm in tone on all lines, values being strongly held on vegetables, fruit and salmon, as previously noted.

SUGAR.

The sugar market continues dull, and sellers are evidently at a loss for some method with which to induce the demand. Despite the fact, therefore, that the tenor of outside advices continues firm, continued absence of demand has led to shading in prices here, both from first and second hands. Refiners have filled orders for round lots of granulated at 4½c., which is a decline of ½c., while there have been sales from jobbers' hands for 4¼c. and even less money. How long this cutting in sugar is going to last is difficult to say, but the fact remains that this week at least values are very unsettled, and we quote granulated at 4½ to 4¼c., and yellows 3½ to 3¼c., as to quality.

TEA.

The tea market is still characterized by more or less indifference on the part of buyers. There have been some contracts for new crop Japans settled during the week on stock ranging from 18 to 21c., but buyers as a rule are extremely backward. In a jobbing way there has been no great activity to note, though the distributing trade seems to be fair. We quote: Low grade Japans, 12 to 13c.; medium, 15 to 18c., and fine to choice, 19 to 30c.

SYRUPS.

Extreme quietness has characterized the sugar market during the week, but values rule steady at 1¾ to 2¼c. per lb. as to quality.

MOLASSES.

No new development is to note in this market. The stock here of all grades is well reduced and prices are very firmly held. We quote values firm at 37c. in single puncheons, and 35c. in large lots for Barbadoes, and 36c. in single puncheons and 33½ to 34c. in large lots for Porto Rico.

RICE.

There is a moderate trade doing in rice and prices rule steady as follows: Japan, $4.30 to $4.50; crystal Japan, $4.80 to $5; standard B, $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.37½ to $5; and Carolina, $7 to $7.50.

SPICES.

There is little or no activity to note in this market. We quote jobbing prices as follows: Penang black pepper, 8 to 10c.; white pepper, 13 to 15c.; cloves, whole, 10 to 20c.; cassia, whole, 10 to 20c.; nutmegs, 40 to 90c.; Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c., as to grade.

COFFEES.

The coffee market continues quiet and unchanged under a limited jobbing demand. We quote green: Maracaibo, 20 to 22c.; Rio, 19 to 20c.; Java, 24 to 28c.; Jamaica, 19 to 21c.; and Mocha, 27 to 31c.

DRIED FRUITS.

There has been nothing new or striking in the demand for California raisins. In fact, it has been rather quiet this week, while prices rule steady at 6½c. for 4-crown and 5½c. for 3-crown.

Valencia raisins have ruled quiet, and with ample supplies sellers still show a disposition to concede where a sale is probable. In fact, this week prices are nominal, for no business of importance has been put through. Off-stalk are easily available here at 2½ to 4¼c. as to quality, and layers at 4¼ to 5½c. as to grade.

The currant market continues much as it was reported a week ago. Advices from abroad are of a firm character, but spot prices are unchanged as follows: Barrels, 3¼c.; half-barrels, 3½c., and cases 3¾ to 4½c., as to grade.

Prunes and dates are quiet and unchanged at 4 to 4¼c. for the former and 3½ to 4c. for the latter.

Basket and bag figs have been received in a small way from California, and sell at 4 to 5c. for ordinary, and in boxes 9 to 12c. as to grade.

Evaporated fruits are also offering in a moderate way; peaches, 12 to 15c.; pears, 10 to 13c.; apricots, 14 to 19c., and prunes, 10 to 11c., as to quality.

NUTS.

There is nothing new in regard to nuts. We quote: Brazils, 8 to 9c.; shelled almonds, 18 to 25c.; Tarragona, 11 to 13c.;

CLEARING..

CANNED GOODS.

There is no change in canned goods market. In vegetables, staple lines like peas, tomatoes and corn are held firm. The same remarks apply with even more force to all lines of fruit. In canned salmon the market has ruled on the quiet side, and we do not hear of any further large lots being put through. We quote: Lobsters, $5.75 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $10.50; salmon, $4.80 to $5.20; tomatoes, 80 to 90c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $3 per doz.; corn, 85c. to $1 per doz.; peas, 85 to 95c. per doz.; strawberries, $2 to $2.25; raspberries, $1.75 to $2; green gages, $2 to $2.25; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2 to $2.25, and 3-lb. apples, $1 to $1.10.

GREEN FRUIT.

The green fruit market has been characterized by the usual features during the past week. There have been moderate arrivals of California, southern and domestic fruit during the week, which have been turned over mostly at public auction, and all have realized fairly steady prices. Receipts of new Southern States and Canadian summer apples have been prominent in this respect, and they have sold well.

APPLES—The market is lightly supplied. A carload of southern Illinois apples sold for $2.35 to $2.40 per bbl., and a carload of Canadian summer apples at $2.90. Fairly good receipts of apples are expected along here in the course of a few days.

ORANGES—Are scarce and firmly held at $1.50 to $2.50 in half-boxes, and $3 to $4 in boxes.

LEMONS—The lemon market is quiet and steady at $3 to $5, as to grade.

BANANAS—The market has been well cleaned up of bananas, and prices are firmer than a week ago at $1 to $1.75 per bunch.

WATERMELONS—Receipts of watermelons have been fair, and they are selling at 20 to 30c. each.

In peaches there are freer receipts and a slow sale, which have resulted in easier prices. Car lots sold this week at 65c. to $1.25, and plums $1.25 to $2.30 per box, as to quality. Pears moved at $1 per box for California, while Southern States pears ranged from $6 to $7 per bbl.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The egg market has ruled very firm during the week, and prices are held higher at 12c. for choice and 10½ to 11½c. for medium to fine.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—No change to note. We quote: Syrup, 50 to 60c. per tin, and sugar 6½ to 7½c.

HOPS—Unchanged at 5 to 8½c., as to quality.

HONEY—Quiet and featureless at 7 to 9c. for extracted and 10 to 12c. for comb stock.

BEANS—No change. We quote: Hand-picked, $1.70 to $1.80, and lower grades, $1.30 to $1.50.

TALLOW—No change to note, and prices steady at 5 to 6c. per lb.

POTATOES—New potatoes are firmly held under light receipts at 75c. per bag in a jobbing way.

HAY—The firm tone of the market is unabated and prices have stiffened another 50c. since our last, as No. 1 timothy cannot be had now under $10.75 to $11, and No. 2

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

The flour market is quiet and steady. In Manitoba grades a fair business has been transacted during the week both for local and export account, but Ontario grades continue to move slow and few lots have changed hands. We quote: Winter wheat, $4.75 to $4.90; spring wheat, patents, $4.65; straight roller, $4.50; extra, $4 to $4.10; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.50.

In oatmeal business continues quiet, sales being principally in small lots to fill actual requirements. We quote: Standard, bbls., $4.05 to $4.15; granulated, bbls., $4.10 to $4.20; rolled oats, bbls., $4.10 to $4.20.

The market for feed is very firm and business is active. We quote: Bran, $17; shorts, $19; mouillie, $22 to $23.

PROVISIONS.

The demand for provisions continues of a limited character, and the market rules quiet and easy. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $16; Canadian short cut, mess, $18; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 11c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9 3/4 to 10 1/4 c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 11c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 7 1/4 to 7 3/4 c.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The cheese market is quiet and unchanged. Business was small on spot and values are more or less nominal. We quote: Finest Ontario makes, 8c.; medium to good ditto, 7 3/4 to 7 7/8 c.; Townships' makes, 7 3/4 to 7 7/8 c.; other Quebec makes, 7 3/8 to 7 1/2 c.; under-grades ditto, 7 to 7 1/8 c.

The butter market is quiet and steady. Values are firmly held. We quote: Finest late made creamery, 17 1/2 to 18c.; medium to good, 16 1/2 to 17c.; Townships' dairy, 14 to 14 1/2 c.; Western dairy, 13 to 13 1/2.

ASHES.

The market for ashes rules quiet and steady. We quote: First pots, $4.10 to $4.15, and second, $3.80 to $3.85, while pearls are $5.25 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

The first receipts of new Canadian summer apples were received here on Friday. They sold at $2.90 per bbl.

Vipond, McBride & Co. were receivers of raspberries this week both from the west and south.

Three carloads of watermelons were turned into stock on Wednesday by Hart & Tuckwell.

The Lake Superior landed shipments for Birks, Corner & Co. and Caverhill, Hughes & Co.

The steamship Glanton is expected this week with 38,000 bags of raw beet sugar for the Canada Sugar Refinery, from Hamburg.

Ewing, Herron & Co. report continued strength in cream of tartar. It has gone up fully 15 per cent. in the last fortnight or ten days.

Mr. Rose, of Rose & Laflamme, is paying a short visit to his family on the Maine sea coast this week.

Laporte, Martin & Co. are still large holders of leading brands of Valencia off-stalk and layer raisins.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., July 25, 1895.

TRADE during the past week has been quiet. Collections are reported fair from the country, but in the city they continue slow. Prices are rather easier in most lines. New teas are now here, principally high grade. Prices are firm. Those which have arrived are direct importations, and come via C.P.R. In spice there is but little demand at this season, and prices show no change. In cream of tartar the foreign market is much firmer, prices being now quoted 10s. higher than some which is now afloat for this market. Buyers are very slow at taking hold of canned goods. They think prices high, but are beginning to be anxious to get their peas spoken for.

OIL—The demand continues light. Cod oil at this time is rather higher and scarce, but as it will be coming in more freely shortly it is expected prices will then drop to old figures. We quote: American, best burning oil, 22 3/4 c.; Canadian, best, 21 1/2 c.; second, 18c., no charge for barrels.

SALT—Demand is light. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory filled, $1 to $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.80 to $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartons, $2 per doz.; cheese salt, bbls.; bulk, $2.70.

CANNED GOODS—The local demand is but light. Some few offers on round lots have been made, but as a rule canners have not accepted. The chief interest lies in peas. Some canners have advanced their prices as high as $1.05 delivered. In all lines the present active competition leads buyers to be very exacting, and to, perhaps too often, get their own way. In salmon, few have been bought, and buyers are still looking for better terms. Sellers are still firm, though there is quite a difference in prices asked, and some will not quote at all. We quote: Corn, 90c. to $1; peas, 95c.; tomatoes, $1 to $1.05; new gallon apples, $2.25; corned beef, 2 lb. tins, $2.75 to $3; 1-lb. tins, $1.70 to $1.75; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $3 to $3.15; 2's, $2 to $2.10; salmon, $1.40 to $1.50; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; clams, $5.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $3 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1.

DRIED FRUIT—In this line there is very little to report at this season. Nearly every retail grocer has bought a currant cleaner, so it would look as if the demand from wholesalers for this article would be small. However, they may soon tire of their new toy. In raisins, except loose muscatels, the market is weak. In currants, there is a prospect of rather higher prices when the new come in. By this time last season quite a quantity of Valentias had already been contracted for, but this year, though prices have been quoted, no sales have been reported. In dried and evaporated apples there is no demand. Prices are low. The sale of nuts at this season is small. The tendency in peanuts and Brazils is higher. We quote: Currants, 1 lb. cartons, 7 1/2 c.; bulk, 6 1/2 c.; dried apples, 5 1/2 to 6c.; evaporated apples, 7 1/2 to 8c.; Sultana raisins, 6 to 7c.; Valencia, 4 to 4 1/4 c.; layers, 5 to 5 1/4 c.; London layers, $2.25; loose muscatels, 5 1/2 to 6c.; currants, bbls., 3 1/4 to 3 1/2 c.; half-cases, 3 3/4 to 4c.; dates, 4

GREEN FRUIT—At this season the demand is heavy. Large quantities of wild berries of all kinds are shipped to the States to be manufactured. In oranges and lemons the market continues firm. The demand for bananas is very large. We quote: Strawberries, 12 to 15c.; raspberries, 10 to 12c.; cherries, 20 to 25c.; tomatoes, $1.75 to $2.25; apples, $4 per bbl.; cucumbers, 4c. each; rhubarb, ¾c.; Messinas, $4.50 to $4.75; lemons, $5 to $5.50; bananas, $1.75 to $2.50; sweet potatoes, $4.50 per bbl.

DAIRY PRODUCE—The cheese market is still quiet with but small quantities moving. The New Brunswick factories are backward to sell at present prices, and buyers equally backward to meet them at their offers. Eight cents delivered is about the price at which they are being bought from the factories, though even at this price buyers are backward, while the factory man say they are losing money. In butter the demand is light and prices are easy. There is very little sale for creamery except at low figures. Prints find a fair demand. Eggs are steady. We quote: Dairy, 14 to 15c.; new creamery prints, 18 to 19c.; cheese, new, 8½ to 9c.; eggs, 10 to 10½c.; creamery, tubs, 17 to 18c.

MOLASSES—Stocks held here are quite large at present, though of the best quality there is not so much. Some Trinidad which arrived by the last steamer is said to be particularly fine. Prices of the best qualities are firm. In round lots from the wharf to wholesale dealers 32c. has been about the best price paid. There will be very little more direct molasses come here this season, if any. The demand is fair, having somewhat fallen off during the past week. Large quantities have been shipped into the country. We quote: Barbadoes, 34 to 35c.; Porto Rico, 35 to 37c.; St. Croix, 33 to 34c.; Trinidad, 32 to 33c.; bbl., 34 to 35c.

SUGAR—Sales have been rather better during the past week. There is a rather firmer feeling. Yellows are firmer than granulated in this market. Some holders are not offering, as higher prices are expected. We quote: Granulated, 4¼ to 4¾c.; yellow, 3¾ to 3¾c.; Paris lump, 5 to 5½c.; powdered, 5 to 5½c.

FISH—Trade has been light during the week. The fresh fish business is largely over. The catch all round has been small, and now is about over, except in haddock. Dried are rather firmer, except in pollock. Pickled are in very light demand, and smoked herring also continue very dull. Salmon fishers have been quite disappointed, owing to the very light catch. We quote: Fresh haddock, 2 to 2½c. per lb; dry, $1.25 to $1.50; halibut, 8c.; large cod, $3.75 to $4; medium, $3.25 to $3.50; small, $2.75; pollock, $1.40; bay herring, $1.30 to $1.40 per half-bbl.; Shelburne, No. 1, $4 per bbl.; half-bbl., $2.40 to $2.50; smoked herring, 5½ to 6c.; Digby chickens, 10c.; salmon, 17 to 18c.; shad, half-bbl., $5.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—In flour the demand is light and millers report sales small. The stocks held are still quite large, prices are easy, and again marked lower. Reports from the west are, however, rather firmer. In cornmeal the two mills here are now under one management. They report the demand very active at quotations. Oats are in light demand and rather easier. Feed continues high and hard to get. We quote: Flour, Manitoba, $5.00 to $5.15; best Ontario, $4.90 to $5.00; medium, $4.80 to $4.90; oatmeal, $4.50 to $4.60; cornmeal, $2.85 to $2.90; middlings, $2.40 to $2.50 on track; bran, $2.20 to $2.25; hand-picked beans, $1.90; prime $1.75 to $1.80; oats, Ontario, 44 to 45c.; hay, $10 to $10.50; pot barley, $4.15 to $4.35; round peas, $3.75 to $3.90; split, $3.75 to $3.90; P. E. I. oats, 44 to 45c. on track, by the car.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

J. Hunter White, agent for Bryant's root beer, reports that one customer alone has handled 35 gross.

G. Kerr Bertin assigned during the past week. Liabilities small.

The early closing movement has reached Fredericton. It is to be hoped it will be more successful than it has been here.

I. C. Bowman has been appointed agent for the Cincinnati Syrup and Molasses Co. for the sale of New Orleans molasses in this city.

The order from Ottawa that only 30 fathom nets shall be used in sturgeon fishing is a great disappointment to the fishermen. They say it practically puts them out of business.

New Brunswick strawberry shippers must have learned from returns of berries received this season that it would pay them to use the American boxes, as in them the fruit keeps much better when shipping.

W. H. Fowler and Arthur L. Calhoun, the latter of whom succeeded his father, John R. Calhoun, in the cornmeal milling business, are now in a partnership, under the name of Fowler & Calhoun. The two mills have an output of 275 bbls. per day. A more satisfactory and larger business is expected to result from the new order.

P.E.I. MARKETS.

Business in produce is not large. Oats are much easier, with but fair demand. New potatoes come in slowly. New hay is becoming a factor in the market. We quote: Old hay, $5.50 to $6.50; oats, 38c.; hides, 7 to 8c.; raspberries and currants, 10 to 12c. Butter in good demand at 16c.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. N. Christie, representing Thomas Doherty & Co., Montreal and Japan, was in Toronto this week, and found trade above expectations, having sold most of the new Japan teas the firm had consigned.

W. Boulter, the senior member of W. Boulter & Sons, leaves shortly for an extended business trip to the Maritime Provinces.

THE CROPS IN MANITOBA.

Mr. J. Harris, formerly grain inspector at Toronto, but now living in Winnipeg, is in the "Queen City" renewing old acquaintanceships. He is looking well.

"The crops," he said, in reply to a query of mine, "are excellent. The only question now is the securing of them."

"Some reports state that the crops are further advanced than they were at this time last year," I ventured.

"Well, they are not," he rejoined, with some emphasis. "And I learn from correspondence I have received to-day that they have had a great deal of rain up there. That will tend to make the grain grow instead of ripen. But the acreage is larger and the yield promises to be much more abundant than last year. On the whole, therefore, the outlook is good."

BROUGHT BACK A GOOD REPORT.

J. B. E. Poirier, president of the Grocers' Clerks' Association of Montreal, has returned from a pleasant vacation spent at Metapedia, Que. He says people have no idea of what a fine valley the Metapedia is. If those people who go to the States and work in factories would take up land there they would soon have homes of their own, and be independent and comfortable. The land is rich, well watered and fertile, and there are no rocks.

SCOTCH SUGAR IN GOTHAM.

Willett & Gray's Statistical: "German granulated and Scotch yellow sugar has been arriving freely here and at the outports, and a considerable quantity is still on the way, but the last advances noted in London and Hamburg for the week have brought prices above the parity of our market, and further purchase is curtailed for the time being." They also seem to think that "those parties who had the courage and forethought to order from abroad stand to make a very good thing out of it."

SHE'S ALL RIGHT.

What is the matter with the Manitoba hen? Yesterday a shipment of two carloads of eggs went through over the C. P. R., from Toronto to British Columbia. Eggs have sold this summer at some points in Manitoba as low as 4 cents a dozen, and there does not appear to be any reason why a trade between the Prairie and the Mountain Province should not be opened up.—Free Press, Winnipeg.

HAMILTON TRADE GOSSIP.

TRADER prospects have improved rather than otherwise since my last. Prospects have probably improved relatively more than the actual volume of business, although in this latter respect the conditions are more satisfactory than they were. The cause, of which this is the effect, is the beneficent rains which have lately fallen throughout the country, thereby stimulating the fruit and cereal crops.

The tea market remains in much about the same position as before. The recent advance in fine grade Ceylons and Assams has been well maintained. The poor make of this season's Japan teas continues to be a feature of the market, and many houses are discussing whether they shall or not take some of the teas that have been shipped to them.

Sugar trade has improved, although it is yet dull, comparatively speaking, for the season. There are, however, a number of new buyers in the market, and every order coming to hand now contains a few barrels of sugar. The market is firm, with jobbers here quoting granulated at $4\frac{1}{4}$ to $4\frac{3}{4}$ ¢; dark yellows at $3\frac{1}{2}$ to $3\frac{3}{4}$ ¢; bright yellows at $3\frac{1}{2}$ to 4¢. "Judging from the statistical position," remarked one jobber to me, "there is no doubt sugar will have to advance. The only thing that is having a contrary influence is the fact that, the world over, stocks in speculators' hands are accumulating."

The canned goods market is firm, but the jobbers here do not, at the moment at any rate, seem disposed to put prices up above the figures that have been ruling during the last few weeks. The idea for tomatoes is still 82 to 85¢, and for peas and corn 80 to 85¢. "There was a packer in town yesterday," remarked a jobber to me, "and he claimed to have received a bid of 90¢ from Toronto. I don't know whether he was telling the truth or not." The demand for canned vegetables is being maintained. "Extraordinarily so," as one jobber put it.

Business in currants and raisins continues brisk. "Now, when we get down to two or three hundred cases," remarked a wholesaler, "we advise our travelers that we are out, knowing that it will be so unless we have fresh supplies near at hand. To-day our stock is bare. Of course, the reason for all this scarcity is consequent upon the scarcity of domestic fruit in so many sections of the country. There are no common currants on this market, but we are selling fine goods in cases at $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $6\frac{1}{4}$ ¢." Prunes are in active demand, and sell readily at from 6 to $6\frac{1}{4}$ ¢.

Mr. George Bristol, of Lucas, Steele & Bristol, leaves Saturday next on a trip that I envy him. He will take the C.P.R. steamer at Windsor for Port Arthur. Then he will go westward on the railway, stopping off at Winnipeg, Banff, and other places. Arriving at Revelstoke, he will take a six days' journey into the Kootenay country, via railway, steamboat and mule. He will utilize the mule, I should, perhaps, explain, in crossing the Rockies. Once again back to the main line of the C.P.R., he will proceed to the Coast, and, after spending a few days in the principal cities there, will take steamer for San Francisco. From the latter place he will go on to Salt Lake, and try if he can swim in its waters. Then he will go on to Omaha, Chicago and home. Some 8,000 miles are included in the trip, and Mr. Bristol expects to be away five or six weeks.

The F. F. Dalley Co. inform me that they have had an increasing number of enquiries lately for their Spanish glycerine oil dressing. This is a waterproof dressing for anything in the shape of leather.

One of the partners of the Dominion Vinegar Works informs me that business is being well maintained and that trade is ahead of what it was at this time last year.

Mr. W. H. Gillard returned home on Monday from his trip to the Pacific Coast. He had a pleasant trip, and speaks hopefully of the prospects throughout the west. While in British Columbia he went up the Fraser river and witnessed the salmon catching and canning operations. What has already been said about the lightness of the catch and firmness of prices, Mr. Gillard corroborates.

Balfour & Co., wholesale grocers, James street, have secured the premises at McNab and Morris streets, and will move into them in a few months. In the meantime the building is being prepared for its coming new occupants.

F. W. Fearman & Co. took out a permit on Wednesday for the reconstruction of their cold storage building and slaughter house damaged by fire a couple of months ago. Besides adding another storey the firm will put in the newest and most modern machinery extant. Business is still brisk with the Fearman Co.

Gallon apples are still scarce. Lucas, Steele & Bristol got in a thousand cases the other day, but they are going out like the proverbial "hot cakes." W. L. E.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

HALIFAX, July 26, 1895.

TRADER is fair, perhaps as fair as could be expected at this time, when farmers are busily engaged haying. Some lines are extremely good. The flour market is easy. Without being able to say exactly why the weakness continues at the decline which has taken place, the fact is still apparent that it is weak. A prominent dealer, in conversation with THE GROCER, speaking on this point, said to-day: "I could understand this weakness if the Manitoba crops were harvested, but in the face of a poor harvest in Ontario, I can only account for it from the fact that millers paid $1 for wheat, and when the markets began to break, they got frightened and broke each other." In flour, as well as cornmeal, oatmeal and rolled oats, a good jobbing business is being done, but buyers are not laying in heavy stocks.

PROVISIONS—There is a fair business doing in provisions, and the market is well supplied. Native beef is on the decline, being quoted at \$7 to \$9.50. Best Ontario stall fed beef is costing \$11, delivered in Halifax. Lamb is worth $8\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ by the carcass; mutton, $6\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; pork, 7¢, and veal, 5 to 6¢. Considerable Ontario beef has been received lately. It is far superior to native, which, by the way, is inferior to P.E. Island.

POULTRY—The poultry market is dull. Turkeys are worth 15¢ per lb.; fowls and chickens, 50 to 80¢ per pair, and there are no geese offering.

EGGS—The egg market remains quiet on account of warm weather. Good stocks are worth 11 to $11\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. The market is supplied.

POTATOES—Old potatoes are about done and new stocks are coming in. They sold on Monday for 80¢ per bushel, but have fallen considerably from that figure.

BUTTER—Old stocks are selling for almost anything. New stocks are bringing from 15 to 20¢. The demand is only fair and the offerings are heavy. Local creameries are beginning to put their stocks on the market.

FLOUR—The markets are easy and prices still on the decline. We quote: Hungarian patents, Manitoba, $5 to $5.15; Manitoba strong bakers, $4.85 to $5.10; Canadian pastry, $4.95 to $5.10; 75 p. c. roller patents, $4.85 to $5.05; 80 p. c. roller patents, $4.70 to $4.85; 90 p. c. roller patents, $4.60 to $4.70; straight, $4.30 to $4.45; extra, $4.10 to $4.20.

ONIONS—Egyptian onions are scarce.

SUGAR—There is no change in the sugar market. The refinery is doing nothing on new account.

MOLASSES—The molasses market is stiff. Stocks are not heavy, and there is some anxiety to know where sufficient is to come from to meet the demand, and higher prices are looked for. Quotations to-day are: Antigua, 30¢; Porto Rico, 32 to 35¢; Trinidad, 30¢; Barbadoes, 34¢; Demerara, M.R. brand, 39¢; St. Kitts, 28¢.

GREEN FRUIT—The green fruit trade is good. Large stocks are being received twice each week from Boston, and all the leading dealers are kept busy filling orders. California oranges are worth from $3 to $3.25, according to count. Valencias, repacked, are worth $8.50. The market is short of the latter. Lemons are easier, at $4 to $5. New apples are coming in, and the stock is excellent for this time of year. They are worth $3.50 per bbl. California peaches, plums and pears are arriving freely, and sell well. Peaches are worth $1.50 to $1.75; plums, $2 to $2.25; pears, in crates, $2.25. Tomatoes are worth $2 per crate. Bananas are moving well, at $1.25 to $2.50.

FISHSTUFFS—There is nothing new in the fish market. Large shipments were made to New York last week. Salmon are down to $12, the decline being due to the arrival at Boston of 360 casks from Newfoundland.

HALIFAX NOTES.

The cut-price war has ceased. This is brought about by the arrest of the young man who stole the goods and sold them at low prices.

The Board of Trade is arranging a conference of the various boards, to take place in Halifax on August 12.

The strawberry season is over. Raspberries, blueberries and cherries are plentiful.

CHARLOTTETOWN.

Charlottetown's latest market prices are: Beef, per quarter, 6 to 7¢; fresh butter, 16 to 18¢, ducks, per pair, 50 to 55¢; eggs, 8 to 9¢; oats, 39 to 40¢; potatoes, 22¢.

President Johnston, of the Montreal Grocers' Association, and a party of friends, have gone to Portland for a short holiday.

JOLLY GROCERS AT IBERVILLE.

THE fifteenth annual picnic of the Montreal Grocers' Association on the 17th inst. was a brilliant success. The day was fine. The attendance was immense.

The arrangements were perfectly carried out, and the picnic at the close of the day was pronounced equal to the most successful of the previous ones. Several weeks before the event the association met and appointed committees to make all arrangements. The members were carefully chosen, as follows :

Games—Walter Willison, chairman ; B. Taylor, T. Gauthier, grocer ; W. Carrigan, J. E. Manning, J. P. Dixon, A. Tremblay.

Music and Dancing—V. Raby, chairman ; J. A. Dionne, L. H. Goulet, Wm. Duckworth, F. Hodge, J. H. Howard, D. Lapointe.

Railway—S. D. Vallieres, chairman ; John Scanlan, J. E. Manning, H. C. Larose, S. Demers, ex-Ald. T. Gauthier, R. B. Hall, N. Lapointe, W. P. Beaudoin, James O'Shaughnessy.

Printing and Advertising—A. D. Fraser, chairman ; R. B. Hall, J. E. Manning, ex-Ald. T. Gauthier, Ald. R. Turner, S. D. Vallieres.

Refreshments—J. O. Levesque, chairman ; T. Gauthier, grocer ; John Scanlan, A. E. Cardinal, J. H. Howard, J. E. Manning, N. Lapointe, W. Carrigan.

Reception—John Johnston, chairman ; A. D. Fraser, M. P. Laverty, Ald. R. Turner, S. Demers, S. D. Vallieres, ex-Ald. T. Gauthier, John Scanlan, J. O. Levesque.

Finance—B. Connaughton, chairman ; Walter Willison, A. D. Fraser, V. Raby, J. O. Levesque, S. D. Vallieres, John Johnston.

General Committee—J. B. Bourguignon, N. Cleroux, S. Cormier, P. Daoust, L. Denny, Martin Elliott, George Graham, Z. Gascon, C. W. Hughes, P. Legault, T. Langevin, Nap. Morin, Joseph Pare, John Robertson, H. Belisle, A. Chasse, A. Daoust, J. B. Deschamps, Ed. Elliott, P. Fillion, Joseph Gareau, George Hayes, A. Jolicoeur, C. Lippe, Aus. Labrecque, Wm. Monteith, H. Poirier, I. Ricard, F. X. Belanger, J. C. Cusson, M. Delahanty, J. B. V. Daoust, Noel Emond, Isaac Fillion, A. F. Graham, E. Houle, M. Kilkerry, P. B. Meenard, J. H. Myrand, T. Poupart, M. Rodrigue, John Slattery, C. C. L. Tison.

The selection was amply justified by the result, for in every detail the programme was an entire success. The picnickers gathered at Windsor Station about 9 a.m., and left in two special C.P.R. trains of a dozen cars each for Iberville. This pretty place is situated on the east bank of the Richelieu River just opposite St. Johns, and the Whitfield Park, along the bank of the river, was the objective point of the excursionists. After an hour's quick run without stoppages the trains bore their light-hearted passengers to Iberville. The following officers of the association accompanied the first train : John Johnston, president ; S. D. Vallieres, 1st vice-president ; James E. Manning, 2nd vice-president ; S. Demers, hon. secretary ; J. O. Levesque, treasurer ; P. Gannon, secretary. Directors : Thos. Gauthier, Vital Raby, A. D. Fraser, Jas. O'Shaughnessy, John Scanlan, Bernard Connaughton.

On arrival at Iberville station a deputation from the municipal corporation, consisting of Mayor Nadeau, Aldermen A. J. Cariveau, Bessette, and Choquette, with a band, met the party and cordially welcomed the association. The park was but a short distance away, and the excursionists at once began to explore it. They found lovely clumps of trees along the riverside, well-kept open spaces for the games, tables and benches for family parties, a raised, sheltered platform for dancing, and a marquee already prepared for the fete champetre, which is a hospitable feature of these picnics. Good humor reigned supreme ; the officers moved about, welcoming guests and seeing that everybody was comfortably placed. The chairmen of committees promptly attended to their duties, and the games were soon in full swing. The Iberville Band played several musical selections as a welcome to the picnickers, and then the programme of dances was begun, the Davis & Casey harp and violin orchestra furnishing the music. Crowds surrounded the dancing stage and watched the graceful movements of the participants. Others thronged about the sports competitions, the judges for which had been selected as follows, although not all were in attendance : H. Laporte, L. N. St. Arnaud, Charles Langlois, F. J. Hart, J. A. Vaillancourt, Ald. McBride Fred. Hughes, J. E. Quintal, H. M. Childs, Mr. Jarret, P. Grace, J. C. Wilson.

What intensified the interest was the number of handsome prizes offered the successful competitors, among the donors being : Ewing, Herron & Co., St. Croix Soap Co., Chase & Sanborn, M. Lefebvre & Co., John Taylor & Co., Johnston Fluid Beef Co., D. Ritchie & Co., Christie, Brown & Co., St. Lawrence Starch Co., Walter Baker & Co., Evans & Sons, Meagher Bros. & Co., Lang Manufacturing Co., John Barry & Sons, J. Christin & Co., Ex-Ald. T. Gauthier, H. A. Nelson & Sons, A. W. Csgoode, Vipond, McBride & Co., W. D. McLaren, Howe, McIntyre & Co., and others. Under the direction of Chairman Willison everything went smoothly and expeditiously, and by one o'clock the programme of results was announced to this effect :

At 1 o'clock, the games being over and the programme of dances suspended, there was a general movement for lunch. A refreshment stand inside the park supplied the picnickers with cooling drinks, and many pleasant parties were made up at the tables under the trees. Several hundred members, however, with the officers of the association and their guests, repaired to the inviting marquee, where three long tables were spread in the most sumptuous style with all the delicacies of the season, and handsomely decorated with flowers. The menu card was a gem. Each dish on the menu was named after some leading member of the association, coupled with some distinctive term applicable both to the dish and the man. For instance, the roast beef a la chasseur was in "Johnston style, elevating ;" the chicken mayonnaise, "Vallieres style, well-done ;" the aspic de veau in "Demers style, elegant ;" turkey a l'anglaise in "Fraser style, stately ;" the champagne punch, "Levesque style, exhilarating ;" the ice cream, "Willison style, cool and collected ;" ladies' delicate was in "Gannon style, alluring ;" Jambou a l'essence, "Scanlan style, rich and juicy ;" ox tongue, "Turner style, eloquent ;" chicken pie, "Gauthier style, superb ;" orange jelly, "Manning style, effulgent ;" sponge cake, "Raby style, perfect ;" macaroons, "O'Shaughnessy style, solid ;" and so forth. The caterers were Welsh & Rough. The orchestra discoursed a musical programme, and Mr. Johnston, who presided at the head of the middle table, made a model chairman, dignified and courteous. The toasts were honored in champagne.

FETE CHAMPETRE.

At 2.15 p. m. the president rose and said : "Fill up your glasses and drink the health of Her Majesty the Queen." This was loyally done, when, amid applause, a beautiful bouquet of flowers was presented to Mrs. Johnston on behalf of L. H. Goulet, florist, of Montreal. The president gracefully acknowledged the compliment on his wife's behalf.

The health of the Mayor and Council of Iberville was then proposed in a capital speech by Mr. S. D. Vallieres, who referred to the kind reception which had been given to the association. M. Nadeau, the mayor of Iberville, eloquently replied, thanking the association for choosing Iberville as its place of meeting. He pointed out the various attractions of Iberville as a place of resort, and hoped the Grocers' Association would come again. M. Corriveau also replied in fluent English, expressing the pleasure Iberville had in receiving the association.

The president read a telegram of Mr. Fred. Hughes, of Caverhill, Hughes & Co., announcing his regrets at having been unable to attend the picnic.

The toast to the Mayor and Council of Montreal was then given by the president, and the company in great good humor sang, "For they are jolly good boodlers." Ald. Turner responded, saying: "I notice on our programme a statement that 'all sensible people travel by the C. P. R.' I wish to add to it the statement that all sensible people go to the grocers' picnic (hear hear), so let us all come again next year, and each one bring his friends."

It was announced by the president that the flowers which so beautifully adorned the lunch tables had been the kind gift of Madame Corriveau, and the company rapturously sang "For she's a jolly good fellow."

In proposing the toast to "the Judges" Mr. A. D. Fraser made a feeling and impressive allusion to the late George Waite. "Before asking you to drink to the judges," said Mr. Fraser, "I will ask you to drink a silent toast to the memory of the late George Waite. In remembering the judges at our picnics we are not likely to forget Mr. Waite. He was always with us on these occasions, come fair day or come foul day, and during the last 14 or 15 years he was never absent from our picnics. He was a great friend of the grocers, and I know I am echoing the sentiments of all in saying that they will greatly miss him." The toast was honored in appropriate silence. "Now," continued Mr. Fraser, "let us drink to the good men and true who have acted as our judges. I never remember a picnic where the games were got through more quickly or more satisfactorily than those of to-day." (Loud applause.)

On behalf of the judges, Mr. John Robertson (who has only missed one grocers' picnic in the fifteen years' record) said that there was a compact made that when he came to the picnics he was not to take an active part in the proceedings, but this year the compact had been broken, for they had pinned a picture to his coat—(laughter)—and turned him into a judge. (Voice: "Arn't you proud to be here?") Oh, yes, for he claimed to be the originator of these picnics, and tried to work as hard for this association as any other member. (Hear, hear.) He gave them this motto: "Union is Strength," and concluded by saying, "God bless the grocers." (Applause.)

In an eloquent speech Mr. Demers proposed the toast to "Our Guests," which was cordially drunk.

The toast to "The Ladies" was replied to by Mr. Duckworth, who spoke first in French, then in English, and on behalf of the ladies wished the association all prosperity. He was loudly applauded.

Then Mr. A. D. Fraser proposed "The Press," coupling with it the name of the representative of THE CANADIAN GROCER, and declaring that without the aid of the press the annual picnic would not be the success it was. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. J. B. MacLean, publisher of THE CANADIAN GROCER, thanked the association, on behalf of the newspaper men, for the kind way in which this toast had been received. The representatives of the press had also to thank the association for the excellent arrangements which had been made, so much so that the newspaper men present had a comparatively easy task in reporting the picnic. He congratulated the chairmen of committees on the thorough way in which everything had been carried out. He was told by his brother, who had formerly represented THE CANADIAN GROCER in Montreal, that he would find the grocers of Montreal a most friendly lot of men, and this he could now vouch for from personal experience, since he had come to live among them.

Mr. Hobart Springler, of The Montreal Gazette, also acknowledged this toast, and then, amid great applause, Mr. Corriveau, in English, proposed by request the health of the popular president, Mr. John Johnston, declaring that the sentiment of all present was: "Long may you live and prosper." The toast was received with cheers, and the president modestly expressed his thanks.

Mr. McInnis, the owner of the fine park where the picnic was held, proposed the health of the Grocers' Association of Montreal, and then the lunch party adjourned to the grounds on pleasure intent.

SEEING THE SIGHTS.

Immediately after the luncheon the Mayor of Iberville, accompanied by Messrs. Bassette, Choquette and Corriveau, invited the president and officers and THE GROCER to look at the town and its delightful surroundings. Montrealers are beginning to recognize its attractions, for a number of them have bought land and erected residences there. They have an excellent gas, electric light and sewerage system. A visit was paid to Messrs. Bassette's agricultural implement works, and to the residences of the Mayor and Mr. Corriveau, where light refreshments were waiting. Mr. Corriveau's villa is in the newer part of the town, and his grounds run to the bank of the river. When his plans are carried out it will be one of the most beautiful places about Montreal. He is one of the Montrealers who now live at Iberville. Returning from the drive, Mr. Bassette's steam yacht was in waiting, and a short sail was much enjoyed.

Before saying good-bye to the very hospitable Mayor and Reception Committee, his worship's health was proposed in a nicely-worded speech by Mr. Demers in French, to which Mr. Johnston added some very complimentary remarks in English. The Mayor fittingly replied, and hoped the grocers would soon again honor Iberville. He would always welcome them as a body or the members individually.

Mr. Demers, speaking in French, then said he could not allow the opportunity to pass without letting the staff of THE CANADIAN GROCER know that the Montreal Association appreciated the grand work that paper was doing for the trade. It was the true representative of the trade. It never went back on them. It was with them always and fought their battles. They would always stand by THE CANADIAN GROCER.

Mr. Vallieres also made a few complimentary remarks to THE CANADIAN GROCER. He had been one of its first subscribers, and always liked its independent spirit. It was the means of drawing the associations in Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton and London closer together, for it was the organ of them all. Though they were not personally acquainted with their English brethren in the west, they knew them well in spirit, for they constantly read about them and their doings in THE CANADIAN GROCER. On this account he wanted their friends in Toronto to know through THE CANADIAN GROCER that it was the intention of the Montreal Association to have them at the picnic. He had brought the matter up, and it was understood an invitation would be sent to Toronto, but in the rush of work it had been overlooked. He wanted the Toronto Association to know this. He and the president would see that the invitation was not overlooked next year. If Toronto would visit them they would promise to return the compliment. He also wanted his English friends in the west to become personally acquainted with himself and other French Canadian grocers, and to see that though they spoke different languages they worked very happily together.

PICNIC NOTES.

L. G. Archambault's win in the fat man's race was popular. The old boys gave him a jolly toss in the air when he had regained his breath.

Mr. Raby, chairman of the Dancing Committee, is not a dancing man, but he saw that every arrangement was properly carried out, while Messrs. Dionne and Duckworth were always on hand and enjoyed the dancing as much as any guest.

At the luncheon each guest found one of Walter Baker & Co.'s most delicious chocolate tablets neatly folded in tinfoil at his plate. They were too tempting for anyone to take home, for we all seemed to have a sweet tooth. In the language of the country editor "Come again Walter."

The pipers are always a part of the picnic. They have provided music for the association for fifteen years.

B. Connaughton, chairman of the Finance Committee, is in the field for aldermanic honors. He is a superior type of man, and will be a valuable representative if elected.

Mr. Willison made short work of several professional gamblers. They were a smooth, oily-tongued pair, who said they wanted to provide some innocent games to entertain the guests on the grounds. Such men often fleece ordinary citizens, but they can't pull the wool over the eyes of a modern business man.

There were but two trains—one at 9.10 and the second at 9.30. There should have been another, leaving town at 1 p.m. It would have brought several hundred more.

None of the chairmen are more likely to be criticised than he of the Refreshment Committee. A man will submit, meekly submit, to anything but a late, a cold, or a badly served lunch. They make him irritable. That there was never a happier crowd than gathered about the over-burdened tables is the best compliment that could be paid to the indefatigable Mr. Levesque. He stood near and saw that the caterers and their staff did their duty promptly and well. It was a champagne lunch in more than name. The glasses were always full though the guests were not.

The association desires, through THE GROCER, to specially thank the Canadian Pacific Railway for the way in which they met the wishes of the association in every particular and for the excellent arrangements made. Everything was carried out without a hitch. Two special trains were used, and H. R. Ibbotson, of the passenger department, not only accompanied the party but remained with them until the return. Of course, this was to be expected; the Canadian Pacific always does everything thoroughly and well.

President Johnston: "What's the matter with Iberville?"

Chorus: "It's all right."

J. E. Manning: "Better than right."

"Willison and Taylor are the right men in the right place," said the president. "See how well they got through the games, and so quickly."

The secretary, Mr. Gannon, discharged his difficult duties to the satisfaction of everyone.

In the absence of the president, J. B. Poirier, the Grocers' Clerks' Association was represented by J. P. Beauvais, the vice-president.

The dance programme was as neat a piece of work as has been seen for many a day.

Why were the wholesale houses and manufacturers not more largely represented? They can have no better opportunity of becoming intimately acquainted with their customers and their customers with them. We all have our peculiarities. When we each know those of the other, we are more ready to forgive any little annoyances arising out of them. It would be still better if the wholesale men themselves had a picnic of their own. There is no city in Canada in which there is less good feeling among the jobbers than in Montreal. On the other hand, there is no city in which a better understanding exists among the retailers than there. This is due largely to the picnics and other gatherings of the association. As far as THE GROCER was able to gather, there were present: Wm. Duckworth, of Caverhill, Hughes & Co.; W. H. Dunn, A. W. Osgoode, manufacturers' agents; John Bell, Lang Mfg. Co.; D. Lapointe, Chaput, Fils & Cie; A. E. Cardinal, Hudon, Hebert & Cie; R. Thomson, St. Lawrence Rfy.; D. K. MacIntosh, Geo. Matthews & Co., Ottawa; W. J. Thomson, John Robertson & Son; H. Maher, Ewing, Herron & Co.; W. W. Scott, R. Tunnoch and T. Craig, Fleischman & Co. If any have been missed if they will kindly send names we will gladly publish in next issue. THE CANADIAN GROCER was represented by the following members of the Montreal staff: J. B. MacLean, A. H. U. Colquhoun, A. W. Ritchie, Major Campbell and M. D. Burnside.

On Thursday night the Executive of the association met in the Monument National and presented the prizes won in the picnic games. The committee exercised the greatest care to see that only those qualified to contest got the rewards in each case, and that the rules were faithfully adhered to in all cases. Mr. Levesque, who won a handsome clock in the race for chairmen of committees, was loudly cheered on receiving the prize.

HAMILTON GROCERS AT THE FALLS

The annual excursion and picnic of the Retail Grocers' Association of Hamilton was held on Wednesday of last week. The rendezvous was Niagara Falls. When Hamilton's grocers picnic a goodly portion of the city goes out to fraternize with them, and to participate in the good things and enjoyable time that invariably attend such occasions. Some idea of the number who attended may be gathered from the fact that it required three trains to convey the excursionists to and from the Falls. The weather was delightful, and, thanks to the Committee of Management, excellent arrangements were made to augment that natural entertainment that is to be found at the famous resort. Refreshments there were in abundance, while the famous Thirteenth Battalion Band provided a feast for the music-loving. It was a tired but thoroughly satisfied crowd that returned that night to the "Ambitious City."

TORONTO INDUSTRIAL FAIR.

An unbroken record of successes in the past is the best possible guarantee that the Toronto Industrial Exhibition of 1895, which opens on the 2nd of September, will be a display of unrivalled attractiveness. Many improvements in the buildings and grounds have been made to further the convenience of exhibitors and the public, and with the return of an era of prosperity the enterprise of the management will doubtless be rewarded by a thorough appreciation of the inducements offered. The volume of exhibits this season will be larger and more diversified than ever before, and special attractions of a brilliant and exciting character will be presented, including the novel military spectacle "The Relief of Lucknow," with gorgeous Oriental accessories and pyrotechnic effects on a scale of grandeur and variety hitherto unequalled. The system of cheap railway fares and special excursions from far and near enables all to visit the fair at a trifling cost and everyone should take advantage of the opportunity, as it embodies all that is best worth seeing and knowing in mechanical progress and scientific invention. All entries close on the 10th of August.

E. B. EDDY'S MATCHES

They don't light up the gloom like the rays of the effulgent sun, but they give a clear flame sufficient for all practical purposes.

They don't, when lit, diffuse sweet incense, like the flowers that bloom in the spring, but their sulphurous odors are scarcely perceptible.

They don't burn long enough or strong enough to boil a kettle or redden a poker, but you can always start a fire, or light a pipe with them and they never "miss fire."

They would make a poor show as fireworks, but are not intended for that.

They are not wonderful matches but are good—very good—in fact, the best that can be had. They have attained the HIGHEST point known in modern match-making.

THE CANADIAN GROCER

Vol. IX. (Published Weekly)

TORONTO AND MONTREAL, AUGUST 2, 1895

($2.00 per Year) No. 31

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Cobwebs, real or metaphorical, only gather on the inert.

* * *

Over-buying is possible in good as well as in poor times.

* * *

If you have an idea, do not allow it to spoil before you use it.

* * *

Bicyclists who run people down run the risk of being "run in."

* * *

Prices in advertisements are like molasses to the fly: They draw.

* * *

Grocers' picnics are hardly "picnics" for committees of management.

* * *

A merchant can be all things to all men and yet be stable and upright.

* * *

Every merchant should be a prospector: A prospector for bargains and ideas.

* * *

It is not necessary to become a druggist in order to have a "druggy" trade.

* * *

The only fire that a merchant should court is that which will warm his energy.

* * *

Trade, at the moment, appears to be taking a nap preparatory for the fall activity.

* * *

In spite of the efforts of storekeepers, the cities continue to produce pedlars of produce.

* * *

Lack of ability to collect debts is responsible for more commercial failures than lack of capital.

* * *

As long as business men allow party interest to eclipse their own interests, party heelers and not business men will be returned to Parliament. The stream never rises above its source.

* * *

The recent rains were just heavy enough to float hopes in the breasts of the business men of the country.

* * *

Because a man is ambitious to do a large business it does not follow that he should degenerate into a hog.

* * *

There are more slaves attached to business by chains of gold than there ever have been to galleys by chains of iron.

* * *

The Sault Ste. Marie canal will be opened for traffic some time this month. It will be an August occasion for Canada, surely.

* * *

Fire visits but a small proportion of the business men of the country. But you may be one of the few it will call upon. Are you insured?

* * *

Theories are of no earthly use until they are put into practice. And it is practice that will determine whether the theories possess utility.

* * *

Were merchants as systematic in their collections as they are in eating, drinking and sleeping, fewer complaints would there be in regard to payments.

* * *

A New York policeman who refuses to pay his bills to merchants is subject to a fine. Obviously, then, if he cannot find the money in the one instance he will be fined.

* * *

Study to make competitors your friends. You will have greater peace of mind and more dollars in your pocket. Cutting prices is practised among enemies, not among friends.

* * *

Advertisements that grind out "John Jones, grocer, Blankville," bring few if any customers to the store. It is the announcement that John Jones has something to sell and the way in which it is said that brings the customer.

* * *

With two such fellow-tradesmen and champions as Ald. Turner and Connaughton in the City Council, Montreal grocers need have no fear that all dragons that may spring up against their trade will not be valiantly contended with.

* * *

The merchants of Kingston are arranging to give their clerks a half holiday during August and September. A double portion of solicitude for the welfare of their employers ought now to develop in the breasts of the clerks of the "Limestone City."

* * *

Rumor has it that the Quebec Government will shortly remove the unpopular business tax. And the merchants of Montreal are clutching at the rumor as does a drowning man at a straw. It is to be hoped the rumor is the forerunner of the reality.

* * *

The officers of the law in three or four of the large cities are having a hard fight to compel some of the grocers to close their stores on Sunday. To contend for a seven-day business week seems to be about as absurd as for a prisoner to fight for another year in jail when his regular term has expired.

* * *

It is anticipated as a result of the increasing production of gold in the United States, Australia and South Africa that the world's yield of gold for the present calendar year will reach the unprecedented total of $200,000,000. Pretty hard on the silverites, who profess to fear an insufficiency of the yellow metal for monetary purposes.

TORONTO GROCERS AT ST. KITS.

AMMENSE was the success which attended the annual excursion of the Toronto Retail Grocers, held on the 25th inst. to St. Catharines. At 8 a.m. about 500 merry-makers—men, women and children—boarded the pretty little steamer "Garden City," as she lay at the Yonge street wharf, and shortly after that hour they were ploughing Ontario's blue waters, which lay smooth as glass. A misty haze overhung the lake, narrowed the horizon and gave promise of coming rain; but as noon approached the fog cleared away, and after that, though thunder was heard from time to time in the distance, the excursionists were assured of fair weather for their outing.

The eastern gap had scarcely been cleared before the picnickers had broken up into small groups, as their inclinations led them, and settled down to enjoy themselves. Card parties were formed in all parts of the boat, and a space was cleared aft between decks, where those enamoured of the pleasures of the dance followed the mazes of the waltz to the accompaniment of the Orpheus Orchestra.

As all on board became engaged in the pursuit of pleasure, a representative of THE CANADIAN GROCER had an opportunity to note the faces about him. These officers of the Retail Grocers' Association were noticed: President, F. S. Roberts; vice-president, A. White; secretary, R. M. Corrie; honorary secretary, Thos. Mills.

The following members of the Excursion Committee, to whose efforts were largely due the success of the picnic, were on board: J. S. Bond (treasurer), W. J. Sykes, A. G. Booth, G. W. Clark, T. Clark, F. W. Johnson, H. A. Brazil, H. Kelly, A. R. Williamson and W. J. McCleary.

Among the grocers present were: F. W. Squires, W. G. Walker, John Butcher, James Lumsden, E. Shaw, T. R. Morris, A. E. McMillan, Daniel McLean and Richard Van Loan, of McLean & Van Loan; J. B. Hill, H. Hazlett, A. E. Davie, Richard Wood, T. S. Grant, J. Williams, C. M. Webb, O. W. Rinkle, Mr. Elliott, of Elliott & Howland, of Lambton Mills; A. O. Gibb, of Gibb Bros.; T. M. Charlton, J. Nelson; H. W. McCullough, Dallimore Bros.; J. G. Gibson, Mont. Smith, H. Brittain, A. G. Martin, J. H. Smith, J. F. Morrish, Francis Giles, J. H. King and C. E. Somers, of Somers Bros.

Many wholesale houses were represented by members of the various firms or travelers. Among those representatives were: Chas. Dawson, Dawson Bros., wholesale fruits; T. Everist, McWilliam & Everist, wholesale fruits; P. C. Larkin, P. C. Larkin & Co., wholesale teas; Henry Wright, Wright & Co.; L. Gibb, wholesale produce; Jerry Burns, Wilson Vinegar Works; C. P. Graham, Edwardsburgh Starch Co.; Chas. Shields and S. E. After a pleasant sail of nearly three hours the good ship made her way between the long piers that guard the harbor at Port Dalhousie, and started up the old Welland Canal. All on board were much interested in the process of putting the vessel through the locks. Shortly before twelve o'clock the St. Catharines wharf, two miles up the canal, hove in sight, and as the Garden City neared the docks, the local brass band welcomed her with an appropriate air. Upon leaving the vessel the excursionists were welcomed by a deputation representing the grocers of St. Catharines and consisting of Mr. Flynn, of the firm of Flynn Bros., and Mr. Merriman, of Merriman Bros.

A procession was formed, and, headed by the Garden City Band and the Orpheus Orchestra, the picnickers proceeded to the town park, a beautiful, shaded stretch of greensward a few blocks away, some making the journey on foot and some in cabs.

By this time all the pleasure-seekers were ravenously hungry, and arrangements were forthwith made to satisfy the inner man. Some who had brought baskets with them seated themselves upon the grass and ate of cold roast chicken, pickles, etc., but the majority betook themselves to the International Hotel, where special arrangements for dinner had previously been made.

Dinner over, the picnickers proceeded to amuse themselves for the afternoon. Some adjourned to the roomy, airy pavilion in the park, where the Orpheus Orchestra and the Garden City band, the latter at the request of the St. Catharines grocers, alternately supplied the music to which young and old trod the mazes of the dance.

Many, however, remained to witness the athletic sports that had been arranged by Messrs. Mills, Morley, Burns and others. The first event was a baseball match between two picked nines, representing respectively the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association and the Toronto City Travelers' Association. The match was chiefly remarkable for heavy hitting and brilliant errors. When play was stopped at the end of the fifth innings each team had made fifteen runs, and the umpire, F. H. Flack, of St. Catharines, declared the match a draw. At the close of the second innings it looked like a walk-over for the Travelers, who "got onto" Miller, the Grocers' twirler, and pounded him all over the field for 10 runs, making the score 13 to 5. After that, however, the Travelers could not find Miller at all, while the Grocers' just then began to size up Humphrey's tremendous out-curve for safe hits. A few of these, judiciously placed, netted the Grocers a few runs, and from this out the game was even. Sykes' heavy pounding for the Retailers, and Jerry Burns' meteoric base-running for the wholesalers' emissaries were features of the game. Many of the spectators watched the match from a portable grand stand, viz., a train of passenger cars belonging to the St. Catharines and Niagara Central Railway, and were much disturbed when, about the middle of the game, an engine attached itself to the train and begun to draw them away. All escaped, however, before the cars had got much headway on. Below will be found the names of the players, with the position played, and the runs made by each:

day, August 21. A good contest may be looked for then, as both teams have indicated their intention of getting down to work in the intervening time.

A tug-of-war between the visitors and a team from St. Catharines, made up on the instant, resulted in two straight "pull-overs" for the Toronto men. The following grocers and travelers composed the team from the "Queen City": A. R. Williamson, D. W. Clark, W. F. Morley, H. A. Brazil, J. F. Howitt and Mont Smith. Robt. Mills, Toronto, acted as referee.

By 6.15 the excursionists were again upon the decks of the Garden City, leaving the "Garden City" far behind, the "Garden City" band upon the diminishing wharf playing a farewell air as the good ship steamed down the canal.

Considerable diversion was created by a party of representatives of the wholesale houses present, who got together and went round the boat from point to point and compelled many prominent merchants to make a speech. Their modus operandi was to rush up to a victim, grab him in twenty places at once, divest him of hat, cane and pipe, sing "He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and then punch and hustle him around generally, until at last, in sheer desperation, he would allow himself to be conveyed to some elevated position, and from this rostrum address his tormentors. This merriment was kept up for upwards of an hour. During that time the scene upon the main deck of the steamer reminded one of a football match with a perpetual scrimmage in progress. Even the holy ground of the hurricane deck was invaded by these jolly fellows, who were no respecters of persons, and the captain had to make a speech before he could quiet them.

The Yonge street wharf was reached at 9.40, and everyone as he left the dock declared that the day had been well and enjoyably spent.

NEW FIRM WITH A BRIGHT STORE.

Howith & Bowles is the name of a new firm of general merchants that has just been organized in Wingham, or rather an old firm that has been re-organized. Formerly the firm was Howith & Son. Then its business was confined to boots and shoes. Now, Mr. Bowles, a son-in-law, has been taken into partnership, with the firm name styled as above, while, instead of dealing in boots and shoes alone, there will be carried full stocks of groceries, ready-made clothing, millinery, boots and shoes, etc. Just now the new firm is temporarily occupying the grocery store of Robert Orr, whose stock it recently purchased. The old store of Howith & Son is, however, being remodelled for the final reception of the firm. This store is being lengthened to 120 feet, and among other improvements that have been made is the putting in of a plate glass front. "It is one of the finest shops in the west; it is undoubtedly the finest in Wingham," said my informant.

UNBRANDED GOODS.

We have an enquiry from a correspondent with regard to the quality of bi-carbonate of soda which is offered, but which does not bear the maker's name on the package. Not having seen the article mentioned, we are not prepared to give an opinion, but incidentally it seems quite manifest that when a maker does not brand his product it is in some way inferior, and evidently is not intended to be sold as first-class.

On enquiry from those who should best know, it is understood that certain quantities of this article that were not salable where made, had been shipped to Canada. It is hardly necessary to suggest that buyers should take care that they are not deceived with regard to these goods.

DRIED APRICOTS.

Estimates of the output of California new dried apricots are being constantly reduced. The latest report is that there will not be more than 225 cars in the entire State, while some estimates make the quantity not more than 200 cars. Last year's output was over 1,100 cars.

A CAUSE FOR COMPLAINT.

CANADA has little cause these days to complain of her treatment at the hands of the Mother Country. In fact, it is rarely that we realize that we are not independent entirely of her. And the realization does not, as a rule, bring with it a feeling of resentment. This is because the cause of this realization is not objectionable. But now and then, at far distant intervals, we are made to feel that our freedom could be extended a little further without our tie to Great Britain being weakened in the slightest.

The country realized this a few weeks ago, when, at the request of the Imperial authorities, the Government of the Dominion introduced a bill, and which the House of Commons adopted, extending to all countries having favored nation treaties with Great Britain, and also to Great Britain and her colonies, the advantages granted to France under the treaty of 1893.

This means that a dozen or more purely foreign nations have the same right as France to send into Canada certain goods defined in the French treaty.

The articles enumerated in this treaty are wines, sparkling and non-sparkling, common soaps, Castile soap, nuts, almonds, prunes and French plums.

When the treaty was before the House of Commons last year for ratification, the Minister of Finance informed the members that the most favored treaty nations of Great Britain would enjoy the same privileges as France. The country at large, however, was in ignorance of his statement, while even the members of the House themselves do not appear to have heard his deliverance or realized that when they were according France certain advantages they were opening the way for the products of countries whose only claim was based on the ground that they had favored nation treaties with Great Britain. At any rate it was a surprised country and a surprised House that learned of the memorial of the British Government refusing to allow the Act until the House passed a bill recognizing the right of certain foreign countries and Great Britain and her colonies to participate in the advantages accorded France.

These are the favored nation clause nations that are now entitled to enjoy in Canada the same tariff concessions as France:

Argentina, under treaty of.....	1825
Austria-Hungary, under treaty of.....	1876
Belgium " "	1862
Bolivia " "	1840
Chili " "	1854
Columbia " "	1866
Costa Rica " "	1849
German Zollverein " "	1865
Muscat " "	1892
Russia " "	1859
Salvador " "	1862
Sweden and Norway " "	1826
Uruguay " "	1885

The opinion obtains among some people that Spain is one of the favored treaty nations, but this idea is erroneous.

It was stated in the House of Commons during the recent session that these nations might also be entitled to whatever advantages may accrue from the French treaty:

Egypt, under treaty of.....	1889
Montenegro " "	1882
Mexico " "	1888
Persia " "	1844
South Africa Republic, under treaty of.....	1884
Venezuela " "	1825
Zanzibar " "	1886

Here, without counting Great Britain and her colonies, there are thirteen foreign countries that clearly are entitled to share with France what advantage there is to be got from a lower tariff, and seven whose right has yet to be determined. Taking Great Britain and her several colonies, we can easily add a score or more of countries, great and small, or some forty countries in all, who are entitled to send into Canada the same articles as France under a lower tariff. And, it is safe venturing, forty countries more than either the people of Canada or a great majority of their representatives in Parliament conceived of when the French treaty was before them for ratification.

But while there are some forty countries that are entitled to share the benefits of our lower tariff, it does not follow that they all will or can do so. If they are exporters of the articles enumerated in the French treaty, and given above, they can; if they are not they are no better off in regard to trade with Canada than they were before. Probably not more than one third at the outside will derive any advantage.

It is not, however, a question of numbers as much as the principle that is involved. Canada is, in a general sense, independent. The strongest ties that bind her to the Mother Land are ties of sentiment. Nineteenth of us, at any rate, are proud of being part and parcel of the British Empire. But at the same time it is upon ourselves and not upon Great Britain that we must depend for our national salvation. The time, therefore, has come—in fact, it came some years ago—when Canada should be no longer bound by the favored nation treaties which the Mother Land may from time to time make with foreign powers; or at least, the Dominion should be first consulted as to whether or not she should be made a party to such instruments.

Canada is no longer a child; it has developed into national manhood. And, having a partnership in the British Empire, it has a right to be consulted when agreements are being made which affect its interests.

In the making of nearly all the treaties that now bind Canada we were not consulted. The House of Commons and the Senate passed a joint resolution in 1891, calling upon the Imperial authorities to relieve us from the provisions of the favored nation treaties; and the Colonial Conference, representing Canada, Australasia, Cape of Good Hope, etc., which met in Ottawa last year, adopted a similar resolution. The Boards of Trade throughout the country had previously delivered themselves to the same effect. It is time that an agitation was again inaugurated.

RETAILERS SHOULD BE CONSISTENT.

WHAT is sauce for the goose should be sauce for the gander. A proverb says that it is. But it is not always so in practice.

Retail merchants' associations nearly everywhere have denounced the giving of presents to customers at Christmas or any other time. This is right. But those who hold this as one of their tenets should at least be consistent. That all are not always so is obvious.

During the last few weeks several of the retail associations throughout the country have been holding their annual picnics and excursions, and it was in their efforts to ensure the success of these affairs that some members showed their inconsistency. We have reference to the manner in which they approached the people from whom they buy goods—the wholesalers and manufacturers.

Were the customer of a retailer to come to him and demand that he purchase a stipulated number of tickets or make a donation for prizes for an entertainment in which said customer was interested, he would not take it with good grace; if he could afford to be independent he would resent it.

But this, in effect, is what some members of retail associations are in the habit of doing; whether or not in any case with the approval of the organization of which they are members we cannot say.

Members of retail organizations should do nothing to give cause for the charge of inconsistency to be leveled against them. It is all right for them to try by ordinary means to induce wholesalers to support any excursion or entertainment they may be getting up, by buying tickets or donating prizes, but that is a different thing from coercing them. But after all, it would be hewing still closer to the line of consistency if no direct request was made for the donation of prizes.

It is no excuse to say that the wholesaler makes a profit out of the retailer, and can afford to be generous, for the consumer might with equal force contend that the retailer makes a profit out of him and could afford to be generous. What is sauce for the goose should be sauce for the gander.

LOW-PRICED SUGAR CONTRACTS.

THE condition and tendency of the refined sugar market continues to surprise the trade. Some weeks ago, when there was a little accession to the demand, it was thought that stocks of low-priced sugars in second and third hands were exhausted. The course of the sugar market since then has thoroughly dispelled this illusion.

In the face of great firmness in the raw product and strength in all the outside markets, the demand for sugars in Canada has been nil or almost so.

To induce what would not come, both refiners and jobbers have shaded prices, with no material result, as the market is lifeless.

There is only one explanation for this—continued apathy.

The stocks of low-priced sugar bought, or contracted for for future delivery, previous to the imposition of the new duties, must have been greater than anticipated. They were; for it is now learned that there is a lot of sugar in third hands, the scarcity of berries and fruit checking its distribution. Not only is this the case, but THE CANADIAN GROCER is assured, on good authority, that jobbers, both in Montreal and the west, had old contracts executed as late as July 15th at the low prices—viz., $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb. for granulated and 3c. for yellows.

These contracts closed out all the old business on this low basis by Montreal refiners, but the Halifax people are said to be contracted ahead on quite a quantity of sugar at a low price up to the 1st of August.

It is easy to understand, therefore, why jobbers are selling at 4c., for at that price they are making $\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb. on their granulated. This is a better profit than a grocer usually turns his sugar over at.

With this phase of the situation evident, the statement of the Montreal refiners that their volume of new orders at present is not within 50 per cent. of what it was last year is not surprising.

A PECULIARITY OF THE TEA TRADE.

A MARKED change has taken place in the tea trade during the past few years. It can hardly be termed evolution, for evolution means improvement. Most people would probably call it deterioration, but the former term is more correct than the latter. We have reference to the increasing demand there is for cheap teas.

At one time probably 50 per cent. of the demand was for the higher priced teas; now probably it is not more than 25 per cent. at the outside. The teas most fancied by retailers of to-day are those they can buy at 15 to 20 cents per pound.

But as a matter of fact it is not that people are less concerned about quality than they were, or that they are generally drinking poorer teas than in the years gone by.

The difference is nearly altogether, if not wholly, due to the price. It is the price that has depreciated and not the quality consumed. For instance, teas that sold wholesale a very few years ago at 23 to 25c. per pound are now down to about 15 to 17c. And, naturally, if an article can be got at the latter figures which is equal in quality to that sold at the former, people are not going to pay the higher figures.

It is the same in tea as in nearly every staple: production is increasing, methods of cultivation and curing are being simplified and cheapened, and the cost of transportation is decreasing. What is, therefore, transpiring in regard to the price paid for tea is but a natural concomitant of the marked changes that are going on in the commercial world of to-day.

MR. CONNAUGHTON ELECTED.

The grocers of Montreal have added another of their number to the City Council. Ald. Richard Turner is already a member, and on Friday last Mr. Bernard Connaughton was elected, by 141 majority, to fill the vacancy caused in St. Ann's Ward by the recent death of Ald. Kennedy.

Mr. Connaughton, like Mr. Turner, is a member of the Grocers' Association, is warmly interested in the interests of the body to which he belongs, and will be a valuable representative for Montreal grocers in the Council. He is a man of means, and though not at present in active business, keeps up close connection with the trade.

FIRMNESS IN EGGS.

The firmness of the egg market in Canada this summer, considering all the conditions, is a surprise to a good many. It was expected that when the American duty was lowered a demand would be experienced from that source. It has not made its appearance, nor has there been any export enquiry from Great Britain. In fact, the first sign of any demand from that quarter was enquiry this week regarding pickled stock. The offers were private, but they have not tempted any sales as yet, though stocks of pickled eggs are ample in Montreal, three firms alone having over 700,000 dozen in cold store. Other causes, therefore, than outside demand have to account for the fact that the price of eggs to-day in Montreal is $1\frac{1}{2}$ to 2c. per dozen higher than it was a year ago.

The strength, in a word, is due to decreased production. This is evident from the fact that there is no accumulation of fresh eggs at all in Montreal, none of the traders being able to put any of the daily receipts away. These, of late, have never gone over 500 cases, which is a very limited quantity, and they have been all absorbed at full figures.

SARDINE CATCH A FAILURE.

Sardines are likely to be food only for the wealthy during the next twelve months or more.

Advices to hand announce that the fisheries on the French coast, from whence come all the fine sardines, are a failure, practically no fish having been caught. The catch on the Portuguese coast, while not so unsatisfactory as that on the French coast, is, however, very much reduced.

It is claimed that strictly fine sardines, the kind in which the shortage is so pronounced, will be 50 per cent. dearer than last year.

If the price of sardines appreciates to the extent estimated, one thing is obvious—the consumption will be checked, and that materially.

Stocks of sardines held in Canada are not, as a rule, large, and at the moment on the Toronto market the "Albert" brand appears to be scarce.

EXCURSIONS AND THEIR EFFECTS.

In another part of this issue will be found reports of the recent outings of the Toronto and London Retail Grocers' Associations.

While perusing these reports one is struck with the enjoyable and harmonious times the purveyors of groceries have when they get out of their stores and rub shoulders and crack jokes with one another in the country. It clearly shows that the ill-feeling that so commonly obtains between grocer and grocer is not against the Man; it is because each is selling the same kind of goods and catering for the same customers as the other. But rivalry and selfishness give place to friendship and mutual concern for each other's entertainment the moment the picnic or excursion rendezvous is reached.

Let there be more excursions, picnics and social entertainment.

THE CLERKS' ASSOCIATION.

AT THE meeting of the Retail Grocers' Clerks' Association, of Montreal, this week, arrangements were completed for a dramatic entertainment to be held in the Monument National late in September. His Honor Lieut.-Governor Chapleau will be asked to allow the affair to be held under his auspices. The proceeds will be given for Christmas and New Year's gifts to poor children—a very worthy object. La Presse is giving the entertainment its hearty support.

A letter was read from the Barbers' Union asking the clerks to patronize the members of that body whose names were enclosed. The secretary was instructed to acknowledge their letter and to say that they would comply with the request.

Mr. W. La Forest was elected a member of the committee in place of G. Lareau, who has gone into business on his own account.

Several new members will be proposed at the next meeting.

The corresponding secretary was instructed to send the following to THE CANADIAN GROCER, 146 St. James street, Montreal:

SIR,—The Grocers' Clerks' Association, at the last meeting held in their hall, passed a resolution, proposed by Mr. J. A. Loughran, seconded by Mr. P. Ethier, that thanks be conveyed to THE CANADIAN GROCER for the interest taken in the success and progress of this society, which will not cease to record thanks for the repeated efforts made by the paper to aid the progress of the association, and that the paper can count on the aid and patronage of the society.

Yours faithfully,

P. ETHIER.

THREE DATES.

August 26th to 29th.

September 2nd to 5th.

September 2nd to 14th.

Here are three dates to be remembered. The first is the date of the Toronto millinery openings. The second is the date of the Montreal millinery openings. The third is the date of the Toronto Industrial Exhibition.

CURRENT GROWERS GET RELIEF.

The question as to what action the Greek Government would take to relieve the currant growers of the country has at last been settled.

The first proposition, as THE CANADIAN GROCER some weeks ago intimated, was that the Government should take 25 per cent. of the crop, selling it to distillers at special rates, and giving these distillers the benefit of a reduced tax on the resulting spirits as an inducement for them to use the currants, the object being to preserve a closer equilibrium between supply and demand in the fruit markets. The Grecian Assembly was disposed to assist the growers, but inclined to reduce the quantity to be withheld from the fruit supply. A bill to make this quantity 20 per cent. of the crop met with favor, though it did not pass, and finally, about the middle of July, a majority of deputies decided upon 15 per cent., and a bill to that effect was passed.

Since the passage of this measure of relief prices have advanced materially, probably abnormally; at any rate, a cable received in Toronto on Tuesday last announced a decline of 6d. from the highest point.

THE FRUIT CROP.

The secretary of the Fruit Buyers' and Exporters' Association furnishes THE CANADIAN GROCER with the following information concerning the fruit crop in Eastern Canada:

NEWCASTLE, N.B.—Fruit crop a failure.

CAMPBELLTON, N.B.—Apples and plums are almost a failure, and the smaller fruits are not up to the average.

ALBERT, N.B.—Apples and small fruit are light.

HALIFAX, N.S.—Prospects generally under the average for both plums and apples, particularly Gravensteins and Baldwins.

TRURO, N.S.—Fruits were never known to be better, and the apple yield promises to be large and well formed. Plums, pears and other fruit trees look well. There were no June frosts.

PICTOU, N.S.—Fruit prospects are not good.

AMHERST, N.S.—Apples promise well, but orchards are not numerous and are small.

STANSTEAD, Que.—Apples will be a fair crop, and there is an abundance of small fruits.

PERCE, Que.—Fruit prospects are very good.

KNOWLTON, Que.—Late May frosts damaged the fruit crop.

ST. ARMAND, WEST QUE.—Fruit prospects are not favorable.

QUEBEC PROVINCE GENERALLY—Apples a failure.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING.

Since the publication of our article, "Can We Depend on Your Quotations?" we have received a large number of inquiries for information, all of which have been gladly attended to. We are here for this purpose. If our subscribers require information of any kind they should write either our Toronto or Montreal office, and they will be sure of an immediate reply.

A GREAT INSTITUTION.

By TIR.

"Hi say, 'Arry!"

"Why, wot's the matter, Bill?"

"Why don't you join the Grocers' Instertution?"

"Wot have they done, Bill?"

"Lots, 'Arry. It's a blooming good instertution. See how they tackled the department stores question, and the pedlar question, and how they got the co-operation of the Trades and Labor Council and the Ministerial Association to 'elp 'em close at 8 o'clock. Why, that's going ter be a big thing one of these days, 'Arry. There's only one thing needed to make it a perfect success."

"Wot's that, Bill?"

"Why, don't yer know? Something to make 'em stick together, of course. Can anybody find it? There's Corrie, the blooming secretary, he's getting there looking for it."

MONEY AND STOCKS.

DULNESS pronounced is the condition of the Toronto Stock Exchange. There is scarcely anything doing in any one line. Dulness usually obtains at this season, but there are some who contend that it is now more pronounced than usual. In spite of the little business that is being done, values keep fairly steady.

I asked a well known broker on Tuesday what stocks at present offered the best investment. He settled back in his chair, crossed his hands, shook his head, and laconically replied: "Too high, all too high."

The opinion that the recent decline in C. P. R. was due to the bonus voted to the Hudson Bay Railway by Parliament in the expiring moments of the session, finds little or no credence among Toronto financiers. On the other hand, they look upon C. P. R. as a pretty steady stock at the moment, and they, of course, base their premise on the promising condition of the crops.

At the time of writing the New York stock market is still active, with the "granger" roads continuing to lead on reports favorable to the crops.

The rumor is again revived that the Bank of Hamilton is to remove its offices from the Canada Life building in King street to the Livingstone building in Yonge street. This latter building, it will be remembered, came into the bank's hands in the course of certain commercial exigencies.

A portion of the money on the loan secured by Toronto from the New York firm was paid to the civic authorities this week through the Ontario Bank. It was all gold, aggregating over half a million dollars, and came to the Ontario Bank in eleven kegs. The money once in the city's hands, part of it, at least, was soon transferred to the banks which had been accommodating it with funds lately.

Talking about the Ontario Bank reminds me of a remark I heard dropped by one of the leading financial men in Toronto one day this week. He was speaking about Mr. Geo. McGill, the new manager of the bank. "He's feeling his way," he said, "and mastering the situation before he moves. He's a nice fellow, he's a clever fellow, and should make a good manager."

The earnings of the Grand Trunk Railway the third week in July were $355,426, against $353,923 the same week a year ago, an increase of $1,503. It is understood that among the reforms contemplated by the new board is the appointment of a board in Canada.

GOOD ADVICE.

DID worrying ever bring about a desired result? ever help in taking account of stock or meeting a note falling due? Can you ever recall a single instance in which that miserable thief of peaceful moments gave you even a trifle of assistance in your efforts to accomplish a desired end? asks Caleb McElroy, in The Trade Magazine. You must admit that it never did. Then don't worry.

There are many hours wasted by it, besides making the task harder to do. It unfits you for the work that needs a good, healthy mind to back it.

Do your best and leave the rest. The old story of the man who walked the floor is full of good common sense. It is told of a man who could not go to sleep on account of a person in a neighboring room continually walking up and down the floor. After a long time of tossing on the bed, only to be disturbed by his nervous neighbor, he got up and, knocking at the door, asked the inmate the cause of his wakefulness. He was informed that on account of his inability to meet an obligation the following day he was so distressed that he could not sleep. His neighbor immediately remarked: "My friend, go to bed and let the other fellow walk, if walking will help out of the difficulty."

I don't mean to infer that we should in the least disregard our obligation; no, not for one moment; but after we have done all in our power, is there any good to be accomplished by worrying?

Better lay aside the burdened mind with your clothes and get the rest from sleep, and wake up in the morning better prepared to take up the battle of life.

I hear the reader remark: "Oh, it's easy to say 'Don't worry,' but did Mr. McElroy ever try it?" Yes, he has. At one time in his life, before the grey hairs were as plentiful on his cranium, there was not a man to be found who suffered more acutely from this terrible malady than he. Many times he has scoffed at the admonition, "Don't worry," for he could not see how it could be helped; rather, he would not see. But there came a time in his life when he was compelled to sit down and think the matter over quietly; he had not ever done so before, and it all came to him so plainly, the utter uselessness of the fault, for fault it certainly is, breaking down the physical as well as the mental parts, that he gave it up, and has never repented of it.

Hustle for all you are worth; work like a beaver. Hard work never hurts anybody—it's beneficial. And then, after all the hustle and hard work, duty done to the fullest extent, leave the rest, and don't worry; you cannot afford the cost.

FRESH SALMON FOR EUROPE.

By the steamship Miowera, which sailed from Vancouver for Sydney on the 17th instant, there was made a third shipment of frozen salmon to Europe by the Texas Lake

Ice and Cold Storage Company, of Vancouver. The shipment was 35 tons. It will be transhipped at Sydney, N.S.W. The shipment consists of spring and sockeye salmon, chiefly the former. Small parcels are consigned to Honolulu and Sydney, but the bulk of it goes to London and Paris. Advices from those two places state that the first shipment reached there in exactly the same condition in which it left the cold storage here, and the fish found a ready sale. Already the demand is large enough to dispose of 100 tons of salmon each month, if arrangements could be made to secure that quantity.—The Statistic, Vancouver.

WORLD'S SUGAR CONSUMPTION.

The "Prager-Zuckermarkt" has recently published the figures below giving the total consumption of sugar throughout the world in so far as it is represented by sugars delivered into the markets of the world for consumption. The increase in consumption averages 243,000 tons per year. The figures for 1894-95 are estimated from the latest data. The figures for the twelve years are:

Seasons.	Consumption in tons.	Seasons.	Consumption in tons.
1882-83	4,260,000	1889-90	5,759,000

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Aug. 1, 1895.
GROCERIES.

PRACTICALLY the only interesting feature on the local market at the moment is the canned goods situation, which, if anything, is stronger than a week ago. The anticipated revival in the demand for sugar has so far failed to materialize. In fact, judging from the remarks of the wholesalers' and refiners' agents, the little sign of an improvement that was apparent last week has vanished. In view of this condition of affairs it is difficult to say what prices jobbers are really getting. Although there is in some staples a rather more than seasonable demand, yet because sugar is not moving, trade generally is characterized as dull, and, of course, merchants are not satisfied thereat. Business continues to fall off in canned vegetables, but there is still, however, a brisk demand, considering the time of year. The tea market is on the whole strong in primary markets, but there is no feature worthy of note on the local market. Foreign dried fruits are in good demand. Currants are cabled 6d. cheaper, while California evaporated apricots have again advanced 1c. per pound.

CANNED GOODS.

There is a good deal of bull talk about canned vegetables. There is no visible supply of tomatoes in packers' hands, but one broker reports that he negotiated a sale at 90c. last week. We also hear of 90c. being bid for tomatoes, but it was not entertained. There were enquiries this week from Montreal for tomatoes. The pea pack is generally conceded to be short, and it is yet, of course, too early to say what the corn and tomato pack will be. Packers are offering new peas at from 85c. for marrowfat up to $1 for the better varieties. We hear of futures (tomatoes and corn) being offered by packers at 75 to 80c., although the outside figure appears to be the ruling price. Transactions, however, are comparatively few: Holders are firm, and jobbers are inclined to hold off, awaiting something more definite regarding the crops. Canned peaches are pretty well cleaned up. The situation in canned salmon remains much as before, with the local demand good. Mail advices under date of Victoria, July 22, say: "At present time, fish in the Fraser River are running very poorly, and everything tends to short pack, so that by holding off we shall probably obtain higher values." The present time, in our opinion, is the one to purchase, as the price of fish will certainly advance, and buyers, in many cases, will, we think, have omitted making contracts until the run is over. Fish cannot be packed this year at the prices quoted now, and we prefer to lose trade rather than money this season." We quote: Tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; corn, 80 to 85c.; peas, 80 to 85c. for ordinary; sifted, 90c. to $1; extra sifted, $1.40; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.20; strawberries, $2.40; apples, 3's, 90c. to $1, gallons, $2.25 to 2.40, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.35 to $1.65, in tall tins; do., Cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins. Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.65 to $1.75; 2's, $2.65 to $2.75; 6's, $8 to $8.25; 14's, $18 to $19. Chicago canned beef, 1's, $1.75 per dozen; 2's, $2.85. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEE.

The feeling in the outside markets regarding Rio coffees favors firm prices, particularly in regard to the higher grades. On the local market there is no particular feature to note. We quote green in bags: Rio (new season), 19 to 21c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 20 to 22½c.; Java, 28 to 33c.; Mocha, 30 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

RICE.

Trade continues moderate at unchanged prices. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 3¾ to 5½c.

SPICES.

The outside markets appear to be a little unsettled, and nothing new has developed on the local market. The first lots of new green Jamaica ginger have arrived in New York. The root is small but of average quality for the season. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 22 to 28c. per lb.

NUTS.

The local market is quiet and featureless. Small lots of new Brazil nuts are arriving in New York, and it is reported that if a further advance should occur there stock would be attracted to that market from England, where best goods are said to be held. It is reported that the entire stock of filberts in Sicily is controlled by one holder, who is asking higher prices. Local quotations are unchanged. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; coconuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

The slight improvement noted a week ago was only of a temporary character, the sugar trade having fallen back to the dulness that obtained a few weeks ago. Quotations remain as before, although it probably does not take much persuasion to induce jobbers to shade prices, when an order can be secured by so doing. We quote: Granulated, No. 1, $4\frac{1}{4}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; do., No. 2, $3\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; yellows, $3\frac{1}{4}$ to $3\frac{3}{4}$ c.; Demerara, $3\frac{1}{2}$ c.

SYRUPS.

There is a little better movement in the brighter kinds at about 34 to 38c., but trade is still on the whole quiet. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

Dull and unchanged. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 30 to 32c.; half-barrels, $33\frac{1}{2}$ to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 37c.

TEAS.

Advices report a very active trade in Foochow, second crop Panyongs, and Pekoe Congous, principally on Australian account. In some cases the crop is estimated at 50 per cent. short. Moning Young Hysons are stronger in Shanghai, and the tale price and exchange is fully six per cent. higher than last year. Fine quality Ceylon teas are being well competed for on the London market, and teas for a price there were dearer at the two last sales. In Japan teas medium and low grades keep strong. A letter from Yokohama, under date of July 5, just received by a Toronto house, states that, owing to the unsatisfactory state of the American market, prices being relatively lower than in Yokohama, shipments are only being made sparingly. On the Toronto market there is a little demand for new season's Japan and Ceylon teas, but generally speaking trade is quiet, although only seasonably so. We quote ruling prices to retailers: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

A cable received on Tuesday announced a decline of 6d. in Patras on currants. The local market is active and strong. We quote as before: Filiatras, half-bbls., 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c., bbls., $4\frac{1}{4}$ c.; fine Filiatras, half-bbls., $4\frac{1}{4}$ c., bbls., $4\frac{3}{4}$ c.; Patras, $5\frac{1}{2}$ c., in cases; Casalinas, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $5\frac{1}{4}$ c.; Vostizzas, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c. in cases and half-cases.

Valencia raisins are in fair demand with stocks light and prices in sympathy with outside markets. We quote: Off-stalk, 80 to 90c. per box; fine off-stalk, 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; selected, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; layers, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c.

The demand for prunes continues to decline, and the season's trade is about over.

We quote: Bosnias at $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c., and Bordeaux at $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.

A further advance of 1c. per lb. is announced in California evaporated apricots. There have been a few cases of new season's evaporated apricots on the local market the past week, but they were quickly cleaned out at 15c., and the greater part of shipments arriving have been sold at the same figure. We quote: Apricots and peaches, $12\frac{1}{2}$ to $13\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb.; new apricots, 15c.; nectarines, $13\frac{1}{2}$ c.; pitted plums, $12\frac{1}{2}$ to 13c.

Sultana raisins are in moderate demand at $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c.

Figs are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, $4\frac{1}{4}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

Dates are quiet and unchanged at from $4\frac{1}{4}$ c. up.

BUTTER, CHEESE AND EGGS.

Butter continues firm and prices are well maintained. The cold storage service which has been established between Canada and England has had the effect of increasing the export trade. Upwards of 8,000 to 10,000 packages more have been shipped this season than up to the same time last year. This export trade will likely have the effect, for some time to come, of keeping the market firm. Locally prices are without any change. We quote: Old summer dairy and store packed, 7 to 9c.; fresh prints, 15 to 16c.; fresh tubs, 14 to 15c.; Fresh creamery—Tubs, 18c.; pound prints, 19c.

CHEESE—Owing to the unsatisfactory markets in the Old Country, the export of cheese has dropped off nearly 100,000 boxes as compared with that of last year. We believe, however, that the output of cheese this year is fully up to that of last season. This means that a lot of cheese must have been stored in the country. In some sections it is true that the output has fallen off, but in other parts of the country the product of new factories makes up for this. New Canadian is being sold at the factories at 8c. per lb., while $8\frac{1}{2}$ c. is the Toronto quotation. Last August and September makes bring to 10 to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.

EGGS—Firm at 11c.

GREEN FRUIT.

Business on the whole continues good in fruits. A good deal of domestic fruit and vegetables continue to come in, while California is placing more fruit on the market than ever before at this season of the year. California peaches are reported very scarce, and it is said that very few will be seen here after this week. Texas peaches are coming in at a very low figure. Lemons and oranges are firm. We quote prices: Messina lemons, 300's, 360's, and 420's, \$5. Oranges—California seedlings, \$3 to 3.50 ; Mediterranean sweets, 3.50 to 4 ; Bananas, 1 to 1.75 ; cocoanuts, 4.50 a sack; cucumbers, Canadian, 35c. per basket; new cabbage, 75c. to 1.25 per bbl.; tomatoes, 60c. to 80c. per crate. Green California fruit—Peaches, 1.25 to 2.50 in large cases; pears, 2.25 to 2.50 ; plums, 1.50 to 2.00 ; red currants, 1 to 1.10 per basket; red raspberries, 6 to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c. a quart; gooseberries, 60c. to 90c. a basket; green apples, 2 to 2.50 a barrel; watermelons, 20 to 25c. each; black currants, 1.15 to 1.35 per basket; black caps, 8 to 10c.; muskmelons, 90c. per basket.

COUNTRY PRODUCE

BEANS—Quoted at 1.80 per bushel.

DRIED APPLES—Jobbers quote at $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Quoted at 7 to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb. in 50-lb. boxes.

ONIONS—Malta sell at $2\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb. by the hamper, and Egyptians at 2 per bag.

POTATOES—The market is still flooded with new potatoes, both Canadian and American. Canadian growers are getting 50c. a bushel for their yield, and 65c. is the price quoted for out-of-store sales, but none are selling.

HONEY—Is quoted at 7 and 8c. in bulk, strained, and 1.50 to 1.80 a dozen in the comb.

HOPS—Are still strong. Pacifics are quoted at 14c., and Canadian at $6\frac{1}{2}$ to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c.

HAY—Baled hay brings 12 to 14 in car lots and 14 to 15 in ton lots.

FISH.

Business is a little better. We quote prices as follows: Skinned and boned cod-fish, $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.; boneless fish, $3\frac{1}{2}$ to 4c.; haddock, 5 to 6c.; Labrador herring, 3.25 to 3.50 per half barrel and 5.50 to 5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, 2.50 per half barrel, and 4.50 to 4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, 3 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 3c.; pike, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to 5c. per lb.; flitch cod, 5c.; finnan haddies, 8c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 10 to 13c.; Georgian Bay trout, 7c.; white fish, 7c.; Restigouche salmon, 20 to 25c.; blue fish, 9c.; mackerel, 20c.; steak cod, 7 to 8c.; haddock, 6c.; black bass, 9 to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

No change in the market is noted. Dressed hogs bring 6 to 6.25 per 100 lbs. Smoked meats find a good demand. We quote products:

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 8c. for carload lots, and $8\frac{1}{2}$ c. for small lots; backs, $8\frac{1}{2}$ to 9c.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 11 to $11\frac{1}{2}$ c.; rolls, 8 to $8\frac{1}{2}$ c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, $10\frac{1}{2}$ to 11c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., $11\frac{1}{2}$ c.; small hams, 12c.; pickled, 10 to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.; backs, 10 to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.; picnic hams, $7\frac{1}{2}$ to 8c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, $8\frac{3}{4}$ c.; tubs, 9c.; pails, $9\frac{1}{4}$ c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $15.75; Canadian short-cut, $16 to $16.50; clear shoulder mess, $13.75 to $14; shoulder mess, $13.50 to $13.75.

FLOUR AND FEED.

WHEAT—White and red each quoted at 82c.

OATS—Quoted at 38 to 39c.

BARLEY—Quoted at 46 to 48c.

FLOUR—Shows no change. We quote: Straight roller, $3.75 to $3.80; Manitoba, $4.25; patents, $4.50.

BREAKFAST FOODS—The market is fair and prices are lower. We quote: Standard oatmeal, $4.20; rolled oats, $4.20; rolled wheat, $2.75 in 100 lb. barrels; cornmeal, $3.25; split peas, $3.50; pot barley, $3.75 to $4 per bbl.

SEEDS.

There is already some alsike clover seed being marketed, the producers becoming each season more alive to the fact that generally the early marketed seed realizes the best returns, and as dealers must find an outlet for the crop, it is desirable that they be given an opportunity to look up the most profitable market, and thus be in a position to pay the growers the best possible price.

With the outlook for this article so favorable this season, prices are opening up much lower than last year. Choice quality is quotable at $5 per bushel aboard country stations, while lower grades vary from $4.70 down to $4.

SALT.

Trade is better than for years at this season. We quote: Barrels, 85c.; coarse sacks, 58c.; fine sacks, 60c.; dairy, $1.25; rock, $10.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—Show a good demand, and all offerings are taken up for local consumption. There is quite a difference between the price of raw material and the manufactured article, which makes the tanner pause and act very cautiously. It looks as though hides were not going to go down and leather will have to go up or some one will lose. No. 1 green is quoted at 8c. for No. 1, and 7c. for No. 2, while 9 to 9½c. is being asked for salt and dried.

SHEEPSKINS—Lambskins and shearlings, beginning with August 1st, are quoted at the same figure—viz., 40 to 45c.—a considerable advance on last week's quotations.

CALFSKINS—Season over.

WOOL—Washed combings are quoted at 23 to 24c., and rejections at 17 to 18c.

PETROLEUM.

There begins to be some enquiry for illuminating oils, but jobbers do not seem anxious to sell or retailers to buy. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 16 to 17c.; carbon safety, 18 to 19c.; Canadian water white, 18 to 19c.; American water white, 20½c.; photogene, 21½ to 22c.

Clemes Bros. have received during the past few days four cars of California and Texas peaches, one car watermelons and one car of muskmelons.

The Toronto City Travelers' Association will hold a promenade concert on Tuesday evening next, August 6th, on board the steamer Chippewa. A first-class orchestra and string band have been engaged and an excellent programme provided.

California canned goods were being pushed vigorously "on the street" this week, Mr. Ralph Harron, of Fontana & Co., and Mr. McGovern, of McGovern & Co., both touring the warehouses at the same time in the interests of their respective firms.

HAMILTON NOTES.

The attention of the trade is directed to Lucas, Steele & Bristol's "ad."

Lucas, Steele & Bristol report that they are giving a close cut on pickling spices.

BRANTFORD NOTES.

Wm. Paterson & Son are making large quantities of jam just now.

LONDON NOTES.

T. B. Escott & Co. have just received from Japan a second consignment of "Gold Star" Chop Japan tea in half chests and 20 lb. boxes; also another consignment of California apricots and peaches.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Aug. 1, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE general grocery situation here has not exhibited much alteration, trade as a whole being quiet. Lack of demand for sugar is still a prominent feature, and reports from travelers this week state that in important sections the supplies on retailers' hands are larger than expected. Prices are easy, and are expected to continue so. In teas, the jobbers here have been operating with more freedom, while prices are firm. Stocks of tea in second and third hands are generally admitted to be light, and a firm tea market is predicted. Molasses is a very light stock with an upward tendency. Coffees and spices have ruled quiet and steady. Dried fruit continues inactive as yet, but ought soon to be giving some signs of life. In canned goods the execution of further contracts in salmon for future delivery was the chief feature. Sales agents here in some cases want an advance on previous figures in the case of new orders. Green fruits are steady, apples being a notably firm line.

SUGAR.

A quiet tone still characterizes the sugar market and prices are unchanged from last week. Refiners have booked some orders for refined yellows at 3½ to 3¾c., as to grade, but the volume of trade is small in the aggregate. In granulated very little new business is reported from first hands, and the demand that sellers have been expecting for a long time does not materialize. In a distributing way business is quite as dull as from first to second hands. Stocks in retailers' hands turn out to be much more ample than expected, and travelers state that in several of the important sections in Quebec it will take weeks to exhaust them. No change is looked for in consequence for some time, and we quote granulated 4 1-16 to 4 1/4c. and yellows 3 1/2 to 3 3/4c., as to quality, both jobbers' and refiners' prices being on identically the same level at present.

TEA.

There has been a fair degree of activity in new crop Japan teas during the week, quite a quantity of stock ranging from 15 to 18c. going from first to second hands here. One agent placed 1,500 packages on Saturday at 17 to 18c., and another 1,000 at 17 1/2c.; in fact, Japans have been quite active. Congous have been placed at 12 to 16c. for some 700 packages, and green teas of all kinds show a much firmer tendency. The distributing trade is picking up. Stocks in third hands are admitted to be small, and as wholesalers here are but lightly supplied with old crop stock, there is nothing in the local situation to interfere with a strong market. We quote: Low grade Japans, 12 to 13c.; medium, 15 to 18c.; fine, 19 to 22c., and finest 25 to 31c.

SYRUPS.

The market has exhibited no striking change. Prices are firm, and with a short crop of molasses there is not much chance of any radical expansion in trade. Values are firmly held at 1 1/4 to 2 1/4c., as to quality.

MOLASSES.

There is a firmer tendency to the molasses market, but though no quotable change is to note, an advance in the near future is not unlikely. All the Barbadoes stock in first hands here is exhausted, while supplies generally are light. There is little or no stock available for this market at primary points, so that it is scantily furnished here for future wants. This condition conduces to strength. No round lots are moving, and jobbing lots of Barbadoes are held at 37c. Porto Rico is in better supply than the former, but it is strong in sympathy at 36c., though round lots can be had for 33 1/2 to 34c.

RICE.

This market is moderately active and steady. Prices are unchanged as follows: Japan, $4.30 to $4.50; crystal Japan, $4.80 to $5; standard B, $3.45; C.C. style, $3.20; Patna, $4.37 1/2 to $5; and Carolina, $7 to $7.50.

COFFEES.

The coffee market continues quiet, only a few small lots of green stock having moved since a week ago. This has been mostly Maracaibo on a basis of 21c. We quote green: Maracaibo, 20 to 22c.; Rio, 19 to 20c.; Java, 24 to 28c.; Jamaica, 19 to 21c.; and Mocha, 27 to 31c.

SPICES.

No new feature to report in the spice market. We quote jobbing prices as follows: Penang black pepper, 8 to 10c.; white pepper, 13 to 15c.; cloves, whole, 10 to 20c.; cassia, whole, 10 to 20c.; nutmegs, 40 to 90c.; Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c., as to grade.

The continued firmness in cream of tartar is a prominent feature. Crystals advanced to 17c. per lb. on Monday here, and at this writing have an advancing tendency.

DRIED FRUITS.

There has been a fair jobbing enquiry for California fruit here, 4-crown loose muscatel raisins changing hands steady at 6½c., and 3-crown ditto, 5½c.

Valencia raisins are only in moderate demand, and with ample stock jobbers are easy in their ideas. Off-stalk are easily available here at 2½ to 4½c., as to quality, and layers at 4¾ to 5½c., as to grade.

Though more activity has been noted in outside markets in currant, notably in New York, in consequence of primary advices, the situation here is unchanged. Stocks are light, but nothing has been done yet in connection with future supplies for fall shipment. It is quite possible, however, that currant prices will rule high this year in view of light stocks both in Canada and New York. We quote: Barrels, 3¼c.; half-barrels, 3½c., and cases 3¾ to 4½c., as to grade.

The strength of primary markets is maintained on prunes, but no import business is noted. The market here is bare of stock, the only kind offering being Bosnia fruit, which have moved up ¼c. and are held firm at 5c. Dates are firm but quiet at 4½c.

Basket and bag figs are firm at 4 to 5c. for ordinary, and in boxes, 9 to 10c., as to grade.

Evaporated fruit of all kinds are firm. We quote: Peaches, 12 to 15c.; pears, 10 to 13c.; apricots, 14 to 19c., and prunes, 10 to 11c., as to quality.

NUTS.

There is no change in nuts, which are quiet and steady. We quote: Brazils, 8 to 9c.; shelled almonds, 18 to 25c.; Taragona, 12 to 13c.; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 13c.; shelled ditto, 24 to 25c.; filberts, 6½ to 7½c.; and pecans, 8 to 10c.

CANNED GOODS.

The canned goods market has been fairly active all round, and business would, no doubt, be wider if sellers were disposed to operate as freely as buyers wish. This is notably the case in canned B.C. salmon for future delivery. Some further good sized contracts, aggregating 2,000 cases B.A. and other leading brands, have been put through at $4.50 f.o.b. on the Coast, but this week one or two agents refused to take bids for good sized lots on that basis, stipulating for $4.75. All round this summer canners have operated very independently. Last year at this time more than one agent here had settled contracts for 30,000 cases who this summer have not exceeded 18,000 to 20,000 cases. This reduction is not due to lack of demand but to restricted offerings. In vegetables all staples have a firm tendency, notably peas, corn and tomatoes, and the same applies to leading lines of canned fruit. We quote: Lobsters, $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $10.50; salmon, $5.20 to $5.50; tomatoes, 90 to 95c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $3 per doz.; corn, 85c. to $1 per doz.; peas, 85 to 95c. per doz.; strawberries, $2.25 to $2.50; raspberries, $2; green gages, $2 to $2.25; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2.25 to $2.50, and 3-lb. apples, $1 to $1.10.

GREEN FRUIT.

Trade in all kinds of green fruit continues satisfactory. Receipts of apples, California fruit, pears, etc., are increasing, but prices are fully sustained, and in some cases materially higher.

APPLES—Receipts of new apples last week were 700 barrels. Anything of decent size and appearance brings a good price. Duchess sold at $2.50 to $3; Astrachan, $2 to $3; sweets and southern kinds $2.25 to $3.50 per bbl., and baskets 30 to 50c.

PEARS—Hudson river kegs and barrels have commenced to arrive. There will be a lot of them, and they will be fine and reasonable in price.

ORANGES—Are getting scarce, and run from $1.40 to $2 per half-box.

LEMONS—The demand is good and stocks have run pretty low. We quote $3.25 to $4.50 as to quality. The prediction is for higher prices in August.

BANANAS—Receipts have been heavy, but the demand is fair. Firsts bring $1 to $1.50 and seconds 65 to 85c. as to quality. Receipts last week aggregated over 2,000 bunches.

CALIFORNIA FRUIT—Is selling well. Receipts of peaches, pears and plums will be free this week, and prices are apt to rule moderate. At this writing we quote plums $1.75 to $2.50, peaches, $1 to $1.25 and pears $2.50 to $3.50 per box.

WATERMELONS—There have been fair receipts of these, but prices have ruled steady at 20 to 30c.

BERRIES—Blackberries are steady at 10 to 11c., and raspberries, 7 to 10c., and these prices are expected to hold throughout the week.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—Demand for eggs good and the market active and firm. The receipts continue small and stocks on spot are light. At this date last year choice candled stock were quoted at 1½ to 2½c. per dozen below what they are to-day at 9 to 10½c. We quote choice candled stock at 11½ to 12c.; ordinary at 10½ to 11c., and culls at 9½ to 10c. per dozen.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—Little or no business doing, and prices steady at 6½ to 7½c. for sugar, and 50 to 60c. per tin for syrup.

HOPS—Hops nominal at 5½ to 8c.

HONEY—Quiet and dull at 7 to 9c. for extracted and 10 to 12c. in the comb.

BEANS—Steady at $1.70 to $1.80 for hand-picked and $1.30 to $1.50 for lower grades.

TALLOW—Quiet and steady at 5 to 6c. per lb.

POTATOES—Receipts have been very free since our last, stock in barrels coming in freely. In consequence prices are 30c. lower at $1.25 per bbl.

HAY—The firm tone of this market is maintained, higher prices having been made since our last report. No. 1 timothy cannot be had at all, and $12 to $13 was bid for it on Monday, while No. 2 has sold freely at $11.50 to $12, f.o.b. on cars here.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

There is no important change in the flour market, values being very firm in sympathy with the strong wheat markets. The demand continues fair and a moderate active trade was done. We quote: Winter wheat, $4.45 to $4.50; spring wheat, patents, $4.40 to $4.50; straight roller, $4.25 to $4.35; straight roller, bags, $2.10; extra, $4; extra, bags, $1.90; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.25 to $4.35.

Demand for oatmeal slow and the market quiet, with no new feature to note. We quote: Standard, bbls., $4.05 to $4.10; granulated, bbls., $4.10 to $4.15; rolled oats, bbls., $4.10 to $4.15.

An active business continues to be done in feed, and values are firmly held. We quote: Bran, $17; shorts, $19; mouillie, $22 to $23.

PROVISIONS.

The market continues quiet and steady. The volume of business doing is small, sales principally of a jobbing character to fill actual wants. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $16; Canadian short cut, mess, $18; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 11c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9¾ to 10¼c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 11c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 7¾ to 7¼c.

BUTTER.

The butter market is quiet and steady. There is no activity to note in an export way, but holders are not urgent sellers. They have no special reason to be, either, as there is no accumulation of fine creamery or dairy on spot. In a local way creamery has sold at 18c. for jobbing lots of finest, while shippers offer in the vicinity of 17¼c. and one lot changed hands at that to-day. Receipts of western dairy keep light, and some has gone forward for export at 13 to 13½c. We quote: Finest late made creamery, 17 to 18c.; medium to good, 16½ to 17c.; Townships dairy, 14 to 15c.; Western dairy, 13 to 13½c.

CHEESE.

Buyers and sellers are apart, which interferes with business. Cables do not exhibit anything new, and the public quotation is unchanged. Spot values on both Ontario and Eastern Townships makes are nominal, but Quebec makes can be quoted at a range of 7¾ to 7¼c. At St. Hyacinthe 5,000 boxes were sold at 7½c., but will probably be settled at a fraction less, or equivalent to 7½c. spot. At the wharf 10,000 boxes were offered, and they were all cleaned up at 7½c. with a fraction more bid in some cases. This is about steady, compared with last week, but it was due more to competition between buyers on a speculative basis than any legitimate ground. We quote: Finest Ontario makes, 8 to 8¼c.; Townships' makes, 7½ to 8c.; other Quebec makes, 7¼c.

ASHES.

The ashes market is steady. We quote: First pots, $4.10 to $4.15, and second, $3.80 to $3.85, while pearls are $5.25 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

A. P. Tippet & Co. landed shipments of Stower's cordials this week.

The price on cream of tartar crystals has an advancing tendency at 17c. per lb.

Cable advices to Rose & Laflamme note continued firmness both in Austrian and French prunes.

J. Alex. Gordon & Co. placed some 500 packages of new crop Japan teas on this market on Monday at 16 to 18c.

Vipond, McBride & Co. are receiving this week 180 boxes pears, 200 boxes plums and 614 boxes peaches from California.

J. Alex. Gordon & Co. settled contracts for 1,200 cases of B. C. canned salmon on Monday at $4.50 f. o. b. on the Coast.

Walter Wonham, jr., is on his way to the Northwest, where he expects to place a good many orders for Marshall's Aberdeen products.

Robert Greig & Co. have been doing well with their French mustards, and last week they completed the erection of two new mills, which has necessitated an increase in their staff as well.

The St. Lawrence Sugar Refinery booked orders this week for yellow refined sugar at 3½c., to be delivered as wanted until the end of August.

The stock of last season's California raisins in first hands is all exhausted, with the exception of a few second-crop stock of inferior quality.

A. P. Tippet & Co.'s advices from California state that the crop promises well in raisins, and that prices are expected to be reasonable.

Several shipments of Carr's English biscuits were passed through the Custom House here this week for transshipment to British Columbia.

A carload of California evaporated fruits, peaches, apricots, etc., was placed in distribution on the market this week at steady prices by A. P. Tippet & Co.

The stock of tomatoes here is entirely exhausted in first hands. The only lot offering, a small line of goods which has been carried for over two years, was sold on Monday at 80c., and jobbers have offered as high as 95c. in the west since for supplies.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 1, 1895.

THE past month has been a rather quiet one in many lines. On the whole there has been a falling off in prices, and with heavy stocks, many goods have been sold below value. Collections are fair. One of our largest wholesalers said to THE GROCER: "In the last six months we have made but one bad debt." In spices there is not much demand at this season. Cloves are firm and nutmegs and mace rather higher. Cream of tartar continues high, the last quotation received here being 73s. The trade are much pleased to be able to again get Napoleon tobacco, of which the market here was bare for some time.

OIL—Demand is rather better in burning oils. Fall contracts are being made at prices rather below quotations. Prices are as last week. We quote: American, 22½c.; best Canadian, 21½c.; prime, 18c.

SALT—During the past week the market has been very inactive, and prices show no change. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory filled, 95c. to $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.80 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per doz.; bulk dairy, $2.80 per bbl.; bulk, cheese $2.70.

eral movement among the brokers during the past few weeks, but merchants were not willing to pay prices asked, and the only outcome was a number of offers which, in most cases, were refused. During the last few days matters were brought to a head, however, by Aylmer offering corn, peas and tomatoes at 80c. And most of our dealers bought, though in most cases not very large orders were given. Other canners would not meet this price, and it is understood that this quotation is now withdrawn. Peas are held particularly firm. Tomatoes are also firm, while corn is easy. Peaches are firm at quotations. Salmon shows a good demand at prices, with but light stocks bought to arrive. Beef continues dull. The sale of English canned fish in this market is light. Prices are: Corn, 95c. to $1; peas, 95c. to $1; tomatoes, $1 to $1.05; corned beef, 2-lb. tins, $2.75 to $3; 1-lb. tins, $1.70 to $1.80; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $3; 2's, $2 to $2.10; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; salmon, $1.40 to $1.50; flat, $1.75; clams, $5.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $3 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1.

DRIED FRUIT—In this line everything remains quiet. Prices have been received for peels by brokers, but no sales are yet reported. Prices range much as last year. The extra duty which will be charged this season will make their prices rather higher. Evaporated apples are rather better value, and dried are in very light stock, and when the demand improves as the fall comes on an advance is expected. Raisins are in very light demand. Brokers as yet report a very light sale of new goods to arrive. It is doubtful if many California loose muscatels are sold direct this season; they could be bought at anytime after the direct shipments arrive cheaper in New York. The sale of California evaporated fruits, which has never been large in this market, has been particularly light this past season. We quote: Sultana raisins, 6 to 7c.; Valencia, 4c.; layers, 5c.; London layers, $2 to $2.25; California loose muscatels, 5 to 5½c.; currants, bbls., 3¾ to 4c.; half-cases, 4 to 4¼c.; evaporated apples, 7½ to 8c.; dried apples, 5½ to 5¾c.; dates, 4 to 4½c.; prunes, 4 to 5c.; figs, 11 to 18c.; Egyptian onions, 2¼ to 2½c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; do. apricots, 12 to 14c.; do. pears, 12 to 13c.; cleaned currants, bulk, 6½c.; 1 lb. cartons, 7½c.

GREEN FRUIT—The demand is very heavy. In small fruit strawberries are out of the market. Raspberries continue to arrive in good quantities. Blueberries and gooseberries are also very plentiful. Cherries are about over. They have been very plentiful and of good quality this season. American tomatoes continue to hold the market. Apples are finding a good sale, and lemons are very firm. California fruit finds a fair demand. We quote: Peaches, $1.50 to $2; pears, $3 to $3.50; California pears, $4 to $5; melons, 25 to 35c.; apples, $3.50 to $4.00 per bbl.; oranges, $4 to $4.50; lemons, $5 to $5.50; sweet potatoes, $4.50 per bbl.; bananas, $1.00 to $2.50; oranges, half-box, $1.75 to $2.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Eggs are rather firmer, with but fair arrivals. P. E. I. shippers say they can get better prices in any other market. Cheese is in better demand. Factories are not inclined to sell at present figures and buyers won't advance. The outlook is not particularly encouraging, the export demand being light and the prices offered low. There will be a large quantity of cheese to sell in this market. The factories would find it much to their advantage to form a cheese board. In butter, creamery prints find a fair demand. Other grades are slow even at prices. This is the quiet season. Eggs are firm and in good demand. We quote: New cheese, 8½ to 9c.; new butter, 15 to 16c.; eggs, 10 to 10½c.; fresh creamery prints, 18 to 20c.

MOLASSES—The demand for some little time has been quiet. Holders of best grades are not over anxious to sell. Of average quality there is a good stock. Prices are steady, holders of Porto Rico being very firm. New Orleans in barrels is being offered rather lower and of very good quality. The small package finds the best demand towards fall. We quote: Barbadoes, 33 to 34c.; St. Croix, 32 to 33c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 36c.; syrup, 35c.; Trinidad, 32 to 33c.; New Orleans, bbls., 34 to 35c.

SUGAR—That bought before the duty was changed forms the bulk of that arriving. The demand is good. Some holders are cutting prices, and granulated can be bought below refiners' prices. Yellows are held more firm. Some, however, feel that prices will be higher, and there are those among the largest holders who are not pushing sales. We quote: Granulated, 4 to 4¼c.; yellow, 3½ to 3¾c.; Paris lump, 5 to 5½c.; powdered, 5 to 5½c.

FISH—Business is not so brisk this week. The fresh fish business, which is what causes the most activity, is about over. A few salmon are still being caught. Dry cod are rather higher. Arrivals of new are not very large, as the weather has been bad for drying. Small quantities of new pickled herring are also to hand. In alewives the catch of some 13,000 to 14,000 barrels has been sold; it is understood the price paid was between $3.25 to $3.50. Boneless cod are in rather better demand. In shredded codfish an American article has been selling here for some time. There is now, however, some coming here from Yarmouth, N.S. We quote: Medium cod, $3.50; large, $3.65; small, $2.50; pollock, $1.30 to $1.40; bay herring, $1.40 to $1.50; Shelburne, No. 1, $4 per bbl.; half-bbl., $2.40 to $2.50; smoked herring, 5 to 6c.; rippling herring, $1.75 per half-bbl., extra shad, $6 per half-bbl.; good, $5 per half-bbl.; fresh salmon, 19 to 20c.

PROVISIONS—In this line the movement is light, particularly in smoked meats. Lard is rather easy, pure showing quite a range in price. Beef continues firm. We quote: P. E. I. thin mess, $16 to $16.50; clear pork, $18 to $19.50; mess, $16.50 to $17; prime, $13 to $13.50; plate beef, $14.50 to $15; pure lard, 10 to 10½c.; compound lard, 8½ to 9c.; cottolene, 9¼ to 9¾c.; hams, 11 to 12c.; rolls, 9 to 9½c.; beef, half-harrels, $7.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—In flour, there is still a decline in prices. Manitoba and best Ontario are almost the same price. Stocks here in some grades are getting small, and dealers will soon be again in the market. Feed continues very scarce. In oats the demand is dull and prices are again off, some sales of P. E. I. being reported as low as 40c. delivered here by carload. Oatmeal is also marked 10c. lower. Cornmeal is steady. Shippers of hay report better prices can be obtained in other markets, and are shipping outside rather than to St. John. We quote: Manitoba, $4.90 to $5.00; best Ontario, $4.85; medium, $4.60 to $4.70; oatmeal, $4.40 to $4.50; cornmeal, $2.90; middlings, $25 on track; bran, $22.50 to $23; hand-picked beans, $1.85 to $1.90; prime,

ST. JOHN NOTES.

Robert Jardine, agent for Pure Gold goods, reports trade good for this season.

Mr. Eddy, of the E. B. Eddy Co., is in the city this week.

J. Hunter White, the New Brunswick agent, reports that Almond J. Teed, of St. Stephen, has placed a good order for Mac-onochie Bros.' pickles this week.

W. Frank Hatheway is home after a trip of seven months through Europe, Asia and Africa. He was accompanied by Mrs. Hatheway. His friends congratulate him on a pleasant trip and safe return.

The lumber trade continues fairly active. There are several cargoes here for shipment to South America. Some 73,000,000 feet of logs have so far been rafted at Fredericton, and there is still some 30,000,000 feet to be.

In lime, though business is on the whole quiet, one firm reports sales of 7,651 casks so far this season, all sold in the Maritime Provinces.

Clark Bros. have opened a new cash store at Fairville.

It is reported that at Point Escuminac the catch of lobsters is so small that many factories have been compelled to close.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

HALIFAX, Aug. 1, 1895.

TRADE is of a midsummer holiday character—just enough doing to keep dealers from going asleep.

FLOUR—The markets seem to be steady all round. We quote: Hungarian patents, Manitoban, $5.00 to $5.25; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.90 to $5.15; Canadian pastry, $5 to $5.25; 75 p.c. roller patents, $4.90 to $5.10; 80 p.c. ditto, $4.75 to $4.90; 90 p.c. ditto, $4.65 to $4.75; straight, $4.35 to $4.50; extra, $4.11 to $4.25.

FISHSTUFFS—There is not much life in our fish market at present. Codfish are stationary at ruling prices, which, in the opinion of most buyers, will keep low throughout the season. Fair to medium quality is worth $2 to $2.50; best cure, with a good proportion of large, would probably bring $3 to $3.25. Salmon are still declining, the last sales of No. 1 being $12.50. This is considered the bottom price. Alewives are in good demand at $2.75. Herring are scarce; there are considerable on our shores, but our fishermen are unable to catch on account of the scarcity of bait.

GREEN FRUIT—The market continues to be well supplied with green fruit and prices remain about the same as last week. California peaches are arriving in splendid order. Blueberries, gooseberries, raspberries and currants are in abundance.

POTATOES—Potatoes have had a big decline, and are now selling at 45c. per bushel. Old stocks are out of the market.

PROVISIONS—The provision market is dull. Lamb is scarce at 8½ to 9c. Native beef is still quoted at $7 to $9, and Ontario $10 to $11, sinking offal. The best beef still comes from Ontario. J. A. Leaman & Co. received three cars this week. One of the three contained sixteen three-year old steers, which dressed 1,000 lbs. of beef each. The steers were fed at the Ontario Agricultural College farm. They also received half a car of hogs, of different breeds, which were fed as an experiment at the same place.

HAY—There is an advance in hay of about 50c. It is now selling at from $8.50 to $10.50.

OATS—Both P.E. Island and Ontario oats are holding their own at from 45 to 50c.

SUGAR—The refinery reports the demand improving, showing that stocks are being gradually absorbed. There is no change in quotations.

MOLASSES—The molasses market continues stiff. A higher range of prices is looked for. Quotations to-day are: Antigua, 30c.; Port Rico, 32 to 35c.; Trinidad, 30c.; Barbadoes, 34c.; Demerara, M.R. brand, 39c.; St. Kitts, 28c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE—Both lines continue quiet. The local creameries are sending in new makes of butter in large quantities. Jobbers are selling old September cheese as low as 8c. New Antigonish is worth 10c. Creamery butter in small tubs is selling at 17 and 18c.

CANNED GOODS—Canned goods remain quiet. The demand is about the usual at this season.

DRIED FRUITS—Like canned goods, this line is very quiet at this season, and the demand is next to nothing.

EGGS—Eggs are selling in a jobbing way at 12c., but the demand is limited.

A CHANGE IN PARTNERSHIP.

The partnership hitherto existing between W. S. Kennedy and Robert Greig, importers, Montreal, has been dissolved by mutual consent. The Canadian business will be carried on in all its branches by Robert Greig & Co., who will continue to represent, among others, the following houses, and will carry full ranges of their goods in stock: H. I. Rowntree & Co., "Elect" cocoa, chocolate and confectionery; M. A. Craven & Son, confectionery and confectioners' supplies; Carr & Co., biscuits; Bryant & May, matches; Robinson & Wordsworth, liquorice; Pratt Food Co., poultry and cattle food.

Owing to the increased demand, the firm has been compelled to enlarge its facilities for the manufacture of "Crown Brand" flavoring extracts and French mustards.

Robert Greig & Co.'s travelers will shortly submit full range of samples for the fall trade in all the above-mentioned lines, together with a general assortment of grocers' and confectioners' sundries.

Burt & Co., of Bracebridge, grocers, have assigned to W. A. Campbell, of Toronto. The assets and liabilities are about equal at $4,500.

It is rumored that the McDonald Tobacco Co., of Montreal, have purchased the cotton mill building at Dundas, Ont., and propose to establish a branch tobacco factory there.

Ceylon is the coming tea. Consumption in Canada increased 600 per cent. since 1890.

It has already taken the place of China teas in Great Britain. Study this diagram; thirty years ago they drank 95 per cent. China, to-day less than 10 per cent.

The man who gets in on the ground floor makes money these days. He gets the start of everyone. When competition comes his reputation and trade are firmly established. We want the friends of THE GROCER to get in at the start in this Ceylon tea deal. Be sure that it is a pure Ceylon you get.

A BIG TIME AT LONDON.

"There are two modes of establishing our reputation—to be praised by honest men and to be abused by rogues. It is best, however, to secure the former, because it will be invariably accompanied by the latter."

AM an honest man, and therefore desire to say something about the London Retail Grocers' picnic, held last week. It is not necessary to say anything to establish its reputation. Everyone has heard of the L. R. G. P. As an instance, I was speaking to a man the other day from Jerusalem, and mentioned that I was going up to London. "London," he shouted; "holy smoke! that is where they have picnics," and he vanished. I think he thought a picnic a disease. "Holy Smoke" is evidently a new brand of a Davis cigar.

If a picnic is a disease, the Londoners have it badly. It attacks them once a year, in the month of July. Weeks ahead they feel it coming on, and, in a cool sort of a way, prepare to battle with it. They lay out a day and invite their friends to come and enjoy the disease. In fact, the Committee offered to lay me out, too, if I did not put in an appearance.

I went. I live to tell it. A procession, consisting of carriages and decorated wagons, was formed on the Market Square and, headed by the Seventh Battalion Band, marched up to the Queen's Park. The first carriage contained President McCutcheon, Ex-Presidents McCormick and Ferguson, and THE CANADIAN GROCER; the other carriages contained the several committees, the guests and judges; then followed hands and decorated wagons without number. I was not in a position to see all the wagons, or I would give an idea what they looked like. One humorous grocer had a sign on his wagon, in large letters, "Grocer to the Queen." Another feature that caused much fun was a wagon made into the form of a circus cage for wild animals. Inside the cage sat a boy representing a trainer. In front of him, her mild eyes staring half in terror, half in surprise, stood the mildest mannered dog imaginable. She was large and very prettily spotted. But the cause of the laughter was the legend the wagon bore: "The only spotted leopard living in the world. Value, $2,000." Thousands lined the streets half an hour before the appointed time. Stores and warehouses along the route were closed for the day, and everybody and everything took on holiday garb. One enthusiastic member said: "You know, this is a great day for us; no matter what our differences may be throughout the year, on this day we put all such aside and enjoy ourselves." To better illustrate his meaning I have borrowed two cuts from the foreman. We are all prone to exaggeration. My informant exaggerated, and I now exaggerate. The day of the picnic is shown in the last illustration. They are drinking Stower's Lime Fruit Juice.

THE SECRETARY.

Of course, the grocers did not go to all the trouble of decorating for nothing. Prizes were offered, and while the procession was en route the judges were taking in all the striking points with critical eyes. Their award was as follows:

Best decorated grocers' delivery wagon—1, $8, R. W. Rolston; 2, $5, R. A. Jones; 3,

BEFORE THE PICNIC.

$4, James Fitzgerald; 4, $3, W. H. McCutcheon; 5, $2, A. McCormick; 6, $1, N. McLeod:

The picnic over, and having a few dollars left, I took in Windsor and Detroit. The first man I met in Windsor was Mr. E. G. Henderson, managing director of the Windsor Salt Works. I thought he was an elderly man until I saw him. I guessed his age at thirty-five. He is an Irishman by birth, one of those shrewd, hard-working Belfasters, who can make a success of anything they take in hand. Of course they never take anything in hand that they cannot make a success. Anyway, Mr. Henderson is making a success of the Windsor Salt Works. He was good enough to personally conduct me over their immense works. I had no idea such a manufactory existed in Canada. It is simply wonderful. I don't know that I am at liberty to describe their method of manufacturing. A few words will do no harm. The first thing that strikes your eye as you enter the main door are mountains of salt, pure and white as new-fallen snow. At the foot of these mountains are gangs of men filling barrels. We pass on to the wells. There are two of them, each of a depth of 1,500 feet. From these wells the brine is pumped into large vats, which in turn empty their contents into other vats, and so on, all for the purpose of cleansing the brine. This method is something new in the manufacture of salt, and the only method by which real purity and whiteness can be obtained. In other works the salt is cleansed instead of the brine. From the vats the brine is carried to two immense boilers or vats. By a combination of steam and vacuum, the water evaporates or condenses, and the virgin salt is carried to large bins. After a certain process of drying in the bins, it is carried along and dumped on the large mountains mentioned above. The whole system of manufacture is very simple. It is just a case of knowing how to do it. Heat, power, and light are supplied from six large boilers burning natural gas. The firm's travelers are also supplied with natural gas. The only way nowadays to run a large business successfully is by keeping down expenses. Mr. Henderson keeps down expenses by having nearly everything done automatically. From the well to the mountains of salt it is not touched by the hand of man.

"I sometimes wonder," said Mr. Henderson, "where all this salt goes. We ship regularly five carloads a day. We are now making large shipments to the Maritime Provinces, where we have cut out the English salt almost entirely."

After leaving Mr. Henderson I dropped into the Seeley Manufacturing Co., where I found Mr. Arthur Leonard, the manager, sitting before a dozen very large bottles and watching sweet-scented perfumes filtering through. This firm are large manufacturers of perfumes and flavoring extracts.

The afternoon I spent in Detroit, viewing the sights under the guidance of Mr. Theo. O. Leonard, well known in Canada as the representative of Kingsford's Oswego Starch. Detroit is a charming city.

WITH THE RETAILERS.

MISS LEONARD, Warkworth, Ont., has opened up a fancy grocery store in the "Leonard" Block.

E. H. Betts, grocer, etc., Georgetown, has opened a branch in Streetsville.

A. Fisher and J. R. O'Neil, two of Lindsay's grocers, have been away camping.

W. R. Kellatt, of Cottam, report crops good in his locality and trade better than last year.

A. T. Cooper, of Elmvale, who was one of the victims of the fire there, has again resumed business.

Mr. Hughes, formerly of Bolton, has bought out the general store of Mr. Aylesworth, of Markham.

W. T. Hunt, of Amherstburg, is doing a good business this season, and says it never was better with him.

John Edwards, Sherbrooke, Que., is selling out his stock of dry goods and will continue in groceries and furniture.

Fenn & Anderson, of Bracebridge, are putting in a new glass front and making an addition to the rear of their store.

Crawford & Deeves, of Brampton, who bought the store formerly occupied by Milner & Co., have lengthened and remodeled the premises.

Frank Hutton, of Windsor, who has been in business in the "Manning" Block for the past five years, has sold out, and will not enter into any calling for a time, as it will require some time to close all details of the large trade he has built up.

Wm. Cable, of Delhi, reports business excellent, considering the state of the crops. But no wonder, as he is a pusher and worker combined.

Mrs. John Harvey, grocer, Port Hope, has moved into her new brick store on John street. The new store is favorably commented upon by travelers who have seen it.

W. F. Kay, Otterville, has sold his stock to John Matheson, of Exeter, who will remove his stock from the latter place, consolidating the stocks, making Otterville his home.

Wm. Parr, Blackstock, has moved his stock into a store in the "Swan" Block. Mr. Parr contemplated selling out a short time ago, but he has now decided to continue in business.

For a well-kept stock and nicely-arranged store one should visit C. R. Marlatt's, of Simcoe. It is a credit to any management, and "Harry" can justly feel proud of the arrangement. If his patent of the "rail-road tie" proves as good he can easily retire from the grocery business, having control of the patent in Canada and the United States.

J. A. Dougall, lately connected with Mabley & Co., of Detroit, and at one time manager of the late firm of W. B. Hirons, of Windsor, has purchased the Hutton stock. With the connection of the business, and his former position with the public, it is safe predicting a successful career. THE CANADIAN GROCER wishes him every success.

A NEW HOME FOR THE "LITTLE" ONE.

O. & W. Thum Co. are adding a substantial brick structure, 50 by 80 feet, to their plant, for the better accommodation of their "Little" Tanglefoot, it having already outgrown the quarters assigned it in the regular plant, in this its first year. This season's sales demonstrate that the new baby is thoroughly appreciated, and that it will prosper and become a worthy member of the Tanglefoot family. In reward for its good behavior it gets a house of its own.

LATE BUSINESS CHANGES.

THE SALMON PACK.

(From the Statistic-News Advertiser.)

THE sockeye run on the Fraser river, up to the time of writing, has been fairly good, although the run has, so far, given no reliable indications of what the season may reasonably be expected to be. During recent years the run has commenced later and later, but this season has seen a return to an earlier date, such as was formerly expected, and generally without disappointment. Now it seems to be a question as to whether or not a resumption of the earl er dates of running may not be anticipated. A few fish were seen in the river about the first day of the current month, from which date up to about the 10th there was a very encouraging increase in their numbers. As there were comparatively few boats out the fish at first appeared more plentiful than when, later, the main body of fishermen got to work. Under ordinary conditions, taking into account the fact that the run commenced earlier, the packing season should be at its height to-day, but since the fish fell off in numbers after the 10th inst., this is not the case. However, encouraging news comes from Point Roberts, which seems to indicate that next week, at the latest, there should be plenty of fish in the river. It is not anticipated, though, that this season's pack will be a heavy one, some experienced men thinking it unlikely it will attain to much more than one-half the proportions of last year's. So far the canneries operating have handled from 1,000 to 2,000 cases of sockeyes each, and on the 18th inst. the first shipment of this season's fish was made by Ewen & Co., who got away about 1,250 cases, consigned to the English market. A larger proportion of flat oval cans is being used this season than heretofore, although the old style of can is still being extensively used.

The pack of spring salmon totalled about 5,000 cases on the Fraser this year, the bulk of which has been shipped. The establishment of the Texas Lake Ice and Cold Storage Co's works at New Westminster, has proved a distinct commercial benefit, and a decided advance in the direction of providing further facilities for the handling of fresh fish. Not only has frozen fish been sent by rail to eastern markets, as in former years, but shipments for London, Paris and Australian cities have been made by the Canadian-Australian steamers to Sydney, from which port the consignments for Europe have been sent on to their destination. It is only reasonable to suppose that the demand for frozen sockeyes, as well as for spring salmon, for the cities named, will increase largely.

The total annual pack of the province for the past five years was as under:

1890	409,464	CASES.
1891	314,893	"
1892	228,470	"
1893	590,229	"
1894	494,371	"

The Fraser River canneries contributed

457,797 cases of the 1893 total. The proportion of the 1894 total is not just now ascertainable.

The salmon exported during 1894 realized lower figures, but the demand now exhibits improvement, with a corresponding advance in prices obtainable. The current season opened with fishermen receiving 25c. each for sockeyes, though later a drop was made to 20c. For the remainder of the season the price to be paid will be determined by the plentifulness or scarcity of the fish—if the latter, there may be active competition for them, with a corresponding advance in rates.

The number of licenses to fish for salmon issued at Westminster this year has exceeded 2,300, of which at least 1,600 would be availed of in and near the Fraser. The visits to these parts of Prof. Prince and Dr. Wakeham, of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, and of Mr. Richard Rathbun, of the U. S. Fisheries Commission, are evidences of the active interest the Dominion Government and that of the United States are now taking in this important industry, as it particularly affects the Pacific Coast.

QUALITY OF GERMAN GRANULATED

Willet & Gray say that, bearing upon the American trade, it is well to note that this season's experience shows the marked limitations of German refineries to produce anything like an adequate supply of refined sugars suited to the American market. They can make some, and have made some, very desirable sugars, but when it comes to quantities, they are evidently not in it as yet.

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

Editor GROCER.—We often hear of persons engaged in the "grocery and provision" business, and it has been for some time a question in my mind where the line was to be drawn between groceries and provisions. Can you or some of your many readers define what are groceries and what are provisions?

INQUIRER.

Hamilton, July 29, 1895.

THE question asked by "Inquirer" is not easily answered, for the terms "grocer and provision merchant" often imply a distinction without a difference, many lines carried by one being legitimately carried in stock by the other also, and vice versa.

However, for the satisfaction of "Inquirer," and the edification of our readers in general, we submit a few brief interviews on the point with representative Toronto wholesale grocers and provision merchants respectively. It will be seen that even those dealers who have been long in the business do not all draw the line at the same point. "Inquirer" may read what we have written and form an opinion for himself.

Mr. Eby, of the Eby, Blain Co., wholesale grocers, said that a grocer was one who carried sugars, teas, coffees, spices and like staples, while a provision dealer properly confined himself to pork and dairy products. The two lines of business, however, he said, often showed similar goods in their stocks, and it was hard to draw the line between the two businesses.

Mr. Sloan, of John Sloan & Co., wholesale grocers, was much of the same mind. He answered in response to the query. "A provision dealer deals in pork, lard, bacon, hams, beef, and everything in that line; of course he may handle other things that a grocer carries, such as canned meats and provisions, but he does not handle staple lines, such as teas, sugars, syrups; the wholesale grocer, however, strictly speaking, deals in pork, bacon or anything of that sort."

Several provision dealers were then called upon in succession.

Mr. McLean, of Graham, McLean & Co., replied: "A provision merchant is one who handles hams, bacon, cheese, butter, and canned meats, while a grocer deals in such sundries as sugars, teas, coffees, spices, etc."

Wm. Ryan stated a grocer was one who dealt exclusively in groceries, such as teas, coffees, etc., and a provision merchant one who handled "hog products, cheese, butter, eggs, and the like."

Mr. Marshall, of Rutherford, Marshall & Co., said that the business of a grocer and a provision merchant often overlapped, but that the latter trafficked exclusively in "butter, cheese, eggs, and similar products of the farm."

Alex. Gunn, of Gunn, Flavelle & Co., differed from the wholesale provision dealers in that he was inclined to exclude hog products and other meats from the legiti-mate trade of a provision merchant, holding that this term indicated one who dealt in "butter, eggs and cheese."

A legal dispute bearing directly upon the question asked by our correspondent recently occurred in this city. One grocery firm bought out another, the latter undertaking in the sale paper not to carry on business as "grocers" within the city limits. Some time afterwards the latter firm opened up business as provision merchants in the neighborhood of the house that had bought them out. Firm No. 1 protested that firm No. 2, in carrying on a provision business, violated its agreement not to deal as grocers. The dispute continued for some time, and an injunction was applied for by firm No. 1 against No. 2, but finally the trouble was settled out of court, so that we have no legal precedent upon which to base a decision in reply to this interesting question.

OLIVE OIL IN SICILY.

More than one-fifth of the olive oil produced in Italy is made in Sicily, its manufacture being the chief industry in that island. The factories are usually small, employing from ten to twelve men, and are of one storey only. Upon a platform constructed of heavy masonry, and about one yard high, an edge-runner of stone, weighing about 16 cwt. and one foot thick, revolves slowly, the motive power being a horse or a mule. The olives, which should be perfectly ripe, are thrown by hand upon the revolving stone, and, when crushed, are removed by means of a shovel. The output is about 1 cwt. of crushed olives in half-an-hour. The paste is next placed in soft, flat rush bags having a small opening. About 15 such bags are piled one above the other, the openings being upward. Pressure is then applied by means of a strong wooden screw worked by six or eight men. The pressure is at first applied very gently, then gradually increased. The oil runs through a trough into a tub more than half full of water, on the surface of which the oil floats. When the bags have been under pressure for about five minutes they are taken out and their contents again placed under the edge-runner. This operation is repeated three times. The press residues are then heaped up in a dark room to a depth of about 1 foot 4 inches, and allowed to remain for three days, when they heat spontaneously. They are then brought to the press for a fourth and last time. The final residue, which amounts to about 70 per cent. of the weight of the olives, was formerly used for fuel, but much of it is now sent to larger oil mills, where it is treated a fifth time. The crude oil is removed to a room where the temperature is as near 66 deg. F. as possible. In about a week it loses its turbid appearance, and it is then transferred to other vessels, in which it is kept until required for sale or use. Although a few small steam oil mills have been recently erected in Sicily, the greater bulk of the olive oil produced is made as described.

THE CANADIAN GROCER

Vol. IX. (Published Weekly)

TORONTO AND MONTREAL, AUGUST 9, 1895

($2.00 per Year) No. 32

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Tact is the quality that "tacks" many customers to the store of the tactician.

* * *

"Patrons of Industry." What a misnomer! Iconoclasts of Industry is more appropriate.

* * *

It is the trade that booms in the fall "tra-la" that business men will soon be seeking after.

* * *

"Vinegar" in the face of a merchant is as repellant to customers as is vinegar in the saucer to flies.

* * *

Bakers who reduce the price of bread when flour is firm are evidently not in business for the "dough."

* * *

Life is up hill to a great many merchants, but not a few themselves construct the hills up which they climb.

* * *

Customers often show little consideration for the merchant but it is an unwise merchant that replies in kind.

* * *

Reputation is a perishable commodity. It cannot be kept in cold storage, but it will not spoil if faithfully guarded.

* * *

Merchants, like politicians, cannot be successful unless they have a policy, and the more vigorous it is the better.

* * *

One of Toronto's department stores has begun the slaughtering of cattle. "Slaughtering" is of course in its line.

* * *

The man who asks, "Does advertising pay?" should be answered by another query: "Does steam move machinery?"

* * *

The numerous announcements regarding coming fall fairs reminds us that while the death of the summer is approaching, so also is the birth of the time when city jobbers will see their country customers.

* * *

If the man who parts with his money is a fool, how about the merchant who parts with his goods without the money?

* * *

If Canada is the land of milk and honey, Manitoba appears to have the milk and honey in its essence this season.

* * *

The Grocers' Review, Manchester, gathered up five drops from my pen on the 9th ult. and never said whence they came.

* * *

He is a wise man who studies to be a debtor to his avocation, but foolish is he who is careless about his debts to his creditors.

* * *

A Hibernian would probably remark that the lowness of the lake level is not caused by a "lake" but a weakness at the supply end.

* * *

Printers' ink has darkened the lives of many men, but its judicious use in an advertisement has brightened many a merchant's lot.

* * *

There's many a grocer that would like to "sample" the hides of those people who persistently sample the goods he has exposed for sale.

* * *

After you have deceived people once by an exaggerated advertisement it does not require the machinations of a rival to keep people away from your store.

* * *

While politicians are wrangling over the respective merits of this or that trade policy, the fact is forgotten that the justice, wisdom and perseverance of the people are greater factors in nation-building than can ever be the particular description of tariff in vogue.

* * *

If canned goods go as high as some people profess to believe they will, ordinary mortals won't have dollars enough upon which to stand in order to reach them.

* * *

The grocers in Coventry, Eng., are at work upon an anti cutting scheme. It is to be hoped that the schemers will not cut prices, even to please their "aunties."

* * *

The trade paper gathers news and ideas, and serves them up in palatable shape. Those that do not sit at its table miss many a dainty morsel that would put "fat" on their bank account.

* * *

Political questions are too nearly allied to explosives for merchant and customer to discuss them: There is a danger that the heat of the discussion may cause an explosion that will blow the customer out of your store into that of your rival.

* * *

The man who pursues a straight course in business is sure to find somebody's corns in his pathway: If he treads on them that is not his fault. The onus is upon those who possess the feet that have the corns. He who, in pursuing the right, is fearful that he will step on somebody's corns will, in describing a zig zag course, so lengthen his journey that his life will be closed ere he reach the goal.

* * *

If between now and the next session of Parliament members of the Ottawa Cabinet who are touring the country will keep their eyes and ears as wide open for hints that will guide them in legislating in the interests of the business men of the country as they now do for gathering ideas to keep in power, the next session may be expected to bear much more beneficial fruit than the last, especially if private members will do ditto,

CREDITS AND COLLECTIONS.

IN connection with the credit and collection department of our business, writes Jacob Furth in Inter-State Grocer, we all make about the same experience. The great trouble has been that we are too slow in communicating with each other and that most of us are rather backward in making a case against ourselves. We fall into the same pits, we meet with the same troubles, we are placed face to face with ingratitude, with impudence and with ignorance, but we do not like to parade our experience before the public. Among the most aggravating cases of impudence and ingratitude are those whom we ourselves have spoilt, and who, like bad children, have grown beyond our control. Have we not all of us customers on our books who are financially responsible, but who would no more think of paying a bill at maturity than they would of flying? Do they not come to us and ask us to take notes from their customers which are worthless to us so far as banking them is concerned and do they not insist on settling as and when they please, even though they have the money in bank with which to meet their obligations?

Get such merchants accustomed to the "go-as-you-please" plan of paying, carry them for a while and then try to impress upon them the necessity of paying bills at maturity, and note the result. First blank astonishment, next an outburst of indignation, followed by a shower of epithets that would do credit to a hoodlum. They imagine because they are solvent they can do as they please, and we having cultivated this idea in them and allowed them to pursue such policy, now reap the results as above outlined. We have found but one way to handle this sort of antics and that is to apply the Shakespearian tactics, "by opposing end them."

We have been long enough in business to know that such a state of affairs cannot be allowed to continue without ultimately losing valuable trade. We know of no better way of losing a customer than allowing his account to become complicated or mixed. We know of no better way of keeping friends than by insisting on frequent and absolute settlements, and though we may occasionally come across a purse-proud idiot, though we may now and then temporarily lose the trade of a customer, in the long run it is the only feasible and profitable course to pursue.

The most aggravating accounts are those in which partial payments are made. In the grocery business, where bills are only moderately large and frequently very small, there is absolutely no excuse for making or receiving payments on account. It is just as easy to pay a bill of $21.15 as it is to send $20.00 on account. We find that a large number of merchants need but have their attention drawn to this obsolete way of doing business to have them drop it as they would any other undesirable and unprofitable system. Nothing is to us more unsightly than long accounts with partial payments; nothing looks more beautiful to us than the frequent red lines showing that bill after bill has been paid in full.

The details of credits and collections, although they now receive a great deal of attention, are still a sealed book to many. Point after point should be brought forth to show that careful attention to details is of interest and benefit to both buyer and seller. Innumerable are the difficulties which surround us, but they are not insurmountable. Common sense methods must ultimately prevail, and he who would deliberately shut his eyes to improvements, be he retailer or jobber, merchant or manufacturer, becomes a stumbling block in the development and evolution of commercial progress. We can no more afford to remain still in the office than we could in the salesroom. We must avail ourselves of all modern, approved methods or pay the penalty which comes from deliberately shutting our eyes to what transpires and to that extent we give an advantage to our progressive business rival.

OIL OF LEMON.

The oil of lemon is contained in the minute cells in the yellow rind of the fruit, and is removed by hand pressure, hence the term "hand pressed." The operator holds in his left hand a sponge and in his right a section of the peel, and by dexterous pressure against the sponge ruptures the oil cells, the sponge absorbs the oil, and a dish held on the lap prevents any being lost. When the sponge has taken up enough of the oil it is squeezed out and the process is repeated. The tediousness of the method will be apparent when it is estimated that about one thousand lemons are required for the production of a single pound of oil. Oil of an inferior quality is made by machine pressure, by distillation, etc., but the bulk is produced as described. The extraction of the oil is carried on very largely by the peasants throughout Sicily. Every proprietor of a lemon grove, large or small, makes oil from the small and irregularly shaped fruit, and sends the better class to market to be shipped to various parts of the world.

DENIED IN ENGLAND.

An English paper has taken the trouble to deny the statement made recently by the manager of the Merchants' Bank that Insolvency laws "operate as an encouragement to insolvency."

The Drapery World denies this and remarks: "Our Insolvency law has not the effect of promoting or encouraging insolvency; that it has the reverse effect to a very striking degree, would probably be admitted by every debtor who has had the misfortune to come under the jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court. If the idea of Insolvency law is simply that it is a process whereby a trader can discharge his debts with fifty cents on the dollar, then we understand the objection to it. It is readily conceivable that such a law would constitute a means of relief to debtors, and an encouragement to insolvency. But, though it is obviously necessary to have some provision for discharge, it can be, as is the case in our Bankruptcy Act, hedged around with such requirements and conditions as render the lot of the dishonest bankrupt anything but pleasant. Long experience has shown us in this country that good solid bankruptcy laws are a protection to the creditor, a terror to the debtor, and a real necessity to the whole community. If some of the leaders of opinion on the other side understood this better, Canada might have had proper insolvency legislation long ago."

WINNIPEG CATERERS' PICNIC.

The caterers have decided to hold their annual picnic this year at Morden. Several towns wanted the picnic, and the committee balloted for the choice. The usual programme of foot races, etc., will be abandoned. Instead it has been decided to have two lacrosse matches, between two Winnipeg clubs and two clubs from Morden and Miami; possibly a baseball match between a Winnipeg club and an outside club; and a tug-of-war between the butchers and all-comers in the Caterers' Union. The committee, accompanied by a brass band and dressed in their now acknowledged uniform—viz., white dusters and silk hats—will parade for two evenings previous to the picnic.

THE TABLES TURNED.

Practical jokers, as a rule, escape the consequence of their folly, and therefore it is quite refreshing when any of the fraternity are hoist by their own petard. Two youths in a Birmingham mercantile establishment took advantage, according to an exchange, of the visit of an Irish gentleman to affix sundry paper figures to his coat-tails, and when the victim reached the street he found himself the object of much attention, the cause of which a lady pointed out to him. The Celtic blood was up in a moment, and the gentleman at once made his way to the establishment and gave the youths a smart trouncing. Its effect, however, was not lasting, and a few days later they wrote a letter in the name of the lady already referred to, ordering some garments for her son. The garments were in due course forwarded by the tailor, together with the bill; but the lady was equal to the occasion, and, divining who were the authors of the joke, sent the account to them, together with a note that the clothes had been given to a youth in her service. This was turning the tables with a vengeance; but the jokers paid the bill, and must have since reflected that even larking is not without its drawbacks.

THE SALMON PACK.

Advices by steamship Danube report fair success in packing on the northern rivers. Results are showing up well and indications point to an increase over last year's output by the northern canneries. On the Fraser river the run continues light, and it is believed that the pack at the end of the season will show a considerable shortage over last year.

It is difficult to obtain the figures of the estimated pack to date on the Fraser, but those that are given may be taken as a fair indication of the general average on the river, which is believed to be about 2,500 cases for each cannery.

Some local firms who are agents for canneries on the Fraser river decline to furnish any information as to their pack until the close of the season.—B. C. Commercial Journal.

ENGLISH THIEVES.

I'M MAD; not insane, although some people may sometimes think that I am even that. But at this particular moment I'm mad; righteously mad; wrathful, indignant. And all because I have been robbed. Not robbed of my purse, for "who steals my purse steals trash." It is of the products of the little brains I possess that I have been robbed. And I have caught the —. But I must be charitable. I have caught the purloiners—no, plagiarists is still more charitable—and that red-handed.

And, O, ye gods, must I acknowledge it? the culprits are fellow-countrymen of mine. Et tu Brute.

The English mail brings the evidences of their guilt to hand. One of the appropriators of my thoughts—for it is thoughts they stole—was The Manchester Grocers' Review. On page 5 of its issue of July 9 it had no less than five of my "Pen Drops." It did not credit them to THE CANADIAN GROCER, but the editor of The Review probably thought that by honoring them with the first place in the column, I would be mollified. I do feel honored, but I'm blessed if I'm mollified.

The other thief—excuse the term—is London Ironmongery. It is not at all modest in its appropriations. It, or rather the "Man at the Wheel," takes, practically holus bolus, an article which I wrote a few months ago, breaks it up into nice little paragraphs, puts a dash between each, and places them in the column which the "Man at the Wheel" writes.

This appropriation of articles from the columns of THE CANADIAN GROCER is not a practice of recent development. It has been going on all the time, only it is becoming more frequent; and now patience has ceased to be a virtue. I'm mad.

A thought has struck me. Perhaps the publishers of this journal have made a contract to supply a number of our contemporaries with brains, or rather articles. Of course, if such is the case, that puts a different phase to the matter. But it doesn't mollify me. If they have I want a share in the receipts, for I vow with a big "V" that I won't press the button for a whole syndicate of papers when I'm only remunerated for pressing it for one. THE EDITOR.

U. S. TARIFF ON CURRANTS.

A DECISION has just been rendered by the Attorney-General of the United States on a tariff question that has been exercising a disquieting influence on the currant market on this side of the Atlantic for several weeks.

The Tariff Act of 1894 decreed that Zante currants were to be subject to a duty of 1½c. per lb. Other currants were to be free. By a great many people it was held that the term Zante covered all currants imported from Greece. However, some time ago the Board of General Appraisers ruled that only currants coming from the island of Zante were subject to the clause imposing a duty of 1½c. per pound.

It scarcely seems probable that Congress had any such intention, for why impose a duty on the currants raised on one of the Greek islands and allow those produced in the rest of the country to go free? Zante has an area of 277 square miles with a population of 44,522. The whole area of Greece is 25,014 square miles and population about 2,000,000.

Against this decision, however, the Secretary of the Treasury declared he had no intention of appealing. But not so the Collector of Customs at San Francisco. What his superior had declared he would not do he took upon himself to do. And the fact that a similar importation to that upon which the decision had been given in New York had come in at San Francisco gave him the opportunity. No doubt he was urged on in this step by the raisin growers of California.

The matter came before the Attorney-General for adjudication, and last week he gave his decision. It was against the Collector at San Francisco; and the premise upon which the decision was based was that a subordinate cannot undertake what his superior declines to do.

An interesting point about this decision, aside from its immediate effect on the tariff, is that it reverses the policy of the Treasury Department that has obtained since 1890, and which allowed such freedom of action as that which the Collector at San Francisco took upon himself.

The currant market in the United States, which had gathered strength when the appeal was made, eased off somewhat when it was disposed of.

ARTICLES AFFECTED BY THE FRENCH TREATY.

AS intimated in last week's issue, few of the countries having favored nation treaties with Great Britain, for the entry of whose products into Canada the French treaty provides a lower tariff, are likely to reap much benefit therefrom. An examination of the trade and navigation returns confirms this view.

Omitting all regarding whom there is any question, the countries clearly having favored nation treaties with Great Britain are: Argentine, Austria-Hungary, Belgium, Bolivia, Chili, Columbia, Costa Rica, German Zollverein, Muscat, Russia, Salvador, Sweden and Norway, Uruguay. Then, in addition to these foreign countries, there are Great Britain and her colonies, who are entitled to share in the benefits of the lower tariff. A few only, however, of the above will derive any benefit from the treaty.

The clause in the treaty which enumerates the articles and stipulates the duty under which they shall come into the country reads as follows:

Wines, sparkling and non-sparkling, common soaps, savons de Marseille (Castile soaps), nuts, almonds, prunes and plums of French origin entering Canada shall enjoy the following advantages:

1. Non-sparkling wines gauging 15 degrees by the centesimal alcoholometer or less, or according to the Canadian system of testing, containing 26 per cent. or less of alcohol, and all sparkling wines shall be exempted from the surtaxe or ad valorem duty of 30 per cent.
2. The present duty charged on common soaps, savons de Marseille (Castile soaps), shall be reduced by one-half.
3. The present duty charged on nuts, almonds, prunes and plums shall be reduced by one-third.

Turning to the Trade and Navigation Returns it is found that, other than France, there are only two or three countries that do any business with Canada in the lines enumerated, and these are largely our own "kith and kin."

Taking wines, it is found that last year we imported about $14,000 worth of non-sparkling containing 26 per cent. or less of alcohol from countries other than France, and which are now entitled, under the favored nation clause, to come into the country free from the ad valorem duty. These countries and the value of the wines imported from them are: Great Britain, $8,766; Australasia, $851; British West Indies, $20; Austria, $42; Belgium, $290; Germany, $3,655. Our imports of non-sparkling wines from France in the same year aggregated $82,756.

Of sparkling wines, such as champagne, etc., our imports from the "favored nation" countries aggregated $18,587, distributed as follows: Great Britain, $16,278; Belgium, $413; Germany, $1,896. Here again France almost enjoys a monopoly, her exports of sparkling wines to Canada being valued at $108,155.

In common soaps, Great Britain last year sent us $41,383 worth. Germany's contribution was valued at $8, and Australasia's at $12. France sent none. Of Castile soaps we get $2,556 worth from Great Britain, and $71 worth from Australasia. France's quota was, on the other hand, valued at $11,855.

Nuts and almonds we got from Great Britain $14,261 worth, and our purchases from Belgium were valued at $492, and from Australasia $51. Of this line we purchased $45,892 worth from France.

Our imports of prunes and plums from Great Britain last year were valued at $3,325, and from Austria at $25,988. From France we got $7,908 worth.

The effect of the lower tariff on the articles above enumerated will naturally be to stimulate their export to Canada; but, from our interpretation of the treaty, France has no relative advantage over other exporting countries from what she had before, except in one particular, and that is in prunes and plums. The treaty specifically states that it shall be "prunes and plums of French origin," that shall be entitled to a reduction of one-third in the duty. If this interpretation is correct, we may safely look for an increased consumption of French prunes on the Canadian market when the treaty goes into operation. The duty at present is 1c. per pound, so that the rate levied on the French article will be $\frac{2}{3}$ c. per pound.

FIRST OFFERS OF NEW PRUNES.

First definite offers this season for future imports of new crop Austrian prunes were cabled to Montreal importers this week.

The figures coincide with the information that has been furnished from time to time regarding the growing crop this summer.

On the basis of these offers it will cost fully $5\frac{3}{4}$ c. to lay down prime brands of Bosnias in Montreal.

Last season first sales of these prunes were made to Montreal importers at $4\frac{1}{2}$ c. or thereabouts. Sellers' ideas, so far expressed, therefore, this season are fully 1c. per lb. dearer than they were last; indeed, some commission men state that on the average their principals are asking 1 to $1\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb. more than last year.

The effect of this increased cost on the market cannot as yet be accurately estimated, for many dealers and importers are not at all certain in their minds that it is going to last. As a result of this, the offers have not led to much business as yet, and some of the more important firms who last year were heavy operators from the start, have expressed their determination to wait for later and fuller intelligence before they commence to buy.

It remains to be seen whether they are wise in pursuing this course or not.

It may be interesting to note in this connection that California new crop prunes were also offered for the first time in Montreal this week for fall shipment in all sizes at prices equivalent to a cost of $6\frac{1}{2}$ c. laid down, duty paid. The quality of some of the samples of this fruit which have been forwarded is excellent.

TRYING TO FIX PRICE OF SALT.

Another effort is being made by the salt manufacturers in Canada to organize and fix prices. As a result, the market is somewhat unsettled.

Previous efforts in this direction have not met with success; and the present movement appearing to be on much the same line as those which have met with failure, prospects for the promoters are not bright.

The great obstacle in the way is one concern, practically all the other well owners being united, but that concern is the largest in the country.

What the majority are supplicating this one concern to do is to limit its output, but this is what it decisively says it will not do. Failing in this, it is sought to induce it to consent to charge 10c. per barrel more for its product, but, as far as THE CANADIAN GROCER can learn, this will not be conceded either.

About a year or more ago the independent well agreed to comply with the request to charge 10c. per barrel more than the other salt men were charging, but, eventually, because of some inconsistencies on the part of the latter, the price was reduced to the regular figure. Since then some of the wells have been compelled to go out of business, and now another effort is being made to patch up an agreement.

SUGAR SPECULATORS UNLOADING.

The sugar market is still in anything but a satisfactory condition.

Many who had bought for speculative purposes after the change in the tariff was announced have become impatient with the persistency with which the dullness obtains, and are now trying to unload.

Then there are some at least of the makers of jams, etc., who, not being able to put up as much fruit as anticipated, find themselves with more sugar in their cellars than they require. This superfluous quantity they are now trying to dispose of, and that too at a low price.

THE CANADIAN GROCER knows of one jam maker who has been canvassing the retail trade in Toronto offering No. 1 Montreal granulated at $3\frac{3}{4}$ c. As this is $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ c. below the figures of the regular jobber some of the retailers are taking advantage of the offer. At the same time, however, it should be mentioned that some of the wholesalers are prepared to buy all that they can get at that figure.

In the meantime neither wholesalers nor retailers are selling much sugar.

ADVANCE IN COTTONS AND WOOLENS.

ALL dealers in woollens and cottons will be much interested in the upward turn the markets have taken during the last three months. Raw cotton has advanced 2 cents per pound in that period, while raw wool has increased in price from 4 to 6 cents per pound.

As a consequence of the increase in the price of raw cotton many manufacturers have had to increase prices. The Canadian companies were slow to advance values, presumably because they had bought large supplies of raw cotton at low prices. Now, these supplies are running low, and fresh shipments cost much more, hence advances are necessary.

On July 31 D. Morrice, Sons & Co. issued a circular announcing an increase in the prices of seven lines of shirting, two lines of tickings and one line of cottonades, as follows:

Shirtings.
A.B., 23 in., advanced	6.8 per cent.
A.C., 27 in., "	4.6 "
C., 27 in., "	6 "
A.E., 27 in., "	3.5 "
E., 28 in., "	6.25 "
E., 29 in., "	5.7 "
G., 29 in., "	5.5 "
Tickings
9, 30 in., "	0 "
10, 30 in., "	0 "
11, 30 in., "	4.3 "
A.C.A., 32 in., "	4 "
Cottonades.
J.J., 27 in., "	3.1 "

There are no heavy stocks of these goods in the retail trade, and hence the demand for them will not drop off on account of the increased price. Moreover, wholesale stocks are light, and there are almost no deliveries to come to the jobbers at the old prices. These circumstances combined will force the jobbers to advance prices before September 1. They will not advance before their present stocks get low, but the ordinary demand will clean them up before that time. Hence, retailers who buy now cannot be caught.

There is every probability of a further advance in other lines of cottonades, in denims and in warps. The end is not yet.

The prices of greys are firm, with little expectation of advances, owing to competitive conditions.

Woollens are advancing. The woolen manufacturers are kicking, and kicking hard. They have sold goods at prices which leave no margin of profit at present prices of raw wool. That is, they can sell their raw wool for cash and make more profit than by manufacturing it up into goods to be sold at contract prices. Hence, they are slow with deliveries, refuse repeats, and are trying to wriggle out of their contracts. This means a scarcity of woolen goods at the proper moment, and a higher range of prices for the late buyer.

APPLES LOWER IN MONTREAL.

A DROP in the price of apples in Montreal has been one of the features of the week.

As everyone knows, the island of Montreal and district is a large producer of the Fameuse and St. Lawrence varieties. The prospects are for a very heavy crop of these, the large daily increase in the receipts at Montreal being a sure indication of this. In fact, it is predicted that, taking all the districts into consideration, there will be more summer and fall apples than growers can pack and sell this season.

As a result of this increase in the receipts, and reliable reports from the different growing sections, the price of apples at the public sales in Montreal on Monday dropped to $1.15 to $3 per barrel, as to quality, and at this writing rule easy at the range.

It may be interesting to note in this connection that advices to hand to shippers in Montreal state that the crop of early apples in England will be nearly double what it was last year. For this reason some of the exporters here express fears that it will not all be consumed by the time our winter apples commence to go on the English market. In this case they look for a slower demand than otherwise.

It is yet, of course, a little early to speak of winter apples with any degree of certainty, but the general expectation is for an average crop, but that it will be, if anything, smaller, in a proportionate ratio, than the yield of the earlier varieties.

SHARP FLUCTUATIONS IN CLOVES.

Marked by sharp fluctuations has been the clove market during the past week or two.

Mail advices received in Toronto about a week ago quoted prices at about equal to 8c. per pound. The very same day a cable to an agent there gave him instructions to sell all he could at 5½c. He did, and some round lots were purchased at that figure. Next day, however, came another cable withdrawing the quotation of 5½c.

The market has been characterized lately by a great deal of speculation. Ordinarily it is controlled by Jews in London, but lately Col. North, famous as the Nitrate King, has been taking a hand in the market with a view to cornering the product thereon; hence, it seems, these sharp fluctuations.

THE CURRANT SITUATION.

Exchanges to hand give further information regarding the law recently adopted in Greece for the amelioration of the condition of the currant growers in that country.

The principal feature of the bill is, of course, that already referred to in these columns, the retention of 15 per cent. of the crop for distillation purposes.

Another point, and one which the early advices took no note of as far as we are aware, is that the Act allows a reduction of nearly equal to 8c. per cwt. in the export duty, which will, of course, prove an additional benefit to the grower.

It is expected that when the bill comes into force prices will be gradually worked to a higher level than at present. However, it must not be forgotten that this season's crop promises to be one of the largest known, being estimated at 175,000 or more tons, so that, even deducting the 15 per cent. that the Government will purchase for distillation, there will probably be more marketable fruit than last year.

TORONTO EXPORTS AND IMPORTS

THE exports for the port of Toronto during the month of July past totalled in value $286,074, and the imports $1,777,191. The figures for the corresponding month last year were $204,774, and $1,842,690. Thus, while the exports have slightly increased this year, the imports have fallen a little behind.

Most marked increases are to be noted in the imports of manufactures of iron and steel, earthenware and chinaware, bicycles, paints and colors, dyes and chemicals, and green fruits. The most marked falling off is seen in the imports of vegetables, teas, and manufactures of gutta percha. Following is a comparative statement of the imports during July, 1894, and July, 1895, particularly affecting grocers and general merchants:

REFRIGERATOR CARS FOR BUTTER

THE butter manufacturers and merchants in the province of Quebec are generally using the refrigerator cars arranged for by the Government on the different lines of railway. Throughout Ontario, the shippers of butter are not yet availing themselves of the refrigerator cars for the protection of butter which they ship to the extent which would be to their profit.

On the Canadian Pacific Railway, a refrigerator car leaves Windsor, Ont., once every week. A car also leaves Teeswater, Ont., once a week, and also Owen Sound, Ont., once every week, picking up butter at stations between these points and Montreal.

On the Grand Trunk Railway, a refrigerator car leaves Wiarton, Ont., on Mondays, and goes by way of Palmerston, Stratford and Toronto to Montreal, picking up butter at points on the way.

These cars are iced as frequently as is necessary to keep the butter cool throughout the whole journey.

Particulars as to the exact time when these refrigerator cars will leave the stations on the routes to Montreal may be obtained from the railway agents at the several stations.

The arrangements are that the shippers of butter by these cars and routes will be charged the usual "less than carload rates," without any charge for the icing or the special service, which are provided by the Government.

As far as space will permit, merchants may use these cars for the shipment of lots of dairy or creamery butter between points at which these cars touch. The shippers will be charged by the railway companies the usual "less than carload rates" on such shipments.

NEW CROP VALENCIA RAISINS.

Private advices to a leading firm of commission men in Montreal state that the first shipments of fresh Valencia grapes were made to London from Denia on July 15, amounting to 5,000 barrels, and that the crop is not by any means as large as was at first supposed.

It was expected that the first shipments of raisins to the English market would be made on the 10th of August, or ten days earlier than last year. It is also considered certain that the crop will be short, but that the condition of the grapes, to which reference has been made, makes it reasonably certain that its average condition will be excellent.

So far none of the leading commission men in Montreal representing standard brands have received quotations, but it is understood that an outside agent has been offering on the basis of 16s. cost and freight via Liverpool for early delivery, while others are spoken of as low as 13s., cost and freight.

As far as can be learned, however, these offers have not tempted much business, as the majority seem to think that there is something wanting in the shape of guarantees.

COLD STORAGE.

WHAT has been a long-felt want in the city of Toronto is a scientifically constructed and properly conducted system of cold storage, which would enable merchants to buy their provisions, etc., when the markets are glutted, and prices consequently low, with the assurance that the same would be preserved for almost any length of time as fresh as the day they are bought, and until higher prices can be realized. To meet this want a splendid establishment, with all modern appliances, is being fitted up by the Toronto Cold Storage Company, at 13 Church street. One of the most important features studied and adopted by the company is a thorough and complete system of ventilation and drainage. Concrete floors have been put in throughout the building, and mineral walls are being built within the present walls, and also a mineral roof. The building throughout is divided into compartments, in such a manner that different kinds of merchandise can be thoroughly isolated, thus preventing any possibility of any one class of goods being tainted by the odor from another. Merchants or hotelkeepers can also, if they so desire, rent a compartment for their own exclusive use. The company will be prepared to store any kind of merchandise, including butter, eggs, cheese, fresh meats, for which they have freezing rooms, vegetables, oysters, fruits, furs, dressed and undressed, game and poultry, and even lager beer. The company have splendid shipping facilities, being located close to the railway tracks and also near the St. Lawrence Market.

DEMAND FOR CEYLON TEAS.

The demand for Ceylon teas is now springing up among the French-Canadian trade. One house which sells a brand of pure Ceylon has opened 225 new accounts in Montreal in four months. It is still more gratifying to those who are pushing Ceylon to know that these firms are sending in repeat orders for increasing quantities.

J. Fred. Ramsay, Toronto, who handles all kinds of teas, says that his Ceylon department has now become the most important.

GROCERS' STONEWARE.

The Brantford Stoneware Manufacturing Co., of Brantford, Ont., which was established in 1849, and incorporated last year, with D. Lowery, M.D., president, Hy. Schules, vice-president and manager, and J. P. Hemphill, secretary-treasurer, announces in this issue a complete line of stone and Bristol ware. Since the incorporation of the company many valuable additions in machinery and kilns have been made to their extensive plant, and many of the lines they now make are suitable for grocers to handle, such as fruit jars, butter pots, cream crocks, pickle jars, ginger beer bottles, mustard and spice jars, etc. A new list of prices has been published, and will be supplied to the trade on application to the company.

HANDSOME STARCH PACKAGE.

The Brantford Starch Company have gotten out a very handsome starch can, for their "Lily White Gloss Starch." It stands about 12 inches in height, has a diameter of five or six inches and holds 6 lbs. of starch. It is handsomely lithographed in gold, silver, green and white, with a lily in natural size as a foreground. The package will prove a handsome attraction for the grocer's store, as well as in pantry and kitchen. An aperture at the top, fitted with an adjustable cover, allows of the free removal of the starch from the can, and the tin itself can be used as a biscuit case when the starch is all used.

MARRIED.

H. W. Dawson, of Dawson & Co., wholesale fruit and commission merchants, Toronto, was on Wednesday, July 31st, united in wedlock to Miss Margaret Elliott, of Chicago, and formerly of Brampton. The ceremony took place at St. Paul's Church, Brampton, in the presence of a large assembly of friends of the contracting parties. The presents were numerous and many of them expensive. Mr. and Mrs. Dawson will reside at 621 Church street, Toronto.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Aug. 8, 1895.
GROCERIES.

MIDSUMMER quietude seems to have settled down upon trade in earnest. Business was slow enough last week, but it is slower this, having extended to lines that were fairly active. Sugar is as dull as ever, and, as far as the wholesale trade is concerned, is demoralized as to price. The position of canned goods remains strong. The market is much stronger in London on Ceylon teas. This is practically the only new and important feature that has developed during the week. In spices there is a firmer feeling to be noted in cassias. Molasses are receiving a little more attention than a week ago, but there is no improvement in syrups. The demand for dried fruits is keeping up fairly well. Payments are not satisfactory.

CANNED GOODS.

About the only new feature to note in the canned goods market is a further falling off in the demand, business in this line, like most others, now being dull. There are not many canned goods offering for future delivery, nor is there any disposition on the part of jobbers to buy, although, on account of the favorable crop weather, packers are probably more inclined to do business than they were a week or two ago. Packers' ideas as to price for futures are still 75 to 80c. Local stocks of tomatoes in jobbers' hands are light. Prospects for the corn pack are excellent, but it is generally conceded that the pea pack is short, and packers are talking of 85 to 90c. New pack lobster is arriving regularly, and the trade is now in a position to supply the demand. Prices are firm at quotations. Salmon situation remains unchanged, except it be that there is a slight lull this week in the demand. Canned fruits are dull. Raspberries have been offered at $1.50 to $1.60, future delivery. We quote: Tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; corn, 80 to 90c.; peas, 80 to 90c. for ordinary; sifted, 95c. to $1; extra sifted, $1.40; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.20; strawberries, $2.40; apples, 3's, 90c to $1, gallons, $2.25 to 2.40, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.35 to $1.50, in tall tins; do., Cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins. Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.65 to $1.75; 2's, $2.65 to $2.75; 6's, $8 to $8.25; 14's, $18 to $19. Chicago canned beef, 1's, $1.75 per dozen; 2's, $2.85. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEE.

The market is quiet. Stocks of choice green Rio kinds are light locally. There is a firmer feeling in New York. We quote green in bags as follows: Rio (new season), 19 to 21c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 20 to 22½c.; Java, 28 to 33c.; Mocha, 30 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

RICE.

Trade continues moderate at unchanged prices. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 3¾ to 5½c.

SPICES.

Cassias are rather firmer. Cream of tartar is steady at the recent advance. Cloves have been subject to some sharp fluctuations. A firmer market generally is looked for when the fall demand sets in. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.;

cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 22 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

There is no new feature to note, business being quiet and prices unchanged. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

Wholesale prices are apparently without any bottom. The ordinary quotation is 4½ to 4¾c. for No. 1 granulated, but these figures are frequently shaded. The jobbers, however, assert that the refineries will not concede anything. The demand is as dull as ever, while, on the other hand, the disappointment of holders is getting greater. We quote: Granulated, No. 1, 4½ to 4¾c.; do., No. 2, 3¾ to 4c.; yellows, 3¾ to 3¾c.; Demerara, 3¾c.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Tuesday: "No new general suggestions are made in regard to the position of raws. There is, and probably will be, something available right along for some time, but sellers are by no means anxious operators, as a rule, and some of them prefer taking a decidedly indifferent attitude upon assumption that any ordinary cost of carrying will be more than offset by the gain in value. There is some further encouragement to-day in fair general demand developed, and fractionally better rates made on parcels at hand with very indifferent offerings found for distant delivery."

SYRUPS.

Business in syrups is still dull. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

The enquiry is better than a week ago. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 30 to 32c.; half-barrels, 33½ to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 37c.

TEAS.

The market is several cents higher in London on Ceylon teas. Yokohama advices of 19th ult. say: "Market steady. Moderate business at well sustained prices. Second crop teas show fair quality. Lower grades are coming in slowly and meeting with ready sale at close figures. At Kobe large business is doing, settlements now being 3,000,000 pounds more than last year. Prices for lower grades well sustained and principal demand is running on these." Cable advices received during the last few days quote a material advance in Japan teas. We quote ruling prices to retailers: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

Fewer Valencia raisins are wanted than a week ago, but there is still a fairly good demand for the season. It is expected that there will be practically no new fruit on the market by the time the new season's article reaches here in another month or six weeks hence. We quote: Off-stalk, 80 to 90c. per box; fine off-stalk, 4 to 4½c.; selected, 5½ to 6c.; layers, 4½ to 5½c.

Currants are in active demand at steady prices. We quote as before: Filatras, half-bbls, 4 to 4½c., bbls., 4¼c.; fine Filatras, half-bbls., 4¾c., bbls., 4¾c.; Patras, 5½c., in cases; Casalinas, 4½ to 5¾c.; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7c. in cases and half-cases.

The demand for prunes has practically died out. We quote: Bosnias at 5½ to 7c., and Bordeaux at 4½ to 6½c.

Evaporated California fruit is in continued fair demand at steady prices. We quote: Apricots and peaches, 12½ to 13½c. per lb.; new apricots, 15c.; nectarines, 13½c.; pitted plums, 12½ to 13c.

Latest advices regarding the Sultana raisin crop confirm previous reports of favorable crop conditions. Locally trade is quiet at 6½ to 7c. for good fruit.

Fig crop continues to progress favorably. There is nothing to note on the local market. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, 4¼ to 4½c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

Dates are quiet and unchanged at from 4¼c. up.

BUTTER, CHEESE AND EGGS.

Butter continues to firm up, the demand for good qualities just now exceeding the supply. Prices are unchanged. We quote: Old summer dairy and store packed, 7 to 9c.; fresh prints, 15 to 16c.; fresh tubs, 14 to 15c.; Fresh creamery—Tubs, 18c.; pound prints, 19c.

The shipments of cheese have increased slightly, but the output continues large, keeping prices down. New Canadian is being sold at the factories at 8c. per lb., while 8½c. is the Toronto quotation. Last August and September makes bring 10 to 10½c.

EGGS—Firm at 11c.

GREEN FRUIT.

The arrivals on the local market of fruits and vegetables continue large. In domestic fruits, red currants, gooseberries and red raspberries are scarce, the season for them being about over. Oranges—California seedlings, $3.50 to $4; Mediterranean sweets, $3.50 to $4; Bananas, $1 to $1.75; cocoanuts, $4.50 a sack; cucumbers, Canadian, 35c. per basket; new cabbage, 75c. to $1.25 per bbl.; tomatoes, 60c. to 80c.; Canadian tomatoes, 85c. to $1 per crate. PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

Owing to the good demand and improved market in the Old Country, provisions have been exceedingly firm here. A number of local packers are completely out of stock. QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Aug. 8, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE week has not developed any change of importance in the general grocery situation, which is practically the same as it was a week ago. Among the leading staples quietness in sugar is a dominant feature. The firm tendency on new crop Japan teas that has been referred to before in this column is fully maintained if not increased. Coffees and spices are quiet and unchanged, and the same can be said of rice. In canned goods everything is firm with an upward tendency, from fruit to fish. Tomatoes and peas are notably strong lines, and agents for the salmon packers on the Coast produce firm reports from their principals when approached in regard to a price. In dried fruit nothing important has yet been done regarding fall supplies, but, as will be seen specially elsewhere, the first definite figures on new crop prunes and raisins to Montreal importers are very firm ones.

SUGAR.

There is little change in the sugar market, which remains obstinately dull. There was some enquiry from local and western buyers at the refinery this week, but it did not amount to much in the aggregate. Stocks of sugar here are ample, both in second and third hands, and values still have the unsettled tendency, to which reference has already been made. In fact, there is no difference between cost at the refiners' and jobbers' prices, both being alike, and we quote granulated 4 1-16 to 4½c., and yellows 3½ to 3¾c., as to quality. Advices regarding the position of raw sugar continue firm in tone, a shortage being predicted in the growing beet and cane crop.

TEA.

The tone on teas is very firm, especially on Japans, and, as noted in a previous issue, it is predicted that many importers here who have held off will get left. Complaints regarding the quality of the newly-arrived leaf of this description of tea continue to be made. In the way of business, the inside price offered here on Japans is now firm at 14c. for the bulk of the new contracts that are being put through, and range from that up to 18c. A few sales of Congous are noted on local account at 13 to 16c., and a round lot of blacks was placed at 11c.

SYRUPS.

Demand for syrups in small lots has been fair, and the market is moderately active, with prices steady for what sales have been put through at 1¼ to 2¼c. per lb., as to quality at the factory.

MOLASSES.

Barbadoes molasses has continued quiet but firm. It has sold in a jobbing way at 37c. Round lots of Porto Rico changed hands this week steady at 33½c., and for jobbing business the latter is held firm at 36c.

RICE.

There is a steady demand for rice at the mills for future shipment, but the volume of the orders is small. In a jobbing way business is quiet. Prices are unchanged as follows: Japan, $4.30 to $4.50; crystal Japan, $4.80 to $5; standard B, $3.45; C.C. style, $3.20; Patna, $4.37½ to $5; and Carolina, $7 to $7.50.

COFFEES.

This market rules very quiet, and only a few lots of Maracaibo at 20½c., and some Mocha at quotations are noted. We quote green: Maracaibo, 20 to 22c.; Rio, 19 to 20c.; Java, 24 to 28c.; Jamaica, 19 to 21c.; and Mocha, 27 to 31c.

SPICES.

Spices exhibit no change from a week ago, demand being moderate and prices steady. We quote jobbing prices as follows: Penang black pepper, 8 to 10c.; white pepper, 13 to 15c.; cloves, whole, 10 to 20c.; cassia, whole, 10 to 20c.; nutmegs, 40 to 90c.; Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c., as to grade.

Cream of Tartar has been cabled easier since our last from Liverpool, but the spot price is unchanged at 17c.

DRIED FRUITS.

There is nothing definite regarding the new crop of Valencia raisins except reports confirming previous advice of a small crop but one of excellent quality. On spot supplies in jobbers' hands are still ample, and values are easy at 2½ to 4½c., as to quality, for off-stalk, and layers 4¾ to 5½.

California raisins here in stock are not in heavy supply, and prices are steady at 6½c. for 4-crown and 5½c. for 3-crown.

The currant market here continues dull and uninteresting, and as yet nothing important has been done in the matter of fall imports. We quote: Barrels, 3¼c.; half-ditto, 3½c., and cases, 3¼ to 4½c., as to quality.

Advices on prunes continue firm, as will be seen elsewhere. Spot values on Austrian stock are firm at 5c., and a fraction more has been asked. Dates are steady also at 4½ to 5c., as to grade.

Figs in baskets and bags range from 4 to 5c. for ordinary. Boxed stock are quiet and steady at 9 to 10c.

Evaporated fruit of all kinds are steady. We quote: Peaches, 12 to 15c.; pears, 10 to 13c.; apricots, 14 to 19c., and prunes, 10 to 11c., as to quality.

NUTS.

Nuts continue quiet and steady, with only a small jobbing trade to note. We quote: Brazils, 8 to 9c.; shelled almonds, 18 to 25c.; Tarragona, 12 to 13c.; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 13c.; shelled ditto, 24 to 25c.; filberts, 6½ to 7½c.; and pecans, 8 to 10c.

CANNED GOODS.

The position of the market continues much the same as it was a week ago. Canned vegetables of all kinds are held firm, and the reports tend rather to accentuate this feeling. This at least is the case in connection with tomatoes and peas. In the case of fruit, strength is equally noticeable in all leading lines, and it is worthy of note that packers' agents here are not urging sales. In canned salmon advices to hand this week from the Coast instruct agents that it will be dangerous to go into any further extensive operations for future delivery except at an advanced price, and ideas are now firm at $4.50 for ordinary brands f.o.b., with a majority asking $4.75. We quote: Lobsters, $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $10.50; salmon, $5.20 to $5.50; tomatoes, 90 to 95c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $3 per doz.; corn, 85c. to $1 per doz.; peas, 85 to 95c. per doz.; strawberries, $2.25 to $2.50; raspberries, $2; green gages, $2 to $2.25; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2.25 to $2.50, and 3-lb. apples, $1 to $1.10.

GREEN FRUIT.

There has been a good active trade in all kinds of green fruit, and with one exception there is little accumulation of stock to note.

APPLES—The exception noted is the supply of this fruit, the arrivals of summer apples here being largely in excess of the demand, and prices are lower, ranging from $1.25 to $2. The increase came all of a sudden, and is largely from the Island of Montreal and district.

PEARS—Hudson river pears have eased off a trifle under increased receipts to $1.40 to $3.

ORANGES—Are steady and firmly held at $1.40 to $2 per half box.

LEMONS—There is no change in lemons, which we quote at $3.25 to $4.50, as to quality.

CLEMES BROS. - TORONTO

prices have ruled steady at $1 to $1.50 for firsts and 65 to 85c. for seconds.

CALIFORNIA FRUITS—Arrivals of all kinds of fruit of this description have been heavy, and the prices ruling at the public sales have been subject to considerable fluctuation. We quote: Plums, $1.25 to $1.50; peaches, $1.25 to $1.50 and pears, $2.25 to $2.50 per box.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The receipts of eggs have been heavier this week, but prices are not quotably changed. We quote a range of 11½ to 12c. for choice candled and 10½ to 11c. for ordinary, with culls 9½c.

POTATOES—The potato market is quiet and prices rule easy, at 40 to 50c. per bag and $1 to $1.25 per bbl., as to quality.

HOPS—Continue quiet and steady, at 5 to 8½c. as to quality.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—Business in these is slow, at 6½ to 7½c. for sugar and 50 to 60c. per tin for syrup.

TALLOW—Demand for tallow in small lots was fair. Prime refined sold at 6 to 6½c., and lower grades at 5 to 5½c. per lb.

BEANS—Beans rule steady at $1.70 to $1.80 for hand-picked and $1.30 to $1.50 for lower grades.

HAY—The market is easier in tone and $1 per ton lower this week, sales of No. 2 transpiring at $10, and we quote $9.50 to $10 as a range. At country points No. 2 has been offered at $9. No. 1 timothy is nominal at $12.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

The demand for flour was good, and a fairly active business transacted at steady prices. We quote: Winter wheat, $4.45 to $4.50; spring wheat, patents, $4.40 to $4.50; straight roller, $4.25 to $4.35; straight roller, bags, $2.10 to $2.20; extra, $4; extra, bags, $1.90; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.25 to $4.35.

In oatmeal business was quiet, the demand being only for small lots at steady prices. We quote: Standard, bbls., $4.05 to $4.10; granulated, bbls., $4.10 to $4.15; rolled oats, bbls., $4.10 to $4.15.

The demand for feed continues good, and the market is active and firm. We quote: Bran, $17; shorts, $19; mouillie, $22 to $23.

PROVISIONS.

There was no important change in the situation of the provision market. Demand was limited and business quiet. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $16; Canadian short cut, mess, $17.50 to $18; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 11c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9½ to 10½c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 11c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 7½ to 7¾c.

BUTTER.

The butter market is quiet and steady. Exporters are not free buyers at present, but values for the jobbing business that is done are fairly steady from 17½ to 18c. on creamery, and 14 to 15c. on Townships dairy. We quote: Finest late made creamery, 17½ to 18c.; Townships dairy, 14 to 15c.; Western dairy, 13 to 13½c.

CHEESE.

The cheese market fails to show any improvement, despite the fact that cheese is cheap. Last year at this time June and July makes were selling at 9 to 9½c., and there was a good demand. At the present moment demand is dull, and on everything except French country makes spot prices are nominal. Values at the wharf, where 4,000 cheese were offered on Monday, were in line with the heavy disposition displayed at the close of last week. The ruling price was in the vicinity of 7¼c., with possibly a fraction more made in some cases. This is a decline of ½ to ¼c. from the previous Monday's level. The outlook, on the face of the steady slump in the market, is discouraging. Bids have declined ¼ to ½c. since the first week in July, without any visible change in the disposition of English buyers, and factorymen who have sold recently have accepted fully $1.40 per box less for their cheese than they realized last year. We quote: Finest Ontario makes, 8c.; Townships' makes, 7½ to 7¾c.; other Quebec makes, 7¼ to 7¾c.

ASHES.

The market continues quiet and steady. We quote: First pots, $4.10 to $4.15, and second, $3.80 to $3.85, while pearls are $5.25 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

A. P. Tippet & Co. are prepared to quote California prunes in all sizes now for future shipment.

Quite a fair quantity of California raisins have been placed with jobbers here for future delivery this week.

A round lot of black teas was sold on this market at 11c. It comprised 900 packages of low grade stock.

The reports to hand this week by canners' agents from the Fraser River state that the shortage there will be enormous.

A number of consignments of Stower's lemon squash were put through the Customs this week for Quebec wholesalers.

Robert Greig & Co are hard at work this week getting up their extensive line of samples in confectionery specialties.

Agents quote "Clover Leaf" flats canned salmon very firm at $5.20, f.o.b. on Coast, and have refused to talk business inside of that figure.

Rose & Laflamme are open to answer enquiries regarding Ostrich "G" prunes 104's and 108's. They received cables regarding this brand this week.

A. P. Tippet & Co., agents for Lazenby & Son's pickles, have been advised that the patent lever top bottled goods of this firm have been reduced 6d. per doz. This makes them a bargain.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 8, 1895.

THIS is a quiet season in business circles generally. Prices show but little change. In sugar there is more call noticed for yellows. In fish, particularly dry, the feeling is firmer. Canned goods show no change, though those canners who are offering at high prices show more inclination to meet the competition. The particular features are peas and tomatoes, which some canners are not offering at all. At Indian town, where the river steamers land, there is lots of business. At the times the boats arrive the wharves are crowded to excess with retail grocery teams after fresh peas, beans, berries and potatoes, and other produce. Some retailers are, however, much disgusted, as they find they can often buy the same goods cheaper in the market without the trouble and time which waiting on the boats causes.

OIL—There is not much movement to report, though orders for fall delivery continue to come in at rather lower prices than quotations. Of cod oil a fair quantity has arrived during the week, and prices cease to show the upward tendency existing last week. We quote: American, best burning oil, 22¾c.; Canadian, best, 21½c.; second, 18c., no charge for barrels.

SALT—No arrivals are reported during the past week. Stocks held here, while not large, are equal to all demands. In the cheese factories Canadian cheese salt is largely taking the place of the English factory filled. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory filled, $1 to $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.80 to $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per doz.; cheese salt, bulk, $2.70.

CANNED GOODS—This past week has shown less excitement, though some few sorting lots have been bought; and a few who were a little slow in placing their orders at the 80c. price have had to place their orders at rather higher figures, particularly in tomatoes. Peas are scarce at the low figure. Those canners whose high prices earlier lost them the business, now are showing an inclination to meet the competition, at least in some lines, but they are too late for the big orders. But that broker who was so fortunate as to get the bulk of the orders so far placed, said to THE GROCER he had not so far sold half the quantity he did two years ago when he did not have nearly the same proportion of the business. This shows how much smaller quantities the merchants now buy. But very small quantities of fruit have so far been sold. Spot goods show no change. We quote: Corn, 90c. to $1; peas, 95c.; tomatoes, $1 to $1.05; new gallon apples, $2.25; corned beef, 2-lb. tins, $2.75 to $3; 1-lb. tins, $1.70 to $1.75; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $3 to $3.15; 2's, $2 to $2.10; salmon, $1.40 to $1.50; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; clams, $5.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $3 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1.

DRIED FRUIT—There has been little movement. During the past week the larger number of the orders for peels have been placed. The trade seems to change from year to year. A few years ago it was English peels; then it was Leghorn, while for the past two years it has been English peels again. New American onions are on the market. New prunes are being offered. As far as THE GROCER can learn very few raisins have so far been contracted for. As is usual, while green fruit is so plentiful, dried apples and evaporated show very light sales. We quote: Currants, 1 lb. cartoons, 7½c.; bulk, 6½c.; dried apples, 5½ to 6c.; evaporated apples, 7½ to 8c.; Sultana raisins, 6 to 7c.; Valencia, 4 to 4½c.; layers, 5 to 5½c.; London layers, $2.25; loose muscatels, 5½ to 6c.; currants, bbls., 3¼ to 3½c.; half-cases, 3¼ to 4c.; dates, 4 to 4½c.; prunes, 4½ to 5½c.; figs, 11 to 18c.; Egyptian onions, 2¼c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; do. apricots, 12 to 14c.; do. pears, 12 to 13c.

GREEN FRUIT—The dealers are very busy working early and late. In berries there are but few left except blueberries. Cherries are also out of the market. Oranges are higher and not over good. Lemons very firm. In pears, peaches, melons and grapes quantities of fine fruit are coming forward daily, and prices are likely to be lower, except perhaps in melons. Native tomatoes are now plentiful. They are much more popular than the American. They keep much better. We quote: Case oranges, $6.50 to $7; California pears, $3 to $3.50; Bartlett pears, $4 to $6 per bbl.; melons, 25 to 40c.; grapes, $1 per basket; tomatoes, $1 to $1.25; apples, $4 per bbl.; cucumbers, 4c. each; oranges, $4.75 to $5; lemons, $5 to $5.50; bananas, $1.50 to $2.

DAIRY PRODUCE—The market is firmer. In eggs there is a good demand at rather higher prices with lighter stocks than at this season last year. Butter prices are a little firmer and stocks in the country are not considered large, though there is lots of poor and second grade. For creamery pints there is a fair demand, but the price works up slowly. In cheese, the market is dull. Very few of this province cheese have yet been marketed, holders being slow to accept prices offered, which are very low as compared with what they hoped. Some two cars have been shipped to Montreal for the English market, but there is quite a quantity in first hands, and though the season is getting along, prices are if anything lower. Then there are so many factories making comparatively small quantities with no proper way of disposing of their output that they are at a great disadvantage. What they need is a central cheese board. We quote: Common dairy butter, 12 to 15c.; eggs, 11½ to 12c.; dairy, 16 to 17c.; new creamery prints, 18 to 20c.; cheese, new, 8½ to 9c.; creamery, tubs, 18c.; old cheese, 6½ to 7c.

MOLASSES—The movement is very quiet. Holders of best grades are, however, firm. Stocks held here are much larger than was expected, and the larger dealers through the country are also well stocked. New Orleans barrels are rather firmer. Very little further arrivals of any kind are expected. We quote: Barbadoes, 34 to 35c.; Porto Rico, 35 to 37c.; St. Croix, 33 to 34c.; Trinidad, 33 to 35c.; bbls., 34 to 35c.

SUGAR—The markets in yellow are rather firmer, and dealers are buyers when they see good offers. Stocks of granulated are still large and prices are cut fine. Sales all round are reported light. Some splendid samples of yellows were shown by the St. Lawrence this week. We quote: Granulated, 4½ to 4¾c.; yellow, 3½ to 3¾c.; Paris lump, 5 to 5½c.; powdered, 5 to 5½c.

FISH—There have been some light arrivals during the week. In cod the market is rather firmer during the hot weather, it being very hard to properly dry the fish. Pollock are also rather firmer. For small cod there is no demand. In pickled herring there seems a light demand. A cargo of 400 half-bbls. arriving this week found difficulty in selling, though after they were sold a number were rather sorry they had not bought. These were splendid fish, and at the price the buyer got a bargain. Fresh salmon are getting very scarce. We quote: Fresh haddock, 2 to 2½c. per lb.; dry, $1.25 to $1.50; large cod, $3.80 to $4; medium, $3.50 to $3.75; small, $3; pollock, $1.50; bay herring, $1.25 to $1.30 per half-bbl.; Shelburne, No. 1, $4 per bbl.; half-bbl., $2.40 to $2.50; smoked herring, 5½ to 6c.; Digby chicken, 10c.; salmon, 20 to 22c.; shad, half-bbl., $5.

PROVISIONS—The movement at this season is light. In pork there seems an easier feeling, some packers being much lower than others. The demand for smoked meat is particularly light. Cottole is reported very quiet. We quote: P. E. Island thin mess, $16 to $16.50; clear pork, $18; mess, $16.50; beef, $14.50 to $15; pure lard, 10 to 10½c.; hams, 12 to 13c.; compound lard, 8 to 9c.; rolls, 9 to 9½c.; cottole, 9¼ to 9¾c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—Flour shows but little change during the week. There is a fair demand. Oatmeal is firmer. Cornmeal at present shows a good demand, with no change of price during the week. In oats the demand is light and the price easy. At this season people are a little afraid of Island oats, though the bulk arriving this season have given splendid satisfaction. It would, however, have been much better for them had they sold earlier. The hay sale here is not large, holders getting better prices elsewhere. It is said that during a short time some 2,500 tons have been shipped from Carleton County to the States. We quote: Flour, Manitoba, $4.85 to $4.95; best Ontario, $4.80 to $4.85; medium, $4.60 to $4.70; oatmeal, $4.40 to $4.50; cornmeal, $2.85 to $2.90; middlings, $2.4 to $2.5 on track; bran, $22 to $22.50; hand-picked beans, $1.85; prime, $1.75; oats, Ontario, 44 to 45c.; hay, $10 to $10.50; pot barley, $4.15 to $4.35; round peas, $3.75 to $3.90; split peas, $3.75 to $3.90; P. E. I. oats, 42c. on track, by the car.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

Up to the present, 10,065 cheeses have been made in P.E.I. This equals the whole output last year.

Reports from Carleton County evidence a light crop of plums and apples, but good reports are received from Nova Scotia.

Prince Edward Island reports having an ant that kills potato bugs. No doubt a good business could be done introducing it into the other provinces.

A shipment of tea to Portland, Me., by a local firm who controls one of the most popular blends here during the past week, was a new feature in the tea trade.

The following shipments are reported from Woodstock to the United States during April, May and June: Lumber, $25,000; hay, $5,600; potatoes, $5,400; hemlock bark, $9,600; fruit trees, $300.

Everything points to a splendid Exhibition here this fall. Already a large proportion of the space has been spoken for, and from the applications being received it looks as if there will not be enough to go around.

Isaac Schofield, of Central Norton, Kings County, has an acre of ground planted with strawberries, upon which he raised 7,000 quarts of good marketable berries this year. They averaged him about seven cents per box—$490. For packing, shipping, etc., Mr. Schofield paid in the vicinity of $90, leaving $400 clear of everything.

Dulse is more plentiful than for some time and a good demand is noted. The best comes from Grand Manan, though that from Nova Scotia is much better this season than last. That picked locally is as a rule poor. Prices are from 4½ to 5c.

Mr. Rose, of Rose & Laflamme, was in the city during the week. Their local agent, Mr. Fred. R. Titus, has been successful during the past two seasons in getting the bulk of the city orders for peels. They are agents for Batger's. In the past season they were also very successful in placing prunes.

St. Croix Soap Manufacturing Co. are shipping lye to Montreal in cars. It is their intention in the near future to reduce their lye to crude glycerine, which a new invention makes possible. This will prove a new source of revenue.

FREDERICTON NOTES.

D. W. Hoegg & Co.'s new cannery at Fredericton is now in full operation.

FROSTING WINDOWS IN SUMMER.

Do what you will, there will always be some fly marks on store windows and on the panes in the doors during the summer.

To destroy the dirty impression this creates on customers, some houses have been frosting the glass with a preparation of beer and Epsom salts.

A solution of a dessert spoonful of salts in half a glass of beer applied with a soft rag evenly over the surface of the glass produces an effect similar to that made by frost in winter. It does not look unlike galvanized sheet iron. It should not be too thickly distributed, for the liquid will run and spoil the appearance.

In some stores in Montreal, where it has been very carefully done, it creates a wintry impression.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

HALIFAX, Aug. 8, 1895.

THE season has so far advanced as to allow of the forming of some idea regarding the growing crops, upon which business must necessarily depend to a great extent this fall. From all indications the fruit crop in the Annapolis Valley will be an abundant one. The root crop is generally good. Bradstreet's reports the Nova Scotia hay crop an average one. That would be correct did it only refer to some counties. There will be an average crop in Annapolis, King's, Queen's, and Lunenburg, but in the great hay producing counties of Cumberland and Colchester there will not be half a crop. Only four counties show an average crop, while all the others are far behind. There will be an abundant crop of potatoes.

Business remains quiet in the city. Travelers report a brightening up in the eastern section of the province.

A number of Nova Scotians have formed a company, with headquarters at New Glasgow, for the purpose of milling flour and feed on a large scale. It is called the New Glasgow Milling Company, Ltd. They have secured a large and valuable frontage at New Glasgow, nine miles up the river from Pictou, and have erected an elevator 40 by 26 feet, and 90 feet high, capable of holding 100,000 bushels of grain. It is so arranged that a cargo can be discharged from a vessel at the rate of 3,000 bushels per hour. The steam plant consists of two large boilers and a Corliss compound condensing engine, having a capacity of 150 horse-power.

The mill is 42 x 86 feet and 77 feet high, and is covered with galvanized steel shingles, made by the Pedlar Roofing Co., Oshawa, Ont. The mill has a capacity of 200 barrels of flour, 250 barrels of corn, and 30 tons of feed per day. The contract for the machinery has been awarded to John Inglis & Sons, Toronto.

The purpose of the company is to supply the local demand and also to make a bid for the Maritime trade in general. The company feel that they can compete with the western mills on account of the difference in freight, the difference in bringing down flour by rail and wheat by water being equal to 36 1/2 c. per barrel in favor of the latter. Joseph Howard is the manager. This will be the third attempt to run a flour and feed mill on an extensive scale in the province. Mr. Fall tried it in Charlottetown a few years ago and the result was disastrous. A like result attended a similar effort by Mr. Moore, at Bedford, eight miles from here, some years ago.

FLOUR—The market has been very sluggish all over during the past week, and, strange to say, the prices of Canadian flours have settled down very close to those of the American. In fact, the New York and Chicago markets seem to have more tone in them than our Canadian, but the quietness of business of course has something to do with the draggy condition of prices. Good flours are selling by the carload as low as $4.15, and nothing but some special brands would fetch $4.50 for winter wheats. We heard of sales of Manitobas as low as $4.85, whereas the mills out in Manitoba ask $5.50 for patents delivered here in sacks. How dealers expect to make a living by selling goods at less than it costs to lay them down here is something hard to understand. Quotations are: Hungarian patents, Manitoban, $5.00 to $5.25; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.90 to $5.15; Canadian pastry, $5 to $5.25; 75 p.c. roller patents, $4.90 to $5.10; 80 p.c. ditto, $4.75 to $4.90; 90 p.c. ditto, $4.65 to $4.75; straight, $4.35 to $4.50; extra, $4.11 to $4.20.

CORNMEAL—Is steady, and the demand is fair for midsummer. It is quoted at $2.80 to $2.85 by the carload, and $2.90 to $2.95 in a jobbing way.

OATS AND OATMEAL—Oats and oatmeal are comparatively easy. The former has been jobbing around town as low as 44c., and oatmeals have been sold as low as $4 by the carload. Jobbing prices are about 45c. for oats and $4.25 for oatmeal.

FISHSTUFFS—Receipts of dry fish of late have not been very large. The principal reason assigned for this is that shippers prefer to hold back and await a possible advance. But in the opinion of our exporters they will be disappointed. The catch of cod on our own shores has not been very good, but large supplies that will surely find their way here from Newfoundland will offset this. The Cuban market is virtually closed to us on account of the rebellion, shippers being afraid to send there owing to the uncertainty of payment. This also has a depressing influence, and prices will continue low throughout the season. Herring are reported at different points, their arrival being much later than usual.

SUGAR—The market is strong in all positions, but the demand is not heavy. Quotations locally remain unchanged. Beet is quoted at 9s. 10 1/2 d. for August and 10s. 1 1/2 d. for September. Lich's report for Saturday last places the weight of roots at 213, against 247, and the percentage of sugar at 11.93, against 12.93.

PROVISIONS—The provision market is quiet. The demand for beef is not heavy, only the finest being asked for. Dealers find it hard to sell rough stock. Grass-fed beef is quoted at $7 and $8, and grain cattle brings about $9. Lamb is quoted at 9c., mutton 6 to 7c., and veal 4 to 5c. Fowls are worth 50c. per pair. A few spring chickens are offering at 60c. per pair.

EGGS—Eggs are in better demand, and have advanced 1c. since last week. They are jobbing at 12 1/2 to 13 1/2 c.

POTATOES—Potatoes are coming down in price, there being a decline of 10c. per bushel since last week. Good Early Roses are selling at 40 to 45c.

MOLASSES—Two cargoes of molasses have arrived at this port. They are timely, as stocks were low and inferior. A cargo has arrived at Charlottetown.

BUTTER AND CHEESE—There is no improvement in butter or cheese. Both are a drug on the market, and there is no sign of any improvement. Some dealers look for still lower prices.

GREEN FRUIT—The green fruit market continues well supplied with choice stocks. Some native apples have arrived, but they are very small.

HALIFAX NOTES.

L. Major has removed his grocery and provision store from the corner of Sackville and Argyle streets to Spring Garden road, a few doors west of T. Major & Son.

R. H. Silver received 1,000 cocoanuts from Hamacoa this week.

The imports of molasses this week amounted to 617 puncheons and 17 barrels from Humacoa and Arrayo, consigned to G. P. Mitchell & Sons and R. H. Silver.

WHERE IS MACWILLIE?

W. D. MacWillie, who, it will be remembered, failed in the retail grocery business at London, Ont., a few months ago, and who upon July 1 last started business as a grocer and fruiterer in his wife's name at 448 Spadina avenue, Toronto, has again gone by the board. On Saturday he suddenly left the city with his family, bound, via Rochester, for some point in Uncle Sam's domain. It is said that he left his landlord in the lurch for a month's rent and that several employes are minus a week's wages. White & Co. and Piper & Langstaff, Toronto, are his chief creditors, although their accounts against him do not run very high. Two mysterious fires occurred in his establishment within a month, both damaging his stock to some extent.

APPLE CROP NOTES.

It is said that the apple crop in New York State will be a large one and that prices will rule low.

A letter to the secretary of the Canadian Fruit Buyers and Exporters, from the editor of The Farmer, Chicago, says: "As a whole our apple crop is much above that of last year in the central west. Except in parts of Ohio and in Michigan, it is really better than for a number of years."

ONE CAUSE OF HARD TIMES.

THE Grumbler sat in his office chair as he opened his morning mail, he frowned at the letters before him there, and his face looked sad and pale. He scowled at the clerks when they spoke to him, he yelled at the meek cashier, and the errand boys, so white and slim, slunk out of the room in fear! The Grumbler swore at the office cat and sneered at his lady clerk, as in front of her little desk she sat, prepared for her weary work; he glared at the bookkeeper so meek, he scolded the salesmen too—not one of the entire staff dared speak for fear that a storm he'd brew! The Thinker entered the office door and walked to the Grumbler's desk, he looked straight through at the empty store with a smile that was picturesque. "How's biz?" he asked, in an easy tone, as, unbidden, he took a seat—the Grumbler uttered a weary groan, and the name of the "home of heat." "Business is dead and gone," he cried, "there is no trade at all! Hard times have killed my custom wide—it is gone beyond recall! The people have no more money now, no dollars nor even dimes, and we might as well close up, I vow, as open in these hard times!"

The Thinker mused ere he made reply; he looked at the Grumbler's face. For a little while his restless eye roamed over the silent place. "Do you know," said he, in a quiet voice, "I have often thought of late that some men make hard times from choice, and rather like that state. When times are bad I always strive to better them right-away; instead of grumbling I contrive a better game to play. Your trade has gone? Well, then, fetch it back! Be active, prompt, and wise, and to get upon the proper track, of course you will advertise! The people have no more cash, you think? Have you asked them, or wished to know, by the generous use of printer's ink? Of course you will answer, 'No.' Your store's in a better street than mine—it's a busier street by far, but neglect and foolishness combine your brisker trade to bar. I am advertising right along, whether times are bad or good, and I've always had the people throng to my store, as I knew they would. There's just as much cash as ever in town, but it won't come to you unsought, and it's better to wear a smile than a frown, my experience has taught. Don't talk of dead business and terrible times, and a stagnant state of trade, for there's plenty of dollars and loads of dimes and the good times can be made!"

The Grumbler stared at the Thinking Man and listened to all he said, and answered, "I guess I will try your plan to revive my business dead! Your words of comfort sound in my ear like melodious, joyous chimes, and I've been responsible, I fear, for most of my own 'hard times.'"

Then the Grumbler took his friend's advice and he never grumbled more, for soon he was doing a business nice in his retail grocer's store. He advertised for the people's trade and he got it, with their regard, and he realized what it was that made such "good" times out of "hard."—Business.

B.C. HALIBUT FISHERIES.

Preparations are already being made for the resumption of the halibut fisheries this coming winter. There are likely to be two companies engaged in the fisheries this year, the New England Fishing Company, of Vancouver, and the Victoria Fishing and Trading Company, of Victoria.

We are informed that further arrangements have been made between the companies on the Coast and the dealers in the eastern cities of the United States, whereby entire harmony will be secured during the season, and this will tend to make the fisheries more remunerative than they were last year. Probably also reductions will be secured in the railway freights, so that the fish will be laid down at a lower price than has hitherto been possible.

PROMENADING TRAVELERS.

THE third annual promenade concert of the City Travelers' Association, of Toronto, was held on board the steamer Chippewa on Tuesday evening last, and many dollars richer is the treasury of the organization as a result thereof.

All day Tuesday the sky was overhung with ominous clouds. At times rain fell, and just when people decide whether or not they shall go to such things as promenade concerts on shipboard more rain fell. But, in spite of this, 8.30 p.m. saw Geddes' wharf crowded with young and old waiting for the incoming of the steamer upon which they were to disport themselves. If it was faith that the Weather Clerk would be good to the travelers brought them there, they were not disappointed. Soon the stars and blue sky could be seen over-head; and just as the steamer was leaving her moorings to the enlivening strains of the Grenadier band the moon graciously peeped up from behind a bank of clouds, and not once while the steamer with its cargo of pleasure-seekers lazily ploughed the waters of bay and lake did she afterwards hide her face.

If the early part of the evening had been more propitious it is vain for man to say how many would have patronized the affair. As it was there were, according to the tickets collected, between five and six hundred people on board; and as these appeared to be nearly all dancers, promenaders were practically crowded off the main deck, its every nook and corner being monopolized by the votaries of Terpsichore.

The ladies' cabin was another crowded part of the Chippewa. There a vocal and instrumental concert was given, and those who could not get in at the doors crowded around the doors and open windows. The programme was an excellent one, as may be gathered from the names of those who contributed to it. They were: Soloists, Misses H. Morrell and Gerty Black, and Messrs. Charles Dimmock, W. W. Walmsley, W. J. A. Carnahan, J. F. Howitt; comic, Frank Wright; bassoon soloist, Mr. H. St. V. Johnstone; ventriloquist, J. E. Bunting; piano soloist and accompanist, Miss M. Dallas. To Mr. R. M. Corrie, the musical director, is largely due the honor for the character of the programme, and the éclat with which it was rendered.

Recherche were the musical arrangements. For the convenience of the dancers an orchestra was placed both forward and aft, while perched in the band stand on the promenade deck was the Grenadier band for the edification of the promenaders, although it must be confessed that some of the promenaders appeared to be oblivious to all but the presence of their partners.

It was close to the midnight hour when the Chippewa reached her wharf and discharged her passengers.

The Committee of Management were: R. Fletcher (chairman), F. Gallow (treasurer), R. R. Cherry (secretary), J. Mortimer, S. G. Martin, W. F. Daniels, S. H. Moore, R. M. Corrie, W. J. Parks, E. Davis, C. Wilson, W. Black, M. Morrell, T. Holman, W. J. Little, R. E. Jamieson, G. B. Curran, W. H. Steele, J. Anderson, J. F. Smythe, F. G. Logan, R. Maxwell and B. McCann.

A DENIAL.

Mr. W. G. A. Lambe, the Toronto agent of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refinery, called, according to instructions from his superiors, at the office of THE CANADIAN GROCER to deny that his firm had booked orders for yellow refined sugar at 3½¢, as reported last week. "At any other time that paragraph would not have had any effect," said Mr. Lambe, "but it is doing us a great deal of injury now. We are refusing to do business at any such figure, and our customers in Toronto, seeing that item, are wanting to know why we won't make the concessions for them."

"MAPLE LEAF" BRAND ON TOP.

In the exciting game played with a select team from the Wm. Davies Co.'s Packing House, last Saturday, on the old Rosedale grounds, the D. Gunn, Flavell & Co.'s team fully sustained the reputation they have won this season for fast play, defeating the Don team by 12 to 8, thus maintaining their place at the head of the Pork Packers' and Provision Dealers' League. The game was a fine exhibition of baseball, the special feature being the good batting of Taylor and Carrolan. The D. Gunn, Flavell & Co.'s team have not suffered a defeat this season.

FIRST VALENCIA RAISINS.

W. Rogers, of Denia, Spain, advise their agents, J. L. Watt & Scott, that they made their first shipments of Valencia raisins, via Liverpool, yesterday (Thursday). This is about a week earlier than last year, and is believed to be the first shipment for Canada this season.

IS MILK A WHOLESOME DIET?

A MILK diet is not acceptable to many, particularly during the summer months. Many, however, regard it as essential to health, and rigidly adhere to the use of crackers, rice, or some other farinaceous article with milk, for the midway luncheon. In Modern Medicine for June a number of reasons are given why cow's milk is not intended for some stomachs. Each individual is a law unto himself in this particular. Those to whom a milk diet is acceptable will not be likely to accept the statement made, and which we quote as follows:

"The popular idea that milk is one of the most wholesome and nutritious articles of food for use at all periods of life is by many acts shown to be an error. Cow's milk is admirably adapted for digestion in the stomach of a calf. The bovine stomach is so constructed that it can deal with food in lumps or small masses, on account of the ruminating habits of the animal. It is doubtless for this reason that cow's milk is so constituted that, in the stomach, when brought in contact with the acids and curd-forming ferments of the gastric juice, it forms large, hard, tough curds. Woman's milk, on the other hand, forms small, soft curds. This is one of the chief reasons why cow's milk disagrees with infants, as it almost universally does, when given in an undiluted state. Ass's milk has been found to be much more wholesome for infants than cow's milk. It more closely resembles woman's milk than does the milk of the cow. The equine stomach is simple in construction, in this respect more closely resembling the human stomach than does the bovine.

"The tendency of cow's milk to form in curds is, however, a less serious objection to its use by infants than by adults, for the reason that the infant's stomach is scarcely more than a dilatation of the upper portion of the intestine, being much less pouched in for than in adults; consequently the contents of the stomach of the infants very readily and quickly pass out into the duodenum, where the perfect and complete digestion of milk normally takes place, the pancreatic juice being apparently the most active agent in the digestion of milk. With adults, however, the large curds formed in milk are retained for a much longer time, the digestion of milk in the stomach being imperfect, and microbes in abundance, fermentation of lactose and decomposition of casein take place, resulting in that very disagreeable and miserable condition commonly termed 'biliousness,' which means not as it is popularly supposed, a disturbance of the liver, but a rottenness in the stomach. The absorption of the resulting ptomaines and a general toxemia, the germs which milk ordinarily contains in great abundance, encourage the fermentation and decay of the curds in the stomach; while, on the other hand, the casein being a readily decomposable substance, encourages the growth and development of the putrefactive and other organisms with which the fluids of the stomach always abound.

"Rondot and Lepine have recently called attention to the fact that milk is not in its constitution well adapted to the sustenance of adults; at least, it is not a complete food. It contains too large a proportion of albuminoids in relation to the hydrocarbons. Great numbers of persons are the victims of migraine, bilious or sick headache, dulness of mind, depression of spirits, constipation, and a variety of allied and associated symptoms in consequence of the free use of milk. The common habit of drinking milk is particularly injurious, as a large quantity of milk entering the stomach suddenly and in an undiluted state favors the formation of very large and hard curds."

ADVANTAGE OF GRADING EGGS.

THE proper presentation of all articles for sale is one of those points which, though often neglected, go far to give success. There can be no question that the eye is the inlet to the pocket as well as to the soul; and the great advantage which middlemen have over the regular producer of all kinds of produce, is that the former understand the importance of this question and take steps in that direction. At the same time it must be confessed that farmers pay less attention to this question than in their interests they should, says Stephen Beale, from England, in The Cultivator. The careless way in which produce is frequently marketed does much to destroy the value of all their previous labors.

Twenty years ago Ireland supplied Great Britain with more eggs than all the rest of the world put together. But so careless were the people as to the details of sorting, packing and marketing, that the foreigner with his improved systems was able to capture the trade for himself to a large extent. Within the last few years much has been done to remedy this state of things, and with a considerable advantage to the sister country, but in the meantime foreign imports have increased to an enormous extent, and it is scarcely to be expected that they will lose their ground.

In this country at least it is a common practice to send eggs to market just as they are produced, large and small together, the effect of which is that they do not present the regular appearance found in foreign eggs. I have seen scores of boxes of French, Italian, Danish, Austrian, and even Russian eggs opened, and one could not help admiring the excellence of their packing, together with the evenness of size throughout the boxes; in fact, so complete is the system that when a retailer purchases a box of foreign eggs, he never thinks of opening it, but knows by the brand what will be the size of the eggs within. This has been a very powerful factor in leading retailers to prefer foreign eggs, for then they know they are getting what they pay for. It must be borne in mind that a producer who sends all sizes to market in one box or basket, is doing himself a positive injury, since, if there are a few big eggs, they determine the standard, and of course others, even though of average size, look smaller. Moreover, in these days people prefer not to run any risk in this way, and hence it is, as I have frequently been told by retailers, that the trouble when dealing with foreign eggs is minimized.

As a rule abroad eggs are graded in three sizes, but in Denmark the system has been carried out to a greater extent, and Danish eggs are graded to six sizes—namely, from twelve to fifteen pounds per long hundred (120). French, Italian, and other eggs are in three sizes, the first being about seven to the pound, seconds eight, and the thirds nine.

The method adopted of sorting the eggs is a comparatively simple one. As they are brought into the packing establishments boys and girls are employed, each having a small board before them in which are three oval holes, varying in size according to the three standards given above. Every egg is taken and fitted to the hole to which it is nearest in size, and then placed in a basket or box corresponding therewith. Very large and very small eggs are rejected, and sold for other purposes upon the spot. It is surprising how rapidly the work can be done, and one active lad can handle several thousand eggs during a day in this manner.

That the adoption of this system would be an advantage is undoubted, for the reasons already stated. The complaint which has sometimes been made as to this method, is that while it is easy to sell the larger sizes, a difficulty is experienced in finding an outlet for the smaller ones. But I think that this is more apparent than real. Of course, a less price would have to be taken for the small eggs, but the enhanced returns from the better specimens would more than repay. There can be no question that in every trade a most important factor to success is confidence, and as long as foreign eggs are graded, while home produce is marketed in the old haphazard fashion, so long will retailers feel sure as to the form. Hence they prefer to deal in them. We have not yet arrived at that stage of things where eggs are sold by weight, though the Danes really adopt this method to some extent, as already indicated—at any rate, so far as dealers are concerned. If fair price are asked for eggs, the smaller can always be sold, because pro rata it is just as cheap to buy a little egg as a big one, provided we get more of them.

Whether this work should be undertaken by producers or the packers, depends upon local organization. Still there can be no doubt that if a producer has two baskets of eggs to take to market, it would be wise to sort these eggs into two different sizes, and in one or two places we have found this done. Any one can test the matter for himself by looking at a basket of eggs, all of which are the same size, and compare it with another in which are big and little together. The difference is at once evident, and the system here advocated needs no further recommendation.

J. D. Roberts, of the Pure Gold Mfg. Co., writes THE CANADIAN GROCER from the top of the celebrated Eiffel tower at Paris, France. He then expected to leave the continent for England on Aug. 2.

Douglass Brack, of Todhunter, Mitchell & Co, Toronto, is back from one of his periodical trips to the Pacific Coast. He reports his trip more successful than he anticipated. The harvest he speaks highly

LATE BUSINESS CHANGES

Geo. Luxton, grain dealer, Hamilton, Ont., is dead.—Martin Roche, general store, Killaloe, Ont., has been succeeded by W. J. Roche.—Maria Scott, grocer, Toronto, is removing to Bolton, Ont.—Dugas & Lebrun, confectioners, Montreal, have dissolved.—Calixte Gabbert, Emile Gabbert, John Price, Wm. John Price and Pierre Cloud have entered into partnership at Montreal, as the Montreal Wool and Sheep Skin Company.—J. A. Tellier & Co., grocers, Quebec, have retired from business.—Hyman and Joseph Simon are proprietors of the general trading business known as H. Simon & Son, St. Cunegonde, Que.—Carlin & Lake, general store, Golden, B.C., have assigned.—W. R. Megan, general store, Vernon, B.C., has suffered a loss by fire. Fully insured.—Hall, Ross & Co., Victoria, B.C., have dissolved. Hall continues.

ADOPTING THE CASH SYSTEM.

Another of our merchants has decided to adopt the cash basis of business. On Oct. 1 E. J. Cobain, the well-known and markedly successful general dealer, of Camilla, Ont., will say good-bye to the credit plan upon which he has worked up to date.

This resolution of Mr. Cobain carries weight with it, for when such a successful man adopts the cash system, the change is worthy of special remark. Eight years ago Mr. Cobain started business. Six years ago he added a telegraph office for his own and the public convenience, and he is now getting in a telephone, and in a day or two Camilla will have every city convenience. The reasons for Mr. Cobain's success are numerous. He is courteous and affable attentive to business; he knows how to buy, and has always a good full stock on hand. His store now contains every line of general merchandise for which there is any demand in the countryside.

THE CLERKS' ENTERTAINMENT.

The Montreal Grocers' Clerks' Association are already making preliminary preparations for a grand concert to be given by the society on September 17. From the success of the last public entertainment under the auspices of the association it is likely this one will be equally successful. His Honor Lieut. Governor Chapleau has written his permission to have the concert held under his patronage.

THE GLOBE AND THE SUGAR TRADE.

THE Toronto Globe, in commenting upon an article in THE CANADIAN GROCER regarding the dulness in sugar, concludes: "The inevitable result of an increase in price is a decrease in consumption, and this seems to have been under-estimated."

Undoubtedly, an increase in the price of a commodity tends to a decrease in its consumption. But this law, like others, is not always in operation, or at least other agencies sometimes supervene. For the dulness that now obtains in the sugar market the price is undoubtedly the least of all the conducive factors.

Sugar to-day is relatively cheaper than any staple commodity on the grocery market. It is from $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ c. per lb. cheaper than it was a year ago at this time, while teas, canned salmon, vegetables and fruits, and foreign dried fruits are all dearer than they were then. The most potent factor that has contributed to the dulness in sugar is undoubtedly the disappointing character of the early and small fruit crops: In the home and in the canning factory much smaller quantities than usual have been canned and preserved. Of strawberries there have been practically none packed. Then, less fruit for canning means also less fruit for ordinary eating. And all this curtailment in the pack of small fruit means a corresponding narrowing of one of the chief sources of demand for sugar.

Then, back of the fruit crop is the abnormal buying that obtained both prior to and immediately succeeding the change in the tariff; wholesalers, retailers and consumers all bought very heavily. Country merchants say that nearly every farmer who could raise enough money to do so, bought sugar by the barrel where hitherto he had been buying small quantities. Many of the canning and preserving factories also anticipated their wants, and to excess, as has been demonstrated by the fact that some of them have lately been trying to distribute their stock among the retailers at less than the market price.

No, the dulness of sugar is not due to price.

SITUATION IN APRICOTS.

To Canadians the California evaporated apricot market is more interesting than it ever has been heretofore. During the past season the people in this country have widened their acquaintanceship with this fruit—in fact, with California fruits generally. It practically has become one of our staples.

Now, in view of the upward tendency of the price of evaporated apricots, there is a possibility that values may reach a point that will make this commodity a forbidden fruit; at least as far as the great mass of consumers is concerned.

The price has appreciated something like 2c. per pound, and it is affirmed that before long the quotations on the Coast will be from 11½ to 12c., or about equal to 16c. laid down in Toronto. With other fruits as substitutes, this figure would be sure to materially check consumption in Canada. But, with Canada out of the market altogether as a buyer, it would have no perceptible effect upon the general situation. At the outside this country does not, it is estimated, consume more than 100 to 150 cars of evaporated apricots per annum.

The cause of the sharp appreciation in prices is the shortage in the crop, the yield this season being estimated, according to a California packer now on the Canadian market, at 1,500 carloads against 2,800 carloads last year. The fact, however, that there was a considerable quantity of last season's fruit carried over will tend to keep prices from appreciating as much as they otherwise might.

NEW CALIFORNIA RAISINS.

First quotations on new season's California raisins were received in Toronto on Saturday last. They are a little lower than last year's opening figures, being as follows: 2 crown loose muscatels, 2½ c. per lb.; 3 crown ditto, 3c.; 4 crown ditto, 4c., all f.o.b. California, September shipment.

To the above price must be, however, added freight and duty, which would mean an additional 2¼ c. per pound or thereabouts.

There are still a good many of last year's raisins in holders' hands, but it is thought they will be pretty well cleaned up before the new crop is on the market.

During the past season California raisins increased materially in popular favor on the Canadian market, and the ensuing season will probably show a further growth in this respect.

"FUTURE PUNISHMENT" FOR THE GROCERS.

A CHICAGO newspaper man some time since wrote a book dealing with a supposed tour he had made of Hades. Every other page contained an illustration of the condition of "life" in His Satanic Majesty's abode. Men from varied callings and professions were there. Even preachers were among the incarcerated. But there were no grocers there. At least, he does not bear record that there were. And as the writer of the book in question was a newspaper man, he is unlikely to have overlooked any corner of the lower world.

If perchance there are any grocers in Hades their particular torture would be in being compelled to keep their stores open for "ever and ever," doling out with bare fingers hot roasted fruit. That is, at all events, the punishment some of them deserve, and those in Toronto probably more than anywhere else.

Away back in the early spring the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association set on foot a movement to enlist the co-operation of the labor unions of the city and the Ministerial Association in securing early closing. In pursuance of this, deputations from the Grocers' Association waited upon these organizations, and the desideratum sought—their co-operation—was secured.

A certain day in a certain month was set for the inauguration of the movement. The hour for closing was to be 8 p.m. each business day except Saturday. The day arrived, and quite a presentable number closed. But before a week had passed numerous were the backsliders; and to day there is practically no more than a corporal's guard of early closers. And, worse still, among these backsliders are the very storekeepers who memorialized the Trades and Labor Council and the Ministerial Association to come over to the help of early closing.

God helps those who help themselves, but God help those who won't help themselves.

CURRANTS UNSETTLED.

CURRANTS in both Great Britain and the United States are in a somewhat unsettled condition. In each case a different reason is assigned.

In the former country, according to mail advices, there has been a decline of 1s. per cwt. in the lower kinds. This decline is the result of the disappointment that has been felt in the world's metropolis at the new Greek bill, which retains 15 per cent. of the crop for distillation.

It appears that the London dealers, a week before the decline in question took place, bought in excess of their requirements with the avowed object of supporting the position. They anticipated that the holders would also have co-operated, but in this respect they counted without their host: Instead of supporting they began to press sales, hence the weakening of the market. Judging from the tone of the English papers, some soreness has been created by the action of the holders. "It is to be hoped," remarks one paper, "that the London traders will now recognize the uselessness of endeavoring to bolster up the position under any circumstances, and will allow the market to follow a natural course, which will probably mean lower prices than at present exist. This may be disastrous to a great many who are dependent on the trade in Greece, but it will ultimately prove a benefit to those engaged in the trade on this side."

Some rumors to the effect that a destructive kind of rot is at work on the growing crop are to hand, but they are given little or no credence.

The disturbing element on the American market is the unexpected bobbing up again of the duty question, which was thought to have been settled two or three weeks ago by the Attorney-General. It appears from information which has been received by importers at New York that the Treasury Department does not accept the opinion of the Attorney-General barring the action of the collector at San Francisco from appealing against the decision of the Board of Appraisers, exempting all other Greek currants than those from Zante from paying the duty of $1\frac{1}{2}$ c. per pound. Now the matter, it is understood, will be ventilated before the Circuit Court of the District of California, and that may not be the end of it. Hence the unsettled condition of the currant market in New York.

NEW SEASON'S VALENCIAS.

The Valencia raisin market for the season 1895-6 opened on Friday last. Opening prices were a fraction higher than last year. On Monday cables announced a decline of equal to nearly 2s. per cwt. This, however, is nothing unusual, the market, as a rule, declining a few days after the opening.

On the day that the market opened the first shipment for Canada, via Liverpool, was made. The fruit will probably arrive about the middle of September. The shipment is five days earlier than the first shipment of last year.

The past season was peculiar in more respects than one. Early advices told of badly damaged crops, and that the supply of really good fruit would be light. Although there undoubtedly was considerable damaged fruit, but little of it saw this country, the market, on the whole, being well supplied with good fruit the season throughout, while, taking it all round, the quality of the fruit was of an unusually high average.

Another feature of the market was the unusually large quantity of Valencia raisins that were consumed in Canada during the season. This was, no doubt, induced by the lowness of the prices ruling.

IN THE MARITIME PROVINCES.

WELLINGTON BOULTER, the canned goods packer and president of the Canadian Packers' Association, was in Montreal this week on his way to Picton, after an extensive tour of the Maritime Provinces, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

"I find THE CANADIAN GROCER everywhere," he said, as he shook hands with the editor on St. James street. "I knew that nearly every merchant west of Port Arthur took it, but I had no idea that it was so much read in the Maritime Provinces. Everyone there seems to take it. Over on Prince Edward Island, where I had never been before, when I introduced myself I was made heartily welcome, for everyone said they knew me through my advertisements in THE CANADIAN GROCER. You certainly cover Canada."

"I am very much pleased with my trip. People everywhere were very kind to me, and I did a good business. I am glad to be able to bear out what you have said about the Maritime Provinces. With you, I think more Ontario and Quebec people should spend their holidays there instead of going to the crowded and hot American resorts. The air is far more bracing, it costs much less to live, and one feels more at home at the Canadian seaside places."

"Business is improving and seems to be on a more substantial basis than in some other parts of Canada. For New Brunswick I have appointed E. F. Sturdee, St. John, my agent. I have always done a good business there, but I expect a considerable increase, for I could get no one who is held in higher esteem than he."

During his stay in Montreal, Mr. Boulter visited the trade with Mr. Gordon, and placed several carloads. He said the publishing of proofs of his new labels in THE CANADIAN GROCER was a great hit, for he found the trade waiting for him with larger orders, as they recognized they would be a great help in selling the goods. On this account his sales in the city of Quebec were larger than ever before.

THE SALMON PACK.

Latest mail advices from the Coast denote some uncertainty regarding the salmon pack, although the question as to its shortness is a settled one, as far as comparison with last year's pack is concerned.

Advices under date of August 1 said that unless things improved the pack would not be half as large as cans had been prepared for. Advices dated a week later, however, denoted an improvement, the pack being ahead of the last short year, 1891. Until the end of the month, when the fishing season closes, it will be impossible to tell what the pack will be.

THE LOW PRICE OF CHEESE.

THERE appears to be no bottom to the cheese market, prices now being 3c. below what they were last year. This represents a difference of $2 per box to the factorymen, and shows how much their revenue must have decreased this summer.

The worst of it is that there appears to be no immediate prospect of any improvement in the market. If there was, the demand would have made itself felt ere this. The exports from Canada to date are almost 100,000 boxes short, while from the United States they are over 200,000 short. The English consumer has therefore taken some 300,000 boxes less of North American cheese this summer than last.

No ordinary conditions would account for this shortage. It can only be attributed to the fact that the stock of old cheese in England was larger than even the most pessimistic traders figured it. That this is so, account sales that came to hand to exporters in Montreal amply proved. In three cases, round lots of Canadian cheese made last year in July, August and September had been sold in London at 25s. per cwt. Now these cheese cost in Montreal last fall all the way from 45s. to 49s., so that the sellers lost from 20s. to 24s. per cwt. on their goods, not counting the charges for carrying them for almost twelve months, and the cost of freight, etc.

Other lots could be cited, but this is sufficient to show what a quantity of old cheese there must have been to consume this summer and what losses sellers had to put up with. It is not at all surprising, therefore, that the English demand has been backward and the prices abnormally low, with such losses in mind. Besides, the fact that the cheese has been carried so long is bound to tell against its flavor. This means a slow consumption and overstocked market.

DUTY ON SALMON.

The tariff as revised at last session of Parliament provided that the duty on fresh salmon shall be one-half cent per pound, and that it may be admitted free of duty upon proclamation of the Governor-in-Council, which may be issued whenever it appears to his satisfaction that fresh salmon may be imported into the United States from Canada free of duty. The Government having been notified that the salmon is admitted free into the United States, an order was passed on Monday abolishing the duty on salmon coming into Canada. Our exports of fresh salmon to the Republic last year aggregated in value $125,430, whereas our imports from the same were valued at only $55.

HAMILTON TRADE GOSSIP.

THE sugar trade so far this month has been anything but lively, although during the past week a few orders for carload lots have been received by local jobbers. Prices remain firm. The very lowest price that refiners will accept is 4½c. for granulated and 3½c. for yellows, net cash, delivered, for 500 barrel lots. "They won't budge from that," remarked a jobber. "They seem to be quite satisfied that sugar has a future before it. The feeling in both Europe and the United States is a little better, and whatever change takes place it will be in the direction of higher prices. According to Licht's estimate it is quite within the possibilities that before the next sugar season we shall see values 1c. per lb. above their present range." The local price is unchanged at 4¼ to 4½c. for granulated and 3½c. upwards for yellows.

The tea market still lacks much life, but as far as position is concerned it is strong. Advances regarding Ceylon tea show an advance of at least 2c. per lb. in low grades, and 3 to 4c. in the high grades. A good many Japan teas have come in during the past week. They are not like those which arrived early in the season. "They are right up to sample," remarked one wholesaler who formerly had a great deal to complain of regarding the quality of the early shipments. "I think they are as good value as we gave last year. But the shippers lead us to believe that they are not making any money on them; in fact, they profess to be actually losing money. If this is so, the retail merchants are getting, as far as Japan teas are concerned, extra good value—that is, those who bought for direct shipment."

The scarcity of McDonald tobaccos is still felt, although orders are getting pretty well filled up. "In the meantime, however," to use the words of a jobber, "Tuckett, the Empire company and Ritchie have got considerable openings with portions of the trade they never sold to before."

Canned goods are moving off as well as can be expected for this time of the year. During the past week there has been quite an enquiry for tomatoes. Some of the wholesale houses appear to be short of tomatoes. Two wholesalers told me they had both sold to other wholesalers during the week. A member of one firm assured me he had sold several hundred cases lately, and at 90c., present delivery. "One packer," said this particular wholesaler, "asked us 95c. for what he had left, but we did not buy." There are not so many canned fruits selling as there were, but there is nothing special to note beyond this.

Letters have been received from at least one salmon packer on the Coast, asking for offers. "This same packer," ventured one jobber, "was one of those that a short time ago was holding at $4.75 on the Coast, so that it looks as if prices are taking an easier turn." Another wholesaler showed me a letter which estimated the shortage on the Fraser River at 100,000 cases.

Syrups are getting into very small compass. "Medium grades are not obtainable at all from the Canadian refiners," was the report one wholesaler gave me. "The consequence is that we have to go to the United States for these syrups and pay a duty of 7c. per lb., which is needlessly high." Then he waxed righteously indignant at this particular tariff. "We can get the higher grade from the Canadian refineries, but the beggars work their low grades into their sugars," he concluded.

A packer who was in town on Wednesday declared that peaches, plums and pears would be a shorter crop than a great many people appeared to anticipate.

There is at least one business man in Hamilton who has been a gainer as a result of the liberal advertising which the "Ambitious City" has got consequent upon Hayhurst winning the Queen's prize. The business man in question is a broker, and the other day he received a letter from a California fruit firm which had become interested in Hamilton through its connection with Hayhurst and asking him (the broker) to accept their agency, and he has decided to do so.

Those who have gone into the cleaned currant business have done well, as far as I can learn. Balfour & Co. some time ago secured the services of an expert and an inventor of a cleaning machine, and they inform me that as a result their trade in currants has grown enormously.

The Grand Trunk railway have been stirring their stumps a great deal during the past few weeks, and are now making a bigger bid for business than they have for some time. Speaking to Mr. Steele of Lucas, Steele & Bristol, regarding the matter, he said: "Oh, the Grand Trunk was after all never so black as it was painted. During our long experience with them we have always found them courteous and obliging. We have been able to give our customers as good freight rate as any other city in Canada and just as quick despatch. Goods that we ship, say on Monday, are delivered next day to any point within a radius of 100 miles of Hamilton, and goods shipped the same day for points in Muskoka or northern Ontario reach their destination on Wednesday. Not so bad for the old Grand Trunk is it?" "No, it is not," I rejoined.

MONEY AND STOCKS.

BANK stocks are a little easier, having declined 1 to 1½ per cent. The weakness is probably out of sympathy with the situation on the New York Exchange, and the announcement of further shipments of gold.

Insurance stocks show considerable strength at the moment; and the cause of this is the comparatively small losses that the companies are experiencing just now.

One of the best evidences of the return of better times is the improved nature of payments. The accountant of one wholesale house told me they were exceptionally good just now. "Do you know," he said, "that quite a number are now retiring their notes a week before they are due."

Commercial Cable shows decided strength as a result of increased earnings, owing in turn to the improved condition of business.

"Is Cable a good investment at the present figure?" I asked a well-known broker. "Well, that's a question," he replied. "It is thought, however, that an advance is likely, provided there is no demand to increase the rate of interest on loans."

A dividend at the rate of 4 per cent. was on Monday declared by the C. P. R. on its preferred stock. "This will not materially influence C. P. R. on the market," ventured a prominent financier. "What is strengthening this stock is the abundant harvest that is expected."

The demand for municipal is active, and there are a good many coming forward. "There never has been such a demand at the prices," said a member of a leading financial firm.

Call loans are dull at 4 to 4½ per cent., and an improvement is not anticipated until after the Exhibition season is over.

The Bank of Halifax has decided to call in the remainder of its unauthorized capital, $400,000, payable in four monthly instalments, beginning on September 14. This will give the bank a capital of $1,500,000, and a reserve of $880,000.

ARGUROS.

PRISON BINDER TWINE.

The Ontario Government has decided to make a radical change in its relations to the binder twine factory at the Central Prison, which it controls.

Heretofore a direct supervision has been held, and Government officials superintended the manufacture and sale of the goods.

Now the Government proposes to sell to the highest bidder the right to use the Central Prison plant and prison labor. Tenders have been called for to be opened on Aug. 22, and the successful applicant will take over the control of the factory free of obstruction, except that the price of the twine made will be limited.

As Mr. Noxon, Inspector of Prisons, explained to THE CANADIAN GROCER, the Government's object is to employ the prisoners without engaging in business and competing with private parties.

A PECULIAR SWINDLE.

AN Englishman of good appearance and address, who gave his name as J. T. Scott, has been working a peculiar little swindle on some of Chicago's grocers, wholesale and retail.

Scott began operations on C. H. Smith & Son, 34 Wabash avenue. He said to them that in his relations with the Diamond Steel Co. he had become associated with the Stanley Creek Gold Mining and Milling Co., of Stanley Creek, Idaho, and was now buying goods for them. Mr. Stanley, he said was now in town and stopping at the Auditorium. It was the latter's purpose to take a party of thirteen Englishmen out to visit his mines in Idaho, and he was now making a stay in order to secure the necessary provisions and canned goods. Scott himself was buying this stuff for Stanley, and if suited would place a large order.

Scott's genuine appearance and manner secured the confidence of C. H. Smith & Son, and five or six hours of the firm's time were spent on him. He referred without hesitation to Alexis Godillot, Jr., of Bordeaux, France, and Bennett, Sloan & Co., of New York, and made a favorable impression. He took several cans of various goods to show Mr. Stanley at the Auditorium, and finally placed an order for $1,800 worth of goods to be loaded into a Union Pacific car and sent to Idaho. Next day, he said, his people would send a certified cheque in payment. He finally left, taking a can of asparagus, another of lobster, another of mushrooms, and a couple of the firm's cigars. But the cheque has never appeared.

He worked the same game on other wholesale houses, and then tried his hand on the retailers.

The greatest loss sustained through Scott's mania for buying was met by Reese & Brady, of South Water street. The latter are a retail house, and were anxious to make a sale of the size hinted at. They showed him the best in the store, but Scott was particular. He insisted on having a large number of cans cut open in order to judge of their contents and then took a number of sample cans to show Mr. Stanley. In this way fifty cans of sardines, mushrooms, peas and lobsters were ruined without any benefit to the owners.

But the promised cheques never appeared, and on enquiry it was found that there was no such man as Stanley, and that Scott's story was false. Some of the dealers are angry, and some are inclined to laugh at the incident. The queer thing is that the man should go to so much trouble for the petty returns he gets.

ANXIOUS TO BE A GOOD TEA MAN

Editor GROCER,—Ever since your remarks re the tea test at the grocers' picnic in Minneapolis, I have had it in my mind to write you re books or pamphlets on teas, giving a description of their growth and distribution and dealing with the various kinds and qualities, also ways of testing. The writer would feel much obliged, indeed, if you could put him in the possession of or on track of such information as would lead to a better knowledge of buying and selling teas. I thoroughly concur in your opinion that a large proportion of grocers and their clerks know very little about the teas they handle. Although I have been handling first-class groceries for the last eight years, I must confess, if put to the test, I would share the fate of the Minneapolis grocers; and in order to insure better results from our tea trade, I ask for the above information, which, I feel sure, you will give, to the best of your knowledge, and in anticipation of which I tender you many thanks.

Yours, etc.,

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Aug. 15, 1895.

GROCERIES.

ASIDE from sugar, the volume of business is not bad at all; in fact, for the season it is fairly good. But because sugar will not move business is not, on the whole, being given a good character. Prices, as far as the refiners are concerned, are stronger rather than weaker in sympathy with the outside market. There has been no material change in anything during the week, either in regard to volume of business or prices. The market for new season's Valencia raisins opened in Denia on Friday, 9th inst., at slightly higher prices than a year ago, but the cable has since then announced a decline. Currants are still in active request. Good green Rio coffees are in request on spot, but there are not many to be had. Spices are without change. Teas are not receiving much attention, and the little that is doing is chiefly in Japans. The primary markets are, if anything, stronger. In fish, the most interesting thing to note is the arrival of quail on toast and half quintals of grocery cod, all new season's goods. Payments are good.

CANNED GOODS.

New season's California apricots are arriving on the Toronto market this week. Generally speaking, the situation is much as before. Packers claim that they are getting out of peas, but so far the wholesale trade here had no difficulty in getting what they wanted; whether they will be able to do so all the season is of course another thing. Peas are not much wanted just now, this not being the season, of course. There is a little demand for corn, and a fair quantity of tomatoes is selling. In canned fruits, new season's cherries, blackberries, and strawberries are in stock this week. New season's canned lobster is moving out fairly well. Salmon is in fair demand. We quote: Tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; corn, 80 to 90c.; peas, 80 to 90c. for ordinary; sifted, 95c. to $1; extra sifted, $1.40; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.20; strawberries, $1.75 to $1.90; blackberries, $1.90 to $2; cherries, $1.80 to $2; apples, 3's, 90c to $1, gallons, $2.25 to 2.40, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.35 to $1.50, in tall tins; do., Cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins. Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.65 to $1.75; 2's, $2.65 to $2.75; 6's, $8 to $8.25; 14's, $18 to $19. Chicago canned beef, 1's, $1.75 per dozen; 2's, $2.85. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEE.

Green Rios are getting scarcer on this market, and enquiry is fair. We quote green in bags as follows: Rio (new season), 19 to 21c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 20 to 22½c.; Java, 28 to 33c.; Mocha, 30 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

RICE.

Trade continues moderate at unchanged prices. We quote: "B," 3¼ to 3½c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5½c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 3¼ to 5½c.

SPICES.

The chief demand is for pickling spices, which are selling fairly well. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.;

cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 22 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

The market is quiet and unchanged. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

There is no change. The refiners are preaching higher prices, but they are neither asking nor getting them. The outside markets are stronger, and that affords the Canadian refiners a text for preaching higher values here. In view of the unusual dulness the Canadian market keeps remarkably steady, and an advance does seem likely should a demand soon spring up. An offer of 4 1-16c. net was refused by a Montreal refinery a few days ago for 1,000 barrels of granulated. One house cleaned out the last of its very bright Demerara sugar at 4½c. this week. We quote: Granulated, No. 1, 4½ to 4¾c.; do., No. 2, 3½ to 4c.; yellows, 3¼ to 3¾c.; Demerara, 3½c.

SYRUPS.

Business in syrups is still dull. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

There is not much demand, although there is probably more doing in this line than in syrup at the moment. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 30 to 32c.; half-bbls., 33½ to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 37c.

TEAS.

Japans are coming forward more freely and the demand is fairly good for good liquoring medium teas, several invoices having been sold as soon as they arrived. Generally speaking, however, the price of Japan tea appears to be a little too high for this market. A tea circular quotes medium grades 5c. per picul higher than last year. Low grade Indian and Ceylon teas, particularly the latter, are firmer. Hankow mail advices state that, although arrivals have been large, the market shows no weakness on account of the strong Russian demand. We quote the ruling prices to retailers: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

The Valencia market opened on the 9th inst., particulars of which will be found in our editorial columns. There are a good many Valencias moving out on spot at unchanged prices. We quote: Off-stalk, 80 to 90c. per box; fine off-stalk, 4 to 4½c.; selected, 5½ to 6c.; layers, 4½ to 5½c.

Currants continue in active demand at unchanged prices. We quote as before: Filiatras, half-bbls., 4 to 4½c., bbls., 4¼c.; fine Filiatras, half-bbls., 4¾c., bbls., 4¾c.; Patras, 5½c., in cases; Casalinas, 4½ to 5½c.; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7c. in cases and half-cases.

Bosnia prunes are practically cleaned out, and there are not many French prunes of good quality to be had. There are a few California prunes to be had at about 9c. We quote: Bosnias at 6 to 7c., and Bordeaux at 4½ to 6½c.; California prunes, 9c.

California evaporated apricots are still in fair demand. We quote: Apricots and peaches, 12½ to 13½c. per lb.; new apricots, 15c.; nectarines, 13½c.; pitted plums, 12½ to 13c.

Sultana raisins are not receiving much attention, the market being pretty well cleaned out. Prices are 6½ to 7c. for good fruit.

Fig crop continues to progress favorably. There is nothing to note on the local market. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, 4¼ to 4½c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

Dates are quiet and unchanged at from 4¼c. up.

BUTTER, CHEESE AND EGGS.

Despite what is considered better dairy weather the supply of good butter does not yet any more than fill the demand. Butter is consequently firmer than ever. We quote: Old summer dairy and store packed, 7 to 9c.; fresh prints, 15 to 16c.; fresh tubs, 14 to 15c.; Fresh creamery—Tubs, 18c.; pound prints, 19 to 20c.

Cheese is easier than last week, even although the export trade seems to have picked up a little. New Canadian is being sold at the factories at 7½ to 7¾c. per lb., while 8½c. is the Toronto quotation. Last August and September makes bring 10 to 10½c.

ECGS—Firm at 11c.

GREEN FRUIT.

The green fruit trade in this city both in domestic and imported lines continues big. The face of the lemon market has considerably changed, for nearly all the St. Lawrence river route stocks have been cleaned out, and new stocks are now being brought in from New York at higher prices. This state of affairs has had the effect of advancing the price of lemons from 75c. to $1.75 per case. In oranges, Mediterranean sweets are about out. Rhodi oranges are taking their place, with some California seedlings still to be had. Raspberries, gooseberries and red currants are fast disappearing, and domestic peaches, pears and grapes are taking their places. We quote prices: Sorrento, $5.75 to $6.75 Oranges—California seedlings, $3.50 to $4; Rhodi, $3.75 to $4. Bananas, $1 to $1.75; cocoanuts, $4.50 a sack; cucumbers, Canadian, 15c. per basket; new cabbage, 75c. to $1.25 per bbl.; Canadian tomatoes, 60 to 75c. per basket. Green California fruit—Peaches, $1.40 to $1.50 in boxes; pears, $2.50 to $3; plums, $1.50 to $2; green apples, $1 to $1.75 a barrel; watermelons, 15 to 20c. each; black currants, $1.15 to $1.35 per basket; black caps, 8 to 10c.; muskmelons, 60 to 65c. per basket; lawton berries, 13c.; grapes, 75c. per basket.

COUNTRY PRODUCE

BEANS—Quoted at $1.80 per bushel.

DRIED APPLES—Jobbers quote at 6 to 6½c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Jobbers quote at 8 to 8½c. per lb. in 50-lb. boxes.

ONIONS—Maltas sell at 2½c. per lb. by the hamper, and Egyptians at $2 per bag.

POTATOES—Are a drug on the market just now. The market gardeners have the trade in their hands for the time being, and until their stocks run out potatoes will remain unsalable in large lots. Good new potatoes are being refused on the street at 25c. per bushel. They sell out of the store at 40c. or less.

HONEY—Strained in bulk is quoted at 7 to 8½c. Honey still brings $1.50 to $1.80 a dozen in the comb.

HOPS—Pacifics are quoted at 14c., and Canadian at 6½ to 7½c.

HAY—Baled hay is being bought by the dealers at from $12.50 to $14, according to quantity and quality.

FISH.

A good business is being done at unaltered prices. The new season's quail on toast, and half-quintals of grocery cod are now coming into the market. We quote prices as follows: Skinned and boned cod-fish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; haddock, 5 to 6c.; Labrador herring, $3.25 to $3.50 per half barrel and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, $2.50 per half barrel, and $4.50 to $4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, $3 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 3c.; pike, 4½ to 5c. per lb.; flitched cod, 5c.; tinnan haddies, 8c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 10 to 13c.; Georgian Bay trout, 7c.; white fish, 7c.; Restigouche salmon, 20 to 25c.; mackerel, 20c.; steak cod, 7 to 8c.; haddock, 6c.; black bass, 9 to 10½c. Fresh Lake Erie herring, $2.50 per 100.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

The demand in the old country continues to improve, and consequently dressed hogs have advanced to $6.50 to $6.75 per 100 lbs. Products are still quoted thus, although local stocks are said to be small:

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 8c. for carload lots, and 8½c. for small lots; backs, 8½ to 9c.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 11 to 11½c.; rolls, 8 to 8½c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 10½ to 11c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 11½c.; small hams, 12c.; pickled, 10 to 10½c.; backs, 10 to 10½c.; picnic hams, 7½ to 8c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 8¾c.; tubs, 9c.; pails, 9¼c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $15.75; Canadian short-cut, $16 to $16.50; clear shoulder mess, $13.75 to $14; shoulder mess, $13.50 to $13.75.

FLOUR AND FEED.

WHEAT—White, 78c.; red, 78c.

OATS—Quoted at 36 to 38c.

BARLEY—Quoted at 46 to 48c.

FLOUR—Prices are lower and steady. We quote: Straight roller, $3.50 to $3.60; Manitoba, $4.25; patents, $4.45 to $4.50.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Owing to the easier grain markets meals are cheaper. We now quote: Standard oatmeal, $4.10; rolled oats, $4.10; rolled wheat, $2.50 in 100 lb. barrels; cornmeal, $3.25; split peas, $3.50; pot barley, $3.75 to $4 per bbl.

SEEDS.

Alsike clover seed is easier, choice being quoted at $4.70 at outside points, with inferior grades at correspondingly low figures.

SALT.

Trade has been first-class this week. We quote: Barrels, 85c.; coarse sacks, 58c.; fine sacks, 60c.; dairy, $1.25; rock, $1.00.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—Are full, the supply being more than equal to the demand. Hides are therefore accumulating, but prices do not vary. No. 1 green is quoted at 8c. for No. 1, and

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Aug. 15, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE grocery market has not developed any striking change since our last. However, some new features are to note that may be taken as indications of a larger volume of business later. Prominent in this respect is the increased demand by the jobbing trade for sugars, teas, canned vegetables, fruit and fish. In all of these lines the movement from first to second hands has been good. In the case of tea and canned goods, values are firm all round, and large orders for future delivery have been booked. Sugar prices continue unchanged, but refiners are firm in their views, and refuse to accept any contracts ahead. With the raw market advancing as it has, any genuine business of sufficient volume ought to advance prices.

SUGAR.

There has been more enquiry for sugar at the refineries during the past eight days, but the market is still far from being in a satisfactory state. Outside advices continue firm, but there is no change in spot values, which are as last quoted. Granulated has moved in a fair way from refiners' hands at 4½c., and they are firm at that figure, but it is still possible to purchase at 4½ to 4¼c., which is the range we quote. Yellows are quiet and unchanged at 3½ to 3¼c. All advices on the raw article are firm, and it seems scarcely likely that the present level of values will be maintained if the raw product keeps firm as it has while stocks in second and third hands diminish. At any rate, though they are willing to fill contracts for immediate delivery, refiners refuse to contract ahead.

SYRUPS.

A fair business has been transacted in syrup, the market being moderately active for small lots at 1¾ to 2¼c. per lb., as to quality, at the factory. Jobbers ask an advance of ¼ to ½c. on these prices.

MOLASSES.

There is nothing new to report in the molasses market, business ruling quiet. The tone, however, continues very firm and it is questionable whether supplies will be sufficient to supply the demand during the fall and winter. Barbadoes in a round way is quoted at 35c., but jobbing lots are held at 37c., while Porto Rico is quotable at 34c. in round lots and 36c. in jobbing parcels.

RICE.

There is a fair demand for rice for the season and prices rule steady. Prices are unchanged as follows: Japan, $4.30 to $4.50; crystal Japan, $4.80 to $5; standard B, $3.45; C.C. style, $3.20; Patna, $4.37½ to $5; and Carolina, $7 to $7.50.

SPICES.

Business in spices continues quiet and values rule steady. We quote jobbing prices as follows: Penang black pepper, 8 to 10c.; white pepper, 13 to 15c.; cloves, whole, 10 to 20c.; cassia, whole, 10 to 20c.; nutmegs, 40 to 90c.; Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c., as to grade.

COFFEES.

There is no change in the coffee market. Demand is slow and confined to small lots for actual requirements. We quote green: Maracaibo, 20 to 22c.; Rio, 19 to 20c.; Java, 24 to 28c.; Jamaica, 19 to 21c.; and Mocha, 27 to 31c.

TEA.

The market has exhibited noticeable activity during the week, especially in Japan teas, ranging from 15 to 21c. Considerable sales of new crop have been made at this range for forward delivery. Round lots of mediums have realized 16½ to 17c., while no important sales are noted in blacks or greens. We quote: Low grade Japans, 12 to 14c.; medium to good, 16 to 18c.; fine, 19 to 22c.; choice, 24 to 31c.

CLEARING..

DRIED FRUITS.

There has been some fair business in California raisins for prompt and future delivery this week, but as a whole the market is dull. New crop fruit are offering a fraction dearer than the prices ruling for stock on spot. We quote: 4-crown loose muscatels, 6½c., and 3-crown do., 5½c.

In Valencia raisins nothing new is to report in addition to what was said last week. Offers for fall shipment are not definite as yet, and 16s., f.o.b. cost and freight, as noted last week, still seems to be the idea. Spot values have not been subjected to any change this week, and we quote: 2½ to 4½c., as to quality, for off-stalk, and 4¼ to 5c. for layers, as to brand.

There is no change in the currant market, and business rules quiet at 3½ to 4½c., according to package and quality.

Prunes rule firm in tone. Bosnia prunes are held firm at 5c. Offers on new crop are in advance of this basis, those so far made bring 5½c., laid down. In California offers for fall shipment are made at full figures, viz., 6¼c. laid down, duty paid.

There is no change in dates, which we quote firm at 5c.

Figs are steady, with stocks light and all in second hands. Quotations are: 4 to 5c. for ordinary in baskets and bags, and 9 to 10c. for higher grades in boxes.

Evaporated fruit of all kinds rules steady. We quote: Peaches, 12 to 15c.; pears, 10 to 13c.; apricots, 14 to 19c., and prunes, 10 to 11c., as to quality.

NUTS.

There is no new feature to note, business ruling quiet. We quote: Brazils, 8 to 9c.; shelled almonds, 18 to 25c.; Tarragona, 12 to 13c.; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 13c.; shelled ditto, 24 to 25c.; filberts, 6½ to 7½c.; and pecans, 8 to 10c.

CANNED GOODS.

The feature of this market has been the large business between jobbers and canners in new pack corn and tomatoes, a large number of extensive contracts having been put through, aggregating in all some 8,000 to 10,000 cases. These were mostly made on the basis of 75c. per dozen, but slightly better figures were obtained in some cases. Business is quiet in salmon, and the sales agents here contend that the advices regarding an unprecedented run on the Fraser river are not likely to affect either the prices or the pack. Lobsters are firm, no falls offering under $6.50, while flats are strong at $8 to $8.50. Mackerel are very scarce and firm at $5. We quote: Lobsters, $6.50 to $8.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $10.50; salmon, $5.20 to $5.50; mackerel, $5.00; tomatoes, 90 to 95c. per doz. peaches, $2 to $3 per doz.; corn, 85c. to $1 per doz.; peas, 85 to 95c. per doz.; strawberries, $2.25 to $2.50; raspberries, $2; green gages, $2 to $2.25; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2.25 to $2.50, and 3-lb. apples, $1 to $1.10.

CLEMES BROS. - TORONTO

GREEN FRUIT.

The green fruit market is much the same as it was last week. Receipts of all kinds of fruit are materially increasing and prices are easier in some cases, but the market is kept well cleaned up.

APPLES—Receipts of these have been free and prices rule easy at $1.25 to $2 per bbl.

PEARS—Bartlett pears are moving well at $2.25 per keg, and "Favorite" at $2 per bbl. Both these prices are a decline from last week of from 25 to 50c.

ORANGES—Sales of Messina are noted at $3.50 per box, and prices are steady at that figure. Half-boxes sell at $1.40 to $2.

LEMONS—The market is firm on these at $4 to $4.50 per box.

BANANAS—Range from 75c. to $1.50 per bunch.

CALIFORNIA FRUITS—These are active and fairly steady, the daily receipts being readily absorbed. We quote: Peaches, $1.25 to $1.50 per box; plums, $1.25 to $1.50, and pears, $2.25 to $2.50.

FISH.

The first extensive arrivals of fresh and pickled fish were received on the Montreal market this week, and the fish season is now open. Among them, considerable fresh British Columbia salmon have been coming forward, and still larger arrivals are expected. On the other hand, the receipts from the Maritime Provinces of salmon have been very light, which is explained by the fact that both Nova Scotia and New Brunswick have, so far, frozen very little salmon this year. Demand for salmon of all kinds has been active at 14 to 15c. per lb. Some new green cod has arrived, and is selling at $4.50 to $5 per bbl. for No. 1. Some lots of nice bright herrings are also to hand from Nova Scotia. These are said to be equal in quality to Cape Breton fish, and are selling at $5 to $5.25 per bbl. Newfoundland dry cod are arriving, and are selling at $5 per 100 lbs.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—Are in fair demand, but the market is easy, and prices have declined from last week's quotations. We quote: Choice candled, 11½c.; ordinary, 10½ to 11c., and culls 8 to 9c. per doz.

POTATOES—The market is quiet and steady, at $1 to $1.25 per bbl., and 35 to 45c. per box.

HOPS—The hop market is quiet and unchanged, at 5 to 8½c. per lb.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—There is no change in this market. We quote sugar at 6½ to 7½c. for new and 4 to 6c. for old; maple syrup in wood at 4 to 5c. per lb., and 50 to 60c. per tin.

TALLOW—Demand for tallow in small lots is fair, at 6 to 6½c. for prime refined, and 5 to 5½c. for lower grades.

BEANS—Beans rule steady at $1.70 to $1.80 for hand-picked and $1.30 to $1.50 for lower grades.

HAY—The hay market is unchanged from a week ago. No. 2 timothy has been sold at country points at $9, but spot prices on the same are $9.50 to $10; No. 1 is nominal at $11, but there is none of it to do business in.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

The flour market is quiet, business being confined principally to small lots to fill actual local wants. The tone is easier, in sympathy with the decline in American wheat markets. We quote: Winter wheat, $4.45 to $4.50; spring wheat, patents, $4.40 to $4.50; straight roller, $4.25 to $4.35; straight roller, bags, $2.10; extra, $4; extra, bags, $1.90; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.25 to $4.35.

The market for oatmeal is quiet and without any change. We quote: Standard, bbls., $3.90 to $4.00; granulated, bbls., $4.00 to $4.05; rolled oats, bbls., $4.00 to $4.05.

In feed the feeling is very firm, owing to the light offerings and good demand. We quote: Bran, $17; shorts, $19; mouillie, $22 to $23.

PROVISIONS.

There was no change in the situation of the provision market. The demand for pork and lard continues to be limited and values are easy. Smoked meats are well enquired for at steady prices. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $16; Canadian short cut, mess, $17.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 11c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9¼ to 10¼c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 11c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 7¼ to 7½c.

BUTTER.

The butter market is dull and the export prospects do not appear to be as bright as they might be. In fact there is no encouragement from the other side. A shipper cabled to three markets Monday and was answered that his offer was too high. We quote: Finest creamery, 17¼ to 18c.; finest Townships dairy, 14 to 14½c.; finest Western dairy, 13 to 13½c.

CHEESE.

Whether cheese has reached bottom or not is a question that many traders are pondering over just now. The market continues as dull as ever, and there is no sign of any change for the better. All grades except Quebec cheese are nominal. On these a decline of ¼c. was established as 11,000 boxes were marketed on Monday, the ruling price being 7c. against 7¼c. a week ago. We quote: Finest Ontario makes, 7½ to 7¾c.; Townships' makes, 7½c.; other Quebec makes, 7 to 7¼c.

ASHES.

Receipts of ashes are almost nil and prices are nominally unchanged. We quote: First pots, $4.10 to $4.15, and second, $3.80 to $3.85, while pearls are $5.25 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Mr. A. P. Tippet is away this week on a business trip in Ontario.

New crop Japans are offering in this market at 13 to 21c., with some large contracts settled at the figures.

No shipments of new California raisins can be laid down in Montreal much before the middle of September.

No large contracts on Spanish raisins have as yet resulted from the offers noted by THE GROCER last week.

A sugar broker makes the prediction this week that the price of refined in Montreal will advance inside of a fortnight.

The first extensive receipts of pickled and fresh fish came to hand on the Montreal market this week. The quality was fair.

The St. Lawrence sugar refinery have not been working on yellow sugars for eight days. This will shorten stocks for the time being.

Wm. H. Seyler, of the Eby, Blain Co., Toronto, was in Montreal this week, and received a cordial welcome from the wholesale houses here. He was much impressed with the substantial buildings in that city, but the magnificence of the interior of Hudon, Hebert & Co.'s new offices and sample rooms almost took his breath away. When last seen he was figuring how the Eby, Blain Co.'s interior could be improved to beat it. He was accompanied by an old friend of his, Mr. Hussaman, a Canadian who has made his fortune by starting a drug store in Costa Rico.

Gillespie & Co's advices from Denia continue of much the same tenor. Nothing is known yet definitely regarding the basis or quality of the first shipment made to the English market from Spain.

The great bulk of the new Japan crop intended for this market will be laid down here in the course of a fortnight at the latest.

The crop of potatoes on the Island of Montreal is said to be the finest in years. This is a fair indication for the rest of the province.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 15, 1895.

THIS week has not shown much change in business. There is, however, a fair movement in all lines, and collections are reported good. As a rule merchants are well pleased with this season's business as compared with last year. One of our leading merchants said to THE GROCER: "Our sales during the last six months are 23 per cent. ahead of those for the same period last year, and we have done business with a much more favorable market." Except in fish, the markets are rather easier, though canned peas, strawberries, tomatoes, peaches and salmon are very firm. The feeling in Canadian oils and in teas (particularly cheap grades) is upward.

TEA—There has been a large movement of late, owing to the arrivals of the direct importations, one merchant already having received several cars. In values the new teas show strength, and for best grades higher prices are being paid. Cheap teas are inclined to be scarce and are considered good stock.

OIL—The movement is rather better and prices of Canadian are higher. We quote: American, 22¼c.; best Canadian, 21¼c.; prime, 18½c.

SALT—There is just a fair demand from store. Prices show no change. Stocks are fair. Two large cargoes are reported bought to arrive about the last of September. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory filled, 95c. to $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.80 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per doz.; bulk dairy, $2.80 per bbl.; bulk, cheese, $2.70.

CANNED GOODS—The past week has shown little new. The grocers are not buying heavily, the very small profits in the past being much complained of. We saw an order the other day for some 8 cases of peas and tomatoes at 80c. As this is the lowest price the canners have quoted delivered at St. John, the order was not filled. It shows the feeling. Mr. Boulter was in the city during the week. His new labels were much admired. He made quite a sale of pineapples, the merchants being particularly pleased with the quality. In some other goods he found he had been largely forestalled, but still succeeded in making many sales. Peaches and strawberries are quoted by very few. Salmon shows no change. Prices are: Corn, 90c. to $1; peas, 95c. to $1; tomatoes, $1 to $1.05; corned beef, 2-lb. tins, $2.75 to $3; 1-lb. tins, $1.70 to $1.80; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $3; 2's, $2 to $2.10; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; salmon, $1.40 to $1.50; flat, $1.75; clams, $5.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $3 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1; pineapples, $2.75 to $3.

DRIED FRUIT—There is as yet little movement. In some lines a firmer feeling is noted. Prunes have advanced in first hands, and are higher than when first offered last season. California evaporated apricots are advancing, and it looks as if they would be high this season. Peels will, it is understood, cost rather below last season's prices. Merchants are still backward about buying new Valencias. At this time last year they had bought quite largely, while as yet this season no sales are reported. Dried and evaporated apples show a very slow movement. American onions are coming into the market quite freely, and there are no Egyptian. This is just the opposite of the way it was last season. We quote: Sultana raisins, 6 to 7c.; Valencia, 4c.; layers, 5c.; London layers, $2 to $2.25; California loose muscatels, 5 to 5½c.; currants, bbls., 3¼ to 4c.; half-cases, 4 to 4¼c.; evaporated apples, 7½ to 8c.; dried apples, 5½ to 5¾c.; dates, 4 to 4½c.; prunes, 4 to 5c.; figs, 11 to 18c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; do. apricots, 12 to 14c.; do. pears, 12 to 13c.; cleaned currants, bulk, 6½c.; 1 lb. cartons, 7½c.; American onions, $3.50 per bbl.; cocoanuts, $4 per 100.

GREEN FRUIT—Business continues very active. Apples are beginning to come in quite freely, both from our own province and Nova Scotia. Our dealer is getting a car of Woodstock apples this week. There are still a good many American apples, but importation will now be light. California continues to find a large sale. The pears and prunes are particularly fine. Peaches are not so plentiful. Except California, the pears so far received are not extra, but better are soon expected. Large quantities of raspberries and blueberries continue to be shipped to the States. We quote: Peaches, $1.75 to $2; pears, $3 to $3.50; California pears, $3.50; melons, 25 to 35c.; apples, $3.50 to $4 per bbl.; oranges, $4 to $4.50; lemons, $4.50 to $5; bananas, $1 to $2.50; oranges, half-box, $1.75 to $2; California plums, $2; grapes, 50c.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Cheese is again lower, with large stocks in first hands. Those who bought a factory season's output are rather disappointed. One factory sold some as low as 7½c. delivered this week. The prospect is not encouraging. The position would be much better if the factories were situated better for selling. The output should be sold through some central board. In butter the market is looking better, and the best grades are from 1 to 2c. higher. There is a growing demand for creamery prints. There is still considerable poor butter, which is very hard to sell. In eggs the prices have also advanced, and are firm. The demand is good with but fair stocks. We quote: New cheese, 8½ to 9c.; new butter, 16 to 17c.; eggs, 12 to 12½c.; fresh creamery prints, 20 to 22c.

MOLASSES—The steamer from the West Indies brought but 150 packages molasses this trip, and this is about the last arrival of the season. There is very little movement; stocks are quite large and prices show no change. We quote: Barbadoes, 33 to 34c.; St. Croix, 32 to 33c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 36c.; syrup, 35c.; Trinidad, 32 to 33c.; New Orleans, bbls., 34 to 35c.

SUGAR—The local demand is light. Stocks of granulated continue large, while there is a fair call for yellows. These held their prices much better than the granulated, which continues to be sold below refiners' prices. We quote: Granulated, 4 to 4¼c.; yellow, 3½ to 3¾c.; Paris lump, 5 to 5½c.; powdered, 5 to 5½c.

FISH—In dry the market continues firm and prices are quoted higher. Pickled show a light demand, and smoked are very dull. The West India steamer took away quite a quantity this trip. In fresh fish a few shad are being caught. They are very nice and fat. Smoked shad is a great favorite, particularly with our American visitors. A few mackerel are being received from the north shore. We quote: Medium cod, $3.70; large, $3.80; small, $2.75; pollock, $1.40 to $1.50; bay herring, $1.25 to $1.30; Shelburne, No. 1, $4 per bbl.; half-bbl., $2.40 to $2.50; smoked herring, 5 to 6c.; rippling herring, $1.75 per half-bbl.; extra shad, $6 per half-bbl.; good, $5 per half-bbl.; fresh shad, 10c.

PROVISIONS—Pork, which is marked lower, is showing a better demand. Beef is firm and quiet. In smoked meats, hams have a fair sale. At this season they are more satisfactory than rolls. We quote: P. E. Island thin mess, $16; clear pork, $17.50 to $18; mess, $16 to $16.50; prime, $13; plate beef, $14 to $15; pure lard, 10 to 10½c.; compound lard, 8 to 9c.; cottolene, 9¼ to 9¾c.; hams, 11 to 12c.; rolls, 9 to 9½c.; beef, half-barrels, $7.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—In flour the market is still rather weak and prices are rather lower than last week. Oatmeal shows but a fair sale at quotations. Cornmeal shows a good demand and some Canadian is noticed in our market. Oats are dull and sales of P. E. Island delivered in car lots are hard to effect. Hay shows good values. Some few cars were shipped by the last steamer to the West Indies. The demand from American markets is still good. The crop through this province will be fair. We quote: Manitoba, $4.80 to $4.85; best Ontario, $4.70 to $4.75; medium, $4.50 to $4.60; oatmeal, $4.40 to $4.45; cornmeal, $2.85 to $2.90; middlings, which continue very hard to get, $25 on track; bran, $22.50 to $23; hand-picked beans, $1.85 to $1.90; prime, $1.75 to $1.80; split peas, $3.70; pot barley, $4.10 to $4.25; hay, $10 to $12; P. E. I. oats, 42c.

A. P. Tippet & Co. received a large shipment of cream of tartar by the last English steamer for the trade here.

By the ss. Cumberland for Boston one day this week 922 packages berries and 200 bbls. of mackerel were exported.

Canadian lobsters are having a good demand in London, some 4,000 cases lately landed there bringing good price.

Among the imports by the last West India boat were 600 bags of cocoanuts (200 being for this city), consigned to Theo. Estabrooks.

Twenty-two Chinese arrived in bond by the Taymouth Castle, en route to China, two young men among them on a holiday having some $6,000 to their credit.

One of the principal topics of interest is the financial trouble of Messrs. W. Hamilton, Hegan & Co., agents. The trouble was not unexpected, but the general feeling is that it should not have been.

The following were elected by the St. John Board of Trade to attend the conference held at Halifax: President W. F. Hatheway, W. S. Fisher, Geo. Robertson, W. M. Jarvis and Ira Cornwall, secretary.

Customs report for July, 1895, as compared with 1894, is: Duty collected, $60,000 to $50,000; dutiable goods imported, $175,000 to $146,000; free, $94,000 to $61,000. This shows quite an increase. Oil and molasses are two of the largest factors. Exports, $376,000.

PROMPT PEOPLE.

Don't live a single hour of your life without doing exactly what is to be done in it, and going straight through it from beginning to end, remarks Merchant Sentinel. Work, play, study—whatever it is, take hold at once, and finish it up squarely; then to the next thing, without letting any moments drop between. It is wonderful to see how many hours these prompt people contrive to make of a day; it is as if they picked up the moments which the dawdlers lost. And if ever you find yourself where you have so many things pressing upon you that you hardly know how to begin, let me tell you a secret: Take hold of the very first one that comes to hand, and you will find the rest all fall into file, and follow after, like a company of well-drilled soldiers, and though work may be hard to meet when it charges in a squad, it is easily vanquished if you can bring it into line. You may have often seen the anecdote of the man who asked how he had accomplished so much in his life. "My father taught me," was the reply, "when I had anything to do, go and do it." There is the secret—the magic word now!

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

HALIFAX, Aug. 15, 1895.

BUSINESS in the city and throughout the province remains quiet, but there are no loud complaints, dealers being accustomed to dull times at this season.

FLOUR—There is very little change in flour. Old wheat flours seem to be steady at current quotations, while new wheat flour is quoted as low as $3.90. Quotations are: Hungarian patents, Manitoban, $4.75 to $5; Manitoba strong bakers, $4.60 to $4.75; Canadian pastry, $4.70 to $4.85; 75 p. c. roller patents, $4.40 to $4.50; 80 p. c. ditto, $4.30 to $4.40; 90 p. c. ditto, $4.25 to $4.30; straight, $4.15 to $4.20; extra, $3.90 to $4.10.

OATMEAL—Both oatmeal and rolled oats are quiet and are jobbing at $4.15.

OATS—The oat market is easier. New oats are being offered.

CORN AND CORNMEAL—Both corn and cornmeal are easier, with little demand.

GREEN FRUIT—The green fruit market has been well cleaned up this week. Some business was done in American apples and bananas, but California fruits of all kinds have been scarce. Native apples are now on the market. They promise to be smaller than in former years, but fully as abundant. The market is now well supplied with California and other fruits. Native blueberries are in abundance.

DRIED FRUITS—There is some small enquiry for Valencias, off-stalk, which are selling at about $1 per box. Currants are in light demand at 3½c. for half-cases. Dried apples are worth 5½c. in barrels.

PROVISIONS—The provision market remains unchanged, with stocks equal to demand.

EGGS—There is nothing doing in eggs this week on account of the hot weather. The quotation remains about 10½c.

CHEESE—Sales of provincial cheese have been made at 10c. and Ontario at 9c.

BUTTER—The demand for provincial creamery is still upward and it is selling at 18c. in 25 and 50 lb. tubs. There is a small improvement noticeable.

MOLASSES—The market remains unchanged. A cargo of St. Kitts has arrived.

SUGAR—The sugar market remains practically the same as last week. The refinery reports a little better enquiry, but nothing to speak of.

CHARLOTTETOWN NOTES.

The Guardian says: Water street, Queen street and various other streets presented a very business-like appearance Friday. Load after load of cheese was hauled in from surrounding sections of the country and shipped aboard the Campana for Montreal. Pownal wharf presented a busy scene. The wharf was crowded its entire length with teams. About 4,000 boxes of cheese will be taken away by the Campana this trip.

A MISINTERPRETED ORDER.

A story, according to an exchange, is told of a Cincinnati wholesale grocery porter who got fooled on an order in the daybook of the entry clerk. Some one wanted two dozen goblets. His order was for provisions, groceries, crockery and glassware. The entry clerk, when he came to the goblets, wrote it up "two doz. gobs." The porter fills a dual capacity in the store, also acting as purchasing agent. He glanced over the morning's orders, and started out on his buying expedition. He was gone so long that everybody was wondering as to his whereabouts. He finally turned up, bringing with him two dozen live turkeys. Going up to the entry clerk, Henry—for that is the porter's name—said: "There, just look at dem. Dere fine ones, ain't it?" "What in the dickens are you going to do with all them turks?" the entry clerk asked in amazement. "Vy dose are the best I could find on dat order." "What order?" "Vy dis von dat calls for two dozen goblers."

MARITIME BOARD OF TRADE.

THE Board of Trade convention for Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, projected some time ago, came together at Halifax on Aug. 13. W. A. Black, M.P.P., presided. Lieut.-Governor Daly and W. F. Hathaway, president of the St. John Board of Trade, occupied seats on the platform, and among those present were: G. Wetmore, Merritt; Mayor George Robertson, H. Drury, St. John; Hon. D. Laird, Charlottetown; W. S. Loggie, Chatham, N. B.; E. W. Beckwith, Canning; J. W. Bigelow, Wolfville; Frank H. Eaton, Kentville; Melville G. DeWolfe, Kentville; Hon. L. E. Baker, Yarmouth; E. C. Hanrahan, Sydney; Jas. R. Rudolph, Lunenburg; W. N. Zwicker, Lunenburg; J. D. Eisenhauer, Lunenburg; Allan Tupper, Queen's County; James Eastwood, New Glasgow; Dr. D. H. Muir, Truro; G. A. Hall, Truro; Senator Power, Hon. W. S. Fielding, M.P.P., Thos. L. Kenny, M.P., Hon. Wm. Ross, F. G. Forbes, M.P.

The Lieut. Governor and Premier Fielding addressed the convention with words of welcome. Hon. D. Laird, Mayor Robertson, and G. J. Troop drew up the following skeleton of a constitution for a proposed Maritime Board of Trade:

This body shall be known as the Board of Trade of the Maritime Provinces. It shall be composed of delegates selected from the various Boards of Trade throughout the Maritime Provinces. It shall deal with all matters affecting the interests of trade and commerce of the Maritime Provinces, as well as of the whole Dominion. The officers shall be the president and two vice-presidents, each representing one of the Maritime Provinces; the secretary-treasurer, to be elected at the annual meeting of the Board. There shall be a Council, composed of one member from each Board of Trade affiliated, who are to be elected by their respective Boards immediately after the Council meeting of the Maritime Board. The president, vice-presidents, and secretary-treasurer shall be ex-officio members.

This was adopted and the following officers were elected:

President, Mayor Robertson, St. John; first vice-president, Geo. E. Troop, Halifax; second vice-president, P. Blake, Charlottetown; secretary-treasurer, Ira Cornwall, St. John.

Among the resolutions adopted at the first day's session was one calling upon the Dominion to provide means for improving the telegraphic service between Prince Edward Island and the mainland, and another requesting the Dominion Government to urge upon the Imperial Government the importance of furthering the extension of the Bermuda cable to Jamaica.

THE SMALL STORE AND WINDOW DRESSING.

A GOOD beginning for every retailer who wishes to improve the appearance of his store, says an exchange, is to make a plan of the exterior and consult some good carpenter and builder to see whether it can be improved upon. It sometimes happens that a modest expenditure will greatly enhance the appearance of the front.

For instance, many stores have their entrance in the centre, leaving only a small show window on each side. It is important to have a fair-sized entrance, but by placing the entrance at the side a much larger window space is obtained, with far greater opportunities for display and an improvement in the appearance of the store.

This is a point that will appeal to many retailers who are laboring under the disadvantage of having poor space in which to make a display. Another feature worthy of thought is the size and general appearance of the window.

In the large city stores, where the value of a square foot of floor space is greater than in smaller towns, the windows are deemed of enough importance to take up much of this valuable room. It therefore appears that the smaller retailer could afford to add a few feet to the depth of his window, if such an addition could be turned to good use and it surely can.

The window should be made to serve its purpose as well as can be done within a reasonable limit of expenditure before any ambitious attempts are made at decoration. Perhaps a new dress for the store front in the shape of a few coats of paint would also be advisable.

After the exterior of the windows and their size, location, etc., have been fixed, the inside of the window should have attention. The back should be arranged so as to throw as much light as possible from above, and the lower section neatly panelled with some dark-finished wood.

A door large enough to allow easy and rapid placing and removal of goods should occupy one corner. The whole of the rear should be compactly built and ornamental from both the interior and exterior of the store.

A good substantial floor covering should be used, linoleum or oilcloth serving the purpose as well as a more expensive material.

The lighting arrangement also needs careful attention. As the incandescent system is now in almost universal use, it would not be out of place to mention it here, and if rightly used it is the most effective window light that can be obtained.

The globes should be of ground or clouded glass, so as to throw a soft light which will bring out strongly every feature of the goods without detracting from their beauty.

An arrangement now in use in many prominent stores with these lights, and one to be highly commended, is to fasten them about one foot apart around the inside of the window frame. A deflector made of tin painted to match the frame almost entirely conceals the lights from the passer by. Of course, the number of lights used can be increased or decreased, as desired. The same arrangement can be followed for the back of the window.

Displays when shown under lights arranged in this order appear to their best advantage, and more than any other time attract admirers.

A few loose wires and lamps for placing in independent positions wherever needed are very valuable assistants in evolving unique light effects.

The proper construction and fitting up of windows having now received some attention, a few suggestions on the question of display are in order.

When the window trimming is left to salespeople it should be done by such of them as are willing to spend some time in building up a display and who take an interest in the work.

By carefully questioning employees, one or two can generally be found who are better adapted to this work than others.

A clerk who wishes to attempt some ambitious design or trim should be encouraged, and if his ideas are good tell him to go ahead. If he has good taste in color arrangement, forms of display, etc., the chances are that practice will make a very creditable window dresser out of him.

A common fault noticeable in the display of smaller stores is the conglomeration of goods used, scarcely two pieces being alike.

The strength of a display does not rest in the great variety of goods shown. As a matter of fact, this method generally makes the weakest kind of a show.

The argument that the stock is not large enough to allow solid windows of one or two lines is not as strong as it seems. Suppose two subjects are used. By draping an effective background and showing a few things in front in a simple natural manner, a much more creditable display can be made than by using a window full of stuff shown promiscuously without regard to form or arrangement.

A few small brass rods and chains suspended from handy hooks in the ceiling will be a great help for showing small wares. Study harmony in colors. Simple natural effects are often much more potent in drawing attention than those exaggerated affairs that have no selling value whatever.

The best window dressers in the country now count among their most successful displays those which savor least of peculiarity of arrangement or design. Hence the designs and suggestions given on this page are oftentimes just as applicable to the smaller store as to the larger one.

Another suggestion is in order here. The window showcards and price tickets used in the smaller stores can be vastly improved upon, and the continual crusade we have made and will continue to make on this subject applies with particular force here.

The salmon run on the Fraser River, B. C., on Aug. 11, was the heaviest on record. More fish were taken from the river than ever before in the same period. A conservative estimate places the total catch at 750,000 fish, an average of 350 each for 2,000 boats. This represents 70,000 cases of sanned salmon. The estimated pack so far is 270,000 cases.

THE USES OF TIME.

TIME is that part of our estate which seems of all others a fixed quantity, says an exchange. We can have all the time there is, but no more. But the example set by some hard workers seems to prove that nothing we command can be in effect so increased.

It is an axiom that the more we accomplish the more we can accomplish, though it appears like a paradox. The mind that has been so trained can give its undivided power for the time being to whatever it has on hand, can do thorough work and then pass on to the next subject. It loses no time by indecision and wavering spirit, wondering what it had best take up next. Of all the time-wasters, this is one of the worst. One has aptly put it that "a busy man's recreation is more productive than an idle man's work." An ever ready mind will acquire more knowledge by half an hour's reading in a library on just the subjects upon which he wishes information, than an idler will in a day's research. An industrious man seems to strike knowledge on the jump, and he can fill his time so full of useful doings that it resembles an assortment of cutlery from an expert packer. There is no haphazard work in the days of such toilers. There is a steadiness of purpose, of mind, and of hand, that can take up new or unexpected tasks without losing time in fussing and fuming, and then carry them through to success. Such workers are generally very quiet about it. You hear less of their doings from themselves than from anyone else. Their work speaks with a more subtle tongue. They do not find fault with or quarrel with their tools and always "rejoice in their labors." Happy workers are by long odds the most successful ones.

It is good to learn in youth the art of making the most of time, for 'tis truly said that "Time is money."

BUYING JAVA SUGAR.

Willett & Gray's Statistical says: From Java comes the news by cable, as stated by us last week, that the United States buyers are heavily in that market, buying the next crop sugars, while China is also a large competitor at the same basis as America is paying, and sellers are growing scarce. The Philippines also are receiving the benefit of this early demand. The Continental markets will feel the American demand more largely next year, in the absence of our regular supplies of half our consumption from Cuba. From Cuba—The last crop holds out remarkably in receipts. Evidently, planters have not much faith in making next year's crop, and want to get all the cane ground this summer that they can.

KEEPING RUN OF STOCK.

Now that the name of the proprietary brand is almost literally Legion, it would seem that a stock list or catalogue, for the convenience of the dealer and his assistants, had become a necessity in the larger stores, says The Merchants' Review. New goods or brands are constantly making an appearance and demanding a trial at the hands of the grocer. If he refuses to put them in stock, he may miss a chance to steal a march on a rival dealer by being the first store-keeper in the neighborhood to handle a novelty that afterwards turns out to possess all the elements of popularity of the genuine trade-winner. If he puts them on his shelves, how can he be positive that some of them may not lie there forgotten for a long time, or until the annual inventory causes a routing out of odd lots of goods from dark corners and the backs of high shelves?

MR. PATERSON OF BRANT.

"Many people think that Sir Richard Cartwright would be Minister of Finance if the Liberals win in the next election," said a Quebec member of Parliament who had dropped into THE GROCER office in Montreal a few days ago, "but this is a mistaken idea. The man we will put there is Wm. Paterson, of Brant. I admit that Sir Richard is clever, but in the inner circles we now recognise that Mr. Paterson is quite as able a man. He has a practical and successful business experience, and can deal intelligently with all questions of trade and commerce. But, what is of more importance, he has tact. If he cannot agree with the views of those who may approach him as Minister of Finance, he will be able to convince them that, much as he would like to meet them, he regrets that the public interests prevent his doing so; and he will part with them on better terms than ever. That is the man we want."

SELLING AS AN ART.

IT IS not everyone who can make a good salesperson, says The Commercial Enquirer.

It requires a certain knack which is innate, and cannot be acquired. First of all, one must like the vocation, if he intends following it. Without this you will lose a great deal of time valuable both to yourself and your employer. Some take positions in shops through inclination, others through force of circumstances. But when one enjoys a position back of a counter he can always make a success of it.

Patience, perseverance and ambition must be the watchwords of every salesperson. These are indispensable qualifications.

Patience to an unlimited extent is absolutely necessary, for without patience no clerk will make a successful salesman.

Perseverance is another attribute much needed in the "make-up" of a good salesman. But this is often overdone by clerks making the error of supposing that a constant dinging at a customer effects the sale.

As to ambition, I would not give much for the future of any young man who would be satisfied always with the position he holds, however good it be.

He neither benefits himself nor his employers. This is the greatest mistake a salesman makes. The moment he feels he has attained his aspirations that moment he has exhausted his usefulness to his house.

He should strive to gather the knowledge and workings of all stocks, though he be confined to one department. He should strive, first of all, to work through the different grades until he is at the head of his special line. He should learn to obey, not because he must, but because he ought to. One who cannot obey cannot command. He will be unfit even to assume the charge of his stock should opportunities ever give him the chance. He must act, in carrying out his instructions, with the expectation that some day he will have a place of business of his own, and must learn to run it successfully.

He should always dress neatly and genteelly, never in an eccentric or fastidious manner. He should be agreeable, without being intimate; pleasant, without being offensive. He should at all times be in readiness to wait on customers, and approach them with a pleasant address, remembering that the first impression is the one that tells. On receiving a reply from a customer he should show his goods in an unostentatious manner, trying to sell without importuning.

Shoppers nowadays are intelligent. They know well the value of merchandise, and, therefore, it does more harm than good to enlarge too much on what you are selling. A pleasing explanation of the fashion, a general suggestion, and then the salesman should allow the customer an opportunity of exercising unbiased judgment. Sales are often ruined by overmuch talk.

Be honest in your suggestions; never overdo anything; show your wares to the best advantage; make your stocks look presentable, and you will be a success. Many clerks make mistakes by being forced into submission. It is far better to do what is expected of you in a graceful manner than to be coerced.

Promptness is another factor in the "make-up" of a good salesperson. That employe who lags a few moments in the morning or noon-time will lag all through life.

Discretion in waiting on a customer is another rare quality. To a neat person show neat patterns. To one who is a little more lavish in style of dress, show goods according to such tastes. Never try to convince a customer that your way of thinking is right. You can advance your ideas, but if you find that they conflict with your patron's views, arguments are very harmful.

Be truthful under all circumstances; never misrepresent. Even though you should make a sale through misrepresentation, you have surely lost a customer, and your house loses that patronage. The truth in business is a mighty power, and paramount to all other qualifications.

Always be doing something. In a large store, as well as a small one, there is always something that should be improved. Idleness leads to mischief. Silly conversation back of counters has been the starting point of the downfall of many young people who might have made a success of their vocation. In the first place, by your frivolous conversation you lose the respect of even those who listen to your prattle, and besides that you do yourself the greatest injustice. If you do not begin by gaining the respect of those around you, you need never expect it from your superiors. There is no position in an establishment that you cannot gain, if by your merit and ability you are qualified to fill it.

Bear in mind that seven-eighths of the employers of to-day started in life at the bottom of the ladder, and only attained what they now have through harder work than is needed by you. Be ever mindful of your employer's interests. If you are faithful in your duties to your employer reward will surely follow. Sometimes it may be slow in coming, but it will certainly come.

It will always be necessary for some one to be given complete charge of the large establishments which exist to-day and will exist in the future. Why not you? It is worth trying for, and if you combine the requisites mentioned, your chances are as good as the best.

HONEST ADS.

If it were necessary to be dishonest in business in order to succeed, then there would be no premium on honesty, as there is everywhere to-day, says an exchange. If the dealers only knew how rapidly their people absorb every influence that tends to pull down, rather than elevate, the standard of commercial integrity, they would slow up on such methods from policy, if not for conscience's sake. There are, fortunately, conspicuous examples of phenomenally successful houses who will not allow an advertisement of any sort, be it newspaper or placard, that contains any untrue statements. Such firms say there is no need to deal in any misrepresentations, as sufficient enthusiasm can be aroused with the truth in their advertisements.

Ceylon is the coming tea. Consumption in Canada increased 600 per cent. since 1890.

It has already taken the place of China teas in Great Britain. Study this diagram; thirty years ago they drank 95 per cent. China, to-day less than 10 per cent.

The man who gets in on the ground floor makes money these days. He gets the start of everyone. When competition comes his reputation and trade are firmly established. We want the friends of THE GROCER to get in at the start in this Ceylon tea deal. Be sure that it is a pure Ceylon you get.

WINNIPEG CATERERS' PICNIC.

HAT successful social functions are not confined to the "effete" east, has been proven once and for all by the eclat which characterized an outing recently held under the auspices of the Caterers of Winnipeg. The young and strong-limbed West puts a great deal of force into what it undertakes, even if the undertaking be a pleasure trip; so, when the grocers, butchers, fruiterers, millers, and bakers of the Prairie City, all comprised under the term "Caterers," arranged for an excursion to Morden, it was practically an assured fact that on the day fixed upon the road leading from Fort Garry to this town would be black with pilgrims to the shrine of pleasure.

So on the morning of Thursday, Aug. 8, though the sky was obscured by threatening clouds, the Caterers and their friends early began to flock to the railway station where they were to embark; and when the atmosphere cleared, and Helios, in his chariot of fire, continued his journey through the blue heavens in full sight of earth, upwards of 2,000 pleasure seekers had gathered.

So great was the company assembled that two long passenger trains had to be pressed into service. The two, which left the depot within an hour of each other, carried respectively 1,200 and 1,000 excursionists. The journey to Morden was delightful, and calculated to inspire Manitobans with confidence in their fair country. As the City of the Plains was left in the rear, the trains entered great fields of wheat, golden-hued and ready for the harvester, and thereafter until their destination was reached the picnickers were treated to as fine a panorama of a richly productive agricultural district as could well be imagined.

Arrived at Morden, the crowd of excursionists were taken in hand by representative caterers, distinguishable from the motley mass by the shiny silk hats and immaculate long white dusters which they wore. Then the fun began, and to the strains of music furnished by four bands, stationed at different points, it continued all the day. The mayor and chief citizens of Morden did themselves proud in assisting to entertain the visitors, and in fact everything contributed to the enjoyability of the day. Lunch was first partaken of, some replenishing the inner man as they sat or lay in cool spots in the town park, and others resorting to the grounds of Mayor Hansen, where the Ladies' Hospital Aid Society furnished refreshments, the proceeds going to increase the Morden Hospital fund.

After luncheon a series of athletic sports was indulged in to the amusement of both players and spectators. A cricket match between picked teams representing Winnipeg and Morden respectively resulted in a victory for the former by an innings and 14 runs.

A shooting tournament was successfully carried out.

In the team shoot those entered were: Fort Garry, Winnipeg, Armstrong's Point, and three teams from the Morden club. The Fort Garry men were the winners of this event, leading the Winnipeggers by six points.

The open handicap shoot at 25 birds proved a very interesting event. The feature was the splendid shooting of W. M. Ferguson, of the Winnipeg club, who captured the first prize, making 23 out of a possible 25. A. D. Campbell, of the Armstrong's Point club, was next with 22, and F. W. Scott, Fort Garry, third with, s, 21. Next highest in order were: Geo. Andrew, s., 20; W. Dodd, s., 20; R. J. Whitla, s., 19; C. W. Graham, 19; G. Toms, 18; J. G. Soper, s., 17; J. Trotter, 17; J. H. Dunsford, 17; J. McLeod Holliday, 17; W. Jackson, 16; F. G. Simpson, s., 15; H. G. Spurgeon, 15; Dr. Dalgleish, 15; D. J. Dyson, 14; Geo. Cochrane, 14; J. H. Rose, s., 14; C. D. T. Becher, 14; J. F. Thompson, 13; M. E. Wilson, 13; P. A. McGregor, 13; C. N. Andrew, 13.

The lacrosse matches, races, etc., were held on the grounds of the Exhibition Association, where a large audience assembled.

The children's races resulted as follows:

Boys, 8 to 10 years—1, Fred. Marples; 2, M. Turnbull; 3, J. Leichter; 4, D. Ritchie.

Boys, 10 to 12—1, Bert. Henderson; 2, John Duncan; 3, A. Cameron; 4, Isaac Finn.

Girls, 8 to 10—1, A. Bray; 2, E. Tapley; 3, L. Marcy; 4, A. Holman.

Girls, 10 to 12—1, Lottie McArthur; 2, Eva Turnbull; 3, Ettie Ritchie; 4, Theresa Stoddard.

In the bicycle race W. Krouse, Morden, took first; W. Anderson, Winnipeg, second, and J. Pace, Winnipeg, third.

The lacrosse matches were keenly contested throughout and formed one of the features of the day. The first event was the junior match between the Victorias, of Winnipeg, and the second twelve of the Morden club. After a hard fight this was won by the Victorias by a score of three games to one.

The teams competing in the senior series were the Winnipeggers and Capitals and the Morden team. The bout between Winnipeg and the Capitals was won by the Winnipeggers, who afterwards also defeated the Morden team. In the evening the picnickers returned home highly satisfied with the day's outing.

BANKRUPT STOCKS.

Every hard-working, honest grocer, says The Grocer and General Merchant, is struggling under the weight put upon him by cutters and slashers of prices who fail in business and whose stock is then sold at auction by the assignee. These stocks are always sold away below value. These sales demoralize prices in the locality, and the result is a tremendous loss of trade to the legitimate and square grocer. No matter how much a man may owe his grocer, nor how much he complains of hard times and inability to pay, he will always manage to scrape together enough cash to attend one of these sales and buy goods below what they cost his grocer to put them in stock.

The jobbers can stop this demoralization of prices easily if they will do so. The interests of the jobber and retailer are commutual and interdependent, and it ought not to be a hard matter for a committee from the Retailers' Association and one from the Jobbers' Association to get together on this question. A bureau of the Jobbers' Association for the purchase of all these bankrupt stocks and the maintenance of prices could readily be organized and it would prove to be a money saver to jobbers as well as retailers.

A NEW COFFEE.

It looks very much as though "Bourbon Santos" will have to be added to the nomenclature of the coffee market. It represents a growth from Mocha seed planted in the Sao Paul district of Brazil, and the young trees are this year bearing in sufficiently prolific manner to ensure a pretty large supply. The shape, size and color of the beans shown in samples thus far received here are very attractive, and strongly reflect the characteristics of the purest seed, and we understand that in the roast and in the cup the return is of equally excellent nature. With such high qualifications this practically new grade of coffee should have a more euphonious title than the trade has selected for it.

BRAZILIAN COFFEE CROP.

The Rio News, by last mail, has the following coffee notes: The accounts of the quality of the new crop continue to be very favorable, and before it has commenced to come in we have already increased estimates of the outturn, based upon the weight of the beans, which are considerably heavier than those of the preceding crops. . . . The exportation of coffee from Santos during the year ending the 30th ult. is given by one of our exchanges as 3,904,078 bags. . . . The damage caused by frost to young coffee trees in the municipal districts of S. Simao, Ribeirao Preto, Batataes, and Jaboticabal is said to be enormous and will, it is thought, diminish considerably the crop for next year, which was expected to be large.

NEW INDUSTRY FOR WINNIPEG.

Winnipeg is to have a new industry. According to The Manitoba Free Press, a firm by the name of Ricker & Nichol have undertaken to manufacture starch from Manitoba wheat. A factory in Fort Rouge has been secured, and operations have been commenced. It will be necessary owing to the conditions of climate peculiar to Manitoba, to somewhat amend the system of manufacture universally in vogue in the east. The method adopted here is to grind the wheat in a wet state, but the coldness of the winters in Manitoba practically renders this plan impossible, and the wheat will be ground dry on the old mill-stone plan. Another difficulty which has confronted the promoters of this industry has arisen from the fact that Manitoba hard wheat contains a larger proportion of glutinous matter than eastern wheat, and though this property renders it more valuable as food stuff, it does not enhance its value as starch material. After the grain has been ground, the next process is to steep it in water and remove the excess of glutinous matter, after which the starch-milk is enclosed in a "precipitator" and turned about for ten minutes, somewhat in the manner of a churn, at a speed of 700 revolutions a minute. The starch is practically made during this operation, though, of course, a very great deal depends upon the subsequent washings and other processes, some of which are naturally kept secret by the manufacturers.

WISE BUSINESS MAXIMS.

The following maxims are given by a periodical issued by a manufacturing firm in the United States:

Thou shalt sell goods but six days of the week, and on the seventh thou shalt take a rest.

Thou shalt not covet thy competitor's business, for he may be nearer bankruptcy than thyself.

Thou shalt not put more sail into thy business than thou hast wind to fill.

Thou shalt not blame thy clerk for thine own mistakes nor tax him for thine own neglect.

Thou shalt not sell goods for less than cost, unless the market has gone back on you.

Thou shalt not trust a man to whom thou would'st not lend ten dollars.

Thou shalt not use thy business capital to speculate with nor borrow from thy friends for that purpose.

A MARITIME BOARD OF TRADE.

THE convention of the Maritime Boards of Trade, held in Halifax last week, has resulted in the formation of a Maritime Board of Trade, embracing the various Boards in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and P. E. Island. The convention opened on Tuesday morning in the City Hall. In the absence of President Dwyer, of the Halifax Board, W. A. Black, M.P.P., vice-president, presided, and A. M. Payne, of the firm of John Silver & Co., acted as secretary.

The following delegates were present: Hon. David Laird, Charlottetown; G. Wetmore Merritt, W. Frank Hatheway, George Robertson, H. A. Drury, St. John; W. S. Loggie, Chatham, N.B.; E. W. Beckwith, Canning; J. W. Bigelow, Wolfville; F. H. Eaton, Kentville; Hon. L. E. Baker, Yarmouth; E. C. Hanrahan, Sydney; James R. Rudolf, W. N. Zwicker, J. D. Eisenhaur, Lunenburg; Allan Tupper, Queen's County; James Eastwood, acting mayor of New Glasgow; Dr. D. H. Muir, G. A. Hall, Truro.

The members of the Halifax Board present were: Arthur Curren, Senator Power, M. F. Eagar, J. A. Chipman, John McInnis, Thos. Jenkins, Lieut.-Col. Clerke, Premier Fielding, Geo. E. Troop, John Starr, R. Pickford, Lieut.-Gov. Daly, James Morrow, Thos. Forham, A. Stephen, F. G. Forbes, M. P., Guy Hart, J. E. DeWolfe, Jonathan Parsons, Hon. William Ross, M. T. Foster, W. Chisholm, Thos. Allen, Geo. Mitchell, T. E. Kenny, M.P., E. G. Kenny, C. H. Harvey, J. Parsons, J. E. Butler, Howard Bligh.

Letters and telegrams expressing regrets at not being able to be present were read from the following: M. F. Plant Stapleton Caldecott, president of the Toronto Board of Trade; George Hadrill, secretary Montreal Board; Julius T. Gardiner, president Woodstock Board; F. C. S. Ketchum, secretary Woodstock Board; C. N. Vroom, secretary St. Stephen Board; C. E. Bentley, president Truro Board; J. E. Burchill, president Sydney Board; John M. Lyons, Moncton; Hon. Montgomery Moore and Major Waldron.

Lieut.-Governor Daly, Premier Fielding and the chairman welcomed the delegates. An address of welcome from the Halifax Board was read by the secretary. At the first session an organization committee and a committee to draft a list of subjects for discussion were appointed, and short speeches made on various subjects by different delegates.

On Tuesday afternoon the Maritime Board was duly organized by the following officers: President—Mayor Robertson, St. John. First Vice-President—Geo. J. Troop, Halifax. Second Vice-President—P. Blake, Charlottetown. Secretary-Treasurer—Ira Cornwall, St. John.

The Committee on Organization submitted the following resolution, which was adopted:

1. This body shall be known as the Board of Trade of the Maritime Provinces.
2. It shall be composed of delegates selected from the various Boards of Trade throughout the Maritime Provinces.
3. It shall deal with all matters affecting the interests of trade and commerce of the Maritime Provinces, as well as of the whole Dominion.
4. The officers shall be a president and two vice-presidents, each representing one of the Maritime Provinces, and a secretary-treasurer, to be elected at the annual meeting of the Board.
5. There shall be a council comprising one member from each Board affiliated with the body, who are to be elected by their respective Boards immediately after the council meeting of the Maritime Boards, five members of which shall form a quorum. The president, vice-presidents and secretary-treasurer shall be ex-officio members.
6. The annual meeting of the Board shall be held on the third Wednesday of August, at such place as may be selected.

It was decided to levy a tax of 10 cents on each member of the different Boards.

The Committee on Subjects for Discussion handed in the following, which was adopted:

1. Extending Boards of Trade throughout the Maritime Provinces, and affiliation of associations respecting the different industries in the Maritime Provinces with the Board.
2. Transportation, cold storage, imports, exports, mail subsidies, freight rates.
3. Fast Atlantic service, exportation of the products of Canada through Canadian only, not U.S., ports.
4. Telegraphic communication between P.E. Island and cable communication with the West Indies.
5. Tariff question. The duty on corn meal. Should it be reduced?
6. Modes of assessment and taxation.
7. Inspection of fish and fish oil. Should it be compulsory?
8. Immigration into the Maritime Provinces.
9. Reduction of fire insurance rates.
10. Maritime agricultural and horticultural college.

In reference to the first clause, the Board deemed it advisable to instruct the secretary to correspond with the different localities, with the object of forming Boards throughout the provinces.

A general discussion followed on the other clauses, which occupied Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning's sessions.

The following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that the Maritime Board memorialize the Dominion Government to endeavor by granting an additional subsidy or otherwise to effect an arrangement with the telegraph company which owns the cable between P. E. Island and the mainland and connecting lines on the island and mainland to secure such rates for messages and such open hours of business as will place the island on an equal footing with the rest of Canada.

Resolved, that the Maritime Board of Trade memorialize the Dominion Government to co-operate with the Imperial Government with the object of having the Bermuda cable extended to Jamaica, British Guiana and other islands of the West Indies.

Resolved, that the rapidly developing importance of the fruit and dairying industries in the Maritime Provinces demands improved facilities for the transportation of the products of these industries, both by railway and steamboat, especially in the direction of cold storage, and this Board hereby decide to give any scheme calculated to secure such ends its hearty support.

Whereas, the business communities of North Sydney and Glace Bay are much inconvenienced by the existing freight train service on the Cape Breton section of the I. C. R., and the interest of the towns named would be materially assisted and advanced by having between Sydney and Point Tupper a daily freight train with accommodation for the traveling public,

Resolved, that this Maritime Board of Trade heartily sympathizes with the efforts of the Cape Breton Boards of Trade to obtain this improved service, indorses the same, and would strongly recommend the Department of Railways to give the matter their careful consideration.

Whereas, for years past, after navigation of the St. Lawrence has closed, through Canadian freight, carried on steamers subsidized by our Canadian Government, after mails have been landed at through port, have been landed and shipped at a foreign port, to the detriment of the Maritime Provinces; therefore,

Resolved, this Maritime Board of Trade memorialize the Dominion Government, urging, in future, subsidies only be granted to steamers sailing between port or ports in the United Kingdom and port or ports in Canada only; also,

Resolved, all affiliated Boards of Trade be requested to urge upon their representatives at Ottawa that they unite with other Maritime Province members in seeking to secure such subsidies as will result in the through passage of the mail and freight business being done through Canadian ports.

The following resolution was left over for next meeting:

Whereas the present law on the Statutes relative to the inspection of fish and fish oils is optional, and whereas serious complaints are continually received from abroad, owing to short weights, inferior packages, and the standard of cull below the requirements of the Act;

Therefore resolved, that the Board urge upon the Dominion Government to make the present Act compulsory.

The question of cold storage for the provinces was one of the most important subjects under discussion, Major Clarke, an English gentleman, who has been in this country some months, and who, it is understood, is promoting a company to operate cold storage, addressed the Board, and advocated establishing cold storage at St. John, Halifax, and Charlottetown. He felt sure the Atlantic steamship owners would follow. W. S. Loggie, an extensive fresh fish exporter of Chatham, N.B., gave as his opinion that a proper system of cold storage would open up a market for our salmon in England. The winter port question was also discussed at length.

Wednesday afternoon the Halifax Board entertained the delegates and others to an excursion on the harbor and lunch at Lawlor's Island. Sir James Grant, of Ottawa, was among the guests.

The new Board starts under very favorable auspices and will no doubt be productive of much good to the mercantile community of the Maritime Provinces.

The idea originated at a meeting held in St. John about a year ago and has been carried to a successful consummation through the endeavors of ex-President Troop, of the Halifax Board, and the indefatigable secretary, C. M. Creed.

The next meeting will likely be held in St. John.

TAUNTON.

A MILLING COMBINE.

A large deal is on the boards contemplating the consolidation of the largest milling industries of Western Ontario. The deal has not as yet been fully consummated, but it has reached an advanced stage.

The mills interested are the Kent mills, Chatham, owned by N. H. Stevens; the St. Thomas mills, owned by John Campbell; the Aylmer mills, owned by Mr. Stevens; and the Blenheim mills, owned by Messrs. Campbell & Rutherford. The aggregate capacity of the four institutions is about 2,000 barrels per day.

The property interested is worth $225,000, and the capital stock of the new company will be $500,000. The headquarters will be at St. Thomas.

WITH THE RETAILERS.

ON THE 2nd September Mr. J. H. E. Jones will open a general store in Clandeboyne. Mr. Jones goes into business with considerable experience, having spent the past ten years with his father, Mr. R. A. Jones, of London. Mr. Jones is a believer in the cash system and in THE CANADIAN GROCER.

John Dobie, of Chesley, recently sold out to Mrs. T. Ramage.

W. M. Robson, the West-end Store, Lindsay, has added a branch of dry goods to his business.

A new grocery store has been opened out in Mildmay by J. N. Shefter. He has a well selected stock.

The business of McGillivray & Speers, general merchants, Listowel, is now being carried on by Mr. Speers.

The "Syndicate Store" at Fenelon Falls, has gone into liquidation. The store was started about three years ago.

David Morin, grocer, Ottawa, was dragged 200 yards by a runaway horse on Monday, but escaped unhurt. He saved his life by keeping his head from coming into contact with the mud-bed and crossings.

J. W. Saunderson, general merchant, Wroxeter, who sold out recently, is likely to be heard of again some time as a merchant in some other place. W. C. Hazlewood, who purchased his business, is well versed in mercantile matters and should do well.

Mr. McWilliams, who has been with W. A. McClean & Co., of Owen Sound, for over eight years, has taken a partnership with C. Fox, grocer, of that place. They are doing a good business, and carry a good stock of general groceries. They are subscribers to THE CANADIAN GROCER, and highly recommend it to all general merchants.

ANCIENT WEIGHING MACHINES.

THE origin of the balance, says an exchange, is lost in the haze of antiquity, for in some form or other it seems to have been known to most nations. Indeed, the use of a balance is such a primary essential in commercial affairs that it is difficult to believe that any nation or race, with a pretense to civilization, could long exist without it. In the early times merchants were obliged to carry a balance and set of weights about with them, chiefly for weighing the bars of metal which they exchanged for goods. Thus it is clear that a standard of weights must have been agreed upon. Deceit, however, was also known and practised, for dishonest traders carried two sets of weights—one to buy with and the other to sell with. It would appear, therefore, that a perfect Weights and Measures Act and a sound system of inspection were as much needed then as now. A thousand years B.C. King Solomon said, "A false balance is an abomination," and five hundred years before that a Scriptural request was written, viz., "Let me be weighed in an even balance." The Jews were most probably taught the use of the balance by the Phœnicians and Assyrians. The Chinese date the origin of their balance—or steel-yard—back to a prehistoric period, and, as with many other things, they attempt to make the prehistoric invention serve the nineteenth century.

The cumbersome method of conveying scales, weights and bars of metal, however, was largely dispensed with by the invention of coins, whereby pieces of metal became legal tender for merchandise, but even at the present day a few of our itinerant tradesmen still carry about their scales and weights—being legally compelled to do so—though not for weighing money, but goods. It is certain, then, that the manufacturing of balances has always been an industry of considerable importance. To-day, the production of some balances or scales is a fine art, since they are so delicately constructed as to turn with a weight invisible to the unaided eye, the intrusion of a speck of dust at the time the scale is used being regarded as a matter of concern.

A BIG RUN OF SALMON.

SALMON fishing on the Fraser River took a sudden and unexpected turn last week.

Fishing up till then, it will be remembered, was even lighter than the packers had anticipated. Some of the packers advised their agents in the east that they would not use half the cans they had ordered unless fishing improved materially.

The early part of last week, however, the run of sockeye suddenly became enormous, so much so in fact that on Sunday afternoon, the 11th inst, the river, it is said, was "literally blocked with fish."

By daybreak on Monday morning some of the canneries were compelled to refuse to take any more fish, not having the cans into which they could put them. One cannery had taken in 70,000 fish before it was compelled to take this step. Some boats caught during the day 1,200 fish, and the average was about 400. This would place the day's catch at 880,000 fish, or 88,000 cases; but more conservative estimates place the catch at 700,000, or 70,000 cases. One house alone put up 8,000 cases in one day.

With this big catch the pack on the Fraser was estimated to have been brought up to 270,000 cases. This is about 75,000 cases less than the total pack last year, but the fishing season does not close until the end of this month. What the run will be till then is a question, of course. A telegram, however, received in Toronto on Friday last said the big run was over.

In spite of the stimulus which packing operations received last week on the Fraser and the previously good run on the northern rivers, it is improbable that the total salmon pack of British Columbia will equal that of last year. In the first place, the packers anticipated a light pack this year, and in consequence prepared their cans with this object in view. The empty cans, so it is said, cannot be carried over from one season to another without being spoilt. On the other hand, however, there are four more canneries than there were last year.

The packers aver that although the pack will be larger than anticipated, yet prices will not be affected. They may not be affected materially, but that is another thing from saying they will not be affected at all. In our last issue it was pointed out that one canner who a short time ago was holding firm at a certain price was now asking for bids. Packers of the well known standard brands have probably booked orders for all their output; and for these prices are likely to be fairly well maintained, but it will probably be found before the season is very old that salmon can be bought much lower than the trade were a few weeks ago given to understand they could be. The men who have yet to buy are, it seems to us, not in the worst position.

There are two or three things, however, in connection with the situation that should not be overlooked: The new pack comes on a comparatively bare market; then several wholesalers have bought but very little, while none appear to have placed orders for their full quota. Then, besides the British demand being unusually large, new markets are being opened up.

The price and its effect upon the consumption is also to be considered. As long as the consumer can purchase two cans for twenty-five cents, the demand is not likely to be checked by the price. The lowest price at which salmon has been bought on this market, as far as we can learn, is $4.20 per case, on the Coast, or equal to $1.20 per dozen laid down. At this price a retailer could sell two tins for 25c. and clear himself. But obviously he could not with salmon that cost $4.50 per case on the Coast, and that is the figure at which some orders have been placed for standard brands.

It would be well for the trade to make haste slowly.

CALIFORNIA RAISINS IN CANADA.

California dried raisin packers are bent on getting a larger share of trade in Canada than they have hitherto enjoyed. THE CANADIAN GROCER is assured of this from advices read and remarks heard.

During the past season California raisins were much in evidence on this market, and received considerable attention compared with other years. Probably encouraged by this the packers have decided to venture deeper. To supplant the Malaga article will be their particular aim, and some sharp rivalry may therefore be expected.

The gathering of California loose muscatel raisins begins about September 1. Two weeks are required to cure the fruit, and in another week, or three weeks in all, the fruit is ready for shipping.

A NEEDED ORGANIZATION.

IF THE new Maritime Board of Trade last week organized in Halifax, N.S., is at all aggressive, it has its work well cut out.

Among those who had a hand in calling the organization into being are, doubtless, those who have personal grievances which require remedying, and there is nothing wrong in that. It is right. Self-preservation is the first law of nature. But there is a far more praiseworthy and important cause in service for the public good, and if THE CANADIAN GROCER knows what manner of men those are who compose the organization there will be no remissness in this particular.

The quality of our legislators, Federal and Provincial, may not have deteriorated. It is enough to know that the general run of them are now not better than mediocre in ability. They may be able to make long speeches and do valiant service for party, but when it comes to a question of public weal, they are often so beclouded by the veil of party exigencies that they cannot see.

In devising schemes for milking the public treasury they are adepts, but for devising ways and means for building up the commercial interests of the country they are as land lubbers navigating on the high seas.

This what may be termed lack of business sense is probably met with in its most pronounced type in the House of Commons and in the Dominion Cabinet. The latter body, besides being what is supposed to be the electorate in its essence, is also business infirmity in its essence.

With probably two or three exceptions, the members of the Dominion Cabinet no more realize their duty to the country than does a new-born babe its duty in life. If they do, they act as if they did not, and in any event it is necessary that the business men of the country should, by determined and persistent co-operation, lay the whole Cabinet on the operating table and sever the offending and useless members. And while the scalpel and saw are handy, they may as well try what they can do with the House.

The task of making our rulers what they should be is no small one, and more than the Maritime Board of Trade can, unaided, possibly accomplish. The Board is made up of representatives of the provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. And although it can do much, before the desideratum can be secured the other provinces must fall into line. Then, again, if these in turn were crystalized into a Dominion Board of Trade, the movement would be accelerated. With such an organization wiser government would be assured and fewer grievances would there be in the different branches of trade in the country.

The business men of the Maritime Provinces are to be congratulated on the success which has attended their efforts for organization. The Maritime Provinces are rich in men of brains, and a good portion of them are in the Board just organized.

Had we had many instead of few of such men in the House of Commons, more practical and beneficial laws would be on our statute books to-day ; better developed would be our natural resources, and less uncultivated land would there be in the fertile Northwest.

THE CROP OF SUMMER APPLES.

Two weeks ago THE CANADIAN GROCER stated that the receipts of early apples at Montreal were increasing, and that there had been a decline in price in consequence. It also said at the same time that the crop of Fameuse, but more especially summer apples of all kinds, in Montreal and the adjacent district promised to be larger than the market could comfortably handle. The public sales in Montreal since then, when apples have been almost given away, amply bears this out.

Our enterprising contemporary, The Trade Bulletin, says that we were wrong in regard to Fameuse, and that the crop of these will be an entire failure. THE GROCER'S information was secured from what has hitherto been a reliable source, and referred more to the yield of summer and fall apples of all descriptions than to one particular variety. However, taking the Fameuse alone, we may be permitted to retain the opinion that the crop is not a total failure, but that though it is not large, it is a fair one on the whole.

Reports from reliable people repeat our statement that there are more apples in the Montreal district than ever before. In the case of one leading orchard of Fameuse apples, trees the highest yield of which last year was three or four barrels, are expected to give from 20 to 30 this season. This certainly does not look like a failure, and if there has been an increase of 20 per cent. in one case, it is hardly natural to suppose that other orchards on the same island are completely shrivelled.

CANADIAN WINES.

Out of 110 samples of native and imported wines collected from dealers in the most important of the Inland Revenue districts of Canada (18 in Halifax, 12 in St. John, 12 in Quebec, 17 in Montreal, 12 in Ottawa, 15 in Toronto, 12 in London and 12 in Winnipeg) the analysts report only 50 pure, the others being more or less impure. The classification arrived at by these experts was as follows :

Genuine, pure, unadulterated	50
Fortified, sweetened, good, doubtful, and otherwise commented on.....	44
Adulterated.....	7
No opinion expressed	9

ANOTHER CUSTOMS INJUSTICE.

IT is announced that the Federal Government have refunded $1,500 duty collected at the time of the tariff changes, on goods in the examining warehouse in Halifax.

The merchandise on which the refund was made is not specified, but it is generally believed by sugar importers in Montreal that it was raw sugar. For this reason the information is interesting to them, as they consider that they also are entitled to a refund of duties that have been collected on raw sugar testing below 16 Dutch standard.

It is well known that under the old duty raw sugar of such a grade was free of duty. It appears, however, that the Government sugar inspector frequently decided in his wisdom that sugar would have to be placed in warehouse until it was graded, to ascertain whether it was really above 16 per cent test or not. That is to say, he compelled sugar importers to pass a constructive entry, or, in other words, take a false oath that they believed sugar which they knew to be under 16 test, to be over it.

The sugar importers did from time to time as requested under protest ; and when the sugar had been graded for the satisfaction of the inspector, it was always found to be under the 16 test. Previous to the change in duty, therefore, no injustice was done to importers beyond the unnecessary delay that they were put to by having their goods detained in warehouse.

It so happens, however, that at the time the tariff was changed there was quite a lot of raw sugar in warehouse, under these constructive entries, for grading to satisfy the fastidious taste of the sugar inspector. It proved to be below the 16 test, but before the sugar was inspected the new duty had come into force.

There is a provision in the Customs Act that goods leaving warehouse after the enactment of a new duty are liable to charges under it.

The Customs Department, despite the special circumstances governing the case of the raw sugar under discussion, decided to take advantage of this clause. The collectors of Customs at the different ports were instructed to demand the new duties on these sugars. They did so, and as far as can be learned they have been paid on one or two lots, while on others the importers have not taken any notice of the demand.

Whatever the law may be—and it is open to argument that a Court of Justice would sustain the ruling—in equity the Customs people are perpetrating a flagrant injustice.

The sugar on which they propose to collect duties was free under the old tariff, and, but for the action of the sugar inspector, would have been passed under it. Yet the department, having made the importers declare what they knew was not a fact in regard to the grade of the sugar, now propose to take advantage of this by collecting the new duties.

It is difficult to believe that the Controller of Customs will insist on this injustice being carried out, especially as the sugar inspector's course in the matter was entirely unnecessary.

There was no reason at all why the importers should have been made to declare falsely so as to have the sugar graded. The Customs authorities have the power to seize goods that they believe to have been passed fraudulently, and why should an exception be made in the case of raw sugar ?

The importers believe that as the refund has been allowed in Halifax the same course will be followed elsewhere. Enquiry at the Customs in Montreal elicits the fact that no refund has been made at that port.

THE CUSTOM HOUSE OATH.

THE action of the Federal Government's sugar inspector in regard to raw sugar, referred to elsewhere, is ethically wrong, inasmuch as it tends to breed a contempt for the Custom House oath.

In order to enable this official to have free raw sugar taken into warehouse for grading purposes, importers were made to declare what they knew was not a fact, viz., that their sugar was over 16 Dutch standard when it really was not.

The tax-gatherer never is a popular individual, and such tactics as these are not calculated to minimize his unpopularity.

The easiest way is always the best, and if the officials of the Custom House can collect the revenue and at the same time keep the public in a good temper, it is desirable that they should do so.

The action of the sugar inspector and the developments that it has led up to, if carried out as intended, will certainly tend to create the reverse of a cordial feeling between the department and the business community. Besides, it has always been held that an oath is a sacred thing, but some of the department's officials, by their actions, evidently do not think so, but simply that it is a device for their own convenience.

If there are frauds and dishonest practices under such a system it is not be wondered at. The public servants are themselves educating people in a wrong direction.

AN ILL-SPELLED ORDER.

John T. James, general storekeeper, of Bridgeburg, Ont., the other day received the following unique order from a customer

"for 25 cents grandlady sugar and a pounde of 25 cents worthe of good tea and a good broom and a lambe chimley the meadom sise, and two bars of harde soape for 5 cents a bar, the sweet home bar and a quarter of grounde peper and 2 pagage of extracte coffee."

REFINERS URGING BUSINESS.

EACH succeeding week brings advices of continued strength in raw sugar and firmness in outside markets for the refined article. Strange to say, the fact has no effect in dispelling the unsettled irregular feeling in Canada. For over a month past many have been expecting a rise in the market, but it stubbornly refuses to make its appearance.

That there is no stability to values, occurrences last week amply prove. Nominally 4½c. is the refiners' price for granulated sugar, but business is being freely done at the even figure whenever it is a question of securing an order.

On Friday morning last a traveler in Ontario for one of the Montreal refineries wrote to headquarters that unless he could accept 4c. an order for 500 barrels of granulated would be lost. He explained that a rival refinery was offering to fill orders freely at that figure, and that he had either to let the business go by or meet their price. His principals answered promptly to accept the order at 4c., and that in every case where he found his competitors cutting he was authorized to meet the cut.

This incident is sufficient to demonstrate the situation of affairs between the refineries, and it is understood also that the Halifax people are making their influence felt in Ontario and Quebec, as well as down below. Absence of demand is the only possible explanation of this determination of the refiners to sell, and until a demand is induced no stability to the sugar market can be expected. Stocks in refiners' hands also are very large, and this exercises an influence toward urging business.

LONDON TRADE GOSSIP.

AS IN every other trade centre in Canada the movement of sugar in London is slow: too slow either for the satisfaction of the trade or what might be expected at this season. Stocks all round are, however, getting pretty low, and an improved demand cannot be far away. The prices jobbers are trying to get are 4½ to 4¾c. for granulated, and 3¾c. up for yellows.

Canned vegetables are not so much in demand as they were, although the turnover is moderate for the season. The only kind of canned vegetable which London wholesale merchants have yet purchased to any extent is peas. "We don't think there is any need to be in a hurry to buy tomatoes and corn. The weather has been good and the pack promises to be large in both these lines." This is what one wholesaler said, and it is practically the opinion of all the others, as far as I can gather. The ruling price for tomatoes is 90c., and for peas and corn 85c. is the idea.

A curious feature of the local fruit trade just now is the presence on the market of apples in baskets. London, I need scarcely say, is the centre of one of the chief fruit-growing districts in Canada, and hitherto at this season of the year apples have retailed per 1½ bushel bag at 25c. But this year the apple crop in this district is a failure, and for supplies in this particular we must needs go elsewhere. Just now our supplies are coming from Niagara, hence the baskets of apples on this market, and the consumer is paying for them just what he in former years paid for a bag.

"Owing to the scarcity of fruit," remarked a wholesaler to me, "we have been experiencing an unusually good demand for syrups and dried fruits. Consumers' last year's canned fruits and preserves are about done, and they have been compelled to turn their attention to syrups and dried fruits."

Teas being offered by local jobbers are showing better values than last year. This applies particularly to Indian and Ceylon teas. There is a large demand for black teas, but the careless manner in which some of the Japan teas have been made has materially interfered with their sale. "The make of Japan tea that sold here last year at 18c. is nearly as good as that which we are to-day selling at 22c.," remarked one jobber. "The most feasible reason advanced for this is that the middlemen this year went into the interior themselves and bought the tea and held it for higher prices; and held some of it so long that it fermented. This necessitated its being fired, again to the injury of the leaf."

New pack salmon arrived on the market this week, and there has been a fairly good demand for future delivery at $1.25 to $1.27½; for immediate delivery $1.30 is the idea.

A local jobber was a few days ago offered canned peaches at $1.10 to $1.50 f.o.b. Baltimore, Md. This was about equal to $2.26 and $2.66 respectively, laid down in London, freight and duty paid. I understand that the Canadian packers are awaiting the result of the crop before quoting.

The spice trade is beginning to improve. "We have had a very good month," remarked the owner of one mill. "We are now beginning to fill orders for the fall trade, prospects for which are good."

"Payments are being met better than formerly," said a well-known jobber, "it being something unusual for customers to ask for renewals."

Mr. M. Masuret, of M. Masuret & Co., wholesale grocers, has been taking in the Mackinaw trip. But, of course, he must needs stop over at Parry Sound and enjoy a few days' fishing, and fishing Mr. Masuret is a lover of, as well as an adept at.

Mr. A. M. Smith, of A. M. Smith & Co., has returned from a visit to New York and adjacent summer resorts.

Mr. J. M. Dillon, manager of A. M. Smith & Co.'s sample room, left the latter part of last week for three weeks' holiday with several kindred spirits. Main Island, Lake Huron, is the rendezvous. Fishing is one of Mr. Dillon's predominating weaknesses, and when he reaches Main Island he will be practically outside the pale of civilization. No letters, no paper, no telegrams will reach him after he pulls his boat up on the shore. Mr. Dillon declares that not even a thought of business will reach him.

Mr. H. C. Paterson, one of M. Masuret & Co.'s travelers, has just returned from holidaying at "Maple Hurst," Lake Rosseau. He had an enjoyable time. "Never saw so many London people there before," he said. "Why, one almost thought he was in London." W. L. E.

PERSONAL MENTION.

W. H. Seyler, of the Eby, Blain Co., Toronto, is back again to business after his holidays.

C. Wilson, one of Todhunter, Mitchell & Co.'s city travelers, is to join the benedicts on Saturday.

Mr. R. A. Jones, one of London's most successful grocers, was in Toronto the first part of this week.

Mr. James Matheson, of McKay & Matheson, general merchants, Renfrew, is to be married September 4.

J. D. Brack, representative in the Northwest for Todhunter, Mitchell & Co., left on Tuesday en route for the Coast with samples.

Mr. W. H. Dunn, manufacturers' representative, Montreal, was in Toronto this week. He represents Adams & Son Co. in that city.

F. J. Dixon, of Davidson & Hay's sample room, is back from holidaying on Manitoulin Island. He says he was too lazy even to fish.

A. H. Paffard, of Davidson & Hay's sample room, is taking his holidays. He is at Niagara-on-the-Lake, where his parents reside.

R. R. (Charley) Cherry, city traveler for Todhunter, Mitchell & Co., is away on his holidays. He will be absent about 10 days, and is rusticated in Muskoka.

C. J. McKinley, formerly chemist with the F. F. Dalley Co., Hamilton, died at Grace Hospital, Toronto, on Thursday, 15th inst. The remains were interred the following Saturday.

LONDON RETAIL GROCERS' ASSOCIATION.

THE regular monthly meeting of the London Retail Grocers' Association was held on August 15, the president, Mr. W. H. McCutcheon, presiding. It was the annual meeting, but the attendance was small, owing to the weather being excessively warm.

The first business taken up was a report from the treasurer and secretary of the financial success of the picnic, showing a balance on hand after all liabilities are paid of about $50.

It was moved and seconded that the thanks of the officers and members of the association be tendered the wholesale grocers and manufacturers who assisted so materially to the success of the picnic by contributing to the prize list. The resolution was passed, as was also one expressing regret that Mr. F. Robinson had severed his connection with the association, he having decided to seek his fortune in the grocery business in Roseneath. Mr. Robinson was an active member of the association, and while the trade in London regret that he has decided to go east, the best wishes of the members of the association follow him.

It was duly moved and seconded that the retiring officers be re-elected for the ensuing year and that Mr. J. C. Trebilcock be elected auditor in place of Mr. F. Robinson. Carried. The officers therefore are:

PRESIDENT—W. H. McCutcheon.
VICE-PRESIDENT—T. A. Rowat.
TREASURER—W. H. Branton.
SECRETARY—E. Sutton.
GUARD—P. McGlade.
DIRECTORS—Charles McCormick, J. C. Trebilcock, George Loveless, R. A. Jones.

Mr. W. H. McCutcheon said he thanked the members for the honor they had bestowed upon him, but he thought it would be in the interest of the association to have elected someone else to the presidency, but as they had re-elected him he would do the best he could to make the association successful. He requested the members to bear with him in his failings, and he hoped the members would do all in their power to make the association even more successful than it has been. A good deal has been done in the past, but there is still room for improvement.

Mr. P. McGlade said he felt honored in again being elected guard. He would try and keep all intruders out and see that the members coming in late presented themselves in a becoming manner.

Mr. J. C. Trebilcock said he thought there was someone else in the room who ought to speak, but he had forgotten that it was himself. He, as auditor, would try and keep the treasurer and secretary straight, (laughter), and perform his duty as auditor to the best of his ability.

Mr. R. A. Jones said he would like to hear the views of the members present on the question of closing the stores at an earlier hour on Saturday evenings. This question was receiving some attention from the labor and other associations in the city and he would like to see this association co-operate.

Several members spoke on the question, and while all were in favor of earlier closing some thought the better plan would be to get a by-law passed by the City Council. After some further discussion a committee was appointed to ascertain what steps require to be taken to get a by-law passed, and a committee was also appointed to confer with the other associations in the city, and try and devise some plan that will be the means of shortening the hours of business on Saturdays.

Meeting adjourned at 10 p.m.

AMONG THE CLERKS.

The Montreal Grocers' Clerks' Association are so busy these days in making preparation for their coming entertainment that very little general business was done at the meeting this week.

L. Abell has not been able to attend his duties as treasurer, and O. Legendre was appointed in his place.

Advertising cards were distributed among the members, and so also were tickets for the entertainment on September 17.

It is to be hoped that the trade generally will give the affair their hearty support, as it is for a very worthy cause.

1. So quickly prepared, so push the thing for "Porridge." Don't you like good Porridge?
2. The name is catchy and popular.
3. The package is the handsomest and most attractive of any on the market.
4. People ask for it a second time. (We consider that a good sign.)
5. Our Breakfast Foods are all trade winners, and the best that can be made. THEY ARE THE BEST ON EARTH.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS

TORONTO, Aug. 22, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE past week has been about as uninteresting as it could be. A great many people are away on their holidays, and business is almost being left to take care of itself. As the active season approaches, however, the outlook continues to brighten, and especially since the publication of the favorable crop reports. Sugar is in much the same condition as before—outside markets firm, local markets dull. The quietness in canned vegetables is more pronounced, but that is to be expected at this season; and there are not as many evaporated fruits going out, for the reason that green fruits are coming in more plentifully. In canned salmon there is an easier feeling, on account of the unexpected increase in the run on the Fraser. There is still a scarcity to be noted in green Rio coffees. Teas are receiving moderate attention, with the markets steady. Spices are in fair demand, but without special feature. Payments are fairly satisfactory.

CANNED GOODS.

There is very little doing, it being between the seasons. Very little business is also being transacted between packers and wholesalers, either in regard to canned vegetables or canned salmon. The one, however, is not pressing sales and the other is not by any means seeking supplies. Tomatoes and corn are still being offered by the packers at 75c. The unexpected big run of last week on the Fraser, as noted in our editorial columns, has made wholesalers even less disposed than they were before to place orders for salmon. First shipments of new pack are expected to arrive any day. We quote: Tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; corn, 80 to 90c.; peas, 80 to 90c. for ordinary; sifted, 95c. to $1; extra sifted, $1.40; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.20; strawberries, $1.75 to $1.90; blackberries, $1.90 to $2; cherries, $1.80 to $2; apples, 3's, 90c to $1, gallons, $2.25 to 2.40, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.35 to $1.50, in tall tins; do., Cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins. Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.65 to $1.75; 2's, $2.65 to $2.75; 6's, $8 to $8.25; 14's, $18 to $19. Chicago canned beef, 1's, $1.75 per dozen; 2's, $2.85. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEE.

Green Rio coffee on spot continues to get into smaller compass. We quote green in bags as follows: Rio (new season), 19 to 21c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 20 to 22½c.; Java, 28 to 33c.; Mocha, 30 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce: "Brazil growths favor buyers on basis of very good supplies within reach, and more coming right along, with promise of a good assortment of quality natural to the first run of a crop that has grown a better average grade than last season. Holders, too, are willing to talk comparatively easy terms, but are not yet prepared to settle down to the low bids at which custom, not being particularly in need of supplies at the moment, tries to force them."

RICE.

Business continues much as before. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5½c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 3¾ to 5½c. The rice crop of Louisiana is estimated at 2,250,000 bags in rough. This is much larger than usual, and is about equal to the consumptive demand of the United States. The rice men in the States are now very much interested in learning how much truth there is in the report that the Japan crop has been materially injured by floods.

SPICES.

Ginger is a little firmer and nutmegs easier, but there is no change locally. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 22 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

Tarragona almonds are a little higher in the primary markets than they were, but local quotations are as before. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

The sugar situation is without change. There is an odd carload moving, but trade generally is little if anything better than a week ago. The markets, however, remain steady. According to Willett and Gray's Statistical "stocks in warehouses are decreasing from last year, and as the European parity of beet sugar is now nearing that of centrifugals, a movement of raw beet sugars to America may become practicable at any time to replenish refiners' supplies." N. Y. Journal of Commerce, of Tuesday said: "Most holders of stock act confidently enough to abstain from any free open offering, but the tame foreign accounts and dull tone on refined have an unpleasant influence and the general feeling at the moment is unquestionably tame, with fractional allowances necessary in order to sell. The business done has been at just enough lower rates to take the wire-edge off and represents about what sellers would allow rather than undergo the trouble and expense of landing and storing." We quote: Granulated, No. 1, $4\frac{1}{8}$ to $4\frac{1}{4}$ c.; do., No. 2, $3\frac{3}{8}$ to 4c.; yellows, $3\frac{1}{4}$ to $3\frac{3}{4}$ c.; Demerara, $3\frac{1}{2}$ c.

SYRUPS.

Demand is still limited. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

Business continues in much the same condition as before. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 30 to 32c.; half-bbls., $33\frac{1}{2}$ to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 37c.

TEAS.

There are probably a few more black teas of the cheaper kinds going out, particularly Indians and Ceylons. The primary markets are steady and unchanged. Invoices and samples of new season's Young Hysons to hand this week. The teas are rather better in style and draw than were the first shipments last year. Invoices of new season's Foo Chow Congous have also been received. A London tea circular says that during the month of July the exports of both Indian and Ceylon tea to foreign markets showed a satisfactory progress, the figures being 233,794 lbs. of Indian tea and 640,306 of Ceylon, against 164,928 lbs. of Indian and 432,277 lbs. of Ceylon during the same period last year.

DRIED FRUIT.

Valencia raisins remain firm, according to a cable received on Tuesday by P. L. Mason & Co. The situation on the local market is much as before. We quote: Off-stalk, 80 to 90c, per box; fine off-stalk, 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; selected, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; layers, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c.

Prices on new season's currants are being quoted. The advices given do not furnish any indication as to how the market is likely to rule. The opening price is much about the same as last year, favoring, if anything, slightly lower prices. We quote as before: Filiatras half-bbls, 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c., bbls., $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; fine Filiatras, half-bbls., $4\frac{3}{4}$ c., bbls., $4\frac{3}{4}$ c.; Patras, $5\frac{1}{2}$ c., in cases; Casalinas, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $5\frac{1}{4}$ c.; Vostizzas, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c. in cases and half-cases.

Opening prices quoted on Turkish prunes are very high. The crop is undoubtedly very small, but it is difficult to say what direction the market will take. There is nothing locally of interest to note. We quote: Bosnias at 6 to 7c., and Bordeaux at $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.; California prunes, 9c.

Evaporated apricots are not receiving much attention, on account of the increasing supply of green fruits. Prices are steady and unchanged. We quote: Apricots and peaches, $12\frac{1}{2}$ to $13\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb.; new apricots, 15c.; nectarines, $13\frac{1}{2}$ c.; pitted plums, $12\frac{1}{2}$ to 13c.

Sultana raisins are quiet and unchanged, at $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c. for good fruit.

Figs are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, $4\frac{1}{4}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

Dates are quiet and unchanged at from $4\frac{1}{4}$ c. up.

BUTTER, CHEESE AND EGGS.

BUTTER—Outsiders are holding dairy butter firm and above the views of buyers, and as a consequence there is very little trade being done, as buyers do not feel like paying the prices asked. The local demand has been good for finer qualities, but little or no export trade has been done. The make of creamery butter is yet small, and nearly all the output of the factories is being handled in pound prints, the price for which is well maintained. We quote: Old summer dairy and store packed, 7 to 9c.; fresh prints, 15 to 16c.; fresh tubs, 14 to 15c.; Fresh creamery—Tubs, 18 to 19c.; pound prints, 20 to 21c.

CHEESE—The market is slightly firmer, but the cause of this is not well understood, as no marked improvement in foreign markets is noted. In fact, at the prices now paid it would entail a loss to export. No doubt quite a lot of cheese is being put in cold storage in hope of a future rise, which may not materialize. One reason why the Old Country markets are so low is that meats are so cheap. Australian mutton, for instance, is retailing in England for 3d. per lb., and so long as this state of affairs continues other provisions will be low. No change in price is noted. New Canadian is being sold at the factories at $7\frac{1}{2}$ to $7\frac{3}{4}$ c. per lb., while $8\frac{1}{2}$ c. is the Toronto quotation. Last August and September makes bring 10 to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.

EGGS—The quality of egg receipts has much improved and the quantity is much larger. They are still firm at 11c., and dealers at outside points are holding off and refusing to sell except at their own figures.

GREEN FRUIT.

Considerable quantities of fruit continue to be handled here, although this is, as it were, a time between seasons as regards Canadian fruits. The lemon situation continues interesting. In Boston and New York it is freely stated that within fifteen days lemons will sell at from $8 to $10 per case, which state of affairs if it comes to pass must necessarily affect this market, as we now receive our stocks via New York. Most of the smaller Canadian fruits are out, while it is yet rather early for good domestic peaches and pears. We quote prices: Lemons—Sorrento, Palermo and Verdilla, $5.75 to $6.75 per case. Oranges—California seedlings, $3.50 to $4; Rhodi, $3.75 to $4.

Bananas, $1 to $1.75; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 a sack; cucumbers, Canadian, 15c. per basket; new cabbage, 75c. to $1.25 per bbl.; Canadian tomatoes, 20 to 30c. per basket. Green California fruit—Peaches, $1.40 to $1.60 in boxes; pears, $2.50 to $3; plums, $1.25 to $2; green apples, $1 to $1.75 a barrel; watermelons, 15 to 20c. each; muskmelons, 50 to 60c. per basket; lawton berries, 10 to 13c.; grapes, 5 to 8c. per basket.

COUNTRY PRODUCE

BEANS—Quiet at $1.70 to $1.75.

DRIED APPLES—Jobbers quote at 6 to 6½ c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Jobbers quote at 8 to 8½ c. per lb. in 50-lb. boxes.

ONIONS—Malta sell at 2½ c. per lb. by the hamper, and Egyptians at $2 per bag.

POTATOES—Are still a drug on the market. The crop seems to be unusually large, and the prospect is that they may sell for 30c. a bag yet. On the street 25c. a bushel is paid, while 30c. a bushel is all that can be got out of store.

HONEY—Strained in bulk is quoted at 7 to 8½ c. Honey still brings $1.50 to $1.80 a dozen in the comb.

HOPS—Pacifics are quoted at 14c., and Canadian at 6½ to 7½ c.

HAY—For baled hay $12 to $13 per ton is paid for car lots, while $13 to $13.50 is what ton lots bring.

FISH.

Fish are rather scarce, but a good trade is being driven at advanced figures in some lines. We quote: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½ c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; haddock, 5 to 6c.; Labrador herring, \$3.25 to \$3.50 per half barrel and \$5.50 to \$5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, \$2.50 per half barrel, and \$4.50 to \$4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, \$3 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 3c.; pike, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to 5c. per lb.; flitch cod, 5c.; finnan haddies, 8c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 10 to 13c.; Georgian Bay trout, 7 to 8c.; white fish, 8 to 9c.; Restigouche salmon, 20 to 25c.; mackerel, 20 to 25c.; steak cod, 7 to 8c.; haddock, 6c.; black bass, 9 to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c. Fresh Lake Erie herring, \$2.50 per 100.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

Owing to the continued demand in the Old Country dressed hogs have advanced still further and are now quoted at $6.75 to $7 per 100 lbs. Many local packers are entirely out of stock, it is said, and a very liberal trade has been done in the west during the past 10 days. We quote hog products:

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 8c. for carload lots, and 8½ c. for small lots; backs, 8½ to 9c.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 11 to $11\frac{1}{2}$ c.; rolls, 8 to 8½ c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, $10\frac{1}{2}$ to 11c.; medium, 15 to 20

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Aug. 22, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE grocery market is commencing to show more activity, but the fall trade movement has hardly commenced yet. Sugar is unsettled as regards values, owing to the cutting resorted to by some of the refiners. The facts in regard to this are referred to specially in our editorial columns. Teas, spices and molasses continue much as they were a week ago. Canned goods and fish have been fairly active, and prices on both these lines are inclined to be firm.

SUGAR.

There is no change. Refiners continue talking higher prices, but, despite the fact, are accepting orders at cut rates, and we understand that some round lots have been filled in the west as low as 4c. We quote granulated at 4 to 4½c. as to quantity, and yellows at 3 1-16 to 3¾c. as to quantity at factory.

SYRUPS.

Business in syrups continues fairly active, there being a good steady demand for small lots at 1¾ to 2½c. per lb., as to quality.

MOLASSES.

There is no change in the situation of the molasses market. The demand at present is principally for small lots from second hands and there are no round lots offering on the market now. Prices are firm at 37c. for Barbadoes, and 36c. for Porto Rico in small lots.

RICE.

Trade moderate and prices unchanged. We quote as follows: Japan, $4.30 to $4.50; crystal Japan, $4.80 to $5; standard B, $3.45; C.C. style, $3.20; Patna, $4.37½ to $5; and Carolina, $7 to $7.50.

SPICES.

There is no change in spices, prices ruling steady. Demand is expected to pick up in the course of a week or so. We quote: Penang black pepper, 8 to 10c.; white pepper, 13 to 15c.; cloves, whole, 10 to 20c.; cassia, whole, 10 to 20c.; nutmegs, 40 to 90c.; Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c., as to grade.

COFFEES.

The only important business in coffees consists of some sales of Rio and Mara-

CLEARING..

The entire stock of Crockery-ware, Glassware, and China, at prices that catch all shrewd buyers. Some surprises in very staple lines.

TEAS.

The demand for teas has continued good, both from local and country buyers, consequently a good active business has been transacted in new crop Japans at prices ranging from 13¼ to 21c., and in blacks at 13 to 22c. The arrivals of new teas have been larger, but no round lots are changing hands to speak of yet. The tone of the market is firm, and prices are well maintained.

DRIED FRUITS.

There is nothing new in dried fruits, and no reliable cable quotations are yet to hand. We quote : Off-stalk, 2½ to 4½c., as to quality, and layers at 4¼ to 5¼c., as to brand.

There has been some business in California stock for forward delivery on the basis of our quotations. We quote : 4-crown loose muscatels at 6½c. and 3-crown ditto at 5½c.

Currants have been moderately active during the week, but there is no special feature to note. We quote : 3½ to 4½c., according to package and quality.

There is no change in prunes, and we quote 5c. on spot. Offers for fall delivery have been made, but are not reliable.

There is no change in dates, which rule quiet at 5 to 5½c.

Figs are unchanged. Baskets and bags move at 4 to 5c. for ordinary qualities, and higher grades are held at 9 to 10c. in boxes

Evaporated fruits show no change. We quote : Peaches, 12 to 15c.; pears, 10 to 13c.; apricots, 14 to 19c., and prunes, 10 to 11c., as to quality.

NUTS.

The market is quiet and much changed. We quote; Brazils, 8 to 9c.; shelled almonds, 18 to 25c.; Tarragona, 12 to 13c.; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 13c.; shelled ditto, 24 to 25c.; filberts, 6½ to 7½c.; and pecans, 8 to 10c.

CANNED GOODS.

Business in canned goods continues fairly active for this season of the year. The demand is principally for corn and tomatoes, and some further contracts have been made for future delivery at 75c. per dozen. Salmon is very firm but quiet. We quote : Lobsters, $6.50 to $8.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $10.50; salmon, $5.20 to $5.50; mackerel, $5.00; tomatoes, 90 to 95c. per doz. peaches, $2 to $3 per doz.; corn, 85c. to $1 per doz.; peas, 85 to 95c. per doz.; strawberries, $2.25 to $2.50; raspberries, $2; green gages, $2 to $2.25; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2.25 to $2.50, and 3-lb. apples, $1 to $1.10.

GREEN FRUIT.

Business in green fruit has continued fairly active. Receipts have been large, but they are well cleaned up.

APPLES—Offerings of these have been heavy and in excess of the demand. Prices range from $1.25 to $2.50 per barrel.

PEARS—There is no change in this fruit. Bartlett's are selling at $2.25 per keg.

CLEMES BROS. - TORONTO

ORANGES—A fair demand is noted for oranges, and prices are steady at $3.50 per box, and half-boxes at $2 for the finer varieties.

Lemons are quiet and unchanged at $4 to $4.50 per box as to quality.

BANANAS—Receipts of these have been rather light this week, and prices are steady at $1 to $1.50 per bunch.

CALIFORNIA FRUITS—These have been fairly active at the public sales, and prices are about the same as last week. We quote: Peaches, $1.25 to $1.50 per box; plums, $1.25 to $1.50, and pears, $2.25 to $2.50.

FISH.

The receipts of fresh salmon during the past week have been many, and the prospects are that they will be still larger in the near future, consequently the tone of the market is weak and prices are 1c. per lb. lower, recent sales having taken place at 13 to 14c. per lb. The supply of fresh haddock is equal to the demand, and values are steady at 3¼ to 4c. per lb. Sword fish are selling at 10 to 12c. per lb. Green cod are unchanged at $4.50 to $5 for No. 1, and choice bright herrings at $5 to $5.25.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The market for eggs has been weak since our last, and prices have declined to 11½c. for choice candled stock and 9 to 10c. for ordinary per dozen. The demand is fair, but stocks are in excess of the requirements.

POTATOES—This market is quiet and steady, at $1 per bbl., and 35 to 45c. per basket.

HOPS—The demand for these continues slow, and the market is dull and steady at 5 to 8½c., per lb., as to quality.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—There is nothing doing in this line, and prices are nominally unchanged. We quote sugar at 6½ to 7½c. for new and 4 to 6c. for old; maple syrup in wood at 4 to 5c. per lb., and 50 to 60c. per tin.

TALLOW—This market is steady under a fair demand for small lots at 6 to 6½c. for prime refined, and 5 to 5¾c. for lower grades.

BEANS—There is no change in beans, recent sales being made at $1.70 to $1.80 for hand-picked, and $1.30 to $1.50 for lower grades.

HAY—This market is dull and weak, prices having declined 50c. to $1 per ton, No. 2 timothy being quoted at $9 on spot and at $8 at country points.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

Since our last the flour market has been weaker and values are lower all round. We quote: Winter wheat, $4.10 to $4.25; spring wheat, patents, $4.10 to $4.25; straight roller, $3.80 to $4; straight roller, bags, $1.85 to $2; extra, bags, $1.75 to $1.85; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.15 to $4.25.

The feeling in oatmeal is weaker in sympathy with oats and prices are a shade lower. We quote: Standard, bbls., $3.85 to $4.00; granulated, bbls., $3.95 to $4.05; rolled oats, bbls., $3.95 to $4.

PROVISIONS.

The demand for Canadian pork on spot continues to be limited, and the tone of the market is easier. In lard and smoked meats a fair trade is doing at steady prices. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $15.50 to $16; Canadian short cut, mess, $17 to $17.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 11c.;

lard, Canadian, in pails, 9¼ to 10¼c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 11c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 7¼ to 7½c.

BUTTER.

The butter market continues dull and narrow. Exporters are doing nothing in creamery. Factorymen still hold a good percentage of the July make, but buyers say that bids of 17¼c., which were made last week, could not be repeated to day. For the small local trade picked parcels command 18c., but the very best figure that shippers could afford is 17¼ to 17½c., and they find it difficult to get encouragement from the other side even at those figures. Township dairy is only wanted for the local demand at 14 to 14½c., and Western and Manitoba dairy, which is offering here, is impossible to quote, but a range of 12 to 13½c. is a nominal one. We quote: Finest creamery, 17¼ to 18c.; finest Townships dairy, 14 to 14½c.; finest Western dairy, 12 to 13½c.

CHEESE.

Cheese is irregular. Several traders expected an active market this week, but their expectation was not fulfilled, for though the boat cheese brought more money than the offerings last Monday the demand was narrow, the buying being restricted to one or two operators. It can be inferred from this fact that there is no general improvement in the enquiry from the other side. As a matter of fact, the better prices bid last week were due to a desire to get hold of some August makes, and this alone; not to any legitimate improvement in the general export enquiry. Taken on the whole the market is about steady, but ideas of buyers did not by any means agree. At the wharf on Monday, some 3,000 boxes Quebec French country makes were offered. These, as we have said, sold ¼c. higher than last week at 7¼ to 7½c., the top figure being the ruling. Though this range was made, however, French country cheese can be had on spot for less money, as low as 7c. being noted. In Townships the factorymen want 7¼c. in the country, but spot values are nominal. There is little on which to base a quotation on Ontario makes, but we hear of sales at 7½c. This is rather below the general idea. There were some cable orders, but the limits did not permit of more than 7c. being paid, and the quality available at this price is not tip top. In fact, though steady as far as transactions go, the market is far from settled in its tone. Some Manitoba cheese are offering, but their value is unfixed. We quote: Finest Ontario makes, 7¾c.; Townships' makes, 7½c.; other Quebec makes, 7½ to 7¾c.

ASHES.

The receipts of ashes continue light, and the market rules quiet but firm. We quote: Firsts, $4.10 to $4.15; seconds, $3.75 to $3.80, and pearls, $5.25 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Buyers of tea still hang fire, and no large transactions have been recorded.

A better business is noted in refined sugar this week, but the refiners are still cutting prices.

The price of flour on this market has declined, Manitoba patents offering freely at $4.10 to $4.25.

This is the picnic season, and the Messrs. Wonham state that the demand for Marshall's goods is active. Their herring specialties are active at the moment.

Mr. Rose, of Rose & Laflamme, has been visiting his friends and patrons in the Lower Provinces recently.

Both the St. Lawrence and the Canada Sugar refineries note firm advices from outside markets on sugar.

Robert Greig & Co. note the receipt of several consignments of their specialties this week for Toronto and Winnipeg houses.

Laporte, Martin & Co. are large holders of molasses and dried fruits. They are in a position to consider offers on both at inside prices.

Rose & Laflamme have been appointed selling agents for Forsyth's brands of California raisins for Montreal, Quebec, St. John, N. B., and Halifax.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 22, 1895.

NOTHING of particular interest has happened during the past week. Nova Scotia and New Brunswick apples are coming into the market quite freely, and regular auction sales are being held. Reports from Nova Scotia are that crops will be large. Pork products, which fell off in price early in the week, later gained strength. Cream of Tartar is being offered to arrive somewhat below last week's quotations. Florida orange cider is being imported by one of our large wholesalers, and is becoming quite popular. It is rather an odd thing to see but five to ten cents difference between the prices of Manitoba and Ontario flour, but such is the case at present. New teas continue to arrive in large quantities, and stocks held here will be large. These are direct importations. Brokers for English houses feel this growing trade very much. They report quite a demand for low priced teas.

OIL—The demand during the week has been rather better. Prices in both American and best Canadian are easier. In cod oil, which is quite largely received at this port, the receipts during the week have been fair. The largest receipts are a little later, when prices are expected to be rather lower. We quote: Best American, 22c.; best Canadian, 21¼c.; prime white, 18c., no charge for barrel.

SALT—Sale is light. One thousand bags arrived during the week by schooner from Boston. The larger part had to be put in store. Demand for Canadian cheese salt in bulk is easier as the season advances. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory filled, $1 to $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.80 to $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per doz.; cheese salt, bulk, $2.70.

CANNED GOODS—New teas are in the market. In quotations of vegetables there is nothing new. Merchants have about all bought. There is still some enquiry for peas and tomatoes. In fruits but few have so far been sold, and prices are rather higher than last season. The demand for certain lines changes from year to year. A few years ago jams in glass and gallon apples were sellers, but this last year they have both proved very slow. Sale of corned beef is quiet. In salmon a few were sold during the week, but buyers are yet at least one-half below usual quantity. It looks as if American peaches would be sold in this market, as Canadian peaches are very slow about quoting. We quote: Corn, 90c.; peas, 95c.; tomatoes, $1; gallon apples, $2.25; corned beef, 2-lb. tins, $2.75 to $3; 1-lb. tins, $1.70 to $1.75; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $3 to $3.15; 2's, $2 to $2.10; salmon, $1.40 to $1.50; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; clams, $5.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $3 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1.

DRIED FRUIT—At this season there is little to be said. Quotations have been received for California loose muscatels, and it would look as if higher prices than last year would have to be paid. In cleaned currants, those cleaned in Canada are at a disadvantage as regards those cleaned in the States. It is said in cleaning they lose upward of one-third in weight. In the States there is no duty on currants, and the cleaned pay the same duty here as the ones in the original packages. So the cleaner on this side loses the duty on the dirt. The outlook for new currants points to rather firmer prices than last year. In prunes, the price is away ahead of last season. In Valencias, buyers are still holding off. Stocks of old held here are not large, but Halifax is well supplied and last week was offering here, but prices were too high. We quote: Currants, 1 lb. cartoons, 7½c.; bulk, 6½c.; dried apples, 5½ to 6c.; evaporated apples, 7½ to 8c.; Sultana raisins, 6 to 7c.; Valencia, 4 to 4½c.; layers, 5 to 5¼c.; London layers, $2 25; loose muscatels, 5½ to 6c.; currants, bbls., 3¼ to 3½c.; half-cases, 3¼ to 4c.; dates, 4 to 4½c.; prunes, 4½ to 5½c.; figs, 11 to 18c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; do. apricots, 12 to 14c.; do. pears, 12 to 13c.; American onions, $3 to $3.75.

GREEN FRUIT—Apples are being freely received, and auction sales have been held. A good many of but fair quality are being received. Oranges are about out of season. Lemons are higher; good peaches continue high, but Californias do not give the best satisfaction. The sales of other lines are largely interfering with the sale of bananas. A few sweet potatoes are being received. Large quantities of blueberries and raspberries continue to be shipped to the States, but the season is getting well over. We quote: Oranges, $4 to $4.50; California pears, $3.25 to $3.50; Bartlett ditto, $5 to $7 per bbl.; melons, 25 to 40c.; grapes, $1 per basket; lemons, $6 to $7; bananas, $1.25 to $2; peaches, $2 to $2.25; sweet potatoes, $4; coconuts, $3 to $3.75.

DAIRY PRODUCE—There is really no change, except in butter, which is rather firmer. In butter, while it is firmer, the sale is light and the advance is only for the very best, there being quantities of fair holders who would be pleased to sell. There is a better demand for creamery. In eggs, there has been a further advance, and demand continues good. Cheese shows rather a light demand, and prices are easy. Some factories find milk getting scarce. We quote: Common dairy butter, 12 to 15c.; dairy, 16 to 17c.; new creamery prints, 20c.; cheese, new, $8\frac{1}{2}$ to 9c.; creamery, tubs, 18 to 20c.; old cheese, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c.

MOLASSES—Dealers are well supplied, and there is little movement. There is little or no syrup being sold. Holders of best grades are firmer. We quote: Barbadoes, 34 to 35c.; Porto Rico, 35 to 37c.; St. Croix, 33 to 34c.; Trinidad, 33 to 35c.; bbls, 34 to 35c.

SUGAR—Granulated continues easy in price with but light sales. Dealers are well supplied by purchases made before the new duty. In yellow the demand is better, and some very bright sugars are in the market. We quote: Granulated, 4 to $4\frac{1}{4}$ c.; yellow, $3\frac{3}{8}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$ c.; Paris lump, 5 to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c.; powdered, 5 to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c.

FISH—In dry the market is firmer, and prices are marked up. Dog fish are reported so plentiful that fishing is bad. In smoked herring quantities are being received, and the market is very dull. They sold ex-vessel as low as 4c. In pickled there is still a light demand. While the weather is so warm people do not care to hold large stocks. Shad fishing during the week has been very light, but those caught were extra good. We quote: Fresh haddock, 2 to $2\frac{1}{4}$ c. per lb.; dry, \$1.50; large cod, \$4; medium, \$3.90 to \$4; small, \$3; pollock, \$1.50; bay herring, \$1.25 to \$1.30 per half-bbl.; Shelburne, No. 1, \$4 per bbl.; half-bbl., \$2.40 to \$2.50; smoked herring, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; Digby chicken, 10c.; shad, half-bbl., \$5.50.

PROVISIONS—Sales of hams continue fair, but rolls are in very light demand. American pure lard has been offered here very low, and could be landed at almost the price of Canadian. Pork is marked down, though it is rather higher than earlier in the week. Beef is also quoted slightly lower. We quote: P. E. Island thin mess, \$16; clear pork, \$17.50; mess, \$16; beef, \$14 to \$15; pure lard, 10 to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.; hams, 11 to 12c.; compound lard, 8 to 9c.; rolls, 9c.; cottolene, $9\frac{1}{4}$ to $9\frac{3}{4}$ c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—There has been but little change. The demand is light. The present position of prices is increasing the sale of Manitoba. Many look for still lower prices. Oatmeal is dull. Cornmeal is a little lower, and sale is good. Some American and Ontario meal is now in the market. Oats are very dull. Old have dropped off in price. Very few are yet been marketed. In hay little new is yet arriving. Prices are firm at quotations. The large stock of old is being well cleaned up. Beans are rather easier with fair demand. We quote: Manitoba, $4.80 to $4.90; best Ontario, $4.70 to $4.75; medium, $4.50 to $4.60; oatmeal, $4.40 to $4.45; cornmeal, $2.80 to $2.85; middlings, $24 to $25 on track; bran, $22 to $22.50; hand-picked beans, $1.80; prime, $1.70; oats, Ontario, 42 to 45c.; hay, $12 to $12.50; pot barley, $4.15 to $4.35; round peas, $3.75 to $3.90; split peas, $3.70 to $3.90; P. E. I. oats, 40c. on track, by the car.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

Cut nails have advanced 30c. per keg.

Reports from Prince Edward Island are that cod and mackerel fishing are very poor.

John Sealy received several large shipments of smoked herring during the week.

Thos. E. Babin, commission merchant, of Moncton, has disappeared. It is feared he has taken his life. He was, it is understood, in financial and other troubles.

Collins received this week some extra value grocery molasses, both casks and barrels.

Mr. C. Ryan, representing the Foam Yeast Company, was in the city last week looking up business.

Nova Scotia is developing wealth in a new line. A considerable number of pearls have been taken at River Hebert.

It is understood the creditors of W. Hamilton, Hegan & Co., whose financial difficulties were spoken of last week, are being paid in full.

C. & E. Macmichael have received another shipment of Bryant's Root Beer Extract. Upward of 100 gross of this extract has been sold here this season.

Kent County reports a large mackerel business, one fisherman landing in one morning 760 fish. One morning from Richibucto 105 barrels were shipped.

Smith & Tilton, agents for Windsor salt, are particularly pleased with their sales. In boxes a very large business is being done, and the demand for bulk is growing.

Maconochie's goods are finding increased demand. This week Jardine & Co. and C. D. Trueman placed good-sized orders. The local agent reports that the handsome ad. in THE CANADIAN GROCER should have some of the credit for the increased sales.

The merchants had a pleasant call from Major Campbell, representing THE CANADIAN GROCER, during the week. He reports a satisfactory business. The Maritime advertisers are beginning to appreciate the large circulation this paper is having in these provinces, and the interest it shows in local issues.

Vanwart Bros., retail grocers of St. John, handled during the season 17,262 boxes berries. Our farmers would do well to give more attention to small fruits. A Mr. Flewelling, of Oak Point, had over 500 quarts of blackberries this season, and by particular attention in preparing his produce for market he gets extra prices.

The river steamers landing at Indiantown continue to be crowded with buyers as soon as they make fast to the wharf. The following prices for produce are being paid: Apples, $1 to $1.50; crabs, $2; blackberries, 7 to 14c.; blueberries, 40 to 45c. per pail; pumpkins, 10 to 12c.; peas, 40 to 60c.; beans, 40 to 50c.; squash, $1 to $1.25 per cwt.; tomatoes, 3 to 4c. corn, 4 to 8c.; potatoes, $1 to $1.25; beef, 4 to 5c.; lamb, 7 to 8c.; chickens, 40 to 60c.; turkeys, 14 to 15c.; pork, 7 to 8c.

BOARD OF CUSTOMS.

The first regular meeting of the Board of Customs, as reconstructed by the legislation of the last session of Parliament, was held on Monday in the office of the Assistant Dominion Appraiser at Ottawa, for the purpose of giving rulings on disputed Customs points. Those present were: F. E. Kilvert, acting commissioner and acting chairman of the Board; Thos. F. Blackwood, Toronto, Dominion Appraiser, and G. W. Jessop, Assistant Dominion Appraiser. The Controller of Customs will consider the decisions reached by the Board.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

HALIFAX, Aug. 22, 1895.

THERE is very little change to note this week. Business has not improved. In fact, some lines are almost depressed. Fish and fruit show some life, but flour, provisions, sugar, etc., remain almost at a standstill.

FISHSTUFFS—A fairly good business is being done in dried and pickled fish, but the volume of business in mackerel is curtailed by small receipts. They have not been so scarce for years. Prices are firm, and will hold so unless the catch improves. Salmon have again advanced, and the West India markets are using 3's instead of mackerel. We report an advance of $2 per bbl. Herring are coming in freely, and prices are on the down grade. The September catch, however, will be wanted at $2.50 for the West India trade. Holders of old stocks are about cleaned out.

PROVISIONS—The provision market seems to have fallen in with other lines and is decidedly quiet. There is a drop in beef since last week of $1 per 100 and to-day a good article can be purchased at $7, while $8 is a fair price for extra good. Lamb is quoted at 7 to 8c., sinking pelts, and veal at 4 to 5c.

POULTRY—There is very little doing in poultry. Chickens are worth 50 to 60c. per pair and fowls 50c.

EGGS—A Montreal trade paper reports eastern eggs arriving in that market. This seems curious when we find Ontario dealers looking for a market down here. The market has stiffened somewhat since last week and the quotation to-day is 12 and 13c.

POTATOES—Old stocks are about played out, and what few are on hand are selling at 20c. New potatoes are quoted to-day at 40c.

BUTTER—There is no improvement in the butter market. The provincial creameries are turning out lots of butter, but they are suffering for the want of cold storage, and find it difficult to get city dealers to handle their goods on that account. Good native is worth 16c., and creamery is fetching 18 to 20c.

CHEESE—There is no enquiry whatever for cheese. Shea & Richardson, large dealers here, say this has been the worst year for cheese in their experience.

HAY—It is rather early to talk about hay. There is said to be lots of old in stock, which will make up for all shortages. Cape Breton will be compelled to buy extensively.

GREEN FRUIT—Green fruit shows considerable life just now. The bi-weekly boats from Boston keep the market well supplied with fresh stock and the demand keeps good. California and New York State fruits are coming in freely. New apples are now on the market in fair quantities. They are selling in a jobbing way at $1.50 to $2.25, and at auction from 75c. to $1.50. Bartlett pears are plentiful and selling at $4 to $7, according to condition. Bananas are lower, the quotation this week being $1.50 to $2.25. Oranges are not in demand, and are consequently weak in prices. Lemons are stiffer. Delaware peaches and grapes are coming in. California peaches in boxes are quoted at $1.50 to $1.75; Delaware peaches, in baskets, $1.75, and Delaware grapes, in crates, $2.50; California plums, several varieties and very nice stock, are quoted at $2 to $2.50 per crate.

FLOUR—The flour markets are depressed. There is nothing doing and everything remains down. Quotations are: Hungarian patents, Manitoban, $4.75 to $5; Manitoba strong bakers, $4.60 to $4.75; Canadian pastry, $4.70 to $4.85; 75 p. c. roller patents, $4.40 to $4.50; 80 p. c. ditto, $4.30 to $4.40; 90 p. c. ditto, $4.10 to $4.20; straight, $4.15 to $4.20; extra, $3.90 to $4.

OATS—The oat market is quiet. Prince Edward Island is quoted at 43 to 46c.; Nova Scotia at 45 to 47c., and Canadian at 43 to 46c.

MOLASSES—Recent arrivals of molasses have eased the market somewhat. Quotations to-day are: Antigua, 30c.; Porto Rico, 32 to 35c.; Trinidad, 30c.; Barbadoes, 34c.; Demerara, "M.R." brand, 39c., and St. Kitts, 28c.

SUGAR—The refinery reports business quiet. General dealers' quotations to-day are: Porto Rico, in bhd., 3½ to 3¾c.; refined cut loaf, 6c.; granulated, 4¼c.; standard A, 3¾c.; white, extra C, 3¾c.; standard yellow C, 3¾c.; extra C, 3¾c.; yellow, extra C, 3¾ to 3¾c.

HALIFAX NOTES.

The Merchants' Bank has issued a circular to shareholders, stating that a meeting on March 7, 1893, it was decided to increase the paid-up capital stock from $1,100,000 to $1,500,000. The new stock has been allotted to shareholders at a premium of $50 per share, as they held stock at the close of business on the 14th inst. The stock and premium will be payable in four instalments of 25 per cent. each, on 14th September, 14th October, 14th November and 14th December. The new stock will be subject to dividend from date of payment of the several instalments, but cannot be transferred on the books of the bank until after 1st February, 1896.

A. R. McDonald has opened a general grocery and provision store at the corner of Grafton and Blowers streets. It is very attractive in appearance.

P. E. ISLAND NOTES.

The canning establishment of Messrs. Jones & McRae, at Pownal, is doing big work this season. Over three tons of preserves have been put up in pails, besides a large quantity of beans, peas, cherries, strawberries and other fruits in cans. Their trade is purely local.

TRURO NOTES.

Messrs. Carson and Cox have remodelled the front of their grocery store. They have put in plate glass windows, which greatly improve the appearance of their place of business.

BEAR RIVER NOTES.

Colin Rice succeeds I. D. Vroom in his well-established general mercantile business. Mr. Vroom was in business at Bear River for 21 years. He has a good successor in Mr. Rice.

A REMOVAL.

Lightbound, Ralston & Co. have removed from McGill street to 13 St. John street, Montreal, where they will in future carry on a grocery brokerage business, selling to the wholesale trade. They now represent Smith, Baker & Co., teas; Cutting Fruit Packing Co., California, dried fruits; Juan de Llano, Denia, fruits. The old building on McGill street is being torn down.

MONEY IN WINDOW DECORATIONS.

A REMARK made to the writer a few days ago by Thomas Martindale, one of the leading grocers of Philadelphia, indicates, says Grocery World, the extreme importance of attractive and painstaking window dressing, the branch of the grocery business usually the most neglected. Probably no other merchant in Philadelphia, barring the larger dry goods and clothing stores, bestows as much care upon his window displays as does Mr. Martindale. His statement in regard to their value was that "those windows sold as much, if not more, than the best man in the store."

The feature most valued by Mr. Martindale in dressing windows is the adopting of some characteristic idea. His Market street windows, for instance, never have more than one line in at one time. Last week the display was of coffee, half the floor being filled with loose roasted coffee and the remaining half with green. Sprays of bright red coffee blossoms, brought direct from the tropics, were arranged tastefully in the heap, and packages of tea and coffee were piled in ornamental tiers in the remaining window space. The Tenth street windows were filled with pyramids of wines and bottled soft drinks, canned goods, all arranged with a view to catching the eye of the passer-by and holding it. Around the bottles of wine were turned clusters of marvelously natural artificial grapes. Everything was spick and span clean, which is, if anything, more important than the ornamental feature.

One leading feature of Mr. Martindale's window dressing, and one from which he states that he has derived substantial returns, is that of constantly displaying novel advertising signs in the show windows. Mr. Martindale relates a case where a certain merchant of his acquaintance claimed to have made the greater part of the fortune which accrued from his business out of a characteristic system of window signs. There is a valuable pointer in this for every retail grocer in the land. Mr. Martindale prepares his signs himself. He uses ordinary manilla paper, with the lettering in blue and red ink. The matter on them calls attention to some special article and gives its price, or directs the reader to some display in some other window. Mr. Martindale was enthusiastic in speaking of the sterling value which lies in this method of advertising.

CHEAPER MATCHES.

A general reduction of 20c. per case all round has been made in the price of matches. Telegraph matches are now quoted in one-case and five-case lots at $3.50 and $3.30 per case respectively; Telephone, at $3.30 and $3.10; Favorite, at $2.35 and $2.25, and Red Parlor at $1.75 and $1.70.

HONORING E. A. DALLEY.

EVER since the organization of the Commercial Travelers' Association of Canada, one of the oldest and most esteemed officers has been E. A. Dalley, says The Hamilton Herald of Saturday, and at the last meeting of the Association, when Mr. Dalley announced that, owing to his health, he would have to resign his office, it was decided to tender a banquet to him as a mark of esteem. On Friday evening a convivial gathering of drummers assembled at the Royal Hotel, banqueted their retiring confrere, and spent a jolly night.

H. G. Wright, vice-president of the Association, occupied the chair, and John Hooper, also a vice-president, was in the vice-chair. Around the table were: John Muldrew, W. T. Hall, Jos. C. Black, John Burns, Jas. Seargeant, R. J. Orr, W. H. Stone, C. D. Kyle, R. H. Crosbie, James Taylor, of Toronto; J. H. Herring, Fred Johnson, Robt. Griffith, T. P. Allan, Andrew Murdoch, Alex. Munroe, T. M. Davis, James Hooper, F. F. Dalley, J. F. Egan, W. Bremner, of Hamilton; and P. T. McCullough, of Woodstock.

A tempting supper was provided, after which there was the following toast list:

"The Queen."

"The Army and Navy"—Capt. Stone, Andrew Murdoch.

"Our Guest," E. A. Dalley. The gathering sang "He's a Jolly Good Fellow," "He's a Daisy," etc. J. C. Black read an illuminated address, highly eulogizing Mr. Dalley for his activity and energy during his connection with the Board. He spoke briefly of the hardships of traveling years ago, when there were no railways, and travelers, after driving miles in a snowstorm, were glad to roll themselves in a blanket and sleep on a hotel floor. He characterized the old travelers as the pioneers and ambassadors of commerce.

In response Mr. Dalley suitably replied, reviewing briefly the history of the Association and his connection with it. He expressed sincere regret that owing to ill-health he was forced to resign from the Board, but assured his associates that he would always be prepared to lend every assistance possible to the Association.

"Commercial Interests of Canada"—Capt. W. G. Reid, John Muldrew, of McMaster & Co., Toronto, and Alex. Munroe.

"Commercial Travelers' Association"—J. C. Black, James Taylor and Capt. Reid.

The toasts of "The Press" and "The Ladies" were responded to.

During the evening songs were sung by J. F. Egan, "Our Native Land"; Tom Davis, "The Maple Leaf"; Tom Davis, "Our Own Dominion"; J. F. Egan, "Nil Desperandum."

Chairman Wright, on behalf of the Hamilton travelers, presented Mr. Dalley with a handsome reclining chair.

The recipient of the honors above referred to is a member of the well-known F. F. Dalley Co., and THE CANADIAN GROCER hopes health may be again restored to him.

N. S. AND P. E. I. MACKEREL.

A trip of Prince Edward Island mackerel and another of Halifax, aggregating about 500 barrels, came into Boston early this week, and sold at full prices. The receipts of shore mackerel at both Boston and Gloucester continue light, and the few sales made there are at prices above a parity with the New York market.

TRAVELERS VS. GROCERS.

Representatives of the Retail Grocers' Association and the City Travelers' Association, of Toronto, on Thursday decided the game of baseball adjourned from the picnic at St. Catharines about a month ago. The game was played at the baseball grounds, and resulted in favor of the Travelers by 20 to 19. The batteries were: Grocers, Davis and Snow; Travelers, Humphries and Clemes. Another game will be played on Wednesday next.

WORK AND LEISURE.

A DISTINGUISHED French thinker once remarked to a friend that only those who lived before the Revolution had any idea of how charming life might be. The remark, writes P. F. Cook, in a contemporary, has its significance in these days in America. We do not, as a nation, enjoy life. We lack repose. We hurry too much, and seemingly are determined to take our rest in eternity. We are missing those social delights to which the Frenchman alluded as being characteristic of pre-Revolutionary days. We are becoming stupid, too, because we lack seriousness and never take time to think. The society of France at the time mentioned was certainly fascinating from its delicate sense of refinement. Even the occasional outburst of coarseness sparkled with the jewels of wit; now it is covered with the tarpaulin of respectability. The coarse fellow then was a wit and scholar; now he is a dunce and a fool. Now the majority of our young people find nothing more serious to think about than horses and the like, and conversation, like letter-writing and a hundred other joys of a quiet and leisurely age, is fled, and in their place we have telegrams, slang, and slovenliness.

Work is a good thing—leisure is, too. Too much of either is to be avoided. Nowadays, however, there seems to be little danger of too much leisure—in fact, there is too little of it altogether, and we are losers thereby. It is from his leisure that a man constructs the true fabric of self, and all the really great work in the world of art has written on its forefront the imprint of leisure. It was genial Charles Lamb who said that “The time a man may call his own, that is his life,” and his best work shows the truth of the remark. At a time when the opposite doctrine is being most industriously preached, it may be wise for us to insist upon the necessity and benefit of leisure, and to put all that we can get out of it to the very best advantage. The art of doing nothing in some cases is as beneficial as the habit of never being without something to do.

A so-called American philosopher, speaking of the country, said a few weeks ago that he dreaded its quiet more than its noise. There is food for thought in this remark. The unnecessary noise and racket of modern life exist simply because the people are not educated up to an appreciation of quiet and repose. The philosopher referred to speaks for a large number of people. Too many of us have learned to identify bustle and noise with life and progress. The clatter of civilization has become as music to our ears, and we have lost the faculty, it seems, of enjoying that mental and physical quietude in which only can grow the finer and more intangible graces and charms of life.

THE FLORIDA CIGAR INDUSTRY.

The migration of the cigar manufacturing industry, in part at least, from Havana to Key West, has been succeeded by a similar flight of factories from the latter city to Tampa, Fla., and while Key West can in no sense be regarded as having lost the cigar manufacturing industry, Tampa may claim to have become, within a few years, a factor in that industry.

Correspondents at Tampa and Key West present a favorable view of the situation and outlook at each. From the point of view of Tampa, the exodus of a part of the Key West cigar industry has been so great as to cause those cities to practically change positions with reference to the industry, “while before that time Key West was the largest cigar manufacturing centre in the United States, now Tampa enjoys that position.” It is declared that fifty cigar factories have left Key West for Tampa. The total number of cigar factories at Tampa now is said to be in the neighborhood of one hundred.

Advices from Key West are that while it is true that the factories have been leaving for the mainland during the last seven or eight years, just as the first factories left Havana for Key West, the movement has been stimulated during the past two years by extra inducements offered Key West manufacturers to locate at Tampa. Yet it is claimed that “Key West has about held its own, and, as a rule, in place of the factories leaving, others, though generally not so large, have started up.”—Bradstreet's.

HOW AN EGG KEEPS.

THERE is nothing, says The Egg Reporter, which is more susceptible to surrounding influences than an egg. When it is fresh and new the shell is coated with a glaze, which prevents any air from reaching the inside or meat of the egg and starting decomposition. But unless the egg is properly cared for this coating soon wears off, and the albumen, or white of the egg, becomes thin and watery. The shell of an egg under a powerful microscope resembles very closely a very fine piece of lace, being thoroughly porous, and but for the coating that is provided by nature to protect it, the meat would soon become stale after production.

As soon as the white of an egg becomes thin, it is not strong enough to support the yolk, and when the egg is examined and turned around by the inspector or candler, the yolk will drop from side to side. Such an egg is known among the egg men as a "floater," and is thus distinguished from the newly laid stock. Floaters as a rule go into seconds, and are fit only for a certain class of cheap bakers' trade. They sell all the way from 2 to 4c. below the better grades at wholesale, and generally find a pretty good outlet at these lower figures.

After an egg has become a "floater" and remained in one position for a great length of time, the yolk lying on the bottom side of the egg adheres to the shell, and will stay in one position, no matter how the egg is turned or in what position it is placed. When it reaches that stage of decomposition it is called "spot," and is in pretty bad shape for commercial purposes. Such eggs, together with "black rots," as they are called, are used to finish leather with, giving it that high-glazed appearance which is noticed on new leather fresh from the tannery.

When an egg known as "spot" is broken, the yolk and white run out together, as the yolk is broken when the white is drawn off.

Because of the fact that the yolk of an egg adheres to the side of the shell when left in one position for any length of time, the custom was at one time to turn the package containing the eggs over, so that this adhesion might be prevented. This was when the storage people thought that the proper temperature to store an egg was about 40 degrees. But when the temperature of the storage is kept around 32 degrees, the white of the egg is prevented from becoming thin, and therefore the yolk does not stick to the shell. Not only does the low temperature prevent the glaze from coming off the shell, but the extreme cold serves to thicken the albumen so that it supports the yolk with difficulty.

There is no longer any excuse for musty eggs in good storage houses. There was a time when it was expected that more or less would be musty. That was before the day of modern and improved storage houses. Must in an egg is caused by dampness. If the temperature of an egg room is heated 32 degrees for any length of time, and permitted to rise a degree or two, then be cooled down again, great damage will result. The cooling down temperature is always accompanied by condensation of moisture in the atmosphere. The egg will remain cold in its case longer than the surrounding atmosphere, and when warmer air strikes it, the moisture will collect upon the shell of the egg and cause it to "sweat." A few repetitions of this process will leave a deep deposit, from which a fungus will spring, and this fungus, known as mildew, will taint the egg. In fact, a pine shaving left in the bottom of a case of eggs in storage for a few months will impart the pine odor to every egg in the case. This is the reason why storage people have to be so very particular about the class of lumber they use in their houses. Nothing but the very best of kiln-dried wood that imparts no flavor can be used with safety.

In the days of the old process when the temperature of the egg rooms was kept at 40 degrees or thereabout, it was not much out of the way to have a loss of three to five dozen eggs to the case from stock put away in April and May and taken out in the winter months. Now the average loss from a good cooler is not over a dozen, and more times not half that. There are instances where eggs have been taken out in January that were put away in April without losing a single egg to the case. Such eggs were, of course, put away in good order and closely candled.

A GREEN GROCERY SALESMAN.

"Saunterer," of The East Boston Argus, tells a good story of a green salesman in a grocery store: Well, the dealer bought the hams and shoulders and told the clerk that the hams were 13 cents and the shoulders 10 cents. He neglected to add "per pound," and is kicking himself. He went to town shortly afterward and left the new boy in charge of the store. Soon after he left a customer came in and asked how much the hams were. "Thirteen cents a piece," answered the verdant one. "What?" said the customer. "That's what I said," replied the clerk, "and the boss says they're cheap at that." "Well, I guess I'll take five," and take them he did, counting out 65 cents very cheerfully. On his way home he met several of his friends and told them of the "good thing" at Blank's grocery store, and they immediately proceeded to "push it along." For about an hour that store did a larger business in hams and shoulders than it had ever done before in a week. The clerk wondered why all the customers carried their bargains home with them and paid cash for them. He also thought that Blankville must be stuck on pig meat, to judge by the quantity each consumer bought. When the proprietor got home at night he wasn't long at getting to the bottom of the story, and a still shorter time at firing the clerk. "And I haven't sold a ham or shoulder since," he said.

A WORD TO CLERKS.

The argument held before young men to draw them to the city is the better chance there for rapid advancement. I have some doubts, remarks a writer in The Badger State Grocer, as to the soundness of this argument. In one of the towns where I used to sell a great many goods were a couple of young men who were clerks in the two leading stores in the place. They had many consultations with me over their chances of getting situations in the city if they should move that way, and my constant advice to them was to stick where they were. Some business called me to their town a few months ago, and I found these two young men at the head of the two leading stores there, and each of them was well fixed in money matters. I am confident that had they gone to the city they would be working on small salaries to-day.

Ceylon teas are taking the place of Chinas and Japans because they are

Purer, more Wholesome, more Pleasant

Ceylon tea is grown on large plantations, and is prepared by machinery in fine large factories; purity and cleanliness is everything. China and Japan teas are mostly cultivated in small patches by natives, who roll and prepare the leaves for market in their filthy huts, often mixing them with dirt.

Get your local papers to publish this. People will drink more tea if it be made in this way:

How to make Perfect Ceylon Tea.—Use fresh boiling water—that is, fresh water that has just commenced to boil. Have the teapot hot; pour the boiling water on the tea, and in five minutes pour into cups, or another hot teapot. Do not let the tea stand with the leaves longer than five minutes.

TRADE CHAT.

Retailers should bear in mind, says a contemporary, that while overstocking leads to depreciation of stock and loss of interest, understocking, on the other hand, means sales missed.

Calgary has now a pork-packing industry. It is under the management of Thomas Stone, of Stone & Co. The company occupies the premises recently occupied by the C. A. C. & C. Co. They find ready sale for their products.

McDonald & Co., wholesale grocers, of Winnipeg, are looking up a location for a branch establishment in Kootenay. A. McDonald is making a trip through the district with this object in view, says the Revelstoke paper.

The reports from hop growers in Ontario are anything but favorable. The frost during the early part of the season did a lot of damage to the plants, and during the past few weeks the vines have been attacked by an army of small worms that have almost destroyed the entire crop.

LATE BUSINESS CHANGES.

CLEANING BRASS.

This method is recommended for cleaning brass: If greasy, first swab it on a strong solution of potash or soda to cut the grease; also use this to clean the valves. Now take nitric acid, 1 part; sulphuric acid, ½ a part, or half as much; put in a stone jar. Have ready some fresh water and sawdust. Swab on the mixed acids, then the water, and rub off with the sawdust. A brilliant color is immediate. Having cleaned your valves as above, smear with saliva.

WINES OF THE WORLD.

According to a circular issued in connection with the Bordeaux (France) Wine Exposition, it is stated that nearly 3 000,000,000 gallons of wine are annually consumed throughout the world. The same publication says that the manufacture of adulterated wines is not as large as it was, and urges the Governments to prohibit the production and consumption of impure brands.

When the phylloxera devastated the vineyards in some parts of France, some other countries were induced to go into the cultivation of grapes, but, so far, it is uncertain whether or not the adoption of the industry has benefitted these countries. As for Australia and some others it is notorious that, at the present moment, the vine is not in general a source of profit there; that despair has seized more than one cultivator; that, in Australia, the state has been obliged to come to the rescue with subventions; and that, in the other countries, the vine has been at several points uprooted, with the object of planting other things.

CUSTOMS CHANGES.

Orders-in-Council have been passed at Ottawa giving effect to numerous changes in the Customs branch of the public service.

Niagara, Ont., has been reduced to an outport and warehousing port, with its outport at Queenston, under the survey of Niagara Falls. This change is in the direction of economy, as it is not intended to fill the vacancy recently created in the collectorship at Niagara.

The outport of Rockland, N.B., has been abolished, and the services of the sub-collector at that point, Alexander Rondreau, have been dispensed with.

The development in the west has called for changes in another direction. Virden, Manitoba, has been accordingly created an outport, under the survey of Winnipeg.

Nelson, B.C., has been made an independent port of entry, and Kalso, B.C., has been erected into a Customs outport and warehousing port.

The collector at Port Arthur, Peter Nicholson, has been superannuated. He is 63 years of age, has seen 21 years' service, and is too infirm to discharge the duties of the office. The superannuation allowance is $420. The salary of the office is about $1,000 a year. The next collector will be J. Wylie.

The resignation of Sydney A. King, collector at Kingsville, Ont., has been accepted from September 1.

Pierre Marier, landing waiter at Ottawa, has been superannuated on $222 a year.

G. A. Bois, sub-collector at Edmundston, N.B., has been retired on an allowance of $172 a year, and Levi J. Cyr has been appointed in his place.

The services of the sub-collector at Sandy Cove, Robt. Bishop, have been dispensed with.

Permission has been given the Bishop of Mossonee to import free of duty, from England, the material to erect a mission house at Moose Fort, James Bay.

CANADIAN EXPORTS.

Frederic Emory, chief of the Bureau of Statistics of the State Department at Washington, has been charged with "doctoring" the figures of exports declared for the United States from Canada in order to make it appear that the Wilson tariff bill had not benefitted Canadian trade. Mr. Emory explains the thing as a clerical error. He says: "The exports declared for the United States at the several consulates in Ontario, during the quarter ending March 31, 1895, as compared with the exports declared for the same quarter in 1894, are printed in the consular reports for August 1895, No. 179. Owing to an error in computation on the part of the Consul-General, the totals for 1894, as given in the advance sheets, where printed as amounting to $2,476,762.74. The figures in the preceding tables, by consulates, give the true total for the quarter as $1,884,800.59, making the increase for 1895 $738,491.31, instead of $146,539.16, as printed in the advance sheets. The correct figures are given in the regular edition of the consular reports for August, viz.: Total for quarter ending March 31, 1895, $2,623,291.90; total for same quarter in 1894, $1,884,800.59; increase for 1895, $738,491.31."

CANADIAN APPLES IN BRITAIN.

John MacLean writes to The Glasgow Citizen urging the Canadian packers of apples not only to see that their fruit is not dishonestly put up, but also to see that it is carefully packed. He condemns the "topping off" of barrels, showing how the practice destroys the confidence that should exist between shipper and buyer, jobber and retailer. He suggests that for the bazaar fruit market trade the ordinary barrel containing 120 to 140 lbs. of fruit could be very well replaced by plain, square, wicker baskets or crates, containing say 40 to 45 lbs. each, and costing less money than a barrel. Such packages would be more convenient to the contractor, costing no more freight and transiting, less liable to heating and waste in respect of less bulk (the normal moisture of the ripe apple being about the same as that of the potato); but over and above, all such packages would be more convenient for family purchase and use, and the broker, dealer and consumer could all see and guarantee what they are dealing in; and the trade would then become a household word, and the fruit a household article beyond limited computation, because every family can eat cooked apples, and every land lessee in Ontario would grow apples, and find better financial results than by growing wheat.

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Currency reform still has currency in the United States.

* * *

Humbugs nor any other kind of bug should be tolerated in the store.

* * *

Advertisements, like buildings, when badly put together, are weak.

* * *

A merchant is either progressive or retrogressive. There is no standing still in business.

* * *

It is a pleasing coincident that fall fairs and fair business should bloom at the same time.

* * *

The dispenser of vinegar should be as sweet to his customers as the purveyor of sugar.

* * *

Canned horse is considered canned nonsense by some people ; but it all depends on the horse.

* * *

People who fancy they have nothing more to learn, have not yet cut their "eye teeth" of knowledge.

* * *

The professed independence of some trade papers makes the devil laugh—the printer's devil, of course.

* * *

Flurry is the precursor of fury, and fury is incompatible with business ethics. Avoid, therefore, the precursor.

* * *

The store was never intended for a waiting room where loafers should wait till meal or bedtime came along.

* * *

Many are the swelled heads that are in Manitoba to-day. But they are of non-offence. They are wheat heads.

* * *

The advertisement takes no holidays, yet it never "runs down;" it is always soliciting business, yet it never tired ; it sleeps not, yet is never drowsy. Do you keep it in your employ ?

* * *

He who minds his own business has about as much on his hands as any man, ordinary or extraordinary, can well take care of.

* * *

The best answer to the question : Does advertising pay ? is the continuity with which the best merchants in all branches advertise.

* * *

An advertisement placed once in a journal does not sell out the store any more than does the coming of one swallow make a summer.

* * *

Great seems to be everything in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories this season. By and bye business will be great there also.

* * *

Competition is the life of trade right enough. It is only when to it is added unbusinesslike practices that it becomes the death of trade.

* * *

Better to keep stores open all night if logical be the argument that the longer a store is kept open the more money will there be made.

* * *

Equipped with more energy than brains are those who strive to divorce capital and labor. The two are too closely wedded to be ever separated.

* * *

An advertisement should be kept before the public continually. To pluck it up by the roots at certain periods and throw it aside prevents full fruition.

* * *

The sun's rays have evidently been making it too warm for Jack Frost in Manitoba. He has no one but himself to blame. He put in an appearance too soon.

* * *

The leaves are beginning to put on the sere appearance which anticipates the fall, but the fruit is putting on that ruddy appearance which anticipates the harvest.

* * *

Adam in the Garden of Paradise was not prouder of the wheat he raised than are the people of Manitoba of the golden grain they are now garnering. And it is a question whether he had reason to be.

* * *

There is evidently much more prejudice against Canadian cattle in some quarters in England than there is pleuro-pneumonia in cattle in Canada. It seems strange that pleuro-pneumonia can only be found in our cattle after they set foot in England.

* * *

Strange it is how motives change in some merchants. Going originally into business to make money, ere they are in it long a motive to do business for glory develops. At least that is what one must infer when they sell goods at or below cost.

* * *

Men who remain up late at night cannot get down to business early. They may get to the store or office on time, but getting down to business means something more than being on time by the clock.

* * *

Business men's organizations will not promote everything : They will not promote jealousy. Their influence stunts rather than stimulates its growth. Don't join therefore if you want to cultivate the Green-eyed Monster.

* * *

The Philadelphia grocer who substituted female for male clerks is enthusiastic over the result. So, doubtless, are the young men drawn to the store, even if those are not whose withdrawal was necessitated by the young ladies' incoming.

* * *

Frequently does one see in the newspapers paragraphs like this : "Blankville wants a physician;" but never like this : "Blankville wants a merchant." And the reason forsooth is that Blankville already has merchants enough and to spare.

WHAT NORWAY CAN SELL CANADA.

BY C. E. SONTUM, CHRISTIANIA, NORWAY.

IN continuation of my last article, where I mentioned a few Canadian manufactures and products for which there is an opening here, I will in the following call attention to the principal articles for which Norway seeks a market in Canada and the United States. And the most important of these must be regarded everything that belongs to the fish line.

It is a well known fact that Norwegian herrings are of superior quality and are for this reason much in demand among the Scandinavian and German population of the United States, to which country there are shipped thousands of barrels every year. Norwegian herring is, according to quality, packed under three distinct brands, the finest KKK, second KK, and third K. All of these are herrings fished during the fall months. There is also a grade KKKK, fished in the spring, and this is larger, and as a rule fatter than any of the others. Generally, however, there is not a great deal of this herring obtainable. Of late years there has been a great deal of smoked herring shipped from Norway, and this is pronounced to be equal to anything on the market.

Mackerel caught on the Norwegian shores has for years been acknowledged the most excellent article on the Boston market, and is for this reason commanding good prices. The way the Norwegians prepare the fish and the difference in the quality of this mackerel and mackerel caught on other shores is so great, however, that the price does not seem to cut any figure. There certainly are different grades, but take it all through, the Norwegian mackerel has the reputation of being graded right, and this no doubt pays in the long run.

Of stock-fish and salted cod, there is shipped large quantities from Norway to almost every part of the globe. The stock-fish, when soaked out and prepared right, is a very delicate dish, and is much thought of in places where the supply of fresh fish is limited.

Canned fish and different kinds of prepared fish food in cans are also getting to be quite important export articles. Norwegian anchovies we are often having inquiries for, and have already had the pleasure of sending several shipments to Canada. The anchovies can be furnished in 1 or ½ barrels, kegs and glass jars, as well as in tins of different sizes. I will also mention Norwegian sardines in oil and apetyl-sild, as goods that I think would take well in Canada.

Fish and whale oils are prepared to a great extent on the coasts of northern Norway. Norwegian cod-liver oil is favorably known to the medical trade all over the world, and is for this reason to be relied upon as a pure article.

A comparatively new export article is marble. There are lately discovered large quarries, chiefly in the northern part of Norway, which contain a very fine marble; but it is just during the last five or six years that this industry has taken large dimensions. Since the Chicago and Antwerp exhibitions Norway is world-renowned for her fine marble, and there has been recently formed a stock company with a large capital to further utilize the vast amount of marble, which, when brought to the market, brings a fairly good return for the money spent in providing the quarries with the necessary machinery, etc.

Besides the rough marble the company also manufacture a full line of hewn and polished marble, such as building material, in the shape of wall panels and columns, counter and table tops of various descriptions, etc. A number of lately erected buildings here in Christiania are finished with Norwegian marble, and foreigners, of which a great many thousands visit Norway during the tourist season, all agree that the effect brought out by Norwegian marble is grand.

Of other goods suitable for export to America I will mention condensed milk, and especially that of the Norwegian Milk Condensing Co., Ltd. This company is putting up a superior grade of milk, known as the "Viking Brand," and which is getting in great favor wherever introduced on account of its purity. It contains no adulterations whatever, and is not prepared with sugar, whereby the sweet taste, generally so disliked, is avoided. For ships' use it has no equal, as it can be used in every possible way to the same advantage as fresh milk. It will keep in the warmest climate for years. We have already had the pleasure of sending several shipments of this milk to both Canadian and New York firms.

A new company, the Dahl Milk Co., Ltd., has been organized lately for the purpose of exporting Norwegian highland milk in a highly sterilized state and prepared so it will keep for a very long time. This milk is not condensed. On account of the very rich pastures which are to be found in the Norwegian mountain regions, the milk attains an unusual richness and flavor, and is considered in foreign countries to be just as good as Swiss milk of similar preparation, and it is being favorably recommended wherever introduced.

Fish hooks, nails and horseshoe nails are exported in large quantities to most every part of the globe where such are used. Norwegian horseshoe nails especially are much in demand on account of their toughness, and they do not split.

I shall always be glad to answer correspondence from Canadian importers as well as exporters, and give them every information in regard to duties, trade prospects, etc., and eventually place them in connection with solid firms in the Scandinavian countries.

COLD STORAGE FOR FRUIT.

At the convention of Quebec apple growers, held at Como last week, the subject of cold storage was taken up, Prof. Craig defining this as putting fruit into a temperature so low that no interior chemical change will take place. When this can be done the fruit may be stored indefinitely. Last year he had tried storing apples, pears, peaches and grapes at a temperature of 34 degrees. This arrested the ripening process, which continued just the same as though it had never been stopped, when the fruit was taken from storage. The fruit should be picked before it is quite ripe if the best results are looked for, and then it may be easily kept until mid-winter. Stone fruit did not give such good results as apples and pears, even Bartlett's being perfect at the end of February.

The professor advised his hearers to try and go in for some system of district cold storage warehouses, where by paying a small fee, fruit could be stored in time of glut until the market was open. This question of cold storage had been taken up by those who grow for export, and the Ontario fruit men had followed the lead of the butter men in asking the Government to provide them with some means of cold storage, so that perfect samples of Canadian fruit may be put on the English market. The Dominion Government had therefore made arrangements for two trial shipments in butter ships. The fruit will be picked in the Niagara district and carefully wrapped in tissue paper and packed, each box bearing the grower's name. Should the experiment prove a success, other shipments will follow, and the speaker advised the delegates to see that Quebec was not left out in the cold in this matter.

FRUIT FOR THE NORTHWEST.

The first carload shipment of fruit this season was shipped from New Westminster, B. C., to the Northwest the other day by the Chilliwack Valley Fruit Growers' Association. The car contained 1,050 boxes, aggregating in weight 24,000 pounds. The fruit consists of plums, apples, and crab-apples, and was sent forward in a car specially arranged as regards ventilation. Mr. A. H. Gillanders, of Chilliwack, and Mr. E. Hutcherson, of Ladner, superintended the loading. The fruit was consigned to dealers in Calgary, Regina, Brandon and Winnipeg, and the car, being attached to a special tea train, was expected to make passenger train time to its destination.

Beware of Imitations

The phenomenal success of Ram Lal's Pure Indian Tea has been such that it has a large number of imitators. We would ask our customers to impress on consumers the necessity of being sure that each package has the registered brand and trade mark

HAMILTON TRADE GOSSIP.

INDICATIONS are apparent that trade is awakening from its midsummer quietude. At the same time, however, business is by no means yet active. General trade appears to be better than it was last year at this time. One wholesaler informed me that so far, with one exception, his house had done considerably more business every month than it had compared with last year.

"The sugar trade has undoubtedly been far from satisfactory," remarked a wholesaler to me on Wednesday, "but, do you know, our sales are only about \$200 less than for August of last year. At the present moment there is a little depression in sugar markets on account of the situation in Europe. It is only a temporary thing, however, and it is doubtful whether our refiners will take much notice of it, as Canadian refiners have really been below the United States markets all the time. Although German granulated has created a little excitement on the New York market, I don't think it will cut any figure here, the difference between it and our granulated being too great. That is one thing our refiners have done: They give us good granulated sugar even if we have cause to kick about the quality of the yellow sugar sometimes." I find the local demand is still light, but jobbers are confidently looking for an improved business next month. The idea for granulated is $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{1}{4}$ c.; dark yellows, 3 to $3\frac{1}{4}$ c.; medium bright, $3\frac{1}{2}$ to $3\frac{3}{4}$ c.

The movement in teas the past month has been a fairly satisfactory one; even rather more so than is usual at this time. The market at the moment is unusually bare of Young Hysons, and teas of this kind are arriving meet with a ready sale.

Some little movement has taken place in lower grade syrups during the week. This, however, is confined to certain sections of the country; for fine syrups the demand is light. "The farmers," explained a wholesaler, "rarely buy a good syrup; they make their sprups out of sugar, and get better quality than if they had bought the syrup."

"I don't think there has ever been such a clearing up of currants and raisins on this market as there has been this year, and there is no doubt that every bit of new fruit will be gobbled up immediately it arrives. How prices are going to be it is hard to say; but I don't think we are going to see big figures." New season's Valencia raisins are expected on this market next week.

"I would like to know when new season's dates will be on this market," sarcastically remarked a local wholesaler to me. "I see that one firm advertises that it has got them. Hitherto we have not got them till about the end of November or the beginning of December. Perhaps they are growing them in their potato patch."

"That's so," interposed a broker; "they are growing everything in Canada just now."

The demand for canned goods of all kinds with, perhaps one exception, is a waning one. That one exception is canned fruits, and the demand for them is a little better, although it does not amount to a great deal. "We find," explained one wholesaler, "a demand for canned fruits from certain sections of the northern lake districts where the fruit crop has not turned out well this season."

"Do you know," remarked a member of one of the leading houses, "that there has been a marked increase this summer in the output of Canadian pack sardines in both mustard and oil, and I am firmly of the opinion that they are superior to many lines of the imported article, especially the cheaper lines."

A new granolithic sidewalk is being laid in front of the building on McNab street that Balfour & Co. are to occupy shortly.

There has been no change as yet in the price of canned salmon. Business is quiet. A few days ago one house here bid $4.40 f.o.b. on the Coast, but the packers' representative could not be moved from $4.50.

Speaking with one wholesale man regarding the situation, he said: "People who bought salmon ahead at fancy prices have made a mistake, and prices will have to come down before the goods go into consumption."

Local retailers propose to take advantage of the trades' procession on Labor Day. They will close their stores, and many of them will be found in the procession with "floats," descriptive of their various wares.

I find that there is a decided opposition to the demand of the T., H. & B. for an additional bonus of $250,000. I have yet to meet a business man who favors it.

Hopes are somewhat strong in the breasts of the merchants here regarding an up-town G. T. R. station, as a result of the coming visit of Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson. "Do you know," facetiously remarked one of them, "that I should not be at all surprised, in view of the T., H. & B.'s request, to see the G. T. R. apply for another bonus."

A letter dated San Francisco has been received from Mr. Bristol, of Lucas, Steele & Bristol, who is making a tour of the Canadian and United States northwest. He reports that the weather at Frisco is cold, and that an overcoat is quite acceptable. Mr. Bristol is expected here in a few days.

Lucas, Steele & Bristol are showing some nice samples of Stower's lemon squash and lemon syrup, and I can vouch from practical experience that the flavor is as good as the appearance.

W. H. Gillard & Co. have a carload of "Unicorn" brand prunes due to arrive this week. On Tuesday last they got in a carload of green Rio coffee. I saw a sample and it is very fine.

James Turner & Co. are in receipt of the first shipment for the season of Crosse & Blackwell's candied peels. Their overdue shipment of "Mecca" coffee has at last arrived, and a peculiarity to be noted is that the second shipment came simultaneously with it. James Turner & Co. are now in a good position to supply "Mecca."

Lucas, Steele & Bristol have issued an attractive grocery catalogue. Among its features are a map of the city and another showing Hamilton's railway facilities, a freight time-table for the guidance of country customers, and a time-table showing when the different foreign goods are due on this market. Did You Ever Know ?

The earliest loaves of bread were made round like a ball. Later loaves were generally baked flat and thin, and served at meals as plates to hold other food before being themselves eaten. In the twelfth century twenty kinds of loaves were known in France, each kind having its special name and use. Among others were loaves known as the Pope's Loaf, the Court Loaf, the Knight's Loaf, the Squire's Loaf, the Peer's Loaf, the Varlet's Loaf, and others named in rank according to their elegance and excellence. Our OBELISK FLOUR (registered) makes the "Peer's" Loaf—the bread from it is the "peer" of the best.

The grocers all over the country take their day of rest during the week, but the milkman, like the policeman and the sailor, knows no rest on the Sabbath. That is one more point why you should push the sale of "Jersey Brand" Condensed Milk. If your customers all used it on Sundays only the trade would pay you.

THE UNJUST SYRUP TARIFF.

WHATEVER may be our opinions as to the relative merits of protection and free trade, this must be conceded: A high tariff levied on a pure article which is not produced in the country, or not in sufficient quantities, is unjust. It is a species of legal extortion, and is not protection. It should, therefore, not be tolerated.

At the moment the grocers of the Dominion are beginning to make enquiries regarding syrups for their fall and winter trade. In a few weeks more they will be buying in earnest. The syrups they require are dark as well as bright and medium. Dark syrups the Canadian refineries make only to a limited extent. Compared with the consumptive demand, they practically make none at all. It pays them better to work up their dark syrups into their yellow sugars. Hence, buyers must needs look elsewhere for the desideratum. In other words, they must look to other countries for supplies. But here they are met with a barrier—practical insurmountable—the tariff.

During the tariff revision of 1894 the Government raised the duty to $\frac{1}{2}$ c. per pound, or equal to 7c. per gallon. Importers complained, and loudly. And, as though to mete out punishment for so doing, at the last session of Parliament an additional tax of $\frac{1}{4}$ c. per pound was put on, making the duty $\frac{3}{4}$ c. per pound or $10\frac{1}{2}$ c. per gallon.

This, of course, is practically prohibitory. And for what reason? Not because dark syrups are inimical to the public health. Were it that no one could with justice complain. The only other conclusion, therefore, is that it is put on to help the Canadian refiners to force the people to confine their purchases to syrups of certain grades.

There is in this country a large consumptive demand for dark syrups. Outside the lumbering camps there is a large general demand, among the poorer class of citizens particularly. Now, if they want to import dark syrups they are taxed to the extent of about 100 per cent. or more, while every gallon of the higher priced Canadian product, which they may be compelled to take instead, means the addition of so much more to the cost of their living expenses than would have been the case had it been possible for them to have purchased the cheaper dark syrup, whether of home or foreign product.

The lowest price syrup the refiners are selling to-day is about 2c. per lb. laid down in Toronto. This means 28c. per gallon. To-day in New York what is termed a common syrup can be bought at about 10 to 11c. per imperial gallon. This, laid down in Toronto, would cost from $23\frac{1}{2}$ to $24\frac{1}{2}$ c. per gallon, counting freight 3c. per gallon and duty $10\frac{1}{2}$ c. per gallon. What is known as a fair syrup would cost about 1c. more.

No one in the trade, as far THE CANADIAN GROCER is aware, contends for free syrup. The particular burden of their cry is the onerous character of the present duty. A duty of, say 5c. per gallon, appears to be about the idea of what would be right. And we are assured that at that rate a nice dark syrup could be laid down here at about 18c. per gallon. We are not in a position to say whether it would be as good as what the Canadian refiners are getting 10c. per gallon more for. But it is enough to know that people who wanted a syrup cheaper than they now can buy would be able to do so.

The Government, in justice to the public—in justice even to itself—should remove the anomaly.

BETTER ERA FOR MANITOBA.

PROVIDENCE has been good to Canada. The period of commercial dullness had reached the turn in the lane some months ago, and all that was wanted to swing it around and start it on a period of activity was good crops. The desired factor has materialized: Canada has practically a bountiful yield of every staple product.

Manitoba is, of course, the cynosure of all eyes at the moment. She, of all the provinces of Canada, needed most a bountiful harvest. Agriculture there not being as diversified, the "Prairie Province" suffered keenly from the low prices ruling for cereals. And the province that stood most in need of a bountiful cereal crop has been blessed with what she wanted: An increased acreage is filled to overflowing with golden grain, rich in both berry and straw.

The latest statistics gathered regarding the crop are those gleaned by the Canadian Bankers' Association, and the fact that they practically substantiate figures previously collated by other authorities enhances their value. They are as follows: Wheat, per acre, 27.09 bushels; oats, per acre, 49.70 bushels; barley, per acre, 37.43 bushels; estimated wheat yield, 30,890,076 bushels; oats, 23,988,102 bushels; barley, 5,758,224 bushels; total, 60,636,402 bushels.

And one satisfaction is that while there is a much larger yield than last year in Manitoba, the price promises to be better for all cereals, and for wheat especially, which is now about 15 per cent. higher than a year ago. The meaning of this is obvious.

Then during the past year there has been a marked development of the dairying and live stock industries in Manitoba, in fact in diversified farming generally, all of which means increased revenue for the farmer, and, in turn, better business for the merchant.

A new and better era has dawned for Manitoba, and rejoicing thereat with her is the rest of the Dominion.

NEW HALLOWEE DATES.

A grocer asks: "Are new Halloween dates on the market yet? A wholesale man advertises in a daily paper that he has them in stock. Is it not too early for new dates?"

THE CANADIAN GROCER made enquiries along the street and every grocer spoken to declared that new Halloween dates would not be on the market for two or three months yet. "Why, the dates aren't cured yet," remarked one man. The first shipment of dates last season consigned for this market left London on November 21.

REDUCED CURRANT CROP.

If latest mail advices from Patras are to be relied upon, the Greek currant has taken a decided turn for the worse.

According to these advices the crop is not progressing favorably, and owing to a variety of causes: There is damage by rot and worm, and owing to the intense heat the fruit is shrivelling up.

Previous forecasts, it will be remembered, estimated the crop at 180,000 tons, but recent estimates placed the figures at 135,000 to 140,000 tons. It would thus seem that nature promises to do for the Greek currant grower what his Government has undertaken to do, viz., take care of the surplus production.

The Retention Bill, which passed the Greek Chambers some weeks ago, was due to go into force on Wednesday last, the 28th. The principal provisions of the bill are a reduction of equal to about $4\frac{1}{2}$ c. per cwt. on the present tax which currants pay on being exported. Then the Government retains 15 per cent. on all currants exported, which is equivalent to about 15c. per cwt. With this money the Government is authorized to purchase currants, as long as the price does not exceed a certain figure, namely, about 7s. per cwt. f.o.b. cases, and the currants thus purchased are to be sold exclusively for wine-making and distillery purposes.

A recent feature of the currant market, according to advices from London, was the development of a demand from France for currants for wine-making, and a fair quantity of old currants was sold for this purpose.

THE SUGAR SITUATION.

A DECIDED weakness developed in the outside sugar markets last week. The cause was undoubtedly the continued dullness of the market the world over and the heavy character of present stocks. Europe led in the decline.

In New York, German granulated has again been an important factor. At the end of last week it was quoted at 3.86c. in New York against 4.23c. for the home article; and there have been some free arrivals of the German article there lately.

This week, however, a reaction has taken place in London, Tuesday morning's cables announcing an advance in beets there. In New York, on the other hand, there was a fractional decline in both raw and refined sugar.

We are now drawing near to the new campaign. On the one hand we see large stocks. According to Willett & Gray's Statistical, the total stock in all the countries of the world is estimated at 800,431 tons more than the corresponding period of 1894.

In contradistinction to this bearish feature is the condition of the new crops. Cuba undoubtedly holds the key to the situation, and as long as war is being waged there, it is uncertain in which direction the key will be turned. Where the insurgents have control the sugar mills are forbidden to grind, and if this condition continues it is obvious what must be the result. In any event, there will be a curtailed crop of sugar cane in the island.

In the meantime the sugar men profess confidence in the market, and they base their premise on the expectation that the shortage in the crop will neutralize the bearish influence of the stocks that are likely to be carried over into the new campaign.

In Canada there is a little more enquiry to be noted, although the movement is still very light, but there is an improvement, slight as it may be. And the fact that there will be more of the late fruits than was at first anticipated will be some help to the market in Canada.

NEW CROP VALENCIA RAISINS.

No large import contracts are yet noted for Valencia raisins by any of the agents for leading brands. A few odd 100-box lots have been placed, but they are not a fair criterion.

Agents for the larger shippers at Denia state that they have received instructions to wait until they receive definite news regarding the reception accorded the first shipments made to Liverpool on the 15th of the month. With this information in hand they will be able to do business more intelligently, and are, therefore, not urging matters yet.

The latest quotations that have been offered at Montreal are 15s. 3d. to 16s., cost and freight, for fine off-stalk, and 19s. 3d. for 11yers, shipment via Liverpool. No offers are yet spoken of in connection with the direct steamers to Montreal, and none are expected for some weeks yet until the dates of their sailings are definitely known.

DONATIONS TO FALL FAIRS.

Is it not time some of our dealers put a plug in their demands for subscriptions to fall fairs and their other amusements? If a merchant gives his customer fair value for his money there is no reason why more should be expected of him. This system of demanding contributions is entirely wrong, and no respectable merchant should countenance it unless the object is a more worthy one than we are usually asked to support. The wholesale dealers in cities have their hands full in their subscriptions to the various charities and churches surrounding them, and by the time they get through with these, most of them, I am sure, feel that a halt should be called, instead of which the annual demand for donations for fall fairs is sprung upon them from all directions. It is a question of offering a prize in goods or cash, or losing trade. One is coerced into doing the inevitable. Will you kindly take this matter up, and try and relieve a long-suffering class?

THE author of the above paragraph is a member of one of the largest wholesale houses of the kind in the country.

THE CANADIAN GROCER is ever ready to champion the cause of any and every business interest, be it manufacturing, wholesaling, or retailing, when that cause is a righteous one. The one under discussion we deem to be of this character.

Fall fairs, like a good many other things, have been overdone in this country. Even the smallest villages are not satisfied unless they have their fall fair, with the result that fairs have become such a multitude that they are crushing the life out of each other; and the quicker some of them are dead the better for those that remain.

The list now standing in the columns of the Toronto daily papers contains over 130 fairs, and this is probably not all there are in the country by a hundred or more.

Upon the merchant or manufacturer whose territory is wide the tax must obviously be great. It is all very well to say that he is at liberty to refuse a subscription when approached. Of course he is, but he knows that with the refusal may also go a customer. Practically it is, as our correspondent says, coercion. The writer has been in attendance at rural exhibition board meetings when committees of merchants were either deputed to visit or write the people from whom they bought their goods and solicit prizes; and the inference was that there was something more than mere soliciting to be done.

If there was only an exhibition or fair here and there to which donations were asked it would not be so bad. But the evil has become so great that country merchants should no longer allow themselves to be made use of to perpetuate it. If each would stop and think that what he is deputed to do there are perhaps a score or more from other places bent on a similar mission to the same customer, we have sufficient confidence in the trade to believe that requests or demands for donations would fall off as suddenly as does ripe fruit when the branch bearing it is shaken.

Stop and think.

WILL CRANBERRIES BE DEAR?

According to advices from Mount Holly, N. J., forest fires have done incalculable damage to the cranberry marshes of New Jersey. A great many bogs have been devastated by the flames, while others have been saved by the process of "flooding," which was resorted to by those who had warning of the impending visitation. In these this year's crop will be lost, but this is a mere trifle compared with the total destruction of the bogs.

If the reports of these fires have not been exaggerated (as they most likely have), we may this season experience a repetition of last year's high prices. The season opens early in November, so we ought to soon know what we have to expect.

Canada annually consumes tons of cranberries, about a third of which are home-grown, the remaining two-thirds coming from New Jersey and Cape Cod. If the advices are trustworthy, Jersey berries are likely to be scarce this fall, and prices will therefore be high, unless, perchance, the domestic crop happen to be big enough to relieve the situation. Of the probability of this we cannot say, as advices regarding the prospects for the Canadian yield are very meagre as yet.

NEW SPANISH ONIONS.

There were some small receipts of new Spanish onions at Montreal on Wednesday and Thursday, but the quality was not very desirable.

A couple of carloads only were offered, and they did not command a very ready sale. Some larger receipts are expected direct in the course of a week, as advices of about 1,500 crates were received this week by Rose & Laflamme.

These are from well-known shippers, and have been offering to arrive at about 80 to 85c per crate. They met a fairly good reception at these figures.

A FALSE ASSERTION.

W C. FORD, chief of the Bureau of Statistics, Washington, the other day said "that the depression in Canada has been more severe than in the United States."

Mr. Ford is either a prevaricator of the truth or an ignoramus. To consider him the latter would be the most charitable, but one can scarcely conceive that an ignorant man would be placed in such a responsible position as that of chief of the Bureau of Statistics of the United States.

But whatever may have been the cause of Mr. Ford's statement it is enough for us to know that it is not true.

The wonderful manner in which the United States is recovering from the depression of 1893-4 is exciting the admiration of the civilized world. And that recovery is doubtless more marked than is the recovery of trade activity in Canada. But trade and commerce in Canada never sank to the low ebb which it did in the United States. Trade in Canada was dull. There was financial depression the world over, and Canada could not well escape infection.

A merchant may have the wealth of a Croesus, and yet if those with whom he does business are failing on the right hand and on the left he is bound to suffer, although he at the same time may be in no danger of bankruptcy. And nations, like individuals, are affected by the financial condition of the nations with whom they trade.

Canada's commercial relations with the United States are of the closest character. She and Great Britain divide the honor of occupying the first position in this respect. Naturally, therefore, Canada was affected by the condition of affairs obtaining in the United States. But although she caught the complaint, it by no means follows that she had as virulent an attack. A retrospect amply demonstrates that she did not.

Not during all the period of depression were any of Canada's railways in the hands of receivers; in the United States nearly the whole of the great Pacific system, let alone other lines, was in the possession of such officials.

Counting the suspension of the Banque du Peuple, which took place the other day, Canada has only had two bank failures during the past five years; in the United States some seven hundred banks bit the dust during 1893 alone.

In Canada the people were not so struck with fear that they went and hid their money and left the banks without sufficient currency to transact ordinary business; in the United States the people, having lost confidence in the banks, did hide their money, leaving the banks in such a position that holders of drafts frequently had to wait weeks before the necessary currency was forthcoming, while the clearing-houses had to come to the rescue of the currency by issuing receipts.

At no time was Canada on the verge of suspending gold payments, while known to history is it how near the United States came to being compelled to do so.

During the time of depression the manufacturing industries of Canada undoubtedly felt its influence, but that there was the stagnation in this country that obtained in the factories in the United States does not need any denial on our part. It is too well known to everybody.

No, instead of being more severe than in the United States, the trade depression in Canada was much less severe. And Mr. Ford need only turn to the financial papers in his own country and read what they had to say by way of comparison to demonstrate it.

NEW CROP PRUNES.

THE first of new French prunes are expected to arrive in Montreal about September 15. This is rather earlier than the first receipts last fall, and may be attributed to the fact that the stock of prunes of all kinds in Canada is almost exhausted. This has led buyers to operate earlier, and they have also stipulated for as prompt shipment as possible.

Last fall there was no urgent reason for pushing forward supplies, as dealers generally had carried over quite a fair quantity, out of which current demand could be satisfied.

Pretty full prices have been paid for these first shipments owing to this fact, while the firmer tone of the primary market in Bordeaux has also had its influence.

It is anticipated that prices will open at about 4 3/4 c. Montreal, as they cost pretty near that figure laid down.

The quantity placed so far approximates in the vicinity of 2,500 cases, and is chiefly of the well-known brands of Dufort & Co., Bordeaux.

With regard to new crop Austrian prunes, a fair demand has been experienced for them for the same reasons that have governed the sale of French goods. About 1,500 cases have been contracted for of well-known brands, among others the "Ostrich," and prices on these purchases are expected to open at about 6c.

This makes about 4,000 cases of new crop French and Austrian prunes placed to arrive in Montreal, and the values governing these purchases are about 20 per cent. higher than in 1894.

TURKISH AND CALIFORNIA PRUNES.

Cable advices received in Toronto this week from Trieste emphasize what THE CANADIAN GROCER has already said regarding the prune crop. The cable in question says the crop is decidedly short.

In the natural order of things this means a higher market. Orders that have so far been placed, and there have been a good many, are at prices ranging from 3 to 4s. higher than last year.

The situation in California prunes, in contradistinction to that of the Turkish article, is unsettled. In spite of a drop of half a cent per pound in price on the primary market, the demand during the past week or 10 days has dropped off materially.

Two reasons have been advanced for the break. One, as explained by a New York paper, is that California commission houses desired to retaliate upon the exchanges for ignoring them and doing business direct with the East. The other is that old stock prunes are being offered as new goods. Perhaps both have got something to do with the depreciated values. But then all California dried and evaporated fruits are somewhat neglected at the moment.

MONEY AND STOCKS.

A BETTER feeling has developed in bank stocks. "The money," explained a member of the Toronto Stock Exchange, "that has been rolling into the banks of late is now likely to find employment in moving the harvest, and as this will increase their earnings, a firmer feeling has developed on the Stock Exchange."

The rapid advance which has characterized the fire assurance stocks appears to have about reached its limit; but the market is still firm. "I don't expect much business in them, however, while prices remain as they are now," remarked a broker."

C. P. R. stock is still gathering strength in anticipation of the increased revenue that will accrue to the railway as a result of the big crops in Manitoba and the Northwest.

Commercial Cable declined slightly on Tuesday. "The cause is rather neglect than anything else," explained a member of the Exchange.

The debenture market is very quiet, very few transactions being reported. There is still a demand, however, for municipal debentures to pay 3 1/4 to 4c.

Call loans remain quiet. It is anticipated, I am informed, that there will be an increase in the present rate of 4 per cent. I see that in New York the anticipated increase in rates have not yet taken place. The large amount of money released by the bond syndicate, is given as the reason. Call loans on stock collateral there have ruled at 1 per cent.

Last week in New York, for the first time in several months, there was some accumulation of notes in the hands of commercial paper brokers, for the reason that several of the big banks were loaned so closely up to their limit that they were forced to decline some choice lines. This resulted in a surplus of offerings of other than the best names and a slight advance in rates.

ARGUROS.

DEPARTMENTAL STORES.

THE retail merchants of Chicago are now thoroughly organized in their opposition to departmental stores. In the west end of that city alone, it is said, 500 retail shops have been closed within the past year, the patronage formerly enjoyed by them having passed over to the big downtown establishments, where everything, from an ounce of pepper to a piano, may be purchased under one roof.

So the retailers are now undertaking to have a law passed by the Legislature of Illinois imposing a tax of $5 a year on a retailer who sells only one class of goods, "such as boots and shoes, or hats and furnishing goods, or groceries, or meats," and for selling each additional class of goods a fine of $5,000 a year would be imposed. This would run the annual penalty on department stores up to fifty or a hundred thousand dollars.

It is hard to say at this distance what success this crusade will enjoy, but one thing is certain, and that is that the landlords of the hundreds of small stores now vacant will do battle on the side of the retailers. On the other hand, however, the general public, who have enjoyed the cheaper prices of goods at departmental stores, will oppose anything that is likely to injure them.

A side issue has to be considered, and that is: What will become of the thousands of general storekeepers throughout the State of Illinois, who, in order to exist, have to sell several lines? The passage of such a law as is proposed would practically exterminate the species. Another obstacle in the way of the successful operation of such a measure, if passed, would be the difficulty of drawing the line between certain classes of goods.

A FINANCIAL EXPERT'S VIEWS.

Mr. Thomas C. Irving, Toronto, superintendent of Bradstreet's Mercantile Agency, returned on Saturday last from a trip through Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and British Columbia. Like all travelers who have recently made that journey, Mr. Irving is enthusiastic over the crops in Manitoba. "Fifteen million dollars easily has come up through the ground in wheat alone," he remarked to THE CANADIAN GROCER. "The crop has undoubtedly placed the people of Manitoba on their feet. The farmers will be able to pay up back interest to the loan companies and liquidate their indebtedness to the implement men and storekeepers. But manufacturers and wholesalers in the east should not be reckless in pushing goods. It is surprising the quantity of goods that are sent out there. But it must be remembered that the population from Lake Superior to the Coast is only somewhere about 300,000, and although there are a great many tourists out that way, yet the consumptive demand has its limit. It is well, therefore, to avoid reckless trading."

Mr. Irving always looks well, but, as a result of his journey to the Coast, he is now looking better than ever.

LOWER PRODUCE RATES.

Another special tariff on butter, cheese and eggs has been issued by the Canadian Pacific for Manitoba and the Northwest. It makes a considerable reduction. On cheese shipped in box cars the new and the old rates are as follows: Winnipeg, 90 (new), 115, (old); Portage, 92, 120; Carberry, 94, 123; Brandon, 94, 125; Virden, 98, 129; Moosomin, 98, 131; Regina, 102, 139; Moose Jaw, 102, 140; Medicine Hat, 110, 152; Calgary, 114, 160; Stonewall, 92, 118; Gretna, 92, 115; Morden, 92, 118; Deloraine, 98, 128; Minnedosa, 94, 125; and other places in proportion.

SCOTCH HERRING.

According to The N. Y. Journal of Commerce, though recent arrivals of Scotch herrings have overstocked the American market and demoralized quotations, advices from the other side of the water indicate that higher prices will rule in the near future. In fact, the primary market is said to be advancing rapidly, owing to the small catch. Letters received state that the output is likely to be fully 100,000 barrels short.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Aug. 29, 1895.

WHEAT.

TRADE is gradually although but slowly getting into a more active condition, but the movement is by no means brisk yet. Another week, however, a decided improvement may be looked for. The dullness which has characterized the sugar market for some time still obtains, although there are more enquiries than there were. Canned fruits are beginning to move fairly well. Canned vegetables are still dull. A limited quantity of new pack salmon is on the market, and it is in good request, but transactions between canners and wholesalers are at a standstill. The tea market is attracting a little more attention, and except in low grade Indias, which are lower, prices are stronger. Syrups are stronger, the refiners asking practically higher prices, but there is not much doing. Cheap Valencia raisins are still in demand, and there are a good many fine Patras currants selling. Payments are fairly good.

CANNED GOODS.

New pack "Horseshoe" salmon is on the market this week. The quantity is limited, however, while the demand is good. The ruling price is $1.45, but there is an odd house that will accept 5c. less under special conditions. Fresh supplies of new tall lobster are also on the market this week, but the demand is light. Quite a nice demand has sprung up for canned fruits, especially strawberries, blackberries, and plums. New plums are on the market. There is still scarcely anything doing in canned vegetables. We quote: Tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; corn, 80 to 90c.; peas, 80 to 90c. for ordinary; sifted, 95c. to $1; extra sifted, $1.40; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.20; strawberries, $1.90 to $2.20, according to brand; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 90c to $1, gallons, $2.25 to 2.40, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, new pack "Horseshoe," $1.40 to $1.45, in tall tins; do., Cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; new lobsters, $1.80 to $1.85 for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.40; half tins, $1.35. Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.65 to $1.75; 2's, $2.65 to $2.75; 6's, $8 to $8.25; 14's, $18 to $19. Chicago canned beef, 1's, $1.75 per dozen; 2's, $2.85. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEE.

There is still a scarcity of green Rios. Brazil growths are still unsettled in New York. We quote green in bags as follows: Rio (new season), 19 to 21c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 20 to 22½c.; Java, 28 to 33c.; Mocha, 30 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

RICE.

Business remains much as before. We quote: "B," 3¼ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 3¼ to 5¼c.

SPICES.

Business continues fairly good in pickling spices, but there is nothing special to note in other kinds. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 22 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

There is nothing new to note either locally or in the primary markets. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.;

Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

The dullness appears to be lifting a little, although it is but very slight. A better trade next month is, however, confidently looked for. Already there is considerable enquiry along the street, showing that stocks in wholesalers' hands are getting low. The beet market was firmer in London on Tuesday, but in New York, on the other hand, there was a decline in both raws and refined. We quote: Granulated, No. 1, 4¼ to 4½c.; do., No. 2, 3¾ to 4c.; yellows, 3¼ to 3½c.; Demerara, 3½c.

The N. Y. Journal of Commerce is of opinion that it is quite unlikely that the market for raws will get upon any solid uniform basis until the status of refined goods is more positively fixed and the outcome of the season's deal in beet at the European markets is determined.

SYRUPS.

The refiners are asking higher prices for syrups. They are trying to get ½c. more. There is not much doing, although the usual demand is expected to begin shortly. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

The market remains quiet and featureless. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 30 to 32c.; half-bbls., 33½ to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 37c.

TEAS.

A few Japan teas have been moving, and the demand is chiefly for them. There is some enquiry for low grade China blacks, but the new crop is not in yet. China green teas of all kinds are wanted, but the high price prevents many transactions. Advices state that Foochow blacks are strong in the primary market, prices being in some instances 10 per cent. higher than last year. It is said that second and third crop Foochow blacks are short to the extent of 30 to 40 per cent. Japan teas keep very stiff in the primary market. Smith, Baker & Co. report them to be of short supply, with low grades about 3c. per lb. higher than last year, with offerings light. Fine Moyune teas are high in China, but it is expected that prices will settle down to about where they were last year. Low grade Indian teas are easier in London on account of free offerings. Ceylon teas, on the other hand, are in active demand in London, with prices in Colombo $2\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb. higher on the average. We quote ruling prices to retailers: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

Cable advices received this week state that the market is uncertain, and that it is hard to tell at the moment what the tendency of prices will be. Early shipments of Arguimbau's brand are expected next week. Locally there is still a fair demand for cheap raisins. We quote: Off-stalk, 80 to 90c. per box; fine off-stalk, 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; selected, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; layers, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c.

There is a good demand for fine Patras currants, and rather better than is usual at this season. Crop reports are not favorable. We quote as before: Filiatras, half-bbls., 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c., bbls., $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; fine Filiatras, half-bbls., $4\frac{1}{2}$ c., bbls., $4\frac{3}{4}$ c.; Patras, $5\frac{1}{2}$ c., in cases; Casalinas, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $5\frac{1}{4}$ c.; Vostizzas, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c. in cases and half-cases.

Prunes are still scarce on the local market. J. & U. Liebman & Co., of Trieste, cable that the crop is decidedly short. We quote: Bosnias at 6 to 7c., and Bordeaux at $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.; California prunes, 9c.

Evaporated apricots are still neglected. We quote: Apricots and peaches, $12\frac{1}{2}$ to $13\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb.; new apricots, 15c.; nectarines, $13\frac{1}{2}$ c.; pitted plums, $12\frac{1}{2}$ to 13c.

Sultana raisins are quiet and unchanged, at $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c. for good fruit.

Figs are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, $4\frac{1}{4}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

Dates are quiet and unchanged at from $4\frac{1}{4}$ c. up.

BUTTER, CHEESE AND EGGS.

BUTTER—The situation is not much changed since last week. The finer qualities of butter hold their own pretty well. Some Manitoba dairy and creamery offered a few days ago proved of good quality and sold quickly at very fair prices. Prices are not much changed. We quote: Old summer dairy and store packed, 7 to 9c.; fresh prints, 15 to 16c.; fresh tubs, 14 to 15c.; Fresh creamery—Tubs, 18 to 19c.; pound prints, 21 to 22c.

CHEESE—Very little export trade is being done, but the market remains pretty firm, the factories selling at a little higher price. New Canadian is being sold at the factories at $7\frac{3}{4}$ to 8c. per lb., while $8\frac{1}{2}$ c. is the Toronto quotation. Last August and September makes bring 10 to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.

EGGS—Are firm at 11 to $11\frac{1}{2}$ c. per doz., 12c. being asked in some instances.

GREEN FRUIT.

The advance in lemons prophesied by THE CANADIAN GROCER in these columns more than once has transpired and they may go higher yet. Considerable domestic fruit is being handled, and the importations of California lines are large. At present we have three classes of peaches on the market, viz., California, Delaware and Canadian, the latter perhaps more than holding their own, a great many preferring their flavor to that of the imported lines. There is some reason to believe that cranberries, the season for which opens early in November, will be dear, but advices regarding the incoming crop are too meagre yet to warrant any accurate estimate of the situation. Cucumbers can be had for the asking, but tomatoes are bringing higher prices because the opening of the canning factories is cleaning up the surplus supply. Grapes are cheaper and water melons are dearer. We quote prices: Lemons—Sorrento, Palermo and Verdilla, $7 to $8 per case. Oranges—California seedlings, $3.50 to $4; Sorrento, $3.75 to $4. Bananas, $1 to $1.50; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 a sack; cucumbers, Canadian, 15c. per basket; new cabbage, 75c. to $1.25 per bbl.; Canadian tomatoes, 25 to 40c. per basket. Green California fruit—Peaches, $1.40 to $1.75 in boxes; pears, $2.25 to $3; plums, $1.25 to $1.75; green apples, $1 to $2.25 a barrel; watermelons, 18 to 20c. each; muskmelons, 50 to 60c. per basket; grapes, 4 to 7c. per pound; Canadian Crawford peaches, $1.25 to $1.50 per basket; Delaware Crawfords, $1.25; Canadian Bartlett pears, $1 per basket.

COUNTRY PRODUCE

BEANS—Quiet at $1.70 to $1.75.

DRIED APPLES—Jobbers quote at 6 to $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Jobbers quote at 8 to $8\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb. in 50-lb. boxes.

POTATOES—The glut continues and good potatoes are actually selling on the street at 35c. per bag.

HONEY—Strained in bulk has advanced to 8 to 9c. Honey still sells at $1.50 to $1.80 in the comb.

HOPS—Canadian, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c.; Pacifics, 14c.

HAY—Baled, in car lots, is quoted at $12.50, and in ton lots at $14.

FISH.

The situation is practically unchanged, fish being a little more plentiful than last week. We quote: Skinned and boned cod-fish, $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.; boneless fish, $3\frac{1}{2}$ to 4c.; haddock, 5 to 6c.; Labrador herring, \$3.25 to \$3.50 per half barrel and \$5.50 to \$5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, \$2.50 per half barrel, and \$4.50 to \$4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, \$3 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 3c.; pike, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to 5c. per lb.; flitch cod, 5c.; finnan haddies, 8c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 10 to 13c.; Georgian Bay trout, 7 to 8c.; white fish, 8 to 9c.; Restigouche salmon, 20 to 25c.; mackerel, 20 to 25c.; steak cod, 7 to 8c.; haddock, 6c.; black bass, 9 to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c. Fresh Lake Erie herring, \$2.50 per 100.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

Dressed hogs are still quoted at $6.75 to $7 per 100 lbs., and the prices of hog products remain as follows:

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 8c. for carload lots, and $8\frac{1}{2}$ c. for small lots; backs, $8\frac{1}{2}$ to 9c.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 11 to $11\frac{1}{2}$ c.; rolls, 8 to $8\frac{1}{2}$ c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, $10\frac{1}{2}$ to 11c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., $11\frac{1}{2}$ c.; small hams, 12c.; pickled, 10 to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.; backs, 10 to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.; picnic hams, $7\frac{1}{2}$ to 8c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, $8\frac{3}{4}$ c.; tubs, 9c.; pails, $9\frac{1}{4}$ c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $15.75; Canadian short-cut, $16 to $16.50; clear shoulder mess, $13.75 to $14; shoulder mess, $13.50 to $13.75.

FLOUR AND FEED.

WHEAT—White, 72c.; red, 72c.; goose, 61c. per bush.

OATS—36 to 39c. per bush.; new, $30\frac{1}{2}$ to $31\frac{1}{2}$ c.

BARLEY—46 to 48c. per bush.

FLOUR—The market is very flat, and a further decline in prices is looked for, although none has occurred this week yet. We quote: Straight roller, $3.50 to $3.60; Manitoba, $4; patents, $4.25.

BREAKFAST FOODS—We quote: Standard oatmeal, $4.10; rolled oats, $4.10; rolled wheat, $2.50 in 100 lb. barrels; cornmeal, $3.25; split peas, $3.50; pot barley, $3.75 to $4 per bbl.

MEAT.

While there has been no actual change in prices since last issue, yet dealers report foreign advices as pointing to lower figures. Should this be confirmed the natural results may be looked for. Present prices being paid at outside points range from $4 to $4.70 per bushel for good to choice quali-

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—Are weaker and accumulating. The tanneries are not buying, expecting a reduction shortly. Big dealers are selling cured as low as 8½c., but are paying 8c. and 7c. for No. 1 and No. 2 green.

CALFSKINS—Nothing doing.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Aug. 29, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE grocery market has exhibited a fair degree of activity in some of the leading staple lines during the past week, but on the whole, the situation is still quiet. In sugar low offers from the refineries have induced a rather better demand from the jobbing trade, but the actual distributive movement is not large as yet. In syrups and molasses business is quiet, while prices are steadily held all round. A fair degree of activity has been noted for small parcels of Japan and black teas, and the tone of this staple is very firm. In dried fruit very little import business has yet been done either in Spanish raisins or Greek currants. Canned goods of all kinds rule steady, notably staple lines of vegetables and fish, such as corn and tomatoes and mackerel and salmon. In fact, on the whole the grocery outlook, though quiet at present, is a quite hopeful one.

SUGAR.

The lower prices that have been noted have led to a better demand in a wholesale way for sugar and some large lots of stock have been taken from refiners' hands since our last. In granulated, refiners are still selling round lots at 4c. and 50 bbl. lots at 4½c. Yellows are quoted at 3 1-16 to 3¾c. at the factory. With regard to jobbers' prices they are difficult to fix. Some of the houses are asking the advance on refiners' prices, but others have sold at cost prices. Though we quote a range of ¾ to ¼c. higher than the refiners' price it is not rigidly adhered to as follows: Granulated, 4½ to 4¾c., and yellows, 3¾ to 4c.

SYRUPS.

There has been a fair demand for syrups during the week, and at this writing the market is more active between first and second hands. The distributing trade, however, is of a quiet character. We quote 1¾ to 2¾c., as to quality and quantity.

MOLASSES.

Business in molasses has been quiet, and values are firmly held. Demand from the country in a jobbing way has been fair, and prices are at 37c. for Barbadoes, and Porto Rico 33 to 34c.

RICE.

Millers report a fairly active business in rice, there being a good demand, for the season of the year. In a jobbing way business is not very active. We quote as follows: Japan, $4.30 to $4.50; crystal Japan, $4.80 to $5; standard B, $3.45; C.C. style, $3.20; Patna, $4.37½ to $5; and Carolina, $7 to $7.50.

SPICES.

There is little change in the spice market, trade showing no improvement over a week ago. We quote: Penang black pepper, 8 to 10c.; white pepper, 13 to 15c.; cloves, whole, 10 to 20c.; cassia, whole, 10 to 20c.; nutmegs, 40 to 90c.; Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c., as to grade.

COFFEES.

There is no activity to note in the market either in a wholesale or jobbing sense. The only large parcels that have been moved during the week were Maracaibo and Rio, at 19½c. for the former and 18½c. for the latter. These figures were, of course, for round lots between traders. We quote green bean coffee: Maracaibo, 20 to 22c.; Rio, 19 to 20c.; Java, 24 to 28c.; Jamaica, 19 to 21c.; and Mocha, 27 to 31c.

TEAS.

There has been considerable business in tea in the aggregate, but the individual transactions were chiefly for small lots. Still the movement was sufficient to show the healthy tone of the market. Enquiry has been mainly confined to Japans, at a range of 13¾ to 22c., and blacks at the same range. A feature also has been the sale of some Ceylons to the jobbing trade.

DRIED FRUITS.

There is little activity in the market for Valencia raisins. As noted elsewhere, the import business so far has been inconsiderable, as the agents for leading brands are not urging business. We understand, however, that some business for the first direct steamer, in off-stalk, has been put through this week at 13s., which is about equivalent to 3¾ to 4c. laid down in Montreal. No import business in layers has been noted since our last. We quote: Off-stalk, 3 to 4½c., as to quality, and layers 4½ to 5½c., as to grade.

California raisins have continued fairly active and values rule firm. We quote spot prices in a jobbing way: 6½c. for 4-crown loose muscatels, and 5½c. for 3-crown.

The currant market is steady, and so far no large import business has been noted. We understand, however, that sales agents have offered new crop to arrive at 9s., or about 3c. laid down in Montreal. No large business was noted, however, on the basis at the time of writing. We quote spot prices 3½ to 4½c., according to package and quality.

There is no change in prunes, prices for which are steadily held. Offers for stock to arrive this fall have been made at 18 to 19s., which shows the firmness of the market. For spot business values are steady at 5c.

There is no change in dates, which are held steady at 5 to 5½c.

Figs are quiet, with stocks very small here. We quote baskets and bags at 4 to 5c. for ordinary qualities, and 9 to 10c. for higher grades in boxes.

There is no change in evaporated fruit. We quote: Peaches, 12 to 15c.; pears, 10 to 13c.; apricots, 14 to 19c., and prunes, 10 to 11c., as to quality.

NUTS.

The market for nuts generally rules firm. Advice on Tarragona almonds to arrive are 2 to 3 francs firmer at 11 to 11½c. laid down here this fall. Spot prices, therefore, are very firmly held at 11½ to 12c. In Grenoble walnuts business for import has been done at 70s. cost and freight Montreal, or about 10 to 11c. laid down. We quote: Brazils, 8 to 9c.; shelled almonds, 18 to 25c.; Tarragona, 12 to 13c.; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 13c.; shelled ditto, 24 to 25c.; filberts, 6½ to 7½c.; and pecans, 8 to 10c.

CANNED GOODS.

Few new features are to note in the canned goods market, the firm feeling referred to in our last being well maintained. Contracts for new corn and tomatoes to arrive in large lots have been put through with wholesale grocers here at 75c. The firmness in mackerel is conspicuous owing to limited stocks here, while salmon are offered this week as before at $4.50 f.o.b. on the Coast. We quote: Lobsters, $6.50 to $8.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $10.50; salmon, $5.20 to $5.50; mackerel, $5; tomatoes, 80 to 90c. per doz.; peaches, $1.90 to $3 per doz.; corn, 80c. to $1 per doz.; peas, 85 to 95c. per doz.; strawberries, $2.25 to $2.50; raspberries, $2; green gages, $2 to $2.25; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2.25 to $2.50, and 3-lb. apples, 90c. to $1.10.

GREEN FRUIT.

There has been a fair business in green fruit all round, and prices are firm in tone except in apples and bananas.

APPLES—Fair demand but good supply. No. 1 fruit fetch $2.10 to $2.15, and No. 2, $1.25 to $1.75.

PEARS—Fairly steady under a fair demand, at $1.75 to $2.25 per keg.

ORANGES—These fruit are practically out of season, but we quote values at $3 to $4 per box, as to quality.

LEMONS—The market for these has been rather excited during the week under light supplies, and values have jumped 50c. to $1 to $5 to $6 per box.

CLEMES BROS. - TORONTO

BANANAS—There is a glut on the market at a decline of 75c., ranging from 25 to 60c. per bunch, as to quality.

CALIFORNIA FRUIT—Values on these hold steady and receipts are kept well cleaned up. We quote: Peaches, $1.25 to $1.50; plums, $1.20 to $1.50, and pears, $2.25 to $2.50, as to grade.

FISH.

The fish market during the week has been a fairly satisfactory one, the movement in fact being larger than is usual at this season of the year. Large receipts of fresh British Columbia salmon were anticipated, but they did not materialize, as the big percentage of the shipments went to New York. They are selling here in cases freely at 13c. per lb. Haddock are moving at 4 to 4½c., No. 1 Labrador salmon at $11.50 to $12 per bbl., green cod 4½ to 5c. for No. 1. Cape Breton herrings are quoted at 5 to 5½c., and boneless cod at 5½c. per lb., and dry cod $5 per 100 lbs.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—There has been no change in eggs during the week, but business has been quiet. We quote 9 to 11½c., as to quality.

POTATOES—These rule quiet and steady as last quoted, viz., 35 to 45c. per bushel.

HOPS—Demand is only limited, but prices are unchanged at 5 to 8½c., as to quality.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—These rule quiet and unchanged. We quote sugar at 6½ to 7½c. for new and 4 to 6c. for old; maple syrup in wood at 4 to 5c. per lb., and 50 to 60c. per tin.

TALLOW—There is no change in tallow, the market being quiet. Prime is held at 6 to 6½c., and lower grades at 5 to 5½c.

BEANS—Prices are steady to firm at $1.85 for hand-picked, and lower grades $1.30 to $1.50.

HAY—The easy feeling in hay has not been dissipated, but there is no further change in price. We quote: No. 1 timothy, $10 and No. 2 $9. At country points in this province No. 2 is offered at $8.50 and No. 1 at $9.50.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

Since our last the feature of the flour market has been the weak feeling which prevailed, and prices for Manitoba grades are reduced 35c. per barrel, patent being quoted at $4.15 and strong bakers' at $4. In Ontario grades the feeling is also weaker and values are 5 to 10c. lower. We quote: Winter wheat, $4.15 to $4.35; spring wheat, patents, $4.15; straight roller, $3.75 to $3.90; straight roller, bags, $1.75 to $1.90; extra, bags, $1.75; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.90 to $4.

In sympathy with the weakness in oats the tone of the market for oatmeal is easier and prices show a decline of 10 to 15c. We quote: Standard, bbls., $3.70 to $3.80; granulated, bbls., $3.80 to $3.90; rolled oats, bbls., $3.80 to $3.90.

There is no change in the feed market, business being quiet and prices firm. We quote: Bran, $17; shorts, $19; mouillie, $22 to $23.

PROVISIONS.

There was no important change in the local provision market. Business continues quiet and principally of a jobbing character at about steady prices. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $15.50 to $16; Canadian short cut, mess, $17 to $17.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 11c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9½ to 10½c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 11c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 7½ to 7¾c.

BUTTER.

Butter is dull but steady. The stock of creamery is not excessive, and holders are pretty firm on the whole. In dairy stocks their is little or nothing to report. We quote: Finest creamery, 17¼ to 18c.; finest Townships dairy, 14 to 14½c.; finest Western dairy, 12 to 14c.

CHEESE.

The cheese situation on the whole is unchanged though prices, owing to speculative purchasing, are rather higher. On the one hand there are the shippers, who protest that they have no encouragement, and on the other there is free buying of the August make at the advanced prices. In fact, the news of the market is very contradictory. Cheese was offered over the cable Tuesday at 37s. and refused, and on the other hand there were shippers who claimed to have made 39s. This is about equivalent to 8c. spot, but the majority on the street had no such orders. Yet there was an active demand for 8,000 August cheese offered at the wharf Monday morning. About 5,000 sold for 7¾ to 8c., and were closed out before noon. The remaining 3,000 did not quite come up to the requirements as to quality, but were taken during the course of the afternoon around 7½c. Aside from Quebec cheese, values are greatly nominal, but Western were offered here to-day at 8¼c. We quote: Finest Ontario makes, 8 to 8½c.; Townships' makes, 8¼c.; other Quebec makes, 7½ to 8c.

ASHES.

The market is quiet and steady. We quote: Firsts, $4.10 to $4.15; seconds, $3.75 to $3.80, and pearls, $5.25 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

The lemon market has had a sharp jump of 50c. to $1 per box higher during the week.

Mr. Watson, the secretary-treasurer of the Canada Sugar Company, is away on a holiday to Little Metis.

Offers for fall importation on new crop currants are equivalent to 3c. laid down in Montreal for Provincials.

Latest cable quotations on Grenoble walnuts to the trade here are 70s. cost and freight laid down in Montreal.

Mr. Rose, of Rose & Lafamme, got back at the close of last week from an extended trip in the Maritime Provinces.

Mr. Poirier, head clerk with J. H. E. Davis, St. Catherine street, has resigned, and is now open for another engagement.

The first consignments of Bordeaux prunes of Dufort & Co.'s brands are expected on this market by the middle of next month.

L. Chaput, Sons & Co. state that their cables on Tarragona almonds have advanced 2 to 3 francs for the f.o.b. quotation during the week.

Ewing, Herron & Co. are sending forward to Quebec this week some large shipments of French mustard and other spices and condiments.

J. Alex. Gordon & Co. have been appointed Canadian agents for Batty & Co.'s pickles and sauces. They should do well, as the goods are excellent.

The first offers on new crop Spanish raisins for direct shipment to Montreal were made this week. They were equivalent to a cost of 3¾ to 4¼c. laid down.

There have been several large shipments of B.C. fresh salmon passing through here to New York this week. That market is taking the most of these fish. They are packed in cases smothered in ice, which is replaced at regular intervals as wanted.

Rose & Lafamme are offering the trade here this week Forsyth's (Fresno, Cal.), fine prepared dry table fruits, such as Russian clusters, imperial 6-crown clusters and 4-crown clusters. The figures on these are said to be very close to those for Malaga, if not better.

Advices to A. P. Tippet & Co. state that there is a good outlook for crops of fruit in California, and that the dried first shipment will be made in the course of a fortnight. New California raisins should be on this market therefore by the middle of September.

Laporte, Martin & Co. are now booking orders on new pack canned goods of all kinds for future shipment. They offer special values in all lines, and solicit correspondence regarding their figures.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 29, 1895.

BUSINESS during the week has been fair, but at this season there is nothing new to report. Our lime merchants report business very dull, as compared with the first six months of the year. This is unfortunate, as we are in a splendid position to ship this class of goods. There is one reason why our trade with the West Indies is not larger than it is, and that is, that some of our merchants are not as careful as they should be regarding the quality of goods they send. In spices there is no change in local prices, but the feeling is firmer. In cream of tartar, the outside market has again advanced.

OIL—The demand in burning oil is better, and dealers find the busy season is approaching. Fall orders are coming in freely. In lubricating there is nothing new, except that cod oil is coming in more freely. Prices are rather easier. We quote: American, 22¼c.; best Canadian, 21¼c.; prime, 18c.; cod oil, 28c.

SALT—The demand is light, and some which arrived via Boston had to be put in store. A cargo of 6,000 sacks is expected shortly. The demand during the season has been lighter than usual. As importations were light, it was thought salt would be scarce, but owing to the above fact, stocks are all that are needed. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory filled, 95c. to $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.80 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per doz.; bulk dairy, $2.80 per bbl.; bulk, cheese, $2.70.

CANNED GOODS—In salmon the market is bare and the quantity bought to arrive is small, merchants still hoping for lower figures. In vegetables the orders are about all in, and they have not been very large. In fruits the orders are light. Few Canadian packers are quoting peaches and it looks as if there would be a good sale of American. Some California have been offered at reasonable figures. Oysters are rather firm, though prices on spot have not changed. Some salmon are expected to arrive shortly and are quoted at $6 a case. Prices are: Corn, 95c. to $1; peas, 95c. to $1; tomatoes, $1 to $1.05; corned beef, 2-lb. tins, $2.65 to $2.80; 1-lb. tins, $1.60 to $1.70; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $3; 2's, $2 to $2.10; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; salmon, $1.50; flat, $1.75; clams, $5.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $3 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1; pineapples, $2.75 to $3.

DRIED FRUIT—The only feature in the market appears to be the backwardness of dealers in buying new Valencia, prices of which are rather easier. There is a fair demand for California loose muscatels. They are much the best raisin to sell at this season. It would be well for packers of dried apples, now that the season is approaching, to take the advice of THE GROCER and bulk their fruit, taking it off the strings and pressing it well into the barrels. We quote: Sultana raisins, 6 to 7c.; Valencia, 4c.; layers, 5c.; London layers, $2 to $2.25; California loose muscatels, 5 to 5½c.; currants, bbls., 3¾c.; half-cases, 4c.; evaporated apples, 7½ to 8c.; dried apples, 5½ to 5¾c.; dates, 4 to 4½c.; prunes, 4 to 5c.; figs, 11 to 18c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; do. apricots, 12 to 14c.; do. pears, 12 to 13c.; cleaned currants, bulk, 6½c.; 1 lb. cartoons, 7½c.; American onions, $3.50 per bbl.; coconuts, $4 per 100.

GREEN FRUIT—The output is very large. Apples are coming to hand more freely and of better quality. The auction sales very much hurt the price. It is not expected as many will come here from Nova Scotia as last season, though there is a good average crop. Lemons are very high. Oranges are but fair quality. Cranberries are being largely received, and quantities of blueberries continue to be exported. Peaches are scarce and high. Grapes are beginning to arrive in large quantities. Close quotations on green fruit are hard to give, as the markets change quickly and there is such a difference in quality. We quote: Peaches, $2.50; pears, $6 to $6.50; California pears, $3.50; apples, $1 to $2 per bbl.; oranges, $4 to $4.50; lemons, $6.50 to $7; bananas, $1 to $2.50; oranges, half-box, $1.75 to $2; California plums, $2.50; grapes, 30 to 75c.

DAIRY PRODUCE—In cheese the market here is very flat, and there are a good many in first hands of early make, the factories being very backward in taking market prices. They are in many cases losing money. In butter the market is better, though prices continue low. Really good butter is hard to get. It is not expected, however, that prices will go much higher. There is a better demand for creamery. A gentleman who is just home from the West Indies says that he saw Canadian butter there, which was shipped via England. He thought, both in butter and cheese, that if we paid more attention to putting these goods up as the trade there demands, we would have a much larger trade. Eggs are in good demand at quotations, and stocks are not large. We quote: New cheese, 8½ to 9c.; new butter, 16 to 17c.; eggs, 12 to 12½c.; fresh creamery prints, 20 to 22c.

MOLASSES—The movement is light. A small cargo is here, but is meeting with a light sale. The quality is not as good as this market requires. In fact, at Barbadoes they are taking too much out of their molasses, and many complaints are heard. If they wish to hold the large trade they have they must make a change. Holders of best grades are firm. We quote: Barbadoes, 32 to 34c.; St. Croix, 32 to 33c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 36c.; syrup, 35c.; Trinidad, 32 to 33c.; New Orleans, bbls, 34 to 35c.

SUGAR—This is one of the few lines which show strength. Granulated continues to be sold below refiners' price. Some of our merchants have sold large quantities to go west at better prices than they could get here. There is still quite a quantity of that bought before the change of duty to come forward. Yellows are lighter stock, and show good demand. Some Montreal sugars are in the market. We quote: Granulated, 4 to 4¼c.; yellow, 3¾ to 3⅝c.; Paris lump, 5 to 5½c.; powdered, 5 to 5½c.

FISH—The demand is light, and, except in dry, prices are easy. In dry, prices are firm, but ex-vessel they are hardly as high as paid early in the week. A fair quantity of pickled herring arrived this week, but, as yet, the demand is light. Smoked continue very dull. Very few fresh shad have been brought in this week. We quote: Medium cod, $3.80; large, $4; small, $2.75; pollock, $1.50; bay herring, $1.25 to $1.30; Shelburne, No. 1, $4 per bbl.; half-bbl., $2.40 to $2.50; smoked herring, 5 to 6c.; rippling herring, $1.75 per half-bbl.; shad, $5.50 per half-bbl.; fresh shad, 10c.

PROVISIONS—American pork is marked lower and the feeling is easy. American lard is also quoted below Canadian. In fact, all Canadian quotations continue firm. There is a fair demand for hams. We quote: P. E. Island thin mess, $15.50; clear pork, $17 to $17.50; mess, $16; prime, $13; plate beef, $14 to $15; pure lard, 10c.; compound lard, 8c.; cottolene, 9¼ to 9½c.; hams, 11 to 12c.; rolls, 9 to 9½c.; beef, half-bbls., $7.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—Flour has again dropped off, and the feeling is easy. Stocks here are fairly well cleared up, and though profits are hardly as large as was expected, merchants are well satisfied. In oatmeal the feeling is also easy and prices are marked down. Oats are dull, and a few new are on the market. Cornmeal shows little change, but lower prices are looked for, and they will, no doubt, affect both feed and flour. Feed is still hard to get, and when offered finds ready sale. Beans are firm with a fair demand. In hay the movement is yet light, but prices are firm and a fair crop is reported. We quote: Manitoba, $4.60 to $4.65; best Ontario, $4.50 to $4.60; medium, $4.40 to $4.50; oatmeal, $4.10 to $4.15; cornmeal, $2.85 to $2.90; middlings, $25 on track; bran, $22.50 to $23; hand-picked beans, $1.85 to $1.90; prime, $1.75 to $1.80; split peas, $3.70; pot barley, $4.10 to $4.25; hay, $12 to $12.50; P. E. I. oats, 37 to 40c.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

New Brunswick plums are in the market and find ready sale. The crop is light.

Said one of our largest wholesale men to THE GROCER: "I sold 1,000 barrels granulated sugar in Ontario, and made $1,800."

C. & E. Macmichael have received another shipment of Maconochie's pickles. They are particularly pleased with the reports of their goods.

For a short time there was quite an uneasy feeling through Carleton County, owing to the failure of a Boston commission man. There have been a number of small losses, but these are much less than was at first feared.

The last English steamer took about six tons of cheese from here, and further shipments will be made if the result is satisfactory. Reports from the other side give very little encouragement.

Jamaica, and not Florida, now appears to be the Mecca of orange growers.

During the past week a cargo of salt was discharged at Hopewell for F. P. Reid & Co., Moncton.

There is to be a change in the office of I. C. Bowman, broker, here, his son Arthur, who has been with him for some time, having accepted the position of traveler through the Maritime Provinces for Geo. E. Tuckett & Son.

A DUMMY WINDOW.

If I was a grocer, and wanted to dress my window cheap, and make it look nice, I would dress with nothing but dummies. For tea chests I would put empty ones in. If I wanted to expose the tea, which is a very unwise thing to do, I would simply expose as much as would cover the dummy about one-sixteenth or one-eighth of an inch. When through I would throw it into the cheapest bin. If I wanted to dress it with canned goods I would request the packers to send me 25 or 50 cans of assorted empty tins, labelled, which I would place with artistic taste in the window. The customer would be just as well pleased. When I was through with these I would place them on the sample tin shelves until I needed them again. If I wanted to expose sugar, which is an unwise thing to do in the summer, I would dummy the boxes or barrels to an eighth of an inch from the top, spread the sugar over it, just enough to cover the dummy, then cover it with glass or baize. It will give the customer the impression that you are clean and have some respect for their stomachs.

If I wanted to dress with soap I would get a quantity of blocks of wood, same shape as 3c. bar and 5c. bar, and have them wrapped with labels similar to the soaps I sell, place them in the window in artistic style. The idea could be carried out in many other lines in the grocery business, such as raisins, currants, etc.

TORONTO GROCERS PLAY BALL.

THREE hundred spectators witnessed a baseball match played at Centre Island on Wednesday between two teams of Toronto grocers, those residing east of Yonge street doing battle against those living west of that thoroughfare. For the first three innings the East led easily, and up to the end of the fourth it looked easy for them, then Miller, their twirler, got weak and the cowboys from the West tumbled to his simple curves and batted him to the extent of 14 runs in the fifth, at the end of which Davies was put in the box and held them down to three more runs for the balance of the game, which was lost before Miller left the box. All men played well, considering all things, the West pitcher doing good work; also Hamilton, of the East, behind bat. Charlie Snow made a nice homer, and R. H. Stewart landed a nice three-bagger, but was found asleep on third by Thorne.

W. J. Sykes captained the westenders, and R. H. Stewart the easterners, and Joe Larkin umpired the game, Jerry Burns acting as official scorer. There seems to be some good material among the grocers, and with a little practice they could thrash Chapman's chumps. It is understood that the winning team will challenge the Stars to a match on Labor day. Following is the score, showing how the westenders got there:

END OF A GROCERS' ASSOCIATION.

The Wholesale Grocers' Association of St. Louis is completely disintegrated. The association went to pieces on the same rock that has threatened to wreck similar organizations in different parts of the country—the price of sugar. Five of the strongest firms in St. Louis have resigned from the association within a few days, and others are expected to follow.

Formerly almost every wholesale grocer made sugar his leader with which to catch trade. This led to unstable prices, the commodity often being sold for less than cost in order to secure the patronage of a customer. More than a year ago the association determined to take some action in the matter. As a result, an agreement was entered into by which all members were to sell sugar at a stipulated small profit above the market price. The drummers on the road, thus deprived of their opportunity of gathering in trade, growled audibly, and this soon had its effect. H. Krenning & Sons, the Bauer Grocery Co. and D. G. Tutt concluded that they could do better outside the association, and they resigned. Their example was soon followed, and the practical dissolution of the body resulted.

FRED. GIBSON DEAD.

THE CANADIAN GROCER regrets to record the death of Fred. Gibson, grocer and fruiterer, of Whitby, Ont. On Aug. 27th, while superintending the shipment of some apples, he was thrown from a wagon, sustaining a fracture of the skull, dying shortly afterwards. Mr. Gibson was one of the most highly respected of the younger generation of Whitby business men. He was an active member of the Methodist Tabernacle and an accomplished vocalist. Mr. Gibson was the second son and youngest child of the late Yeoman Gibson, an early mayor of the town.

A "BLOOMER" DRUMMER.

"THE sweet girl who sells the sour stuff" is the way western grocers describe Miss Ella M. Henley, the pioneer woman drummer on a wheel, who travels for a St. Louis vinegar firm. Miss Henley has been on the road as a commercial traveler for about two years. When she began the work, women drummers were so rare that she was a decided novelty and took a great many orders. Other women entered the field, however, and when she found that interest in her appearance was beginning to flag she turned to the bicycle and the bloomers for adventitious aid. She learned to ride a wheel and learned to ride it well. Then she procured a tailor-made bloomer suit of the most stunning character and started out upon the road.

About a week before she expects to reach a town she sends every vinegar merchant a card, notifying him that she will wheel into the city on or about a certain day and asking him to save his orders for her. The postal card bears a picture of the young woman clad in bloomers and seated on her silent steed. The result is that the vinegar merchants are very anxious to see the original of the picture and are out in front of their stores for days before she arrives, scanning the roads with a telescope. When the young woman arrives, she receives an immediate and respectful audience, and she usually sells the merchant a consignment of vinegar whether he wants it or not. It is so hard to say "no" to a pretty bloomer girl on a bicycle.

Miss Henley has quickly built up a large business, and as she receives a commission on sales above a certain amount her income is said to be a very comfortable one. She is about 25 years of age, has a good figure, and thinks nothing of making a run of 30 or 40 miles from one town to another. She is also a talented elocutionist, and often entertains the guests at hotels after she has done a hard day's work. Her territory includes all the states west of the Mississippi River, and she only returns to St. Louis about twice a year. She is as well posted on freight rates and routes as the average male drummer who spins along above car wheels, but is not at all prone to talk shop outside of business hours.

CHANGE IN THE GROCERY TRADE.

For fifty-one years the name of Edward Adams & Co., of London, has been known as that of one of the leading wholesale grocery firms in Ontario. Of late years the Messrs. Cleghorn have controlled the business, but they are now retiring, and on Monday next the business will be assumed by S. Screamon, of London, and W. Turnbull, of St. Thomas, the old name, however, being retained. For over twenty years Mr. Screamon has been with the firm, and Mr. Turnbull for more than seventeen. The latter is one of the best known travelers in the Western Peninsula, and his host of friends will be glad to learn that he has been fortunate enough to secure an interest in the business he has so long and successfully represented. For the present, at any rate, he will not remove from the city.

MAILING SAMPLES OF TEA.

A Montreal wholesale house mailed to one of their travelers at Belleville, Ont., a package containing two small sample tins of tea. The package was marked "Sample post, immediate," and was prepaid by a three-cent stamp. The following Monday the tea came back, with the legend "Over weight for sample" scrawled on in lead pencil on the wrapper. On complaining at the post-office the firm was told to write to Ottawa, but as the traveler was all this time waiting impatiently for the sample it was thought this would take too long.

By referring to this year's postal guide it is seen that "When packages of tea, etc., posted as samples, are observed to obtain a larger quantity than would reasonably be required for sample purposes they should be treated as insufficiently paid fifth class matter." "An insufficiently prepaid packet of fifth-class matter," according to the same authority, "should be forwarded charged double the deficient postage, provided the deficiency does not exceed five cents. The deficiency in this case was three cents."

TRADE CHAT.

P. Grose & Co., wholesale grocers, Montreal, have dissolved. P. Grose continues, style unchanged.

E. M. Berthelet's grocery stock in Notre Dame street, St. Cuneonde, Que., has been sold at 67c.

A. Gamarche has been appointed curator of the business of Severe Daoust, general store, Benoit, Que.

Ruble, Riddell & Co.'s biscuit factory, Winnipeg, Man., was entered by burglars the other night and $40 in cash taken.

J. Y. Griffin & Co., of Winnipeg, are having their pork-packing-house doubled in size. They intend extending the ramifications of their business considerably. They export butter, cheese, eggs, etc., as well as hogs and hog products.

FISHERY WEALTH OF B.C.

Under the caption "The Fishery Wealth of British Columbia," The Canadian Gazette has this to say: Halibut fishing, which has heretofore been carried on in a desultory manner, unprofitable to all concerned, has at length been established upon a firm basis in British Columbia, and is being conducted in a vigorous and systematic manner. Inspector McNabb reports to the Dominion Government that it gives promise of becoming an industry of great value to the province, and profitable to its promoters. The shortness of the fishing season has hitherto been a bar to the greater prosperity of the fishermen in the country, which the prosecution of the sea fisheries will do much towards removing by affording them employment during the winter months.

Omitting salmon, the aggregate of the products of the fisheries of the province showed an increase in 1894 of $53,921 over the last year's returns.

The catch of fur seals by Canadian vessels was the largest on record, and demonstrates the adaptability of the regulations to the requirements of our people.

The capital invested in the fisheries and fishery material, including the fur seal fleet, and outfit of boats, etc., shows a large increase over that of last year.

Total capital invested in 1894.....	$1,444,978
Total capital invested in 1893.....	1,721,547
Increase.....	$221,451

Considerable activity has been caused in the sturgeon fishing industry on the Fraser River by an increased demand, and better prices than formerly for these fish in eastern markets. So far, net fishing for sturgeon in the Fraser River has not been successful.

SOCKEYE SEASON EXTENDED.

A press despatch from Vancouver says that at the personal request of canners and Boards of Trade of the Province, Premier Bowell, through the Department of Fisheries, has extended the season for taking the sockeye salmon for canning purposes in the waters of British Columbia to September 1.

This will mean a heavy increase in the pack, which will reach over half a million cases, and correspondingly great financial benefit to the Province.

LATE BUSINESS CHANGES.

DESCRIPTION OF TEAS.

KINKANGS.

KINKANGS come from Ho-How, one of the most northerly Moning districts. The quality of the best first crop chops is superb, and many of the parcels draw a fairly dark-colored liquor. The dry leaf is black, regular and free from dust, and the leaf after infusion is bright, but with all these advantages Kinkangs lack that without which no tea can be considered really good, viz., strength. There is not sufficient of that roundness which makes tea feel almost like a substance to the palate, and consequently they are not of such value as their quality would at first sight seem to command.

Kinkangs deteriorate more quickly than any description of tea, and often by the end of the season a high-class parcel will be so altered that it seems scarcely credible the parcel in question should ever have been esteemed fine tea.

The medium grades are sometimes a little fuller than the fine, but from highest to lowest the same lack of strength is found.

NING CHOWS.

Ning Chow is one of the truest of Moning teas. The parcels are true Pekoe flavored. The infusion leaf is of a bright, brown color, with a tendency to red, and the taste of the tea is more delicate and aromatic than is either of the other descriptions of Moning.

The dry leaf is small, evenly twisted, and greyish, with oftentimes a sprinkling of Pekoe tips.

Ning Chows are exported to Russia in large quantities. One season it is said that as much as eight million pounds were sent from China direct to the Russian market.

The medium grades are very useful to the retailers, as they are fairly thick and strong, and will combine advantageously with most other teas.

Ning Chow as a class will keep well.

OONFAS.

The next most important of black-leaf Congous is the Oonfa. It comes from one of the south-westerly black-leaf districts. It is not so fine nor so handsome as the Ning Chow, but it is a very useful tea when dull strength is required. The leaf is rather bold even in the finer parcels, and in the commoner ones it is open and ugly. Oonfas are mostly strong, often tarry, and sometimes sour. Thin Oonfas are of very little use, as, should quality be received as a recompense for want of strength it can be obtained to a much larger extent from Ning Chows.

The medium parcels are mostly good useful teas, but the very low Oonfas and Oonams should be avoided as much as possible, as they are very thin, very coarse and have nothing to recommend them but their leaf, which is generally free from dust, although bold.

OOPACK.

Oopack is produced in the neighborhood of the Yang Tsekiang River, a little above Hankow. The leaf is black, uniformly twisted, but rather bold. When fresh fired it is aromatic, and might almost be called Pekoe flavored, but as soon as the firing goes off it is dull, dry and thorny. It is not a good tea to keep, nevertheless it must not be despised, especially by quick users, as it mixes very well, both with Kaisow and full thick Assam brokens, and also fairly well with a combination of scented Capar and thick Assam.

Oopacks from their known tendency to decay are often cheaper than either Ning Chow or Oonfa.

The common grades are fairly sweet, but the dry leaf is very bold. Cheong Low Kie is a class somewhat similar to Oopack, but preferable; being a shade nearer to the Ning Chow, it is mostly rather stronger and fuller, and the leaf more evenly twisted, smaller and greyer.—Steele-Wedeles Price List.

EARLY CLOSING IN MONTREAL.

J. B. E. Poirier presided over a meeting of dry goods and grocery clerks in the hall, St. Denis street, on Sunday, to promote the early-closing movement. Mr. Poirier, in opening the meeting, expressed a hope that the City Council would soon do justice to the clerks by voting for the by-law.

The chief opponents in the Council, Aldermen Penny, McBride and Smith, are strongly British in their sentiments, and have opposed the by-law because it was an infringement of British liberty.

It was not "quite English you know," but Mr. Poirier took the force of their argument away by quoting from THE CANADIAN GROCER the progress of the movement in England. Over there the matter was before Parliament, and the great portion of the retail trade not only wanted compulsory early closing every night, but a number of petitions were presented asking for a compulsory half-holiday.

The meeting decided to ask the co-operation of the hardware, boot and shoe, jewelry, men's furnishings, furniture, and other trades, and a joint meeting will be held.

Mr. Connaughton, the new alderman elected in the late Ald. Kennedy's place, is a vote gained for the early-closing movement. He is himself a retail grocer.

CANNED FRUIT AND VEGETABLES.

I had a talk regarding fruits with Mr. Fenton, of the Ontario Pure Food Co., St. Catharines, on Tuesday. "Canning peaches in the Niagara district there are practically none," he said. "True, a few orchards have them, but the price asked for them is beyond the reach of the canners. There will be a few cling-stone peaches, but of course we canners can't use them. A few peaches will probably be brought in from Delaware, although the price down there is very high. Two years ago we bought in Delaware at 30 to 40c. per basket; now they are selling at 80c. to $1 per basket, which, with freight and duty added, means a pretty good price. There are a few peaches in Michigan, but not many. The crop of canning peaches is also light in Essex county."

"How about the apple crop in the Niagara district?" I ventured.

"It is very good. There is the best show of apples we have had for several years. Pears are also a good crop. Plums—there will be scarcely any."

"What is the outlook for tomatoes and corn in your district?"

"Tomatoes are just starting to come in. Our growers say they are beginning to rot. They do not set as early as usual, owing to the dry weather. We have, so far, only run one day on tomatoes, but it is early yet; we do not usually begin till about September 1. Corn is looking fairly good. We have run several days on that. Corn is coming in well and is of very fine quality."

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. C. Rose, of Rose & Laflamme, Montreal, was in Toronto yesterday.

Thos. Nicholas, general merchant, River-view, Ont., favored THE GROCER with a call last week while in Toronto on a buying tour. Mr. Nicholas reports trade rather quiet, but crops are very good, except potaatoes, which were hurt by recent frosts. The outlook for the fall is very promising, he says.

Mr. Bristol, of Lucas, Steele & Bristol, when last heard from, was in Frisco, on the eve of starting for the fruit country. He wrote that the weather was so cold one had to wear an overcoat most of the time.

Judging from the "beauties" sent to Hamilton friends, W. O. Macpherson has done more than tell "fish stories" during his Muskoka outing.

ADVERTISING POINTERS.

An honest advertisement is the noblest work of man.

Advertisers in trade journals are apples of gold in pictures of silver.

An advertisement is a prayer for business that is always answered.

Stop advertising when you intend to give up business. That is the only time it really pays to stop.

The nearest approach to a live mule is the man who insists that advertising doesn't pay, though he has never tried it, and refuses to do so.

Advertising is the insurance of business, but you must take care and not let the policy lapse.

Change your ads often if you expect to make much "change" out of them.

BRITAIN'S APPLE CROP.

Messrs. Woodall & Co. report as follows on the apple crop in Great Britain for 1895, and its probable effect upon the Canadian trade with the Old Country:

Reports received show that the crop in the United Kingdom is a large one, which is the exact contrary of last season, when there was scarcely any fruit worthy of consideration. The past season, as shown below, was one of large imports from both the United States and Canada, and during the month of November arrivals into Liverpool were 290,000 barrels, which exceeded any previous import; the next largest being in November, 1891, when 250,000 barrels were landed in that port. On both these occasions it was feared the large quantity would cause a collapse in prices, but the exact reverse was experienced, especially during last November, when there was a brisk demand throughout, at what must have been satisfactory prices to shippers. The quality of the fruit varied: from New York and Boston it was undoubtedly good; from Canada generally, medium to poor, with occasional bright exceptions, while Maine fruit was nearly all small and disappointing. Altogether the season may be considered to have been satisfactory, although towards the close there were some disappointing results, caused entirely by the inferior quality and poor condition.

The position for the coming season is not so promising as last, and in all probability there will be sufficient home-grown fruit to supply requirements until the middle of October. This decidedly means that none of the early varieties of United States and Canadian apples can be shipped to advantage. After this period there is a fair prospect for good winter stock, especially Baldwins and other red varieties, as it must be remembered that United States and Canadian apples are superior to any other.

The total imports to Great Britain during the past season from the United States, Canada and Nova Scotia were as under:

	Barrels.

AN EARLY FIG SEASON.

E. Fielding, 27 Front street east, Toronto, agent in Canada for A. Solari, of Smyrna, Asia Minor, received by post on Saturday last, the first samples of this year's yield of Smyrna figs and Sultana raisins. This is unusually early for these fruits to arrive, and the first shipments do not generally arrive here until the latter part of September. The samples shown THE CANADIAN GROCER are particularly fine. The raisins are clear and clean as could be desired.

Advices received from Asia Minor go to show that the crop is a pretty good one this year, and very early in coming to maturity.

THE DRY GOODS REVIEW
TORONTO MONTREAL

TELLS what to buy and how to sell it; gives a regular course of Window Dressing, Store Management, Advertising; describes all new goods, etc. What more do you want? One Pointer from a single copy should net you at least Two Dollars. Twelve copies, or one year, should net you Twenty-four Dollars. This is a fact, and the reason we have subscribers.

THE PRIMARY OBJECT.

We have always contended that the actual value of a window depended on its trade-creating qualities, in this respect being on a par with advertising, which must primarily be judged from the same standpoint, says Dry Goods Economist. A recent conversation with a leading window dresser disclosed another idea.

In most cities of this country it is noticed that there is a remarkable and peculiar prejudice in favor of a certain side of the street, and this is sometimes so apparent that the rental value on one corner is 100 per cent. and more in excess of the other, simply because the crowd is always to be found on one side. This is an evil that a great many merchants have to contend with, and after experiments of one kind and another have given up in despair, glad to take the remnant of trade that floats from the other side.

The window can be made a powerful lever for overcoming this condition of affairs, but it must be done in a vigorous, energetic way, and the matter of a few dollars of expense should not prevent the using of a novelty that would draw hundreds to the store. Where a store has two windows and is situated as first mentioned, one window should be entirely given over for the purpose of attracting a crowd.

It takes a first-class window dresser to constantly plan new, attractive features, but such a one, if the right man in the right place, will be found of extraordinary value. Any legitimate scheme that will tend to attract trade to your side of the street should be resorted to and no stone left unturned to convince the people that there is always something that is worth looking for and buying on your corner.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS.

Commercial travelers who flourished at the beginning of the century would be astonished if they could see how business is conducted nowadays, remarked a writer in an English paper. "Bagmen" no longer confine their foreign journeys to a run on the continent, but they practically cover the whole face of the earth. One representative of a Midland establishment not very long ago visited the land of the Pharaohs, while another spent several months in India with the happiest results. Now a well-known Birmingham firm have arranged for one of their staff to visit South Africa, and call on all the chief towns on the coast, and when he has exhausted these—without, I hope, exhausting himself—he is to hark away to South America, so that he stands a good chance of being absent from his own country for a year or more. Commercial travelers who make these long journeys must have strange experiences, and it is to be hoped some of them will be placed on record.

PALERMO ORANGES AND LEMONS.

MR. CONSUL DUPUIS, of Palermo, reports: Oranges and lemons grow abundantly in the provinces of Palermo, Messina, Catania and Syracuse; Messina is especially noted for lemons. The best oranges are those grown in the province of Catania, especially at Aderno and Biancavilla, but very many excellent and mixed qualities are found in the province of Palermo. They are distinguished as ordinary, blood, and sweet or vanilla, and mandarines. Lemons present no variety, although they have designations known to the trade. Shipments mostly go to the States. The fruit that goes to the United Kingdom is in cases, and that for the United States in boxes and half-boxes. They are carefully stowed in tiers, one above the other, in the vessel's hold, in such a way as to prevent injury to the fruit. All, whether oranges or lemons, are wrapped in tissue paper, with paper shavings to fill up the interstices, and ripen on the voyage. Naturally, this fruit can never be as good as that which ripens on the tree. During the last few years fears have been entertained that this trade to the States will eventually suffer considerably on account of suitableness found in the climate and soil of Florida and California, where the trees have been extensively introduced. Unfortunately, the orange crop in Florida was destroyed by the exceptionally severe cold experienced in December last. This will occasion an advance of prices in the States, the effect of which will be to stimulate the trade in Sicily in 1895. The growth of this trade has only been developed within the last forty years, and since the introduction of steam it is four times or more as great as it was in the days of sailing craft. Commensurate with this increasing demand and prompt disposal of cargoes, the value of fruit in this country has been enhanced, and this consideration, in the words of my report of 1893, induced growers to raise their prices, and there followed temporarily a marked decrease in the demand. The so-called extraordinary crops depend upon the mode of cultivation, and also climatic influences. Irrigation also enters largely in bringing it about. If a tree be deprived of irrigation during the hot months of July and August, and then abundantly watered in September, a spurt is put on producing an extraordinary amount of blossom, which results in the valuable May crop. This cannot be done every year, for the tree suffers from the privation alluded to, and subsequent fruit is retarded in its development. Yet, when the demand for May fruit is great, and prices range from 30s. to 40s. per 1,000, it is done, as these prices compensate for any loss in September and October. The following is a fair proportion of the divers kinds of lemons grown on a plantation of average size, which produces, we will say, 110,000 lemons annually: October, about 15,000; November, 30,000; December, 25,000; January, 20,000; February, 10,000; March, 1,000; April-September, 9,000. The pickling of lemons for exportation is a simple process. They are first cut in two and immersed in salt water for from three to eight days; they are then placed in casks with alternate layers of salt. Salt water is then introduced to fill up spaces, and the cask is closed up ready for exportation.

LEAVES THE STORE FOR THE ROAD.

W. T. Yates favored THE CANADIAN GROCER with a call last week. For some years Mr. Yates has run a successful grocery and crockery business in Wingham, but he has now sold out to take the grip for Gowans, Kent & Co. in Manitoba and the Northwest. The merchants of Wingham showed their high appreciation of Mr. Yates as a citizen by giving him a grand "send-off" in starting in this new business. Mr. Yates sold his business to M. A. Farquharson, who will continue it in the old stand. Mr. Farquharson is a young man and full of energy. He should succeed in his new sphere.

They are the most faithful companions, best watch dogs (the Standard Oil Co. use them exclusively), for they will fight until the last drop of blood in their darling little bodies in defence of their master or his property. No rats can live where they are. They are excellent dogs for the woods, and very fond of the water.

TEA IN CEYLON.

THE name of Ceylon has been chiefly associated with the production of coffee and spices; the latter in poetry, but in poetry only, imparting their fragrance to the very air.

While Ceylon coffee and Ceylon spices are of superior quality and remain most important articles of trade, it is Ceylon tea that has become the staple product, and the one for which the island is now so celebrated.

Seldom or never has an industry made such progress, or a new article of consumption overcome by its intrinsic merit the opposition of vested trade interests, as has Ceylon tea.

In 1873 the exports of tea from Ceylon were 23 lbs.; in 1882 they were 4½ million lbs.; and now, over 80 million lbs. are annually produced.

The area under tea in the island is extending, and about 280,000 acres have been planted. Over 1,200 European planters and 260,000 Indian and Singhalese laborers are engaged in the cultivation. Some of the plantations are but little above sea level, while others run up to an elevation of 6,000 feet. The average altitude of the larger districts is about 4,000 feet above sea level, an elevation at which the climate is pleasant and most healthy. A railway runs up into the hills, and a good system of cart roads exists, so that most of the estates are already within a day's journey from Colombo—the capital and shipping port.

At a time when dietetics has almost become a science, when purity and cleanliness in food and beverages are so strongly insisted on, it is strange that greater attention has not been called to the more than doubtful nature of much of that which is consumed as tea.

It has been said that, if to be an Englishman is to eat beef, to be an Englishwoman is to drink tea. True it is that the article which in the sixteenth century was a luxury, costing $50 a pound and consumed by a hundred people, has in the nineteenth century become a necessity, costing less than a dollar a pound and consumed by millions, and such good judges as the people of Great Britain have not been slow to recognize the merits of the Ceylon article; so China, which thirty years ago contributed 95 per cent. of the total quantity consumed in the United Kingdom, now contributes but a dwindling 12 per cent. Nor have the people of Australia failed to appreciate the vastly superior quality of Ceylon tea, for they have already increased their consumption of it from 1,500,000 lbs. in 1889 to 7,000,000 lbs. in 1893.

The people of America have a reputation for knowing and getting what is best of everything, and yet, in the matter of tea, they have not got the best. And why? Because they have not had an opportunity of using and judging that for which Ceylon is so famed. The tea planters of Ceylon have determined that the opportunity shall be given, and the Government of Ceylon has, at their request, imposed a special tax on all exports of Ceylon tea, in order to provide a fund for introducing Ceylon tea into America. Commissioners are now in America for the special purpose of devising the best methods of effecting this object.

Did the people of America thoroughly understand the difference between British-grown tea—such as Ceylon's—and that of China or Japan, it is certain that those who could get the pure, clean, machine-prepared leaf which is turned out from the planter's factory, would never touch the far from pure article prepared by the hands and feet of the unwashed Mongolian.

In China and Japan, tea is mostly cultivated in small patches by the peasantry, who gather the leaves and prepare the tea in their huts in a very unfastidious manner. The tea, either in a half-manufactured or finished state, is sold to petty dealers, who in turn sell to larger dealers.

The large dealer mixes and manipulates teas, packs and sells them to the European merchants for shipment to England, Australia or America. The manipulation of tea is an art in which the Chinaman excels, and and in many of the inferior kinds the quality is infinitely deteriorated—thus, "the dust of the leaf is mixed with clay and manipulated into the form of the ordinary leaf." This is with appropriate philological coincidence termed "lie" tea. "Tea leaves which have been already used are again manipulated and rolled into shape, and sold as genuine tea."

The teas of Japan, which are almost entirely consumed in America, are regularly and admittedly "faced" with a mixture of Prussian blue and soapstone.

The Ceylon estate cultivation and manufacture is very different, and it may not be uninteresting to give a brief account of how pure tea is made.

The tea bushes are planted in lines at regular distances over hundreds of acres of carefully roaded and drained land, which is regularly weeded every month. Every year or so the bushes are pruned down to a height of about two feet; and eight weeks after the pruning, the first "flush" of young shoots is ready to be plucked, and during the height of the season the flushes re-occur every ten days. Coolies, having a small basket attached to their girdle, then go round and pluck the bud and a couple of the tender half-developed leaves. At mid-day, and again in the evening, the leaf is weighed and taken into the factory. The leaf is at once spread very thinly on trays or shelves to wither. The time which the leaf takes to wither—to become soft and pliable without drying up—varies with the weather, but, as a rule, the leaf gathered one day will be sufficiently withered the following day.

The withered leaf is then placed in the rolling machine—an ingenious and effective machine, which is driven by steam power. The rolling lasts for nearly an hour, at the end of which time the leaf has become a moist mass of twisted and bruised leaves, technically called "the roll." The roll is then placed in trays to ferment or oxidise; during this process it changes from a green to a copper color. The subsequent strength and flavor of the tea depend, to a great extent, upon the fermentation—a chemical process, the success of which is not entirely within the control of the planter, but depends greatly on the weather, and takes a time varying from one to five hours.

The next process is that of firing. The roll, thinly spread on trays, is placed in large iron drying-machines, and at the end of half-an-hour it is thoroughly crisp and dried, and has become tea. It is then sorted or sized, by being passed through sieves of different mesh, giving the varieties of Orange Pekoe, Broken-Pekoe, Pekoe, Souchong, Congou, and dust. The Orange Pekoe, which consists chiefly of the opening bud of the leaf, gives the strongest tea—perhaps too strong a tea to be infused by itself; and Pekoe generally makes the most pleasant drinking tea.

The final process is that of weighing and packing. When a sufficient quantity has been manufactured, the tea is again slightly fired, to drive off any suspicion of moisture, and packed while warm in lead-lined boxes carefully soldered down to exclude air. Such is the mode of careful, cleanly preparation in the specially erected factory of the Ceylon planter; and every drinker of genuine Ceylon tea may be certain that it is absolutely pure.

Ceylon tea stands unrivalled for its combination of strength and flavor; and the pure tea gives a beverage pleasant and beneficial to those who drink it. One cannot doubt that, were the well-meaning evangelists in the cause of temperance to realize the difference between pleasantly strong, well-flavored, stimulating tea and the "wishy-washy" decoction infused from the cheaper Chinese teas, their efforts to substitute "the cup which does not inebriate" for that which does, might be made much more successful.

In addition to the other good qualities, Ceylon tea possesses that of being economical; for it is generally admitted that two pounds of Ceylon will go as far as three pounds of China.

The tea you drink should be: 1, pure; 2, wholesome; 3, pleasant; 4, economical. And Ceylon tea justly claims pre-eminence on these grounds.

Would-be purchasers of Ceylon tea must be warned that there is danger (just as there is with everything which has earned a good name and become popular) of a spurious or admixed article being sold instead of what is genuine.

How to make perfect tea.—Use fresh boiling water—that is, fresh water that has just commenced to boil. Have the teapot hot; pour the boiling water on the tea, and in five minutes pour into cups, or another hot teapot. Do not let the tea stand with the leaves longer than five minutes.

A meeting of the creditors has been called for September 9, when a statement of affairs will be presented, and for the ordering of the estate generally.

INVENTORY A NECESSARY TASK.

There is perhaps no happening in the round of the year that demands such minute attention from merchants, buyers and salespeople as inventory, says Dry Goods Economist. Merchants are wont to look forward to this period with considerable anxiety, buyers with dread and salespeople with disgust. Yet it is a necessary task, and one which is as deserving of the full co-operation of the employees as is any other of the duties. If the performance of such work semi-annually brought no other results than the freshening and enlivening of the stock, it would be highly deserving of every merchant's consideration.

But inventory is a necessity, inasmuch as every merchant should know the result of the season's business and the extent of the stock on hand. There is no other means by which an accurate accounting can be obtained of the goods sold and the profits realized. Yet, important as this work is, many merchants neglect it, considering it as but a small factor in bringing about success. Others again take inventory in so profuncatory and unmethodical a manner that the result is only a heap of inaccuracies. Few really take inventory as it ought to be done. Those who do so are always found the most methodical in their other business transactions, and are usually the ones that are granted favors during seasons of commercial depression. To know "where one is at" it is absolutely necessary to take stock, if not twice a year certainly annually; and what is done in this direction is of little use unless done well.

LARGE SHIPMENT OF TEA.

A large shipment of teas was received this week by Perkins, Ince & Co. It consisted of 2,000 packages, and embraces Japans, Congous, and Young Hysons. Besides this shipment the firm has large quantities of tea which have been shipped direct to customers, and will not in consequence come near the warehouse. The Young Hysons are understood to be the first to arrive here this season. All day Wednesday drays were lined in front of Perkins, Ince & Co.'s warehouse delivering the teas.

THAT SYRUP TARIFF.

IF the present duty on dark syrups were 200 per cent. it could scarcely be more iniquitous than is the rate of 100 per cent. obtaining to-day.

Were the maximum figure named in force no dark syrup at all could be brought in. But as it is now the dark syrups are so much wanted that people will suffer themselves to be robbed by the Customs rather than be without this particular article of food.

It would be infinitely better if the Department would drop the role of highwayman, assume that of the autocrat and place dark syrups among the list of goods whose entry into the country is prohibited.

The Government is no doubt aiming to accomplish this by the roundabout way of gradually raising the tariff wall. Infinitely more manly would it be to come out straight and declare that dark syrups shall not be allowed to come into the country at all.

Were the refiners in this country turning out dark syrups enough to supply the demand, there would not be so much cause for complaint. If they made enough and sold at a reasonable price it would not matter much whether the duty was 100 or 200 per cent.

The particular source of annoyance to the trade is the fact that while there is a tariff of 100 per cent. on dark syrups the refiners make practically none at all, when the quantity they turn out is measured by the consumptive demand.

Few people there are who object seriously to the duty of $\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb. on sugar, and because the Canadian refineries turn out the best sugar in the world, as far as granulated is concerned at any rate, and plenty of it. When similar conditions obtain in regard to dark syrups people will not begrudge a moderate duty.

A member of one of the largest wholesale grocery houses in Canada writes as follows:

"Your article in Friday's issue on the 'Unjust Syrup Tariff' is only too true. At the moment, and for a long time past, it has been impossible to procure from our refiners such a thing as a syrup suitable for lumbering sections, and we are now compelled to get such supplies from the United States, paying thereon a prohibitive grinding duty. Complaints have been made to the refiners, to Ottawa, and to some of the Ministers personally, but a deaf ear is turned to our wailings. I trust the agitation you now start will be taken up by merchants everywhere, with the result that this and many other grievances will receive some consideration at the hands of the powers that be. In the past the grocer has been ignored by them completely, and everything manipulated for the benefit only of the manufacturer. United action only can accomplish this, and I hope the millions of dollars invested in this branch of trade will have something to say to their Ottawa friends."

THE SALMON SITUATION.

THE salmon campaign is almost at a standstill. From what can be gleaned from advices from the Coast, the canners are still confident of their position, but wholesalers, while they lean to the bullish side, see enough of uncertainty in the market to preclude their venturing far at present prices. With what new salmon they have in stock, and with what is near at hand, they have enough for immediate requirements. And at the moment they are buying practically nothing, while with second shipments near by they are about 5c. per dozen lower in their views.

The season for fishing closed on the 1st inst., but what the final pack is figures have not yet been adduced. The last estimate we have of the pack is from figures collated August 20. These estimated the pack as follows: Fraser River, 315,669 cases, against 363,967 last year; Skeena River, 67,351, against 61,151; River Inlet, 59,000, against 39,351; Naas River, 18,000, against 19,587; other northern points, 20,500, against 10,315 last year. This means a total of 480,520 cases, against 494,371 last year.

If the estimates for the present season's pack are any way near correct it is obvious that the difference between it and last season's output is small. One thing is certain, the present pack is a good deal larger than it was a few weeks ago estimated that it would be. This is the leading bearish factor in the situation. Next in order is the fact that present prices are dangerously near a point where they will interfere with the consumptive demand. But here, again, it must not be forgotten that the home market is only a small part of the whole.

What is practically the cause of so much unconcern on the part of merchants, both wholesale and retail, is the belief that prices will not go higher even if they do not recede any, and that therefore they have nothing to lose by deferring further purchases, while they may have something to gain. And THE CANADIAN GROCER does not know but what they are about right. It appears to be the safer course at any rate.

Those, however, who may be imbued with strong bearish views regarding the situation should not forget two things: The new pack salmon came upon a decidedly bare market, towards the end of the season some standard brands being completely cleaned out. This is just as likely as not to be repeated toward the close of the present season. Then it must be remembered that the demand from Great Britain is much larger than usual.

As far as we can see, the key to the situation is in the hands of Great Britain. Is she able to take care of the large quantities of canned salmon she has been purchasing from Canada and the United States? If she is we may look for steady values; if not we may expect to see at least the packers of brands not well known come down in their views.

In the meantime prices remain steady, and THE CANADIAN GROCER is assured by the Toronto representative of one of the canners that his superiors not only refused a bid he sent in, but instructed him that higher prices would be demanded than had been heretofore.

Mail advices state that some cohoes have been packed, and they are being quoted for future delivery at $4 f.o.b., which would mean about $4.60 to $4.65 laid down on this market.

The Columbia River pack of salmon for 1895 is given at 514,617 cases, against 487,700 cases in 1894. The season closed on August 10th. The pack is said to be 100,000 cases in excess of the contracts. Canners, however, are said to evince no uneasiness over that fact, feeling confident that the market will take all that has been packed at fair rates. The export demand is good. It is claimed that the shipments direct from the river to England will be 110,000 cases, against 35,000 cases direct last year.

SHOULD KNOW HER POSITION.

France's interference with the Newfoundlanders in the building of their across-the-island railway is the height of presumption for a nation that has all along been presuming too much.

Newfoundland is as much a part of the British Empire as is the Dominion of Canada, but were a Rip Van Winkle to awake to-day, it is the President of the French Republic that he would imagine ruled the island down by the sea, and not her Britannic Majesty.

Newfoundland was ceded to Great Britain by the Treaty of Utrecht. The rights that France obtained on the western coast of the island were concessions made by the conqueror to the conquered, and were for the benefit of the French fishermen, and not as a means for eternally interfering in the affairs of the colony and retarding at every turn its commercial development.

It is Great Britain's duty—to Newfoundland primarily—to give France to understand that she must keep within her proper sphere. The day for dilly-dallying has passed.

CURRENT PROSPECTS.

Cables received this week in Toronto announce a steady market for currants in Greece.

The prospects for a continuance of the steadiness are excellent. There is more than one cause which contributes to this.

The primary factor is the Greek Retention Act, which practically prevents values receding below a certain point. Then to this factor is to be added the short crop, which is alleged to be from thirty to thirty-five thousand tons less than last year. In France, too, the vines are said to be damaged. At any rate that country has within the last few weeks been a purchaser of Grecian currants for wine-making purposes.

THE CANADIAN GROCER is informed that efforts made by buyers on this side to make purchases at 3d. per cwt. below quotations have been unavailing, and it is generally thought that figures now ruling will not be far from the lowest of the season.

THE DIRECT FRUIT STEAMERS.

There has been nothing new in regard to import business in new dried fruit in Montreal since the information noted last week.

The only news consists of advices regarding the sailing dates of the two steamers of the Donaldson line, which will load fruit direct at primary ports for Montreal.

The Escalona, the first boat, commenced loading currants this week at Patras, and after touching at various Mediterranean ports will call at Denia for raisins. She is booked to sail from that port for Montreal on the 15th, and is expected to arrive by the first week in October. The Fremona, the second boat, will duplicate the Escalona's trip ten days later.

CREAM OF TARTAR DEARER.

Cream of tartar has advanced 20s. from the lowest point. The cause is the decrease in the manufacture of wine in France, a resultant of the diminished grape production. Cream of tartar is a bi-product of wine, and of course its quantity is regulated by the measure of the wine production.

AN ENGLISH APPLE BUYER TALKS.

THE apple export business will soon open out in genuine earnest. Already representatives of English firms have arrived on this side, while members of Montreal firms have paid visits to the west to see what the prospects are.

Among the Englishmen who have come out to see what chances there are in Canadian apples is Mr. Frank Hamilton, of Hamilton & Pritchard, Liverpool, and who also represents Thos. Russell, Glasgow.

To THE CANADIAN GROCER Mr. Hamilton, who is now in Montreal, predicted a season of low prices, though, of course, he did not hold that he was infallible. His chief reason for believing in a low level of values was the large crop of English and continental apples, the only outlet for which was in England.

"I admit," said Mr. Hamilton, "that fine red Canadian apples and American apples get the preference over the green varieties grown in England and Europe. At the same time the latter have to be consumed, and the enormous crop of them will keep prices down until the season is well advanced. I do not think, therefore, that apple growers on this continent should hold out for high prices, especially as the crops, both in Canada and the United States, are heavy."

"I have just been down in New York and Boston, and there I learn that the only outlet for the large growth of apples in the Eastern States is the English market. Last year consumers in the Western States took a large quantity of these eastern apples, as there was an apple famine out west, but this season they are showing a fine crop as far as I can ascertain. All these influences are bound to work in favor of low prices, and I also understand that your yield of summer and fall apples is a large one. No! I look for cheap apples this fall."

Mr. Hamilton goes west through the apple districts from Montreal. He will be in Toronto in the course of a week or so.

MORE CUSTOMS TROUBLE.

Jno. Pinder & Co., of Montreal, the well-known grocery brokers and commission men, have entered an action claiming from the Dominion Government the sum of $1,490 paid by them under protest as duty on a cargo of sugar.

THE CANADIAN GROCER a week or so ago called attention to the injustice that was being done to sugar importers in this connection, and this is one of the cases in point.

On April 29 the sugar referred to, which was free under the old tariff, was entered in the Custom House as such. On May 3 the new tariff came into effect, but Messrs. Pinder did not think it would affect their sugar declared five days before. When they applied for the release of the sugar, however, the sum of $1,490 duty was demanded, in pursuance of instructions from Ottawa. The importers paid the amount under protest; and as it is understood that other importers have been reimbursed elsewhere, Messrs. Pinder seek justice through the courts.

This journal commented on these sugar cases at the time, and can only repeat what was said then: The Messrs. Pinder certainly have right on their side.

IT WAS A MISTAKE.

Since the publication of the item last week re new season's dates that were being advertised as being in stock with some wholesale houses, THE CANADIAN GROCER has further investigated the matter.

The advertisement in question was purely a mistake. And it occurred this way: The house received a shipment of dates. The man in charge of the advertising was instructed to announce the fact. But instead of making the advertisement read "a new shipment of dates," he made it read "a shipment of new dates."

"Every grocer knows that new dates do not arrive here till December," remarked the head of the firm, "and it stands to reason that we would not make ourselves such fools as to claim that we had in stock new Halloween dates."

A MAN FROM THE "SOO."

Mr. J. H. Meir, one of Sault Ste. Marie's merchants, has been making one of his periodical trips to Toronto and Hamilton. I ran against him in the "Ambitious City" the other day, and had a pleasant five minutes' chat with him. When I touched upon the water-power at the "Soo" he became enthusiastic.

"It is the grandest water-power on the face of the earth," he declared, with emphasis; "it is ahead of Niagara. Yes, the outlook is getting brighter for the 'Soo.' We have a developed water-power of 20,000 horse-power. The pulp mill is almost completed. The building is of stone and four storeys high. The promoters have put in something like 20 water-wheels. There are 10 or 12 pulp grinders, and it is expected that 20 carloads of pulp per day will be turned out. And then they are going to build a large paper mill, which will, it is claimed, be the largest of its kind in the world. England will practically be the market for this pulp. During the month of July, the company paid out for machinery, labor, etc., $100,000."

"What are the agricultural conditions in your part of the country?" I ventured.

"Well, as you know, it is not a wheat raising district, but for pasturage I don't know any better country in the world. Why, we don't think anything of 2½ tons of hay to the acre. During the summer a good many cattle have been sent up from Grey County to get the benefit of our rich pasture lands. Drought does not bother us." Judging from Mr. Meir's appearance, the Soo must be good for men as well as for cattle.

BUSINESS MEN IN PARLIAMENT.

THE new British House of Commons contains a very substantial proportion of business men in its total membership of 670. The preponderance of lawyers, which is so marked a feature of the Canadian and other Parliaments, is not so observable in the Mother of Parliaments. Adding together the barristers (in and out of practice), the solicitors, the university professors, the doctors and Government officials, to form what may be conveniently called the professional element, we get a representation of 180; that is, 131 barristers, 19 solicitors, 11 doctors, etc. Now, taking the representatives of the landed interest, viz., land owners, tenant farmers and agriculturists, the total shows 182. The financial men number 30, the newspaper proprietors and journalists 31, and the naval and military officers 45. Even in a chamber of 670, each of these groups could very effectually contend for the interest of its order. When we come to the commercial element, the showing is not a whit less imposing. The following may fairly be counted together as representing the great branches of trade and commerce in the three kingdoms:

Manufacturers and spinners	54
Merchants	35
Steamship owners and builders	18
Shopkeepers and traders	16
Brewers, distillers and wine merchants	19
Hotelmen	2
Printers and booksellers	7
Colliery proprietors and coal merchants	15
Iron masters and metal merchants	15
Railway contractors	2

This gives commerce a representation of 183, and obtains for it a potent voice in the framing of legislation. Many of its spokesmen are leading members of the House. Some sit in the Government. It is enough to make a Canadian business man's mouth water when he thinks of a representation in Parliament approaching one-quarter of the whole House. Besides that, there are the 120 landed proprietors and farmers, who have great commercial interests at stake. They must form a valuable reinforcement to the business element. If we had 55 or 60 business representatives in our House, in addition to the agricultural element, we would see less professional legislation, tariff inequalities and useless waste of public money—or demand the reason why.

PROSPECTS IN B.C.

Geo. R. Ashwell & Sons, general merchants, Chilliwack, B.C., write THE CANADIAN GROCER thus: "The prospects for business are very good out this way, and we anticipate doing a better trade than ever this fall and winter."

After noting that the yield of grain near Chilliwack is tremendous our correspondents continue:

"Prices in grain are going to be low compared with 1893. We cannot count on last year owing to the flood. Oats are $18 per ton, peas $20, wheat $22, barley $15, and hay $7. Dairy butter is 15c. per lb., creamery butter 20c. per lb. Eggs bring 22c. per doz. Year before last these prices were $5 to $7 and 7 to 8c. higher than this."

Messrs. Ashwell & Sons add that they would not know what to do without THE CANADIAN GROCER.

IN RETAIL CIRCLES.

J. F. CUMMINGS, College street, Toronto, has sold out to A. Snuggs, formerly with Stroud Bros., Yonge street.

J. A. Sweet, 481 Queen street east, Toronto, has purchased a new covered delivery wagon. It is beautifully mounted, and is one of the best turnouts of the kind in the "Queen City."

F. C. Whitelock, 392 Yonge street, Toronto, who recently bought out F. J. Benjamin, has got his store nicely arranged, and he is doing a nice business.

Kane & Kane, of Orillia, have extended their already large premises some twenty feet in the rear. "It is now one of the finest general stores in Orillia," remarked a traveler to me.

The business of McEachren & Carr, Trout Creek, recently dissolved, is being carried on by Mr. Milton Carr, formerly of Powassan.

Pokorney & Marcle, of Huntsville, have added a grocery stock to their business. They sell for cash and are doing a nice trade.

The stock of E. B. Burt, Bracebridge, was recently purchased by C. A. Thompson at 65c. on the dollar. Mr. Thompson was at one time a partner with Mr. Burt.

George Cuttle, of Geo. Cuttle & Son, for many years manager for W. Barnard & Co., Sutton West, has put a stock of groceries into the store in which he sold furniture for some years.

H. E. Thomas, of Teeterville, has renovated his store, making it much more attractive and convenient.

Tilly & Poustie, of Aylmer, have dissolved partnership, the former retiring. Mr. Poustie has taken into partnership with him Walker Stewart, and the business will now be known as Poustie and Stewart. We wish them success.

Taylor & Smillie, of Brussels, have dissolved, Mr. Taylor retiring. The business will continue as heretofore, as Mr. Smillie has always managed it, to the credit of the firm and satisfaction of his customers.

At Palmerston we find a nice, well kept stock, with every attention paid to the requirements of the public. This is easily accounted for, as James W. McCabe thoroughly understands his business.

FIRST SHIPMENT DATES DELAYED.

The first shipment of dates will be about two weeks later than usual this year. Advices received on the Toronto market this week announce this. The reason is that the date houses on the Persian Gulf have decided to delay shipments two weeks later than usual; why the advices do not state.

In consequence of this decision the first steamer with new season's dates is not likely to leave Bussorah before October 10. That means that it will be well on to the end of November before she will reach England, and at least the third week in December by the time new season's dates are on the Canadian market.

As far as THE CANADIAN GROCER can learn, prices are much about the same as last year; while much the same may be said regarding the orders that have so far been placed.

AT YOUR SERVICE.

THE CANADIAN GROCER is always zealous for service in behalf of its readers; and we do not draw the line at purely journalistic work.

The Toronto Industrial Exhibition is now open, and country merchants are flocking into the "Queen City" from all directions.

Are you coming? You most assuredly should. There are ideas to be gathered at the Fair and bargains around the warehouses.

If you are undecided let this be the moment of decision.

When you have read this issue file it away, pack your grip, hie away to Toronto, call at the office of THE CANADIAN GROCER, 26 Front street west, and if you desire someone to pilot you about the Exhibition Mr. MacLean or the editor or some member of the staff is at your service.

NO FRUIT BUT RICH GRAIN.

Mr. McKinnon, of McKinnon & Co., general merchants, Blyth, was in Toronto this week to attend the millinery opening and the Fair, of course. "Apples, plums and hay we practically have none at all this year," he remarked to THE CANADIAN GROCER, "And you know apples and hay are two things which we usually send out in large quantities."

In spite of this gloomy report, Mr. McKinnon speaks in decidedly hopeful terms of trade prospects. "We have, you know, excellent cereal crops," he explained, "which is something we did not anticipate in June last."

"A Constant Dropping Wears Away a Stone."

That is the reason why we are constantly reminding you of that delightful article

SEEKING INCORPORATION.

Charles Ephraim Boyd, Norwich; Gordon Stanford, Sault Ste. Marie; William David Boyd, William Edgett Tisdale and Frank Reid, of Simcoe, are applying for incorporation as "The Sault Trading Co., Ltd." to manufacture and deal in groceries, hardware, etc., at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., with a proposed capital of $24,000.

Alexander Albert Mulholland, James Lockart, Jonathan Matchett, William Delaney and Nicholas Garland, of Toronto, are applying for incorporation as "The Northumberland Paper and Egg Case Co., Ltd., with headquarters at Campbellford, Ont., and a proposed capital stock of $100,000. The company will buy out the stock-in-trade and business formerly conducted by E. G. Burke, and the objects of the syndicate will be (1) To manufacture from straw, wood or other material, and deal in pulp, binders' board, builders' felt and paper, and all other kinds of paper, binder and other twines and cords, egg cases, boxes and other products of such pulp, board and paper, and wooden boxes and cases of all kinds. (2) To manufacture and supply light, heat and power, either by water, steam or electricity.

David Alexander Gordon and Edward Kelley, of Wallaceburg; William Brown, of Mooretown; James Wynard Steinhoff and James Andrew Steinhoff, of Wallaceburg, are applying for incorporation as "The Mooretown Salt Co., Ltd.," to manufacture and sell salt at Mooretown, with a capital stock of $10,000.

Oliver Latour, Oscar McDonell, Pierre H. Chabot, Albert H. Chabot, all of Ottawa; and Louis N. Champagne, of Hull, seek incorporation as "The Ottawa Trading Co., Ltd.," to carry on a general business at Montreal and other places, with a proposed capital of $8,000.

DANIEL McLEAN FAILS AGAIN.

Daniel McLean, one of the pioneer leather merchants of Toronto, has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors to Mr. E. R. C. Clarkson. Three years ago Mr. McLean got into financial difficulties through real estate. Some months ago he removed from his old stand on Yonge street to smaller premises on the opposite side, and appeared to be doing a profitable business on a limited scale, but the real estate again helped to bring him down, and he was compelled to place his affairs in the hands of an assignee.

The liabilities are estimated at $10,000, and the assets, as far as the stock is concerned, will be learned as soon as stock-taking is completed. It is expected that the real estate equities, coupled with the stock, will pay off the liabilities in full.

Another cause of failure was the fact that very little leather can be sold to the small shoemakers throughout the country, since the big factories now make boots and shoes so cheap. Mr. McLean's trade in the old days was large throughout the towns and villages of Canada.

A NOBLE CONFECTIONER.

It is said that Charles Alexander, the well known Montreal confectioner, has a claim to the British earldom of Sterling. There is the vast sum of $1,000,000,000 in the English treasury to the credit of the estate and awaiting a lawful heir. Major the Hon. Charles Alexander, brother of the Earl of Caledon, recently called on the Montreal merchant and talked his prospects of succession over with him.

BRITISH DAIRYMEN.

An Ottawa despatch says: There is a strong possibility of the British Dairy Farmers' Association holding its annual meeting next year in Canada. The organization is purely an Old Country one, and exercises a great influence among the farming community there. The agricultural resources of the Dominion are attracting so much attention in the Old Land that there is a strong desire on the part of the Dairy Farmers' Association to see something of Canada. The High Commissioner has been communicated with on the subject, and the steamship companies have been asked to quote rates. It is expected, if arrangements can be made for the contemplated visit, the Dominion Government will afford facilities to the members of the association to visit different portions of Canada. The delegation will number 75 or 100 agriculturists.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Sept. 5, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE market is devoid of any new and striking features this week. In no one line is there real activity. The outside markets are steady on sugar, but that is more than can be said of the Canadian market. The refiners are cutting prices, although previous quotations are nominally obtaining. There is little or no improvement to be noted in the demand for sugar. Syrups are quiet. A good deal of American syrup is being offered, but the duty precludes the transaction of much business. Advices quote currants steady; demand here keeps fairly good for the season. There is not much stir in teas locally. Canned goods of all kinds are quiet. In spices, the feature to be noted is a decline in the price of pepper in the primary market.

CANNED GOODS.

There is no change in the salmon situation, both buyers and sellers still being apparently unconcerned as to business. Cohoes are being offered at $4 on the Coast. Canned vegetables and fruit are quiet and featureless. We quote: Tomatoes, 90c.; corn, 80 to 90c.; peas, 80 to 90c. for ordinary; sifted, 95c. to $1; extra sifted, $1.40; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.20; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 90c. to $1, gallons, $2.25 to 2.40, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, new pack "Horseshoe," $1.40 to $1.45, in tall tins; do., Cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; new lobsters, $1.80 to $1.85 for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.40; half tins, $1.35. Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.65 to $1.75; 2's, $2.65 to $2.75; 6's, $8 to $8.25; 14's, $18 to $19. Chicago canned beef, 1's, $1.75 per dozen; 2's, $2.85. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEE.

The situation locally is much as before. We hear of a transaction between local dealers in Jamaica coffee at 21½c. We quote green in bags as follows: Rio (new season), 19 to 21c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 20 to 22½c.; Java, 28 to 33c.; Mocha, 30 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c. In New York there is a better feeling to be noted in Brazilian coffees.

RICE.

Business continues to be of a moderate character at unchanged prices. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 3½ to 5½c.

SPICES.

Demand is good for spices generally, and for pickling spices particularly. Pepper is ½c. cheaper in New York. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 22 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

Business in nuts continues quiet and featureless. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 14 to 15c.; Marbot walnuts, 10 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

The home market is still in a demoralized condition, prices being without anything more than a nominal basis. Quotations, however, are nominally unchanged. The demand is little if anything better than it has been for some weeks past. We quote: Granulated, No. 1, 4½c.; do., No. 2, 3½ to 4c.; yellows, 3½ to 3¾c.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Monday: Just sufficient doubtful feeling prevails in regard to raws to keep an uneven ripple upon the market, but in the main tendencies are toward a steady feeling. Refiners, it is assumed, will buy without asking favors below the line of bids they have of late been making, and importers have hopes of securing a fraction better, with their valuation and holding adjusted accordingly.

SYRUPS.

The feature of the market is the American syrups that are being offered, but the duty of ¾c. per lb. prevents much business being done. The lowest priced Canadian syrups we hear of being offered are 24c. per gallon laid down here. Business is quiet generally. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

The market remains quiet and featureless. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 30 to 32c.; half-bbls., 33½ to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 37c.

TEAS.

Latest cable advices from Colombo state that lower grade teas are slightly easier, but fine teas are strong. Locally there is a fair demand for cheap Japan teas, but there do not appear to be many coming forward. The principal teas wanted, however, are low and medium grade Indians and Ceylons. Telegraphic advices from Calcutta received in London, Eng., give the exports to the United Kingdom from the commencement of the season to the 16th August, as 32,550,000 lbs., against 29,720,000 lbs. during the same period of last season. We quote ruling prices to retailers: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

NOW FOR THE FALL TRADE

Every Grocer will want Scrub Brushes and should have them with Solid Backs.

We manufacture the only brushes with solid hardwood backs of one piece of wood. We have them in three styles and several sizes and qualities in each style. There are other so-called "solid backs," but ours are the only genuine.

DRIED FRUITS.

New season's Valencia raisins are due here, and before this issue is in the hands of our readers the wholesale trade will, in all likelihood, have the fruit in their warerooms. In the meantime we quote old fruit as follows: Off-stalk, 80 to 90c. per box; fine off-stalk, 4 to 4½c.; selected, 5½ to 6c.; layers, 4½ to 5½c.

Currants are cabled steady. Demand here is fair. As noted elsewhere the Escalona is now loading at Patras. We quote as before: Filiatras, half-bbls, 4 to 4½c., bbls., 4¼c.; fine Filiatras, half-bbls., 4¾c., bbls., 4¾c.; Patras, 5½c., in cases; Casalinas, 4½ to 5¾c.; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7c. in cases and half-cases.

There are some shipments of French prunes on the way, but in the meantime the local market is bare of this particular prune. Trade is quiet. We quote: Bosnias at 6 to 7c., and Bordeaux at 4½ to 6½c.; California prunes, 9c.

Evaporated apricots are still dull and neglected, and are likely so to remain for another month or more. We quote: Apricots and peaches, 12½ to 13½c. per lb.; new apricots, 15c.; nectarines, 13½c.; pitted plums, 12½ to 13c.

Sultana raisins are quiet and unchanged, at 6½ to 7c. for good fruit.

Figs are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, 3½ to 4c.; naturals, 4½ to 5c.

Advices from Barff & Co. state that the date houses on the Persian Gulf have decided to delay shipments two weeks later than usual, the first steamer for London not being expected to leave Bussorah before October 10. Prices will be about the same as last year. Local market is quiet and unchanged at 4¼c. up.

BUTTER, CHEESE AND EGGS.

BUTTER—The market continues firm for best grades, but lower qualities sell slowly and are accumulating. Some of the latter will eventually have to be sold at very low figures; in fact, it is even now difficult to move it at any price. The creameries have been supplying most of the demand for high class goods. Some produce dealers regard the present situation with misgivings, seeming to have an idea that when the cooler weather sets in and it becomes convenient to ship rolls, the market will break. Mean-time prices are: Old summer dairy and store packed, 7 to 9c.; fresh prints, 16 to 17c.; fresh tubs, 15 to 16c.; Fresh creamery—Tubs, 18 to 19c.; pound prints, 21 to 22c.

CHEESE—The market seems about the same as last week. The export demand continues quiet, although many large dealers are taking cheese in anticipation of a further rise, but a change is not generally looked for for some time to come. Prices are unaltered. New Canadian is being sold at the factories at 7¾ to 8c. per lb., while 8½c. is the Toronto quotation. Last August and September makes bring 10 to 10½c.

EGGS—Continue to rise in price and to become firmer. We quote: 11½ to 12c. per dozen, while it is said 12½c. has been paid in some instances.

GREEN FRUIT.

In accordance with a prophecy made by THE CANADIAN GROCER early in the season lemons continue to advance in price, the market being very firm. Oranges are rather scarce, but bananas come in pretty freely. As to fresh green fruits the market is pretty well supplied. Peaches are said to have reached their lowest price early this week, and it is not anticipated that they will fall so low again this season. At present Canadian Crawford's, which are rather scarce, but of excellent quality, have three able competitors on the market viz., California, Delaware and Michigan peaches. Some of the last named are of good quality, possessing a thicker, darker lined skin than the Ontario, and the same rich flavor. Plums are scarce and dearer, while grapes and pears are cheaper than last week. We quote prices: Lemons—Sorrento, Palermo and Verdilla, $8 per case. Oranges—California seedlings, $3.50 to $4; Sorrento, $3.75 to $4. Bananas, $1 to $1.50; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 a sack; cucumbers, Canadian, 15c. per basket; new cabbage, 75c. to $1 per bbl.; Canadian tomatoes, 15 to 35c. per basket. Green California fruit—Peaches, $1.40 to $1.75 in boxes; pears, $2.50 to $3; plums, $1.25 to $1.75; green apples, $1 to $2.25 a barrel; watermelons, 18 to 20c. each; muskmelons, 35 to 40c. per basket; grapes, 2½ to 4½c. per pound; Canadian Crawford peaches, $1 to $1.35 per basket; Delaware Crawford's, $1.50 to $1.65; Canadian Bartlett pears, 75 to 90c. per basket; other grades, 30 to 60c.

HOPS—Canadian, 6½ to 7½c.; Pacifics, 14c.

We quote: Skinned and boned cod-fish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; haddock, 5 to 6c.; Labrador herring, $3.25 to $3.50 per half barrel and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, $2.50 per half barrel, and $4.50 to $4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, $3 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 3c.; pike, 4½ to 5c. per lb.; flitched cod, 5c.; finnan haddies, 8c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 10 to 13c.; Georgian Bay trout, 7 to 8c.; white fish, 8 to 9c.; Restigouche salmon, 20 to 25c.; mackerel, 20 to 25c.; steak cod, 7 to 8c.; haddock, 6c.; black bass, 9 to 10½c. OATS—36 to 39c. per bush.; new, 30½ to 31½c.

FLOUR—The market is still unsteady and feverish. Straight roller is quoted 25c. lower than last week. Prices are: Straight roller, $3.25 to $3.30; Manitoba, $4; patents, $4.25.

BREAKFAST FOODS—The cheapening of grain owing to large crops has caused breakfast foods to sink in price. We quote: Standard oatmeal, $3.90; rolled oats, $3.90; rolled wheat, $2.25 in 100 lb. barrels; corn-

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Sept. 5, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE grocery market has not recorded any distinct or radical change since our last report. Business is fair on the whole in most of the staple lines, but can hardly be said as yet to have assumed its full proportions. Sugar is quiet and refiners are still selling round lots at inside figures, and some jobbers also seem to be content with the mere cost price. In spices and coffees the position is quiet and steady. Teas have exhibited a fair degree of activity, especially medium grade Japans, but some fair enquiry is also noticeable for Indian and Ceylons when the price suits. In dried fruit nothing new is to note in regard to values for fall supplies. The first arrivals of new French prunes will be on the market Saturday and are offering at 4¾c. to arrive. Advices on California prunes and evaporated fruit, as will be seen below, are rather easier in their tenor. In canned goods nothing striking is to report and prices generally are steady. Green fruits are much as they were, and fish and the other markets record nothing noticeable.

SUGAR.

The sugar market has not furnished any important change during the past week. The volume of business is not extensive, though there has been a little more doing in granulated sugar. In round lots this sold at 4c., but for smaller parcels 4½c. is the refiners' asking price, while the jobbing range is 4½ to 4¾c., some of the French houses filling all orders at the inside figure. A fair number of orders have been coming in for yellows at 3 1-16 to 3¾c. at the refinery, and some very low grade yellows have changed hands as low as 3c.

SYRUPS.

Stocks of syrups in first hands have become considerably reduced of late, and the market rules firm in tone. Prices are unchanged, however, at 1¾ to 2½c., as to grade and quantity.

MOLASSES.

The molasses market rules quiet and unchanged. Business has been solely of a jobbing character at 37c. for Barbadoes and 36c. for Porto Rico.

RICE.

The rice market has been fairly active and firm from first to second hands. Prices

CLEARING..

fruit market since our last, when quotations on Valencia raisins via the first direct steam-place orders. We quote : Off-stalk, 3 to 4½c. as to grade, and layers, 4½ to 5½c.

as to quality.California raisins rule quiet and firm on the whole, and quotations are unchanged at 6½c. for 4-crown layers, and 5½c. for 3-crown.The currant market is steady but quiet, with no business of importance to report either for import or from stock. We quote 3½ to 4½c. here as to quantity and package.The prune market is steady on the whole for French, the first arrivals of which will be here on Saturday this week. They are offering at 4¾c to arrive, and this necessitates some modification in our price. We quote 4½ to 5c. as to quantity. Advices on California prunes are rather easier in tone, and recent quotations on them are equivalent to 6c. laid down here duty paid. Jobbers are asking 6¾ to 6½c. as to grade.There is no change in dates, which we quote at 5 to 5½c.Figs are steady. We quote baskets and bags at 4 to 5c. for ordinary qualities, and 9 to 10c. for higher grades in boxes.Advices on California evaporated fruit are easier, and new offers on stock to arrive are at a concession on previous prices. Offers on apricots are equivalent to 13½c., and on have been quoted at 7c. These, of course,Graham, McLean & Co.

are the bare cost which jobbers can lay down supplies at. We quote: Apricots, 14 to 17c.; peaches, 9 to 10c.; pears, 9 to 10c.; plums, 9 to 9½c., and apples, 9 to 10c.

NUTS.

There is no change in these since our last. Cables rule firm, in line with advices noted last week, and prices are strongly held. We quote: Brazils, 8 to 9c.; shelled almonds, 18 to 25c.; Tarragona, 12 to 13c.; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 13c.; shelled ditto, 24 to 25c.; filberts, 6½ to 7½c.; and pecans, 8 to 10c.

CANNED GOODS.

The canned goods market has been moderately active. Fresh supplies of vegetables, fruit, etc., are now on the market, but the distributive demand is small. We quote: Lobsters, $6.50 to $8.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $10.50; salmon, $5.20 to $5.50; mackerel, $5; tomatoes, 80 to 90c. per doz.; peaches, $1.90 to $3 per doz.; corn, 80c. to $1 per doz.; peas, 85 to 95c. per doz.; strawberries, $2.25 to $2.50; raspberries, $2; green gages, $2 to $2.25; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2.25 to $2.50, and 3-lb. apples, 90c. to $1.10.

GREEN FRUIT.

A good seasonable trade has been doing in all kinds of green fruit.

APPLES—Prospects for these do not improve. Receipts continue ample and prices are easy at $1.25 to $2.20, as to grade.

PEARS—Quiet and steady at $1.75 to $2.25.

ORANGES—Supplies here are very light and prices steady at $4 per box.

LEMONS—The advance in these last noted is firmly maintained at $5 to $6 per box.

BANANAS—Market overstocked and prices still lower at 30 to 50c. per bunch, as to quality.

CALIFORNIA FRUIT—Receipts of these show nice condition and are well received. We quote: Peaches, $1.25 to $1.50; plums, $1.20 to $1.50, and pears, $2.25 to $2.50, as to grade.

FISH.

The fresh fish trade continues quiet. Demand has been fair, but receipts have been light and this has restricted business. The season for fresh British Columbia salmon closed on the 1st, and this week will close out the balance of these fish, although fresh frozen fish will continue in the market. Fresh B. C. salmon have sold at 13c. Haddock have sold steadily at 4 to 4½c. per lb., and haddies are now in the market at 7½c.

Business in pickled fish has ruled very quiet, and as is natural this early in the fall only a limited demand is to note. New Labrador salmon are offering at 12½ to 13c.; B.C. salmon, 10½c., and No. 1 green cod at 4½ to 5c., while Cape Breton herring are held at 5c. New dried cod fish are in good supply, but demand is almost nil. They are selling in a small way at present at $4.75 to $5.

In prepared fish there is a steady jobbing demand for boneless cod at 5½ to 6c., and smoked herrings at 9 to 10c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The easy feeling noted last week in eggs continues, and prices are ¼c. lower at 9 to 11c., as to grade.

POTATOES—Receipts of these are not excessive, and prices are steady at 35 to 45c. per bag.

HOPS—Demand for hops continues very slow, but prices are steady at 5 to 8½c., as to quality.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—No change in these to report under a quiet jobbing trade. We quote: Sugar at 6½ to 7½c. for new and 4 to 6c. for old; maple syrup in wood at 4 to 5c. per lb., and 50 to 60c. per tin.

TALLOW—There is no change in tallow, which is steady at 6 to 6½c. for refined and 5 to 5½c. for lower grades.

BEANS—Continue quiet and steady at $1.85 for hand-picked, and $1.30 to $1.50 for lower grades.

HAY—The market is dull and prices easy in tone. No. 1 timothy is held here at $10, but is offered in the country at $9, and No. 2 at $8 to $8.50, while we quote spot prices for it $9 to $9.50.

PROVISIONS.

The demand for provisions on spot continues of a limited character, and the market rules quiet and about steady. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $15.50 to $16; Canadian short cut, mess, $17 to $17.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 11c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9¼ to 10¼c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 11c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 7¼ to 7½c.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

One of the most important transactions which has taken place in the flour market for some time past was the sale on Monday of 6,000 sacks of Manitoba patent for export to Glasgow. The local trade is quiet, and the tone of the market on the whole is about steady. We quote: Winter wheat, $4 to $4.25; spring wheat, patents, $4.15; straight roller, $3.65 to $3.75; straight roller, bags, $1.65 to $1.80; extra, bags, $1.50 to $1.60; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.90 to $4.

There is no change in the oatmeal market, business being quiet and prices steady. We quote: Standard, bbls., $3.70 to $3.80; granulated, bbls., $3.80 to $3.90; rolled oats, bbls., $3.80 to $3.90.

The demand for feed continues good, but the offerings are light and values firm. We quote: Bran, $16 to $16.50; shorts, $19; mouillie, $22 to $23.

BUTTER.

The butter market is dull and rather easier in its tone. Sales of creamery at 17c. have been noted before, and this week creamery men were in town offering their first half August and some Julys. They could sell at 17¼c., but buyers at this price were few. Receipts of Manitoba dairy are accumulating here, and prices are apt to decline unless a clearance is effected. We quote: Finest creamery, 17½c.; finest Townships dairy, 14 to 14½c.; finest Western dairy, 12 to 13½c.

CHEESE.

The course of the cheese market shows plainly that the bulge last week was only a flash in the pan. At the time the advance bids were made it was intimated that some shippers were trying to prevent salesmen from marketing their August make too freely. Tactics adopted this week strengthens the belief. A week ago buyers bid 8 to 8¼c for August make. Of course the advance of a clean ¼c. per pound made factory-men think that buyers wanted cheese. Accordingly, they refused to sell, and now all that is offered is 7¾c, or a full ¼c. less than was bid a week ago. This is the situation on this side as it stands at present. Advices from the other side continue dull. There is little encouragement in private cables and prices on spot are fully ¼ to ½c. below country cost. This peculiar situation of affairs shows that the legitimate demand is not active. A buyer to-day could fill an order for a large lot of Quebec cheese at 7½c, which is ½c. below what was possible on Monday. Other makes are difficult to quote, but 8c. is certainly the top price here now for any cheese from any section. We quote: Finest Ontario makes, 8c. Townships' makes, 7¾c.; other Quebec makes, 7¼ to 7½c.

ASHES.

The ashes market is quiet and nominal as follows: Firsts, $4.10 to $4.15; seconds, $3.75 to $3.80; pearls, $5.25 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Mr. Rose, of Rose & Laflamme, is making a business trip through Ontario this week.

Kinloch, Lindsay & Co. are loading a shipment of Lazenby's preparations this week.

The first direct fruit boat to Montreal arrived at Patras this week. She is now taking on currants for this market.

Quotations on new crop California fruit all hold firm, except on prunes, which are slightly easier for October shipment.

Laporte, Martin & Co. announce first-class values in new canned goods of all sorts. They are taking orders now for immediate delivery.

Geo. Childs & Co.; Laporte, Martin & Co., and Caverhill, Hughes & Co., are all receiving shipments this week of Lazenby's pickles and sauces.

A. P. Tippet & Co. note a constantly increasing demand for Fry's cocoa. Their sales this summer for fall shipment are largely in excess of previous years.

The strong tone of the chemical market should be interesting to grocers. The most recent advance has been in sal soda which has advanced 6c. per 100 lbs.

Mr. J. Vipond, of Vipond, McBride & Co., is making a complete tour of the Ontario apple districts this week. He is getting pointers for the export season, which will start soon.

Advices from Fresno state that the September shipments of California prunes are 250 to 300 carloads to all points east, or about 3,000 tons. Quality is still showing up very fine.

The first shipments of new French prunes will arrive this week ex Numidian and Grecian. Among the houses receiving shipments are: Laporte, Martin & Co., Hudon, Hebert & Co., J. J. Vipond & Co., Carter, Galbraith & Co., Hudon, Orsoli & Co., Lockerby Bros. & Co., Kinloch, Lindsay & Co., Caverhill, Hughes & Co., Birks, Corner & Co., and J. R. Clogg & Co. This is an earlier arrival of new French prunes than usual. In fact, they were not expected until the 15th.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER

ST. JOHN, N.B., Sept. 5, 1895.

THE past month has been a rather quiet one, but that is expected at this season. The tendency of prices has been downward, particularly in flour. In this line, however, merchants have been well satisfied. They have made as high as $2 a barrel. Stocks are now low, and they buy very light. In sugar, profits have not been as large as was hoped, but, as a rule, they have at least covered the duty. Cheese has been the most disappointing feature, and the month has closed with no improvement, there being many early cheese still in first hands. The apple business has opened dull. Large quantities come to this market, and prices realised so far have been very low. It looks as if the experience of last year would be again felt—that is, a continually overstocked market. It is hard to tell the real state of things till the hard fruit comes in.

OIL—The movement is still light though the demand shows an improvement. In burning oil quotations show no change. We quote: Best American 22c.; best Canadian, 21½c.; prime white, 18c., no charge for barrels.

SALT—There is a regular demand but nothing more. The cargo spoken of last week is not yet to hand, but is daily expected. Price to arrive is quoted at 44c. net cash at ship's side, in lots of not less than 100 sacks. There are two other cargoes on the way. In local prices there is no change. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory filled, $1 to $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.80 to $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per doz.; cheese salt, bulk, $2.70.

CANNED GOODS—Salmon have been very scarce, and have sold freely at $6. The new will arrive on a bare market. Corned beef is easier, prices here being marked down about 10c. per doz. There is but a light demand. Merchants bought freely early in the season. The only new goods yet to hand are peas. Stocks of all kinds bought to arrive are small, particularly salmon. We quote: Corn, 90c.; peas, 95c.; tomatoes, $1; gallon apples, $2.25; corned beef, 2-lb. tins, $2.65 to $2.75; 1-lb. tins, $1.60 to $1.65; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $3 to $3.15; 2's, $2 to $2.10; salmon, $1.50; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; clams, $5.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $3 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1.

DRIED FRUIT—As yet buyers have not ordered new Valencia raisins. Prices quoted are rather lower than earlier in the season, and it is expected a number of orders will go forward this week. In California loose muscatels prices on direct shipment from the Coast as quoted are rather high, making 3 crown fruit cost at least 5¼c. here. Evaporated and dried apples show no movement. Prunes continue to be quoted high.

The demand for all kinds of dried fruit is very light. A few loose muscatels continue to come in from New York. We quote: currants, 1-lb. cartons, 7½c.; bulk, 6½c.; dried apples, 5½ to 6c.; evaporated apples, 7½ to 8c.; Sultana raisins, 6 to 7c.; Valencia, 4 to 4½c.; layers, 5 to 5½c.; London layers, $2.25; loose muscatels, 5½ to 6c.; currants, bbls., 3¼ to 3½c.; half-cases, 3¼ to 4c.; dates, 4 to 4½c.; prunes, 4½ to 5½c.; figs, 11 to 18c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; do. apricots, 12 to 14c.; do. pears, 12 to 13c.; American onions, $3 to $3.25.

GREEN FRUIT—Business continues very active. Grapes show but a fair demand and Californias are now in the market. There are but few oranges, and the quality is not very inviting. In lemons the market is also about bare, the price being very high. In apples receipts are fairly large, but the demand is light. The daily auction, at which the fruit is sold very low, more than meets the local demand. The quality of some which are being shipped here hurt the sale, and the bulk of those arriving being early soft fruit, buyers want but small quantities. In plums, though fairly large quantities are coming forward from Nova Scotia, sales are very slow and prices are very low. We quote: Oranges, $4 to $4.50; California pears, $3.25 to $3.50; Bartlett ditto, $3 to $7 per bbl.; grapes, $1 per basket; Delaware grapes, 50c.; apples, $1 to $2; California plums, $2; N. S. plums, 50 to 70c.; lemons, $8; bananas, $1 to $2; peaches, $2 to $2.25; sweet potatoes, $4; cocoanuts, $3 to $3.75.

DAIRY PRODUCE—In butter the demand is rather better and prices are higher. There are lots of second grade at any price that can be got. It is the quantity of poor butter that makes the butter trade so unsatisfactory. The creameries have advanced their prices for both prints and tubs from 1 to 2c. Cheese are still unsatisfactory. Stocks in the city are not large, but at the factories there are a good many being held. They should learn to sell their cheese at market prices. And, as so often said before, the factories here need a more direct way of putting their output upon the market. Eggs show fair demand at steady prices. We quote: Common dairy butter, 12 to 15c.; dairy, 16 to 17c.; new creamery prints, 22c.; cheese, new, 8½ to 9c.; creamery tubs, 20c.; old cheese, 6½ to 7c.; eggs, 12 to 13c.

MOLASSES—Stocks held here are fairly large, but quality, particularly of Barbadoes, is in many cases only fair, and the price of Barbadoes is rather easier. In best qualities Porto Rico holders are firm. Syrup as yet shows a light demand. We quote: Barbadoes, 32 to 33c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 36c.; St. Croix, 30 to 32c.; Trinidad, 32 to 34c.; bbls., 34 to 35c.

SUGAR—There is practically no change in the position. At outside points the markets appear firmer, and Montreal refiners quote granulated ¼c. over Nova Scotia prices, but local dealers are still selling under either of the refiners' prices. A fair movement is reported. We quote: Granulated, 4 to 4½c.; yellow, 3½ to 3¾c.; Paris lump, 5 to 5½c.; powdered, 5 to 5½c.

FISH—In dry prices are rather easier than last week, with fair demand. Pickled show no change. Fair quantities are arriving. There are three grades which come from our bay; in fact, there are four. The best are called Wolves, and some very fine ones are now to be had. Then there are Rippings and Grand Manan, and also what are called Quoddy River, almost the same as Rippings. There are no new eastern pickled yet on the market. Smoked continue very dull. Fresh shad have been very plentiful during the past week, much more so than at any time this summer. One day over two thousand were taken. The demand for boneless fish is as yet light. We quote: Fresh haddock, 2 to 2½c. per lb.; dry, $1.50; large cod, $3.90 to $4; medium, $3.75 to $3.80; small, $2.25; pollock, $1.40; bay herring, $1.25 to $1.30 per half-bbl.; Rippings, $1.75; Wolves, $1.80 to $2; smoked herring, 5½ to 6c.; Digby chicken, 10c.; shad, half-bbl., $5 to $5.50; fresh, 10c.

PROVISIONS—American pork continues weak. In lard and smoked meats, Canadian prices are firm. Some Ontario houses have not been quoting for some time on account of the warm weather. There has, however, been no lack of stock, the demand being rather light. Rolls show small sale. We quote: P.E. Island thin mess, $16; clear pork, $16.75 to $17; mess, $16; beef, $14 to $15; pure lard, 10 to 10½c.; compound lard, 8 to 9c.; hams, 11 to 12c.; rolls, 9c.; cottolene, 9¼ to 9½c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—In flour, prices continue to be marked lower, and buyers are not active, as they feel the market is a falling one. In these quotations this must be remembered, and also that in round lots any quotation when prices are going off is likely to be shaded. Oatmeal is as low as it has been for a very long time, and the sale is but fair. Stocks held here, though not large, are at present equal to demand. In flour, it might be said that new wheat flour is quoted below old, but buyers do not care for it. It is thought stocks of old are light. Oats are easy and move slowly, buyers not anxious for new. Cornmeal tends downward, and prices are lower this week. In feed, though still hard to get, the feeling is easier. But little hay is moving and prices are firm. We quote: Manitoba, $4.60 to $4.70; best Ontario, $4.25 to $4.30; medium, $4.10 to $4.20; oatmeal, $4 to $4.15; cornmeal, $2.50 to $2.75; middlings, $24 to $25 on track; bran, $22 to $22.50; hand-picked beans, $1.80; prime, $1.70; oats, Ontario, 38 to 40c.; hay, $12 to $12.50; pot barley, $4.15 to $4.35; round peas, $3.75 to $3.90; split peas, $3.70 to $3.90; P.E. l. oats, 37c. on track, by the car.

PERSONAL MENTION.

JAMES A. GASS, of J. A. Gass & Son, Halifax, N.S., is in Toronto this week. Mr. Gass, who is accompanied by Mrs. Gass, is en route home, after having visited Boston, Niagara Falls and other points of attraction in the United States and Canada. The trip has extended over some five or six weeks.

H. H. Stacy, representing Huyler's cocoas and chocolates, New York, was in Toronto last week.

Capt. Chas. A. Smylie, of Young & Smylie, the large licorice manufacturers, of New York, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Toronto.

W. H. Rowley, sec.-treasurer of the E. B. Eddy Co., Hull, Que., who has been taking a well-earned rest on the Continent, arrived home by the Vancouver last week.

A Hamilton correspondent writes: "As anticipated, W. O. had some remarks to make when in Hamilton about his fishing expedition. He cannot corroborate the sea serpent 'tale,' but he can give pointers on how to kill two birds with one stone or catch two fish with one hook, 2½ and 3 pounds each."

J. A. Wilson, of the Cutler & Savidge Lumber Co., Spring Lake, Michigan, is in Toronto this week. He made THE CANADIAN GROCER a call, and renewed his subscription.

W. B. Hogarth, grocer, Tilsonburg, was in Toronto this week.

BE SURE YOU ARE RIGHT, THEN GO AHEAD.

A writer in a New York paper says that one of the many important points to be impressed upon the understanding of a subordinate, and one that the manager should be sure is understood, is, that nothing should be attempted unless the idea is perfectly clear.

But, rather than appear dull of comprehension, the assenting reply it given when the idea is vague. The following may illustrate the meaning:

"My first position entailing any responsibility," said a retired merchant, "was to make the payments of the city bills, which our house settled monthly. My duties consisted in taking the statements and the amount which the bookkeeper prepared and placed in a small hand satchel. Sometimes I would only have $50, again $200 or $300. On my first trip the cashier counted the money, footed the statements and handed me the satchel, cautioning me about taking receipts for money paid out, and not to pay out more than the statements called for. It was considered quite an honor to make these monthly trips, and, therefore, when I was called into office I was very proud indeed, the elation somewhat turning my head. After I had started, I found I was dreadfully hazy on some points, but my pride would not permit my return to the office. I made several payments, and was congratulating myself on my business abilities, when I came to a store where the clerk who received the money said: 'See here, young man! this calls for $35 not $25.' He was very dictatorial, so much so that I thought he must be very high in authority, so I tremblingly handed over $10 more, and hurriedly thrust the receipt he gave me in the satchel and got out as quick as I could. Of course when I came to the last man I was $10 short—a contingency that had not occurred to me. Considerably crestfallen, I returned to the office and made my statement. Imagine my consternation when I was shown the receipt given me by my pompous friend for $25! Where was the $10? Well, I paid over my own money to make up the shortage, but the lesson was worth all it cost."

SOME ADVICE.

Never forestal a salesman by giving him a price to sell you by mentioning a price you have, seemingly very low, perhaps, as he may have a price still lower, but of course will not offer it when he finds it unnecessary, remarks a writer in a contemporary. As to the legitimate means of securing lowest prices I think there is no fixed rule that can be given, as the buyer must use his best tact and judgment in each individual case and learn the salesman's weak points. It is best to be cautious about making statements as to the prices which have been offered you, as you frequently give yourself dead away to the traveling man. Never miss an opportunity to have a pleasant talk with the salesman if you have the time at your disposal, as there is no better way in which a merchant can keep posted in regard to the trade and what is being done in the way of new goods, changes in prices, etc., than by talking with intelligent salesmen.

THE funeral of the late Andrew McAdam, Woodstock, Ont., took place from the family residence on the 1st inst., and was very largely attended.

The new grist mill at Harrow, Ont., has started. It has a capacity of 60 barrels of age.

The Canadian Gazette contains an Order-in-Council permitting the mixing of scoured wheat as of yore.

Mr. Samuel Patrick, one of Woodstock's oldest residents, died very suddenly Sunday morning. He was eighty-eight years of age.

St. John Customs receipts for August declined $4,344, compared with August of last year; but the Inland Revenue receipts gained $4,139, mostly on the item of tobacco.

Alexander Price, who was appointed inspector of weights and measures for Brockville district some months ago, has resigned, and Charles Johnston has been appointed in his place. The appointment is an excellent one.

The stands in London are loaded with California fruit brought to England by the American line steamer New York. This fruit was sold wholesale on Thursday and Friday as English grown. The pears and peaches are said to be sound, proving that this last consignment had better keeping qualities than former shipments. Large buyers are confident that the next crop will bring higher prices.

J. A. Squance, St. Thomas, has made an assignment, for the benefit of his creditors, to Mr. J. B. Squance. J. A. Harvey and J. B. Squance went to Cleveland, met Mr. Squance, where he made an assignment. This will be much better for the creditors, and save a large number of law suits.

Scott & Millman have taken possession of the grocery business on Upper Wyndham street, Guelph, which for five years has been carried on by Fielding & McLaren. The old firm purpose continuing their extensive tea trade, and will locate in some convenient stand in the business part of the city. Scott & Millman come to Guelph well equipped for a successful business career. "They are both young men," says Guelph Herald, "full of activity and energy, and thoroughly in touch with the most advanced business methods. Mr. Scott has been manager of a large store in the Northwest, and Mr. Millman hails from Woodstock, where he carried on the leading grocery establishment of that town."

FUEL FROM SAWDUST.

A new industry is being started in Ottawa that, if successful, may prove a very satisfactory solution of the sawdust question, and provide a cheap and easy way for the great mills of the Chaudiere to dispose of the refuse that is now thrown into the river. Mr. John McLatchie, surveyor, and Mr. Olney, inventor of the process, which the new industry is to test, are placing a plant in the old Rochester building at the Chaudiere for the manufacture of fuel from sawdust.

THE HABIT OF SAVING.

THE French suffer less from panics and depressions than any other people on the globe, and it is because thrift is the basis of their prosperity, says Wood and Iron.

In France nearly every person saves something for a rainy day. The habit is almost universal, and those who earn the least are sure to be found in this great saving class. The French savings banks have more than 800,000 depositors, and their deposits amount to about $800,000,000, and this large sum is made up of small amounts.

The French schools teach the children to save money, and the most frequent prize given to a bright pupil is a savings-bank book with a small sum to the credit of the owner. This is given where in this country we would give a medal, or a book.

When a community has a lot of money deposited in savings banks, it is easy to borrow money without going to outside capitalists. The local banks are prepared to loan to home people at a moderate interest. In the large cities and factory towns of the Eastern States, the savings banks are the great safeguards of the poor wage-earners against hard times, and if the saving habit was as general here as it is in France, our people would have passed through the recent financial depression without seriously feeling it. Every child should be taught the importance of saving without being avaricious and niggardly. We need more thrift.

PARCEL POST.

The Post-office Department has issued a new schedule of parcel rates, which are to come into operation on the 1st October. A tariff has been arranged for the carrying of parcels to almost every part of the world that is open to foreign commerce. An examination of this table shows also that distance does not always dominate the charges. For instance, it costs to send a parcel of one pound weight to the Congo Free State 72 cents, and to Chili, $1.02, which is the same rate that is charged per pound to Cochin China. Again, while it costs $1.48 to forward a five-pound parcel to Panama, a package of similar weight may be sent to Constantinople for 90 cents. The most expensive rates are those to the Dutch East Indies, Persia and the German colonies in East Africa, the cost being from $1.10 to $1.18 per pound package. One may send a six-pound parcel to Jerusalem for the same figure.

ENGLAND WANTS HAY.

The deficiency in England's home-grown hay crop this season has already begun to show its influence upon the imports of hay into the United Kingdom, which last month rose with a bound to more than double the quantity imported in June, and even to 27 tons more than in July, 1894. Not only was last month's import the largest since the year began, but, with the exception of August last, it is the largest monthly total recorded for a twelvemonth. To last month's total of 14,944 tons, United States ports contributed 5,376 tons and Canadian ports 4,920 tons, making in all 10,296 tons—or 70 per cent of the whole—from North America.

RIO COFFEE CROP.

The Rio News has the following: "With the close of the crop year, if the figures furnished by the committee of factors are accepted, it appears that about 300,000 bags are carried over to supplement the 1,750,000 bags estimated for 1895-96. At the best the supply from Rio and Santos will show a sharp reduction on the 6,600,000 bags the last crops produced, and although with the actual condition of the trade in Rio, when dealers frequently content themselves with the profit on the bag, a serious advance in currency prices seems very doubtful, it certainly looks, to an outsider, as if prices had been too low during the past year in consuming markets, and that the producing centres are now entitled to some compensation." And also the following: "We are in receipt of a letter from Messrs. Rose & Knowles, proprietors of the 'Mecca' coffee-cleaning mills of Araraquara and Santos, stating that the reported coffee disease on the plantations in the west of S. Paulo, is absolutely untrue. They say: 'The plantations in the west, and especially in the vicinity of Araraquara, were never in better condition than at present.' Our note in a recent issue was taken from a San Paulo paper, which not only reported the existence of the disease, but gave the name of the man sent to investigate it."

FREIGHTS ON CALIFORNIA FRUITS.

At last mail advices it was expected that the question of freight rates on canned goods from California to eastern points would be adjusted before the end of the month. The Santa Fe rate of 65c. per hundred from Southern California and the Sunset rate of 50c. to New York and New Orleans had brought the Central Pacific and Union Pacific and connecting roads to terms, and a general 65c. rate to Pittsburg, Buffalo, Cleveland, Cincinnati, etc., was expected to soon be in force, with the result of materially quickening the general outward movement of canned goods.

GERMAN SUGAR BEET CROP.

Advices from Germany report that the growth of sugar beets has recently made good progress in the Magdeburg district. The average condition of the fields is good and the weather has been favorable. Other beet growing counties report favorably, and colonial advices are unchanged. The visible supply is given as 1,867,000 tons, against 1,025,000 a year ago, and nearest average weight with leaves 809 grammes, against 856 a year ago; percentage of saccharine, 11.10, against 10.59; and quotient of purity 78.17, against 79.03.

BREAK IN THE PEANUT TRUST.

AN AVERAGE peanut crop is from three to three and one-quarter million bushels. The crop last year was about 1,800,000 bushels, and this year the crop is estimated over one-quarter less than last year's short crop, or about one and one-half million bushels. Owing to last year's light yield there are comparatively few old nuts on hand, and the position has been considered very strong statistically, with every indication that prices would shortly advance. With the trade here looking for an advance they were much surprised last week to receive advices that the association in Virginia had cut the price on hand-picked from $4\frac{1}{2}$ to 4c. per lb., and on extras from $3\frac{3}{4}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb. As the market here is influenced entirely by primary markets prices have weakened in sympathy, fancy hand-picked falling to $4\frac{1}{4}$ c., and extras $3\frac{1}{2}$ to $3\frac{3}{4}$ c. per lb.

A year ago last April the Virginia Peanut Association was organized for a period of three and one-half years, and all but two peanut houses went into the combination.

At a meeting last week the Gwaltney, Bunkley Peanut Co., of Smithfield, who are probably the largest house in Virginia, and Williams & Sons, of Petersburg, another prominent firm, withdrew from the association, and it was expected that other concerns would also withdraw. As the association has controlled prices since it has been organized it is thought by the trade here that the decline was made because of the rupture, and the fight which has been going on between the outside firms bids fair to become more bitter as the two factions are more evenly divided. When the association was formed all brands were discarded and association brands took their places, but at last week's meeting it was decided to allow the different factories to commence using their original standard brands. One dealer here states that in his opinion the trouble between the members of the association was due in a measure to improper discrimination in placing orders with the different members of the association.

The New York market demands a much higher grade peanut than some other markets, especially west, and when the orders were distributed by the association to the various members, if one member had more New York than other orders, his factory had to prepare a finer and more costly article than a factory having more western orders; and that is said to be the reason of at least one firm's withdrawal. The regular monthly meeting of the association was held the other day, and it is reported in this city that another large concern had left the association for the reason that they held so many nuts they could not stand the decline forced by the association.—N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

CONCLUSION OF THE MATTER.

Cotton is about 2 cents per lb. more than it was on March 1.

Cotton goods (domestic) are from 5 to 10 per cent. higher than in April.

Wool is from 8 to 9 cents per lb. more than it was in June, 1894, and 4 cents per lb. more than it was in May.

Woolen goods are rising slowly in Canada. The Trent Valley Woolen Manufacturing Co., of Campbellford, have advanced their costume cloths and their A. Navy flannel, 25 inch, 10 per cent. Almost all Canadian blankets, hosiery and underwear manufacturers are refusing repeats at old prices.

Bradford serges have advanced 10 to 25 per cent. So have Bradford dress goods.

Bright Sicilian dress goods are up 50 per cent.

Ribbons advanced 5 per cent. on January 1. They have since advanced 15 per cent.

Kid gloves have long been low, hence the trade increased. Now prices are stiffening.

Repeats can be obtained from Europe only with difficulty.—Dry Goods Review.

"NO PROFIT IN SUNLIGHT SOAP."

EDITOR GROCER,—There are certain articles which have to be kept in every retail grocery and general store in the country, and one of these articles is that which brings us "akin to godliness," viz., soap.

Now when manufacturers of certain brands of soap fix the retail price so low that there is not a living (much less a working) profit, surely they cannot expect the retailer to waste his time and energy in selling that article.

In speaking thus I have special reference to the manufacturers of "Sunlight" soap. Even the worst enemies of "Sunlight," if they speak frankly, must admit that in quality it is second to no other on the Canadian market. And since its introduction to this country until last January the retail price has been three twin bars for 25 cents, or 10 cents per twin bar. Those prices gave the retailer a profit of a little over 30 per cent., which every retailer knows is no more than a fair return for money and time invested in the business. Since January last, however, the price has been fixed at 6 cents per bar and printed on each wrapper, and this price only gives the retailer 20 per cent. Now, I think any retailer who has given the matter any consideration will agree with me that the cost of running a business is not less than 15 per cent. So that the margin of 20 per cent., after deducting the cost of running expenses, is not as much as a merchant could get for his money if he put it out at interest on good security. And remember that unless a grocer's business will admit of his buying in larger quantities than most of the smaller groceries care to do, the 20 per cent. margin would have to pay the freight besides. They might just as well have made the price 7 cents for the twin bar or 3 bars for 20 cents, which price I claim would have done justice to the retailer as well as the consumer. I for one do not intend to handle the soap as long as the margin is as close as now. While I freely admit that I know of no soap made in this country that is equal in quality to "Sunlight," yet I have no doubt I can find something that will enable me to do without it. In fact, I am doing that now, as I am entirely sold out of "Sunlight" for some weeks, and when Lever Bros.' traveler solicited an order from me to-day, I told him in substance what I have said in this letter. He (the traveler) asked me to bear with the grievance a little while and give him an order, and probably in a little while we should get a better margin. But I claim that if the better margin is to come in an increase in the retail price of the soap, I will find it easier in the meantime to push other brands of soaps than it would be to reconcile customers to pay a higher price for "Sunlight" than I would have to charge them now.

In conclusion, I would say that if any of our soap manufacturers can get up as good an article as "Sunlight," now would be their chance for pushing it in the trade, as I am not the only one who feels the injustice of the action of Lever Bros.; and I hope that manufacturers in other lines of goods who are contemplating fixed prices on their wares, will not, like the above firm, overlook the interests of the retailer, and thus block up his own way to the end he has in view.

Yours, etc.,

A. JOYCE,

Manager for Carswell & Mackay's general store at Calabogie.

MAILING SAMPLES OF TEA.

EDITOR GROCER,—Thanks for your item re mailing tea samples. The new regulation, like many other innovations, is a most inconvenient one and entirely unnecessary. Travelers nowadays must carry large samples of leading lines of teas, coffees, etc., and when reputable houses are willing to brand over their own name all large parcels as "samples only," they certainly should be privileged to mail their salesmen anything weighing a pound or under.

In some cities they stick strictly to the letter of the law, while in other centres the old-fashioned sample goes out as formerly. This I know to be so, having practical experience of the same.

Years ago something of a like nature occurred, when similar lots of molasses would be tested differently at Hamilton, Toronto, Kingston, Montreal, etc.

It really is time that we should have some practical business men of experience at the head of our commercial departments, and so avoid needless vexations. Professional men cannot be expected to do any better. They do not know how.—Yours, etc.,

LOBSTER IN GELATINE.

Samples of lobster packed in gelatine were exhibited in New York the other day. The New York Journal of Commerce says regarding them: By the process employed in this method of canning it is claimed that the formation of sulphide of iron by the contact of the sulphurous acid in lobster with the tin of the can is entirely obviated and that thus there is none of the blacking of the meat which is so often an objectionable feature in canned lobster. No paper is used in this method of packing, and in the samples shown, the cans, after emptying, were as bright as when first made, while the lobster was entirely free from the objectionable discoloration.

HOW TO SELL TEAS.

"LEARN from your enemies" is an old maxim, holding good in peace as well as in actual warfare, or in the quiet contests of trade.

With many merchants, says Tea and Coffee Expert, the tea business makes up only a very small portion of their sales, and yet with the tea stores it forms a large percentage of their business. Why is it? The answer is simple. The tea stores, having nothing but tea and coffee to sell, push these two articles and they get a nice profit, while the grocer is so busy weighing out sugar at cost that he had no time to mention tea, much less arrange his tea stock so that his customers will know that he has tea for sale.

Many merchants carry very good stocks—ten to twenty-five half-chests; others, of course, much more, but no one knows they have it; it is in a store-room in the rear part of the store, or, perhaps, under the counters. All this is a mistake. Bring forward your teas, make a pyramid in the front of the store or on the sidewalk; buy a few Japanese banners or some Japanese wall paper, and fix up your store so it will have a "tea air" about it.

Then a few instructions should be given to your clerks. Let them always mention tea to the customers—talking up the merits of some particularly choice tea you may have in stock. Give away samples occasionally.

If you send out a clerk with a wagon to take orders, by all means let him act as a canvasser for tea orders. Many tea stores do very little in their own store; they depend almost entirely on the wagons for business.

NO TEST OF PARTNERSHIP.

The law at one time treated the sharing of profits as the true test of partnership, particularly as to third persons, but this doctrine has become entirely obsolete, and is no longer law, either in England or this country. The law is well settled now that where a person loans or advances money or goods to another to be invested in some business or enterprise, the lender to share in the profits as or in lieu of interest on, or in repayment of, such loan or advance, it does not constitute a partnership, as to third persons, unless the acts of the parties, in furtherance of the agreement between themselves, amount to such a holding of themselves out as partners so that third persons are misled into a reasonable belief that a partnership in fact exists. In such case to be a loan the money must be returnable in any event; for it is not a loan if repayment depends on the profits, for then the business is the security and not the borrower. Nor can it be a mere device to secure the profits without the responsibilities of the enterprise; then it is partnership, as to others.—Business.

JOHN MOUAT
WINNIPEG,
REPRESENTATIVE FOR NORTHWEST

THE ARBITER OF DEMAND.

A grocer of the writer's acquaintance used to say that the only good he ever got out of statistics in his trade paper was the inspiration to push the sale of some article. He might have done worse, for many grocers pay no attention to such matters. The way in which the tabular matter operated on our friend was this. He would, for example, be reading some figures showing the production, importation and apparent consumption of, say, prunes, when the thought would strike him that the figures of the consumptive column were smaller than they might have been, and he would say to himself: "What's the matter with giving prunes a lift and booming the consumption?" No sooner said than done, and our friend would in a humorous way inform us from time to time how much of an increase the next year's table ought to show in the consumptive column.

It was a maxim of our friend that the sale of any article in the grocery line could be materially increased, without taking trade away from fellow-dealers—in other words, that the consumption of food products and groceries generally depended nearly as much upon the energy and skill of the dealer as upon the necessities of the consumer. No doubt he was right; anyway, his plan is worth a trial, especially with regard to the finer qualities of food products.—Merchants' Review.

CANE AND BEET CROPS.

The European beet crops are growing towards maturity, and the weather has been more favorable the past week, as reported by Mr. Licht, still the saccharine in the roots is much behind last year at this time, and were it not for the large excess of visible stocks weighing on the immediate markets, the coming upward movement of prices might be expected to set in at any moment. As it is, Europe is extremely dull on very small and insignificant fluctuations while waiting for further developments from the growing beet and cane crop.

The latest reports regarding the Louisiana cane crop indicate a crop under last year's. The planters are placed at a disadvantage by the non-payment of the Government bounty on last year's production. It is very doubtful if this money is received except at the end of a long litigation, judging from the present outlook.—Willett & Gray's Statistical.

Dogs for Business Men

Irish Terrier Puppies for Sale—From stock that has won first prizes in leading British and American shows. They are now the fashionable breed in Great Britain. They are the most faithful companions, best watch dogs (the Standard Oil Co. use them exclusively), for they will fight until the last drop of blood in their daring little bodies in defence of their master or his property. No rats can live where they are. They are excellent dogs for the woods, and very fond of the water.

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Business is a race, but don't elbow the other fellow.

* * *

A lie is no less a lie because it appears in an advertisement.

* * *

Clerks should be clean in tongue as well as in appearance.

* * *

It lies with you whether underselling shall be discontinued or not.

Ideas, like stones in the quarry, are of little value till utilized.

Ideas, like eggs, need to be warmed into activity before they are hatched.

A revised maxim: Fire insurance men are good servants but bad masters.

It is not so much money as judicious labor that is wanted to raise the masses.

* * *

If the tariff on dark syrups were as good as it is big, merchants would bless and not curse.

The young man who is ambitious to work possesses the greatest of all factors of success.

It is only by minding his own business that a man can steer a straight course commercially.

Banana peel "downs" a man and man "downs" a banana. The banana, however, does not swear.

A merchant should be in good spirits, but it is not politic for him to go to spirits in order to possess them.

As long as Toronto aldermen think they know more than their civil engineers the "Queen City" will never have anything but an impure water supply.

Pleasant words spoken to children who enter your store are more profitable than money invested in gold mines.

The rain which develops the crops sometimes retards the fruitfulness of exhibitions whereat these crops are displayed.

An exchange contains the "confession of a coffee lover." It is to be hoped the confessor loved wisely and not too well.

* * *

The merchant who would be successful has all he can do to care for his customers without concerning himself about his competitors.

* * *

People who now drink Toronto water will take in an abundance of "life," although a death-dealer rather than an alixir is said "life."

* * *

If Toronto at the moment has not got good water she has plenty of good liquor. Those who can may take consolation out of that.

* * *

A storekeeper is not a philanthropist; neither should he try to build up trade on the philanthropy of others. Business is business.

* * *

Plate glass must be cut in order to be put into position, but that is no reason why dealers should cut it in order to secure business.

* * *

Essential as it is that a merchant should know himself, just as essential is it that his customers should know him and the goods he carries.

* * *

When a merchant's bookkeeping practices are poor and his clerks' practices dishonest, woe-betide him: The tide of bankruptcy will be sure to engulf him, as it just has a Manchester merchant.

* * *

It requires a mint of money to run a gold mint, hence the unfavorable way in which the suggestion to start a gold mint in Canada is received.

* * *

Men do not go into business for their health or for philanthropic purposes; but that does not give them license to "bleed" their customers.

* * *

The merchant who committed financial suicide by slaughtering prices did not mean to kill himself. It was the "other fellow" he intended to stab.

* * *

A contemporary talks about money in cherries. We are all sure about stones being in cherries, but we are not as certain about money being in them.

* * *

Do not cease promulgating ideas because brainless competitors appropriate them. It would be unwise to sacrifice the lion's share in order to deprive the hyena of his spoils.

* * *

It is possible that delay in providing for the retirement of the greenbacks may compel the United States to issue more bonds. No one has yet inferred that this is the result of mossback financing.

* * *

It is not on the principle that all men are rogues until they are found to be honest that credit should be refused an applicant. The cause of which the refusal is the effect should be want of acquaintanceship. Where there is no acquaintanceship there should be no trust.

* * *

It is said that the difficulty between the mill owners on the Ottawa and the Dominion Government is likely to be solved by the invention of a process whereby the sawdust may be utilized as fuel. This idea consummated, the sawdust will go up in smoke instead of down into the rivers, much to the gratification of all concerned, the fish particularly.

A TRADE SERMON.

"Fret not thyself because of evil-doers, neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity, for they shall soon be cut down like the grass and wither as the green herb."

THERE are, in the business world, honest men and—scoundrels; and the latter provoke the former to honest indignation—yea, verily.

If all men were honest, what a great world this would be.

Just let us draw a picture of such a condition.

Imagine men in business making obligations and living up to them; contracting debts and paying them when due; selling goods at a fair profit and no more; no cutting; each and every man living up to the golden rule and being as anxious to see his brother in business succeed as himself. O, but such an idea is Utopian, so what's the use of drawing the picture? As Byron says: "Rome has fallen, the world remains—the same dark den of thieves, or what ye will!"

An honest business world may be a Utopian idea, but it's a good one for us to occasionally consider, in spite of Byronic pessimists and dyspeptic Jeremiahs. While dishonest men do flourish and exalt themselves for a time, it is the duty of all of us to coalesce into one solid phalanx and rout them, foot and dragon.

There are hundreds of men to-day who are fretting because of the rascality of others. The text tells us not to do this, and it goes further and says we should not be envious of their prosperity, which is but transient.

The man who spends his time in fretting at evil-doers will not be a successful merchant unless he mends his ways. Instead of spending his time fretting he should be engaged in working for the success which is promised to every faithful servant. Instead of mourning and spending hours of sorrowful reflection upon that miserable Mr. Jones, who is dilatory in paying the bill he owes, just study out a solution how either you can compel him to pay it or run your business without hooking on to it such undesirable fishes. Spend your time rather in trimming sail and cleaning off these barnacles that seek to infest every business ship.

There are merchants without number to-day in many cities and towns of this great nation who are cast down and fretting because scallawags have set up business in opposition to them, and are slashing right and left in hope of drowning them. Don't worry. The success which these men gain is as transient as the mists which sometimes arise before old Phoebus gets out of his bed in the east.

Some merchants try to meet these competitors by using the same methods.

One man, who all his life has been methodical, careful and honest, suddenly throws all his experience to the winds and meets the cutter more than half way. This is a fatal move on his part, and instead of gaining the success he anticipates by such practices, the two rivals keep up the fight until they shortly resemble the last act in the scene of the Kilkenny cats—nothing but the termini of two caudal appendages going through the motions of controversy.

Why should we not fret because of these evil-doers? First, it does no good to fret under any circumstances. To fret is to make us unhealthy, morose, discouraged, and unconsciously while fretting we neglect the essentials to gain success. Second, fretting never mended anything and never will. It won't mend a broken dish nor it won't put these scoundrels in jail. Fretting won't drive them out of business any more than throwing molasses at flies will drive those pestiferous insects away.

Be not envious because success appears to crown the despicable methods of those business rogues. What seems to your eyes their success is not real, is not permanent. It is transient, and it brings with it no happiness.

Don't be cast down at the seeming prosperity of these miserable counterfeits of business men. Just plod on along the track of honesty and true business methods, and if you keep your top eye open you will, one of these days, see a great mowing down of those who set righteous dealings at naught. That great mowing machine called Destiny will be heard clicking out its song of reaping, and these tall stalks that have stood so defiantly, and have been so puffed up with their own conceit, will try to get out of the way, but the roots—those dishonest methods they have cast down into the soil—will hold them as in a vise, and, twist and pull as they please, they cannot get away from the oncoming, clicking, rattlesnake buzzing death machine that comes upon them like the car of Juggernaut.

As a man sows so does he reap; this is the law as immutable as that which governs the stars in their courses. Run your business by dishonest and questionable methods and you cannot help but reap the whirlwind.

Yes; these villainous weeds which grow and flourish for a time in the business world are cut down and wither. You don't believe it? I do, and history's pages are running over with their obituaries. Ask the old man of three score years and ten if this is not the truth. He will tell you that in every instance the devil gets his due.

This is comforting to many of us who slave all day at the store, at the shop or at the forge, and sometimes way into the night, and who run our business on methods which we are not ashamed to expose to the light of day. It is comforting to know that not only the devil gets his due, but that the honest, persistent laborer in the world's field of business secures his just deserts—which are prosperity and success in the truest sense of the words.

Do you know why this is so? I will tell you. It is the old law of cause and effect, guided by an overshadowing Providence, which brings the cultivated, healthy fruit to perfection and allows the worm-eaten one to fall to the ground. There are two ways in this world on which men may travel—one leadeth to destruction and the other one to safety. The sign-boards are painted plainly at the beginning, so that a man who runs may read. Get on the right road. Fret not because you see another man skipping and apparently happy on the other. Be not envious of him. He may appear all right for a time, but suddenly, in an instant, his feet will touch the treacherous clay and he will go down and out of sight.—S. W. Wheeler, in Trade Magazine.

A PRICE WAR.

New Albany is having a novel cut-rate contest, according to The Louisville Times. Two rival grocers have become involved in a bean war, and in consequence that summer staple has declined to one cent a peck, with a further slump in prospect.

Not long ago the head clerk in a prominent grocery establishment cut loose from his old employer and opened a grocery of his own down on the next corner. As a leader he started off beans at a reduction of a cent or two on his near competitor's rate by the peck. The announcement was made by a big sign.

The other fellow, not to be outdone, immediately went him a cent lower, and in turn displayed a bigger sign than his former clerk.

Each grocer had a spy to watch his rival's price, and at every slump in the bean market the underbid dealer pounded the price still more. The result is that beans are now selling at one cent a peck, and the colored folks are having a high old time. The war threatens to extend to other vegetables, as it is reported to one of the warring dealers that his competitor has sold a peck of beans and an armful of corn in the ear for five cents.

A HIBERNIAN DRUMMER DID IT.

Two honorable members of the Colorado Legislature have, according to an exchange, just been tripped up in a pretty mean scheme of making money by beating railroads that had given favors to them because of their public office. They have been making a system of renting their annual passes on the railroads to traveling men at $15 a month apiece. In the case of one member, who has a German name, the fraud was discovered through one of his personal passes being presented by a man of palpably Hibernian nationality. The conductor could not reconcile the name and the brogue, and held the man and the pass for investigation, when the fraud was discovered. Following this clue led to the discovery of the system operated by the two legislators. One pass that the assemblyman had rented for $15 a month had been used for more than $100 worth of travel in that time.

INDIAN TEA.

We have already had occasion to refer recently to the operations of the Indian Tea Association and its efforts on behalf of "the cup that cheers." The fifteenth annual report of the association is comprehensive enough to satisfy even the most exacting demands. The important question of enlarging the markets for the product is dealt with, and the methods to be adopted are sketched out in detail. We cordially wish the association well in its attempt to increase the consumption of Indian teas, which have so deservedly obtained popularity, and the success of which would appear to be assured from the fact that the consumption was nearly 60 per cent. greater in 1893 than in 1892 in the United States. The report also touches upon numerous subjects of interest to growers and merchants. The table of imports for home consumption from the various countries engaged in tea growing are instructive. Whereas in 1890-91 the amounts obtained from India, Ceylon and China respectively were 100,000,000 lbs., 47,000,000 lbs. and 74,000,000 lbs., in 1894-95 they were 115,000,000 lbs., 74,000,000 lbs. and 50,500,000 lbs., most of the Chinese tea being re-exported—a convincing proof of the complete manner in which the Chinese teas have been replaced by those of India and Ceylon. The acreage under tea cultivation increased from 260,571 in 1883-84 to 371,599 in 1892-93, and in Ceylon, during the same period, from 70,000 to 273,000 acres.

TRADE CHAT.

The Lake of the Woods Milling Co. has completed the erection of fifteen new elevators.

A committee of the Winnipeg Board of Trade and City Council will interview Premier Bowell on the subject of improving the navigation of Red River.

Mr. Charles Hammill, a member of the firm of Dyson, Gibson & Co., grocers, Winnipeg, was married the other day to Miss Mary Creamer, formerly of Peterboro', Ont. The honeymoon will be spent in eastern cities.

The St. Malo creamery has shipped a car-load of condensed milk to a large firm in Chicago. This is the first shipment of the kind ever made from Manitoba. An agent of the firm in question came to Manitoba for the special purpose of making the purchase. —Free Press, Winnipeg.

An exchange says: "Last spring Mr. Fred. Davis, Seaforth, gave a traveler for a London wholesale house an order for a car-load of sugar, but as sugars had taken a jump before the order could be filled, they refused to send it along. Davis entered suit for damages, and the case was heard by Judge Doyle the other day, and a jury, when a verdict for $100 and costs was rendered."

BIG PRICE FOR PEACHES.

A Wisconsin fruit grower shipped 80 baskets of peaches to a Chicago commission man. He received in return a cheque for $4, and, after paying for his baskets and help in gathering the fruit, had just the price of a postage stamp remaining. Oddly enough, he didn't use the postage stamp to express his gratitude to the Chicago commission man.—New England Grocer.

JAPAN RICE SITUATION.

The rice situation at Saigon is reviewed by W. G. Hale & Co. to July 27th as follows: "We have never had a season during which prices have remained so persistently high as they have since the present opened. There have been occasions when the market has been reported 'weak' or 'dull,' but an attempt to buy has always brought out much the same figures; there have been purchases certainly, but it is not clear how they have been brought about; no foreign firm has been able to operate to any extent upon usual terms, or at a margin sufficient to cover risks and charges. At the close our market maintains its high position, although there is no sign of any demand whatever at the moment; supplies, however, are meagre at present, not exceeding 10,000 piculs daily, which fact has some influence upon prices."

COUNTRY MERCHANTS IN TORONTO

TORONTO has this week been besieged by country customers. There are, doubtless, more of them in the city than ever before at one time. They are around the wholesale warehouses in droves, and are monopolizing all the attention. Newspaper men in quest of information, and brokers trying to sell goods are ignored. "Unless you happen to be a storekeeper from the country you have to take a back seat," one broker was heard to remark with a tinge of disgust. The improved condition of trade in the country is doubtless one of the causes of the influx, but the chief cause is, probably, the low railway rates, which are even lower than is usual during the Industrial Exhibition.

Some of the country merchants I ran against while they were in Toronto, but they were necessarily a small proportion of the whole.

J. D. Tobey, of Tara, who spent a week in the city, told me that crops in his neighborhood were good in everything except small fruits, apples and hay. "Usually we export thousands of barrels of apples, but this year we won't have any more than enough to supply local consumption."

H. P. Merrick, Mitchell Square, Simcoe County: "We had a good crop of early apples. Fall apples our farmers do not much cultivate, but they are now beginning to do so. We had an enormous crop of berries. The cereal crop was good; so was the hay crop. Payments are rather slow. The Patrons? Oh, there was a lodge alongside me, but it did not last long. They wanted me to supply them, but I knew better than to do that."

R. K. Peters, Enterprise, Addington County, told me he had a very good year's trade, so far. The fruit crop was poor, but the cereals were good. He told me he had no Patron stores to bother his life, but he had to contend with even the worse competition of alleged wholesale houses in Toronto that sold direct to the members of the Patron organization, in some instances at lower prices than he could buy at. Mr. Peters does a large business.

T. S. Kuhl, of Berlin, confessed that he was in Toronto more for the purpose of visiting the warehouses and to become seized of the situation than to buy. Mr. Kuhl is an observing man, which is what every merchant should be.

F. C. Harp, of Brantford, one of Oliver Clark's clerks, said: "Trade is picking up. Our trade during August was excellent. It was much better than we anticipated, and was ahead of that of any month of last year. The crops have turned out better than we expected they would. The early fruit crops were bad, and of strawberries there was practically none."

J. W. Vanluven, Battersea, has been a subscriber of THE CANADIAN GROCER since its publication. He has been in business as a general merchant about eighteen months. For nine years previous to that he was a "Knight of the Grip." Mr. Vanluven has had his own time with the Patrons. "When I began business the Patrons wanted me to supply them, on their own terms of course," he remarked to me. "I refused to have anything to do with them. They then started a store in opposition to me. It did not succeed very well, and the other day I bought the business out, much to their chagrin." Mr. Vanluven has reason to consider himself cock of the walk.

J. J. Clark, of Wiarton, emphasised what has already been said regarding the failure of the apple crop in his part of the country. The cereal crops, too, had not ripened so well as desired, rains having induced second growth. He was, however, looking for a good fall and winter trade.

J. Halliday, of Harriston, said he would rather go without a meal than THE CANADIAN GROCER.

E. Noice, a Minden general merchant, reported that everything looks prosperous in his part of the country.

M. Cain, Bobcaygeon: "Grain is beating all expectations."

George E. King, Wingham, reported business good. He could not report anything else as far as he was concerned. He started into business three years ago, but for a year and a half his store has been too small for the growing requirements of his trade. Now he has moved into a new store, and which, by the way, is the largest in Wingham. Not so bad for a three-year-old.

T. W. Robinson, of Moose Jaw, is in Toronto on his fall buying tour. He is enthusiastic over the outlook in the Northwest.

Among others whom I saw or heard that were in Toronto were these: Mr. Tilton, of Smith & Tilton, St. John, N.B.; E. J. Ecclestone, Huntsville; Mr. Hurley, of Hurley & Brady, Lindsay; Mr. and Mrs. May, Oshawa; F. A. Haddy, of Young & Co., Bowmanville; Thomas Blackwell, of C. S. Blackwell & Co., Lindsay; A. H. Carl, Coboconk; J. F. Honor, Port Hope; W. L. Shields, general merchant, Coboconk; R. Waller, Peterboro'; J. Muchmore, Gore Bay; Mr. Hawkins, Spanish River; Mr. Patterson, of Patterson, Canning & Co., McKellar; C. E. Foreman, Vancouver; T. D. Robinson, Moosomin, N.W.T.; A. Campbell, Windsor; G. C. Church, Burk's Falls.

FORSAKES "CREDIT" SYSTEM.

A. Brand, who has for 20 years carried on a successful and growing business at Embro, Ont., has issued a cleverly gotten up circular to his customers informing them that henceforth he will give no "tick." Cash or produce are to be the terms of purchase from now on.

GRAIN MEN ANGRY.

The Grain Section of the Toronto Board of Trade are very angry over the treatment said to have been accorded them by Government Commissioner Miall in connection with the grain mixing dispute. On Tuesday they adopted a resolution condemning the rescinding of the order against wheat mixing.

BUTTER AND CHEESE MEN.

The Walker House, Toronto, fairly swarmed with butter and cheese men on Tuesday night. Representatives of no less than three associations of dairy produce merchants were collected there.

President Derbyshire occupied the chair at a meeting of the Ontario Creameries' Association, at which there were also present: Wm. Halliday, Chesley; J. Miller, Spencerville; J. H. Croil, Aultsville; John S. Pearce, London; W. G. Halton, Hamilton; A. Wenger, Ayton; and James Carmichael, Arva. A resolution was adopted urging all creamery men to avoid holding their butter, and to get it on the market while fresh. The annual convention of the organization will be held at Cornwall on Jan. 14, 15 and 16, next.

A meeting of the Eastern Ontario Dairy-men's Association was also held at the Walker House. E. Kidd, North Gower, president, occupied the chair, and there were also present: John McTavish, vice-president, Vancamp; T. B. Carlaw, Warkworth; D. A. Dargant, Elgin; Wm. Eager, Morrisburg; E. J. Madden, Newburg; R. Craig, North Gower; James Whitton, Wellmans' Corners; P. A. Daly, Foxboro'; R. G. Murphy, Elgin; Henry Wade, Toronto. The annual meeting of the association will be held at Campbellford.

Later in the evening a joint meeting of directors of the Ontario Creameries' Association and of the Eastern and Western Dairy-men's Associations was held, under the presidency of D. Derbyshire, Brockville, when a resolution denying the statement made by cable to the effect that adulterated cheese was exported from Canada was adopted.

FIRE AT FRANKFORD.

A disastrous fire occurred on Sept. 10, in Frankford, Hastings County, Ont., doing about $10,000 damage to the village. The following losses were sustained: The Fosters' Block, $4,500, insurance $2,000; B. Bostrom Block, drug store and residence, $4,500, insurance $3,500; Lewis Chown, $700, total loss, no insurance; James Foster's Machinery Hall for Massey-Harris Co., $1,000, little or no insurance; James Griffiths' stock, fixings and furnishings, $250, no insurance; E. Regan, barber, $200, insurance not known; Sables & Grass, merchant tailors, manufacturing department and supplies, $500, no insurance; Weston & Doyle, about $500 damage to stock and premises; the store owned by Thos. Foster and his own stock and premises, to the amount of $500.

THE INIQUITOUS SYRUP TARIFF.

THE question as to who pays the duty on this and that article is a frequent source of debate between protectionists and free-traders.

The question, as it relates to some articles, needs no deep analysis for any unprejudiced person to advance an answer.

The tariff, as it relates to dark syrups, is of this character.

As we have already pointed out, this tariff is equal to a tax of 100 per cent. Obviously, this tax would not be paid unless it were absolutely necessary to do so; and, of course, people need not pay it unless they import. But the trouble is that some of them are compelled to import or go without this particular kind of syrup.

Dark syrups are wanted in this country. There is a certain portion of the population, and a goodly portion, too, that want dark syrups just as much as some people want their porridge. Get it in the country they certainly would if they could, rather than pay the enormous tax. But the trouble is, the supply produced at home is insignificant compared with the consumptive demand. Some who cannot get the home-made dark syrup turn their attention to the brighter article. Others, however, must have the dark article, and what they cannot get at home they go abroad for.

Under such conditions it is obvious that the duty is paid by contributions from more than one source. The heaviest levy is, of course, made upon the consumer. He it is that sets moving the demand wave. The retailer knowing what his customer desires, makes his enquiries of the wholesaler, and the wholesaler imports.

Owing to the high price—duty and freight included—which the wholesaler is compelled to pay, he obviously cannot make as good profit relatively as would be possible with a moderate figure obtaining. With the retailer it is the same. It follows, therefore, that every fraction that comes from the wholesalers' and retailers' profit is absorbed by the tariff.

The legitimate conclusion, therefore, must be this: There is a triumvirate contribution to the tax on dark syrups. The burden of the tax is upon the consumer, but the wholesaler and retailer contribute, hence the reason that all three chafe under what is so aptly termed the iniquitous syrup tariff.

TAKE A FEW DAYS OFF.

THE Montreal Exhibition opened yesterday, and will continue until September 21. A run through the buildings and grounds to-day showed that it was by long odds the best we have yet had here. By Monday everything will be in ship-shape order.

Every business man who can should visit Montreal next week. Spend the mornings among the wholesale houses and manufacturers. Get acquainted with the men with whom you do business. It pays you and them to know each other personally. It is not necessary to buy anything unless there are bargains, which must be snapped up. The best retail stores are also worth visiting. Sometimes ideas are to be gained there. President Johnston, or any of the officers of the Grocers' Association, will give a hearty welcome to any readers of THE CANADIAN GROCER, and afford any information they may desire.

During the afternoon there is much to be seen at the Exposition grounds. The platform performances will afford enjoyment. Then there are the warships in the harbor which are well worth a visit. In the theatres the presence of Sir Henry Irving and Ellen Terry will no doubt bring many people to the city. They are to be at the Academy of Music every night and on Saturday afternoon.

The railways and steamboats are giving special return fares. Business men who may not have selected a place at which to stay may have their letters addressed care of THE CANADIAN GROCER, 146 St. James street, where all our subscribers will be made welcome.

All the wholesale houses will keep open house. One firm, Hudon, Hebert & Cie, tell us that not only will readers of THE GROCER be made especially welcome, but they will also give passes to any of them who may call. These tickets will admit any reader of THE GROCER, together with any friends and relatives who may accompany them to the Exhibition free of charge. Their new offices and sample rooms, corner of St. Sulpice and de Bresoles street, are among the most expensively fitted up of any mercantile house in Canada and should certainly be visited.

DO NOT SWAMP MANITOBA.

CARE should be taken that the favorable conditions obtaining in Manitoba do not induce inordinate business methods which may prevent the present trade revival factors working with full freedom.

Manitoba is one of the most richly endowed with natural advantages of the provinces of the Dominion. But no province of the Dominion probably felt as keenly the recent depression. This cannot be explained away by the fact that it has been largely a wheat-producing country, and consequently has suffered on account of the low prices obtaining.

The low price of grain was undoubtedly a cause, but it was only one, and not the most important at that.

The principal cause of the hard times in Manitoba was not a natural one: it was unnatural business methods.

Of these unnatural business methods the chief was the work of the implement manufacturers. Taking advantage of the "greenness," either to farm work or the requirements of a Manitoba farm, of many of them, agents induced settlers to purchase implements out of all proportion to the requirements of their farms. The ideas of the farmers were big and the implement agents swelled them. As a concomitant of this inordinate buying followed inordinate indebtedness.

To retiring the notes held against him by the implement men, the farmer devoted practically all his financial efforts.

He wanted groceries, he wanted clothing, he wanted hardware, but the grocer, the dry goods merchant and the hardwareman would supply these and wait for his money. And he has waited—a year commonly, and two and three years frequently—while in many instances he will never be paid. Unable to collect the money due them, the storekeepers found it impossible to liquidate their liabilities to the wholesalers. The result of this was that Manitoba was given a bad credit mark by manufacturers and wholesalers in the east. Some, as a result, withdrew their travelers, while all exercised a sharper scrutiny over their accounts in the Prairie Province.

Now prosperity is returning to the province. Fifteen million dollars from wheat alone is likely to be realized. And not from wheat alone will there be an increased revenue, but from every staple grown, every animal raised, and from every article produced.

We stand aghast at the wonderful manner in which the manufacturing industries of the United States have recovered, but the prodigiousness of Manitoba's cereal and root crops still more excites our admiration.

Canada is as proud of Manitoba as is a king of the chief jewel in his crown.

With a knowledge of a bountiful harvest reaped has come a restoration of confidence in the province. Manufacturers and merchants are pushing their representatives into the country for the purpose of getting business; and it is therein that THE CANADIAN GROCER urges caution.

The money that will flow into Manitoba in payment of the products taken out will be enormous. But large as this amount promises to be, it will not much more than set the farmers and merchants on their feet. Obviously, the inordinate pushing of business should be eschewed. Vessels are sometimes swamped by overloading it must be remembered.

CANNED SALMON.

Canned salmon is still surrounded by more or less uncertainty. The figures which have been adduced show that the pack is larger than anticipated, and nearly equal to that of last year, but neither sellers nor buyers have receded from their position of unconcern.

The only transaction we hear of is one in which an advanced price was obtained. The ruling quotation, however, is still $4.50 on the Coast.

A letter, dated Victoria, September 2, asserts that there will be very little fall fishing on the Fraser.

There has been some talk of cutting prices on the Toronto market, but THE CANADIAN GROCER has discovered that the house against whom the cutting is charged is purchasing from other houses along the street.

IT ENHANCES THE PRICE.

It goes without saying that country retailers would not willingly do anything that would tend to increase the cost of the goods they buy.

But what they would not do willingly they sometimes do unwillingly.

Here is a case in point: Every year when the season for fall fairs approaches, merchants in the different rural districts where these are to be held are deputed to solicit donations from the manufacturers and wholesalers with whom they do business.

Often the amount to be donated is not left to the option of the donor: He is told that such and such a sum is required of him. Blank & Co. have responded, and, of course, he must comply. It may be against his will, but he prefers to hand over his good dollars rather than run the risk of giving offence and probably losing a customer.

But the great grievance reposes in the fact that such demands may come from a dozen or more sources, while in some instances requests for donations come from people with whom the manufacturer or wholesaler has had but the slightest business connection.

Not only is the system iniquitous, but it obviously adds to the cost of doing business, and, furthermore, to the price of the goods.

The system, therefore, should be discontinued for two reasons: 1. Because it is iniquitous; 2. Because it unnecessarily enhances the price of goods.

AVARICIOUS INSURANCE COMPANIES.

THE fire underwriters have not endeared themselves to the mercantile community of Toronto by their manner of dealing with risks in the "Queen City."

After the big fires which visited the city eight months ago, it only required two or three days for the monopoly to put rates up 25 per cent. and formulate burdensome conditions.

To-day Toronto is stronger to fight big fires than she was a year ago; and she has been so for three months. With the appliances now possessed by the corporation a repetition of the disastrous Globe, Osgoodby and Simpson fires is impossible. But the Underwriters' Association has not yet shown any disposition to lower its rates or modify its obnoxious conditions.

The fact of the matter is the Underwriters' Association is a big, bullying, bloated monopoly, and will not recede from its position until compelled to do so.

No sensible man demands that insurance companies shall assume risks at a rate which would tend to weaken them. But it is demanded that the present high rates be modified. That they can afford to do so is obvious. Up to the beginning of the present year fire losses in Toronto have been remarkably small, while that the insurance companies are earning fairly good profits in the country at large is evident from the Government returns.

Last year business was not as good as the year before, judging from a revenue point of view, the premiums received being $82,226 less than in 1893. The amount paid out in losses, on the other hand, was nearly half a million dollars less, while the rate of losses paid to premiums received was nearly 6 per cent. less. Taking the average of the last twenty-six years we find that the rate of losses paid to the premiums received was 69.45, and that includes the loss of 225.58 per cent. to premiums received in 1877, the year of the St. John, N.B., conflagration.

Obviously, the insurance companies doing business in Canada have little cause for complaint. At any rate, the merchant or banker who could look back over a period of twenty-six years and see an average profit of close upon 30½ per cent. would think he had not. But of course the banker and the merchant have not had the same opportunities to develop the spirit of avarice behind strong monopolies as have the insurance companies.

NEW VALENCIA RAISINS.

The new season's Valencia raisins which last week reached the warehouses of the wholesalers are showing excellent quality. They are fat and luscious, and the average quality is better than the crop of 1894.

The lots received were merely advance shipments, but more will be arriving in a few days.

The fruit is all offstalk, and the ruling prices are 6 to 6½c. per pound.

Although advices show no change in prices, yet a rather unsettled feeling has developed on the market during the last few days. It is caused by certain shippers, the quality of whose goods, it is said, buyers have little or no confidence in. Be that as it may, first-class firms approached are unwilling to concede anything on recent quotations; in fact in some instances they are inclined to demand advances.

A letter received in Toronto this week from Denia, bearing date of August 26, states that heavy rains were prevailing. This, in all probability, accounts for the cheap offers already referred to, while also explaining the firmness of those houses that will not ship rain-damaged fruit.

NOT MANY FLORIDA ORANGES.

Secretary Turner, of the Jacksonville Fruit Exchange, estimates the crop of Florida oranges in the state at not over 100,000 boxes, against 5,000,000 for the season of 1893-94.

This statement appeared in a despatch from the Orange State a day or two ago, and is borne out by the views of those in a position to know anything about the situation.

So many trees were ruined or half ruined by the frosts of last spring that it will be years before anything like a good crop can be expected in Florida.

In about three years the yield will begin to improve, but not until the twentieth century has got a good start will we see the old-time crop again. The yield this year will be to that of last year what this year's crop of Canadian Crawford peaches was to that of 1894.

SARDINES EASIER.

Sardine fishing in France has improved materially during the past week or two. This is indicated by advices just to hand.

As a result, prices are easier than they were, although figures now obtaining are still about ¼c. above those of a month ago.

Readers of THE CANADIAN GROCER will remember that at the opening of the fishing season the catch was so poor that it was feared the sardine pack would be a total failure.

FRUIT EXPORTERS MEET.

THERE was an attendance of about thirty when the annual convention of the Fruit Buyers' and Exporters' Association of Ontario met at the Board of Trade building, Toronto, on September 10.

The following communication, received from the C. P. R. and G. T. R. authorities, was read :

Referring to the meeting held on the 15th May between the representatives of the Fruit Buyers' and Exporters' Association and the C. P. R. and G. T. R., the questions set forth by the committee of the association have been carefully considered by the management of the two roads, and it has been decided that with regard to the first proposal that a 50 per cent. rebate should be allowed on apples shipped to certain specific storage points when for reshipment for local export or local consumption that the railway companies could not offer any better inducements than a reduction of 33½ per cent. from tariff rates between Toronto and points west, and 25 per cent. off tariff from points east of Toronto; the 25 per cent. reduction to be applied also on shipments made from points east of Toronto, and the reductions to be made not at the time of shipment into cold storage, but in reshipment from there to ultimate destination. The second proposal, that a reduced rate should be made in favor of purchasers or inspectors of apples traveling between points in Ontario and Quebec, was considered and respectfully declined.

A communication was received from L. Woolverton, of Grimsby, regarding the grading of apples, and suggesting that, instead of the terms "first" and "second" grades, as used in the Dominion Inspection Act, the terms A, B and C, or XXX, XX and X be employed.

It was decided "to appoint a committee to consider the grading of apples, with a view to obtaining Dominion compulsory legislation."

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, A. E. W. Peterson, Toronto; vice-president, Sam. Nesbit, Brighton; secretary, J. A. Cooper; executive committee, J. C. Smith, Burlington; Frank Everist, Toronto; J. M. Suttleworth, Brantford; W. Dixon, Hamilton; David Cantelon, Clinton.

A CURIOUS CURRANT MARKET.

The currant market still fails to exhibit much life. There have been offers on the Toronto market at prices which the sellers thought ought to have been attractive to buyers, but the resultant sales were of a disappointing character.

Information received through English sources states that the quality of the new crop is not as good as that of last year.

The Produce Markets' Review of August 31, in the course of a review of the currant situation, said: "The position is doubtless a very curious one, for it must be admitted that if the general estimates of the weight of the crop are correct, bearing in mind also that the new law for reducing the weight has become operative, the quotations at which fruit of the new season is now being offered appear to be much lower than the position justifies. Supposing the estimates of the crop to be at all correct, and that the law to retain 15 per cent. of the weight exported be maintained, it is not likely that more than 120,000 tons will be available; and unless all previous calculations are to be upset, it should be quite easy to dispose of such a weight, at shillings per cwt. above the present quotations, and at prices which would pay the producer a good return for his capital and labor. The real solution is, it is feared, to be found in the fact that the farmers will this season be compelled to realize a proportion of their fruit, in order to meet their more pressing requirements for ready money."

The steamship Escalona, which went aground after leaving Patras, has, according to a cable just received in Toronto, been floated undamaged and has proceeded to Denia to take on Valencia raisins.

The first cargo of the new fruit was due to arrive in London on Monday last.

CHEESE DEMORALIZED.

The demoralized condition of the cheese market, in view of the large stock of cheese in cold store, is attracting a great deal of attention.

In addition to what speculators hold, many factorymen still hold a considerable portion of their July make. In fact, it is estimated that there is fully 600,000 cheese waiting a market in Canada at the present moment.

Present prospects point to heavy losses on this large quantity of cheese. It has cost in the country all the way from 8 to 8½c., so that on the average its owners will lose fully ½c. per lb., if not more.

The market has dropped steadily during the past fortnight, until it now stands ½ to ¾c. below where it did a fortnight ago, and that it has touched bottom many doubt.

This decline, if it is permanent, or even of lengthy duration, will be serious to the owners of cold storage cheese. It has cost, at the lowest estimate, $5.60 per box, and at ruling market rates it is only worth $5.25, or a loss of 35c. per box, which amounts to a formidable item on 600,000 cheese, being $211,000.

If the cheese trade show discouragement, it is not to be wondered at.

REDUCTION IN COCOA.

A reduction of from 4 to 10c. is announced by Walter Baker & Co., Ltd., in the price of their chocolate. We now quote: Premium, 40c.; vanilla chocolate, 47c.; Caraccas sweet chocolate, 35c.; best sweet chocolate, 24c.; vanilla tablets, $3.75; German sweet chocolate, different sizes, 24c.; cracked cocoa, 33c.; cocoa shells, 12c.; breakfast cocoa, 47 to 50c.; soluble chocolate, 48c.

Van Houten & Zoon have reduced the retail price of their ¼-lb. cocoa to 25c., a decline of 5c. In their circular, announcing the change, they say they were compelled to reduce the price owing to the action of the department stores.

NO SALT COMBINE YET.

The movement which was set on foot some months since to form a combine among the salt-well men has not made much headway—indeed it seems to have altogether fallen through. The manufacturers are now fighting tooth and nail, and some of them are cutting prices.

Those behind the combine idea are glad to see this, as they think that the more cutting done the more quickly will the makers be compelled to come to an agreement.

LOW OFFERS ON DRIED FRUIT.

Easy offers on new crop Mediterranean dried fruit continue from Montreal brokers without eliciting any demand of an urgent kind from buyers. As noted last week, the first direct steamer commenced loading at Patras on Tuesday last.

So far only a moderate quantity of currants has been contracted for on the basis of 8s. 3d. to 9s. for the higher grades of Patras and Provincials.

No quotation has yet been spoken of for Vostizzas. The fact of the matter is, that buyers, to a large extent, seem disposed to await the arrival of the steamer, and are in no hurry to enter into contracts beforehand. With regard to Valencia raisins, as low as 12s. 6d. has been offered this week, but the majority of buyers seem suspicious of this low offer, and little or no business has been done at the price. As pointed out before, agents representing the more well known brands don't seem in any hurry about business. For all that, the impression seems to prevail that dried fruit is not going to be dear this fall.

CANADIAN GOODS IN ENGLAND.

J. D. Roberts, manager of the Pure Gold Mfg. Co., is back from touring Great Britain and France. While abroad Mr. Roberts had an eye to business as well as pleasure. In London he established an agency for the sale of his firm's products. Anderson & Coltman, of No. 5 Philpot lane, London, E.C., and 64 Stanley, Liverpool, are the agents, and already the Pure Gold Co. has received from them one order for one hundred cases of goods.

"The prospects for our goods in London," remarked Mr. Roberts to me, "are excellent. Do you know, the English taste is changing. So many American tourists now visit England that the hotels and restaurants there are compelled to get American sauces and so forth for them. And, naturally, Englishmen are beginning to acquire a taste for them too. We are just sending 20 cases of our 'Reception' coffee over."

Mr. Roberts saw pretty nearly everything that was to be seen in London and Paris, and he is able to entertain his friends by the hour. The English merchant he conceives to be the ideal merchant.

AN IMPORTANT CASE.

AN important judgment was, on September 9, rendered at Osgoode Hall in the case of Johnston vs. Consumers' Gas Co., of Toronto.

J. T. Johnston and Toronto Type Foundry Co. sued on behalf of themselves and all other consumers of gas furnished by the defendants in the city of Toronto. The action was brought to obtain a declaration of right and an account. The defendants were incorporated in 1848. In 1887, being desirous of increasing their capital stock, they presented a petition to the Legislative Assembly of Ontario for authority to do so, and thereupon an Act was passed in that year, entitled "An Act further to extend the powers of the Consumers' Gas Co. of Toronto," which came into force on the 23rd April, 1887. It was alleged by the plaintiffs that at the time of the passing of this Act the defendants had a surplus of profits in hand which was to have formed the nucleus of the rest or reserved fund, which at that time amounted to $394,310. The plaintiffs alleged that the defendants then sold the increased capital stock at a premium, and thereby realized a large sum, which, they charged, should have been added to the reserve fund and invested in some one or more of the securities mentioned in the fourth section of the Act, but, instead of so investing it, the defendants invested it in plant and material. The plaintiffs also charged that the defendants had made large profits in their business since 1887, amounting to about $250,000, which should have been applied by the defendants in forming the special surplus account to be used in the reduction of the price of gas to the plaintiffs, and also that the interest which would have been gained if the reserve fund had been invested should also have been applied in reducing the price of gas to consumers. The plaintiffs also alleged a further sale of new stock by the defendants in October, 1893 which realised a premium of $83,040, which sum the defendants, as the plaintiffs feared, would, unless enjoined, use in the purchase and construction of plant, as also such fresh profit as might accrue from time to time.

The plaintiffs claimed a return of sums that they said had been overpaid by them to the defendants as the price of gas consumed, and asked for an account of the receipts and disbursements of the defendants since the 23rd March, 1887; a mandatory order directing the defendants to comply with the provisions of the Act of 1887; a declaration of right; a declaration that the defendants are trustees, etc., and an order restraining the defendants from misapplying the $83,040.

The plaintiffs' pleas have been granted, a reference as to accounts has been ordered, and, meantime, the defendants must pay costs to date.

HOW MANY EGGS HAD SHE?

Some mighty intellects in Germantown are now wrestling with the following problem: A woman took a basket of eggs to the city for sale. Upon being asked how many she had, she replied:

"If I take the eggs out of the basket 2 at a time, I have 1 egg left; if I take them out 3 at a time, I have 1 egg left; if I take them out 4 at a time, I have 1 egg left; if I take them out 5 at a time, I have 1 egg left; if I take them out 6 at a time, I have 1 egg left; but if I take them out 7 at a time, I have no eggs left in the basket."

How many eggs did she have in the basket?—Philadelphia Record.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Sept. 12, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THIS is the second week of the Industrial Exhibition, and wholesale warehouses have been practically in possession of country customers. Although it is not much buying that they do as a rule, yet this year they appear to be purchasing more liberally than usual; certainly more so than a year ago. Some of the parcels have been of goodly size, although this is the exception rather than the rule. All the travellers are in the warehouses attending to the customers, but in spite of this there is a good deal of merchandise moving. As far as the market itself is concerned there has been no material change. Sugar, however, is rather weaker, the cutting by the refineries having become more general. New season's canned goods of all kinds are now on the market. The new season's Valencia raisins are in good demand. Teas are attracting fairly good attention, and the outside markets are steady to firm. Payments are fairly satisfactory.

CANNED GOODS.

Enquiries for canned vegetables are beginning to come in more freely from retailers, and some transactions have taken place at 80 to 85c. for peas, corn and tomatoes. Both new season's tomatoes and corn are in stock, although the supply is small as yet. Trade in fruits is still limited, with the little enquiry there is chiefly for peaches. There is nothing new in the salmon situation. The idea on the Coast is still $4 50 f. o. b. The local demand continues good at quotations. We quote: Tomatoes, 80 to 85c.; corn, 80 to 85c.; peas, 80 to 85c.; for ordinary; sifted, 95c. to $1; extra sifted, $1.40; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.20; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 90c. to $1, gallons, $2.25 to 2.40, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, new pack "Horseshoe," $1.35 to $1.40, in tall tins; do., Cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; new lobsters, $1.80 to $1.85 for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.40; half tins, $1.35. Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.65 to $1.75; 2's, $2.65 to $2.75; 6's, $8 to $8.25; 14's, $18 to $19. Chicago canned beef, 1's, $1.75 per dozen; 2's, $2.85. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEE.

Outside markets are dull and unsettled. Locally the conditions are much as before. We quote green in bags as follows: Rio (new season), 19 to 21c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 20 to 22½c.; Java, 28 to 33c.; Mocha, 30 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c. In New York there is a better feeling to be noted in Brazilian coffees.

RICE.

Business continues to be of a moderate character at unchanged prices. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 3½ to 5¾c.

SPICES.

Outside markets are strong on cassia, and the market appears to be generally steady. The local market continues fairly active. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 22 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

Advices state that although almonds will be a very small crop, prices will not rule high on account of the United States having bought rather freely of last year's crop. Walnuts will be cheaper than last year, and the same may be said of filberts. Local market is unchanged. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 14 to 15c.; Marbot walnuts, 10 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

While the feeling in the outside markets is rather steadier, on the local market prices are rather easier, the cutting which has been going on among the refineries during the past week or two having become more general. Little or no improvement is yet to be noted in the demand. We quote: Granulated, No. 1, 4½c.; do., No. 2, 3½ to 4c.; yellows, 3½ to 3¾c.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce, September 10: "There is still evidence of some degree of uncertainty about the going out of the season for old sugars, and it is claimed that here and there a holder may be found who has an idea that it would be better to clean up at about ruling rates than to wait for fuller figures. The majority, however, entertain a more hopeful view of affairs, and are willing to attempt a contest for a fuller range of figures. Meltings are running full, European accounts remain steady, and refiners appear to want more stock than they control for immediate use."

SYRUPS.

The little demand that there is is mostly for the better grades. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

The movement continues very light at unchanged prices. We quote: New Orleans,

TEAS.

A little better demand is to be noted for low and medium grade teas, including Japans, Ceylons, Assams and Congous of low. Green teas are scarce, and on the local market scarcer than they have been for years. A cable received on Tuesday announces a little firmer feeling on the finer grades of Ceylon tea. A London tea circular of August 30, says: "Reports from both India and Ceylon seem to indicate that the supply available for the present season will not be as large as was originally anticipated. Consequently, the outlook appears decidedly more hopeful, and the recent low prices of certain grades may encourage purchasers to go more freely into stock at about present prices." It is now conceded that the recent heavy arrivals of Indian tea in London which weakened the market were the result of better transport arrangements, and, although exports from Calcutta were a few weeks ago ahead, now they are about on a par with the same date last year. We quote ruling prices to retailers: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Valencia raisins of this season's growth are now in stock with the wholesale trade. The quality of the fruit is excellent, and the demand is good. The quantity, however, is limited, but the second shipment is near at hand. The kind now in stock is all fine off-stalk, the ruling price for which is 6 to 6½c.

Currants continue in good demand. The general market, as is noted in our editorial columns, is not satisfactory. We quote as before: Filatras, half-bbls., 4 to 4½c., bbls., 4½c.; fine Filatras, half-bbls., 4½c., bbls., 4¾c.; Patras, 5½c., in cases; Casalinas, 4½ to 5¾c.; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7c. in cases and half-cases.

Prunes are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Bosnias at 6 to 7c., and Bordeaux at 4½ to 6½c.; California prunes, 9c.

The feeling in California dried fruits is a little better than it was. Locally there is no change. We quote: Apricots and peaches, 12½ to 13½c. per lb., new apricots, 15c.; nectarines, 13½c.; pitted plums, 12½ to 13c.

Samples of new season's Sultana raisins shown this week are of excellent quality and rather better than last year. Advices from England indicate the same regarding samples shown there. Shipments of the new fruit are expected in a few days. The idea for old fruit is still 6½ to 7c.

Figs are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, 3½ to 4c.; naturals, 4½ to 5c.

Dates are dull and unchanged at 4¼c. up.

GREEN FRUIT.

Trade is good, business being somewhat increased by the Industrial Exhibition which lasts two weeks and brings thousands of people into the city. Domestic fruits are somewhat scarcer than last week. Lemons remain firm, and no cheaper prices are expected for two weeks or so, when some Malagas, which are booked to arrive, will probably be quoted at $6 to $7. California fruit is scarce, the season being pretty well on. California plums and pears are practically done, while a few peaches are expected to arrive yet. Canadian grapes are a little scarce this week, and higher. Some peaches brought in from Michigan have proven of poor quality, and have not paid freight and Customs' charges. Some of these are rotting on the street. We quote prices: Lemons—Sorrento, Palermo and Verdilla, $8 per case. Oranges—California seedlings, $3.50 to $4; Sorrento, $3.75 to $4. Bananas, $1 to $1.50; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 a sack; cucumbers, Canadian, 15c. per basket; new cabbage, 75c. to $1 per bbl.; Canadian tomatoes, 15 to 35c. per basket. Green California fruit—Peaches, $1.40 to $1.75 in boxes; pears, $2.50 to $3; plums, $1.25 to $1.75; green apples, $1.50 to $1.75 a barrel; watermelons, 15 to 20c. each; muskmelons, 35 to 40c. per basket; grapes, 3½ to 5c. per pound; Canadian Crawford peaches, $1.25 to $1.50 per basket; Delaware Crawfords, $1.50 to $1.65; Canadian Bartlett pears, 75 to 90c. per basket; other grades, 30 to 60c.; Spanish onions, $1 per small crate; Portugal onions, $3 per large crate.

BUTTER, CHEESE AND EGGS.

BUTTER—Good qualities still bring the same prices as last week, while inferior grades are as weak as ever. We quote: Old summer dairy and store packed, 7 to 9c.; fresh prints, 16 to 17c.; fresh tubs, 15 to 16c.; Fresh creamery—Tubs, 18 to 19c.; pound prints, 21 to 22c.

CHEESE—The situation is not changed, there being little export demand. Buyers have been offering 7½c. for August Canadian makes, and 8c. for the balance of the season. Last August and September makes bring 10 to 10½c. It is hard yet to tell what effect the agitation in England against our cheese will have.

EGGS—Are still firm at about 12c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE

BEANS—The new crop has come in, reducing the price to $1.50 to $1.60.

DRIED APPLES—Still quoted by jobbers at 6 to 6½c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Reduced to 7 to 7½c. by jobbers.

POTATOES—Are still unsalable at any price almost.

HONEY—Strained in bulk is unchanged at 8 to 9c. Honey still sells at $1.50 to $1.80 in the comb.

HOPS—Canadian, 6½ to 7½c; Pacifics, 14c.

HAY—Is firm at $12.50 in car lots and $14 in small lots. The prospect is that prices will be maintained and perhaps advanced later in the season.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

Dressed hogs are weaker at $6.25 to $6.75 per 100 lbs. The decline in price is due to the fact that killing has begun, and that in six weeks or so new cured goods will be on the market. Some products are a shade cheaper, notably lard. We quote :

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 8c. for carload lots, and 8½c. for small lots; backs, 8½ to 9c.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 11 to 11½c.; rolls, 8 to 8½c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 10½ to 11c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 11½c.; small hams, 12c.; pickled, 10 to 10½c.; backs, 10 to 10½c.; picnic hams, 7½ to 8c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 8¼c.; tubs, 8¾c.; pails, 9c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $15.75; Canadian short-cut, $16 to $16.50; clear shoulder mess, $13.75 to $14; shoulder mess, $13.50 to $13.75.

FLOUR AND FEED.

WHEAT—White, 63c.; red, 63c.; goose, 54½ to 55c.

OATS—35c. per bush.

BARLEY—40c. per bush.

FLOUR—The market is very dull. Straight rollers continues to decline in price. Prices are: Straight roller, $3 to $3.50; Manitoba, $4; patents, $4.25.

BREAKFAST FOODS—The big harvest return have had the effect of bringing down the prices of foods. We quote prices, at which a fair trade is done: Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $3.60 to $3.70; rolled wheat, $2.15 in 100 lb. barrels; cornmeal, $3.20; split peas, $3.25; pot barley, $3.50.

FISH.

The Exhibition has increased the demand, but the supply of fresh fish is too small to enable dealers to take advantage of the situation. Prices are unchanged. We quote: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; haddock, 5 to 6c.; Labrador herring, $3.25 to $3.50 per half barrel and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, Fresh Lake Erie herring, $2.50 per 100.

SEEDS.

At outside points $4 to $4.70 is still paid for choice alsike, but trade is quiet. Jobbers have been selling small lots of timothy very freely for two weeks past, but the business in this line is about over.

SALT.

Trade is pretty good, and prices in Toronto are unchanged, although some of the well men are cutting quotations. We quote: Barrels, 85c.; coarse sacks, 58c.; fine sacks, 60c.; dairy, $1.25; rock, $10.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

There is absolutely no change in the situation.

HIDES—Are still accumulating. Big dealers are selling cured as low as 8¾c., but are paying 8c. and 7c. for No. 1 and No. 2 green.

SHEEPSKINS—Lambskins and shearlings have risen to 55c.

CALFSKINS—Nothing doing.

WOOL—Trade is dull. Fleece combings still quoted at 24c.; unwashed at 14c.; rejections at 17 to 18c. In pulled wools supers are quoted at 21 to 22c., and extras at 22 to 23c.

PETROLEUM.

The Industrial Exhibition has had a bad effect on trade in this city, but jobbers are looking for better business and higher prices soon, so they say. We quote in 1 to 10 lb. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 16c.; carbon safety, 18c.; Canadian water white, 18c.; American water white, 20½c.; photogene, 21½ to 22c.

The new Valencia raisins sent out by Lucas, Steele & Bristol are giving excellent satisfaction, quality being away ahead of last year. The firm is quoting low prices for later delivery.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Sept. 12, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE grocery market does not present any new feature, and business is quiet on the whole. Trade has been interfered to a certain extent by the fall fairs, but is picking up again this week. Nothing special to report except that sugar values continue more or less unsettled, and this fact checks demand to a certain extent. Teas are quiet, but more activity is looked for at the end of the month. Syrups and molasses are unchanged. Dried fruit still rule quiet, and quotations on new crop Mediterranean fruit continue easy on the whole, but do not induce much business. The first arrivals of new French prunes are selling here this week. In canned goods business is very quiet, as consumers are well supplied with cheap green fruits and vegetables. Other lines are unchanged.

SUGAR.

Though business has picked up to a certain extent in sugar, values are not settled, and the fact has a deterrent influence. If anything the present disposition is rather easier than it was, though no quotable change can be cited. At the refineries sales are being freely made at 4c. for granulated and 3 1-16 to 3½c. for yellows. Many jobbers ask an advance on these prices, but the fact that some are willing to sell at cost or nearly so makes it difficult to give a reliable jobbing range. We quote: 4½ to 4¾c. on granulated and 3¼ to 3½c. on yellows. The week's volume of business both from first and second hands has been larger.

SYRUPS.

The situation of this market is unchanged. Stocks in both refiners' and jobbers' hands are not heavy, and prices are firmly held at 1¾ to 2½c., as to quality and quantity.

MOLASSES.

Business in molasses has been very quiet and chiefly for small lots. Some improvement is looked for, however, toward the end of the month when the lumbermen commence to think of outfits. Prices are firm at 37c. for Barbadoes, and 36c. for Porto Rico, in small lots.

RICE.

Business in rice is fairly active for the season, and values rule firm. We quote: Japan, $4.30 to $4.50; crystal Japan, $4.80 to $5; standard B, $3.45; C.C. style, $3.20; Patna, $4.37½ to $5; and Carolina, $7 to $7.50.

SPICES.

These are without material change. Demand is of a limited character, but prices rule firm. We quote: Penang black pepper, 8 to 10c.; white pepper, 13 to 15c.; cloves, whole, 10 to 20c.; cassia, whole, 10 to 20c.; nutmegs, 40 to 90c.; Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c., as to grade.

COFFEES.

There has been little change in the coffee market. An ordinary sort of trade is doing from the mills, but business in green bean is quiet, no large sales being noted. In fact, the market is featureless. We quote green bean coffee: Maracaibo, 20 to 22c.; Rio, 19 to 20c.; Java, 24 to 28c.; Jamaica, 19 to 21c.; and Mocha, 27 to 31c.

VISITING..

The city be sure and call at the warehouse. The business will be wound up with little delay, by order of the liquidators. In meantime, desirable lines in Crockeryware, Glassware, China, Lamp Goods and Ornaments at very special prices.

TEAS.

There is a fair jobbing demand for teas, but in a large way the market is quiet. Japans between 12c. and 18c. are the most active sellers at present and are rather scarce here. Black teas have been enquired for to a small extent and business has been worked for small lots at 14½c. On the whole the market is quiet and no great activity is looked for before the middle or end of the month. We quote: Low grade Japans, 12½ to 14c.; medium, 16 to 18c.; fine, 19 to 22½c., and choice, 24 to 31c.

DRIED FRUIT.

There has been a fair jobbing call for Valencia raisins, demand for which has been more active this week. No important business in new fruit has yet been noted. For sales from stock here prices are firm, as the supply is light, but offers on new crop to arrive are low comparatively. Valencia layers have sold here in straight lots at 3½c. for fine off stalk, and layers at 4½ to 5c. In a jobbing way, however, we quote ordinary off stalk, 4 to 4¼c., and layers, 4¾ to 5½c., as to grade.

California raisins are held steady at 6½c. for 4-crown layers, and 5½c. for 3-crown layers.

The currant market is quiet. Stocks here are becoming reduced. Prices are steady at 3¼ to 3½c. in barrels and half-barrels, and 3¾ to 4½c. in cases.

The first new French prunes got in this week. They show fair quality, and are selling at 4¼ to 5c. California prunes are held at 6¼ to 6½c.

Dates are quiet and unchanged, at 4½ to 5c., as to grade.

Figs are featureless, at 9 to 12c. per lb., as to grade, in boxes.

Evaporated fruit are enquired for in a small way. Prices rule steady as last quoted. We quote: Apricots, 14 to 17c.; peaches, 9 to 10c.; pears, 9 to 10c.; plums, 9 to 9½c., and apples, 9 to 10c.

NUTS.

There is no change in nuts, and business continues quiet on the whole. We quote: Brazils, 8 to 9c.; shelled almonds, 18 to 25c.; Tarragona, 12 to 13c.; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 13c.; shelled ditto, 24 to 25c.; filberts, 6½ to 7½c.; and pecans, 8 to 10c.

CANNED GOODS.

There is very little movement in the canned goods, especially in vegetables and fruits, as the market is well supplied with green stock of all kinds. Corn, peas and tomatoes are selling in small way at 80 to 85c., and it is claimed that round lots of corn can be had here for 72½c. Lobsters are quoted firm, all the pack being out of packers' hands now or nearly so. Talls are held at $6.50 to $7 and flats $8.50 to $9 per case. We quote as follows: Lobsters, $6.50 to $9 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $10.50; salmon, $5.20 to $5.50; mackerel, $5; tomatoes, 80 to 90c. per doz.; peaches, $1.90 to $3 per doz.; corn, 80 to 90c. per doz.; peas, 80 to 90c. per doz.; strawberries, $2.25 to $2.50; raspberries, $2; green gages, $2 to $2.25; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2.25 to $2.50, and 3-lb. apples, 90c. to $1.10.

GREEN FRUIT.

There is no change in green fruit, which rules quiet and unchanged in the main.

APPLES—Receipts of these continue large and prices are easy at $1.20 to $2 per bbl.

PEARS—No change to note from $1.75 to $2.25 per case.

ORANGES—Little or none here, and price is nominal.

LEMONS—The market is almost entirely bare of lemons, which are quoted nominally as high as $8 per case.

CALIFORNIA FRUIT—Receipts continue fair, but the market is kept well cleaned up. We quote: Peaches, $1.25 to $1.50; plums, $1.20 to $1.50, and pears, $2.25 to $2.50, as to grade.

FISH.

There is nothing new in the fish market. Receipts of pickled fish are considerable from below, and prices rule easy, with buyers slow. Car lots of large No. 1 herrings are offered at $4.25 per bbl. here, and are jobbing at $4.75. Cape Breton are held at $5 to $5.25. New pickled Labrador salmon have sold at $13 and B.C. at $10.50. No. 1 green cod are offering at $4.50 to $4.75 and dry cod at $4.50 to $5.

In prepared fish, boneless cod are firm at 6c., and smoked herring 9 to 10c. Haddies are arriving freely and are offering at 7 to 7½c. These are among the first arrivals.

The first lots of kippered herrings are expected this week, and are offered at $2 per box.

In fresh fish, salmon are steady at 12½ to 13c. per lb., while fresh haddock and cod sell steady at 4c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—There is an improved feeling in eggs, and the market has taken a stronger turn. Prices have stiffened a trifle in consequence to 9 to 11c., as to grade.

POTATOES—There is no change in potatoes, which are quiet at 35 to 45c. per bag.

HOPS—Demand for these is limited. Old hops are quoted at 5 to 7c., and new hops were offered for the first time at 9 to 10c.

TALLOW—Little or no change is to note. Prime refined is quoted at 6 to 6½c., and lower grades, 5 to 5½c.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—Business slow. We quote: Sugar at 6½ to 7½c. for new and 4 to 6c. for old; maple syrup in wood at 4 to 5c. per lb., and 50 to 60c. per tin.

BEANS—Sales of hand-picked were made in a small way at $1.80. Nothing doing in other grades.

HAY—This market is rather firmer than it was, and under an improved demand prices have advanced 50c. to $1 per ton since our last. We quote: No. 1 Timothy, $11, and No. 2, $9.50.

PROVISIONS.

The demand for provisions on spot is limited, and market quiet and steady. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $15.50 to $16; Canadian short cut, mess, $17 to $17.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 11c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9¾ to 10¼c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 11c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 7¼ to 7½c.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

There is a good demand for Manitoba flour, and the market was more active than it has been. Ontario grades, however, are still moving slow and sales are principally in small lots to fill actual wants. We quote: Winter wheat, $4 to $4.25; spring wheat, patents, $4.15; straight roller, $3.65 to $3.75; straight roller, bags, $1.65 to $1.80; extra, bags, $1.50 to $1.60; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.90 to $4.

Demand for oatmeal continues slow, and the market quiet and steady. We quote: Standard, bbls., $3.70 to $3.80; granulated, bbls., $3.80 to $3.90; rolled oats, bbls., $3.80 to $3.90.

A fair business is reported in feed at steady prices. We quote: Bran, $15.50 to $16; shorts, $16.50 to $17; mouillie, $20.50 to $21.50.

CHEESE.

The cheese market continues to ease off and is fully ¼ to ½c. below what it was a week ago. Sales were made this week of 8,000 boxes of French country cheese at 7 to 7½c., and this is the only kind quotable here, while a round lot of 3,500 Eastern Ontario makes, from along the line of the G.T.R., sold at 7½ to 7¾c. These large transactions show the decline in the market clearly.

BUTTER.

The butter market is without change. Exporters are not active buyers at ruling prices, and the trade on local account is not very noticeable. We quote: Finest creamery, 17¼ to 17½c.; finest Townships dairy, 14 to 14½c.; finest Western dairy, 12 to 13½c.

ASHES.

The ashes market is rather firmer in its tone, though business is quiet. We quote: First pots, $4.05 to $4.15; seconds, $3.80 to $3.85, and pearls, $4.80 to $4.85.

Advices to A. P. Tippet & Co. from Fresno, California, state that the quality of the first shipments of prunes, etc., will be excellent on the whole.

Laporte, Martin & Co. turned into stock this week shipments of Lazenby's pickles and Dufort & Co.'s fine French prunes.

Lemons have been excited and higher. The market is bare of them here, and the nominal asking price is $8 per case.

The tea market is expected to pick up toward the end of the month. Advices to J. Alex. Gordon & Co. from primary markets are fairly steady.

Hudon, Hebert & Cie are quoting a Red-path and St. Lawrence yellow sugar at 2 7/8c. —that is the best value on the market. They offer to send samples on receipt of postal card asking for them.

Prices have had an easier tendency on yellow sugars during the past eight days, and it is claimed that as low as 3c. has been accepted for round lots.

The first arrivals of California raisins are expected on this market by the end of next week. They were bought in New York at 3 1/2c. f.o.b. there.

Some close figures on sugars, raisins, currants, dates and canned goods are given by Hudon, Hebert & Cie in their advertisement this week. The canned goods are 1895 pack for delivery September and October, buyers' option.

Robert Greig & Co., St. Paul street, have got out a handy pamphlet, giving the prices current of the different specialties they handle. The fact that the complete list of goods takes up fifteen closely printed pages affords a good idea of the extensive assortment that the firm are prepared to talk business on.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Sept. 12, 1895.

BUSINESS has shown an improvement during the past week, and those who have been out through the province say the feeling is much more hopeful. Through Carleton county, the garden of New Brunswick, the crop has been a splendid one. The oat yield has been very large and there is little change in prices in the city. Cream of tartar is quoted from outside very high, and some expect even higher figures. The last quotation THE CANADIAN GROCER heard was 81s. Granulated sugar and butter are rather firmer. Flour, meal and oats are weak. Tea is reported rather easier on the London market.

SALT—The cargo of salt spoken of last week is to hand and finds a fair sale from ship's side. The market is now well supplied, and as there are other cargoes to arrive the feeling is easy. In table salt the Windsor people are pushing a new package. Their salt has met a good demand here, and no doubt the new package will be well received. Salt has been sold in that style of package on this market for some time, the first being an American salt. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory filled, 95c. to $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.80 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per doz.; bulk dry, $2.80 per bbl.; bulk, cheese, $2.70.

CANNED GOODS—The easy feeling in beef continues, though prices are as last week. Sales are light. The salmon spoken of last week are here, and are selling at $5.75 to $6. Others are expected to arrive shortly. Outside of the new, the market is bare, and but about half the usual quantity is bought to arrive. We trust this will aid in getting a better profit. Everywhere is heard the complaint of the small margin in canned goods, and with no one but the merchants to blame. Some Canadian peaches have been offered during the week. Prices show quite a range. In this market Canadian are preferred to American. Baltimores are often bought, but rarely give the satisfaction expected. Prices are: Corn, 95c. to $1; peas, 95c. to $1; tomatoes, $1 to $1.05; corned beef, 2-lb. tins, $2.50 to $2.75; 1-lb. tins, $1.30 to $1.50; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $3; 2's, $2; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; salmon, $1.50; flat, $1.75; clams, $5.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $3 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1; pineapples, $2.75 to $3.

DRIED FRUIT—There is more life, and buyers are beginning to move in regard to Valentias. The market is weak and appears to go lower. Present prices, however, appear safe. New currants are quoted, and are rather easier than was expected, being about the same as last year. Dried and evaporated apples continue dull, and California evaporated fruit shows no sale. We quote: Sultana raisins, 6 to 8c.; Valencia, 4c.; layers, 5c.; London layers, $2 to $2.25; California loose muscatels, 5 to 5½c.; currants, bbls., 3¼c.; half-cases, 4c.; evaporated apples, 7½ to 8c.; dried apples, 5½ to 5¾c.; dates, 4 to 4½c.; prunes, 4 to 5c.; figs, 11 to 18c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; do. apricots, 12 to 14c.; do. pears, 12 to 13c.; cleaned currants, bulk, 6½c.; 1 lb. cartoons, 7½c.; American onions, $3.50 per bbl.; cocoanuts, $4 per 100.

GREEN FRUIT—There is not the usual quantity of California fruit arriving this week. Nova Scotia pears, plums and apples are coming to hand freely. Prices are low. Shippers of plums should remember that Saturday is the worst day of the week for these to arrive in the city. Apples continue low. Best qualities not yet arriving. Pears have a good sale and quality is as a rule good. West India oranges are about all that are now offered. Lemons very scarce. Canadian grapes are coming to hand and are good quality. Peaches are scarce. Crab-apples are very plentiful, demand being but fair. Prices low. We quote: Peaches, $2; pears, $4 to $5.50; California pears, $3.50; apples, $1 to $2 per bbl.; lemons, $6.50 to $7; bananas, $1 to $2.50; California plums, $2.50; grapes, 60 to 75c.; West India oranges, $5.50 per bbl.; Nova Scotia pears, Clapp's Favorite and Bartlett, $2 to $2.50 half bbl.; plums, basket, 50 to 55c.; plums, boxes, pecks, 55 to 60c.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Eggs arrive in fair quantities and demand is regular. There has been no change in price for some time, and quality is generally satisfactory. Butter shows an improvement, but there are fair quantities through the country. The trouble is to get it good. Creameries have all advanced their prices and report a good demand. In cheese—there is the rub. It is reported that in Carleton and York large quantities of cheese, early made, are held. In King's county they have done better, that is, they are more sold up, though at prices below cost. One set of factories has, it is said, two or three cars in cold storage in Montreal. Buyers are offish, though they report a good local demand. We quote: New cheese, 8½ to 9c.; new butter, 17 to 18c.; eggs, 12 to 12¾c.; fresh creamery prints, 22 to 23c.; tubs, 20 to 21c.

MOLASSES—There is nothing new to report. Till later in the fall, movement will be light. Stocks are fair, while holders of best qualities are firm. We quote: Barbadoes, 32 to 34c.; St. Croix, 32 to 33c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 36c.; syrup, 35c.; Trinidad, 32 to 33c.; New Orleans, bbls., 34 to 35c.

SUGAR—Fair demand and prices rather firmer, though local dealers have only advanced granulated to about refinery prices. Yellows show good inquiry. Some Montreal was sold here during the past week. We quote: Granulated, 4½ to 4¾c.; yellow, 3½ to 3¾c.; Paris lump, 5 to 5½c.; powdered, 5 to 5½c.

FISH—There is a fair demand, and all kinds are arriving quite freely, though in fresh shad the catch was very light compared with last week. In last week's report Quoddy River herring were said to be about like rippings, while they are really worth $1 per half-bbl. more. This week we quote five grades of bay herring, pickled. Smoked are said to have been as low as 3c. ex vessel. We quote: Medium cod, $3.75; large, $3.90; small, $3; pollock, $1.50; bay herring, $1.25 to $1.30; Grand Manan, $1.40; rippings, $1.65 to $1.70; wolves, $1.90 to $2; Quoddy River, $2.50 to 2.60; smoked, 5 to 6c.; shad, half-bbl., pickled, $5.50.

PROVISIONS—There is rather better demand noted. American pork appears weak, and prices are marked lower. Beef is also rather easier, and prices are quoted 50c. lower. In pure lard, some Ontario and Quebec dealers have marked their quotations up as much as $\frac{3}{4}$ c., but local prices, though firm, show no change. We quote: Clear pork, \$16 to \$16.50; mess, \$16 to \$16.50; plate beef, \$13.50 to \$15; pure lard, 10c.; compound lard, 8c.; cottolene, $9\frac{1}{4}$ to $9\frac{3}{4}$ c.; rolls, 9 to $9\frac{1}{2}$ c.; beef, half-bbls., \$7.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—The report from the millers on flour is that prices are going to be more active shortly. In the meantime, buyers here are offish, and continue to mark prices down, particularly Ontario. In oats the market is dull, and crop reports are for a very large yield. Oatmeal continues easy, as does cornmeal, with the tendency lower. Feed hard to get, but somewhat easier in tone. Beans are also rather easier. Hay is more plentiful than was reported; the new, with what old is held over, will fill all demands. We quote: Manitoba, $4.60; best Ontario, $4.15 to $4.20; medium, $4 to $4.10; oatmeal, $4.10 to $4.15; cornmeal, $2.65 to $2.70; middlings, $25 on track; bran, $22.50 to $23; hand-picked beans, $1.75 to $1.80; prime, $1.65 to $1.80; split peas, $3.70; pot barley, $4.10 to $4.25; hay, $11.50 to $12; oats, 37 to 40c.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

A large crop of buckwheat is reported.

Dearborn & Co. received this week the first car of canned salmon to arrive in this market.

C. & E. Macmichael received this week a shipment of fibred codfish in cartoons from Yarmouth, N.S. It is the best thing known for fish cakes.

Geo. M. Shirk, representing Shirk & Snider, millers, was in town this week.

Joseph Tilton, of the firm of Smith & Tilton, and H. B. White are at the Toronto Exhibition. Also Mr. C. F. Harding.

S. H. White & Co., of Sussex, shipped a car of potatoes by last West India steamer.

W. C. Arch bald, of Wolfville, it is said, will have 20,000 baskets of plums as his crop this season, and will plant some 20,000 more fruit trees for next.

Exports from Fredericton this August show a great advance over last—$24,340, as compared with $9,199. Imports are some $3,000 ahead.

A New Brunswick smoker of meats reports sales in Boston. There is no doubt the local smokers are holding their own against Ontario in our local market.

From P. E. Island we have the following: They have already shipped to Montreal 9,000 cheese. These will be sold there by Prof. Robertson, Dairy Commissioner.

Fresh mackerel are reported higher at Richibucto. The Kent Co. catch is said to be good.

The first shipment of Gravensteins has been made from Nova Scotia to the English market.

The peddlers have beaten the grocers in Fredericton, by a new law of the City Council, it being lawful to peddle now in any part of the city.

Harrison Watson, the curator of the Canadian section of the Imperial Institute, has written the Board of Trade to urge a better exhibit from New Brunswick. This is something that should not be neglected.

Everything points to our Exhibition, opening about the 24th, being the best ever held here. Those having goods to advertise should take notice.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

HALIFAX, Sept. 12, 1895.

THE markets show no features of special interest. The usual amount of trade for this season is being done, with an apparent weakness in staple lines. Collections, however, are fairly good and there is very little complaining.

FLOUR—The flour market is quiet, though steady. Quotations are: Hungarian patent, Manitoban, $4.75 to $5; Manitoba strong bakers, $4.60 to $4.75; Canadian pastry, $4.70 to $4.85; 75 per cent. roller patents, $4.25 to $4.35; 80 per cent. do., $4.10 to $4.20; 90 per cent. do., $3.90 to $4; straight, $3.70 to $3.80; extra, $3.50 to $3.60.

OATMEAL AND ROLLED OATS—Oatmeal and rolled oats are considerably shaded, the price here being $3.65 to $3.75 by the carload. Jobbing prices are in the vicinity of $4, with an easier tendency.

OATS—Oats are quiet at 40c.

CORNMEAL—Cornmeal is also easy at $2.65 to $2.70.

FISHSTUFFS—There is some activity in dry and pickled fish. The receipts of mackerel are small and what are coming on the market demand a high price. No. 3 large are quoted at $11; No. 3 fat at $12; No. 2 fat at $15, and No. 1 fat at $17. Salmon are getting dearer every day. No. 1 are quoted at $17; No. 2 at $15, and No. 3 at $13.50. The Labrador catch is reported as abundant, and the price at St. John's, Nfld., is $3.20 for small and $3.60 for large cod.

GREEN FRUIT—The market is abundantly supplied with green fruit and the demand is good. Apples are coming in in large quantities and selling all the way from $1 to $2.50 per barrel. Bananas are plentiful and cheap. Native plums are in abundance and the fruit is extra good.

MOLASSES—The molasses market continues quiet, the demand being purely local. During a fire at Liverpool, N.S., on Sunday last a whole cargo of molasses, owned by Hendry & Millard, valued at $15,000, was destroyed. There was no insurance.

SUGAR—The sugar market remains quiet, with prices nominally at $4\frac{1}{4}$ c. for granulated, and $3\frac{3}{8}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. for yellows.

EGGS—The demand for eggs is slow at 13c. The cold weather will bring an advance.

BUTTER—There is a good demand for creamery butter. Refrigerator creamery is sold at 18c. Very little dairy is arriving, which is picked up at 14 to 16c.

CHEESE—Dealers are looking for an improvement in cheese. Prices locally are 9 to $9\frac{1}{2}$ c., with a fair demand.

PROVISIONS—The provision market is dull. The enquiry for beef is very limited, while there is little or nothing doing in other lines.

DRIED FRUITS—There is some cutting in dried fruits in anticipation of new arrivals. The importation of Merle raisins to this port will be controlled by A. & W. Smith & Co. and Bauld, Gibson & Co., Seeton & Mitchell, the original importers, having retired from the grocery market as jobbers.

HALIFAX NOTES.

W. Nicolle has opened a general grocery store on the corner of Grafton and Jacob street.

M. O. Wier, grocer, has removed from Argyle street to Buckingham street.

KENTVILLE NOTES.

B. H. Dodge and Frank E. Dennison have purchased the grocery business of Harris & Dennison. The new firm announce that they have added lines of hardware, brick, cement, lime and lumber.

MIDDLETON NOTES.

The Middleton, N.S., box factory has shipped this summer 10,000 pairs of barrel heads, of which the largest buyers were F. C. Anderson, of Kingston, who took 3,000, and W. E. Palfrey, of Lawrencetown, 2,000 pairs. Nearly 1,000 strawberry crates, 40,000 baskets and stock for 90,000 baskets have also been sold during the past three months. Twenty cars of lumber have been received during that time.

MANY MILLERS MEET.

ABOUT 150 millers from all parts of Canada attended the annual meeting of the Dominion Millers' Association, held at the Board of Trade buildings, Toronto, on September 10. President H. Barrett, of Port Hope, Ont., occupied the chair, and Secretary C. B. Watt stated that dues on 207 mills were paid during the past year. The report of Wm. Galbraith, Toronto, treasurer, showed $630 on hand.

Resolutions were passed condemning the Government for rescinding the order re the mixing of scoured with No. 1 hard Manitoba wheat.

The policy of the Industrial Fair managers was also impugned in not allowing a better than a one-man representation of Dominion millers on its directorate.

The Committee on Freights expressed its hope that it could get legislation forbidding the railways to discriminate in export freight in favor of grain as against flour.

William Galbraith was elected to life-membership in recognition of his services as treasurer and general aid to the association.

Papers were then read as follows: "Method and Result of Bolting Flour," A. Dobson, Beaverton; "Fire Risks in Mills, How Reduced," J. Goldie, Guelph; "Wheat Buying by Tester, Reductions made on Percentage System instead of Specific," T. O. Kemp, Seaforth.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, A. Dobson, Beaverton; vice-president, James Cummings, Lyn; second vice-president, S. R. Stuart, Mitchell; treasurer, William Galbraith (re-elected); executive committee, J. L. Spink, Toronto; H. Barrett, Port Hope; W. McLaughlin, Toronto; W. H. Meldrum, Peterboro'; R. Noble, Norval; James Goldie, Guelph; T. O. Kemp, Seaforth; representative on Toronto Industrial Fair Board, John Brown, Toronto. The Board of Arbitration was re-appointed, with the substitution of J. D. Flavelle for John Galbraith.

At the evening meeting a report was adopted in reference to buying grain by standard specific system versus the percentage system. The secretary was instructed to prepare and issue to each member a statement of the equity and fairness of the percentage system, which the farmers favor.

D. Gunn, Flavelle & Co. say that their creamery butter in tubs and pound packages has been in good demand and stocks are light.

D. Gunn, Flavelle & Co. report that their special prices for rolls have developed a very brisk demand and their stock is about exhausted. Their hams and breakfast bacon are also in good demand.

AUSTRALIAN BEEF.

The New York Commercial Bulletin says: Exporters of cattle and dressed meats are much interested just now in the plan which the Graziers' Meat Export Co., of Sydney, New South Wales, has decided to try. It is said that the invasion of dressed meats from Australia has hitherto been of slight consequence. Agents of Australian exporters have, however, recently visited the large abattoirs in the west, and instead of freezing meat for export, the Australian shippers will now, it is said, kill, dress and refrigerate in the same manner as the American exporter.

The producing power of the colonies is said to exceed any other country in the world. It is estimated that Queensland has about 7,000,000 head of well-bred cattle, and this is considered a short stock. This centre has never exported either on the hoof or in a frozen state more than 120,000 head per annum. In New South Wales there are said to be 56,000,000 sheep and 2,000,000 cattle. As regards Victoria, New Zealand and South and West Australia in the proposed export movement, cattle and meat exporters in this market state that they don't produce enough cattle for home consumption, and probably will never figure to any great extent in meat exports.

The United States is said to possess 50,000,000 head of cattle to Australia's 10,000,000.

POINTS FOR CLERKS.

REV. J. R. MILLER, writing on "Mistakes Young Men Make," says :

I have abundant material for this article in the record of twenty-five years' work among men. A great many young men fail. Moral failures are not the only ones. There are many who are not destroyed by their vices, who yet make very little of their life. They are good, but good for little or nothing. The possibilities within them are never developed.

A young man ought to make the most of his life in all ways—in mental culture, in moral character, in work, business, or profession, in social influence, and in religious activity. Whatever mars this full-rounded manhood at any point is a mistake.

Men fail of their best because they did not prepare well for life in the days when preparation was their only duty. Wellington used to say that Waterloo was fought and won while he was a schoolboy. It was what he learned then that prepared him for fighting that great battle. The foundations for successful life are laid always in the early years. Many failures in middays are owing to negligence or indolence in youth.

Napoleon, once visiting his old school, said to the boys, "Boys, remember that every hour wasted at school means a chance of misfortune in future life." The boy cannot afford to miss one lesson. That one may contain the very bit of knowledge for want of which he will some day stand confused at the door of a great opportunity, unable to enter. Young men make a serious mistake when they fail to improve their early opportunities for preparation.

Another mistake many young men make is the forming of a distaste for work. They like as many hours as possible for rest, for social pleasure, for amusements. Their aim really is, not to make the most of life, but to have a good time. They dislike work. They chafe under rules and discipline. They take no interest in the business which employs them. They keep their eye on the clock, eager to get away the moment the hand touches the hour.

When such habits have been formed in early life there is little hope for a young man's future. The only sure saving of manhood is an enthusiasm for work and a capacity for a measureless amount of it. Work knits thews of strength in body and soul, disciplines the life into nobleness and power, and develops the talents to their best. The young man makes an irreparable mistake who forms easy-going habits. He will never be able to take the best prizes in life, to win the success that would have been possible, if he had learned to use all his capabilities.

Get leave to work

In this world: 'tis the best you get at all:

For God, in cursing, gives us better gifts

Than man in benediction. God says, "Sweat

For foreheads"; men say, "Crowns"; and so we are crowned,

Ay, gashed by some tormenting circle of steel

Which snaps with a secret spring. Get work! get work!

Be sure 't is better than what you work to get.

Another mistake made by many young men is the failure to grasp life's true meaning and purpose. We are put into this world, not merely to get through it in any sort of way, and to get a reasonable share of comforts as we go along. It would not be worth while for God to make a man, putting into him such marvellous capacities, if that were all he meant him to do with himself. Life is given us, first, that we may develop its every faculty and power to its utmost possibility, and then, that we may use its every energy in doing our full part in the world's work.

With many, however, there seems never to be one serious thought about life. It is all play. There is no sense of responsibility to God, no conception of obligation to others. Self is the centre of all. We are put in this world to grow into the noblest possible manhood, and then to serve our generation in the way that will do the greatest good.

My life is not my own, but Christ's who gave it;
And he bestows it upon all the race.

Not to realize this divine purpose is to live largely in vain. No graver mistake could be made.

Many young men make a mistake in the choosing of their friends. The influence of companionship is simply immeasurable. It does more than almost anything else in shaping the character.

Then, it gives one his place in the world among other men. A man is known by the company he keeps. If his associates are unworthy, with doubtful reputation, he cannot have the respect and confidence of better people. Hence a young man fixes his rank and place among his fellows unalterably by his selection of companionships.

It needs no argument, therefore, to prove that he who permits himself to take into his life unworthy persons as his friends commits an irreparable mistake.

A rabbit's foot was caught in the hunter's steel trap. The little creature seemed to realize that unless it could get free it would soon die. So with an admirable bravery it knawed off its leg with its own teeth, thus freeing itself, though leaving its foot in the jaws of the trap. If a young man discovers that he is in the snare of evil companions, whatever it may cost him he should tear himself away from it.

Another mistake which many young men make is leaving God out of their life. We are made for God, and when men break away from him they cut themselves off from the one source of all true blessing and good. All the terrible moral failures which strew life's course with so sad wrecks are consequences of this fatal error.

It goes without saying that the young man makes a mistake who begins to drink, or who does not keep himself pure, or who lies or uses profane language, or who is dishonest in even the smallest things. These are sure ways to ruin. To save the life from these and all like perils one must recognize God's right to his love, worship, and obedience. He who is true to God is true to his soul, and will live nobly among men.

IT RANKS WITH LIVERPOOL.

According to the annual report of the British Consul-General at Hamburg that port not only now ranks as the equal of Liverpool, but in some respects surpasses it. During 1894 no fewer than 9,165 sea-going vessels, of 6,229,000 tons, entered the port, being an increase of 4 per cent. over 1893, in which year 8,792 vessels, of 5,886,000 tons, entered. The increase, adds the Consul, "is significant, as in 1893 the tonnage of sea-going ships first reached a point which left Liverpool behind as regards the shipping visiting the port from ports outside of Great Britain." The Hamburg shipyards, says the same authority, have been kept fairly well occupied during the year. Twenty-two steamers, of 78,608 tons, and eight sailing vessels, of 6,027 tons, have been added to Hamburg ownership, and of these eight steamers, of 28,149 tons, and two sailing ships, of 4,794 tons, were built in the United Kingdom. The total addition to the German mercantile marine during the year was 58 steamers, of 129,884 tons, and 13 sailing ships, of 14,701 tons, of which 15 were built in England and the remainder in German shipyards.

BANKRUPTCY IN ENGLAND.

The twelfth annual report of the British Board of Trade on the administration of the Bankruptcy Acts during 1894 shows that the number of receiving orders made was 4,762, involving liabilities of £6,963,806, and estimated loss to creditors of £5,384,173. These figures compare favorably with those for the preceding year. The receiving orders were less by 112, with liabilities reduced by £528,561, and estimated loss to creditors less by £204,763 than in 1893. Deeds of arrangement numbered 3,894, a decrease of 44, with liabilities, £6,419,099, involving an estimated loss to creditors of £4,311,416. Last year's failures, it will be noted, show a reduction amounting to nearly 2 per cent., while the liabilities show a reduction of over 11 per cent. The foregoing figures, observes the Inspector-General in Bankruptcy, and the fact that during the present year the failures continue to show a progressive decrease upon the figures of 1894, confirm the generally prevailing impression that the condition of business is slowly improving, and the year 1893 may probably be regarded as indicating the high-water mark of insolvency over a considerable period.

THE CHEESE SITUATION.

THE Sentinal-Review, Woodstock, in an article on the cheese situation says: "As to the future, it is useless, and it might be very misleading, to speculate. But the buyers seem to hold some strong opinions on the subject, and these may be worth recording. They claim that the depression is not only real but is certain to last, as it is due to causes which cannot at once be removed. In the first place, the dealers last year lost heavily and have been crippled ever since, as well as discouraged. Many of them would gladly be out of the business. The financial strength of these big operators has often held the market up and carried it even beyond a profitable basis and the producers have got the benefit of it, when they were suspicious that fortunes were being made out of them. Without strong men in the trade, a hand-to-mouth business must be done with nothing to steady prices. As we have said, big and small operators loaded themselves up last year with high priced cheese which was not eaten during the winter. The opening of the season saw heavy stocks on hand and new cheese crowding in to find sale in competition with last season's make.

"Then the production this year has been very large. It has not only increased in Canada but in other cheese producing countries. The English and Scotch makers seem to have not only been keeping up their output, but they have been selling it promptly because they lost money by holding last year. All these influences have combined to demoralize the market and to make the outlook very blue. A peculiar fact is that the retailers in the Old Country have made money while the wholesalers have been losing heavily. With cheap cheese they continued the old six penny cut. Their profits therefore were enormous. No wonder they were eager to sell cheese and that they tried to please their customers by becoming fastidious as to quality. But the time-honored cut has gone. It is now a five penny cut; and there are millions of pounds of cheese in Great Britain to-day which could be sold at a profit at a four penny cut, or three pounds to the shilling. If it were so sold, it would surely make a vast increase in the consumptive demand. A five penny cut in England means a permanent depression in prices in that market. So long as it lasts a return to former prices here is out of the question.

"In this connection it is surprising that so little change has taken place in consumption in Canada. We have often pointed out that the Canadians are a cheese-producing but not a cheese-consuming people. They surely ought now to become both. The various reasons why so little cheese is eaten here have often been discussed. One of them is worth referring to now. The fault lies with the retail grocers. They ought to push prime cheese as an article of daily consumption. They can buy plenty of it of excellent quality at 7 cents or less. Still some of them are retailing cheese at 11 cents. If they pushed it as a drawing card as they do sugar, they could sell it at an 8c. cut, or three pounds for 25c. A grocer who will sell first class cheese at this price, and advertise it liberally, will have a run on his store. When working men, or, indeed, anyone else, can buy good cheese at eight or nine cents a pound, they ought to eat it in large quantities in preference to other food. At any such price it is the cheapest and best food in the world to-day. Still our workmen, nor very few others, eat much cheese. So far the theory that a decrease in price will lead to an increase in consumption does not seem to have done much for our cheese trade. In the United States things are different. Our neighbors are a cheese eating people; and although prices are low with them, as they are here—and for the moment have gone back a little—still, it is quite certain that home consumption will soon lead to a substantial increase in New York quotations. This may be safely predicted—and irrespective of a demoralized trade in Great Britain. When the people of the old land offer us such low prices for our cheese, we ought to consider why it is that we consume so little of it at home."

COMPETITION AND QUALITY.

DURING the period when the earlier trusts were in process of formation and also at the time that some of the distributors' combinations were being organized, remarks Merchants' Review, a certain section of the trade press fairly beslavered their readers with articles showing the terrible evils of unbridled competition. Even to this day the same string is occasionally harped upon in the trade press, the object evidently being to arouse the mercantile class to the necessity of taking action to abolish the practice of cutting prices. A stock argument with monopolistic writers and the apologists for the distributors' combinations is that the inevitable effect of free competition is to debase quality.

Quality certainly often suffers from the intense rivalry between tradesmen in the same branch of business, because the public is easily attracted by low prices, and the simplest way of making low prices is to sacrifice quality.

But if competition is constantly inducing one class of dealers—the short-sighted class—to gradually lower the quality of their wares, for the purpose of making so-called bargains, another class of dealers—the most successful class, the leaders in each branch of trade—are constantly being spurred by that same bugbear, competition, to offer the public better and better goods. With this class competition causes the improvement of quality quite as effectually as with the other class it operates in a contrary direction. Of course competition ought to be given the credit for the good as well as the blame for the ill that results from its operations. But, barring the admission, which they cheerfully make, that "Competition is the life of trade," most of the above-referred-to writers will not concede to competition a solitary merit.

It may not be worth while to go farther into this subject and show other beneficent consequences of business rivalry than the raising of the standard of quality, but it behooves the retail grocer to look into the subject carefully and note the results of the two different lines of policy—the search for cheap goods and the search for superior goods—which he can find exemplified in almost every town and city.

If the investigator in question does not discover that a larger measure of success, a more permanent success, rewards the dealers who look to the merits of goods as well as to the price, than those shopkeepers are able to win who put cheapness first and quality second, then the investigation will have been restricted to too narrow an area and too limited a period of time. At the start the worshippers of "cheapness" often astonish older established dealers by the rapidity with which their businesses expand. But, if brilliant, such a career is usually brief, the public soon returning to those dealers upon whom it can rely for quality, notwithstanding the ease with which it may have been enticed away from them by the bait of low prices.

There are some branches of business in which the above remarks do not entirely hold good, but where food products are concerned, quality is of more importance than price.

ONE MAN'S IDEA OF LEADERS.

A friend of mine is in business in a town which knows the fiercest kind of competition. The past year has been an especially trying one to most merchants, yet this party has made money and established a reputation among drummers as the best merchant in his part of the State. I am compelled to attribute to him a keenness for bargains, yet I know that his blunders are very apparent, as are every merchant's. This party makes himself the talk of the community by advertising cambric linings at 1 cent per yard. Cheap advertising, when you consider it; $3\frac{1}{2}\%$ less 1c. is $2\frac{1}{2}\%$. Fifty times $2\frac{1}{2}\%$ is \$1.25, the loss on each piece of cambric. One hundred pieces a year is only \$125; 300 pieces is only \$250. Not very much for advertising when you are selling \$75,000 to \$100,000 per year. This is one extreme; here is another: A serge that costs him $42\frac{1}{2}\%$ he is getting 80c. for. In these two facts you have a whole volume on up-to-date merchandising. This merchant secures attention by offering a well-known article at an astonishingly low price. He selects one on which he can lose money. He advertises it thoroughly. He gets the people to his store, and when he gets them there "gets back at them" by selling a French serge at almost 100 per cent. profit.

Pardon an allusion to myself. When in a general retail store I had handed me a memorandum of groceries by a party whose trade I was anxious to secure. It was for a barrel of this and a box of that, a very nice order indeed. I was informed that six different stores would be given a copy of the memorandum and who ever figured the lowest would secure the order. He knew approximately the cost of sugar, so I quoted him this article at a price that surprised him. I got my profit on stuff which he wasn't acquainted with quite so well. The result was that I got his order and a profit of $17\frac{1}{2}\%$ per cent., a very good transaction, inasmuch as I used the fact to advertise my grocery department.—Dry Goods Reporter.

CANADA'S TRADE FOR 1895.

The report of the Department of Trade and Commerce, showing the foreign trade of Canada for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895, was issued on Tuesday. Imports, being goods entered for consumption, amounted to $105,557,000, against $113,- 093,000 last year, and $121,705,000 the year before. The imports of the same kind in 1895 amounted to $119,618,000. The exports, eliminating coin and bullion from both years, amounted to $106,440,000, compared with $112,649,000 in 1894. The total trade for 1895 amounted to $211,997,000, compared with $225,742,000 in 1894, a decline of $13,745,000. The dutiable imports amounted to $58,549,000, and the duty collected to $17,880,622, or 30.5 per cent. on the average, against an average in 1894 of 30.8, and 30.3 in 1893.

CANARY SEED.

Late advices from the European markets are to the effect that the Smyrna canary seed is recovering from the depression into which it was thrown by the operations of the so-called syndicate during the spring and early summer. The syndicate, which is said to have lost heavily by its venture in consequence of the large depreciation in values, seems to have dropped completely out of sight, and it is not believed here that it is having any hand in the present upward movement of prices in the foreign markets.

CATCH THE AUSTRALIAN TRADE.

Regarding the prospects of Canadian trade in Australia, Dominion Government Commissioner Larke writes to the Department of Trade and Commerce that the saw-mill machinery of the colony is out of date and must soon be replaced. Canadian cargoes are now being sent to Australia, and Mr. Larke thinks they will find a good market. Some time ago he suggested that the Canadian boot and shoe manufacturers send a representative with samples, but this suggestion has not been acted upon. United States manufacturers are now exploiting the market, which Mr. Larke again urges the Canadians to enter. It is a curious fact that Canadian bicycles are now being sold in the leading Australian cities. A Sydney firm handling leather proposes to communicate with the Canadian tanners with a view to an interchange of products. Flour milling machinery from Toronto and lawn mowers from Guelph have been introduced into the market. Of the former, sales to a considerable amount were made in Victoria. Enquiries for Canadian goods have of late been greatly stimulated. Among the goods asked for are leather, boots and shoes, fish oil, agricultural implements, nails, paraffine wax, lubricating oil, potash and pearlash.

A WELL-EQUIPPED STORE.

In The Forest Free Press appears a notice announcing the dissolution of the partnership that existed between J. P. Burns and H. L. Morphy, as general merchants. Mr. Morphy, who continues the business, has built and equipped in modern style a handsome plate-glass-front store, which he has conveniently divided into elegantly equipped departments for groceries, boots and shoes, dress goods, gents' furnishings, etc. We wish Mr. Morphy the success his enterprise deserves.

MAINE SARDINES.

The sardine industry in Maine is not what it formerly was. During the first week of August the sardine season opened at Eastport in earnest, after months had passed away during which it was feared that the sardine had wholly disappeared from the waters of Passamaquoddy Bay. Boats loaded with the much-needed fish were constantly arriving at the Eastport factories and its vicinity. Ten days afterward, owing to a drop of 25 cents a case in New York, a few factories closed, and it is feared that if the present low prices continue, others may shut down, as the "little fishes biled in oil" are being sold cheaper than the manufacturers can afford to put them up in first-class condition.

WINTER V. SPRING WHEAT FLOUR.

THE following is from a paper read before the Michigan Millers' Association :

A firm believer in the ultimate supremacy of winter wheat flour in the most discriminating markets of the world, I regret that I have not been able to give the subject sufficient time to do so important a topic even partial justice.

The French nation, world-famed for the excellence of its cuisine, and using more bread per inhabitant, and better bread, than any other nation in the world, is exclusively a consumer of winter wheat flour; and the choicest product of the Buda-Pesth mills, universally acknowledged as representing the highest degree of perfection in flour, is the product of winter wheat.

The virgin soil of the Northwest being, from climatic conditions, not adapted to the growing of fall sown wheat, and therefore necessarily seeded to spring wheat, has, from the fact of its being a virgin soil of great fertility, produced an excellent wheat distinguished for strength, but deficient in color. Already, however, this has shown signs of deterioration, and it is only in the newer settled portions of that region that the best wheat can now be obtained. Contrast with this the fact that Hungary, after four centuries of incessant wheat cropping, is still producing a winter wheat capable of being turned into the choicest flour.

On account of this evident tendency of spring wheat to deteriorate with continuous cropping, and the equally evident ability of winter wheat to withstand the same conditions, I have advisedly used the words "ultimate supremacy" in my opening sentence; for, at the present time, it is admittedly true that spring wheat flours are in some sections of the country preferred to the product of winter wheat mills. I believe that this is largely and mainly due to the persistent and aggressive methods of the large spring wheat mills. In the columns of the newspapers, on the blank walls of buildings, on fences, and everywhere, we are confronted with announcements in bold letters that so-and-so's Minnesota flour is the best in the world, that the capacity of their mills is "steens" barrels per day, and so on and so forth.

The American people, in particular, like to deal with big concerns. They want to buy their bicycle of the factory that makes the most in the world; their dry goods and groceries in the largest department store in the world, and, following up this same tendency, they naturally think that because certain mills produce a large amount of flour it must be good flour, which is not necessarily the case, as those conversant with the trade are well aware.

If we were to investigate to what extent the crowding of spring wheat flour into all markets had been profitable to our spring wheat brethren, we might come to a negative conclusion. From surface indications, some of the Northwest mills have, on an average, found more rugged sailing than their more conservative winter wheat competitors.

After all, this question of winter vs. spring wheat flour is very much the same question as green vs. black tea. The most excellent black tea might be utterly unpalatable to an ardent devotee of green tea, and, on the contrary, a black tea enthusiast would not accept the choicest green tea as a gift. Each has its peculiar qualities adapting it to slightly different requirements.

HINTS TO ADVERTISERS.

The business man who can't make more business by studying business advertising has no business to be in business, and generally isn't.

It is always necessary to advertise in season, but much more necessary to advertise before season.

The advertising pages of the representative trade journal give opportunities which the careful and progressive business man will not fail to take.

The good of an advertisement is in its capacity to start the mind of a possible customer after a line of thought which will eventually consummate in trade

ORGANIZATION A REMEDY.

Lack of ability to collect debts is responsible for more commercial failures than lack of capital. * * * Were merchants as systematic in their collections as they are in eating, drinking and sleeping, fewer complaints there would be in regard to payments.—Canadian Grocer.

THESE "drops from the editor's pen," in a recent issue of The Canadian Grocer, contain a large grain of truth. They tritely teach a salutary lesson, of which others besides the constituents of our Dominion contemporary might profit. The "drops" are precious gems, indeed—priceless in value to all who give them proper consideration and rightly apply them. Some merchants, however, will not heed the lesson. They are seemingly incapable of reflection when there is question of applying the necessities that are essential for success in commercial life. If they ever possessed the ability for business pursuits, their conduct is passing strange, and may be said to border on the criminal when opportunities which are presented to them are neglected. Like the foolish individual who saw the reflection of his countenance in the mirror but soon forgot the manner of man he was, they plod along unmindful of their best interests. They fail to grasp the situation, and means by which they might make collections and maintain credit are ignored and allowed to escape them. Such merchants are of but little value to the community. Like fish out of water they are not in their element; and, even though they are "systematic" in the lines indicated by THE CANADIAN GROCER, may there not be grave doubts but that their "system" is irrational? It is true that there would be fewer "commercial failures," if merchants devoted closer attention to their collections. As a means to that end, nothing better has as yet been devised for those who give credit than proper organization. In merchants' associations advantages are offered which help to protect the members against loss of what otherwise would be classified in the category of "bad debts."—New Jersey Trade Review.

FORMOSA TEA.

A consular report from Tamsui gives some interesting particulars upon trade of that district and states that Oolong tea is the cause of the commercial prosperity, not only of North Formosa, but in great measure of the neighboring mainland port of Amoy. The total export for the past year was nearly 18,300,000 lbs. valued at £480,556, against 20,047,000 lbs. valued at £730,590 in 1893. In mere bulk this is a falling-off of some 1,700,000 lbs. Nevertheless the true Formosa crop was probably larger than in 1893, and the smaller figures are due to a satisfactory cause, the decrease, namely, in the import of inferior teas from the mainland for mixing with the island-grown leaf. As much as 60,000 half-chests or 2,580,000 lbs. it is estimated (though this may perhaps be too high) should be deducted from the export of 1893 on this account. The firm stand made in 1894 by the foreign buyers in declining to accept teas containing more than a certain percentage of dust had a good effect. The great feature of the tea season of the past year was the settlement of nearly half the entire crop in Tamsui itself. Such a proportion has never been achieved before. The figures are, for 1894—purchased in Tamsui, 206,000 half-chests; in Amoy, 220,000. For the previous year the totals were: Bought in Tamsui, 160,000; in Amoy, 305,000 half-chests. The standard of the crop, taken all round, was decidedly satisfactory, and showed more careful preparation by the Chinese than the crop of 1893. The autumn pickings were much better than any autumn teas for some seasons. Dollar prices were naturally high owing to low exchange, and the country growers make money; so also did the native packers. It is understood that the foreign firms engaged in this branch of commerce have no reason to be dissatisfied. Many native tea buyers closed their hong and returned to the mainland when the war with Japan commenced, a step which made matters easier for the foreigners who remained to do business.

DESTRUCTIVE BLAZE.

On Sept. 7 Liverpool, N.S., was nearly wiped out by fire. The loss is estimated at $75,000, with $20,000 insurance. The business portion of the town is in ashes. Hendry & Millard lost $5,000 worth of molasses, on which there was no insurance. Among the buildings, etc., destroyed are: Store and wharf, estate of J. V. Dexter, Jubilee Hall, A. W. Hendry's store, Union Bank, George Braddon's store, Andrew McNutt, house and store; D. Winter's butcher shop, N. H. Wetmore's store, Mullhall's grocery store, A. W. Harrington's house and store, Verge's jewellery store, Putnam's jewellery store, Mrs. A. W. Mader's fruit store, Hutchings' drug store, A. W. Balcom's livery stables, Congregational Church, Jos. Winter's butcher shop and dwelling, F. O. Patch's wharf and two warehouses, Isaiah Wilde's house and shop, the Forbes block, Colin Campbell, sr. (two buildings), Colin Campbell, jr. (two buildings), Advance office, Western Union Telegraph office, and Times office.

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

It is a wise merchant that knows his own customer.

* * *

A business is sometimes dissolved in order that it may be built up.

* * *

Goldwin Smith's proposition to hang incendiaries will probably hang fire.

* * *

Confidence of merchants in each other is the only remedy for price-cutting.

* * *

If you cannot say a good word for your rival abstain from saying anything bad.

* * *

The fire underwriter is not a fire eater. It is for high rates that his appetite is abnormal.

* * *

Chicago grocers are in a self-congratulatory mood these days. They made $600 out of their picnic.

* * *

There is one peculiarity about a merchant: He can keep his backbone stiff and still bend to his customers.

* * *

All eyes are upon Manitoba, but the coy miss is not at all abashed, and there is no reason she should.

* * *

Light-hearted is the merchant whose books are not loaded with bad debts, and much to be emulated is he.

* * *

There is one thing commendable about failures: It is possible to use them as stepping stones to success.

* * *

The advance in steerage rates by the ocean steamers is a steerage to the conclusion that times are really better.

* * *

The Chinese display common sense in some things. They have taken a great liking for condensed milk, which has lately been imported into the country.

* * *

The female clerk is likely to win young men as well as business, and what the young man gains the merchant loses.

* * *

"To be or not to be" is the grave question that is now agitating the average merchant regarding canned salmon.

* * *

If credit was given to whom credit was due, "dead beats" would soon die for the want of soil in which to take root.

* * *

Sugar is something more than saccharine matter. It is a bone of contention: Grocers are always fighting each other over it.

* * *

As there is no filed cheese made in Canada, it is evident that those in England who asserted there was were filled with prejudice.

* * *

It is well that merchants should exchange ideas with each other, but it is not politic to give away your ideas before they are hatched.

* * *

Soliloquy of the merchant who closed not early: "The summer is ended and none of its beauties have I enjoyed. Wretched man that I am."

* * *

Because a man happens to be a good judge of a dog's howl it should not be inferred that he is in the habit of going on a howl himself.

* * *

He is a wise clerk who, now that the long evenings are approaching, sits down and devises ways and means of perfecting himself in his calling.

* * *

Le Prix Courant, of Montreal, is the prince of French trade papers, and its fall number, now lying before me, is an evidence that it intends to maintain its position. The cover of the number is prettily lithographed and the general appearance of the issue is most creditable.

* * *

The Philadelphia Retail Grocers' Association is said to have put a flea in the ears of local politicians. It is to be hoped it made them hop.

* * *

Most people are ready to declare that the man guilty of arson should be hung, but most people again would not like to see the extreme penalty enforced.

* * *

The Industrial Exhibition is at an end, but not so the acquaintanceships which have been struck up between city wholesaler and country retailer during its existence.

* * *

The merchant who refuses credit to every Tom, Dick and Harry is less likely by his negatives to pave his way to the poorhouse than is his less discriminating rival by his affirmatives.

* * *

The chief difficulty about the house-organ trade paper is that it is only set to play one tune. As that tune is set by the author of the organ, one guess will be sufficient to tell what it is.

* * *

The clerk who is as much concerned in his employer's business as is the employer himself has already laid the foundation of his own fortune, though he may not have a $5 bill in the bank.

* * *

The trade evils that obtain in a community are usually indicative of the character of the organization among the merchants there. Large evils, little organization; little evils, large organization.

* * *

He who aims to become a successful merchant without mastering the details is just as unwise as he who would assay in one bound to reach the roof of a ten-storey building, instead of climbing the stairs or taking the elevator.

EXHIBITION ADVERTISING.

SPEAKING of exhibitions, Toronto Saturday Night has this to say :

"Hotels, restaurants, saloons, the street railway and a few kindred enterprises, reap a very large and instantaneous profit, but the average tradesman misses not only his regular customers, but finds very few new ones. The people who come to the Fair almost as a rule come to be amused or to see the articles displayed, and go home the day of their arrival. The circulation of the daily newspapers, I think, could be proven to be smaller during the continuance of the Exhibition than on ordinary days. I am quite positive that fewer people read the newspapers during the Fair weeks than at any other time of the year, yet advertisers are eager to make their announcements at the period when they are certain to have fewest readers. On the Fair grounds printed matter and lithographed cards, and all that sort of thing, are distributed by the bushel, and every observant business man will notice that the whole area of the Industrial Fair is fairly papered with cards and circulars and testimonials that have been thrown away, because the people have neither the inclination nor conveniences for carrying away the vast amount of printed matter which is thrust into their hands. I hate to see this waste of advertising space and this misuse of advertising methods, because it brings into disrepute and disuse the material which publishers offer to those who desire to make known their goods to the general public.

"During the time of the Industrial Exhibition is not favorable for either advertising of a display sort or the distribution of cards and circulars, and is without doubt the very worst time of the year for merchants to indulge in those long and fulsome 'write-ups,' into which they are juggled by advertising canvassers. Tens of thousands of dollars are wasted during Fair week in useless advertising and in throwing away cards, chromos and circulars. Nobody reads the newspapers, owing to the fact that nobody has time to do more than attend to his visitors, or, if he be a stranger, to his visit.

"The average Torontonian is prouder of the Industrial Fair than of anything else in Toronto. Nothing angers him so much as any depreciation of the great enterprise which brings so many people to see us, yet the personal effort of the individual to make his business an attractive part of the show is very small; he is willing to put a big ad. in the newspapers, where it will not be read, but any suggestion that the same money be spent in decorating his premises or improvising a unique and attractive something in his windows would be scouted. I say again that the direct advantage accruing to the Toronto business man by reason of the Fair is very small; in many cases it inflicts a temporary loss. The real advantage is obtained by influencing people to make this city the centre of their amusements and business. If we can get them to come here to the Fair we can get them to come at other periods of the year, and to make the city attractive and the amusements vastly superior to those afforded by any other Canadian city should be our chief aim."

Here is truth for you. Toronto daily and evening papers during Exhibition were full of half and full-page advertisements of wholesale and manufacturing concerns. Every dollar spent in this way was practically thrown away. Advertisers, think it out for yourselves. When you visited the World's Fair did you read Chicago's morning and evening papers? If you did look at them, we bet it was to see the attractions at the theatres or to take a careful look at the amusement column. Visitors to large cities have their minds made up before they arrive as to what and who they will see, so that from the moment they arrive till the moment they depart they are on the jump. What time have they to look at newspapers? None! Manufacturers and wholesalers should use the trade press exclusively for their announcements, and those catering for the general public should advertise extensively for two or three weeks previous to the opening of an exhibition, and if they have still some money left, spend it on attractive window display, bunting or some such attraction.—Printer and Publisher, Toronto.

FRENCH SARDINES.

Recently some low cable offers to sell French sardines have been received in New York with a disquieting effect upon that market. It is claimed, says The N. Y. Journal of Commerce, that the goods so offered were of inferior quality and that good stock was not procurable at anything like such figures. The weather has been hot in France and on some days large fares have been brought in by the boats, which when packed, were not of desirable quality, and the packers were willing and even anxious to sell them at much below regular market rates for choice brands.

AVOID DEBT.

I observed recently in a daily paper published in a city of ten thousand inhabitants, says a writer in The Chautauquan, this statement: "There are five hundred people on the blacklist of the traders in this community." Dry-goods men, grocers, butchers, milliners, all the shop keepers had combined and they made weekly and monthly reports to their headquarters of every man and woman in the community who would run a bill, and then failing to pay would go to some other store of the same kind to run another bill. These traders refused credit to every person whose name was on the blacklist, and five hundred made one-tenth of the whole population of that community.

Though it was considered a prosperous town, there were paupers in it, the poorest people lived in comfortable homes and there was every indication of thrift in the appearance of the people and general tone of the community. As Poor Richard says again, "If you would know the value of money, go and borrow some."

If one will be independent in business and have a free course in the world he must be self-reliant and build up a sturdy, strong manhood. One is strong who is conscious that if all the business of the world around him should fail his possessions will abide because he has no debts to pay. A panic cannot hurt such an one except in the volume of his trade. His home will continue to be a shelter for his family and no man can touch it. His occupation may be gone for a time, but "no debts to pay" will be the sweetest song that can ring in his soul as the days and the months go rolling on. Such a man is ready for the race of life when opportunity presents itself. He is a free man and it is freedom which contributes to the enjoyment as well as to the prosperity of life. It will help to banish care and keep grief away. Above all things avoid debt.

COFFEE UNSETTLED.

Coffee is just now in an unsettled condition, with an apparent tendency to ease away. Advices from Europe state that Blanco, the leader of the bull syndicate, is tired of the deal and anxious to close out. He is understood to have so managed shipments to Dutch and German markets as to bring his holdings down to 50,000 bags actual coffee, but may have to provide for some liberal tenders before end of month from cargoes now steaming across the ocean from Brazil. There has been a great deal of coffee offering upon our local option market for European account, and the street market was well supplied with stock. Some of the latter was remarkably low and at first came from such a narrow source as to create suspicion; but other sellers have gradually followed in the same line until terms are generally a fraction off and still look a little topsey. Nevertheless, on the other side of the question there has been a noticeable absence of confirmation for the liberal crop estimates sent here some time ago, many leading houses practically entering a denial, and in a suspiciously secret manner a very extensive line of purchasing has taken place, principally by roasters, one concern alone getting something like 35,000 to 40,000 bags that can be traced, and mostly at about the ruling rates of the moment. The deal probably means just so much coffee passed into actual consumption, but, it is surmised, has been taken in anticipation of a possible increase of value on the grades handled, when about the first of next month a change in rules of delivery may make them particularly desirable to apply on maturing contracts.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

SUGAR BEET CULTURE.

IN the earlier half of the past month the "Association Internationale de Statistique Sucriere" published its general estimate of the beet sowings, the figures being as follows :

	Total number of Factories.		Hectares Sown.		Difference per cwt.
	1894	1895	1894	1895
Germany.....	404	395	441,427	370,884	-16'0
Austria-Hungary	217	217	376,160	289,430	-23'0
France.....	373	368	236,070	199,244	-15'6
Russia.....	227	229	336,363	346,500	3'0
Belgium.....	111	110	71,365	57,566	-19'6
Holland.....	30	30	34,257	32,697	-4'5
Other countries..	45	44	41,000	36,000	-?
	1,407	1,393	1,536,642	1,332,321	-13'3

On the basis of the average crops for various periods, as given above, the estimate of the total beet crop of Europe for the coming season, and its comparison with the season of 1894-5 would be as follows :

	1895-96	1894-95	Difference
	tons.	tons.	tons.
Germany.....	1,430,000	1,825,000	-395,000
Austria-Hungary.....	762,000	1,050,000	-288,000
France.....	610,000	795,000	-185,000
Russia.....	610,000	592,000	18,000
Belgium.....	205,000	240,000	-35,000
Holland.....	78,000	78,000
Other countries.....	120,000	150,000	-30,000
	3,015,000	4,730,000	-915,000

The reduced yield being thus 915,000 tons, the crop would only be about as large as that of 1893-94.

For this summary of M. Sach's estimate we are chiefly indebted to the Magdeburg Centralblatt fur die Zucker-Industrie der Welt, which proceeds to make the following remarks :

"We have reproduced the above observations respecting the coming beet sugar crop, in order to show how it is possible, with the help of statistical materials that can be manipulated at pleasure, to draw up most delightful calculations. Not even a hint of how the coming crop will turn out can at the present moment be arrived at, as the really finally decisive factor is the weather in September and October. As things are at present, we can say no more than that the prospects of the crop are favorable, and that the utmost that might be expected would be such an error in the amount of the reduction of sowings, as might be equivalent to a sugar yield of 600,000 tons."

It will thus be seen that any calculations for the present are totally premature, and might prove exceedingly misleading. We simply give them for what they are worth. It may be well to mention that the figures of the Statistical Association of sugar growers and manufacturers are regarded with some distrust by commercial men, and the reason of this fact will at once suggest itself to every experienced business man. Licht, who still maintains his position as the one statistician who materially influences the English market, appears, however, to accept the figures of reduced sowings as being tolerably correct, though he inclines to assume a lower percentage of reduction as being the most probable.—Kuhlow's Trade Review.

IRRIGATION IN ALBERTA.

IRRIGATION is a great theme in Alberta ; still there can be very little doubt, says The Calgary Herald, that any successful scheme of irrigation for Alberta must include the construction of reservoirs at the head waters of the numerous streams which have their sources in the foothills and mountains, and would retain the water during flood time and let it out during low water. Some of the streams actually include a natural reservoir of this kind in their upper courses, as, for instance, the middle fork of the Old Man's River in the Crow's Nest Pass, where about twenty-five miles up the pass the river flows out of a cavern in a mountain, which slopes down to the north shore of the Crow's Nest Lake, runs into the lake, and flows out of it at its eastern extremity. Very little artificial improvement would make this lake a reservoir from which the supply of water in the Old Man's River could be regulated at will. Such another natural reservoir exists in the Devil's Head Lake, which could without any engineering difficulties be connected with one of the forks of Ghost River, which stream, tapped by a ditch at the point where it turns south to join the Bow, and with its supply of water reinforced and regulated from the Devil's Head Lake, would irrigate a very large area of land on the north bank of the Bow River.

These are only two instances out of many. The utilisation of such natural reservoirs, and the construction of artificial ones where no natural ones exist, is clearly that part of a general scheme of irrigation for southern Alberta which should be borne by the central Government. The works necessary for the erection of these storage places will necessarily be located at some distance from the area which their waters will irrigate, and would not come within the proposed scope of any private undertaking, since no single individual or company would be likely to desire to construct and maintain reservoirs unless they were allowed to reap the exclusive benefit of them, which would in many cases be impossible.

Secondly, assurance of the constant and permanent supervision necessary to prevent such reservoirs from proving a menace instead of a boon to the community, could only be given by their being under Government control, and practically of Government construction. Irrigation companies fail, like other speculations. It would be inadvisable to permit of the possibility of a bankrupt concern going out of business and leaving a legacy of disaster to the community in the shape of a neglected reservoir in the mountains. No ; the reservoirs should clearly be the Government contribution to irrigable Alberta.

HAMILTON TRADE GOSSIP.

PRICES on sugar have been pretty badly cut here lately by local jobbers, partly with a view to induce business, and partly evidently from a mere desire to fight. During the last few days, however, there has developed a marked desire to discontinue this senseless practice, and the desire is evidently bearing some fruit. "Every one of us want to get at least a fair profit, you know," explained one wholesaler. The firmer markets in London and New York are the principal factors which have brought about this steadier feeling on the local market. But jobbers are finding that it is much easier to lower prices than to get them back to the normal condition again. The idea for granulated is now 4c. for Acadia and 4½c. for Montreal sugar. Yellows sell at from 3 to 3¾c. Wholesalers report that the demand from some sections of the country is fairly good, quite a number of carload lots having gone out. "At today's prices," remarked one jobber, "buyers cannot fail to find purchases remunerative." Bright coffee sugars are scarce; in fact, they are unobtainable. The few that are on the market get so hard that people are afraid to buy them.

A demand is beginning to develop for both syrup and molasses. But, as already stated, wholesalers are compelled to go to the other side for medium and dark syrups, "and pay the iniquitous duty" as one wholesaler remarked to me. Syrups at about 30 to 32c., and 38 to 42c. are the kinds mostly in demand. Some particularly good value is being shown in molasses, and one house has turned over this season several hundred barrels at prices ranging from 23 to 25c. per gallon.

In teas, the demand continues good for all descriptions of black teas, particularly good liquoring Assams and Ceylons. All the orders taken for import lots of Japan teas have been delivered, but in many cases the purchasers have refused to take them owing to their unsatisfactory quality. "Any goods offered on the basis of last year's prices should be readily taken," ventured one jobber. In Young Hysons the market is completely bare, and any goods there are on the market are held at high prices.

All descriptions of canned goods are quiet, which is usual at this season of the year, while the price of vegetables is unsettled. "Good values offering in Canadian canned peaches should be taken by buyers, as prices cannot long remain where they are to-day." Lobster of good quality is getting scarce, and there are practically no half-pound tins in first hands. There is no change in the salmon situation. Only a few carloads of fish have, so far, come to hand. Sockeye is being quoted all the way from $1.30 to $1.40, according to brand. A letter from a packer received here a few days ago, under date of Victoria, Sept. 9, places the pack of sockeye at 500,000 cases, 335,000 of which are on the Fraser. It says that 395,000 cases will go to the United Kingdom, 25,000 to Australia, and 5,000 cases to New Zealand. It anticipates a small pack of cohoes.

"People," remarked a wholesaler, "are looking forward anxiously to getting in their new currants, as the market here is almost bare." A letter received from Greece by a local wholesale house, in referring to the currant situation, asserts that the present prices leave the grower barely 1c. per pound, and that with a very much decreased stock this year higher prices will naturally follow. The letter furthermore states that the crop will hardly be sufficient to meet the universal demand, and that the fruit will not be given away as it was last year and the year before.

All the houses are this week in receipt of their second shipments of new season's Valencia raisins. The idea as to the price is 5¼ to 5¾c. for fine off-stalk and 6¼c. for selected.

Hams and bacon are in good demand, but there is not so much doing in the heavy meats. There is a good demand for cheese but the price is low. F. W. Fearman has nearly completed that portion of his packing house destroyed by fire some months ago, and it is expected to be in running order in about ten days.

French plums and prunes have been arriving during the last few days for the different houses. The ordinary selling price is 4¾ to 6c.

Hamiltonians are not without hope that, as a result of the visit of Sir C. Rivers-Wilson, a handsome up-town Grand Trunk station will be erected before a great while. A great deal of satisfaction is being expressed at the fact that Hamilton is to be made the western freight centre. Anent railway matters, the T., H. & B. bonus seems to be a dead letter. The contractors are making good headway with the tunnel in Hunter street, and have the collapsed brickwork well into position again.

The demand for evaporated apricots, peaches and prunes continues fair for the season, and the trade has been compelled to re-order several times.

The vinegar manufacturers are very busy. "You know," remarked one of the manufacturers, "we usually do as much business during August, September and October as during the rest of the year put together. The difficulty now is not to get business but to keep up stock." One of the proprietors of the Dominion Vinegar Works told me business was much better than a year ago.

Spanish onions are arriving on the market, and there have been some deliveries. Lucas, Steele & Bristol received their shipment this week. This firm has also a special line of syrups arriving.

"We have made special arrangements this year," said a member of the firm of W. H. Gillard & Co., "to bring on two special growths of currants, which have been carefully packed, under the brands 'Paradise' and 'Hay Castle.'"

Mr. Dallas, representing Mourilyan, Heiman & Co., the Japan tea firm, was in Hamilton on Wednesday. "Anything new?" he replied to a query of mine. "Nothing, only that low grade Japs are very scarce." "Indeed they are," interposed a wholesaler. "The best cable offers on low grades of any use at all on this market are about equal to 16c. laid down here." W. L. E.

THE FIRST SHELL OYSTERS.

The first arrival of shell oysters this season came to hand on Tuesday morning last. They were consigned to D. Hatton & Co., and consisted of ten barrels, which came through by express via the short line. They sold at $6.50 to $7 per barrel. Similar oysters will arrive on Friday and Saturday by freight, and are selling to arrive at $3.50 to $4 per bbl. for ordinary and $5 for hand-picked.

F. J. Mayhew, of the firm of Mayhew & Harmer, general merchants and bankers, Thamesville, Ont., had a valuable horse killed by lightning on Wednesday; loss covered by insurance.

COLONIAL EXPOSITION.

At a meeting of the directors of the Montreal Exhibition Company on Monday it was decided to hold a grand Colonial Exhibition next year, opening on May 24, and closing on October 12. The exhibition will comprise the products of five colonies—Canada, Australia, New Zealand, the Cape Colonies and Newfoundland. All the exhibits at present in England will, it is reported, be sent over and supplemented by others. The Government is said to have granted $250,000 to the exhibition. The present grounds will not be sufficiently large to accommodate the exhibits, and large additions will have to be made. The exhibition, of which Mr. Stiles is the promoter, will be postponed on account of this action of the Montreal Exhibition Company until 1899.

INDIAN TEA.

Latest mail advices from Calcutta have the following on teas : "The quality has continued, with few exceptions, unattractive, Assam especially being below the usual standard looked for at this season, while Dooars tea has mostly been very poor, but at the close there are at last signs of improvement from this quarter. Some of the Sylhets have been fairly useful and tend to improve. There has been a strong inquiry for anything that could be classed as fine, and prices for such have been well supported. Common to medium descriptions close rather weaker, especially in the case of common broken Pekoes. One satisfactory result of the low prices ruling under 8d.

is increasing competition for ports other than London. Some good orders are now coming from America, and the weekly offtake for the Colonies, Persia, Bombay, etc., has become a very valuable support to the Calcutta market."

Owing almost entirely to the exceptionally heavy landings of Indian tea for the month of August, the total imports of tea of all kinds into London during that period rose to 33,791,100 lbs., as contrasted with 25,411,800 lbs. in 1894, and although the deliveries aggregated 20,584,700 lbs. against 19,911,300 lbs. in August last year, the stock by the 31st ult. was piled up to 75,084,250 lbs., or 7,255,750 lbs. above that in 1894 at the same date.

SUGAR IN CANADA.

The unsettled feeling in sugar in Canada is not yet altogether dissipated. A Montreal speculator who has held a line of 1,000 bbls. granulated for some time was bid 3½c. Wednesday for the lot. He refused, and the bidder stated that the refineries were selling at the price. This was found to be correct, as both refineries are accepting 3½ to 3 15-16c. Montreal this week for 500-bbl. lots to the wholesale trade.

MILLS BURNED.

The oatmeal and barley mills owned by Messrs. T. and J. N. Andrews, of Thornbury, Ont., were completely burned on Wednesday. The cause of the fire is unknown. Had it not been for the heavy rain of the previous part of the night it would have been impossible to have prevented the fire spreading into the business part of the town. The mills were fully insured.

THE SALMON SITUATION.

ELSEWHERE will be found a letter from J. H. Todd & Son, in which THE CANADIAN GROCER is called to account for certain alleged exaggerations regarding the two days' big run on the Fraser.

Our data was gathered from the daily and trade papers of British Columbia, and if there is any exaggeration, the onus is upon these journals.

What THE CANADIAN GROCER has all along endeavored to do is to give the facts as far as possible. We are not infallible, but a retrospective view makes us bold to say that we have in the main been correct in our premises on the salmon situation.

Not once have we asserted that the pack was an extremely large one or that it was likely to exceed the demand. We merely stated that the pack was much larger than the canners at the opening of the season anticipated it would be. And our anticipations were correct. At the same time we also pointed out that many of the canners could not pack all they might owing to the fact that they had only ordered tins to meet the requirements of an anticipated short pack.

As to prices, we opined that for the well-known and leading brands figures would in all likelihood be well maintained, but that there was a possibility that later in the season the not so well-known brands would be offered at figures lower than those now obtaining, and furthermore pointed out that England held the key to the situation. Our opinion regarding these matters has not changed.

Seeing that the pack was so much larger than anticipated we held to the opinion that, in consequence thereof, prices were not likely to go any higher, and that therefore nothing was to be gained by being in a hurry to purchase, while there was a possibility of something being gained by buying cautiously.

We did not for a moment anticipate a weak market. We merely ventured the opinion that the market was not likely to go higher. And how could we arrive at any other conclusion with a pack larger than expected, and with the other conditions the same as when the opening prices were fixed? THE CANADIAN GROCER has posed to play the part of neither the bull nor the bear. We have merely assayed to furnish facts for the guidance of our clients.

We publish this week the statistics regarding the pack. The one in detail is from The Statistical News-Advertiser, which places the total pack at 512,197, or 17,826 cases more than last year. The figures, however, received at the Fisheries Department, Ottawa, and as published in The Toronto World, gives the total pack as 18,000,000 one-pound cans. This, divided by 48, the number of cans in a case, would give a total of 375,000 cases only, which is obviously incorrect. Another British Columbia trade paper, The Commercial Journal, shows, in detail, the pack to be 513,693 cases. That the Government figures are incorrect is furthermore obvious from the fact that tonnage now engaged for England will carry 360,000 cases, while 30,000 cases are to be sent overland to the same destination via Atlantic ports. Then, Eastern Canada is expected to take fully her average quota of 75,000 cases, while 30,000 cases are expected to go to Australia and 5,000 to New Zealand. Here are some 500,000 cases accounted for.

The coho pack is now about begun, and advices received in Toronto this week bear out what THE CANADIAN GROCER said a couple of weeks ago, namely, that the pack is likely to be light, only a few canners packing them. At present the packers are asking $4 f.o.b. cars, equal to about $1.16 per dozen laid down here. First shipments will be made early in October.

The packers do not appear to have changed their views regarding the price of sockeye, what transactions there have been reported being on the basis of $4.50 f.o.b. cars, while wholesalers seemingly are a little more willing than they were to pay that figure. The general tone of the market is steady and the fact, as pointed out in a previous issue, that the canners on the Fraser had to pay a high price for their fish, helps to make it so.

A PRETTY POST CARD.

The Government regulation permitting the use of private post cards has been taken advantage of speedily by business men all over the country, and some very prettily designed cards are now passing through the mails daily.

One of the finest we have seen is gotten out by W. H. Gillard & Co., the tea importers and wholesale grocers, of Hamilton, Ont. It was designed in their own sample room, and has been specially praised in a communication from the Deputy Postmaster-General.

SHIPMENTS OF FRUIT TO ENGLAND

OPINIONS expressed in Montreal regarding the recent experimental shipment of Canadian fresh fruit to the English market are not complimentary.

Many shrewd traders consider that our fruit growers would be following a more practical course if they cultivated the wants of the home market more before they reached out for new fields.

They argue that it is a trade axiom that the home demand always pays a seller or producer best, and that, for this reason, its wants should be the primary object with the latter. This, they contend, the Canadian fruit grower does not do, because he does not vary his crop enough between the early and late varieties of fruit.

The result of this policy is that the markets in Montreal and Toronto are in some seasons literally swamped in a short interval with receipts that they cannot absorb.

Naturally there is loss, and because of it the growers complain and try experiments in a new field.

The trade considers that it is quite right and proper to get access to all the markets possible, but at the same time not to neglect the best of all, the home market.

If the growers varied their crop there would be no necessity to dump a lot of fruit on the market all at one time. They could also learn a lesson in packing and selection from their California competitors that should be taken to heart, especially if they hope to compete with the latter in England.

To be plain, it is the belief of shippers in Montreal that the growers who have sent these experimental shipments to England will get little more than will pay the freight.

THE TRADE SITUATION.

DOUBT is no longer entertained regarding the return of better times to the Dominion of Canada: They are not merely in prospect, we have them.

Turn where we will a revival is apparent. Canada's backbone is her agricultural industries, and these are on the whole healthier than they have been for many a long day: At home the crops are excellent; abroad prices are more promising than they were a year ago. The cheese industry is not in as good condition as desirable, owing to the over production at home and increased production and congested markets abroad. But we are not near enough to the millennium to expect that at one and the same time all the conditions shall be favorable for everything we have to make and sell. And then it is not to be expected that all the effects of a period of depression will vanish at the first appearance of the sunshine of better times.

Our manufacturing industries are gradually assuming their normal condition. The various mines with which the country abound are being developed as they were probably never developed before, while in the procession of progress is also marching the lumbering industry.

But the best barometers whereby the trade conditions may be more accurately gauged are the clearing house returns and the railway earnings. There is no mistaking their reading. And reading these in comparison with those of last year the results are decidedly favorable.

What we now need to do is to exercise confidence; and while pushing for business make haste slowly.

JOBBER BUYING TEA FREELY.

THE wholesale tea trade in Montreal shows radical expansion this week for the first time this season.

While western jobbers were operating freely as buyers during the past month or five weeks, the trade in Montreal were indifferent and bought sparingly.

Now, however, they have changed their disposition entirely, and a large quantity of tea has changed hands in the aggregate.

The cause of this change of temper is the prospect of a scarcity of low grade Japan teas, and the chances of only a moderate supply of medium teas.

It has been usual at this season for large consignments of these goods to come to Montreal. These have not made their appearance, and none of any consequence are advised. On the contrary, sales agents in Montreal who have been asked to duplicate lots already on the market demand an advance of 1½c. per pound on low grade and 1c. per pound on medium. This fact has made buyers more anxious, and the outcome of it is the larger wholesale trade doing.

We hear in this connection of several 600 half-chest lots of low grade Japans selling at 14c.; also some mediums at 17½c.

One house on Monday gathered in 1,000 packages of low grades within the above range and evidenced their willingness to take more. In a word, the jobbing trade are free buyers.

One of them stated that the big percentage of their Quebec province trade was in low grade teas, and that the stock to supply it was light.

There is as yet no evidence of any increase in the volume of the distributive trade from second hands.

Buyers in this particular have not shown any anxiety, but with the conditions as they are at present too much caution may mean that their supplies will cost more money.

It might be remarked also that Montreal jobbers carried quite a good stock of teas as a rule during the summer; hence, their anxiety to secure additional supplies as soon as possible is all the more significant.

A LIE NAILED.

THE promptness with which the Dominion Government acted in refuting the lie circulated by The North British Agriculturist, to the effect that filled Canadian cheese was being put on the English market, has already borne fruit.

Tuesday morning's cables announced that the editor of the paper in question would publish an apology, and, furthermore, set forth that what he meant to say was that it was American filled cheese (meaning that from the United States) that was being placed on the British market.

How the editor of The North British Agriculturist could have fallen into such an egregious error is past understanding. British journalists have frequently exhibited their ignorance of American geography, but this is the worst exhibition of them all, because of the injury it tended to work on one of Canada's leading industries.

To mean the United States and specify Canada is an unpardonable blunder, and it is all the more unpardonable from the fact that there will always linger in the breasts of Canadians a suspicion that it was not a blunder at all but a deliberate attempt on the part of someone who may have been merely using the editor of The North British Agriculturist to "knife" Canadian cheese.

False and all as the statement was, it should serve as a warning, to not our cheese makers only, but to all who make and prepare food products for export; Canada has enemies who only need to see a rat to cry wolf. Canadian live cattle they have already succeeded in shutting out of the British market, and it is evident that they now have their eye on Canadian cheese.

IMPORTING PEACHES.

One of the most peculiar features of the Toronto fruit market this season is the fact that large quantities of imported peaches have been disposed of here. The failure of the crop in the Niagara district is the cause of this.

Usually the peach yield in the Niagara peninsula is so large that this market is easily flooded; and large shipments are made to outside points.

This year the tide has set the other way, and we are, despite the duty of 1c. per lb., importing instead of exporting peaches.

In former years some early California and Delaware peaches have been brought in, but this fall they have been laid down here in train loads, one might say. But it is of Michigan peaches that the biggest importations have been made. These peaches are as a rule highly colored and have tough skins and a good flavor. To give an idea of the extent to which these have been brought in, it need only be said that one Toronto firm alone disposed of nine carloads within two or three days.

THAT DARK SYRUP TARIFF.

REFINERS assert that they would supply dark syrups to the Canadian public in sufficient quantity provided the wholesalers would pay them a sufficiently high price to warrant them making these grades. They tell us that for the other grades they are not now getting a profitable return.

What that sufficiently high price means is an unanswered question.

Wholesalers are now paying a duty of about 100 per cent. in addition to a freight rate of 3c. per gallon on the dark syrups they are bringing into Canada from the United States.

Obviously, then, they would have to pay to the Canadian refiner a considerably higher price than the now laid-down cost of the American made article before he would make dark syrup for the home trade.

According to The N.Y. Journal of Commerce of Monday last, what is known as a fair syrup can be had at 10 to 11c. Laid down here, duty and freight added, this syrup would cost in the neighborhood of 23½ to 24½c. per gallon. The lowest priced syrup the refineries are offering to-day is over 26c. Montreal.

These figures prove that Canadian wholesalers could not afford to pay a "sufficiently high price" to induce the home refineries to produce dark syrups. But why the Canadian refiner cannot afford to make a dark syrup for the home trade when he can easily get 100 per cent. more than can the American refiner for his in his home market, is an enigma. There must be a screw loose somewhere.

If the refineries would place a dark syrup on the market at a price 50 per cent above the American, the Canadian trade would jump at it and murmur not. But they do most seriously object to a duty of over 100 per cent. on an article which, practically, is not made in the country.

HINTS TO ADVERTISERS.

An advertiser begins advertising for his own benefit, in a short time his advertisement becomes of benefit to the public, and then his success is assured.

A business advertisement never accomplishes its purpose in one attempt.

The best place to put an advertisement is in the paper that enjoys the confidence of the community.

An advertisement—like a cigar—should be so good that the first whiff or impression will cause a man to finish it.

EXHIBITION VISITORS.

MONDAY and Tuesday witnessed quite an influx of country merchants and dealers generally into Montreal to attend the Exhibition. So far the French wholesale houses have had the most callers, the English houses up to this writing reporting few or no visitors. In fact, the latter were inclined to think that the Exhibition was a decided drawback to their business.

On the whole, so far the visitors seem to have confined themselves more to the Fair Grounds than to visiting their merchant friends down town. Some of those who were spoken to appeared to be sanguine of a fairly good fall trade.

C. C. Coleman, of the Laundry Rubber Starch Co., Waterloo, Que., paid a visit to several of his friends, among others Rose & Laflamme. He remarked that the Townships district promised fair on the whole. The good hay crop and the high prices realized had been a satisfactory feature. The low price of cheese, on the other hand, was causing discontent.

Mr. Gebbie, of Thos. Gebbie & Son, Howick, said that the crops in his section, and, in fact, all along the line of the Grand Trunk and out toward the New York state line, promised well. The farmers out through that district, which was a good horse raising one, had been getting good prices for their animals. In fact the horse trade had been a large one.

Mr. T. D. Beattie, of Beattie & Elliott, Quebec, considered the prospects down around his town hopeful. Of course, the farmers down the river had been getting less money for their cheese, but that could not be helped.

Mr. Mullen, of Mullen Bros., Morrisburg, was not downhearted about the chances in Eastern Ontario. The only drawback that the farmers had to complain of was low prices on cheese, but they had been doing well for three years now and must expect a reaction some time or other.

D. Gervais, of Berthier, said that the farmers around his town seemed to have plenty of money. Their hay crop had been a very fine one, and they had got very good prices for it, in fact, were still getting them, for there was still lots of hay to be sold.

Other merchants spoke also in a hopeful strain, and did not seem to be afflicted with "the blues."

Among some of the country traders who visited the city were P. N. Chaillez, St. Stanislas; P. É. Cloutier, St. Prosper; J. N. Godin, Three Rivers; N. Langlois, Three Rivers; J. E. Robarge, Lambton; O. Rochette, Nicolet; F. Lafrance, St. Raphael, Ont.; L. J. Dubois, St. Dominique; A. D. Goulet, Beloeil; J. Ostigny, Chambly; L. Goulet, St. Hilaire; A. Corrier, sr., and A. Corrier, jr., Levys; L. Phazure, St. Remi;

D. Guay, St. Jerome; J. A. Roberge, Hali-fax, Que.; P. Laberge, St. Policarpe; D. Biron, River Beaudette; and T. Flynn, Chesterville.

THE C. P. R.'S. LATEST MOVE.

MORE than once reference has been made to the work the Canadian Pacific Railway was doing to develop the natural resources of the Dominion and provide business for their line.

The management have just made a further very important move in this direction by establishing a mining department, and J. H. Susmann, an experienced mining engineer, has been placed in charge. The development of mining in Canada, but especially in British Columbia, has been most important in the last few years. Mr. Susmann will examine and report on all mining properties in the districts through which the Canadian Pacific passes. If he thinks it will pay to develop them the company will do all they can to assist by building branch lines, giving low freight rates and the benefit of expert and reliable advice.

As we have before pointed out, what the railway is doing throughout the Dominion, boards of trade and business men's associations can do in their own localities. Most districts in Canada have some natural industry which it would pay to develop. Much of the progress dairying has made has been due to the encouragement given it by the business men of the locality. There are other and equally profitable fields untouched.

A BEAUTIFUL PAGE.

The design for the back cover of the Fall Trade Number of THE CANADIAN GROCER was passed a few days ago, and if the lithographers do their work well it will be one of the handsomest and most striking advertisements ever turned out in Canada.

The space was secured to advertise "Radnor" Table Water. The design shows the broad deck of Valkyrie III., on which are congregated a number of ladies and gentlemen. In their midst is the true sportsman, Lord Dunraven. Round about them are waiters hurrying here and there supplying them with "Radnor" Table Water. To the left of them is Valkyrie's big sail, and on the right is the green Atlantic, with Sandy Hook in the distance. You cannot see Defender no matter how hard you look; but of course the artist only shows forward of the wheel. The blue and gold of the yachtsmen and the bright colors of the ladies make a beautiful contrast on the white spread of canvas.

To bring this design out in all its richness it will be necessary to lithograph in fifteen colors. It requires nerve and enterprise to place an order for such an advertisement, and evidently the "Radnor" people have both. This water is now very popular in clubs and restaurants and with private families.

THE CRANBERRY CROP.

The work of harvesting the cranberry crop is now fairly under way, and by next Monday most of the large growers who use native pickers will have begun the picking. A close estimate makes the crop of 1895 in New Jersey at about 5 per cent. more than last year, when the yield amounted to 200,000 bushels. Many of the Jersey growers in this vicinity have set out experimental bogs, using the Cape Cod plants, and report the experiment a promising one.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

Advices to Toronto dealers from growers are to the effect that the yield this year will be short, but such reports may have been sent in with a purpose. The local opinion seems to be that a quotation of $10 a barrel ought to rule this year.

ADVANCE IN FRENCH PRUNES.

There is a distinctly higher tendency to values in French prunes. Cables this week to sales agents in Montreal asked for an advance of 5s. per cwt., which is equivalent to an increased cost of 1 to 1½c. per lb. laid down on the wharf at Montreal. In fact, a 6c. price is predicted in a short time. The cause of the higher prices asked by French exporters is the fact that the Austrian crop is fully 50 per cent. less than last year, and the French crop has not turned out at all as expected.

PRESENTATION TO C. C. BENNETT.

C. C. Bennett, secretary-treasurer of the Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., Toronto, and office manager in the warehouse of that firm for the past seventeen years, is about to sever his connection with the firm and remove to Vancouver, B.C., to fill a responsible position in that far western town. In view of his intended departure about the end of this month, the employees of the company on Thursday assembled in the sample-room of the warehouse and presented him with a handsome gold chain and locket, accompanied by a highly complimentary address, indicative of their good feeling towards him. The presentation was made by J. W. Borsbery, and the address, which was signed by all the employees, was worded thus:

TORONTO, Sept. 12, 1895.

C. C. BENNETT, ESQ., Secretary-Treasurer the Eby, Blain Co., Ltd.:

DEAR SIR:—We have assembled in this wholesale grocery warehouse to-day for a pleasant purpose, and we take this opportunity of expressing our regret at parting with one who has for so many years assisted us in building up one of the best wholesale houses in the Dominion of Canada. We desire to express, on your withdrawal from the position of office manager, which you have so ably and courteously filled for the past seventeen years, our grateful sense of your services and our esteem for your personal character, and the high regard we entertain for you collectively and individually. In leaving the Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., you have the consolation of knowing that you have done your duty, and that you are taking with you the best wishes of us all for your future success and happiness. And as a token of our regard we have much pleasure in presenting you with this gold chain and locket, and hope it may often bring to your mind the many happy days we have all spent together.

We wish you a safe and pleasant journey to your new home in British Columbia, and hope that you and yours will enjoy health, prosperity and happiness.

A CANNERS' EXPLANATION.

EDITOR GROCER,—We are sorry to see in your issue of 23rd ult., a most exaggerated statement of the salmon fishing on Fraser River.

Such wild, untruthful statements as your article in that issue contained are most injudicious, as they completely demoralize the whole business in salmon, until such time as the truth of the situation becomes known.

We do not blame you so much in the matter as we do the local papers in B. C., who were the first to scatter broad-cast by their own issues and also by the Associated Press dispatches to the outside world, the wild statements about the enormous quantity of fish that were being caught and canned on Fraser River. It is quite true there was a very large run of fish for a short while, but it was of very short duration, not quite two full days, and then they dropped off just as suddenly as they had previously rushed into the river, and as a consequence there were only two full days of packing done.

You state, one house alone packed 8,000 cases in one day, which is simply a whopper, as the most any one cannery could get through in one day was 2,000 cases and the average was not over 1,200.

You should remember that salmon very quickly spoil and cannot be kept for more than two full days before they are canned, and for that very good reason the canneries could not load up with all the fish that were being caught; but that situation only lasted for one full day.

This season, through the excessive greed to secure fish at any cost, the current price of salmon at the commencement of the pack was 25c. each, then the price was reduced to 20c., and for a few days only to 15c., so that the average was just about 20. As it took twelve salmon to make a case the net cost of the fish only was $2.40. It was currently stated in the British Columbia papers that salmon were selling at 5c, which was true to a limited extent, but the canners could not take advantage of it, as they were all loaded up with all the salmon they could handle at full prices before the drop took place. So you see with fish costing $2.40 per case and other expenses for tins, labor, boxes, etc., amounting to $2 a case more, it brings the total cost up to from $4.30 to $4.40 a case, which leaves very little profit to the canner for his fish when sold at $4.50 a case, f.o.b. cars. If the price of fish had been 12½ or 15c. the result would have been different, but as it was, many canners, who are paying heavy interest commissions, etc., will come out of the small end of the horn when they come to balance up their books for the season's operations.

Of course, those who are differently situated will fare somewhat better, but the profits on this season's operations will be nil or nearly so.

You can easily see the great injury done the canners by the wild, exaggerated reports in the papers of the unprecedented run of salmon in the Fraser River. As stated at the outset, such reports completely demoralized the whole salmon business; until the buyers come to see and understand the true situation of the matter they will not buy salmon, so you can easily imagine the feelings of the canners towards the papers who have been instrumental in bringing about such a state of affairs.—Yours, etc.,

J. H. TODD & SON.

QUEER STATE OF AFFAIRS.

A St. John's, Newfoundland, despatch says: A serious political dead-lock is probable over the smuggling exposures. It is understood that the Government discourages every movement looking towards the prosecution of the offenders. It maintains that the fining of them before the Board of Revenue was sufficient punishment. The board insists, however, and is supported by public opinion, that it is necessary to make an example now to prevent a resumption of the illicit practices on as large a scale as ever. The whole matter is now postponed until after the Twillingate election, where most of the Ministry have gone, fearing the opposition to Colonial Secretary Bond.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Sept. 19, 1895.

GROCERIES.

WHOLESALE grocery warehouses are not the scene of activity that they were last week. The Exhibition has closed, and country merchants are again in their respective places of business, while the travelers are again soliciting them for orders. Some nice orders are coming in, but with so many merchants to town last week and the week before, the volume of business is naturally not very large. Wholesale merchants are, however, in a confident mood, and are looking for a general improvement in business from now on. Sugar at the time of writing is a little stronger in the outside markets, and there is a better feeling on the spot, with enquiries a little more free. Teas are in fair demand, with the market firm all round. Canned goods are in much the same position as before. Second shipments of new season's Valencia raisins are in stock this week, and there is a fairly good trade doing in them. Payments are on the whole fair.

CANNED GOODS.

There is not much doing in canned vegetables either between packer and wholesaler or wholesaler and retailer. Canned fruits are scarce, firm and quiet. In salmon, there have been some transactions at $4.50 f.o.b. at the Coast, and cohoes have been offered at $4 f.o.b. The situation, if anything, is steadier than it was a few weeks ago. We quote: Tomatoes, 80 to 85c.; corn, 80 to 85c.; peas, 80 to 85c.; for ordinary; sifted, 95c. to $1; extra sifted, $1.40; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.20; straw-
